

Morgans Victorious in Annual Debate

Men's Glee Club Presents Concert in Boaz

The Men's Glee Club was presented in concert at the City School Auditorium in Boaz, Alabama, under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teachers Association.

The two featured vocalists of the program were Mr. Dooley of Gadsden, and Miss Della Duell. Mr. Dooley's selections were "Pale Moon" and "Chip off the Old Block." Miss Duell sang the selection "Sing Me To Sleep."

The Glee Club sang a variety of songs, including parts from operas, spiritual numbers, and folk songs. The quartet sang "Kentucky Babe" by Giebel, and "Grandfather's Clock" by Spencer.

Bryant Steele, Roy Bence, Henry Greer, Dusty Carter, Woodrow Lasseter, and Edgar Sanders were the cast of a humorous skit, "Il Advertizo." The skit was presented in grand opera style and was made very impressive with the scenery, setting, and costumes.

The Glee Club is presenting a series of concerts about the state in the near future and it is said that they have a better variety of programs and a better choral group than in any other year.

Greer To Lead Calhouns in Spring Quarter

Henry Lee Greer, of Gadsden, talented leader in extra-curricular activities has been elected president of the Calhoun Literary Society for the ensuing term. Mr. Greer's selection will prove popular with the rank and file members of the large campus organizations as he is a capable leader. Mr. Greer will hold the reins during the period of the annual debate and will represent the society officially at that time.

"Red" Hudson, retiring president, was named vice-president, Roy Bence was made secretary, and Harold Carpenter received the treasurer's post.

In the ladies division, Faye McClendon, of LaFayette, was elected president, succeeding Vera Martin. Lois Giles, Eleanor Johnston, and Ruth DeArman will serve as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

Plans for the banquet and debate were made and several committees appointed.

Dr. Daugeette Appointed Consultant on Educational Policies Commission

The Educational Policies Commission has announced from its Washington headquarters that Dr. C. W. Daugeette has been appointed as Consultant ex-officio for the Commission. Dr. Daugeette accepted this honor immediately upon his return from his Florida vacation.

Dr. Daugeette was selected at the first meeting of the Commission after its appointment by the National Education Association and the Department of Superintendents when it was voted to secure the advice and support of important educational agencies.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY SELECT DELEGATES TO THE ALABAMA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Dr. C. W. Daugeette, Dr. Claude R. Wood, and Mr. Eli Landers to Represent the Faculty in Birmingham March 25 to 28—Honor Posts Held

Delegates from the faculty selected by that body to attend the annual meeting of the Alabama Education Association, which will convene in Birmingham March 25 to 28, are Dr. C. W. Daugeette, Dr. Claude R. Wood, and Mr. Eli Landers. The faculty is one hundred percent in membership, and all members are making plans to attend the meeting.

Dean Wood is head of the teacher-training division. Other faculty members who are actively interested in the 1936 session are Dr.

Loy W. Allison, chairman of the committee on finance and membership of the mental hygiene department; Dr. J. Frank Glazner, a member of the executive committee of the geography council, who will appear on the geography program; Miss Stella Huger, chairman of exhibits, and Miss Minnie Sellers, a member of the physical education executive committee.

Tickets for the J. S. T. C. luncheon which will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel March 28 at 12:15 o'clock may be obtained from faculty members.

League Institute Held at Anniston First M. E. Church

The E-Talla (East Talladega) League Christian Culture Institute was held at Anniston, March 15 to 19. There were ninety-six leaguers to register during the institute. A number of the college students attended the institute. Over seventy-five per cent of those registered received credit for their work. Brother Frank Ledford was the Dean. He did not get there until Monday night but when he did get there things began to hum. The first thing at night was supper. During the supper there were yells, songs and a few talks. After supper we had a class period of forty-five minutes. Here the leaguers got some good information to carry back to their home league. There were six different classes. After the first class we had a forty-five minute play period. Following this was another class period, and a devotional period lasting ten minutes.

The institute closed Thursday night with each one feeling that it had been very interesting and worth while. Brother Charles Ferrell, Conference Director, was there the last night.

Dr. Calvert Presents Program of Shubert's Music

Dr. Calvert presented a very interesting program Friday, March 21, during chapel period.

Since the presentation of the Lineville High School band last week the minds of the faculty and student body have been rather musical.

Dr. Calvert's program Friday was concerned with the work of Shubert. After a short talk by Dr. Calvert, Miss Helen Mathison gave a piano solo playing Shubert's "Serenade." Miss Della Duell also sang a solo.

Raymond Smith Elected President of History Club For the Spring Quarter

The History Club met on March 12 for the purpose of electing new officers. Preceding the election of officers Mr. Odis Denham gave a talk about the "Republican Candidates for President." Malcolm Street presented "Highlights of Current Events."

Wallace Nabors, Vice-President, and Bryant Steele, Secretary, will be the able assistants of Mr. Smith this quarter. R. P. Steed is the retiring president. Miss Ernestine Crane was voted into the club as a new member.

MORGAN BANQUET

The annual sensational Morgan Banquet was held Friday evening, March 20, at 7:30 P. M. in the dining room of Daugeette Hall.

The room was elaborately decorated with beautiful Morgan colors, blue and gold, the banquet tables being placed in the form of M. A delicious four-course dinner was served.

Mrs. Hannah Waldrip, president of the girls' society, welcomed the toastmaster of the evening who was Mr. Albert Rains from Gadsden.

Mr. Newburn Bush, president of the mens' society, presented Mr. Rains. Mr. Rains furnished a delightful entertainment for the evening. He was a Morgan speaker ten years ago. Friday evening he escorted his flower girl of ten years ago.

Faculty members present were: Dr. Calvert, Mr. Gary, Dr. and Mrs. Cayley, Dr. and Mrs. Mock, Miss Randolph, and Mrs. Pitts.

Some former students returning for the occasion were: Miss Irene Ford, Mr. Bonard Hamric, Mr. Casper Estes, and Miss Louise Cassidy.

LINEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND PERFORMS AT COLLEGE

The Lineville High School Band, one of the foremost musical organizations in the State, gave a concert in Bibb Graves Hall, Friday morning, March 13. The band was directed by Mr. R. T. Butler, ranking musical director and a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

The band was gaily arrayed in bright red and black band regalia and the thirty brass instruments blended together in a delightful manner.

Mr. Butler received a thunderous applause when he gave a personal demonstration of his musical prowess with a trumpet solo.

The Lineville band was organized in 1931 and has competed in the state contest and has received honorable mention for the last three years.

Mr. Cornelius Millican of Hamilton has entered for the spring quarter.

Morgans Blue and Gold Colors Wave Triumphantly For the First Time Since 1932

The Morgan Literary Society, maintaining the negative on the subject, Resolved: "That Alabama should enact a sales tax", defeated the Calhoun orators in the 1936 renewal of the traditional inter-society debate before a wildly-cheering throng in Kilby Hall Saturday night. The win for the Morgans sent the blue and gold colors waving triumphantly for the first time since 1932 and spoiled the Calhouns hopes of gaining permanent possession of the trophy by virtue of Calhoun wins in 1933 and 1934. Enthusiasm was bubbling over in the vast audience as the final verbal blast was hurled. At a great hush fell over the crowd as Dr. Daugeette lifted the three votes and in a deep resonant voice called those three dramatic words which filled Morgan hearts with joy and Calhoun hearts with disappointment,—"affirmative"—"Negative"—"Negative."

The debate got under way at eight o'clock with President C. W. Daugeette making a few remarks before introducing Malcolm Street, acting president of the Calhoun Society, who presided. Street gave a brief history of the two groups and then introduced Newbern Bush, president of the Morgans, who presented the speakers of the evening.

W. Z. Hassell opened the arguments for the affirmative and Foster Oliver countered for the negative. Arthur Butler and "Pete" Matthews followed in that order. Mr. Oliver and Mr. Hassell then handled the rebuttal chores, summarizing the points, pro and con.

Bedlam broke loose in the Morgan ranks when the decision was announced and the jubilant speakers modestly received the lavish plaudits of the crowd. Distinguished notables from every section of the state, together with many former students augmented the attendance greatly.

Calhouns Host at Annual Banquet

The Calhoun Literary Society was host at the annual banquet in Weatherly Hall, March 20.

The dining room was attractively decorated with jonquils intermingled with forms and bridal wreath. Appropriate souvenirs of John C. Calhoun, for whom the society was named, were artistically arranged at the plates. Mr. Pink Love, former Calhoun speaker, served as toastmaster for the occasion and kept the guests in a jovial mood throughout the evening with his impromptu witticisms. Miss Maxine Holliday of Gadsden, Miss Virginia Sue Munson of Ashland, and Miss Bobbie Jean Burgess of Edwardsville rendered musical selections.

Henry Lee Greer of Gadsden and Miss Faye McClendon of LaFayette, addressed the assemblage briefly as did the Calhoun speakers and flower girls.

A delectable four-course dinner was served to the guests.

THE SCHOOL SITUATION

The annual problem of keeping the schools open and giving Alabama boys and girls equal education opportunities with those of other states is now facing the people of the state. Schools are closing in about half the counties and will close in practically all others within the next few weeks. It seems that the responsibility of providing revenue to remedy the situation will be thrown back upon the voters of the state. When this is done much propaganda will be distributed for the purpose of poisoning the minds of the voters. In a real democracy every citizen should do some real thinking before making up his mind to vote for or against any measure. It is usually said that 99% of the voters do not think. It is hoped that people will not be so quick to accept as facts all propaganda that is given out in the coming campaigns. Before casting the ballot each individual should think carefully, calmly, and clearly and see all sides of the problems involved before making a decision to cast his ballot.

THE A. E. A.

By EVELYN PAGE

A. E. A. could not have come at a more ideal time. The entire student body is in a state for a much needed rest. Dr. Allison's psychology on emotions was certainly proved last week. For the last two weeks practically every student has been highly pepped up. Now that the debate is over it is like the calm after a storm. Every student seems to be exhausted.

The A. E. A. will serve two purposes for those students attending; the change, for one thing, will even up the strain from last week, and secondly, think of the new ideas these prospective teachers will get.

Many students will go to their homes for the few days and then there will be the ones that will remain in Jacksonville to keep the home fires burning.

OUR PRESIDENT HONORED

When Dr. Daugette was recently appointed as consultant ex-officio for the Educational Policies Commission, his name was selected with others when the Commission decided to seek the assistance of a thoroughly representative group of educational leaders. Appointments were made on the basis of ability to contribute most to the solution of the problems of education.

In acting as Consultant, Dr. Daugette will aid the Commission by expressing opinions on issues or problems submitted by direction of the Commission; by raising issues to be considered by the Commission; by disseminating information relating to the work of the Commission, especially the recommendations and decisions of the Commission, and by reporting conclusions of important committees.

The Educational Policies Commission has before it the following objectives: to stimulate thoughtful, realistic, long-term planning within the teaching profession, looking toward continued adaptation of education to social needs; to appraise existing conditions in education critically and to stimulate desirable changes in the purposes, procedures, and organization of education; to consider and act upon recommendations from all sources for the improvement of education; to make the best practices and procedures in education known throughout the country and to encourage their use everywhere; to develop understanding and cooperation among all organized groups interested in educational improvement.

DEBATE SIDESHOW

The flower-girls were lovely. Although they are purely for ornament, I have an idea that with an hour-like creature on the front row holding his posies, the speaker has a powerful incentive to excel.

Mary Emma Harwell receives the writer's nomination for the prettiest flower-girl. She's such a demure little creature that one knows her innocent appearance wasn't affected.

Quite a bit of the attraction other than the posy-toters and the big argument is the formal dress of the speakers and others. We are an informal people—for various reasons—and we like to compare some of our own dressers with the cinemactors.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN

Tune—Casey Jones

Come all you people, bring a pot and a pan
 Everybody's joining the Townsend Plan,
 It's spreading from the Lakes clear to Mexico—
 Everybody's going to have plenty of dough.

We're going to have plenty of money to spend
 Money to waste and money to lend,
 We're going to have money to ride and to fly—
 Everybody's going to be living high.

All of my troubles are gonna be brief,
 I'll soon quit living on Government Relief,
 I'm going to be supported by Uncle Sam—
 I'll soon be eating spring chicken and ham.

If that isn't all I'll tell you the rest—
 I'm going to step out in a hundred dollar dress,
 We're gonna have plenty of chicken and ducks
 With everybody getting two hundred bucks.

Call in your uncles, your cousins and aunts,
 Buy 'em nice silk dresses and forty dollar pants—
 The rule's going to be,—spend it fast as you can,
 There's good red gravy in the Townsend Plan.

Once upon a time there was trouble with the rats,
 They were all being slaughtered and eaten by the cats,
 Said the rats, "Come on, let's figure out a plan
 To save us from the cats if you possibly can."

They finally decided to bell the old cat,
 The tinkle of the bell would warn every rat,
 An old rat said, "it sounds very well,
 But I want to watch the rat while he's tying on the bell."

Just so it is with this Townsend scheme,
 It's a night-mare's ride, and a poor man's dream—
 So I'd like for you to figure if you possibly can
 Where we're going to get the dough for the Townsend Plan.
 By C. J. BROWN, Meridian, Miss.

COLLEGE SONG

First Verse

How we love you, how we love you,
 Dear old school we aim to bless
 Where the boys and girls together
 Now are striving for success.
 We adore you, we adore you,
 And are working with a will
 In our dear old alma mater
 In the town of Jacksonville.

CHORUS:

'Mid the hills of Alabama
 Stands our Teachers College dear,
 There's the fount of all our knowledge,
 There's our hope undimmed by fear;
 We'll ne'er forget all our pleasures
 And our many, many squalls
 Nor our sweet associations
 In our dear old college halls.

Second Verse

We are thinking, we are thinking,
 Of the time when we must part
 For we know there'll be some weeping
 And a sighing in each heart.
 We'll no longer have our teachers
 We must choose our future way,
 But we hope to be a blessing
 Till our locks are silvery gray.

Third Verse

Help us to live O mother kind
 Ever by thy precepts high,
 And may all true sons and daughters
 To the right be ever nigh.
 May thy watchwords, Duty, Honor,
 Be to us a beacon light
 Guide our hearts, O Alma Mater,
 Through the darkness of the night.

ALMA MATER

Our strong band can ne'er be broken
 Formed in Jacksonville,
 Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
 Sealed by friendship's tie.

CHORUS:

State Teachers College, dear old school
 Deepgraven on each heart
 Shall be found unwav'ring true
 When we from school shall part.

Second Verse

College life at best is passing,
 Gliding swiftly by;
 Then let us pledge in word and deed,
 Our love for S. T. C.

NOSE BAG

By

THAD BARROW

Although I am by no means as partisan as some of the society members, I was disgusted by the rank exhibition of poor sportsmanship on the part of several members of an unnamed society during the pep meeting Thursday night. After an agreement had been reached for each group to respect the "ads" of the other, these unnamed members of the unnamed society proceeded to maliciously and inexcusably destroy the trade marks of the other. I have an idea that the marauders, upon reflection, (if they possess that ability) realized the smallness of their act, and possibly regretted it.

A noted woman author throws some interesting light on the effects of age on women and men respectively. She asserts that life for a woman really begins at fifty. A mere man gets "jittery" at fifty. A woman enters the flirtatious age at thirty while a man is twice that age. I gather that she's just passed fifty.

The title of the picture in Anniston last week might have been changed to any of several others. "Seven Keys to Rowan", for instance, or "Seven Keys to the Second Morgan Speaker." There is another, but it would be practically sacrilege to mention it!

Several days ago, a girl asked me who the nattily dressed young man in a corner of the auditorium was. Her exact words were, "Who is that boy over there who looks like a movie actor?" Folks, it was Bennett Vaughn and the likeness is striking. He has a cinematic air that is unmistakable if you really look for it. I told several people of the girl's query, and he is being variously called "Movie Actor", and "Film Fun"! He wants to know who the girl was.

Several people have suggested that I quit ribbing the Chipshaver. They insist that he is beneath my notice, but we live in a Democratic country (so we hear) and one must not let go his American principles. It is the duty of the self-respecting citizenry to render as stony as possible the path of such a person as Carpenter. Violence would be excusable, but maybe he won't stay in school much longer!

State Director of Physical and Health Education Visits College

Miss Jessie Garrison, State Director of Physical and Health Education, visited the Physical Education Department Thursday, Mar. 19. Miss Garrison delivered an enlightening address to the Physical Education classes stressing the importance of a thorough physical examination to a successful teaching career.

Miss Garrison spent some time with the Demonstration School before accompanying Miss Minnie Sellers, J. S. T. C. Physical Education Director, to Snead Junior College.

An Orchid to Millard Lawrence

Millard Lawrence of Boaz, Alabama, Route 1, is a graduate of Sardis High School. He made seventeen and one-half units, all "A's." He attended Etowah County High School one year. He was on the constitutional committee of the student council at both Sardis and Etowah; a member of the constitution committee of his literary society, and class representative on the student council. He was president of his Senior I class and president of the student body in his senior year.

When asked why he came here to school, he said: "I liked the quality of the material turned out here and liked the qualifications of the faculty, also the reasonable expenses for attendance." He said, "When I got here late one afternoon I had twenty-one cents in my pocket, an F. E. R. A. job to pay my fees and enough food for two weeks, and that was as far as I knew then. Since then I have painted, fixed shoes, and done almost anything."

Millard has made honor roll ever since he has been here. He has had no money from any outside source except what he has made himself, and has paid all of his expenses. He stays at the school farm, which is two and one-half miles from the school, and did not miss a day during the winter when the snow was on the ground.

NEW STUDENTS AT DAUGETTE HALL

The new students who have come to Daugette Hall are Mrs. Stokely Porch, who will be remembered as Lorraine Tingle, from Isabella; Mrs. James Ballinger, Dadeville, who was Miss Alma Jinks; Mrs. Roper, Gadsden; Mrs. Roten, Abanda; Misses Christine and Jewel Darden, Weogufka; Misses Jessie Mims and Mary Bratton, Clanton; Miss Fannie Lawson, Athens; Miss Edna Holley, Hamilton; Miss Gussie Mae Snider, Sylacauga; Miss Allene Townsend, Hissop; and Miss Gertrude Dilworth, New Hope.

MRS. ADA PITTS HAS FAMILY REUNION

Mrs. Ada Pitts, Social Director of the school, had a reunion of her family last Sunday at Daugette Hall in honor of her sister, Mrs. M. L. Morrill of Brooklyn, N. Y. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts, Misses Jane and Myrtle Pitts, Percy Junior, and John Will, all of Clanton. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pitts, Catherine Pitts, and Edwin Pitts, all of Sylacauga.

FANNY FAINTHEART'S FILOSOPHY

Dear Fanny Faintheart:
The March wind doth blow
And we shall have snow
And what will the poor sweet-hearts do?
They will sit in the parlor
To keep themselves warmer
And hide their heads under their wings—poor things.

That is just the predicament we are in, Miss Faintheart. When we are out, we are cold, and when we are in, we don't like it. What can we do?

A LOVER OF THE OUTDOORS.

My dear Lover:
If the outdoors is all you love, no wonder you need help in solving your problem. It is a very simple one. My answer is just this—there are ways and ways of keeping warm. Who needs the parlor?

Sincerely,
FANNY F.

Dear Miss Faintheart:
I am deeply in love with a tall, handsome brunette. He is a good basketball player and belongs to the Men's Glee Club. Isn't that enough to turn any girl's heart? I have heard that he likes me, but is a little timid about asking me for a date. I may be a red head, but I don't think I have a high temper, so it can't be that. Can you help me?

Forlornly,
FANNY THOMPSON.

Dear Forlorn:
I have a little secret to disclose. I have heard that he feels that he can't compete with your many suitors. I'm afraid that he is jealous of Lasseter and Foote. Don't you think that that would be the reason; or perhaps it's the red hair. You know many men are distrustful of red heads. They cock their wary weather-eye, and hoist their sails, and beat a hasty retreat. My dear, just give him a little encouragement, pretend your hair is dyed, and see if it doesn't help.

Yours truly,
FANNY FAINTHEART.

Dear Miss Faintheart:
I am a poor husband trying to make a happy home. There are only two things that are working against me. (1) My wife refuses to press my trousers. (2) But she goes through my pockets at night.

Miss Faintheart, if you solve this problem, you will prevent the destruction of a home—or a wife.
Yours in despair,
EMMETT BAKER.

Dear Emmett:
Yours is a problem worthy of brain oil. My advice is this: You can never make a woman do what she doesn't want to, but you can keep her from doing what she shouldn't do, so; my son, give up trying to make her press your trousers, (she'd probably scorch them anyway) and, to keep her out of your pockets insert a mouse trap in one pocket. It doesn't matter which one. She'll look in all of them.

Your problem solver,
FANNY FAINTHEART.

Dear Miss Faintheart:
My head is boozy
My heart is oozy
My mind's ker-flooy
My balance is unstable
My limbs are unable
To do what I want them to doo-ey.

Mrs. Dana T. Davis has been called home because of an illness in her family.

Spring is in the air—tra—la.
Birds being to pair—tra—la.
Lovers all perambulate
Two by two they sport—tra—la.
Two by two they court—tra-la.
But I just don't seem to rate.

I know a girl—her eyes are blue
Her hair is golden too.
She is why my head is boozy,
She is why my heart is oozy,
She's the reason my mind's ker-flooy.
By balance unstable, my limbs unable
To do what I want them to doo-ey.

She loves me not
I love her a lot
She loves another guy
I sigh, I cry
But she kisses the other guy.

Dear Miss Faintheart:
Do ease my wounded part
I your slave will be forever
For happy I'll be never
I'll always be blue
Til you tell me what to do.
Yours in sadness,
PERSEUS DISTRESS.

My dear Boy:
For a person with a name like yours and with the ability to write poetry like you do, and with your suffering, I have only this advice:
Go out and get a gunny-wunny, A gunny-wunny, a gunny-wunny.
Go out and get a gunny-wunny And shoot your silly self.
Always,
FANNY FAINTHEART.

He is of average height and weight. His hair is brown, what's left of it. His lips are a veritable cupid's bow. He is an upperclassman, but this is his first year at J. S. T. C. ## Morgan Basketeers Cop Crown

Coach Hollis Tucker's Morgan Literary Society Basketball Team turned back the Calhoun five in a heated contest in Kilby Hall Tuesday night in the rubber game of the championship series, 29-21. Jumping into an early lead on field baskets by Broadhead, newcomer to the Morgan ranks, the winner got away to a flying start which proved too great a handicap for the husky Calhoun quint to overcome. The half-time score was 14-2 favoring the Morgans.

Captain Red Hudson led his Calhouns in a spirited comeback in the second stanza which netted 19 points against 15 for the opposition, bringing the final count to 21-29. Hoke Wallace, Lovett, and Tom Eason paced this drive, the first named sinking three baskets and the last two getting a brace of counters each.

Broadhead, lanky center, and Steed, forward sensation, showed the way in the scoring for the victors by hitting the stringed bucket for 13 and 9 points respectively.

The win was the third for the Morgans out of the five played in the annual series. The Calhouns won the first game by a 12-10 count. The Morgans squared matters in the second fray 12-11 and went one up in the third, 24-12, only to have the Calhouns pull the fourth out of the fire in a whirlwind finish, 27-25. Both societies placed creditable squads on the floor in every contest and real basketball was played throughout the series.

"CUT OUT" CUTTING CAMPUS

By Pansy Thornton

With the advent of Spring and the return of natural beauty to the campus, some constructive advice as to the preservation of the scenic attraction is most timely. Many students of Jacksonville have in past years become victims of that baneful habit of cutting campus. Nothing is so demonstrative of the uncouth and base characteristics of a person as unceremonious jaunts across the verdant carpet of grass. This is not only a sign of ill-manners but also of laziness. Students will deliberately and maliciously mar the campus by creating unsightly trails through the flowers and shrubs merely to save a few steps. Frankly we cannot see any excuse for such a practice. We grant that it is done thoughtlessly, but nevertheless this does not lessen the ill-effects. By a little concerted effort this obnoxious custom can be stamped out. It will depend on you!

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Frederick of Hamilton who attended school here last spring have arrived to reenter for the present quarter.

SCREENFARE

Writing a movie column is no especial fun when one hasn't seen the pictures. He can't very well say that a picture is a knockout when it's destined perhaps to be the flop of the month. So when the scribler makes a bungle, just lay it to guesswork.

"Freckles" last Saturday, convinced me definitely that if a book is good enough to be filmed, it's good enough to be followed as explicitly as possible. In my weightless opinion, "Freckles" would have been 50% better as Gene Stratton Porter created him.

Wednesday, March 25, a clue club mystery, "The Murder of Dr. Harrigan", will be featured at the Princess. Ricardo Cortez has the male lead, and the preview indicates a hair-raising melodrama.

Thursday and Friday, luscious Joan Bennett and debonair George Raft appear in "She Couldn't Take It." I haven't the slightest explanation of why. She looks normal to me.

For Saturday, March 28, you can anticipate thrillings and killings in "Public Menace." George Murphy leads with Jean Arthur. George should show a decided improvement, now that he is not saddled with insipid Nancy Carroll.

Monday and Tuesday the cinematic menu is "Way Down East", with Rochelle Hudson and Henry Fonda. I think it's a periodical.

Wednesday, April 1, gives Zane Grey's "Drift Fence", with Buster "What a Muscle" Crabbe and Kitty DeMille, Cecil B's dotter.

Thursday and Friday, April 2 and 3, Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness", with Lionel Barrymore and Wallace Beery, is top fare. The writer has seen it, and recommends it without reservation. It's truer to life than life itself!

Saturday week, we can if we like see Ken Maynard in a "shoot 'em quick", "Heir to Trouble", as well as a chapter of the current serial. Suit yourself.

Monday and Tuesday, April 6 and 7, Dickie "Pretty Boy" Powell labors with "Thanks a Million" to add a few to his twenty million sweeties.

Geography and International Relations Club Meets

On Thursday evening, March 19, an effective and educational program was given at the meeting of the Geography and International Relations Club. Mr. Max Hibbs gave a prepared talk on "The History of Porto Rico", and Mr. R. P. Steed orated about "Porto Rico's Relation with the United States."

At a special meeting held March 10, new officers for this club were elected as follows: President, Harolyn Franklin; Vice-President, Raymond Smith; Secretary and Treasurer, Pauline Harvella; Reporter, Maxine Murchison. The Executive Committee appointed by the president are: Dr. Glazner, Mr. McCluer, Mae Gardner, Newbern Bush, and Bryant Steele.

SARDIS HIGH COPS STATE CAGE TITLE

Sixth District Entrants Hog Final Berths

Coach Cliff Harper's Sardis Mountain Lions, winners of the Sixth District laurels, clearly demonstrated their class by slaughtering Piedmont in the finals of the State Basketball Tourney at Tuscaloosa, 44-13. The win for the Etowah County five marked the first championship drive for a combination from this district. Both Sardis and Piedmont played sensational basketball to upset the dope bucket and gain the final rung.

Red Wilson, whom local fans remember for his "circus" shots in the district finals, hit a long one in the semi-final tussle with Pisgah to win in the last thirty seconds, 27-25. Zeke Kimbrough's diminutive cagers proved too foxy for the favorite Selma Crew in another semi-final game, 16-14.

Piedmont ruled a slight pregame favorite in the betting, but with Wheeler, Leeth, and Morton manning the big guns, Sardis buried the Calhoun team under an avalanche of baskets. Leeth of Sardis and Cheese Turner, Piedmont's playing coach, were named on the all-state team.

MANY NEW STUDENTS ENROLL FOR SPRING QUARTER

One would think when strolling about the campus that this was September judging from the new faces that have appeared this week. Miss Dora Wood announced this morning that there are about one hundred new students and former students who have entered this quarter. There will be many more to enter on April 27, the fifth quarter. Jacksonville is the third largest school in the state as to enrollment and the curriculum has been enlarged since last year. Large numbers of teachers wish to take advantage of individual attention that is given Jacksonville students and the low living expenses which may be obtained in Jacksonville.

DON'T READ THIS

It's very remarkable what one little comma can do.

Not to be too catty, the remark may be recalled that there is only one basic difference between a cat and a comma. The cat, it is said, has claws at the end of its paws while the comma has a pause at the end of its clause.

A few days ago some not-too-well meaning student demonstrated the power of the comma by meddling with a freshman's theme. A sentence in the theme, about May, read:

"During the month of May, one wanders along a stream and encounters many scenes and smells impossible during the rest of the year."

It was a veritable Life Buoy advertisement when a comma was placed between the "scenes" and "and", making it read, "During the month of May, one wanders along a stream and encounters many scenes, and smells impossible the rest of the year!"

Margaret Golden was visited by her sister last week-end.
