District Tourney Opens Tonight

Spring Quarter Begins March 14

EVENT TO BE HELD JOINTLY AT KILBY AND NEW ARMORY

Many New Students Expected To Enter At New Term

New classes in all courses will be offered to students at the opening of the Spring term which begins March 14, according to Dr. C. W. Daugette, president of the college. Registration for the new quarter will open on that date and continue through Tuesday, March 15.

Many former Jacksonville students who are now teaching in the Alabama public schools are expected to re-enter school and continue their studies. Many of those whose school terms will not expire prior to the opening of the Spring term will enter school at the middle of the Spring term.

Anyone desiring further information concerning courses or details of entrance, etc., may secure it by writing Dr. Daugette or Registrar A. C. Shelton at the college.

Varsity Wins 13; Drops 3 In 1938

Coach J. W. Stephenson's rip-roaring basketball varsity has covered itself with glory in winning 13 and losing three amateur games this season. The only losses were two hard-fought games to Howard College and one by one point to Tennessee Tech on Tech's floor. The varsity lost a heart-breaker to Howard on Howard's floor, 41 to 36.

The varsity compiled the amazing record of 14 out of 17 despite the presence of three sophomores, Roy Buford, Lewis Machen and Willie Brooks, in the line-up that started most of the games. The second team was also well-fitted with sophs, Frank and Nolen Hancock, Hugo Yancey and Robert Montgomery, four of them. Bryant Steele, big center, is a senior.

Losing only Steele from the varsity squad, Coach Stephenson will have nine varsity performers and several promising freshmen around which to build what should be the greatest basketball team the college has ever had next season.

The 1938 team has been the best in the history of J.S.T.C. Faculty and students alike, with pleasure and pride, cheer the varsity and Coach Stephenson for their feats.

Spring Style Show Put Off By Mangels

The fashion show of Spring clothes for milady, planned by the U.D.C. chapter of Jacksonville and The Teacola, has been indefinitely postponed by Mangel's, the Anniston clothing firm which has asked that The Teacola and U.D.C. sponsor such a show for Mangel's. manager declared business conditions at the present time didn't warrant the expense of putting on such a show, and therefore the store would wait until business conditions became better before putting the style revue on the stage here at J.S.T.C.

WESLEY HEAD

SMITH THOMPSON

Pictured above is Smith Thompson, junior student from Weogufka, Alabama, who is president of the Wesley Foundation, local student organization for Methodists. Thompson is a leader in religious affairs on the campus, and the Wesley Foundation has made rapid strides under his leadership. He is also a member of the Calhoun Literary Society and other campus organizations.

Jacksonville Wesley Foundation

The Jacksonville Wesley Foundation, a Methodist College students organization, recently organized at Jacksonville State Teachers College, meets on Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Three good talks have been enjoyed by the members of this organization. They were as follows: "A Sketch of John Wesley's Life," given by Miller Lawrence; "Why Should Young Folk Study Alcohol?" given by Rev. R. C. Wilson; and "A Sketch of Wesley's Life In America," given by Mrs. Wilson.

Just as good programs are expected in the future, and anyone who wishes to come to these meetings is cordially invited to do so.

"J" Club Dance Postponed

The stag dance, sponsored by the College "J" Club, and originally scheduled for Bibb Graves Hall on Friday evening, February 18, was postponed because of the inclement weather.

Exact date of the dance will be announced later, according to Henry Greer, of the committee on arrangements.

Mrs. Sara McDonald will spend this week-end in Cusseta and Auburn.

Tuxedos Should Be Taboo In Big Debate, Mathews

"I Don't Want My Style Cramped Again," Says Morgan Debater

Pete Mathews, one of Jacksonville's most quoted personalities, has burst forth once again with his most potent style in a denunciation of the ancient tradition of the debaters in the Morgan-Calhoun debates wearing tuxedos while engaging in the big battle.

"I can't see any percentage in wearing the stiff things," Pete declared. "About the time one gets his rebuttal going in good fashion, his borrowed shirt is likely to fall off and there goes the debate. And it takes me fully an hour to get all the apparatus on, and I am all hot and bothered before the fireworks start."

A suggestion by a listener that the flower girls assist the speakers in getting into their "tuxes" met with Pete's hearty approval, however.

Calhouns Trip Morgans Five To Even Series, 29-20

Paced by the brilliant shooting of Morrow and Jerry Hulsey, the Calhoun Literary Society basketball team whipped the Morgan ensemble in a bruising battle in Kilby Hall last night. The score was 29-20. The win for the Yellow and Red evened the five-game series at two each and made ready for the rubber game to be played at an early date.

The Calhouns trailed their rivals in the first period, but forged ahead to lead at the half, 17-13. Morrow led the scoring parade with 10 points and Hulsey sunk his deadly push shot for nine tallies. Compton led the Morgan offensive by garnering nine points. Nabors, Calhoun forward, fouled out of the game in the early part of the fourth period. Mathews, Morgan standby, also was lost on fouls. A large crowd witnessed the thrilling contest. One of the biggest turnouts of the year is expected for the big championship game, the date of which will be announced soon.

Geography Club Met February 17

The Geography and International Relations Club held its regular meeting in Bibb Graves Hall February 17 with the president, R. P. Steed, in charge.

A round table discussion on world peace was led by Grace Barnard and Pete Mathews. This was to supplement the round table discussion in the Far-Eastern crisis led by Iris Dodd and Wallace Nabors in the previous meeting. These topics are to be discussed by the representatives of the Southern Conference, to be held at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

Plans for the sending of delegates were completed. Those to attend are: Dr. J. F. Glazner, R. P. Steed, Pete Mathews, Grace Barnard and Edgar Sanders.

Great J.S.T.C. Five Coached by "Steve"

J. W. STEPHENSON

Stephenson, Jacksonville basketball mentor, will direct the district basketball tournament starting tonight on the campus. Coach "Steve" has again put out a great basketball team, a trick he has done many times before for J.S.T.C. Both the college and coach are renowned for fine basketball teams.

Calhouns Will Defend Negative In Annual Debate

Yellow And Red Say "We're A'gin It" In Forensic Fracas

The Calhoun Literary Society debating team, Malcolm Street, John Harbour and Acker Vanderford, has decided to defend the negative of the question, Resolved: That The National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered To Enforce Arbitration Of All Industrial Disputes, in the annual Morgan-Calhoun debate, an event of the early part of the Spring quarter.

The question is the national Phi Kappa Delta subject for the current year, and is said to be one of vital interest to every wide awake citizen today. The Calhouns are coached by Lance J. Hendrix, head of the English department. They will be opposed by the Morgan trio of Pete Mathews, Lee Jones and Otis Mattison, coached by Dr. W. J. Calvert.

History Club Met At Bibb Graves Hall

The History Club held its regular meeting in Bibb Graves Hall February 10. The president, Lee Jones, was in charge.

An interesting program on Southern History, during the War Between the States, was given. Those participating were:

Willie Mae Muskett, "Hidden Treasure in Alabama."

The Sixth District Basketball Tournament will swing into action tonight at 5 o'clock in Kilby Hall for the thirteenth annual battle for district cage laurels in prep school circles. The meet, sponsored again by Jacksonville State Teachers College, is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of tournament play. The record entry of thirty-nine teams should make for a stronger brand of ball and a more representative tourney.

Jacksonville, in order to give the players even better accommodations than before, is furnishing two gymnasiums this season to speed up play and to take care of the vast crowds which flock to the games. Kilby Hall, the site of past tournaments, will be the playing floor of the upper bracket while the lower bracket will play at the same time in the brand new National Guard Armory, recently completed on the campus.

Millerville, Alexandria To Open

One game will be played before supper tonight in Kilby Hall between the Millerville High and the Alexandria High teams. The eliminations will continue in both gymnasiums at 6:30. At that hour in the Armory, Chink Lott's talented Anniston High School Bulldogs will play Center, while Winterboro is scrapping with Odenville in Kilby Hall.

Observers are at loggerheads as to the winner this year. Jacksonville High School Golden Eagles are seeded in the No. 1 spot and should come through on Monday night for the crown, but plenty of fans doubt whether they will be able to stand the tough grind Seeded behind Jacksonville in order are Lineville, Sardis and the Piedmont Bulldogs. Of the quartet, Sardis has by far the toughest assignment in the opening game, facing the strong Oxford team. Other powerful teams are Pell City, rated as one of the best; Emma Sansom, and Lincoln. Pell City recently handed the Jax Frosh combine a licking, thereby gaining considerable support for the favorite's post. Dark horses are always the order of the day here, however, and any of a dozen quintets has an excellent chance of succeeding to the throne room now occupied by the Cauhoun County High School.

Stephenson In Charge

The meet this year is under the direction of Julian W. Stephenson, director of athletics at State Teachers College. Stephenson is a veteran in the field of basketball and will be able to handle the details of the big conclave in fine style. College students will be admitted to all of the games through Saturday evening free as has been the case in the past.

Many visitors will be on the Jacksonville campus during the four-day meet. Members of the District Athletic Board who will be here are, Mr. P. G. Myer, principal of Anniston High School; Frank J. Little, principal Alexandria High School and J. P. Creel, of Sylacauga.

THE CAGE TOURNEY

On Thursday evening, Jacksonville State Teachers College will once more begin its peasant task of playing host to the Sixth District Basketball tourney. Thursday evening will mark the thirteenth time that this institution has had this honor and responsibility. We say honor and responsibility for it is just that. It is an honor in that Jacksonville was again selected as the site for the meet over some strenuous opposition. It is a responsibility in that the college students are burdened with the task of upholding the record that the school has attained in the dozen years gone by. There is but one reason why Jacksonville was named as host to the tournament again this year. That is because that a majority of the coaches and players concerned are pleased with the treatment that they have received here in the past. We must continue that feeling of satisfaction.

To the many coaches, officials, players and visitors who will be here this week-end, the State Teachers College student body, through its official organ, The Teacola, bids you WELCOME. We are indeed glad to have you on the campus once more. We are at your service. We want to assist you in any way possible. We hope you will let us.

THE AUDITORIUM

Possibly before you read this editorial something will have been done about the situation to be mentioned. If so, you may take this for what it is worth as a follow-up or what you please. If nothing has been read this again.

The physical education department of the college has provided for the students this year more recreational facilities for Bibb Graves Hall than ever before in the history of the school. And the students have utilized the various facilities to the fullest possible extent it seems. This is as it should be. The college wants the students to avail themselves of these opportunities for play. Play is indeed a vital part of one's education.

There is another side though. The physical education department has been attempting to have the student vacate the auditorium during five minutes immediately preceding class periods. This drive has met with very little success thus far. Students get interested in the games and they forget that they are disturbing others during that five minutes. They have insisted on continuing their games. This has been done, we feel sure, with no malice aforethought but merely through thoughtlessness. No student wants to cut his own throat. But that is what will be done if some adjustments are not made.

The Teacola is informed that three distinct moves need be made to correct the difficulty. The first is that the doors to the auditorium must be kept closed at all times. Secondly, all noise of games played must be kept down to a minimum. Thirdly, as has already been stated, the five minute recess must be observed.

We believe that the college students want to use the recreational facilities. We believe that they will insure their continuance by cooperating in this matter

THIRTY FOR MCINTYRE

The Teacola staff, as representatives of the journalistic profession locally, mourns with all of America the untimely passing recently of one of this nation's outstanding writers, O. O. McIntyre.

Conceded by his contemporaries to have few equals in the newspaper field, McIntyre had amused millions of readers throughout the United States for years with his breezy, yet authoritative column, "New York Day By Day." He had in reality become an indispensable part of our lives. Like Brisbane, he had carved for himself a niche in the wall of journalistic fame which will endure forever.

For O. O. McIntyre we must say something that he cannot say for himself—thirty.

J.S.T.C. Admitted To National Council

Jacksonville State Teachers College has been admitted to membership of the American Association of School Administrators, Dr. C. W. Daugette, president, recently was notified by officials of the association. Admission followed the 100 percent recommendation by officials of the accreditation committee that the college be admitted to membership in the body. One of the outstanding educational organizations in the country, membership in the group is a distinct honor and recognition of the college.

Dr. Daugette, Dr. C. R. Wood, dean, will leave here sometime Thursday for Atlantic City to attend annual meetings of the association, which begin Friday and last 'til next Wednesday. Prof. Reuben Self, principal of Jacksonville High School, also will probably attend the meetings in Atlantic City. Dean Wood and Dr. Daugette will represent the college at the sessions. They will sit on the National Conference of Education, which will be held jointly with the association's meetings, also.

J.S.T.C. Mourns Hazel Brown's Death

Sweet Hazel sings, angels give ear
 Hers and the Glee Club's songs they hear.
 Her voice, for all its golden worth,
 They find too good to sing on earth.
 "Join us in heaven's choir," they say,
 "Sing with the angels, come today."

A Friend.

The campus was profoundly affected and mourns deeply the passing of Hazel Brown, 19, the fifth of five sisters to attend the Jacksonville State Teachers' College, who died in a Gadsden hospital February 15, after a short illness. Her death shocked the college more than anything of the 1937-38 session of college.

A girl of spotless character and impeccable reputation, Hazel was justly and widely beloved and esteemed by faculty members and students alike. A member of the Glee Club and active in all other worthwhile activities, she was very popular among fellow freshmen and other students.

"Hazel was called from the J.S.T.C. Glee Club to sing in Heaven," remarked more than one friend of the attractive and winsome Hazel, consoling other friends, and themselves, with this happy thought that eased personal pangs of loss. "We know that if anybody deserved to go to Heaven, Hazel did."

Four popular sisters preceded her at Jacksonville. They were Stella, Alameda, Desser and Willie. Hazel was the youngest of the five.

A faculty committee of four and a twenty-student delegation represented Jacksonville State Teachers' College Thursday afternoon at funeral services for Hazel, in rites held at the New Hope Baptist Church, near Glencoe, her home town.

College faculty members representing the faculty at the funeral were: Registrar A. C. Shelton, Prof. C. M. Gary, Mrs. Mary Etta Stephenson, and Miss Ada Curtiss. In the student delegation were Estes Hudson, president of the freshman class; Susan Rhodes, William Dabbs, Otis Mattison, Jr., Lucille Parrish, Jessie Wright, Betty McDowell, James Wharton, Ruth Miller, Katherine Savage, Selena Mae Howe, Katherine Ledbetter, Ruth Mae Ware, Thedus Hodges, Elvis Smalley and Felton Daniel.

Several beautiful floral wreaths from the college were on the popular girl's bier as further tokens of the high regard in which she was held by her teachers and fellow-students. They were bought by contributions of the freshman class and by faculty members. An immense crowd attended the fine J.S.T.C. girl's funeral.

Why Go To College?

Why did you come to college, my boy,
 Why did you leave the farm,
 And leave old Dad with the work to do?
 I'm sure that you mean't no harm.

Now that you're here and settled down
 In a college of liberal arts,
 What is your motive in life, my boy,
 To woo and break more hearts?

College is different from high school life,
 In many many ways you'll see;
 The longer you stay, the more you'll agree
 What fools we mortals be!

You may have been a ladies' man
 Back in the old home town,
 But there's a lot to learn, a goal to earn
 Before you receive the crown.

Life is more than meat or raiment
 It is more than dollars and cents
 Then ask yourself this question my boy
 Where shall I pitch my tent?

The friends you make and company you keep
 Are of infinite value to you.
 Let your life so shine with the "Spirit of Light,"
 As sun rays sparkle the dew.

'Tis only a span from cradle to grave
 The race will soon be run.
 CHARACTER is all that counts, my boy,
 With Heaven to win, and hell to shun.

Series Of Sermons On Marriage Slated

The Rev. J. Ivey Edwards is to preach a series of sermons on marriage at the First Baptist Church, February 27, at the evening service he is to talk on "How To Be Unhappily Married."

The following Sunday evening he is to use "The Man Who Never Married" as his subject. This is to be treated from a scriptural standpoint. And the following Sunday evening he is to preach on "How To Be Happily Married."

The services begin at 7:15 p.m. College students are urged to attend.

WOOD NOTES

"In the Spring A Young Bird's Fancy—"

Though Spring starts officially in this hemisphere in March, there is no divine law to say that only any warm day sandwiched between cold spells are not days to make eyes at girls. Spring starts, in nature, not by official fiat, suddenly, but in a succession of waves, warm weather fighting the cold and eventually overcoming it. Spring raids the territories of Winter long before it can invade and occupy them. Spring is any pleasant day after the first of the year. And in Spring, all birds are young.

It is a windy, cool, brisk, clear January day at Wade's Pond. Ducks, tame and wild together, and domestic geese float unafraid on the surface of the water. All other birds, apparently, avoid the wind in invisible places. I cross the road, stir up a flock of juncas or snowbirds who fly rattling in front of me. I am following a titmouse's whedo-whedo, and a pine warbler's blurred trill. But I stumble instead on the source of another, staccato, tinkling song; a pair of downy woodpeckers. The male, a bird little larger than a sparrow and done in lines of black and white on the back and white below, with a red spot on the back of his head, rests motionless along the branch, facing the female, his body stretched to its longest body, neck, and head making one straight wedge, ending in the point of his bill. For an uncomfortable time, he is still, then begins to wave and dip from right to left and return, gradually increasing the arc of his pendulum. He stops suddenly, draws in his head, then cranes his neck again, utters queer little jerky sounds, and goes through a series of bizarre angular movements. The female, like him except for her lack of red, who has been watching him apparently unexcited, flies to the limb above him. Immediately he is still again, but this time he lowers his head, stretches his wings out horizontally, leaving a sharp angle at the shoulder, and spreads his tail into a fan. Hardly a handsome feather falls somehow to be displayed. His companion, having feasted her eyes, flies to the next tree for food, and soon he is after her, to continue his courtship.

Or have you watched the pigeons on the campus? The male is not noticeably male 'til he, too, becomes amorous. While the female pecks contentedly on the ground, he picks out a likely miss and lands beside her. He is sideways to her, looking at her out of the corner of his eye. If she notices him, she gives no sign. As she turns to feed in another direction, he makes a rapid strutting run to place himself in front of her. Now he fills his lungs, throws out his chest, draws in his chin, and utters uggie-uggie-uggie slowly from deep in his throat. Whenever she turns to avoid him, he throws himself again in her way, trying apparently to catch her eye, or at least to give her an eye-full. During the time, he looks larger than usual, probably because he has puffed his feathers out. It is hard for him to remain puffed up, and to run rapidly, and at the same time to save his sense of dignity. The female, frankly bored and tired of almost stepping on him, makes a longer flight than usual in search of peace. That leaves him in front of another female. He catches the latter's eye, guesses that maybe he can please her better, and commences at once a second courtship. Being a pigeon, he is a great lover. He loves not a single woman, but the eternal womanly. If at first he doesn't succeed—why, there are other pearls in the sea!

MRS RUTLEDGE DAUGETTE HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Rutledge Daugette was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club.

Five tables were placed in the living room where a blazing log fire and artistic arrangements of colorful Spring blossoms added cheer.

Mrs. Reuben Self won the high score for the club members, a gift package of soap, and also the traveling prize, a novelty whisk broom. Mrs. J. W. Humphreys received the guest prize, a powder jar.

The hostess served a delectable plate of cherry mousse and coffee, using the George Washington motif.

Those present included Mrs. Lowman Leonard, Mrs. T. J. Waldrep, Mrs. Robert Lindholm, Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Mrs. J. D. Rayfield, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. J. W. Humphreys, Mrs. C. E. Cayley, Mrs. Samuel Thompson, Mrs. T. B. Shotts, Mrs. Ralph Crow, Mrs. Reuben Self, Mrs. H. L. Stevenson, Mrs. Hoke Rowan, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. W. C. Sargent, Mrs. A. J. Kitchens, Mrs. J. F. Glazner, Mrs. C. E. Bondurant and Mrs. R. K. Coffee.

Mrs. H. B. Mock assisted the hostess in serving.

Dr. C. W. Daugette Speaks To Club Women Wednesday

Visitors Of Note Appear On Program At Bibb Graves Hall On Tuesday

The fourth annual county club institute of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs held a session on Tuesday in Bibb Graves Hall with Mrs. C. R. Wood, county chairman, presiding, and Mrs. A. J. Kitchens, secretary.

The program began in the assembly hall with the student body joining the group. "America" was sung by the audience and the Rev. R. C. Wilson made the invocation.

Dr. C. W. Daugette addressed the assemblage, using as a back-ground for his remarks the "Farewell Address" of George Washington, whose birthday it was. Dr. Daugette's comments were most timely, not only because of the celebration of Washington's birthday, but also on account of the present critical state of international affairs. He called attention to the fact that this country enjoys the privileges of free speech, the right to worship as we please, and a free press. To this freedom of speech he attributed the wave of pacifism which has swept this country and has weakened the military defense which has subjected insults to citizens of the United States in other countries, shame to the flag and disrespect to the soldiers stationed in foreign fields.

He referred to the speech made recently before the senate by the head of the United States Navy, who lamented the terrible lack of defense in our army and navy; stating that it would take ten years to prepare a navy yard and sufficient defense to really protect the United States in case of invasion.

Dr. Daugette paid tribute to the intelligence of the club women and urged them to discuss these problems and situations in their meetings; saying that it was not that the interests of peace should be forsaken, but that the country should be prepared for defense, if necessary.

Education, he assured them, is the answer to all problems; educate the people and this country will continue to enjoy freedom of speech, religion and the press, but neglect education and they will take to any "ism" which comes along. "We want peace," he said, "but not peace at any price."

Mrs. F. A. McCartney, of Anniston, compared the college student to the diamond-in-the-rough, who, when he has received an education has brought out the polish, brilliance and strength which was lying dormant within. As Lincoln desired books and as Helen Keller said, "I must speak," so the youth of today is making the same demand; that they must speak through education. Education is the combined purpose of youth and club women, she said in her talk.

Mrs. J. E. Jordan, Sylacauga, who is the district director. Mrs. Mattie Gilbert, also, of Talladega, presented the Adult Blind Work and had a demonstration by a blind young woman, Miss Sara Brown, who threaded a machine and sewed. Blind-made garments were also on sale.

Dr. J. M. Kimmey, county health officer, spoke on "Cancer," showing charts which gave evidence of the increase in deaths from this disease, and emphasizing the fact that it is more prevalent among women than men. He added a note of encouragement, however, stating that great advances have been made in the study of this disease by scientists and that there was more hope of finding a cure now, than in previous years.

Miss Minnie Sellers, of the college faculty, delighted the audience with a period of recreation.

At the conclusion of the session, luncheon was served in Daugette Hall, the delicious menu being planned and supervised by Mrs. L. J. Hendrix. Mrs. Julian Stephenson said the blessing and Mrs. C. E. Cayley, president of the Jacksonville Book Club, welcomed the visitors.

Mr. L. J. Hendrix, head of the English department of the State Teachers College, addressed the group, using as his subject, Helen Keller.

Program Dance To Close Winter Term

Preliminary plans for the Junior Prom, scheduled for Bibb Graves Hall March 11th, have been completed and work on the dance is going forward rapidly in preparation for the big social event.

The Junior Prom will be open to all students of the college and former college students, as well as off campus guests. One of the largest delegations of ex-students to return to a dance in years is anticipated.

Malcolm Street, president of the Junior Class, announced today that arrangements to book an outstanding orchestra for the big program dance are practically completed, and a definite announcement will be made in a few days. Grace Barnard, chairman of the committee on decorations, stated this morning that something different in the way of decorations will greet the eyes of the dancers on the eve of March 11. Serving with Miss Barnard on the committee are Marguerite Posey, Smith Thompson, Mrs. Nelson and Azelle Carter. Heading the committee in charge of programs is Bismark Evans, of Anniston. Mr. Evans is aided and abetted by R. P. Steed and J. C. Rowe. Adrian Haon is chairman of the group working out the details for the invitations.

Admission to the dance will be by card only and no stags will be admitted. Students wishing to invite off-campus guests to the prom will please see Eleanor Jane Johnston, secretary of the Student Social Committee for bids.

Mrs. Ethel Posey, Miss Maude Wright, Mrs. Harris, Miss Esther Jackson were recent visitors to Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Allison were called to Georgia last week-end because of the serious illness of Dr. Allison's sister.

THERE'S A SWING

To the "date" frocks at MANGEL'S. Conform on the campus all that you want to, but be sure and follow the dictates of your crowd for "outside" frocks. At MANGEL'S are frocks that are certain sorority favorites as well as the kind that have plenty of fraternity lure. They are right in readiness for the week-end, for "rushing" for "dating" and for just dashing around. So you'd better dash right down to MANGEL'S and see them for yourself as well as the coats, suits and lingerie that just arrived.

The more you do forget, the less you know.
So—Why study.

Mrs. Frost: Well, son, what have you been doing all afternoon?
Harry: Shooting craps.
Mrs. Frost: Now, listen here, son, that must stop. The poor things have as much right to live as you have.

Mrs. Steve: I'd like to buy a dress to wear around the house.
Clerk: It will take a very big dress to go around your house.

Mrs. Thomas: Certainly this is a fine book. It will do half of your work for you.
Selena Mae: Fine! I'll take two.

Emmett Plunkett: Let's cut psychology and go to the show today.
Ed Sewell: Can't do it! I need sleep.

Lois: Tom is such a dear. He's going to teach me to play cards so that I'll know all about it after we're married.

Ruth: That's nice! What game is he going to teach you?
Lois: I think he called it "solitaire."

Dr. Arnold: (during lecture) "Now you all know what a molecule is—"
Bennie Steinberg: (interrupting) "Most of us do, but for the benefit of those who have never been up in one, you'd better explain."

WE WONDER—

Why the Morgans couldn't get the ball last night?

Why Harry Frost and Malcolm Street lost their cockiness last Saturday night?

Why Mr. Gary said, "Take other stairs?"

Which one Mattison will pick for his flower girl?

If the Teacola will ever go to press?

Why Mrs. Poff said, "I doubt it" to Nell Tennant's statement that One rabbit will lact the same whether alone or in the company of a million other rabbits.

Why Dr. Mock blushed a deep crimson after he had asked Mildred Earnest how far she had to go before becoming sentimental?

Whose garters Gynn Nelson found in his pocket Sunday morning?

Why Grace Barnard always sits on her evidence.

If Grace Ellenburg enjoyed her hay ride.

If Shelton Akers would really pitch somebody out of the library for talking?

Why the Weatherly Hall girls enjoyed moving out so immensely?

If Ruth Mae Ware knows the words to the song, "Sweet And Low."

So much confusion occurred in the left hand balcony at Kilby on Wednesday night?

Etc., etc., etc., etc.

Concert Orchestra Is Active At J.S.T.C.

The Jacksonville State Teachers College Concert Orchestra is making rapid progress under the direction of Mrs. Nathalee Ewing Love, conductor. The musical unit, regarded as one of the outstanding organizations of its kind among Alabama colleges, has a personnel of ten players, and additions to the group are being considered by Mrs. Love.

The orchestra, not to be confused with the Jacksonville Collegians, local dance band, has arranged a series of assembly programs, the first of which was given recently. A full-length concert will be presented during the commencement exercises in the Spring.

The personnel of the orchestra follows: Eleanor Mapes, first violin; Ellen Driskill, second violin; Eleanor Simmons, second violin; Johnnie Ford, second violin, Lanier Cowart, first trumpet; George Griffin, second trumpet; Dewitt Hanks, clarinet; Mrs. Wright, pianist; Lamar Triplett, xylophone, and Mrs. Love, conductor.

Freshmen Given Information On Fine Art Of Osculation

Just A Few Gentle Hints About These Kissing Games And A Few Little Suggestions That Might Keep Our Freshmen Out Of Trouble

We received an article taken from The Georgia Tech which we believe will interest the male of the species on this campus. After reading this column of love, romance, and the gentle art of osculation—there should be no disappointed love affairs on this campus.

"Kissing is, or should be made one of the fine arts. While there is no immediate danger of becoming one of the lost arts, or even lapsing into innoxious desuetude, still it is just as well to do what we can to keep it up as an art standard. For heaven's sake don't make a business of it, and don't jump at it; don't pounce down on a woman's lips as you would on a piece of watermelon, or a ripe tomato, and bend her head back until you hear the bones crack in the back of her neck. Don't glue your face to hers and have a good time all to yourself while you're flattening her nose on one of your cheeks. Don't take her by both ears and look into her eyes and try to grab it quick; you are sure to bump noses. These are a few general rules which may at all times be safely observed.

"Stand a little bit behind her, just on the right side. Place your left arm diagonally about her form extending from her right shoulder down to and partially around her waist until the ends of your fingers touch her belt buckle. If she doesn't wear a belt buckle, the arm will get there just the same. Take it easy; don't get excited. Take your right hand and gently brush the golden ringlets from the left side of her alabaster brow, looking in the meantime into the liquid depths of her azure eyes. Take it easy."

"Don't get excited. Let your hand rest gently for a moment on the warm velvet of her pink-and-white left cheek. Then gently work the muscles of your right arm until her right cheek rests firmly on your left shoulder, just over the watch pocket. Take it easy; don't be in a hurry; it'll keep. Send a little energy along the line of the left arm. Now stand still as long as you can. Then remove your right hand from her cheek, letting it drop gently under her chin. Take it easy, don't hurry. As the chin rises, work the neck muscles and let your head fall gently forward. Now a little more action down the left arm and as the ripe lips twin rosebuds part, then, well, you know the rest as well as I do—only take it easy; don't hurry; it can't get away, and it wouldn't if it could!

"This technique would make some modern youths blush for lack of shame. (Maybe it would be a good idea, student of femininity, to file the above away for future reference. Nothing succeeds so well, you know, as providing exactly what is wanted.)"

JACKSONVILLE HI SCHOOL NEWS

The Senior III literature classes have completed a study of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Macbeth." A number of the students attended the performance of the play given Friday night at the Anniston Little Theatre.

The students who attended were: Misses Evelyn Espy, Elizabeth Wilson, Frances Burge, Hilda Dean Williams, Edna Ogletree, Oma Chitwood, Lucille Wynn, Constance Mock, and Messrs. Richard Hart, Charlie Burdette, Lemuel Glazner. Mr. Robert Gilbert, of the English department of the high school also attended the play.

The Senior's Store has installed a refrigerator. Ice cream in bars, sandwiches and cups are now available.

Through the week, the Student Council has sponsored plays, posters programs, poems, etc., to keep before the student body the importance of courtesy in social, business and school life. Each day of the week the posters on the bulletin board were changed so that a new slogan, poster, or drawing would meet the students as they entered the building.

Before the campaign, the students were given a test on courtesy problems which confront them every day. These tests have been corrected and will be returned as soon as the second test is given. The same test was given last Monday and will show, in some measure, the benefit the campaign has been to the students.

On Tuesday morning the first of three programs was presented. The program consisted of Song, "Rosalie" presentation of booklets to the homeroom representatives by the student council president, Oma Chitwood. Mrs. Self then made a talk on courtesy, in which she gave the results of the interviews with Jacksonville merchants. Mrs. Self stated that the merchants gave courtesy as one of the fundamental requirements for success.

Mrs. Self also spoke on the origin of several customs of etiquette.

Mrs. Hooper's home economics girls gave an interesting skit on table manners. Those who took part were Dorothy Wood, Minette Cass, Wilma Broome, Jewel Green.

Mr. Gilbert gave a talk on courtesy in which he emphasized the tone, pitch and expression in the voice as being items of courtesy.

Oliver Norman directed two of the scouts as they showed the various ways in which the flag is displayed correctly.

Lemuel Glazner began Friday's program with a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Glazner.

A play, "Qualifications for Good Manners" was presented by the student council. The cast was as follows: Mr. Burgen, a theatrical producer, Rolfe Nelson; Mr. Burgen's secretary, Dorothy Mintz; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Evelyn Espy and Vernon Haywood; Goldie, Constance Mock; William Devenshire, James Broughton; Camilla Nunway, Jean Groover; Dorothy Turner, Oma Chitwood, Jack Turner, Oliver Norman. The theme of the play was the value of good maners. It was well received by the audience.

A new class in physical education has been organized for the sixth period. This will enable those who could not schedule physical education to take it at this period. and Ethel Snead.

A trumpet solo "Stardust" by Ivan Greenleaf followed the skit.

Professor Quiz in the person of Dorothy Mintz, visited our school and asked questions on courtesy. The students participating were: Oma Chitwood, Evelyn Espy, Rolfe Nelson and Vernon Haywood.

Mildred Bryant, Evelyn Espy, Minette Cass, Constance Mock, Leota Shaw and Dorothy Mintz modeled the correct clothing for school, sports and the street. The girls also showed the correct and incorrect ways of walking and standing, and sitting, while Miss Nichols, the physical education instructor, explained the good and bad points of their posture.

Thursday's program opened with the audience singing Harbor Lights.

Mrs. Self announced the winners of the contests. In the poster contest, Eugene Ward won first; Euleda Logan, second, and Cora Battle, third. Mildred Hudgins was awarded first place in the slogan contest; Eugene Ward, second place, and Cora Battle, third place. First place in the essay contest went to Hilda Dean Williams, with Melba Roberts and Dorothy Mintz in second and third places respectively. Honorable mention was received by Lemuel Glazner. Melba Roberts' poem was given first place; Andrew Nelson and Margaret Ward won second and third places, respectively.

In the absence of Melba Roberts, Mrs. Self read her poem. Mrs. Self then pointed out some of the better posters and slogans which had been submitted.

A talk on sportsmanship was given by Mr. Stevenson, coach at the high school. In his talk, Mr. Stevenson said that the Golden Rule is still the best motto for courtesy in sportsmanship.

Jacksonville History Department Presents Radio Quiz

Dr. Cayley Master Of Ceremonies or Air Program

The history department of Jacksonville State Teachers College continued the weekly radio programs sponsored by the college over Gadsden's WJBY recently with a reproduction of the famed Professor Quizz program. Dr. Chas. E. Cayley, professor of English history, announced the program.

The boys team represented by Charles Mathews, Sanders Roberts, Harry Frost, Malcolm Street and Azelle Carter, defeated the girl's team composed of Isabelle Roper, Nell Tennant, Mrs. Avis Porch, Crenna Russell and Elizabeth Luker by a score of 3-2.

POLITICAL Announcements

Editor's Note:—Due to the increasing interest in the approaching political campaign, The Teacola is publishing the announcements of those who desire to further their campaigns by this medium. These are paid political advertisements.

I am a candidate to succeed myself as substitute center on the varsity basketball team in the coming primary. If elected, I promise to continue my sensational playing on my back and will cooperate with the opposition to the best of my ability. Your cheers and influence will be appreciated.

Bryant "Fruithurst" Steele.

I am a candidate to succeed Nell Tennant as fourth assistant "flunk-y" in the State Teachers College library. I contend that I have had more experience in "politicking" and therefore I should be able to handle the position in a more acceptable fashion. My driver's license is No. 1736485.

Lee Jones.

I hereby announce by candidacy for the position as president of the J.S.T.C. Fat Club to succeed Mrs. Pooff. My girth now measures 83 inches and by the Fall elections I should be pleasingly plump. My motto is "Three squares a day keeps the bay window away—out in front." Your vote and hamburgers will be highly appreciated.

George "Squabby" Griffin.

I am a candidate to succeed myself as chaperon at Weatherly Hall. My platform is—No dark corners—heads twelve inches apart, and Quaker silence at all times.

At a recent faculty meeting, the question of beautifying the campus was brought up. Dr. Jones suggested that an Italian garden would be the thing. Then he proposed that—to lend atmosphere to the Venetian canals—a dozen gondolas should be purchased.

Dr. Weishaupt couldn't see the resolution. "All that money!" she exclaimed, "Why not buy just two gondolas and let nature take its course?"

Mr. Gary: "Name a great time saver"
Melvin Jackson: Love at first sight.

Dr. Austin: That new dog I've got is a wonder. He's just like one of the family.

Dr. Allison: Which one?

Shelton Akers: Yes, she got mad and called me a blooming old bare-faced rascal.

Kirk: Well, she's slightly mistaken. You've got a mustache.

Milford Jolly: I owe all that I have to one lady.

Lester Jolly: Which one; mother or Marie?

Milford: Neither one—my land lady.

Last summer Joseph Wilson was sitting on a couch with a French girl in a drafty room.

Je t'adore, said Joseph.

Mrs. Stephenson: "Those cakes at Miss Luttrell's tea were as hard as iron."

Mrs. Love: "I suppose that is why she said 'Take your pick' when she handed them around."

Jewell Jackson: "Here's a scientific chap who says there are styles in emotions."

Nancy Kline: "Shouldn't wonder. Haven't you seen people with their temper ruffled?"

Having just received a bill from his tailor marked "Please remit by return mail; third notice," Pete Mathews replied:

Dear Sir:—

"I do not remember ordering a suit of your description. If I did order it, you certainly never made it for me. If you did make it for me, I never got it. Furthermore, if I got it I must have paid for it. And if I didn't, I can't."

Sincerely yours,
Pete Mathews.

JAX NOSED OUT BY HOWARD 41-35

Eagle-Owls Trim Erskine In S.I.A.A. Cage Battle

Caldwell's Long Shot Whips South Carolina Team, 39-37.

Captain Arnold Caldwell's looping shot from deep center court in the closing seconds of an overtime period saved the Jacksonville State Teachers College basketball team a hard-earned 39-37 victory over the Flying Fleet of Erskine College, on the latter's floor Saturday night. With the score tied and the seconds ticking away, the big Jax center swished the oval through the netting for a sweet victory over the team which won the S.I.A.A. crown in football last season.

Coach Julian Stephenson elected to open with his shock troops against the Due West outfit, and the second-stringers accredited themselves in fine fashion, oftentimes keeping the home boys from getting set for their deadly long shots.

The regular playing time ended with the score tied at 33 all, but Jacksonville surged ahead in the overtime period to win.

Caldwell with 11 points, led the offensive for the Owls. Plunkett found the hoops for 10 points. Jax exhibited some of the best floor work of the entire season for the benefit of the South Carolina fans.

The lineups: Jacksonville (39)—N. Hancock and Yancey (4) forwards; Steele (1) center; Montgomery and F. Hancock (2) guards. Subs: Plunkett (10), Buford (5), Caldwell (11), Machen (4), and Brooks (2).

Erskine (37)—McCowell (6) and Long (3) forwards; Edwards (12), center; Phillips (10) and McDonald (6) guards. Massey and Pressley, subs.

W. A. A. NEWS

By Evelyn Phillips

The table tennis tournament of last week was a real success. The winners were: Alice Hamric and Malcolm Street. The board voted to cancel the shuffle board tournament held at the same time as the table tennis one because the regulation on time of completing rounds was not carried out. Hugo Yancey and Marguerite Posey have protested this decision, stating they won by forfeit. This matter will be presented to the board Thursday afternoon meeting.

Basketball practice attendance has been so low even though the weather has been wonderful that it is a question as to what to do about the usual tournament. The plan has been to have this one played by class teams instead of the four athletic clubs as in the past. A decision on this will be made on Thursday afternoon of next week.

Quite a few women students have been asking how to make one of the pretty purple and white silk emblems on display on the W.A.A. table in Room 18. Complete information was given in the W.A.A. column of the Junior Teacola, January 11 issue. This item is posted now on the W.A.A. bulletin board.

J.S.T.C. Leads Bulldogs At Half, 19 To 17; Game Tied 10 Times In Hair-Raising Fracas

Fighting their hearts out against big odds, the varsity basketball team of Jacksonville State Teachers College were barely beaten by Howard College's powerful Bulldog five Monday night in Birmingham at the Howard gymnasium, 41 to 35. It was the season's toughest game for the varsity to lose.

The Jacksonville boys did not lose 'til they had made nervous wrecks out of the team and supporters as well, for the lead changed nine times in the first half, which ended with Jacksonville leading 19 to 17. The score was tied 10 times during the hair-raising battle which scared Coach Billy Bancroft as badly as it did his players and the Howard students.

Jacksonville jumped away into the lead when Hugo Yancey popped in a snowbird from under the basket, after breaking loose from the stern guarding of Howard's famed pair, Cheese Turner and Dave Telford, and a moment later a foul throw gave Jacksonville a three-point lead.

The "second team" of Yancey, Robert Montgomery, Bryant Steele and Nolen Hancock and Frank Hancock started the game, under Coach J. W. Stephenson's new two-team system, holding their own as long as they were in the game.

Sensational shots were scored by Emmett Plunkett, ace forward and scorer; Captain Arnold Caldwell, and Lewis Machen during the game, won by Howard in the second half as Forward Burks broke loose to run his game's total to 21 points against J.S.T.C. Caldwell scored nine points; three field goals and three fouls; Yancey, three field goals and three fouls. Plunkett led in field goals with four shot from the field during the game.

This was the first time this season that Howard's far-feared guards, Piedmont's Turner and Scottsboro's Telford, were stopped cold. But Plunkett, Buford, Yancey and Nolen allowed Telford nothing and Turner only two points during the game.

Lineups and Summary

SPONSORS SELECTED FOR HIGH TEAMS PLAYING IN BIG BASKET TOURNEY

J.S.T.C. Boys To Care For Players In Big Meet

As has been the custom in the past years, sponsors for the various teams playing in the annual basketball tourney have been selected by Coach J. W. Stephenson, chairman of the tournament committee.

The sponsors for the thirty-nine teams follow:

Jacksonville — Bennie Steinberg; Childersburg, Vesta Hill; Woodland, H. C. Daniel; Alexandria, Herschel Jones; Millerville, J. D. Baggett; Winterboro, "Foots" Clements; Odenville, Braxton Sizemore; Fayetteville, Everette Hudson; Roanoke, Clyde Driskill; Sand Rock, R. P. Steed; Southside, B. Pete Mathews; Glencoe, Wallace Nabors; Springville, "Rat" Cooper; Munford, Nolan Hancock; Pell City, B. B. Desmond; Gadsden, George Griffin; Heflin, Aaron Hand; Spring Garden, Murray Frederick; Gaston, James Wharton; Wadley, Arthur Decker; White Plains, "Rat" Dunn; Sylacauga, John Warren; Mignon, B. C. McCoy; Wedowee, Elvis Morrow; Lineville, "Runt" Littlejohn.

NOTICE!

Dr. Kimsey will be in Room 15, Feb. 28, 9:00 o'clock to give smallpox vaccination. Those who had vaccination before Christmas should take it again as the vaccine was dead.

ACE FORWARD

EMMETT PLUNKETT

High scorer for the J.S.T.C. basketball varsity this season, Emmett is shown above in a typical "push-shot" pose, ready to fire one of the many deadly shots that has rung the bell so often for Jacksonville this year. A junior, Emmett should burn up the floor next year in his senior year at forward for Jacksonville. His fast floor work, accurate cannonading and fine competitive heart are invaluable to the team.

JAX CAPTAIN

ARNOLD CALDWELL

Der Captink is the biggest center in an Alabama college. His great height and fine shooting have been tremendous factors in helping the team to its fine record for the season.

STEADY GUARD

LEWIS MACHEN

Seldom does an enemy forward slip a goal into the bag while Lewis is guarding him. He is noted also for his trick of breaking fast down the floor to slap a goal into the sack to help send his mates to victory.

Varsity Beats Coosa Y.M.C.A. In Finale

The varsity five wound up the basketball season in a blaze of glory Wednesday night by licking the Coosa Y.M.C.A., of Piedmont, 39 to 25, as Emmett Plunkett, ace forward and chief scorer for the season, gave one of his flashiest exhibitions of shooting and fast floor work. Emmett shot six field goals, four of them long swishers, to lead both teams in scoring.

The line-ups and summary:

J.S.T.C.: Plunkett, f, 12; Buford, f, 0; Steele, c, 0; Machen, g, 2; N. Hancock, g, 4; Yancey, f, 5; Caldwell, c, 7; Brooks, g, 0; F. Hancock, g, 2.

Coosa Y.: Harper, f, 3; Martin, f, 5; Sneed, c, 10; Coheely, g, 2; Stewart, g, 4; and Privett and Woodall, guards, 0.

Only Bryant Steele, of the squad ended his college basketball career during the game. A senior, the popular "Deacon" Bryant, of Fruithurst got a big hand on account of "charging in there" so faithfully and hard for four years, as he came off the floor for the last time. The team will miss "Deacon" next year, and wishes him worlds of luck.

Scrimmage To Mark Spring Grid Workouts

Hard scrimmages for the next two weeks are on docket for the varsity gridders now engaging in Spring football drills at Jacksonville State Teachers College, according to C. C. Dillon, head grid coach. The boys will be hitting it hard and fast in competition for berths on the 1938 varsity eleven. Intra-squad games will be held on Friday afternoon at 3:30 on the local field.

Many promising newcomers to the squad are showing their wares on the field every day, and the 1938 team should be one of the strongest in the history of the school. A heavy schedule has been announced by Coach Dillon, opening with the Spring Hill Badgers, September 27.

Howard Victorious Over J.S.T.C. On Monday Night

The Howard College Bulldogs continued their victorious march through collegiate opposition in basketball by trimming the Jacksonville State Teachers College five before a capacity crowd in Kilby Hall. The score was 44-34.

Coach Billy Bancroft's classy aggregation lived up to advance notices by showing the cash customers some real basketball. The Birmingham team showed a marvelous passing game and the diminutive guards, Turner and Telford, hit the basket with amazing regularity.

The Jax team opened the game with a bang when Plunkett, flashy forward, connected with a long shot in the initial ten seconds of play. However, the Dogs soon got into the game and led by a 10-8 score at the half. The entire half was marked by close defensive play on both sides.

The entire Jacksonville team played slow ball and fumbled frequently with golden opportunities to score. The team seemed to be tense and slightly nervous at times.

The lineups:

Howard (44), White (1) and Burks, forwards; Gurley (4) center; Telford (14), and Turner (15) guards. Baker (8), Browdy (1), and Burton, subs.

Jacksonville (34), Plunkett (8), and Buford (7) forwards; Caldwell (12) center; Machen (5) and Brooks (4) guards; Steele, Yancey, and F. Hancock, subs.
