

Junior Prom Tonight At Eight

"Dad" Elliott Brings Message To J.S.T.C.

"Dad" Elliott, in his inimitable manner, brought a series of messages to the students, faculty and friends of Jacksonville State Teachers College during the past few days.

"Dad" and Mrs. Elliott, who were quartered in Forney Hall during their stay, arrived Saturday afternoon.

The first meeting held was a business meeting of the Y.M.-Y.W. at Daugelette Hall Saturday evening to lay plans and consider a schedule for Elliott's visit.

During the evening the cabinet members got acquainted with, and got an insight into "Dad's" philosophy and outlook on life and christianity. "Dad's" religion seemed to be a magnetic, vital force in all his acts and thought, and to dominate his vigorous personality.

Mrs. Elliott also impressed the group by the strength and beauty of her personality and the force and vitality of her character.

While on the campus, Mr. Elliott held the following meetings:

Sunday, 11—Services at the First Methodist Church.

7:00—Pictures from India, and from Japan address on Our Opportunities and Responsibilities.

Monday—College Assembly.

4:30—College girls and women.

6:30—College boys and men.

Tuesday—College Assembly.

3:30—College Faculty.

7:00—Address in College Auditorium.

In each of these meetings Mr. Elliott made his dynamic personality and his deep religious experience and feeling a vital part of his message.

His visit was regarded by many teachers and pupils as probably the high point of the quarter's campus life.

Mabel Samuels Back At Her Desk

Mrs. Mabel Samuels has returned to her desk and duties as secretary to Dr. C. W. Daugelette, president of Jacksonville State Teachers College, and as the executive secretary of the institution, after a three-months leave of absence.

Her leave was spent with her husband, M. L. Samuels, former Birmingham chemist, now a chemist with a firm in Columbus, Ohio. Miss Pauline Allen, assistant registrar of the college, performed Mrs. Samuels' work during the secretary's absence. Mrs. Samuels arrived here by automobile Tuesday night, having driven down from Columbus to Jacksonville.

Daugelette Building $100,000 School In Pensacola

The friends of Rutledge Daugelette will be interested to know that the firm of F. R. Daugelette, general contractors, is now engaged in the construction of the Chase Street Junior High School in Pensacola, Florida.

The contract amounts to $100,000, and Mr. Daugelette will be in Pensacola until the latter part of the summer.

WORK

Below is a poem, "Work," written by Angela Morgan. This poem has been the life-long motto of Dr. C. W. Daugelette, for almost forty years president of Jacksonville State Teachers College. He commends the philosophy of the poem to every college student.

WORK

A Song Of Triumph

Work!
Thank God for the might of it,
The ardour, the urge, the delight of it—
Work that springs from the heart's desire,
Setting the brain and the soul on fire—
Oh, what, is so good as the heat of it,
And what is so glad as the beat of it,
And what is so kind as the stern command,
Challenging brain and heart and hand?

Work!
Thank God for the pride of it,
For the beautiful, conquering tide of it,
Sweeping the life in its furious flood
Thrilling the arteries, cleansing the blood,
Mastering stupor and dull despair,
Moving the dreamer to do and dare
Oh, what is so good as the urge of it,
And what is so glad as the surge of it,
And what is so strong as the summons deep,
Rousing the torpid soul from sleep?

Work!
Thank God for the pace of it,
For the terrible, keen, swift race of it;
Fiery steeds in full control,
Nostrils a-quiver to greet the goal.
Work, the Power that drives behind
Guiding the purposes, taming the mind.
Holding the runaway wishes back,
Reining the will to one steady track,
Speeding the energies faster, faster,
Triumphing over disaster,
Oh, what is so good as the pain of it,
And what is so great as the gain of it?
And what is so kind as the cruel goad,
Forcing us on through the rugged road?

Work!
Thank God for the swing of it,
For the clamouring, hammering ring of it,
Passion of labour daily hurled,
On the mighty anvils of the world.
Oh, what is so fierce as the flame of it?
And what is so huge as the aim of it?
Thundering on through dearth and doubt,
Calling the plan of the Maker out,
Work, the Titan; Work, the friend,
Shaping the earth to a glorious end,
Draining the swamps and blasting the hills,
Doing whatever the Spirit wills—
Rendering a continent apart,
To answer the dream of the Master heart.
Thank God for a world where none may shirk—
Thank God for the splendour of work!

—Angela Morgan.

Ima Widow: Did you ever take chloroform?
R. P. Steed: No, who teaches it?

Nabors To Head J.S.T.C. History Club

Wallace Nabors, of Glencoe, Alabama, was elected to the presidency of the History Club, local college organization of those students averaging better than "B" on history at the monthly meeting of the group Thursday night.

Nabors is a member of the Junior Class and ranks high scholastically in the college. He succeeds Lee Jones as president of the club.

Robert P. Steed was elected to the post of vice-president and Miss Edwerta Carpenter was named secretary. Malcolm Street will serve as reporter for the group.

Among the features of the program were discussions by Miss Grace Barnard and Edgar Sanders on problems discussed at the recent Southeastern Conference of the International Relations Clubs.

Plans for the quarterly social were discussed and the matter was referred to the executive committee.

Spring Term To Start On Monday March 14th

March 14 has been fixed by Dr. C. W. Daugelette, president, as date for opening of the Spring term of Jacksonville State Teachers College, he announced here Saturday.

New courses in all subjects desired by new students, or former students who may re-enter, will be offered by the faculty, Dr. Daugelette declared.

Scores of former students and new students are making registration reservations in the offices of Registrar A. C. Shelton. Scores of teachers, most of them former Jacksonville State students, plan to re-enter the college in the middle of the Spring term, Dr. Daugelette and the registrar have been advised by letters from teachers. These are teachers whose schools will end by or before the mid-term begins.

Mrs. Daugelette Feted At Governor's Manse

Mrs. C. W. Daugelette, assistant librarian of J.S.T.C. and president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Alabama, returned on Thursday from Montgomery, where she was an honor guest at a tea at the governor's mansion Wednesday afternoon at a lovely affair given by the three U.D.C. chapters of Montgomery honoring the Alabama U.D.C. head. Mrs. Daugelette was in Montgomery to attend the state conference, or convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution, going as a delegate for Bienville chapter D.A.R., of Anniston.

The three chapters honoring Mrs. Daugelette and a few other D.A.R. and U.D.C. leaders, at the tea were the Sophie Bibb, the Dixie, and the Cradle of the Confederacy. Mrs. Bibb Graves, wife of Governor Bibb Graves, is a member of the Sophie Bibb Chapter, one of the reasons the tea was given at the governor's mansion.

Wood And Daugelette In Capital Parley

Dr. C. W. Daugelette, president and Dr. C. R. Wood, dean of Jacksonville State Teachers College, went Tuesday to Montgomery to attend a conference of deans and presidents of the four state teachers colleges of Alabama called by the Alabama Department of Education to study further plans and details of the new curricula for the colleges. Deans and presidents of the other three state teachers colleges also attended.

Dean Wood and Prof. Reuben Self returned last Thursday from Atlantic City, where they attended the national convention of the American Association of School Administrators, sessions of which were held from last Friday through Wednesday. Jacksonville College was recently admitted to membership in the association.

J.S.T.C. Clubs Send Delegates To Vanderbilt

The local chapter of the Geography and International Relations Club was well represented at the Fifteenth Southeastern Conference of the International Relations Clubs at Vanderbilt University, March 4-6.

Those representing Jacksonville were Dr. J. F. Glazner, faculty advisor; R. P. Steed, president; Grace Barnard, Pete Mathews and Edgar Sanders.

Grace Barnard and Edgar Sanders gave interesting accounts of the program at the History Club meeting, March 10th.

R. P. Steed and Pete Mathews are to appear on the Geography Club program, March 17. Their topics are also to cover the highlights of the convention.

J.S.T.C. Group Presents One-Act Play On WJBY

The dramatic Club of Jacksonville State Teachers College presented a one-act play over WJBY, Gadsden radio station, Tuesday afternoon from 3 'til 3:15, under the direction of Prof. Lance J. Hendrix, J.S.T.C.'s noted professor of English. "Jealousy Plays A Part," was the name of the skit.

Rhonwyn Sims, well-known singer, took the leading role in the playlet. Others of the cast were Frances McMinn, Glenda Landers, Pete Mathews, another performer of note and merit; Grace Barnard, Benny Steinberg, both prominent figures on the campus, and C. Robertson, better known as "Tye."

Calhoun Literary Society Met Tues.

Tuesday evening, March 8, an excellent program was presented including a dance by Gwendolyn Anders and solos by Misses Avon Jordan, Ruth Ware, Ellen Driskell and Messrs. Henry Lee Greer, and Braxton LeCroy.

The election of officers was postponed until next meeting. A large attendance is urged. Remember, Calhouns, the debate is only thirty days off. Here's to victory.

Outstanding Dance Is Set For Bibb Graves Hall

The long-awaited Junior Prom, annual program dance sponsored by the Junior Class of State Teachers College, will swing underway this evening at eight o'clock in Bibb Graves Hall. The gala affair promises to be one of the biggest social attractions of the current season.

The shufflers will swing and sway to the nifty music of Lamar Triplett and his Jacksonville Collegians, an dthe local maestro guarantees that no one will lack for plenty of hot rhythm.

A colorful decoration scheme has been worked out under the direction of Grace Barnard, and the young lady promises the dancers something of a "wow." Miss Barnard is being assisted by Smith Thompson, Marguerite Posey, Mrs. Nelson, and the entire clas.

The affair will be directed by Malcolm Street, president of the Junior Class. Emmett Plunkett, Douglas, vice-president, is general chairman of all committees. The dance, a formal prom, is open to all college students, faculty, and their guests. No stags will be admitted and admission is by card only.

Dr. J. Frank Glazner, class adviser, and Mrs. Glazner, and Mr. and Mrs. Pink Love will serve as chaperons for the dance.

Second Sermon Of the Matrimonial Series Delivered

At the evening Baptist service, the Rev. J. Ivey Edwards delivered the second of a series of sermons dealing with matrimony. The subject "The Girl of His Dreams Turned Him Down," proved to be exceedingly interesting.

Two more sermons concerning marriage have been scheduled for the two following Sunday evening services.

Everyone is especially urged to attend these.

Dr. Echols Speaks

Dr. Graham Echols, student pastor at the University of Alabama, gave the students a good talk at assembly on March 4th.

He told the students of the four main divisions that their schedule of time should be divided into. They were as follows: work, rest, religion and recreation.

At 10:30 Friday morning, Dr. Echols talked to a group of Wesley Foundation members. He told them some ways of getting more young people to go to their meetings.

Dr. Echols stayed in Dean Wood's office part of Friday talking to different members of the Wesley group. He remained on the campus until late Friday afternoon.

U. S. To Inspect Co 'H' Tuesday

U. S. officers will inspect Company "H" local machine gun unit, next Tuesday.

The boys, most of them J.S.T.C. fellows, are busy getting ready for the big event.

CARE OF THE CAMPUS

Jacksonville has one of the most naturally beautiful campuses of any school in Alabama, and the college is continually going to be a great deal of expense to beautify it still more. The appearance of the campus can be improved a great deal by the cooperation of the students.

There is nothing that mars the beauty of any grounds more than paths zig-zagging across it from all directions. Many students insist on taking short cuts across the grass plots, and as long as we do that, we can't expect the grass to grow evenly.

There are other things practiced that are by no means ways of beautifying the grounds. Paper is thrown down without regards as to place. Coca-Cola bottles are left in secluded or not-so-secluded spots where thirsty couples have refreshed themselves. By practicing a little thinking we can avoid this unsightliness. Garbage containers are conveniently situated on every floor of Bibb Graves Hall. It is just as easy to hold our paper until we reach a container as it is to throw it heedlessly down on the campus. Please return your cold-drink bottles to the Grab. Not only will the appearance of the campus be improved, but Mrs. Thomas will not have to chase them down.

Show your loyalty to the school and your appreciation of its beauty by cooperating with the Senior Class, which is sponsoring this care-taking project.

Go To College In Hard Times, Urges Shelton

Swat the big bad wolf with the board of education, is the advice of Registrar A. C. Shelton, of Jacksonville State Teachers College, to young people who have not completed their educational training. He means, says Mr. Shelton, that the best investment of time that young folks, without complete educations, can make in times of business depression, such as we now have, is in going to college.

Instead of staying at home idle or else working at a job where the pay is very meager, a youth should get into the college classroom and be fit and well prepared for a good job when a depression ends, Mr. Shelton reasons. Pointing out that it pays merchants to advertise when business is bad, he continues:

"The wide-awake business man does the bulk of his advertising when business is dull. The same principle should apply to the preparation for life. The young person who sits at home during depression and feels that conditions never will improve will find himself unprepared when opportunities are available. High school graduates should not wait for flush times to enter college.

"The time lost in waiting for better opportunities to go to college is never regained. During the present recession of business is the opportune time for people to prepare for better times which will come in the future.

"We have always survived depressions and only the pessimist can feel that conditions will never be better. College doors are wide open for young people of the right type. They should avail themselves of the opportunities which await them."

THIS EDITION

Should you have known what the staff had done
You'd appreciate this Teacola more.

Like dynamite you see us fight
To gain this valuable lore.

If you could see these typists three
At the typewriters picking away,
You'd forget the mistakes and take the breaks
And call it a gala day.

Just read the ads and the other do-dads
Of interest hard to surpass.
Then take time out to read about
The doings of each class.

And then, also, you'll want to know
About dear old Jacksonville—
Read the Teacola well and you cannot fail
To see it fills the bil.

And if today you want to say
That we're only bluffing
We'll proceed to ask like a frigid blast,
"What do you expect for nothing?"
—Iris Dodd.

JUST JOKING

Before marriage a man yearns for a woman.....after marriage the "y" is silent.

On our way to normalcy, isn't there something we can do to get the girls' nails out of the red?

Lady Driver: Tell me, Edith, quick! Which is the right side of the road to keep on when you're running down a hill backward like this?

Historians tell us that women used cosmetics in the Middle Ages. For that matter, women in the middle ages still use them.

WOOD NOTES

By Clara Weishaupt.
Spring has come to field and wood and roadside. Weeks ago the alders heralded its distant approach when their staminate flower clusters opened, shed their pollen, then withered and fell. The flowering of the elms and the maples announced that it was just around the corner. Now blossoms of wild plum, henbit, hepatica, redbud, violet, toothwort, rue anemone, kidney-leaf crowfoot, henbit, blueet—all attest its presence.

The elm trees, so abundant on the campus and along the streets of our town, are now in fruit. The fruit consists of a flat disk surrounded by a thin wing, the whole fruit about one-fourth to three-eighths inch in diameter. Those of the winged elm, which is the more abundant one in our town, are smaller and red-brown in color. Those of the American elm are green and are sometimes mistaken for young leaves. The leaves of the elm are not yet out of the buds.

The maples may be found either in flower or in fruit. These trees in either state are bright crimson spots in the woodland, which, except for the evergreens, still wears for the most part its winter grays and browns. The maple fruits are two seeded and bear two oblong wings, which at maturity will be an inch or more in length. A winged fruit, such as that of the elm and of the maple, is called a samara.

One of the earliest of the low herbs to bloom is the hepatica or silverleaf, a white flower about an inch in diameter. This little flower has six or seven white or bluish sepals, numerous stamens and pistils, and three small subtending leaves. The basal leaves of the hepatica have either not yet appeared or are yet very small at the time of the appearance of the flowers, but usually some of last year's leaves that have remained through the winter can be found. It was the shape of these interesting three-lobed leaves that suggested the name of the plant. The hepatica belongs to the Crowfoot family.

Two other members of this family may be found in bloom now. One is the rue anemone, which consists of a slender stem perhaps six inches high, bearing a whorl of trifoliate leaves and a cluster of delicate white or pink flowers. Another is the kidney-leaf buttercup, which bears inconspicuous flowers of pale yellow from which the tiny petals are early shed.

Several of the violets are blooming. Perhaps the most conspicuous ones at present are the bird's-foot violet and the wild pansy. The latter is the small, pansy-like plant with small, bluish-white flower, so common on the campus and elsewhere in the town. The bird's-foot violet is a large purple violet in the middle of which is an orange spot made by the large conspicuous tips of the stamens. The leaves are divided into linear segments.

A great treat in store for the woodland wanderer at this time of year is the trailing arbutus in bloom. As the name indicates, the stem of this plant is prostrate. The leaves are evergreen, rather stiff, and leathery. The petioles and midribs are hairy and often red. The small white or pink flowers occur in clusters. The trailing arbutus, because of its scarcity, may not be easy to find, but the beauty of the foliage and of the waxen, exquisitely fragrant flowers is compensation for a tiring search.

To the extent to which one enjoys the wild plants does he suffer disappointment when he finds that some previously located favorites have been destroyed by fire or by careless picking. Many wild flowers, particularly many of the fall composites, are so abundant that they may be picked without danger of extermination, but others are scarce and should be protected. Flowers should not be picked in places where there are only a few specimens growing, and when picking is done care should be taken to leave underground parts uninjured, to allow leaves to remain whenever possible, and to leave plenty of flowers for seed. Flowering branches from shrubs should be cut off carefully, not pulled off in such a way as to leave the shrub broken and injured.

And if it were not for the fires, how much more beautiful these hillsides could be!

A.E.A. Geography Teachers Program

Prof. Leon McCluer, chairman of the department of geography teachers of the A.E.A. gives the following announcement concerning the program for the meeting of this department in Birmingham, March 25.

The most vital problem before the people of Alabama at the present time is the problem of conservation. In all its phases this problem covers Alabama's most important interests and most serious difficulties. In planning a program for the geography teachers this problem was taken as the center of interest and an attempt was made to include such materials and use such speakers as would most effectively call attention to some of the things public school teachers should instill into their pupils, and should disseminate throughout their school communities.

It's amazing how many young women still think that any desirable male can be caught by beautifying only the outside of the head, says Pete Mathews.

Dr. Wood Going To Dean's Parley

A meeting to revise courses of study and catalogues of the four state teachers colleges of Alabama will be held in Birmingham March 22 at the Tutwiler hotel by the four deans of the colleges, Dr. C. R. Wood, dean of Jacksonville State Teachers College, announced here today. Other deans to attend will be Dr. T. H. Sisk, of Livingston; Dr. M. D. Pace, of Troy, and Dr. C. B. Collier, of Florence.

Revision of the curricula and courses of study are being carried out at Jacksonville, in co-operation with the other four colleges, by four committees of Jacksonville, under the chairmanship of Dean Wood. On the J.S.T.C. committees are Dr. J. W. Humphreys, Miss Minnie Sellers, Prof. C. M. Gary, Dr. Lloy Allison, Prof. L. M. Anders, Miss Ada Curtiss, Miss Ethel Randolph, Dr. J. H. Jones, Dr. W. J. Calvert, Dr. C. E. Cayley, Coach C. C. Dillon, Dr. R. P. Felgar, Miss Maude Luttrell, Mrs. Palmer D. Talbot, Mrs. Mary Etta Stephenson, Prof. John McCluer, Dr. Clara Weishaupt, Registrar A. C. Shelton, Miss Stella Huger, Dr. J. F. Glazner, Dr. H. B. Mock, Dr. P. J. Arnold.

Freshman Planning Heap Big Sociable

The freshman class will go a-frolicking in a big, big way, one of these here warm days come spring-time and swimming weather, they decided at a class meeting held on Tuesday morning in Graves Hall, with President Estes Hudson, presiding. Definite date for the sociable will be announced later, after it is decided upon.

A pre-vue of plans for the big event reveals boating, swimming, kodaking and eating as four main pastimes scheduled. There will probably be more eating and lots of scratching, however, a glance at the pre-vue foreshadows.

Attend Theatre In Gadsden

The handsome Robert Taylor scored another knockout when he drew a group of girls from their sanctuary at Daugette to see him play at Gadsden in "A Yank At Oxford."

The young ladies who made up the party were: Polly Allen, Lou Ree Gregg, Willie Mae Muskett, Geraldine Davidson, Wynelle Solley and Sadie Baswell.

According to Polly, it was "just fine."

Students Go To Hear Nelson Eddy

On Tuesday, March 1, a number of students motored to Birmingham to hear Nelson Eddy in a concert at the Municipal Auditorium.

Those students who accompanied Miss Louise and Mr. F. F. Brown were: Misses Evelyn Phillips, Lou Ree Gregg, Melba Thompson and Ellen Driskell.

The girls reported that they enjoyed both the concert and the trip very much.

Mr. Ansley Wells also attended the Nelson Eddy concert in Birmingham Tuesday night.

B.S.U. Marshmallow Toast Enjoyed

After the regular council meeting, March 2, the B.S.U. enjoyed a marshmallow toast at the home of Rev. J. Ivey Edwards.

Those attending were: Lucille Weaver, Ann Garst, Ann Lambert, Lynette Jones, Bernice Gallant, Iris Dodd, Ogburn Gardner, Jack Davis, Truman Durham, Braxton LeCroy and James Whorton.

B.S.U. Installation Banquet Plans Being Completed

Plans for the B.S.U. Installation Banquet are being completed. The main purpose of this banquet is to welcome and install the officers of the 1938-39 Baptist Student Union. The retiring officers of the 1937-38 council will act as hosts.

The toastmaster is to be someone from Southwide headquarters, in Nashville, Tennessee. It has not been decided who.

D-Ettes Will Meet On March 9th

The D-Ettes will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday, March 9 at 8:30 p.m., at which time the new officers for the coming quarter will be elected.

An interesting program has been planned for the evening by the program committee.

The sorority is looking forward to an increase in membership in the Spring Quarter.

MRS. DAUGETTE ATTENDING D.A.R. MEETING

Mrs. C. W. Daugette and her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Carson, of Atlanta, are in Montgomery for the state meeting of the D.A.R.

Mrs. Daugette is one of the guests of honor, as state president of the U.D.C., and will be in the receiving line which will take place at the governor's mansion today, and later at a tea at the Montgomery Country Club.

W.A.A. Entertains at Big Square Dance

"Circle up four," and swing your partner," resounded above the shuffling of dancing feet and fiddling Saturday night at a square dance given at Kilby Hall, of Jacksonville State Teachers College, by the executive council of the Women's Athletic Association, Rachel Wheeler, council chairman, in charge. The dance was for the benefit of the athletic fund of the organization.

The college's string band of fiddlers, guitarists and mandolin players played familiar old tunes to which Americans have danced for generations, such as "Turkey In The Straw," "Old Dan Tucker," "Soldiers' Joy" and "Alabama Gal."

In the band were, Fiddler Boots Wiser; Guitarist Fletcher Sisson; Guitarist Quinton Porch; Arthur Decker, Nelvin Jackson, mandolin player, and Guitarist Clarence Daniel.

DAUGETTE HALL NEWS

Miss Ruth Mae Ware had as her guests Sunday, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ware, of Gadsden.

Miss Margaret Hinds spent the week-end in Piedmont with Miss Carolyn Robertson.

Mrs. C. R. Wood had as her guests for dinner Sunday, Mrs. R. C. Wilson, Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Bill Wilson.

Miss Ferrell Bolton had as her guests for dinner Sunday, Captain and Mrs. Henry Winn and little daughter, Marianna.

Miss Winifred Smart spent the week-end at her home in Five Points.

Miss Catherine Ledbetter went to her home in Ragland for the week-end.

WEATHERLY HALL NEWS

The following Weatherly Hall girls spent the week-end out of town: Miss Eleah Kennamer, Woodville; Miss Florence Sutton, Grant; Miss Martha Owen, Five Points; Miss Louise Beall, Buffalo; Miss Nancy Kline, Birmingham; Miss Jessie Wright and Miss Selena Mae Howe, Gadsden; Miss Louise McGilvary, Five Points; Miss Naomi Bryant, Albertville; Miss Catherine Savage, Pell City; Miss Louise Rhinehart, Center; Miss Louise Ellis, Piedmont.

Misses Maudie and Audie Taylor were called to their home at Lynn the past week-end because of the illness of their mother.

Miss Eleanor Jane Johnston was the guest of Miss Margaret Rhodes at her home in Golden Springs on Sunday.

MISS CURTISS HONOREE ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Ada Curtiss was the inspiration for a lovely dinner on Sunday evening; the occasion being her birthday, when Miss Fanny Bush entertained in her honor, at her apartment in the home of Mrs. Jas. Williams.

A delicious three course dinner was served to the following: Miss Curtiss, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Exa Hames, Mrs. F. L. Treadaway, Miss Ferrell Bolton. Mrs. Leon McCluer was invited but could not be present.

After dinner the party went to Bibb Graves Hall for the illustrated lecture by Dr. A. J. Elliott. The honoree was presented a lovely collection of gifts.

Any man who contemplates marrying his stenographer should remember that she knows the 'touch' system perfectly.

Steed New President For Morgans

The Morgan Literary Society held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at Daugette Hall for the purpose of electing officers for the Spring Quarter.

The meeting was opened by Adrian Haon, president.

The following officers were elected: R. P. Steed, president; Bryant Steele, vice-president; Harry Frost, secretary-treasurer; Adrian Haon, reporter; James Whorton, Evelyn Phillips, cheer leaders.

The Morgan spirit will soon be running riot again. It has already made a good beginning with painting the water tank, and with the debate only two weeks off, war will soon be on.

Another clash between the Morgans and the Calhouns will be staged at Kilby Hall with the two basketball teams scrapping for high score.

French Started In Training School

As an experiment in the educational field, French is being taught to Miss Fanny Bush's sections of the fifth and sixth grades at the Training School.

This move was begun back at the beginning of the Winter Quarter under the leadership of Miss Bush and Mrs. James Jones.

It is unknown if any other elementary school in Alabama or in many other states offer the opportunity of learning French; thus this move is particularly significant. It already gives great promise of spreading rapidly to other grades, and it is entirely possible that within the next few years foreign languages will be on the daily schedule of every school in Alabama.

This experiment has already proved beyond doubt that a language is mastered easily by children. Their months are more pliable, the muscles less set, their senses less easily confused; they themselves are less self-conscious.

And lastly: "I feel like punching that teacher in the jaw again!" "Did you say aga—AGAIN?" "Yeah, I felt like doing it once before."

Some Pro (o)!

Wife: How did you remember you had forgotten your umbrella?

Prof. Humphreys: I missed it when I raised my hand to close it after it had stopped raining.

Gov. Graves Sets March 22 As Day For State Birds

Alabama, the first state in the nation to set aside a day for commemorating the beauty and usefulness of birds, will observe the occasion this year on Tuesday, March 22nd.

A proclamation issued by Governor Graves calls attention of all citizens to the day and suggests that it be observed in a fitting manner.

Bird day will fall on the third day of National Wildlife Restoration Week, which has been set for March 20-27, and which also has been proclaimed by the governor. Observance of this week will be sponsored by the Alabama Wildlife Federation, affiliated with the national federation.

MORGAN-CALHOUN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME NEXT TUESDAY EVE

Record Crowd Expected To Attend
Big Battle In Kilby Hall
At Six-Thirty

With the crucial series standing deadlocked at two games each, the basketball combinations of the Calhoun and Morgan Literary Societies will lock horns in the titanic rubber game for the cage championship of the college for the year 1938 in the Kilby Hall arena Tuesday evening at 6:30.

The game Tuesday night is the game of all games, and one of the two traditional rivals will bite the dust in humiliating defeat while the other will bask in the sun of championship. The partisan supporters of the two contending groups were boldly predicting a victory as the Teacola was put to bed, but unbiased observers were not making any predictions as to the probable outcome.

"You can't tell about one of those scraps," an observer was heard to remark. "When those guys get the old fight in there one never knows what will happen next." That seemed to be the general opinion on the campus today. Your guess is probably as good as the other guy's.

Manager Lewis Machen, of the Morgan brigade announced that his team was in tip-top condition and expected to give all they have in the pivotal game. The Morgans will again base their hopes primarily on the husky shoulders of one "Bull" Compton, scoring ace, who has run wild in all the previous games. Compton will probably team with Jones at the forward posts. Tommie Gibbs will play center, and Pete Mathews and R. P. Steed will likely open at the guard berths.

Manager Rex Hooten, of the Calhouns will feed the opposition another dose of the fiery Jerry Hulsey and "Two" Morrow in an effort to give the Calhouns the championship for the second straight season. Hulsey, the classy spot artist, and Morrow, have scored over 80 points between them in the four games played to date. They are definitely the men to stop if the Morgans hope to win. Morrow has been bothered somewhat by illness in the last few days, but he hopes to be ready to go by Tuesday night. Wallace Nabors will play the other forward with Hulsey and Felton Daniel will team with Morrow at guard. Tome White will probably open at center. The chances of Oliver, injured center ace, playing are very remote, according to Hooten.

All the color and ballyhoo of the Morgan-Calhoun rivalry will be on display at the game. The two warring factions are grooming themselves for the bitter pre-debate rivalry and the game Tuesday will be the spark that will set off the powder keg. A small admission fee will be charged to aid in defraying flower expenses at the debate. One of the largest crowds of the year is expected to jam the gym for the fracas.

LOST—One cap in good condition when last seen, and three slightly used teeth. If found, finder will be rewarded. Return to the Police Department.

"Steve" Calls Out J.S.T.C. Batteries

"Battery-attention. Begin working out next Monday to get ready for the opening of baseball season."

This was the order sounded today by Coach J. W. Stephenson, for pitchers and catchers, known as batteries or battery-men or the firing squads, at Jacksonville State Teachers College. Candidates for other posts on the nine will be called out a few days later, Coach Stephenson stated.

Chief of the battery candidates will be two veterans from last season, Tom White, star catcher, and little Arnold Caldwell, who is only 6 feet 7 inches tall, a noted performer on the football and basketball outfits of Jax State. Caldwell is the only regular pitcher and White the only regular catcher to return for the team this spring. Both White and Caldwell are sure starters.

Bryant Steele, a former member of the hurling corps, but not a regular, is in college, but since the heavy duties of a senior bear down in the closing days of a collegiate career, Bryant may not be able to get out and throw 'em for his alma mater this season. Other mound prospects are uncertain, Coach Stephenson says.

A schedule that will include two games with Howard College, one there and one here; two games with Marion Institute, and two with St. Bernard College, is being arranged by Coach Stephenson. The Jax State diamond is being put into first class shape for the diamond duels to be waged on it this Spring, and will be ready for the battery-men when they report next week.

Kirk To Join Card Baseball 'Gang'

Off to the "chain gang" of the St. Louis Cardinals will go Ben Kirk, slugging outfielder and first baseman from Jacksonville State Teachers College in a few days. Kirk was placed under contract by Frankie Frisch's famous Cardinal Club recently, he stated here today.

Ben will not report until after the end of examinations and tests being given now at the end of the Winter term of college. The exams will end at the last of this week.

Kirk is a hard hitter and a fine fielder. Playing last summer with Fairfax, in the Chattochochee Valley League, Ben pounded the ball for .370. He played first base for Fairfax, ranking among the best fielders of the fast, independent amateur league.

A graduate of Parrish High School Walker County Alabama, Kirk is studying to be a school teacher. He will play ball in the summer to pay his way through college and to support his wife, Anna Dean, also a student here. He has a sister, Kathleen, at Jacksonville, also. He is the son of Ben J. Kirk, of Parrish, a merchant. He is a six-footer and weighs 195 pounds.

Kirk is the second baseballer from Jacksonville to get a major league contract in recent years. Tom Drake, Cleveland pitcher, who past-timed a while with New Orleans in the Southern, was a Jacksonville product. He left the classroom of

Sophs Win Co-Eds' Class Championship

Rachel Wheeler Shoots Team To Glory With 12 Points

The sassy sophs are possessors, owners, holders and winners of that coveted and prized title of chempeens of the J.S.T.C. co-eds, having won the title last Thursday night by beating the seniors, 20-9. In a consolation game played the same evening in Kilby Hall, the freshmen team licked the juniors, 12 to 8. That left the ratings with the sophs first, seniors second, the freshmen third, and the juniors fourth.

Here's how the sophs scored their win over the seniors, shown by the line-up and summary:

Sophs, 20 Rachel Wheeler, 12, f; Jane Easterwood, 4, f; Alice Hamric, 4, c; Edna Fowler, g; Jacqueline Eden, g; Lloydene Franklin, V. Satterfield, Clorene Chamblee.

Seniors, 9 Seniors: Grace Hamric, 9, f; F. York, 7, f; H. Franklin, c; Lura Conn, g; Eleanor J. Johnston, g.

FROSH-JUNIOR GAME

Juniors, 8: Edith Street, f; Sarah Ford, f; Virginia Waters, 4, c; Meryl Millican, 4, g; Frances Sheppard, g.

Frosh, 12: Edna Storey, f; Naomi Bryant, 6, f; Willie Jane Blalock, 4, c; Louise Johnston, g; Myrtle Patterson.

Stephenson Has Fine Record As Jax Cage Coach

An enviable record, and a successful one, as a college basketball coach has been established for the last 10 years at Jacksonville State Teachers College by Coach J. W. Stephenson, athletic director and basketball and baseball coach. His teams have won three-fourths of their games.

Coach "Steve" capped his decade of strong and wining teams in 1938 by turning out a five that won 13 games and lost three to opponents in amateur ranks during the season. His three losses were two games to the Howard Bulldogs in close battles, and one to the Tennessee Tech team in the locals' first game after Christmas.

The 1938 team's record excludes two losses and one victory with strong professional teams, a loss by one point to Olsen's Swedes, a seven-point loss to the Celtics and a 12-point victory over the Pontiac Indians, a Redskin five from Detroit.

Coach Steve's teams have won 105 games and lost only 35 to amateurs in the last 10 years, the records show.

With no man on the varsity to be lost by graduation, and with several fine players coming up from the frosh team. Coach Steve should have a great team next year—perhaps his greatest. He indicates he will use the two-team system next year, due to the fact the game is faster and harder on players.

Here is a little quip that fren Thomas Robertson, alias Anon F. Mouse, turned in to this column:

"An oyster met an oyster,
And they were oysters two.
Two oysters met an oyster,
And they were oysters too.
Three oysters met in a pint of milk,
And they were oyster stew."

Jacksonville to play with Troy State Teachers College after pitching for Jax State a couple of seasons before going into pro ranks. The Jax State coach, J. W. Stephenson, was a noted hurler for the University of Alabama nine in his college days, and is a brother of Riggs Stephenson, former Baron manager and big league star.

THERE'S A SWING

To the "date" frocks at MANGEL'S. Conform on the campus all that you want to, but be sure and follow the dictates of your crowd for "outside" frocks. At MANGEL'S are frocks that are certain sorority favorites as well as the kind that have plenty of fraternity lure. They are right in readiness for the week-end, for "rushing" for "dating" and for just dashing around. So you'd better dash right down to MANGEL'S and see them for yourself as well as the coats, suits and lingerie that just arrived.
