S.T.C. Students Entrain At Florida N.G. Camp

LOCAL CONTINGENT OF
GUARDS COMMANDED
BY C. W. DAUGETTE, JR.

Many hearts among the co-eds of J. S. T. C. are heavy, and with good reason. The local company of Alabama National Guards left early Sunday for a two-weeks training period in Camp Foster, just out of Jacksonville, Florida. At least, the boys will not be so very homesick, just going from one Jacksonville to another.

The local contingent of Guards, commanded by C. W. Daugette, Jr., and one of the highest rated machine gun companies in the state, along with the other Alabama guards, will repay Florida's visit to Alabama's Fort McClellan which they made in 1937.

Company H. of Jacksonville is composed of about 90% college boys. So from all the remainder of the student body comes a wish for happy days and nights under Florida skies for the boys in khaki.

The following J. S. T. C. students are members of the National Guards now in a Florida camp: Harold B. Carpenter, James Kemp, Curtis Williams, Odis Claborne, Troy Goggans, Robert Guice, Clarence Jones, Vernon Jones, Vernon Haywood, Troy Mintz, Robert Owens, Harry Rice, Neal Royer, Latham Sibert, Smith Thompson, Woodrow Thrash, Ormon Tidmore, James Farrell, Lamar Triplett, Aaron Hand, Virgil Smith and Billy Dabbs.

Dr. Edwards Lectures On Oral Hygiene

Dr. Boyd Edwards, Associate in charge of the Division of Oral Hygiene for Alabama, visited J. S. T. C. July 10-13 for the purpose of better educating the students in the fundamentals of oral hygiene.

His program here consisted of ten hours of lecture work in which he gave addresses on oral hygiene, or dentistry, to the various physical education classes. He also made a dental examination of all students wanting one. This was entirely free.

Dr. Edwards, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, recently visited S. T. C. at Troy and Alabama College at Montevallo, where he put over programs similar to the one carried out here.

On leaving Jacksonville, Dr. Edwards went to Milwaukee, where he is attending conventions of the Public Health Dentists' Association of America and the American Dental Association.

During the year Dr. Edwards goes into the counties that invite his services or that request a dental program. This program is strictly educational, consisting of lecture work in elementary, junior high, and high schools, with a dentist of the local community giving dental examination.

Miss Randolph Sponsors Picnic For Student Teachers

On the night of June 29 a very nice picnic was enjoyed at Crystal Springs by the people who are doing student teaching with Miss Ethel Randolph as their supervisor. The crowd enjoyed a delightful evening of swimming and dancing. This was followed by a chicken supper which was indeed a treat.

The following people attended: Miss Ethel Randolph and Miss Louise Bullock, supervisors; Miss Yarbrough and a guest; Mr. and Mrs. Milford Painter; Mr. and Mrs.

Senator Lister Hill To Deliver Closing Address

U. S. Senator Lister Hill, of Montgomery, will deliver the graduation address for graduates of summer school at Jacksonville State Teachers College, it was announced today by Dr. C. W. Daugette, Jacksonville's president. The graduation exercises will be on August 11, in Kilby Hall.

Senator Hill was asked to speak at the commencement exercises because of his intense interest in education and because he is regarded as one of the country's greatest orators. His subject for this address will be announced later.

Jax Faculty Members Visit Troy

SPEND DAY OBSERVING
METHODS EMPLOYED
AT SISTER COLLEGE

A group of Jacksonville teachers including Miss Ferrell Bolton, Mrs. Birdie Lee McClendon, Miss Maude Wright, Mr. E. J. Landers, and Dr. Kenneth H. Garren spent July 12 at Troy, where they visited the training school at that college. In reporting the activities of the day, which included observations of methods employed at the training school and conferences with the Troy supervisors and teachers, the group mentioned particularly the lovely entertainment and courteous extended them on the trip.

The Troy training school has been operating on an integrated program for two years, and it is the opinion of Dr. Wood and Mr. Landers that an interchange of visits from one institution to another will improve the teacher training program.

Some members of our training school staff are actively engaged in integrated work. For example, Miss Fannie Bush's grade assisted by student teachers, is producing a garden and is canning fruits and vegetables.

Committees of the faculty expect to do more visiting this fall. They will observe methods at such schools as the Parker School, Greenville, S. C., Dr. Alexander's school at Springdale, N. C., the experimental school at Milledgeville, Ga., and the T. V. A. school at Sheffield.

Guy Taylor Plays For Assembly

Most enjoyable of recent cultural events at J.S.T.C. was a program given in assembly by Guy Taylor, prominent young violinist. Mr. Taylor, a native of Anniston, was presented by Miss Maude Luttrell of the English Department, and his program, ranging from well-known classics to lighter music, included "Obertass' Mazurka by Wieniawski, "Air for the G String" by Bach, "Gavotte" by Couperin, "Poeme" by Fihich, "SSchon

Mrs. C. W. Daugette and her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Carson, of Atlanta, boarded a plane in Birmingham at noon Wednesday, for Los Angeles, Cal. where they will visit Rankin Daugette.

Mrs. Daugette's friends did not know that she had become "air-minded", but with persons traveling from this country to Europe on the Clippers perhaps more of the local citizens will be following suit.

DR. C. W. DAUGETTE
TO COOPERATE IN GOOD HEALTH STEPS

The Exchange Club met Wednesday at noon, at Daugette Hall, with the new president, Dr. F. M. Lawrence presiding.

Health Stressed

A health program was presented in which Dr. C. W. Daugette stated that every effort is being made and will continue to be made to control the spread of streptococcus throat, which is prevalent in the city. He explained that the possibility of its coming from the pool is being investigated. It has been suggested that the dust during the dry hot nights also helps to spread the germ. He said it is possible that children who have the germ might pass it onto others by going in the pool where others are in swimming. He suggested that children who have symptoms, such as colds, be barred from the pool until well.

Dr. J. D. Rayfield, who was the speaker for the day, agreed with Dr. Daugette, and talked briefly about the streptococci germ. He said that streptococcus is not necessarily contagious except that it may be transmitted as other germs are. He said that persons having any kind of disease should not be allowed to go in this, or any other pool.

Mr. L. G. Prentice, of the County Health Department, was introduced as a guest.

A delicious luncheon was served, the menu consisting of fruit cocktail, fried chicken, broiled steak, potatoes au gratin, slaw, hot rolls, fresh peach ice cream and cake.

Life Savers Finish Tests

DeKalb Students Hold Interesting Meeting

Last Tuesday, July 11th, the DeKalb County students met and elected the following officers.

President—Archie Martin, Vice-president—Lionel Worthy, Secretary—Mrs. Colman Owens, Reporter—J. Wiley Honea, Chairman of the Social Committee—Miss Mary Ellen King.

The club decided to go to Crystal Springs on a picnic in the near future.

Mrs. Colman Owens, Miss Rosalyn Stallings and Dr. Humphreys gave very interesting talks on the new curriculum and activity program.

There will be a meeting each Tuesday morning at ten o'clock and all DeKalb students are urged to attend.

Marshall County Students Organize

The Marshall County students met Tuesday, July 12, for the purpose of organizing.

The following officers were elected: President — "Red" Kemp, Douglas; Vice-president, Clarence Jones, Arab; Secretary-Treasurer—Lydia Sims, Guntersville; Reporter—Nellie Waldrop, Guntersville; Social Committee Representatives, Vydel Solley, Arab, Carl Waldrop, Guntersville, and Grace Scruggs, Albertville.

French Club

The regular meeting of the French Club was held Tuesday night at 7:00 in Bibb Graves Hall. An interesting talk was given by Mrs. Jones on some of the many interesting places in Paris.

And those French songs we sang? Well, my goodness, one passing by wouldn't have known but that he were in France hearing some of the best singers.

Plans for the social were discussed, and if you don't believe that we are going to have a grand time, well, you just join the French Club and find out. The next meeting is to be held next Monday night at 7:00 in Bibb Graves Hall.

A Tribute

We believe in giving credit to whom credit is due. In that spirit, we wish to pay a tribute to Miss Forney. Miss Mary is Superintendent of Grounds, and it is largely through her efforts that the appearance of our campus has improved so sharply. Who has not enjoyed the flowers and shrubs along our walks and drives? Miss Mary's love of beauty and symmetry is carrying over into the lives of all our students.

Ethel Randolph as their supervisor. The crowd enjoyed a delightful evening of swimming and dancing. This was followed by a chicken supper which was indeed a treat.

The following people attended: Miss Ethel Randolph and Miss Louise Bullock, supervisors; Miss Yarbrough and a guest; Mr. and Mrs. Milford Painter; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard York; Mrs. Rhonwyn Bruce; Mr. and Mrs. Holley Hollingsworth; Lewis Bates and guest, Frances Laminack; Grace Bernard and guest, Gus Edwards; Estes Hudson and guest, Lora Baker; Miss Lollar; Solon Gregg; Lester Shipp.

Noted Mississippi Pianist Visits College

Wirt Turner Harvey, one of the outstanding young musicians of Mississippi, was presented in concert at the college last week by the Jacksonville Book Club. In each number of his delightful program, Mr. Harvey gave evidence of his excellent musicianship.

A recent graduate of Millsaps College of Jackson, Miss., Mr. Harvey is leaving soon for Chicago where he is to study under a celebrated teacher of piano. His new friends made at Jacksonville will follow his career with much interest.

The following is Mr. Harvey's program for his concert here:

Fugue	Bach
(Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue, D Minor)
Sonata Appassionata, Op. 57	Beethoven
Three Preludes
Nocturne, F Sharp Major	Chopin
Polonaise, A Flat Major
Carriccio, B Minor, Op. 76	Brahms
Reflections On The Water, Debussy
Liebstraum No. 3, A Flat Major
Major	Listz
The Juggler	Toch
Encores
Juba Dance	N. Dett
Dance Of The Reed
Flutes	Tschaikowski

Mr. Harvey made some very complimentary remarks concerning the college grounds and buildings. Speaking of Bibb Graves Hall, he said, "This building is one of the best I have seen in the South; its equipment is especially commendable."

Mr. Harvey praised at length the friendly spirit of the faculty and students at J. S. T. C., and also said that Jacksonville was truly known as the "Gem of the Hills."

Notice

Dr. Kimmey, the County Health Officer, will give typhoid vaccine to the college students for three successive Thursdays from 10:00 to 12:00, beginning Thursday, July 20.

TRIP THROUGH EAST

Coach C. C. Dillon of the J. S. T. C. faculty has just returned from New York with his first group of college tourists. All members of the party report a most wonderful time.

The trip was made through the world-famous Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, where the party saw such places of interest as the University of Virginia, Monticello, and Natural Bridge. In Washington, D. C., Arlington, Mount Vernon, the Capitol, the Lincoln Memorial, and other places of significance were visited. A glimpse was had of the President, who smiled at the group as he was leaving the White House.

From Washington to New York, the route was through Baltimore, Philadelphia, Trenton, and Princeton, many places such as Independence Hall being visited.

The tourists entered New York through the Holland Tunnel, an experience never to be forgotten. Three days were spent in the big city. The older part of New York—the Battery, Wall Street, the Bowery, and Chinatown—was visited, as well as the newer part—Fifth Avenue, Central Park, Riverside Drive, Radio City, etc.

Members of the party consider a visit to the New York docks and a trip over the Normandie as the high spot of the tour.

The New York World's Fair, of course, was the chief attraction in the great metropolis. Here Coach Dillon and his party spent an entire day seeing exhibits designed to picture the world of tomorrow. With the exception of Germany, all of the great nations are represented with very interesting and education exhibits. Russia's display, which was built at a cost of five million dollars, was probably the most fascinating of all the international exhibits. Coach Dillon reports that perhaps the greatest was the General Motors' presentation of the World of Tomorrow, with Billie Rose's Aquacade, the dancing show of Bill Robinson, the great negro actor, and the Ford Exhibit, all running close seconds in interest and attractiveness.

Coach Dillon will leave August 12 on another tour of this kind. All who are interested in making this trip should make arrangements with him at once.

To Attend Teachers Training Seminar

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Wood will leave July 19 for Nashville, where Dr. Wood will attend the Teacher Training Seminar to be held there the latter part of the summer.

Mrs. Wood will continue her graduate work in library science at Peabody. They will return to Jacksonville in late August.

gram given in assembly by Guy Taylor, prominent young violinist. Mr. Taylor, a native of Anniston, was presented by Miss Maude Luttrell of the English Department, and his program, ranging from well-known classics to lighter music, included "Obertass" Mazurka by Wieniawski, "Air for the G String" by Bach, "Gavotte" by Gossec, "Poeme" by Fibich, "SSchon Rosmarin" and "Liebesfreud" by Fritz Kreisler.

Mr. Taylor, who is a summer student here, has studied violin from an early age. For the last three years he has been a promising pupil of Mr. Ottakar Cadek, internationally known violinist and teacher, and this coming year will be a junior at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music, where he is working for a Bachelor of Music degree.

Mr. Taylor is a member of the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, a member of the Birmingham Chamber Music Society, conducted by Mr. Cadek, a member of the executive board of the Brahms Society of Young Artists and Student Musicians, and has appeared in recitals in several cities.

Lamar Triplett proved a very efficient accompanist for Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Gary Visits High School

Friday, July 7, Mr. Gary presented Oscar, the school skeleton, to the eighth grade at the high school. He explained the different bones, the teeth and their functions, the joints and their operations. Those who heard Mr. Gary's talk wish to express to him their appreciation for going over and they invited him back again.

10 More Scholarships

Jacksonville College Students May Work On NYA Project

Ten more full NYA scholarships for students of Jacksonville State Teachers College have been granted for the second term of Summer School which began last week, NYA authorities notified Dr. C. W. Daggette, college president.

The scholarships are work scholarships which provide that students may work on an NYA building project on the campus in spare time and pay college expenses in full. The project is construction of Daugette Hall annex, now nearing completion, which was begun last fall, costing $49,000.

Oliver Wendell Holmes asked to express briefly his idea of happiness, said, "Four feet on a fireplace fender."

Graduates Of Mid-Summer

Twenty-one students of J.S.T.C. were graduated at the end of the first term of summer school Saturday, July 8. They will get their diplomas at commencement exercises in August.

Those who completed the required work were: Maggie Butler, Dot B. Campbell, Ruby Campbell, Naomi Coffman, Audrey Cornelius, Maggie B. Fossette, Lucille Gaither, Annie Maude Green, Mrs. Minnie F. Griffin, Ruth Hilt, J. Holile Hollingsworth, Ewell Lillian Mills, W. R. Parker, Martha Clementine Rhea, Lilah Shirley, Sara Swearingen, Elsie Bailey Tompkins, Mary Holliman Turner, Jewell Wigley, Maud Yarbrough.

Calhoun County Club Organized

The Calhoun County students met in Room 15 last Tuesday morning at 10:00 for the purpose of electing officers for the remainder of the summer and to complete their program of work.

The following officers were elected: President, Newell Bailey; Vice-president, Mrs. H. D. Nelson; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. C. McClinton; Reporter, Curtis Hall; Social Committee, Vivian Birmingham, Effie Hollingsworth, and Clarence Daniels.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday morning, July 18, at 10:00. Plans for a club social are to be discussed and other important business is to be attended to. All those interested in joining the club, also all old members, are urged to be present.

The Modern Ten Commandments

1. Thou shalt love thy life and live it.
2. Thou shalt love the truth and spread it.
3. Thou shalt love manhood and be it.
4. Thou shalt love knowledge and get it.
5. Thou shalt love beauty and develop it.
6. Thou shalt love liberty and maintain it.
7. Thou shalt love peace and cultivate it.
8. Thou shalt love justice and demand it.
9. Thou shalt love nature and learn it.
10. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, for you and he are one.

—J. Wiley Honea.

A class of ten would-be life savers all have practically finished their water safety tests. The pupils, under the tutelage of Instructors Hall and Carpenter, made a very good showing in their examinations which were given under as nearly actual conditions as possible.

Those completing the tests for Senior Life Saving Certificates were Aaron Hand, Paul Small, Bill Irby, Vernon Haywood, Lawrence Gidley, Victory Miller, Paschall Hayes. Those still requiring part of the exams are Jack Ingram, Denson Allen, and Louise Stevens.

Endeavor Picnic Held Recently

The Christian Endeavor members enjoyed a picnic Saturday night, July 15, at Crystal Springs. Some of the party enjoyed swimming while the others prepared the refreshments. Brother Summers and Leo Traylor demonstrated some fancy diving from the high spring board.

After the party finished with the refreshments, the president introduced members of the party one to one and other, after which some very interesting talks were made. Another social, according to current plans, will be held in about two weeks, and everyone is invited to attend.

LOANS TO COLLEGE STUDENTS FAVORED

Loans to students for college education prove to be good investments, Registrar A. C. Shelton of the Jacksonville State Teachers College told the Rotary Club Tuesday at its luncheon at the Alabama Hotel. Mr. Shelton's talk featured an educational program presented by Charles R. Bell, chairman of the education committee.

About 75 per cent of the students at Jacksonville attended on loans or on money they earn from work during spare time, Mr. Shelton said. Girls repay loans better than boys, Mr. Shelton stated, with very few defaulters found among either sex.

Long Distance Travelers

NEW YORK—The Eskimo family, consisting of husband, wife three boys and a girl, in the Eskimo Village at the New York World's Fair, came from the northwesternmost point on the American continent, Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska. Traveling by dog-sled, plane, boat and train, it took the family a month to reach the Fair.

EDITORIALS

Jacksonville—Up-to-Date

One of the current articles supplied by Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, as a contribution to public information on education is of particular interest to those of us at Jacksonville because the objectives in education as outlined in the article are exactly those which this college is holding up to its young graduates.

Columbia University is maintaining that graduates must know themselves; that they must know how to get along with other people; that they must know what goes on in various occupational fields; that they must have definite ideas on how to go about getting a job. This summer, have we not had here at Jacksonville Dr. Thomas Alexander and Dr. Agnes Snyder, both of Columbia? And have they not inspired us with the great ideals of knowing ourselves and the world in which we live? Who will deny that Jacksonville is up and coming? Who will deny that this college has much to offer the prospective teacher; that the many freshmen students who enter our halls this fall will find here just all they could wish in teachers' college?

Our Cultural Opportunities

The college has for long been so uncomfortably conscious of its growing pains that it has had little time to think of other matters. The fight to provide an ever-growing student body with more and better buildings, books, and equipments, to give them a faculty high in ability, training, and purpose has been long and well fought. Today we have most of the practical things a college needs, but cultural opportunities are sadly few.

This situation casts no reflection upon the college, for two reasons: First, the whole Southland is far behind in such matters, and, second, anything must be firmly on its feet before it can give much thought to the pursuit of the more aesthetic things. However, while the college has been busy with many other things, certain members of the faculty have been tireless in their struggle to instill a worthy start it has made.

Guy Taylor and his violin are a treat rare in our locality; indeed, in any locality. Mr. Taylor, a summer student, is normally a student at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music; his teacher is the great Ottakar Cadek.

Last week Mr. Taylor attended a meeting in Birmingham of the Chamber Music Society of which he is a member. He is also a member of the Birmingham Civic Symphony Orchestra, which is under the able direction of Dorsey Whittington. Students, in the person of Guy Taylor there is an artist among us!

It being only fitting that the violin and piano should go hand in hand, the Jacksonville Book Club brought us Wirt Turner Harvey. Mr. Harvey is, without doubt, a marvel; there will be more and more heard of him, but it will not

How To Get Up In The Morning

There are mornings and mornings, and sooner or later all of them have to be faced. The problem that confronts us is that of just how to face them with the best grace and the least effort. The morning hours can be made the most blissful of the entire day if we just know the proper technique of greeting them.

Perhaps, first of all, we should consider the things not to do. Morning is a time for laziness and sweet comfort. Above all things, never be brisk. If there is one thing to be avoided by all people, it is a happy, shining morning face. And don't be cheery. Cheerfulness before noon is absolutely abominable; in fact, there ought to be a law against it. Cultivate that morning frown. We all have one; so why not admit it and enjoy the full benefits of it? "Bigger and better frowns" should be America's slogan.

Then there is the physical side of the question. Never jump gaily out of bed and start exercising rested muscles. But ease your body gently and tenderly up from its resting place, test the floor thoroughly, first with one foot and then with the other, feel around for bedroom slippers with both eyes closed, and finally stagger to a standing position. Avoid cold showers like poison, and if you must take a bath, make it warm and soothing. There is nothing so truly shattering to a balanced nervous system as icy water upon rising. Besides, think of the effect on your friends if you take cold showers. You somehow can't resist the temptation to brag about doing so, and that gives your friends an inferiority complex. Cold water in the morning should be taken seriously and in a glass. A few hurried and gentle dashes upon your face and hands might be permissible, but you must never use enough to really wake you up.

Complete loss of memory in the morning is a very desirable trait to cultivate. Don't awaken thinking of the things you did the night before. Whatever they were, you probably shouldn't have done them, and the cold, clear light of day will make this fact only too clear. Don't review the past or plan for the future, but live completely in the present and pray for strength to exist until lunch time. After that, life goes on without effort.

Never allow an alarm clock in the house. You might, in some weak moment, be tempted to use it. Clangs and clamors should be reserved for public occasions such as fires, accidents, and prize fights; never for a personal occasion like getting out of bed in the wee hours

MUSICAL NOTES

By GUY TAYLOR

By GUY TAYLOR

"When Music sounds, gone is the world I know,
And all its lovely things even lovelier grow."

—Walter De La Mare.

It is difficult for a violinist to write about his instrument without becoming sentimental to an objectionable degree. However, we shall attempt to overcome this tendency and present a few facts concerning the origin and development of the violin.

The violin is not a product of modern civilization, but is the result of centuries of devoted labor by scores of gifted men. The violin family, made up of the violin, viola, violoncello, and the contrabass, had its beginnings in the middle ages, about 1550, to be exact. It cannot be said that any one ancient instrument was the direct fore-runner of the violin, but it is likely that several early forms of stringed instruments yielded suggestions which were gradually combined to form the first crude violins.

Among these early instruments were the Arabian "Rebec", which consisted merely of strings stretched over a flat sounding-board which had no body and played with a bow; the "crwth", a bowed instrument which resembled the lute; and other instruments which gradually developed into the viol of the middle ages.

These instruments (the viols) were of every size and shape. The period was one of experimentation, and new developments took place constantly, reminding one somewhat of the development of automobiles in the past few years, when every manufacturer tried to invent some new improvement which his competitors had not thought of. Gradually, these many varieties of viols began to narrow down, the makers beginning to combine the best qualities of each of them into one instrument.

The evolution of the violin reached its culmination during the first half of the eighteenth century with the work of geniuses like Stradivari, the Amatis, and Guaneri, who lived at Cremona, in Northern Italy. Cremona was an ideal location for makers of great violins—it was liberally supplied with the fine woods which they used, and it had a warm, dry climate, enabling them to season the wood to its greatest maturity. The violins which were turned out by these three families of makers, the Amatis, the Stradivaris, and the Guaneris, are the very essence of perfection, and are used and prized today by the world's greatest artists.

Ye Olde Gossippe!

This is only a rumor; please take it as such. Miss JONES, Miss Ma May Jones, has decided to withdraw from school as a student and become a professional ditto-er. She can COPY very nicely . . . Ralph WILLIAMS is still looking for a certain piece of wearing apparel which he didn't exhibit at the recently held Fashion Show. Now, now, Ralph, are you hiding something? . . . Is TYLER about to march down the middle aisle? . . . And while on that subject, Ye Olde Gossipper is going to stick his neck out by predicting an early elopement by HODGES and GREGG . . . My, my! What a time Bill does have. Another TARLETON romance is on the rocks . . . Miss Earnestine BROOKS has requested that her friends cease to use the nickname "Pudd'en." She states that if one must be used, she prefers "Sugar-pie" . . . Maudie DAVIS lost her glasses while in the company of Jerry HULSEY. Jerry, can you throw any more LIGHT on the subject? . . . Caught together and taken for twins: "Peg" AUSTIN and Miss ROBERTS. . . . POP and JEWELL have a monopoly on the wire cage behind the "Grab." How about giving somebody else a break? . . . ROYER and VAUGHN, when! . . . Quote "Red" KEMP: "My, I'm glad my girl has gone back home. Now I can chew tobacco whenever I darn please." . . . Recent visitors on the campus included those two lovely CHRISTEENS, Wooten and Glass. Both plan to be back in school come September. . . . Grande Finale: Know the truth, students, scholars, men of learning, and grieve because another "good" person has been exposed to the lashing tongues of gossipers.

COURTESY WITHOUT CURTSY

At the recent visit of their Brit-tanic Majesties to the New York World's Fair, Queen Elizabeth was overheard to remark during the reception in Perylon Hall, "Why don't they shake hands." The remark was prompted by the curtsies of the guests who followed the rehearsal plan. The curtsy was abandoned when the King and Queen began proffering their hands—American style.

upon the college, for two reasons: First, the whole Southland is far behind in such matters, and, second, anything must be firmly on its feet before it can give much thought to the pursuit of the more aesthetic things. However, while the college has been busy with many other things, certain members of the faculty have been tireless in their struggle to instill a little of the beauty of the great arts into the minds of their students. It has been an up-hill fight, but it is worth the price. Gradually, the English Department is making us familiar with the great minds of the pen, with the poetry that makes for us a new world, with the dramas that have sounded the very depths of human emotion. The Department of Art is making us aware of the poetry of architecture, of the vitality of sculpture, of the soul of great paintings. The Department of Music has had trouble in teaching appreciation of the great masters to classes steeped in the tunes of the mountain and the night club. The gradual progress of all these departments is most commendable. From this summer forward, we will date the acceptance by the college of its duty to the fuller life of the student. A most note-der the able direction of Dorsey Whittington. Students, in the person of Guy Taylor there is an artist among us!

It being only fitting that the violin and piano should go hand in hand, the Jacksonville Book Club brought us Wirt Turner Harvey. Mr. Harvey is, without doubt, a marvel; there will be more and more heard of him, but it will not be so easy to hear him again. His recital of Tuesday evening was a delight to one with little classical knowledge. How wonderful it must have been to those more able to understand it! Listening to Mr. Harvey play Nocturne, in F Sharp Major, made it easy to remember that Chopin was the poet of the piano.

The two recitals are a good beginning, but only a beginning. The students who come to J. S. T. C. in the future can feel assured that the college has definitely taken their cultural needs into account. There will be more and more programs featuring the best in music. There will come men of letters to give up symphonies in words, to make poetry live for us. Great dramas with talented casts are to come. These things will come—they must—we need them. The colleges will not fail us!

SUMMERTIME WHILE A CIGARETTE IS BURNING and WITH YOU ON MY MIND.

SWEET MARIE:

SO HELP ME! YOU GOT ME dreaming in THE LAND OF MAKEBELIEVE. We can't dance so BLAME IT ON THE MUSIC, DEAR, and let's sit this one out. I'd rather have SIXTY SECONDS GOT TOGETHER with you than to have TEN PRETTY GIRLS all the time.

"THIS CAN'T BE LOVE", SAYS MY HEART, but ZING, WENT THE STRINGS OF MY HEART! OH! MA-MA YOU LOOK GOOD TO ME and you can bet that YOU'RE GONNA SEE A LOTS OF ME. AFTER LOOKING AT YOU, I'm DEEP IN A DREAM so SIMPLE AND SWEET that I can hear you say "KISS ME AGAIN", YOU'RE SO DIFFERENT that LOVE, I'D GIVE MY LIFE FOR YOU.

IF YOU'LL LET ME BE YOUR LITTLE SWEETHEART, FROM NOW ON, I'LL BE TRUE TO THE ONE I LOVE and WHEN I GROW TOO OLD TO DREAM, I'll remember THE WALTZ YOU SAVED FOR ME and I will MAKE BELIEVE that you, again, TELL ME WITH KISSES all those things you once told me.

Now IT'S TIME TO SAY ALOHA and return to my LITTLE LOG CABIN IN THE LANE to dream about my LITTLE GIRL DRESSED IN BUE.

I LOVE YOU TRULY,
SMALL FRY

Pageant Big Success

If you didn't attend the Presbyterian Church last Sunday night, you certainly missed one of the most unique meetings ever held in Jacksonville. Over three hundred and fifty people attended and enjoyed the program given by the negro B. Y. P. U. The program was given in the form of a play, "The Good Samaritan." The acting was superb, and the moral brought out will never be forgotten by the people present.

The program was sponsored by the Christian Endeavor, with the Epworth League and B. S. U. as their guests. Those on the program wish to thank all who attended—your presence helped them spiritually.

to exist until lunch time. After that, life goes on without effort.

Never allow an alarm clock in the house. You might, in some weak moment, be tempted to use it. Clangs and clamors should be reserved for public occasions such as fires, accidents, and prize fights; never for a personal occasion like getting out of bed in the wee hours of the morning.

Always sleep with your head and ears well covered. Otherwise some stray sunbeam is sure to penetrate the privacy of your eyelids and arouse you. For most complete rest, you should not sleep too soundly. Real bliss comes from the knowledge that you should get up, that it is past time for you to get up and get ready for school, that your roommate is up and practically ready, and that you alone are sunk in a most pleasant coma. Always spend at least two hours of every morning in this state. You will never regret it. These hours make life worth living. In fact, the proper way to get up in the morning is not to get up at all. If you aren't going to get up, you might as well enjoy yourself the rest of the day; you can lie in bed and dream of the good grades that you will surely make for cutting classes. This plan has all of the advantages. You can combine lunch and breakfast, and someday, you may become a millionaire with the money that you save on this one meal. Whatever you had to do won't be done. Life will pursue its drowsy course unhindered. The morning won't have to be faced, and all of your problems will be solved.

Library Being Moved

At this time, our college library stacks are being moved to our new library building, which is to be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall quarter. Library officials have been forced to close down part of the library because the government contract requires that the stacks be in place by a certain date.

While library workers, faculty members, and students are laboring under a great disadvantage right now, such disadvantage is mingled with joy in the fact that the college is to soon have a modern and beautiful library building.

"Henry wants me to take a trip around the world," said the bright young wife, "but I'd rather go somewhere else."

"What kind of music suits you best?"

"Well, I'm not very particular. I like it either rare or well-done".

In three previous articles we have discussed in detail the lives of each of the three supreme musical geniuses—Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms, known as the three "B's" of music. These three great composers were more influential in the development of modern music than any others who have ever lived. Each of them ushered in a new era of musical history.

Bach lived during the period of musical history when everything was written in a rather heavy contrapuntal style. He brought contrapuntal (or many-voiced) writing to such perfection that after his death composers felt that they could go no further with it, and began to write in the homophonic, or harmonic, style, in which there is only one principal voice accompanied by other subordinate voices. The works of Haydn, Mozart, and Handel follow this style almost exclusively.

Beethoven's music marked the advent of a new era—the period of Romanticism. Although he at first followed the classic style of Haydn and Mozart, he later began to write music which combined the classic style with the freer, more expressive "Romantic" style—hence he is often called the "Classic-Romanticist". After Beethoven, the principal Romanticists were Schumann, Mendelssohn, Chopin, and Wagner, although the latter had a style of his own more closely akin to the modern school, of which Brahms is a great example.

Brahms wrote with great romanticism and his harmonic treatment is decidedly modern, yet his works as a whole follow classical form pretty closely. After Brahms came the Impressionistic school, founded by Debussy, and later came the ultra-modern style of composing, which is used by many of our contemporary composers, notably Ravel, Stravinsky, Shostakovich, and others.

At the YMCA building of the New York World's Fair officials have reported the registry of their oldest and youngest visitors. The oldest was John Morserlus of Syracuse, N. Y., who has passed his 93rd birthday. The youngest was Russel K. Rodrick, Jr., of Brooklyn, just three weeks old.

HILL-DUNCAN WEDDING

As this issue of the TEACOLA goes to press, we are informed of the marriage on June 2, of Mr. James Hill of Empire, Alabama, and Miss Hazel Duncan of Graham, Alabama. Both were students at J.S.T.C. last year, Mr. Hill being a sophomore, and Miss Duncan a freshman. We understand that the newly-weds are living in Anniston, and that Mr. Hill is working at Fort McClellan. Congratulations to the couple.

DR. AND MRS WOOD ENTERTAINED

July the seventh, Dr. and Mrs. Wood entertained the Marion-Franklin County Club at the Wood's new home. Dr. Wood is a Marion County boy, and the cheerful big-brother air that he and Mrs. Wood gave their party made it one of the social successes of the quarter.

The club assembled on the cool lawn and enjoyed an hour of the host's witty entertainment. The social hour was not nearly so popular as the "feed" which followed. Everyone was served a piled-up plate of that old favorite, Southern fried chicken. According to Dr. Wood, no one knows how to fry chicken like those old Marion County girls. We agree, Dr. Wood. Just before the club left for home, everyone was taken through the Wood's new home. This was a fitting climax to a perfect evening, as the Wood's home is one of the most beautiful homes of Jacksonville.

The following were present: Ray Shotts, Sue Shotts, Mable Elliott, Mrs. Frost, Shirley McKinney, Jane Glasgow, Arnola Overton, Estes Hudson, Maudie Davis, Sadie Middleton, Verlon Ledbetter, Ozell Wright, Lowell Davis, Ruby Rea, Luna Ballard, Mary Wates, Millard Moore, Mrs. Millard Moore, Garland Moore, Leota Gregg, and Lora Baker.

STEED-DODD WEDDING

Of wide-spread interest is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Iris Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dodd, of Boaz, to Mr. R. P. Steed, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Steed, of Centre, on April 1. The wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse, by the Rev. Augustus Summers, pastor of the Jacksonville Presbyterian Church.

During Mrs. Steed's four years of college work at Jacksonville, she made an enviable and outstanding record. She was member of the Baptist Student Union each year; she served as president during her Senior year. She represented Jacksonville at the Southern Baptist Student Assembly in Ridge-Crest, N. C. and at the Fourth Quadrennial All-Southern Baptist Student Conference at Memphis, Tenn. She also figured prominently in the State B. S. U. Conferences. She has served in every capacity in the college B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School Class. Her other activities included: Thrice president of the Calhoun Literary Society, house president of Weatherly Hall, four times secretary-treasurer of the Geography and International Relations Club, vice-president of the History Club, Cabinet member of the Y. M.-Y. W. C. A., social chairman of the Ann Hasseltine Chapter of the Y. W. A., Society editor of the Teacola staff during her Junior and Senior years, secretary of the Ionian Athletic Club, and secretary and treasurer of the Senior Class. She received her B. S. degree from Jacksonville May 1939, with a scholastic rating of B.

Mr. Steed is one of the most outstanding leaders and students ever to attend Jacksonville. He has been very active in the Methodist Epworth League and Wesley Foundation work. He has thrice been president of the Geography and International Relations Club, vice-president of the History Club, Social Representative of the Senior Class, president of the Y. M. C. A., twice president of the Morgan Literary Society, member of the Library staff, Sports editor of the Teacola, a member of the "J" Club, and manager of the Basketball team. He received his B. S. degree May 29, with a scholastic rating of B and has accepted a position as professor of mathematics at the Sand Rock High School for next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Steed will make their home in Gaylesville during the summer.

BIBLE CLASS ENJOYS PICNIC

Attend Church

Jacksonville is blest with several churches. Make up your mind to attend one of these churches next Sunday, and every Sunday thence. The churches are begging and pleading with you to come; they need you at every service. Let's give the church a chance to help us by attending every service and helping in every way we can. "Every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire." Do we believe this statement from the Bible? If so, then let's put our belief into practice.

Jonesview Jr. Choir

The Junior Choir of the Jonesview Junior High School was presented at the college recently by Mrs. Lillian Henshaw, a student of our summer session and a teacher in the Jonesview school in Talladega County. Mrs. Henshaw is director of the choir, which is composed of boys and girls between the ages of twelve and fifteen years who prefer music rather than manual arts. "Just a desire to sing" is the only requirement for membership in the choir.

In carrying on her work, Mrs. Henshaw keeps several aims before her. One is that the choir must be a means of teaching citizenship and developing traits of character. The students become familiar with the best and the most representative types of music. Their vocabularies are enriched through the poetry of song, and the work is a means of teaching clearer speech. Every week the group spends a definite time in pronouncing words.

At the beginning of last year, twelve pupils could neither stay with the piano, sing alone, nor sing with others. Now, one of these is a soloist. The members of the choir have memorized more than a thousand lines of poetry this year and they have made about seventeen trips. They have sung in nearly all the schools of Talladega County; they have been sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Talladega; they have broadcast over two of the Birmingham radio stations.

The trips which the choir takes are made in one of the county school buses, and every trip is tied up with the unit of work being done at the school at that particular time.

Who walks the halls with noiseless tread
And carries the flashlight we all dread?
Mrs. Pitts.
Who listens quietly out of sight
When we know that we're not doing right
And making mischief with all our might?
Mrs. Pitts.

Who always knows when we are bad
And can make us feel just like a cad?
Mrs. Pitts.
Who scolds us in her accents stern
And makes our ears and faces burn
Till for the old home town we yearn?
Mrs. Pitts.

Who helps us when we're in a mess
And rejoices in each small success?
Mrs. Pitts.
Who points out every hidden vice
And gives us all such good advice.
And wants us all to be so nice?

Whom do we take our troubles to?
Who always helps us when we're blue?

Members of the Fanny Crow Bible Class, of the Methodist Church, enjoyed an outing at Crystal Springs Thursday afternoon of last week.

The members with a number of invited guests, motored out late in the afternoon. Swimming furnished amusement for those who preferred it, others sitting on the beach where they had a lovely view of the setting sun.

At seven o'clock, supper was served. The menu consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, stuffed eggs, pickles, potato chips, sandwiches, cake and iced punch.

Comments On Water System

A number of local citizens have made statements for publication regarding the new City Water System, in connection with those made in the last issue of the News.

Mr. J. A. Holden said, "I am delighted with the new water system in every way. The good pressure and the added fire protection are two good reasons why we should all be proud of it and give it our support."

Dr. C. E. Cayley stated, "I appreciate the increase in pressure and the increase in fire protection. I feel that the city should offer a maximum rate during the summer months, in order to encourage the growth of better lawns, gardens, etc."

Dr. F. M. Lawrence expressed himself as follows: "The new City Water System is indeed an improvement of which we should be proud. Not only does it decrease the insurance rates, but a plentiful supply of pure water, with good pressure is available at all times."

Postmaster J. Thomas Martin stated, "The pressure and added fire protection are worth a million dollars. Now I can go to sleep without worrying about fires".

Perpetual peace will come. No power can prevent it. The date will be earlier in exact ratio to the intelligence and persistence of those who have faith in its coming.—Carrie Chapman Catt.

Come in, but don't wake my tot;
She's on that straw—it's my cot.
Have a seat right over there;
That rocker is my easy chair.

Now will you excuse me please,
So that I can shell the peas?
My box stove cooks none too good;
It will not burn coal or wood.

The Spring House

The man who built this little house
of stone

Had loved the spring and needed
it near by;

He let it pass through something of his own

But did not shut it in from hill and sky.

Year after year, cold water dances through

The tank where foaming milk is set to cool,

Makes sweet the air, then gurgles
on to blue

Wing-sweeps to sky, to brook and sparkling pool.

The earthen crocks and butter
worked to gold

Retain their sweetness from the water's chill;

On sweltering days small boys have tried to hold

This silver, and then followed
down hill,

And parents lingered feeling coolness cling—

As if they needed something from the spring.

Softball Competition Is At White Heat Here

JUNIORS TAKE FAST GAME FROM SOPHS. BY SCORE OF 15-4

Softball is on the up and up here at the college this summer. Right now, the competition between classes is at white hot heat. The following is an account inning by inning, together with the box score, of a game played between the Juniors and Freshmen:

First Inning

Rats—Bailey struck out. Mitchell singled to center. Downes popped to first. Mitchell went out, stealing; catcher to second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Juniors—Hooton beat out a hit to second. Hudson walked. Hulsey hit to first and when second failed to cover the bag all hands were safe. Hodge was out; shortstop to first, Hooton scoring. ## Sophs Win Over Juniors In Softball Kemp's once husky sluggers were stopped very effectively Thursday afternoon by an inspired bunch of 'Red Bugs'. Both teams were off balance, making a total of eight errors. The Juniors couldn't find a way to connect with Trailer's slow ball, while the Luskmen were circuit running on errors. Both teams got five hits each, but too many errors are not the thing with which to win ball games. Gibb led the attack for the Sophomores, getting two hits for three times at bat and scoring one run; while Kemp, getting on in the first of the sixth, stealing second, and then scoring on Hulsey's slash to right center, led the way for his own dear Junior's sole marker.

The following is the box score:

From out of the dim, distant past rides one well known on the J. S. T. C. Campus. He is shown above in a predicament that came to our attention only recently. It seems that he cried, "A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse," and the committee, which was receiving him and his bride on their returning trip, placed him upon a jackass. He donned appropriate regalia for the ceremony, and we present an artist's conception of the affair for your approval.

Our Foreign Tour

Several articles have already been published in the Teacola this summer concerning Dr. Jones' European tour; therefore all the readers should be familiar with the details of the trip. Dr. Jones and his group are now in Paris, where they have spent the last three weeks visiting all of the wonderful places of interest. While there they were greatly honored by being entertained at the U. S. Embassy, where they expected to meet Ambassador William C. Bullitt. Dr. Jones carried with him a moving picture camera, with which he has taken various pictures of the interesting places they have visited. The films have already been mailed back, and should reach here in a few days. They will be shown at the local theatre as soon as they arrive.

...LAFFS...

Harry R.—I was out with a lady lawyer last night.

Jerry H.—When you tried to kiss her did she say "I object"?

Harry R.—Yes, but I'm a judge of women, so I overruled her objection.

Martha G.—Do you remember what happened in 1492?

Johnnie H.—Gosh, no. I can't even remember what happened last night.

Carpenter—Well, well, I see my best friend gave you a good beating.

Taylor—Say, you never saw the fellow who gave me this beating.

Carpenter—No, but he is my best friend now.

Hudson—I bet you didn't know what happiness was until you got married.

Butler—Yes, and then it was too late.

Jones—I hear your girl friend al-

Soph: Then wake him up, will is studying as usual?

Frosh: Yep.

Soph. Then wake him up will you?

She: (Cutie) My, it must be thrilling, washing windows. Do you ever get dizzy?

Window-washer: Well, that depends on whose window I'm looking into.

The classic argument for expansion is increase in population. Yet in all the Italian colonies in Africa prior to the World War there were about 3,000 Italians, less than there were within a radius of a quarter of a mile of Cherry Street, New York, and there were 50 times as many in New York State alone. Nathaniel Peffer, in "The Fallacy of Conquest."

LOUIS TO MEET PASTOR IN DETROIT SEPT. 20

We give you this Gope while it is still hot—Joe Louis will meet Bob Pastor in Detroit Sept. 20 for a scheduled 20 round bout, the first 20 rounder since Jack Dempsey lifted the crown off the head of Jess Willard in 1919. The last fight to go the full 20 rounds was in 1914, and our bet is that it won't go 20 this time. This is Joe Louis' 8th defense of his title, more than any other fighter has fought.

J. Club Organizes

A meeting of all participants in major ports was called to order in the lobby of Forney Hall at 6:30 on Monday evening, July 10. The purpose of the meeting was to perfect plans for the Womanless Fashion Show staged last Friday night in Bibb Graves Hall, and to re-organize the lagging J Club. After assigning parts and helpers in the Fashion Show the meeting was called to order to elect officers.

On the election, "Red" Kemp was elected president; "Es" Hudson, vice-president; Tom White, secretary and treasurer and Harold Carpenter, reporter. Plans were discussed for the invitation of new members and for a social to be given in the fall quarter. The club has also expressed desire for a club room in the new Physical Education Building; however, no definite plans or statements could be made concerning the room.

French Club

The French Club held its first meeting last Tuesday night at 6:30 in Bibb Graves Hall.

The following officers were elected:

Pres.	James Kemp
Vice-Pres.	Leon Towery
Sec-Treas.	Eleanor Simmons
Reporter	Peggy Austin

An enjoyable evening was spent by the club members speaking French and learning French songs. A program committee consisting of Rachel Wheeler, Clorene Chamble and Clarence Daniel was appointed; also, a social committee consisting of Sadie Baswell, Clifton Edwards and Jerry Hulsy. We plan to have a social soon.

All French students are cordially invited to join the French Club which will hold its regular meetings every Tuesday night at 6:30 in Bibb Graves Hall.

History Club Meets

The History Club met Thursday evening at 7:30 in Bibb Graves Hall. Frank Hancock gave a very good report on current events, which was followed by a lecture on "The South" by Mr. Anders.

Since the conditions of the South has been the subject of such widespread discussions, the lecture was more appreciated by the members of the club. After all, we are a part of the South and we should know more about it. Mr. Anders' lecture went a long way toward showing us what the South really is and the conditions, good and bad, prevailing in our section today.

Hudson—I bet you didn't know what happiness was until you got married.

Butler—Yes, and then it was too late.

***

Jones—I hear your girl friend always insists on turning out the lights.

York—Yeh, she loves me all right, but she wants to keep it dark.

***

Davis—I'm wondering whether to give you a book or a kiss.

Ledbetter—Well, I've got a book.

***

Smith—With all that lipstick on his face, Smalley looks like a great lover.

Holloway—Yes, he's a marked success.

***

No matter if a fellow can make a kiss last an hour or more, there's always some guy who can beat his time.

***

Lamar—Your kisses put me in heaven.

Avon—Well, yours don't. Come down to earth!

***

Buford—Come on, honey, let's play tennis.

Maurine—Can't. I played tennis yesterday and there's a blister on my hands.

Buford—Then let's take a hike. Maurine—Can't. Took a hike yesterday and my heel is blistered.

Buford—Well, for gosh sakes, let's go horse back riding.

Maurine—Can't. Er—, I was horseback riding yesterday.
