

Calhouns Stage Weekly Debates

Forensic Activities Expected To Stimulate

In cooperation with the plans of the administration to develop speakers for the 1937-38 varsity debating team, the Calhoun Literary Society is sponsoring weekly debates at the end of its weekly meetings on vital questions of the day. The debates are of an informal nature, and are intended to promote poise and speaking ability in the members of the society.

In the first of this series, Malcolm Street and Mary Turner decided Henry Greer and Johnnie Ford on the question of crime publicity. Kermit Johnson, defending the negative of "Calhoun County Should Be Legally Wet" defeated L. A. Shelnett and Peggy Austin, proponents of the resolution.

At the Tuesday night meeting, Arnold Caldwell and Paul Murphy won over Lois Giles and Louise McGillivray on the subject "Resolved, That Married Women Should be Allowed to Teach School in Alabama."

The rejuvenated Calhouns are exhibiting a great deal of interest and enthusiasm since their victory in the touted "Big Debate", and large crowds have been in attendance at the weekly meetings. These meetings will be held for the remainder of the year on Tuesday evenings at Bibb Graves Hall, according to an announcement by Thomas Barnes and Jonnie Ford, leaders of the men's and women's organizations.

Senior Dance To Be May 28

The biggest social event of the season will be the Senior Dance which will be an outstanding affair of May 28, 1937. It will be a are extended to all students, faculty members, former students and guests.

The dance program will include twenty-five dances with numbers 7, 14 and 21 waltzes, and number 10 for the Senior lead-out. The intermission will be between numbers 12 and 13.

Music will be furnished by Lamar Triplett and his orchestra. This orchestra is composed of a group of splendid young musicians. It is a school orchestra, and they have been very successful in their previous performances.

Any former students who are not in school at the present time, wishing to come to the dance, should inform some member of the Senior class, or John Baker, Senior class president, so that their programs may be made out by a reasonable date. If by some chance anyone should find that he cannot come he should notify someone so that vacancies in other programs could be filled. Students wishing to send out-of-town bids should see Hannah King Waldrip at an early date.

Some of the committees which are at present time working on the dance are: Decoration committee—Mrs. Gladys Vickery, chair—Continued on Page 2, Column 2

MRS. C. W. DAUGETTE NAMED PRESIDENT OF ALABAMA U. D. C.

Mrs. C. W. Daugette was elected president of the State U. D. C. at that body's election Friday morning in Gadsden.

Mrs. Loy Allison was named corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Joseph F. Johnson, Birmingham, was elected honorary life president.

Other officers elected at the session were: Mrs. H. H. K. Jefferson, Birmingham, first vice-president; Mrs. John P. Moore, Huntsville, second vice-president; Mrs. E. E. Wilson, Bessemer, third vice-president; Mrs. Provost, Mobile, treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Eaton, Birmingham, registrar; Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owens, Montgomery, historian; Mrs. J. Samuel Coleman, Eutaw, recorder of crosses; Mrs. J. Watkins Cooks, Montgomery, chaplain.

Summer Quarter To Begin May 31

The Summer quarter of the Jacksonville State Teachers College will open Monday, May 31, according to an announcement by President C. W. Daugette. The enrollment at the summer term is expected to exceed that of any

Add to Faculty For New Term

The mid-Spring registration, for the term formerly known as the fifth quarter, was this year one of the largest of recent years in spite of the fact that many schools are still in session and their teachers will not be able to register until the regular Summer quarter. Last year, curtailed school terms enabled many to register early who are still teaching at present.

According to the registrar, approximately 250 students have entered for the special term, necessitating the addition to the faculty of several new teachers, as well as the formation of new classes for many of those already here who had light schedules.

Miss Sanders, of Decatur, Ga., has been added to the science department. A graduate of Agnes Scott with experience in college work as a biology instructor at Emory University, Miss Sanders is well qualified as a teacher. She has done the greater part of the work required for a Ph. D. degree at Yale.

Mr. Geddes Self, principal of Cherokee County High School, is teaching education and history. Here last Summer, Mr. Self is receiving a warm welcome on his return. He has degrees from Auburn.

Mr. Roland Carter, holding degrees from L. M. U. and Duke, comes from the Jacksonville High School as an English teacher. Mr. Carter is also well known on the campus, having taught here last Summer.

Miss Christine Gilbert is a long-needed addition to the overworked physical education department. She holds a master's degree. Continued on Page 2, Column 3

BANQUET SPONSORED BY METHODISTS AT WEATHERLY HALL

Weatherly Hall dining room was the scene of a beautiful banquet on the evening of April 23. The local Methodist Church sponsored the affair as one of the hundreds held throughout Southern Methodism on the same evening. The banquet was one of the features of the Bishops' Crusades, a movement to raise funds to liquidate the indebtedness of the foreign mission board, and to provide funds for carrying further missionary work in the foreign fields.

The Rev. R. C. Wilson was toastmaster. A musical program consisted of vocal numbers by Mrs. Loy W. Allison and Mrs. Thomas A. Frick, with Miss Ada Curtiss at the piano.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

Author Introduced

The Dramatic Club presented two one-act plays in Kilby Hall auditorium Wednesday evening.

Under the direction of Dr. Wm. J. Calvert, "Will o' the Wisp," by Bonard Hamric, was given by the following cast: George Gray, Aaron Hand, Lucille Gray, Doris Castleberry, Jerry Gray, Robert Felgar, Jr., Marie Gray, Emma Kate Mynatt, Mr. Wallace, Malcolm Street.

Following the performance, the author of "Will o' the Wisp," Bonard Hamric, J. S. T. C. alumnus, was introduced by Malcolm Brewer.

The second play presented at this time was "The Florist Shop," by Winifred Hawkrige. The characters, under the direction of Prof. Lance Hendrix were: Maude, Catherine Cayley; Henry, Almon Nichols; Mr. Slovisky, Bennie Steinberg; Mr. Jackson, Lee Jones; Miss Wells, Marguerite Perry.

Stage arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Gladys Vickery and Malcolm Brewer, assisted by Miss Bush's student teachers.

The orchestra was under the direction of Lamar Triplett. Della Deuel gave a vocal number between plays. Whistling was featured by Peggy Austin.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE Y. W. C. A.

According to Bobbie Jean Burgess, recently elected president of the Y. W. C. A., the following committee chairmen have been appointed: Program, Marguerite Perry; music, Helene Easley; world fellowship, Rachael Wheeler; publicity, Elsie Spurlock; home service, Iris Dodd; social, Inez Elrod; freshmen sisters, Bobbie Jean Burgess. All pledged members are divided equally to work in co-operation with the various committee chairmen.

Faculty members selected to serve as an advisory board for the association are Dr. Clara Weisshaupt, Miss Maude Luttrell, Mrs. J. W. Stephenson, Mrs. Ada Pitts and Mrs. Dana T. Davis.

Worship services will be held every Sunday morning and Wednesday evening. There will be lectures by prominent Christian workers every Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Bibb Graves Hall. Once a month there will be a discussion of world problems, by an adult.

Miss Burgess states that the interest shown in the association by students is very gratifying.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ford, of Lafayette, and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McGillivray, of Five Points, were recent guests at Weatherly Hall, where they visited their daughters, Jonnie Ford and Louise McGillivray.

Harry C. White, one of the foremost philosophers and scientists in the nation, will deliver a lecture at Bibb Graves Hall tonight at seven o'clock. Mr. White, who was formerly a co-worker and of the renowned Thomas A. Edison, will deliver a lecture that is both informative and instructive, as well as interesting and entertaining. Mr. White will use in his talk his wonderful and valuable collection of historical lamps, some hundreds of years old, others so new that they have never been seen by man.

Mr. White has announced as the topic of his lecture "The Story of Light" and he promises to illustrate some of the various steps forward in the progress of civilization from the day man first developed a medium by which he used artificial light, until the present day when through the invention of Edison and others, mankind has light at the touch of a finger.

One of the features of the performance will be a vivid demonstration of the mysterious "Black ray" which will be shown in the darkened auditorium. Many other fascinating phenomena of light will be demonstrated at the performance. This lecture differs from ordinary ones in that Mr. White brings to his audience not pictures but paraphernalia valued at thousands of dollars.

Mr. White has a wonderful background. For years he was supervisor of Industrial Relations of the Edison Lamp Works of the General Electric Company and has traveled throughout the world. He knew Edison personally and intimately for years and worked with many of the Edison pioneers.

Through a special arrangement with the College, Mr. White's lecture is being made available to college students at a nominal admission price. A capacity crowd is expected to witness and hear the famous speaker.

J. S. T. C. Professor Gives Lecture On Alpine Flowers

At the April meeting of the Jacksonville Garden Club, Miss Douglas Olson, supervisor of the third grade in the laboratory school, was heard in an illustrated lecture on Alpine flowers. The meeting was held in the art room at Bibb Graves Hall.

Miss Olson, who has traveled in Europe, talked on flowers found at the different altitudes in Switzerland, and included a brief account of the physiographic features of that country.

A CENTURY AND A HALF OF THE U. S. CONSTITUTION

By an act of Congress, August 23, 1935, the United States Constitution Sesqui-centennial Commission was established to continue through April 30, 1939, as a means of awakening and quickening interest in the constitution in regard to history and the formation of the National Government, as well as the connection with vital present day political problems.

In accord with this aim we are aware of the beliefs current today. The dogmatic idea of certain persons, that, if the constitution fulfilled the legislative, judicial, and executive requirements of our forefathers, it should be accepted by us without any alteration or modification of any sort, is an absurdity unless one considers the possibility of a liberal interpretation. The members of the constitutional convention were land holders; naturally, their interests lay in the protection of the land owner and in property as was reflected in their codification of the constitution. On the contrary, today there is a tendency toward the shielding of the laborer and his rights. The United States was at that time essentially agricultural, and it is not to be expected that the revered men who so ably formulated the constitution had the omniscience to realize the needs of a great industrial nation of the future. Needless to say, the present day problems of the New Deal and the planned increase of the number of judges of the supreme court has attracted much attention to the constitution and its context, and has given rise to many views as to the prudence of additional amendments.

In the final analysis, the purpose of the constitution is to conform with the wishes and ideas of the people, rather than to force them to modify their thoughts and actions to coincide with it. It should be a living, modern document mirroring the needs of the people, not an outmoded, unsuited-to-the-time manuscript.

Shall We Educate The Mentally Unfit?

Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard, has raised the oft-debated question of whether we should educate all alike. Dr. Conant believes that college and university students should be carefully selected. He does not believe it is the responsibility of the state to provide higher education for those incapable of or unwilling to expend the necessary effort. Dr. Conant has the support of many American educators, including President Hutchins, of Chicago.

Dr. Hutchins believes that there should be comparatively easy college entrance examinations, but that at the end of the second year those who are not showing the proper interest or demonstrating adequate ability should not be allowed to continue in regular college work. He is perfectly willing, however, that they be enrolled in special training schools in order to prepare for a vocation.

It may be hoped that Dr. Conant's expressions will give stimulus to this important debate. There have been wide differences of opinion, but the majority of educators, we believe, are coming to the position that small attempt to educate the unfit should be made after a certain stage is reached. These men believe strongly ly in democratic education, but they do not believe it is the course of wisdom to attempt to educate a person beyond his capacity to learn.

FIND THE BEST

It's not the best within us That people try to find from day to day.

There's heaps and heaps of sinning in everyone

Along life's weary way. So why not try to find the best and overlook the worst?

Life would be a path of blessing Instead of just a curse.

When you brand a person with your cynical eye For the little things you see him do

Have you done him justice As you would have him do to you Can you judge his heart and soul From his sinnings by the way Anyway—who are you and I to judge What others do and say?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Barrow:
I really don't know why I am writing to you to see if you can do something about my complaint, because nobody else has, and they are all as capable or more so than you. The trouble that is bearing heavily on me at the moment is why in heck we have so many novelty dances! As a matter of fact, it has got so that an old-fashioned stag dance is a novelty now rather than double - breaks, even-coupled swapouts, girl - breaks, programs, or what have you. I won't try to enumerate, but rather shall attempt to summarize the complaints that I have either heard or thought up all by myself.

One girl, new to the college, attended the last dance here, a double - break affair, with both girls and men staggng. She's quite an attractive girl, and under ordinary conditions would have been on the receiving end of a tremendous rush. As it turned out, the girls were doing most of the tagging, and she naturally hadn't the inclination to break on a horde of strange men. The whole business was a sour interlude, and she is undecided whether or not to attempt another one.

Not too long ago for even your slack memory to span, one such terpsichorean novelty was particularly sloppy. The men have come to the point that all initiative is left up to the girls, which is a sorry state of affairs.

My idea is that one novelty dance a quarter should be enough. With diligent working and numerous promptings for the next several stag affairs, the stag line could be taught to work well enough that the ballroom would bear a little less resemblance to a glue factory, and my humble opinion is that a better time would be had by all, including the social committee, as soon as they got over the shock.

Well, I get off here.
DISGUSTIPATED.

Editor's Note: We heard many more words of praise than otherwise of the last dance, but Disgustipated is entitled to his annual blow. He could, however, have been a bit more considerate of the editorial vanity.

gree in that subject from Peabody. Miss Graham is a native Tennessean, and has taught in the South Pittsburgh, Tenn., schools.

Mr. C. D. Barker comes as a geography teacher with a store of first-hand information to brighten his subject. Mr. Barker has spent many years in several South American and other Latin American countries as an engineer, and knows intimately the conditions of the continent. He is an Auburn graduate, holding the M. A. degree there. He also taught at Auburn for a time after graduating.

Mr. Roy Alverson, superintendent of the Arab Consolidated Schools, also taught here last Summer. Mr. Alverson, a native of Mississippi, graduated from the two-year course when the school was only a normal, and subsequently earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Auburn. Alumni will remember him as an outstanding football player and student during his sojourn here.

Mr. Robert Gilbert, of Alabama City, becomes a member of the English department for the Summer. He holds a master's degree from Alabama, and has had teaching experience in Fort Payne.

DID YOU KNOW

ANN GARST has taken a great liking to a certain part of Nature, the BROOK, while it is rumored that CLARA MAE HENDRIX prefers a part of the city, the STREET?

It took KATE SMITH and MILDRED PRESLEY to chaperon a certain couple to Anniston?

Some "unknown force" kept ELOISE HUGHES from going to the dance Friday night?

We are glad to announce that PAULINE DURBIN is recuperating from a nice long spell of campusitis. MARIE SHOTTS and HELEN WIGINTON are also convalescent.

VIRGINIA S ATTERFIELD prefers a "Rough Rider."

It seems that LILLIAN McCLENDON, PEGGY AUSTIN, LOUISE MCGILVRAY and JEAN HOWELL prefer certain booths at Bill's.

NET GILES has something that no other girl possesses — "TOO BAD, GIRLS."

VIRGINIA PRUITT has gone "Nutty."

In her youth LUCILLE WEAVER swallowed a saxophone.

Is ALMA THOMPSON learning to play the clarinet?

LOUISE ELLIS is rumored to have had her "last affair."

HELEN MATHISON got rather shaky when the new students began to arrive.

It won't be long now until MARIE and LORRAINE will be in circulation again.

The girls who make the most noise on third floor are HAZEL TIDWELL, BENNIE FAYE HURLEY and MABEL HOPKINS, while the girls in 312 are meek as mice.

RUBY VANN is always busy—trying to keep her affairs straight. Isn't that a pretty green bow she wears with the plaid dress. And speaking of beaus (which we were not), page ANNIE MAUDE RAYFIELD.

With ELIZABETH LUKER, it's never out, it's never over; it just goes on all the time.

MARIE VAUGHN and MABEL ELLIOTT will likely be third speakers next year, since they are such good water-pourers.

HAZEL POSEY and ELVIE LEAGUE were very busy entertaining their visitors this weekend. They would have had plenty of help if they had needed it.

JERRY MERRITT seems to have cheered up quite a bit since the return of the native, but KAT

SHERIDAN is still down in the dumps.

CONSTANCE BROWNING is counting the hours and the minutes. No! No, no! Not until commencement. Until the next mail comes.

The bulbs in Weatherly Hall parlor had not burned out. Wasn't it a surprise when 12 instead of four were turned on?

What relation is LOUISE CORLEY to JAMES?

Why do PEGGY and LILLIAN watch the mail boxes? Even before the postman arrives?

A friend in need: MRS. ALECK when you forget your tokens.

CHAPTER ON: According to Webster, "to attend; a lady's protector."

What kind of colony do ELIZABETH LUKER, TOOTSIE LONGSHORE and MARY TURNER think Weatherly Hall is anyhow?

MILLARD LAWRENCE says it with flowers.

PROF. McCLEUR SHOWS WILD SPECIMENS TO LOCAL GARDEN CLUB

Prof. Leon McCleur spoke at a recent meeting of the Jacksonville Garden Club.

SUPT. DONEHOO SPEAKS

SERVICE CROSS IS AWARDED DR. J. H. JONES

Mr. C. A. Donehoo, superintendent of Gadsden City Schools, was the speaker at the Memorial Day service held in Bibb Graves Hall under the direction of the Gen. John H. Forney Chapter U. D. C. Mrs. Loy W. Allison, president of the Forney Chapter, presided.

Superintendent Donehoo, who talked on "The Heritage of the South," was introduced by President C. W. Daugette. Music was provided by the college orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Nathalie Ewing Love. At the conclusion of the program, the World War Cross of Military Service was awarded to Dr. James Harding Jones, professor of French at J. S. T. C.

Said Superintendent Donehoo in part: "In observing this day, we do more than honor the dead. Those who survived the War between the States lived in political and economic bondage for half a century. It required higher courage to face the terrors of reconstruction, and to build a new South, than it did to pour out one's life-blood on the field of battle. The men who survived the ordeal came home to a land that had been devastated and impoverished. The courage of the men and women of that era, and their devotion to the highest ideals prevented the destruction of civilization which flourished in the South during the first half of the 19th century, and we would do well to rededicate ourselves on this occasion to help in the restoration of the culture of the old South."

Weatherly Hall girls spending Saturday and Sunday at home were LaVerne Carpenter, Five Points; Thelma Rush, Pisgah; Emma Kate Mynatt and Katherine Cheatwood, Gadsden; Willie Frank Hendon, Roanoke; Marie Haynes, Talladega; Alma Thompson, Weogufka; Florence Edwards, Nauvoo; Sara Savage, Pell City; Ivera Watts, Millerville; Ruma Upton and Sara Stephens, Geraldine, Bobbie Jean Burgess, Edwardsville; Lucille Weaver, Arab; Jewel Jackson and Odie Towns, Altoona; Ruby Hyatt, White Plains.

STUDENTS WELCOME

College Graduates' Chances Are Best In Seven Years

Employment prospects of this year's college graduating classes are only a little less favorable than those of the 1929 graduates; and substantially better than the June, 1936 classes experienced.

This evidence of continued employment improvement is revealed in announcement today of the results of a survey just completed by Investors Syndicate, of Minneapolis.

Engineering, business administration, teaching and general business classifications are offering employment in greatest volume according to J. R. Rideway, president of Investors Syndicate, in announcing the results of the study. Law, journalism and investment banking are near the foot of the list, he said.

These conclusions are based upon analysis of questionnaires returned by 218 leading colleges and universities which account for nearly half of the total enrollment of male and coeducational institutions.

In volume of recruiting among this year's graduates, General Electric Company, Du Pont, Procter & Gamble, Westinghouse and various American Telephone subsidiaries are leading, Mr. Ridway said.

"More than half of the June graduates of 185 institutions replying to the questionnaires are expected to be on payrolls before the end of the summer," said Mr. Ridway. "Within a few months after graduation, seventy per cent or more of the graduates of 163 institutions are expected to be at work. Twenty-eight universities report that more than 90 per cent of their June graduates would be employed, while 13 say that they expect prompt employment of fully 85 per cent of the June classes."

"One hundred fourteen institutions declared that employment would exceed that of 1936. Eighty-nine replies expressed the opinion that this year would be about on a par with 1936, while nearly 30 per cent of the answers predicted a volume of employment exceeding the peak year of 1929."

"Engineering jobs were in the lead in 96 instances, with 83 placing business administration in top position. Teaching topped 65 lists, and general business classification were in fourth place."

"Scholarship, personality, campus activity and popularity, character, leadership and general ability, in the order named, were most frequently as qualifications being sought by prospective employers."

"Fifty-one and four-tenths per cent of the replies ranked scholarship as the first qualification for successful job-seekers. Personality was given first place by 19.7 per cent of the institutions; character, 5 per cent; campus popularity, 3.6 per cent; leadership, 2.3 per cent; and general ability, 1.4 per cent. Some replies listed as many as seven qualifications, others only one or two."

The leading corporation in each industry is usually most active in recruiting college graduates, Mr. Ridway said. Also, recognizing continually changing employment demands and conditions, many colleges are either inaugurating placement bureaus or are expanding existing ones.

Wilma Johnson and Omega Woodall visited relatives in Anniston over the week-end.

Teachers Beat Tradesmen, 3-2

Behind the brilliant six-hit twirling of "Red" Kemp and "Fats" Caldwell, the Jacksonville State Teachers Club defeated the diamonders from Gadsden in a hectic battle, 3-2. Plunkett's great throw to the plate in the ninth overtook Ham for the final out as he attempted to score the tying run from second on Zuiderback's single to left.

Coach Julian Stephenson crossed up the opposition at the final moment by starting Kemp instead of the southpaw Broadhead, who was slated to draw the starting assignment. The big right-hander justified the confidence placed in him by baffling the Gadsden nine completely. In the five innings he toiled on the slab, Kemp allowed only one bingle, a single by Crawford in the first frame, and struck out seven basemen. Caldwell took over the mound in the sixth and pitched smoothly until the ninth, when four solid smacks almost cost him the ball game.

The visitors tallied first in the second frame. Manager Lewis Robbs walked and then stole second. Two infield outs put him across the plate. Their next and last tally came in the almost-fatal ninth, when the afore-mentioned knocks nearly wrecked Caldwell.

The Teachers drew blood in the third. Rex Hooten lived on Booker's error. Watters grounded to Horn and Robbs dropped the throw. Kemp then shot a screaming double to center to score Hooten. Singles by Barnes and Hooten coupled with Robbs' second miscue gave the locals their second and third runs in the fourth. Barnes, second-sacker, was the only Ped to garner two hits, being credited with two singles in two trips to the plate. The performance of Horn at third base for the losers was sensational.

The score by innings:
Ala. Sch. of Tr. 010 000 001
S. T. C. 010 200 000
Jones and Booker; Kemp, Caldwell and J. Baker.

ON THE LIMB

By KERMIT MATHISON

It seems that the weather has put a crimp in the Teachers' baseball team for the time being. After nearly two weeks of rain it is a question as to whether the boys will be in condition to play. Will those old soup bones still be limber?

In losing his opening game, Rookie Bob Feller, Cleveland pitching sensation, pulled a muscle in his throwing arm. Baseball fans are pulling for him to get back in to the line-up—It would be a pity if his arm did not heal as it should.

The Davis Cup contenders for the United States and Australia are due to fight it out in about a month to see if one or the other can put a stop to the winning streak of the English Tennis team. The Australian team defeated the U. S. requet-wielders last year to get into the final play-off, but this

S.T.C. To Join S.I.A.A. In Fall

Jacksonville State Teachers College, in becoming a member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, is making the greatest step toward winning athletic teams in the history of the institution. The local college is now on the probationary list and barring non-compliance with the regulations of the organizations will become a full-fledged member December next.

The S. I. A. A. is one of the oldest and most prominent athletic organizations in the country, having been organized in 1894. The stated purpose of the Association is to study important phases of collegiate athletics, to formulate rules governing athletics, to promote the adoption of recommended measures, in order that athletics in the colleges of the South may be maintained on an ethical plane in keeping with the high purpose of education.

Jacksonville became eligible for admission into the Association some years ago when it was admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges. Only members of this group are eligible to join the S. I. A. A.

In order to comply with the rules of the organization, Jacksonville will hence forward foster both freshman and varsity teams as no freshman will be permitted to perform on a varsity aggregation. The College must play no non-member schools in this region without the permission of the Executive Committee of the S. I. A. A. The football season is limited to thirteen weeks and no team may start practice prior to September 1. No player is allowed to play more than three years of varsity ball.

The S. I. A. A. has taken a very liberal stand on the ticklish subject of subsidizing athletics. In regard to this matter, the by-laws of the Association read as follows: "Any athlete must not receive any gift, remuneration, or pay for his athletic services; however, he shall be eligible for such tuition scholarships as the college has to bestow and eligible to perform any work which the college has to grant to students."

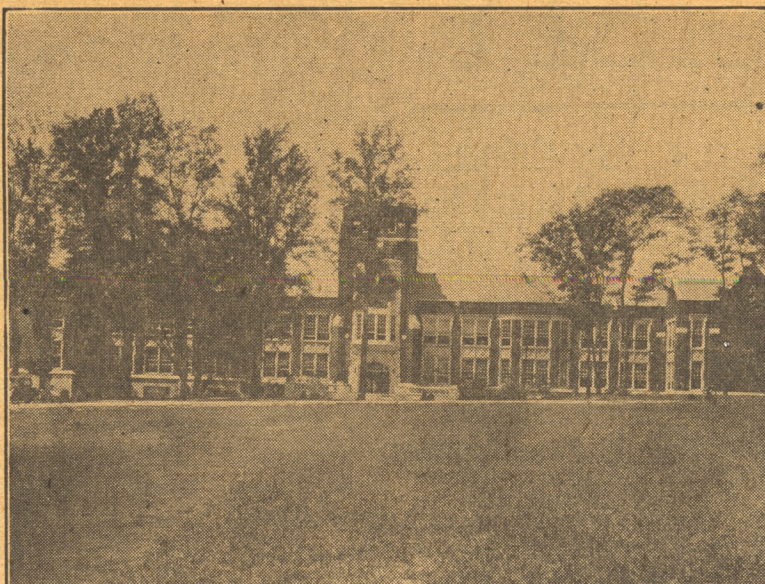

Entry into the S. I. A. A. will give Jacksonville much athletic prestige and will enhance the general rating of the school greatly. Among other things, the stellar basket ball teams which the College produces annually will be eligible to compete in the Association tournament next March.

year the red, white, and blue netmen seem to have the edge.

Lefty Gomez seems to have regained his 1934 pitching form and is leading the New York Americans' pitching staff.

The Birmingham Barons' throwing staff have found their range and are sweeping all the opposition out of the way. The Barons are playing five hundred ball and doing a good job of it. (Every one believes they are on the road to glory because Manager "Steve" stole second base last Sunday, and

SCREENFARE

Comes that long awaited smash-hit, "Cain and Mabel". It's a red-hot romance with Clark Gable as a prize fighter and Marion Davies as his sweetie. Almost elemental, we're told.

SATURDAY

"Wild Brian Kent" brings Ralph Bellamy and Mae Clarke together in a high-adventure interlude. They're good, and you already know about Dick Tracy with his chapter number five.

MONDAY

You who've been wondering for a long time what ever became of Maurice Chevalier will have your answer in the picture next Monday. "The Beloved Vagabond" is said to be one of the pendulous-lipped one's best; at any rate, it has been a distinct box office success all over the country.

TUESDAY

Another one of those super-musicals, and this time they call it "Ready, Willing and Able". Ruby Keeler, about the only one of the old-time hoofers still hot in the box-office and the latest challenger to Freddie Astaire's reputation, Lee Dixon, are the leads, with Allen Jenkins of the flopping jaw to supply laughs between the ingenu-provoked tears.

WEDNESDAY

"Counterfeit Lady", with Ralph Bellamy and Joan Perry. Also bank night with the ante raised considerably.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Close on the heels of the latest development in the Eddy-Wally situation, the "King and the Chorus Girl" should hold considerable love in a castle—at a distance. Fascination for those who live on when he or Bud Clancy steals a base something is going to happen.

Plans are being completed to rebuild Daugeette Field, and make it suitable for night playing. Coach "Steve" had the field surveyed last week and work will get under way at once.

Some of the students have been wondering if the Calhouns can beat the Morgans in a baseball game. They have won everything else this year, so why not try to make it a complete year.

Not that Wally resembles a chorus girl or that we would put her in the same class with Joan Blondell, but that's the layout. The king in this instance is a new one, Fernand Gravet, and we hear that he's truly regal in an appealing sort of way, as the girl friend would say.

SATURDAY

"The Big Show", with Gene Autry and Simley Burnette, is all right for the easily convinced, and after all, you can see chapter six of "Dick Tracy", so what do you expect?

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

"Give Me Your Heart", with George Brent and Kay Francis.

WEDNESDAY

With another bank night you get "The Soldier and the Lady", with Anton Walbrook and Elizabeth Allen. Good.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

"Goldiggers of 1937", with Joan Blondell and hubby Dick Powell is the cinemen for Thursday and Friday, two weeks hence.

IRIS DODD HAS ARTICLE IN CHURCH PAPER

Iris Dodd, one of the leaders of religious work at J. S. T. C., is the author of an interesting article about the Baptist student work on the campus, which appeared in the April number of The Baptist Student.

The article is centered about the guidance and efforts of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Ivey Edwards in promoting religious work among students. It is illustrated with a photograph of the Rev. Mr. Edwards.

NEW STUDENTS ARE WELCOMED

Bobbie Jean Burgess, president of the Y. W. C. A., introduced the house president, Lois Collier, who, in turn introduced the following house officers: Mary Brewer, vice-president; Millie Anderson, secretary, and Eleanor Simmons, treasurer. Ila Mae Jones was chairman of the program committee.

Mary Brewer rendered a piano selection. Helen Deason, imitating Shirley Temple, sang several songs. Clara Mae Hendrix and her Hawaiian guitar numbers (without the guitar) received much applause as well as the vocal trios by Rachel Wheeler, Mildred Presley and Clara Mae Hendrix, and the vocal solo by Lorraine Saxon. Words of welcome to the new girls were given by Bobbie Jean Burgess, Lois Collier and Mrs. Davis.
