

53rd COMMENCEMENT BEGINS TONIGHT

Glee Club Program Opens 53rd S.T.C. Commencement Fri.

A varied selection of classical and semi-classical music will be heard here Friday evening, May 21, in Kilby Hall, when the Music Department presents its annual concert under the direction of Miss Ada Curtiss and Mrs. Nathalee E. Love. The program is divided into five parts.

Part one consists of the orchestra, composed of eighteen members, which will open with Nickols's "Waltz". This is to be followed by Pierne's "March of the Little Lead Soldiers", Martini's "Romance", Liszt's "Leibestraum", played as a trumpet solo by Lanier Cowart, and Laurendeau's "Overture".

Part two consists of the Women's Glee Club, composed of twenty members, which will open with MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose", Silver's "Bridal Morning", Boyd's "In Italy," and Curran's "Nocturne", sung as a solo by Rhonwyn Sims.

Part three consists of the Men's Glee Club composed of twenty members, which will open with Work's "The Year of Jubilo", to be followed by "Climb Up, Ye Children Climb", Deis's "Come Down to Kew", Elgar's Salut d'Amour". Miss Della Duell will be soprano soloist.

Part four consists of the Women's Glee Club, which this time will offer Massenet's "Ope Thine Eyes of Blue", Daniels' "June Rhapsody," to be sung by a trio composed of Misses Rhonwyn Sims, C. Delle Davis, and Lou Ree Gregg, Dvorak's "Won't You Set Us Free?" and Burleigh's "Ezekiel Saw de Wheel".

Part five consists of a mixed chorus, chosen from both the Women's and Men's Glee Clubs. The first selection will be Handel's "And the Glory of the Lord", followed by Strauss's "Greeting to Spring."

Miss Helen Easley and Lamar Triplett are accompanists.

Campus NYA Activities Are Many And Varied

Through NYA projects many students are attending J. S. T. C. who would not otherwise have the opportunity to get a college education. Those relying on WPA financial help under the National Youth Administration are performing work of various types, both skilled and unskilled workers being employed. All undertakings are useful, and duties are performed under the direction of college authorities in cooperation with the state administration in Montgomery. The aid has been provided for both men and women students.

The projects, which are similar to former FERA projects, embrace both outdoor and indoor work, including routine work on college grounds, under the direction of the landscape artist; clerical work, library assistants, laboratory assistants, monitorial work, construction and repairs, supervision of study, assistants in student recreation, caretakers, time-keepers, night watchmen, dining work, supply store helpers, clerks, and nursing.

JACKSONVILLE PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT C. W. DAUGETTE

To High School Graduates --

You are now facing what is probably the most important decision of your life; that is, whether to undertake a college education. It is my opinion that the decision in favor of an education should be made by you as you have your life to live and you will reap the reward of success or stand the consequences of failure.

I feel that everyone should have the opportunity of a college education until he himself proves that he is unworthy of it. This is something that will not wait for you. It is yours to secure now or never. Time does not wait on any one. The present only is yours. The depression is no excuse. It is over, and you should not allow yourself to be made a victim of it even if it were not over. I warn you that it is my studied opinion that the decision rests upon you more than upon any outside circumstance of financial distress or economic depression.

While everyone of good character and average academic grades in high school is welcome to this college, we are advising those only to apply who have made above the average grades in high school and who have a worthy ambition to enter the field of teaching, this ambition being founded upon a determination to accomplish something in life. In case you can meet these requirements, an inquiry as to cost of attendance at Jacksonville will be entirely welcome. The answer will be that it is extremely reasonable. If you are interested, I shall be glad to hear from you.

Very truly yours,

C. W. DAUGETTE,

President.

Dr. C. C. Sherrod Delivers The Baccalaureate Address

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

In answer to the frequent questions of late as to when the Spring quarter would close, Mr. Shelton, Registrar, announces that Monday, May 31 and not a day sooner is the end of the regular term.

Commencement exercises occupy a definite part of the time included in the curriculum, says Mr. Shelton, and while there is no way of making it compulsory, all students are urged to attend if possible, and at any rate may not be excused to leave town during Commencement.

An error in the catalog states that the summer quarter registration begins on Monday May 31. The statement should have been that registration would begin on Tuesday, June 1. If all who plan to register will observe this correction, it will greatly facilitate the work of the registrar and his office force.

COLLEGIANS ARE THIS SECTION'S FAVORITES

TRIPLETT, LEADER, MAKES OWN ARRANGEMENTS

With the addition of two musicians, Snooks Cowart and "Squabble" Griffin, the college dance band, under the newly adopted title, "Jacksonville State Collegians," has begun to show great possibilities.

Already many out of town people, as well as the towns people, who have heard the band, are commenting upon unique arrangements the young musicians are using. These arrangements are written by the boys themselves.

The orchestra is composed of five musicians—Lamar Triplett, pianist; Pee Wee Hanks, tenor sax; Snooks Cowart, trumpet; George Griffin, trumpet; and Henry Lee Greer, drums.

Due to the versatility of Pee Wee Hanks, much is added to the instrumentation of the band. Hanks plays saxophone, and also the clarinet and trumpet, besides vocalizing.

The band is also fortunate in having two other popular young vocalists, Della Duell and Henry Lee Greer.

The collegians expect to accomplish much during the summer and to develop into a dance orchestra that any college would boast of.

JONES WILL CONDUCT EUROPEAN TOUR

WILL BE ACCOMPANIED BY WILSON, BULLOCK, BUHLER

Dr. James H. Jones, head of the Department of French here, announces the completion of his plans for an educational tour of Europe this summer. Reservations for the tour have been made by Miss Louise Bullock, teacher of Education at this institution; Joseph Wilson of Piedmont, student at the College; Felix Rutledge, of Anniston, former student of the college, but now studying Medicine at the State University; and Hubert Taylor, of Carthage Tennessee, who is a student at the Webb School, of Bell Buckle, Tennessee. Miss Alice Buhler, who has been a student in the College for the past two years, will accompany the group on her return to France.

Dr. Jones has planned the trip from a wealth of experience. He first went to Europe with the famous 42nd (Rainbow) Division during the World War, and has since returned several times. He and his family spent two years on the Continent, a good part of which was spent at Paris. Dr. Jones studied at the Universities of Paris, Grenoble, Poitiers, and Montpellier, and received the doctor's degree from the latter institution in July, 1934.

The party, leaving Jacksonville on July 5th, will journey by automobile. En route they will visit Natural Bridge, Robert E. Lee's tomb at Lexington, Virginia, Woodrow Wilson's birthplace at Staunton Mount Vernon, Washington, the United States Naval Academy where Dr. Jones has a nephew in school, Philadelphia, and New York.

They will sail for France July 10th on the S. S. Georgic, taking their automobiles on board ship with them. On arriving at Le Havre, they will motor to Paris via Rouen. Later they will make a tour of the battle fields and our national cemeteries on their way to Switzerland, in which country they plan to visit the mountains, lakes, glaciers, the Castle of Chillon, and the Palace of the League of Nations at Geneva. From there they will go south, crossing Italy via Milan, Turin, and Genoa, as far as the Mediterranean, to follow the Italian and French Riviera to Marseilles.

After an interesting visit of the historical and beautiful southern France, the party will return to Paris by way of the chateaux district.

Another interesting part of their itinerary calls for a trip to Brussels, Belgium. Then they will cross the Channel to England, and Cambridge.

Sailing from Southampton on September 3rd on the S. S. Britannic, sister ship of the Georgic, they are scheduled to arrive at New York September 11th. From there they will return to Jacksonville via Gettysburg, Pa., and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

DIRECTOR OF TRAINING SCHOOL

E. J. LANDERS

The Department of Education is by all odds the most important in the college. As Director of the Laboratory school, he is personally in contact with the future teachers, and is ready at all times to help the individual in his problems.

Mr. Landers is assisted in his department by Miss Bullock, Miss Bush, Miss Huger, Dr. Humphreys, Mrs. McClendon, Miss Olson, Miss Bolton, Miss Mitchell, Miss Randolph and Miss Weir.

Thirty Years Ago

In plundering through some long-forgotten cuts made shortly after the turn of the century, we came across this interesting view of the Jacksonville State Normal School of that time. The Girls' dormitory, a converted hotel, stood where Fryar's store now stands. The administration building, a salvaged courthouse, was in the place where the new city hall is. Both have long since been destroyed by fire.

TEACHERS POUND A.S.T.

Superb Relief Hurling of Kemp Saves Game

Led by the hitting of "Shine" Baker, starting his first game for the Preds, the Teachers took second game from the Alabama School of Trades. E. Baker walloped the offerings of Ingram for a double and two singles, scored two runs, stole two bases, and knocked in four runs, to lead the 13-hit barrage.

The Teachers jumped into an early lead when Emmett Plunkett lived on Florence's error, went to third on Hooten's single and scored on Coldwell's infield out. In the third inning the Tradesmen solved Ernest Plunkett's curve ball for four hits and scored all their runs. Kemp came to the mound with two men on and two out, and retired the side.

After taking over the mound duties, Kemp struck out thirteen men in six and one-third innings, retiring on strikes eight of the first nine men to face him. The Tradesmen solved his delivery for only three singles.

In the eighth Hooten's brilliant stop of a steaming grounder off Manager Pobb's bat with two aboard, probably saved two scores.

Tom White caught a good game and displayed a nice peg to second. John Baker's triple in the fifth was the longest hit of the game. Emmett Plunkett, Caldwell and E. Baker collected two-baggers for the Peds while Crawford was the only Tradesman to get an extra base knock. The Teachers stole six bases.

In the spelling contest Jimmy Nettles won first place and Joe Henshaw second place in the Junior High division. In the elementary contest, Elizabeth Ann Henshaw won.

STUDENTS WELCOME

TRAINING SCHOOL TO GIVE OPERETTA

The Training School will present the operetta, "The Honey Pirates," on the afternoon of May 24 as their contribution to the commencement program. The performance will take place on the campus near the school building, and every child in the training school is to take part. The songs and dances have been taught as a part of the regular classwork.

In the story, the bears are brought to trial for stealing the honey of the bees. At first, they are condemned to be stung to death, then they are pardoned, and promise never to offend again, after which all the wood-folk part good friends.

The colorful costumes will increase the beauty of the songs and dances as they are given in the open air.

Miss Ada Curtiss and Miss Minnie V. Sellers are directing the production.

Fannie Faintheart

Dear Miss Faintheart:

I am so disgusted! I never find a time to court. There is one time during the day once a week when I am in a most romantic spot. During Coach Stevenson's archery class, when I'm in the group playing baseball, Caldwell and I have a chance to steal off by ourselves and commune with nature—the birds, the bees, the leaves, and the little ants, etc. Oh! isn't Spring wonderful. Just as we get comfortable seated, however, who appears but coach's second, Bryant Steele. He shoo's us out and we have to go play baseball.

Heartbroken,
Cora Lee Mintz

My Dear Cora Lee:

Despair not! "Into each life some rain must fall, some day must be dark and drousy." You, however, don't see far enough ahead. Let me ask you something. Did you know that all the great lovers of history and fiction were baseball players? No! well, they were. In a certain game Casanova fanned out all the batters every time they came up to bat. Napoleon divorced Josephine because she wouldn't go out in the back yard and play catch with him. Why, nearly all the divorced couples say that if they could have thrown straight, there would have been no divorce. It wouldn't have been necessary; they would have been dead.

You see, you should learn to play baseball. Practice throwing at each other.

Very truly yours

FANNY FAINTHEART.

Dear Miss Faintheart:

We are two girls who merrily went to W. G. College the past week-end to play tennis. That's the beginning.

After the games two boys who looked not much out of their cradles wanted us to date them that night. In spite of the expostulations of the others in our party, we dated them—with what results! They were "sweet" boys, awfully cunning and all—for a girl fourteen or fifteen years of age. Now for the worst—we invited them to come to the Senior dance. What can we do?

Penitents,
L. & L.

My Dear Girls:

"Let that be a lesson to you," as your grandmother's would say. After all you know, you got what you wanted, not heeding your friends wishes; so, you accomplished your desires, made two conquests; young though they undoubtedly are, they are conquests—but definitely.

You invited them to the dance. Now, you must see that they have a good time, one to brag about to their little playmates, for they'll brag of their conquests, you know; therefore, if you can't be their escorts at the dance, you must get someone who is capable to be their mother-protectors.

Sincerely,
FANNY FAINTHEART

What Has Jacksonville To Offer You?

To answer that question is the purpose of this issue of the TEACOLA. We are attempting in this, the High School Edition, to show you by the use of pictures and descriptive stories of campus personalities and activities of vital interest to the young man or woman at the important task of choosing a college. We want to show you how the college has grown, in the space of a half century, to a prominent place in the field of Southern Education, and at the same time to invite you to share next year the Jacksonville traditions and the warm social aspects of which the college is justly proud.

The Jacksonville State Teachers College is a state supported institution founded for the sole purpose of training teachers for the public schools of Alabama. With the steady growth of the institution, however, the tendency has come to be one of liberality in regard to the curriculum. Numbers of student shave obtained a greater part of their pre-medical training here, and a liberal course may be scheduled for the first two years preparatory to almost any profession, with final training to be taken in specialized schools. A host of the lawyers, doctors, technicians and public men of this section are Jacksonville alumni.

Jacksonville offers the attraction of a large and beautiful campus located in the heart of one of the most beautiful regions in Alabama. The college is large enough to give an infinite variety of personalities and yet not too large to destroy the intimate relations between administration and student body so necessary for the true college atmosphere. With an enrollment larger than that of any other Teachers College and smaller only than the University and Auburn, Jacksonville offers ideal conditions for students of education.

Jacksonville offers you "cheap" education insofar as cost is concerned. Living expenses here are so low as to be unbelievable to the city dweller. If your finances are limited, you will have a real reason for writing Dr. Daugette for further particulars about the school.

Jacksonville offers you the assurance of employment. It is almost unheard for a Jacksonville graduate to be unemployed. The placement bureau gives a free service to prospective teachers in obtaining positions, and its teachers are in eager demand by superintendents in all parts of the state.

This edition of the Teacola is being mailed to nearly four thousand high school graduates. Undoubtedly several hundred of you who read this issue will be among next year's freshman class. To you we extend our best wishes and our assurance that you will find a hearty welcome here that will make you glad of your decision.

FORD AND THE LABOR QUESTION

Henry Ford's latest outburst on the question of labor unions is "A monopoly of JOBS in this country is as bad as a monopoly on bread". Another "Fordism" is, "The union organizers are asking us to sit still while they sell our men the jobs that have always been free." Thus does the aging automobile tycoon lash out at the pack who almost have him cornered.

While we make no pretense of being an authority on labor questions, we wonder about Ford's attitude toward organization in one particular instance. He has always boasted that his wages and hours are more favorable than those of the organized plants, and yet he reiterates time and again that unionization of plants puts the price of the finished product up too high. We cannot see how his meeting of union demands could have any material effect on the price of Ford Cars if his wages and hours are satisfactory.

In many respects Ford has strong arguments against the unionization of his plants, and we can well understand the union's suspicious attitude toward him. Paternalism in a capitalist is one of the hardest things to explain to his satisfied employes, and Henry Ford has during the past twenty years done a tremendous amount of good for the working man by showing by example how a profit could be made and high wages paid at the same time.

As Ford and the union battle it out, we find it difficult to choose a side.

A Chance To Finish College In Three Years

A number of reservations have been received by the registrar from students graduating from high school this month who plan to enter Jacksonville June 1. Another reservation was received from a boy who has been out of school for several years, and plans to enter this summer and, by attending two more summer schools in addition to three regular terms, graduate with the class of '40.

A great deal of praise is in order for these people who have the ambition and determination to catch a year from time and add it to their period of service. We congratulate them on their decision, and feel sure that they will never regret stealing a base on Father Time. We strongly advise their plan for any high school graduate who can possibly afford to come to school during the summer. Of course, when a boy or girl has employment for vacations and needs to work to be able to attend school in the winter, this would hardly apply, but when an empty summer faces one, school will be a place of more enjoyment as well as profit.

NOSEBAG

By THAD BARROW

Somewhere within these sheets, you will find something happily called "Chips and Shavings" by a lad named Carpenter. Now a bit of introduction to the inimitable Chip-Shaver is in order, because some hundreds of new students have enrolled in the interim during which we had hoped we were well rid of him. He has returned much in the manner of a bad penny, and we must philosophically plan to make the most of it.

But to return to the man Carpenter. You may easily see him on occasion making a great show of protecting the lives and limbs, particularly the limbs, of the girls in the pool. For some unaccountable reason, he has been allotted a job that we could have filled to much better effect and, perhaps, aplomb.

He may be remarked by an iodine coat o' tan, and a Clark Gable appearance from the Adam's apple up. He looks very formidable, but he won't hurt you if you don't mention the time a couple of freshmen took him in tow when he was a lordly soph. Or when he was forced to shave a toothbrush off his lip.

If the pool happens to be filled with boys when you are privileged to see C. G. for the first time, he may be appearing to read a book, but don't let that fool you.

The bicycle craze was late in hitting this campus, but it has hit hard at last. Quite a number of the monied teachers have bought bikes, and the students are trying to figure out ways and means to buy them. A rental agency would find a brisk demand for machines.

The girl's tennis team is about the best Jacksonville has boasted since we matriculated (enrolled to you, Carpenter) here. We were privileged to see the play against West Georgia in Carrolton last Friday, and they were really ready. Any team that can win five out of six is plenty good.

Odds and ends a la McIntyre—

A trace of something intangibly reminiscent of a regrettably unrequited touch of puppy love induced a faint nostalgia. One of the girl acquaintances said she was already occupied, and it sounded fishy to me. Best variation of Bank Night, the "hot seat," in which a number of prizes are distributed according to seats called. Tickets are deposited on the "shake-up" as usual, but there is one for each row of seats in the house. A row is drawn and as the usher plays his light from one person to another, counting as he plays it. Suddenly the Master of Ceremonies will call the lucky number in that row, and the fortunate person has a choice of a number of sealed cash awards, ranging in value from one dollar up. And do the people go for it! One of the most popular night spots on the south side of Jacksonville is Bill's, where an locally unequalled cuisine caters to the gourmand, and others.

Into the well-ordered life of the writer come some baffling questions. For instance, a sports story comes in with eulogic mentions of "Red" Kemp". We invariably wonder why the sports writer puts the quotation marks on "Red" instead of "James". The latter seems more of a nickname.

In a college straw vote sponsored by the Purple and White, under-graduate publication at Millsaps, the student body voted by a close margin in favor of retaining inter-collegiate sports. As a matter of fact, we believe that at heart a much greater majority favored their retention, although we know nothing of Millsaps conditions. At this time of the year, with the football hysteria at a minimum and with the minor sports attracting only a fractional part of the big games' attention, the thought of retaining a large athletic fee when his finances are at a low ebb makes the average student think he loves the lucre better than the game. As a matter of fact, an intra-mural program strong enough to replace inter-collegiate sports to any appreciable degree would be almost as expensive, and of course the student would have to pay as well as to play.

Tap and Ballroom Dancing Classes By Jones

Frank Jones, well-known master of Anniston, completed a series of twelve class lessons in ballroom dancing. The class of beginners, about forty in all, was so successful that there was an immediate demand for more classes to be formed. Through the assistance of Miss Minnie V. Sellers, director of Physical Education, three new classes have been formed, all well attended.

The first class, for beginners, includes the fundamentals of good dancing, with steps and music being analyzed to show graphically the relation between form and rhythm. Many of those attending the completed class have attended several dances since, and have done well, being anything but conspicuous as beginners.

The second series, for advanced ballroom dancing is made up of people who either could already dance fairly well, or those who attended the introductory series. Quite a large group are enrolled in this class.

Tap dancing is taught by Mr. Jones in still another class. A good tapper in his own right, he has a large and enthusiastic group in this class.

It is expected that Mr. Jones will find a great demand for lessons among the Summer school students. His prices are unusually low because of the large classes enrolling, and the students are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity to learn the theory as well as the practice of dancing. Any interested in joining a class during summer school should communicate with Miss Sellers.

CALHOUNS HOLD WEEKLY DEBATE

The Calhoun Literary Society held their weekly debate at Graves Hall on Tuesday night. The subject of debate was "Resolved That We Should Not Have Capital Punishment." The contestants brought out many good points on both sides but the judges gave the decision to the negative side. The attendance of the weekly feature staged by the Society is larger than might be expected, and some very promising talent is being displayed.

Miss Eloise McClendon of Attala will spend the weekend in Daugelette Hall as the guest of her sister, Eleanor McClendon.

Hello Folks! Hows tricks? Hope you are enjoying yourselves as well as I am—.

This weather reminds me of that song which goes "June in January"—only this goes "January in June", which goes to show that ole Mother Nature is not settled in her ways as yet, so when some one tells you that you're not settled you can come back at them, 'cause Mother Nature is lots older than you and still kicks over the traces.

I can see why the kids are so eager to get into the pool, but for the life of me I can't see why some people go in, unless its for love of money. Wonder if "Red" could tell me?

The editor (pardon the not-capital on editor) has just gone out so I can say something on his behalf. I believe the poor fellow is having to work too hard and under too much strain, especially as he has to put up with "Fat" powell and "Rat" Colvin. Please express your sympathy by sending him a message of beer and good pills.

I hear quite a few folks saying, "I'm going home this summer. Too hot to go to school." I wonder what they'll think when ol' Sol starts bearing down on Ye Ole Cotton patch at about 98 in the shade?

In conclusion I might add, I wonder why:
"Rat" Hand works so hard?
"Blackie" Gann doesn't like to walk under trees?
"Micky" wants to go home this summer
"Tiny" Powell wants to be such

SCREENFARE

TODAY

The fourth annual renewal of "Golddiggers" is the screen offering currently running here. Star roles are filled by Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, who introduce a number of new song hits, including "With Plenty Of Money And You" Warner Studios have always lead in the productions of cinemusicals, and this is one of their best in several years.

SATURDAY

The singing cowboy, Dick Foran, with his latest musicaction Western, "Guns of the Pecos." He's assisted by Anne Nagel and a number of horses and the customary Western toughs. And don't forget another chapter of "Dick Tracy."

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

James Oliver Curwood's novel "God's Country and the Woman" has been adapted to the screen and filmed in technicolor. Beverly Roberts plays the part of a girl trying to boss a lawless lumber camp and defend her rights against a band of crooks, while George Brent comes into the picture as a millionaire playboy on a vacation who falls in love with her. The scenes approach the beauty of those in "Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

WEDNESDAY

"Isle of Fury" is not a bad picture for the simple reason that Margaret Lindsay always lifts a picture in which she plays out of that class. Humphrey Bogart plays opposite her in the Cash Prize night attraction.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Comes Humphrey Bogart again, this time with that academy award winner, Bette Davis. The picture is "Masked Woman", and Bette plays again in her customary faultless manner.

SATURDAY

"Sea Devils" is one of the best Victor McLaglen pictures since "The Informer". In "Sea Devils" McLaglen is cast as a rip-roaring non-commissioned officer in the Coast Guard. His Daughter, Ida Lupino, is being courted by two men, one a fine, upstanding young officer, and the other, Preston Foster, very nearly a counterpart of the irrepressible McLaglen.

who favors the former because of the latter's likeness to himself. Tragedies at sea bring a new light to the subject, however, and culminate with McLaglen saving Foster's life at the cost of his own. A top-notch adventure story, with enough of a love touch.

MONDAY

Cavern-mouthed Joe E. Brown comes with his latest, "When's Your Birthday" Plenty of laughs from the customary Brown type of comedy, with Marian Marsh also contributing her share of the giggles.

TUESDAY

"Sing Me a Love Song," with James Melton and Patricia Ellis, is a better-than-ordinary musical-comedy. Melton is one of the most popular singers on the radio, and is in addition an actor of considerable merit.

WEDNESDAY

"The Captain's Kid" is featured by a little actress who has, in our estimation, everything that Shirley Temple ever had and something else. You who remember her in "The Great O'Malley" will recall a little black haired girl with a minimum of affectation, and a real acting ability. Guy Kibbee plays the captain.

MY LITTLE DOG

My little dog is named Red,
And is so cute I made him a bed;
All of my play mates play with him,
When he doesn't play with a dog named Tim.

He seems to say when he is happy,
That he feels very well and snappy;
He likes to hear the church bells ring,
And listen to the birds sing.

One day I felt very sad,
Because my little dog went mad;
I felt like I was in a deep cell,
Deeper than a deep, deep well.

THE LITTLE BIRD

There was a little bird way up in the tree,
And he was shappily singing to me.
He sang from morning until night,
Until the sun sank out of sight.

In the morning he would rise
And happily sing to all the skies;
One cool morning when Fall arrived,
The little bird said,
"I must go south to keep myself alive."

Laboratory Children See "Romeo and Juliet"

As a result of the interests of the fifth grade children in Lamb and Moffett's "Tales of Shakespeare", Miss Fannie Bush, Laboratory School supervisor, last Tuesday took twenty-six of them to see "Romeo and Juliet", which was then showing at the Ritz theatre in Anniston.

After the theatre program, the children visited the museum at the Anniston Carnegie Library, where they had a most enjoyable time.

Assisting Miss Bush in the excursion were the following practice teachers: Ernest Plunkett, Waldo Self, Leman Brown, Mrs. Wright, Miss Hodges, Mrs. Vick and Miss Jewel Smith.

The interest that these children showed gives evidence of the degree to which young children can enjoy Shakespeare even though they cannot fully understand it. Properly presented, Shakespeare can be enjoyed by all.

Last year Miss Bush directed the children in a Shakespearean play which won much favorable recognition when presented here and elsewhere.

MEALS SERVED AT MINIMUM COST

The Students' Cooperative Boarding Club reservations are pouring in for the Summer quarter, and many students have already selected their rooms for the year 1937-38.

Weatherly Hall is the center of activities for the club which holds college expenses down to a minimum. While this is a dormitory for women, arrangements may be made for meals for men who reside in Forney Hall or in nearby private homes. Special arrangements may be made for couples.

Equipment and cafeteria staff are adequate for taking care of the growing crowds. Tens of thousands of meals have been served during the past year with the greatest of efficiency and ease.

The food is wholesome, the meals well-planned and balanced. The cost is as low as the price of food and the service necessary to prepare and serve it.

Lamar Triplett was accompanist for this production, also for violin solos by Miss Eleanor Mapes and Joy Whaley, and a vocal selection by Miss Sims.

The club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Albert Johnson.

Teachers Enjoy
Banner Season
In Sports

The Athletic endeavor of the Jacksonville State Teachers College during the 1936-37 season met with considerable success, a survey of the years happenings indicates. The Pedagogues enhanced their Athletic prestige this season, and appear to be definitely on the rise of becoming one of the leading athletic powers in the state.

In the opening months of school last fall, the Eagle-Owl football team win one of the most creditable records in the history of the school. Playing a rigorous schedule, the proteges of Coach Tom Shotts closed their campaign in a blaze of glory by defeating the powerful United States Naval Station at Pensacola 35-13. Co-captains Red Hudson and Johnny Baker led their mates in this scintillating victory which was featured by the spectacular running of Brittain and Colvin.

In basketball the college enjoyed its greatest year. Boasting such sharpshooters as Plunkett, Penny, Caldwell, Kemp, Watters and Steele, the lanky Teachers were practically unbeatable on the home floor. High spots in a banner season were victories over Howard College and Southwestern University. The flashy Penny sank 26 points off Southwestern to nab individual scoring honors for any one game. Coach Stephenson's men played their greatest game on January 13 when they scored 50 points against the Peerless Celtics, losing by a nine-point margin. Coming from behind with a rush, the Owls whipped the celebrated House of David five 43-42 on March 8. One of the biggest spots in the season was the phenomenal development of Arnold Caldwell as a center. The former Sylacauga ace, who is nearly 80 inches tall, gives promise of being one of J. S. T. C.'s greatest all round athletes.

The freshmen cage team also compiled an enviable record led by the steady playing of "Swede" Machen, who is expected to bolster the varsity next season. Yancey was the leading scorer for the aggregation.

Interest in basketball reached a high peak during the annual district prep tournament in which Oxford copped the title by spanking Anniston 15-12 in the finals.

The College resumed varsity baseball after a lapse of several years and a great team is in the making this season. While the season is not completed the diamond-deers had clearly that they can hit with the best of them. "Shine" Baker and "Big Rex" Hooten are pacing the team at bat. Big things are expected in baseball for Jacksonville next season.

The College tennis team opened its present campaign with a victory over West Georgia Teachers. The racquets of Ed Taylor, Louis Southern, J. C. Maxwell. "Puny" Sewell, and James McNeely are expected to stroke out many victories. The girl's team also was victorious in its first competition.

Of course, the greatest step in an athletic way was Jacksonville's entry into the S. I. A. A., which will become effective in December. The local college can now take its place with other leading schools of the South in the sporting world.

GIRLS TENNIS TEAM
BESTS WEST GEORGIA
COLLEGE

Carrollton, West Georgia College was the scene of a fierce battle fought between their girls' tennis team and the Jacksonville girls Friday afternoon.

Six matches were played, consisting of four singles and two doubles. Jacksonville came out with flying colors, winning five out of the six matches.

The matches were as follows:

Williams—Langdon, 6-3, 6-3.

Giles and Williams—Winn and Langdon 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Franklin—Poindexter, 6-4, 4-6, 4-6.

Jones—Dunwoodie, 6-2, 6-0.

Giles—Smith, (Giles two out of three).

Franklin and Jones—Poindexter and ———, 6-3, 6-0.

The matches were supervised by Miss Graham, new Physical Education instructor at Jacksonville and coach Strozier, tennis coach of West Georgia College.

Jacksonville expects to do much with tennis next year. There is Saturday May 8 the Pedagogues downed Queen City of Gadsden by the score of 6 to 3 in a game punctuated by spotty playing on the part of the Teachers.

Caldwell, pitching like a big leaguer for the first five innings, allowed not a man to reach second base during that time. For those five innings, the tall boy allowed no hits.

Jacksonville scored one in the first on a base on balls two errors and an infield out, and one in the second on a double by Barnes followed up by singles from the bats of John Baker and Caldwell. They scored two in the sixth and another pair in the seventh, all on clean hits.

Barnes led the hitting for the Teachers, collecting two doubles in four times at bat.

In a game with Profile Mills of Jacksonville, Broadhead and Mathison pitched the Batting Owls to a 3-0 shut-out while allowing five hits. Their mates in the meantime collected three runs on breaks to salt away the game. The Teachers got only four hits, but by palyng heads-up ball, pushed over all three runs in the second.

Broadhead allowed five hits in his five innings in the box, but was effective with men on base. Mathison completely baffled the millmen in his two innings of the abbreviated game, and struck out three of the seven men to face him, while allowing not one hit.

No player garnered more than one hit, and no hit was for extra bases. It was a pitchers' day.

MONSANTO BEATS STC

The Monsanto Chemicals defeated the Teachers of Jacksonville State Teachers College on the latter's field Tuesday afternoon. The score was 5 to 1.

a great deal of good tennis material in the college now, that, according to coach Stephenson, can be developed into a good tennis team for S. S. A. A. competition.

TENNISTS WIN HERE

The racquet-wielders of J. S. T. C. swamped the visiting West Georgia Colleg teams in the first home matches of the year. The Teachers showed their superiority by taking all matches but two. Led by Ed Taylor, diminutive number one man, they made a clean sweep of their three singles and one doubles matches.

In the girls matches the Carrollton team was more successful, taking two singles matches. Jean Winn, number one lass for West Georgia, was forced to forfeit her match to Lucy Williams, after suffering a badly sprained ankle in the first set of their match. Langford and Lura Smith turned in the only victories for the West Ga. team.
