

HIGHLIGHTS OF WORLD NEWS

Marshal Josef Pilsudski, national hero of Poland, died of cancer of the liver at Warsaw Sunday night.

Two persons have lost their lives in maneuvers of the United States battle fleet off Hawaii. Lieut. Matthias B. Wyatt of North Carolina, was drowned when his plane plunged into the sea and Richard Chadwick of Blissfield, Mich., gunner's mate, died in the collision of the destroyers Sicard and Lea in night maneuvers. More than 160 warships and 450 planes are taking part in the secret maneuvers.

Five districts in Calhoun County were alone in voting to discontinue the district three mill tax for operation of the schools. All other districts approved continuance. Anniston was favorable by a vote of 190 to 19.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 farmers representing Southern cotton growers, are in Washington to bring pressure for retention of the processing tax on cotton and some form of acreage control.

Machinery has been set up in Washington to handle the $20,000,000 in applications for relief funds under the government's new $4,800,000,000 work-relief program. As another step in relief of rural families, President Roosevelt recently signed an executive order establishing the REA, Rural Electrification Administration.

A $5,000,000 program for improvement of the Warrior and Tombigbee rivers is being considered by a government board.

Calhoun County will get a $2,000,000 glass industry if plans of Dr. W. G. Meharg of Anniston come to fruition. Dr. Meharg would use silica from his property near Ohatchee. Samples of the silicate sand show it to be a valuable deposit.

MUSICAL PRO- GRAM

Given in Assembly by Gadsden City School Students

Supt. C. A. Donehoo, of Gadsden City Schools, and Mrs. Mertie May Moore rendered an enjoyable program at the State Teachers College Assembly Monday. Miss Helen Thornton gave two violin solos, waltz-Chopin, and Hungarian Dance (Brahms.)

"Marianne", a novelty number from the musical comedy, "The New Moon", was given by Miss Virginia Fox, Marshall Follo, H. L. Henry, Duncan Hunter and Nevell Seabolt. Miss Fox also gave a solo dance, H. L. Henry sang two vocal selections. The outstanding feature of the program was a story, "How The Fire-Fly Got Its Light", by Clyde Donehoo, Jr., 7 years of age. This program was the second of a series being presented to the teachers college students by near-by school systems.

Africa holds the center of the stage at present by providing the latest war threat. Hostilities between Abyssinia and Italy have resulted in fortification of Abyssinia's borders. Italy has a million men under the colors prepared for open warfare.

Summer Quarter to Begin May 29

Plans are being made for the beginning of the summer quarter on May 29. It has been announced by Dr. C. R. Wood that schedules for the quarter have been made and every subject in the two-year course will be available as well as a wide distribution of third and fourth year courses. President Daugette states that the enrollment will perhaps be the largest in several years. People are writing daily for reservations. Arrangements are, also, being made for convenient bus schedules to accommodate those people living in nearby towns.

MR. FELGAR TO RECEIVE Ph. D. DEGREE

The many friends of Professor R. P. Felgar are rejoicing to know that his dissertation has been accepted and that he will receive his Ph. D. degree from the University of Texas within a short time. Mr. Felgar has been on leave of absence during the winter and spring quarters doing research work in Texas toward completion of his degree which deals with the history of Texas.

Dr. Felgar will resume his work at the beginning of the summer quarter.

Prof. McCluer Attends "Y" Meeting in Birmingham

The state committee of the Y. M. C. A. at a called meeting in Birmingham determined to see if arrangements could be made to employ a full time secretary to work with the college Y. M. C. A. groups and with the various Hi-Y Clubs over the state. Prof. McCluer was appointed on a committee to see what contributions the colleges of the state would make toward the support of this work.

MOTHER

(On Her Day)

Always you loved me with a quiet love

Folding about me such a gentle care,

Now that the fleeting years have lost their drove

Of memories, I find them full and fair.

Even as your hands, were busy with the seam,

Your lips spun shining tales of fairyland.

Or with their wisdom made my moments gleam,

But most of all, your will to understand.

Outlines a glowing pattern from the past,

Beauty and laughter, guiding service, too,

Have mingled hours that somehow strangely last,

Though you are gone, no day but brings me you,

Each second draws me nearer to your heart.

—Catherine Cate Coblentz.

J. R. Ragsdale of Anniston was taken to the hospital for attention last week when his body became inflated from air leaking from a punctured lung. The left lung was pierced by a broken rib, sustained as Mr. Ragsdale cranked an automobile which was in gear.

DR. CAYLEY

Accepts Position in History Department of State Teachers College.

Dr. Charles E. Cayley, Fort Worth, Texas, has recently accepted a position in the History Department of the Jacksonville State Teachers College.

Dr. Cayley was born and reared in Canada having attended the University of Toronto and the University of Manitoba where he received his Bachelors and Masters degrees, after which he spent one year in the Normal School in Saskatchewan taking professional work preparatory to teaching. Dr. Cayley did much of his graduate work at the University of Chicago where he received his M. A. and Ph.D. degrees. He was a student under Dr. Dodd, the present Ambassador to Germany.

Dr. Cayley's experience in teaching consists of several years at Nutana Collegiate Institute at Aaskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, six years at Trinity University in Texas and summer sessions at S. M. U., East Texas State Teachers College, University of Tennessee and University of Kansas City.

Dr. Cayley is a member of the Presbyterian church, a Democrat, and a member of the American Association of University Professors. He also is a member of the Phi Gama Mu social fraternity.

DR. GLAZNER'S BOOK TO BE PUBLISHED

Arrangements are being made for publishing a limited number of copies of Dr. J. F. Glazner's book, "Geography of the Great Appalachian Valley of Alabama." This book was written by Dr. Glazner in the partial fulfillment of requirements for his Ph. D. Degree, and deals with the physiographic features of the state, historical geography, pioneer conditions, early settlers, agriculture of this section, and industrial development. One chapter is based on urban geography of this area. The book is based on census reports and observations. Dr. Glazner's book has been highly complimented, and is an outstanding contribution to the history and geography of the state.

Prof. Leon McCluer spent the week-end at Jackson, Mississippi, where he was called by the serious illness of his mother.

STATE CONTESTS ARE CONDUCTED

Competition in Spelling and Arithmetic Held Last Saturday

JACKSONVILLE, Ala. — State contests in spelling, arithmetic, language, and silent reading were conducted at the State Teachers College here Saturday.

Ernestine Wesson of Eastaboga, who two years ago won the elementary contest, took first place in the junior high school spelling division and Yvonne Lee of Anniston was runner-up, having misspelled the word "meter." Margaret Booth of Vredenburgh, won first place in the elementary division and Joe Henshaw of Talladega County won second place, misspelled the word "originality."

Caroline Eddins of Frisco City, made an outstanding record in the arithmetic contest by scoring 120 points out of a possible 126 points in the Junior II division. Louise Weaver of Jacksonville, won second place in the Junior II division.

Other results in the arithmetic contest were fourth grade, Pearl Palmer, first; fifth grade, Francis Nicholas, Frisco City, first and Evan Johnson, Coosa County, second; sixth grade, Bobby Murphy, Vredenburgh, first, and Louise Kimbrough, Anniston, second; Junior I, Constance Mock, Jacksonville, first, and Gordon Comer, Anniston, second.

Results of the Silent Reading contest were: Fourth grade, M. H. Simms, Renfro, first and Gus Shaddix, Weogufka, second; fifth grade, Annie Jane Swindall, Goodwater, first, and Gladys Durham, Chandler Springs, second; Sixth grade, Betty Jane Houlditch, Anniston, and Bobby Murphy, Vredenburgh, tied for first, and Joe Henshaw, Talladega, second.

Results in the Language contest were: Junior High School, Caroline Eddins, Frisco City, first, and Jean Espy, Gadsden, second; elementary, Margaret Booth, and Bobb Murphy, Vredenburgh, tied for first and Sammie Blair, Anniston, second.

Dr. C. W. Daugette gave the welcome address, followed by other speakers, including Mrs. Rita Jackson of Vredenburgh, Mrs. J. B. Taylor of Anniston, and F. N. Tucker of Eastaboga.

These contests are held annually at the State Teachers College under the direction of A. C. Shelton, Director of Extension.

MR. SHELTON

Delivers Commencement Address to Large Audience at Claysville

Mr. A. C. Shelton, Director of Extension, delivered the graduating address to the Claysville Junior High School in Marshall County, Tuesday night, May 14. He is expected to deliver the commencement address at the Rarburne High School on Thursday night, May 16; and also at the Cordova High School on May 24.

Mr. Shelton recently delivered graduating addresses at the Gunterville City School and Gaylesville High School.

TEACHERS COLLEGES SECURE

The Teachers Colleges of Alabama are today more secure than they have been at any previous time. People all over the state are beginning to realize the importance of these institutions. The following editorial which was taken from the Birmingham Post will furnish evidence of the security:

"One can afford to disregard the report that the state after this year will provide funds to operate only two of the five state teacher's colleges.

A state college is a healthy plant. It is considerably harder to kill than Johnson grass or wild onions. Even Daphne, the educational flower born to blush unseen on the shore of Mobile Bay, even Daphne the superfluous has survived every legislative effort to uproot it.

This being the case, Florence, Jacksonville, Troy and Livingston may calm their fears, if they have had any. Their teacher's colleges will go right on their way.

And this is as it should be. Switzerland and Denmark, two countries noted for their prosperity and good government, have state operated colleges almost in walking distance of every young man or young woman. They have found that higher education pays."

THE STATE CONTESTS AN OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Much praise is due the elementary and junior high school children who participated in the state contests here last Saturday. It is impossible to estimate the real value of these contests to the school systems that were represented. Some of the students, even though they were in low grades made records that college graduates would hesitate to challenge.

Even though there were only a small number of school systems represented this year it is hoped that a larger number will participate next year. A little extra work is required on the part of teachers and superintendents in carrying out the contests but it is a splendid way to interest the people in the work of the schools. Much commendation is due many of the contestants. We wish to call particular attention to the winners in another column of this issue.

YOURSELF AND YOU

(Contributed by a Student)

To the rest of the world you are just an individual. People know you, and they don't know you. They are acquainted somewhat with your ways, habits, methods, but still you are a stranger to the world. It is you that they see—but only on the surface. They know you but superficially.

Then there is yourself, your inner self, the personality of the conscious and subconscious mind. There is the voice within, the power within, your mind and soul, the reservoir in which are formed thoughts and ideals, concepts and tendencies.

What is self-respect? It is regard for one's self, esteem for individual character. Well and good. But there are other things as important. One is to know yourself, find yourself, develop yourself.

You and yourself are more or less in conflict. What the world knows of you is not your better self, nor your potential self. The world judges us by what we say and do. But that is outward. Not being mind-readers, the world cannot know what we would do if we could, what we would like to do, and what we prefer to do.

The deeper, inner nature—yourself—therefore, needs to be watched and nurtured and cared for and improved, for out of it "come the issues of life."

Yourself ought to be the master of you. You say one thing, and yourself says another thing. You do one thing, but yourself does not approve. You may be contemptible, lazy, tricky, selfish, arrogant, vain, but yourself is anything and everything but that. Your natural self craves for expression, craves for full and free development. If you would go forward, if you would be your best and do your best, then listen to yourself—that inner something, that dynamo that, running at high speed, will send you on to the finest that life has to yield to all good and worthy people.

There should be no sharp fight between you and yourself, and there will not be if you heed that inner voice and live on the higher plane of attainment and benign influence.

It is imperative that you know yourself; know what you can do, and know that you can do far more than you think you can. You say that your limitations are many. Don't listen to "you." Listen to yourself, that individuality that is different from any other in the world; that individuality created and molded that you might be something higher and finer and more altruistic than the brute world.

Listen to yourself, know and cultivate yourself—those qualities of refinement and culture and love that give us the best of earth. Yourself determines your destiny.

SEEING STARS

BY THAD BARROW

Some of the naughty co-eds can see "Wicked Woman" Wednesday as a sort of post-graduate course. A cast headed by Mady Christians, Jean Parker, and Charles Bickford portrays the story, laid in the deep South. Mady Christians is a newcomer from the Venetian stage, and if she goes over big in her subsequent pictures, you can say "I saw her when—"

The review of "Sweet Music" should be "for men only." You couldn't keep the girls away from Rudy Vallee with the National Guard, so why tell 'em about it in advance? It introduces a flock of new songs, and maybe us fellows can pick up a few lessons in the technique d'amour from curly-haired Rudy. The time is Thursday and Friday.

Saturday, Buck Jones will chase bad people, sock fiendish villains, and doubtless rescue some beautiful skirt in "Fighting Sheriff." Oh, Heck, your guess is as good as mine.

Monday we'll all find out why the "Runaway Queen" ran away.

Remember Tullio Carminati in "One Night of Love"? You probably don't, but you can't forget him right away in "Let's Live Tonight." Take my word for it, Signor Carminati is good. He's a newcomer to the Hollywood screen from the land of spaghetti and Il Duce. Tuesday and Wednesday.

The annual extravaganza "Gold-diggers" (of 1935) is the cinematic diet Thursday and Friday.

Laurel and Hardy head the cast that filmed "Babes in Toyland", a hilarious comedy from what I can discover. You can see it sometime Saturday, ay 25.

GIDDY GOSSIP

Have you noticed the large crowds at the baseball games? At least the game gives one an opportunity for a breath of sweet, spring air and a glimpse at the heroic baseball players. We've noticed a few Babe Ruth's and one Lou Gehrig. The Don Juans are floating around the side lines, so powder your nose, girls, and join the spectators. Among the daily fans from Daugette Hall are: Jewell Darden, Gwen Gross, Eleanor Johnston, Harolyn Franklin, Eddie C. Griffin, The Twins, Vivian Bazemore, and Judy Kilgore.

The sophomore's thoroughly enjoyed their outing, so they said. The picnic at Nesbit Lake drew quite a crowd. But take it from me, the freshman dance was a howling success.

I'm willing to bet 10 to 1 that the Senior Class Play, "Kempy", will be a success. With Mr. Hendrix directing, Mrs. Shotts and Bernard Ross with two leading roles, success is inevitable. That's something to look forward to.

A wedding of interest occurred recently, that of Avis Earle Kilgore and James Porch. Their many friends wish them a long life filled with happiness. That's what Jacksonville does for you, girls and boys. Be patient, maybe your time will come.

Speaks at Morning Watch on Mother's Day

The Morning Watch Program conducted every Sunday at Daugette Hall had "Mother" as its theme, observing Mother's Day, the one day in the year set aside for Mothers all over the world.

I'm going to take advantage of this column and insert the Y. M. C. A. news. The most important thing, however, is that "Yours truly" was elected reporter. At the last two meetings plans were discussed for sending delegates to the Blue Ridge Y. M. C. A. Conference. In the near future the students of J. S. T. C. will be called upon to aid in securing the necessary funds. Here is hoping that each person in school will "do his part."

Two of the delegates to the state convention made short talks, relating their activities. These lucky boys were Howard McLain and Ronald Treese. Mr. McCluer was elected president of the State Y. M. C. A. for the coming year, and I might add that he is capable of this position.

IN SILENCE

I cheated a good friend yesterday,
Kept what was his and went my way,
Wronged him by silence—for in haste
I let a glad thought go to waste.
I had a word of cheer to speak,
To strengthen him when he grew weak
To send him sailing on his way,
But what I thought I didn't say.
He would have richer been to know
That deed of his had pleased me so,
But oh, I failed to let him see
How much his conquest meant to me.
The praise was his by right to hear,
To him belonged my word of cheer,
In silence, though, from him I turned
And cheated him of what he'd earned.

Geography Club Has Steak Fry

On Friday evening, May 10, the Geography Club members enjoyed a steak-fry at the gravel pit. Lucius steaks sizzled over hot coals giving the hungry hikers many thrills. Merriment and fun prevailed during the evening, many funny stories and tales were related by fire-light which added glamour to the unique occasion.

Morgan Society Meets at Weatherly Hall

The Morgan Literary Society had its regular weekly meeting at Weatherly Hall, Tuesday evening, May 7. An entertaining program was given. The program opened with a song by the group. Miss Roena McCracken read the Scripture and the group sang another selection. Miss Eddie C. Griffith gave a reading and the program closed with another group song. A business meeting was called at the close of the program.

Miss Ryan Becomes Member of Faculty

Miss Sara Ryan, Gadsden, Alabama, has been added to the faculty as a member of the English and Education Departments. She attended Jacksonville State Teachers College, and later received her M. She has also traveled extensively, and is a profound lover of nature.

Y. W. C. A. Meets at Daugette Hall

The Y. W. C. A. met Wednesday evening in the parlor of Daugette Hall with a large group in attendance. The program opened with the singing of the Doxology followed by the Scripture reading by Miss Audrey Watson. Miss Eloise McClendon gave a very interesting talk on the work of the Y. W. C. A. The song, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus", was sung by the group. Miss Doris Brock concluded the program by a reading, "Lo, I Am With You Always."

JACKSONVILLE DEFEATS FLOR- ENCE IN TENNIS

The Jacksonville tennis teams met Florence State Teachers College teams on their courts last Saturday morning, May 11. Both girls and boys split in the singles but Jacksonville won a decisive victory in the doubles, thereby giving Jacksonville an outstanding victory.

The players in the match were: Girls: Misses Amy Lane and Lucy Williams, and Jovita Scarbrough. Boys: Messrs. James Williams, Ed. Sewell, and Henry Apperson, Manager. Mrs. James Williams chaperoned the group. Messrs. Glyn Nelson and Ernest King went along to lend their support to the players.

IF YOU WANT TO BE LOVED

DON'T:
Contradict people if you're sure you're right.
Be inquisitive about the affairs of even your most intimate friend.
Underrate anything because you don't possess it.
Believe that everybody else in the world is happier than you.
Conclude that you never have had any opportunities in life.
Be rude to your inferiors in social position.
Repeat gossip, even if it does interest a crowd.
BUT:
Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile.
And learn to attend to your own business.
We challenge you to do all this!

Mr. Hendrix: "See here, Bruner, if you can't write a better theme, I'll have to flunk you."

Bruner: "I've always written like that. You wouldn't have me to change my style, would you?"

Faculty Defeats Girls' Varsity

One of the "smash hits" of the season was the baseball game between the Faculty members and the girls' varsity Wednesday afternoon, May 8. Both sides gathered in the field for a warm-up.

Due to the fine team work of the faculty the girls did not get further than second base, but they proved to be good losers.

Mr. Van Hook's interesting capers and the umpire's sly remarks along with the excellent playing were well worth seeing, though the score was slightly one-sided.

By EUGENE CROWE

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love. Evidently the boys at S. T. C. have their seasons mixed.

Add disappointments: A bid to the "J" Club hop, and for an "unavoidable" reason I couldn't go.

Our Freshman dance held recently gave us a new lease on life. Various things had been causing us to feel inferior, but we were masters of the situation that night. "The Night Is Young—"

Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, lifetime companion and tutor of blind Helen Keller, may not be forced to use the Braille system after all. Doctors believe that the removal of a cataract over her left eye will restore her sight.

Have you noticed the rush that "Dippy" King seems to be enjoying? Her latest catch is Thad Barrow, of Nosebag fame.

Very few people know that "Baby" Jack Torrance, 311 pound shot-putter of L. S. U., is a night policeman in Baton Rouge. What an excellent chance for Huey Long to help a fellow that is in need.

Ask Tom Stewart and Paul Murphy why a dark wash-woman gave them a dressing down in front of the Grab recently.

Then there was one B. Franklin, who said: "He that hath a trade hath an estate and he that hath a calling hath an office of honor and profit."

Add bouquets: "Shorty" Scott, after playing tennis several times with Dr. Van Hook, says that he is a real pal. When you consider the fact that Shorty has History under the good DOC you can fully appreciate this tribute.

Add new inventions: Dr. Felix Bunatine, German, residing in New York, has invented a death prognosticator. According to the elasticity of a person's crystalline lens, Dr. Bunatine can tell whether they will die young or live to a ripe old age.

And then there was the girl who got up in assembly and announced, "There will be an all-day singing next Sunday afternoon"—

It really doesn't matter so much, but I would like to know if Mae West really did marry one Frank Wallace. Newspapermen are creating a furore over this same question. Of course Mae (the poor girl) denies it. Mae, infuriated, said "this thing is going too far. That makes nine guys this year that I've been married to. It's a lousy publicity gag, and I'm not getting anything out of it."

Expression of disdain now in use at Weatherly Hall: "Aw, grits!"

Because of an incident that happened on the campus recently, this quotation from Addison was brought to mind: "A gentleman would not affront me, no other could."

Wouldn't you like to have—
Eugenie Agee's slim white hands?
Clyde Westbrook's popularity?
"Shag" Mathison's future as a baseball pitcher?

Foster Oliver's air of friendliness?
Edgar Sanders' gift of dancing?
"Red" Carpenter's hair?
Lucy Williams' popularity?
Doris Jefferson's ability to do the "Rumba"?
Bremont Sims' "amiability."

Hall. The main speaker for the occasion was Dr. Porter who gave an interesting and inspiring talk on History in France and the Pending Crisis in Europe.

During the business meeting new officers for the summer were elected as follows: Grady Jacobs, President; Thurman Hollman, Vice-President; and Boyce Johnston, Secretary and Treasurer.

Plans for the outing to be held next Friday, May 17, at Nesbit Lake were discussed.

We wonder at the Co-eds at a distant university, they have resorted to settling their differences in nature's own way. They appear to be reverting to their Amazonian instincts, or perhaps "simian instincts" would be a more apt expression.

The Salt of The Earth: The prof who grades a theme, "poor, showing improvement", or "F." The skirt who answers when asked if there is any sugar on her table, "Not granulated." She probably thinks herself a mass of saccharine? The mug who says in Biology, "I don't know anything about that so I don't think anyone else does." The guy who received excellent on his theme and growled, "Excellent, H—, that theme was perfect."

The reason for the Putridity of this pun is its originality.

She: "Her husband is not as insane as he was before they were married."

He: "She must be an unusual woman."

"I like women," said Dr. Samuel Johnson. "They're such quiet creatures." As I and a few others have observed, "The world chang-

KNEW HOW HE FELT

The other day the big shots who dabble in campus politics were searching for a candidate to run for the office of vice-president of the student body. These self-appointed campus bigwigs got their respective heads together and, after the usual tobacco smoke which characterizes all political meetings, chose Houston as the most likely candidate for the office.

And to make certain Houston would win, they filed his name as a candidate and then closed the nominations. Hence, Houston was unopposed and was declared elected.

Naturally Houston was gratified to find such an honor thrust upon him. No every man awakes some morning to find himself a vice-president, even if it's just of the student body of the State Teachers College. He hastened over to find out about his newly acquired position.

"What is the salary?" he asked hopefully.

"Nothing", was the disappointing reply.

"What do I do?" he wanted to know.

"Nothing."

"Don't I get to make any speeches?"

"No."

Houston returned to the gridiron a sadder but a wiser man. "You can tell Vice-President Garner for me", said Houston in a public statement, "that I know just how he feels. We vice-president's have a lot in common."

RACKETS SWING!

The tennis team played its first series of matches against West Georgia College at Carrollton, Ga., Friday, May 4. The team met one of the strongest teams in the south, but they did some splendid playing. The girls won the doubles and one single match. The team has been laboring to improve their strokes and a good season is expected by all the tennis devotees.

The brunette member of the chemistry class invites who to go where about what?

One of the most disgusting things I know of is the articles published by the leading periodicals supposedly written by the wives and daughters of big time politicians. Rarely do they contain a line of real merit, and they are usually stuffed with a conglomerate, incoherent, mass of trite observations, such as, "I think pink ice cream utterly appropriate for children's parties." Occasionally, a readable article appears and they complacently take the credit for the labor of some overworked secretary. Which reminds me—

In a January number of Liberty, Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger, de-Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger, declared her intention of enjoying herself to the utmost the following year. She named as the amusements she would enjoy most dancing, riding, and tennis. She didn't mention a boat ride on the sea of matrimony.

Judging by the age of some of the new ones, the big spring must be a mirage of the ethereal fountain of youth.

Students strikes against war on the various American campuses have resulted in bloody clashes in militarist and pacifist fashion. The pacifists probably, like Woodrow Wilson, excuse such as a war for peace.
