New, Old Students Register For Work

FIFTH QUARTER STUDENTS HELD TEACHING POSITIONS THROUGHOUT ALABAMA DURING WINTER MONTHS

All through the years since Jacksonville, Alabama has been the home of the Jacksonville State Normal School and later the Jacksonville State Teachers College, men and women have been coming to school and leaving without ever seeing their former school mates or having any knowledge of their whereabouts or activities. C., THIS TEACOLA is publishing a list of the teachers who have returned to school for the summer. The names of the teachers and the places where they taught last year follow:

Local Guard Unit Inspected

Company H of the Alabama Loyal Guard was inspected by Major E. H. Keitzer last Thursday, May 8. The Major congratulated the company and Captain C. W. Daughton Jr., for the excellent showing made. Out of four Machine Gun Companies inspected by Major Keltner, he said that Company H was by far the best he had seen. Each man in the company received a personal inspection by the Major who was especially complimentary upon the physical appearance of the men. He closed the inspection with a talk concerning the status of the national guard in the event of a national emergency and was very insistent that the members of the guard study organization and duties thoroughly in order to be better able to serve our great country in case necessity should demand it.

NUMBER SEVENTEEN
Tea La Given For

Charles Johnson was the announcer and made appropriate comments about the musical numbers rendered by Mrs. R. K. Coker and Mrs. W. W. Bothwell. Mrs. Coker played the Flinders composition, "Finlandia," by Sibelius, and Mrs. Bothwell accompanied by Mrs. Coffee.

Dr. Glazer spoke briefly of the atmosphere of the postwar "kitchen wars." He stressed the fact that Germany had no natural barriers; therefore, she had to build a network of railroads in order to transport troops to her frontiers at a moment's notice. Dr. Glazer also pointed out that music was improvable only because of its relation to the rolling hills of that section of the country.

W. R. A. Sponsors Barn Dance

The W. R. A. sponsored a Barn Dance Saturday night, May 4, in the new gym. The auditorium was decorated in a rustic manner with wild flowers, vines and honey suckle. Coming from an improvised barn could be heard the old-time music being played on four-piece orchestra. The large circle of gaily dressed dancers followed in the dance called by Aaron Hard and Earl Holloway. New steps were introduced in the different Barn Dances.

TRIBUTE

To the regular staff of the Tescal, and to everyone who contributed to this Junior edition of the school paper, this word of thanks and appreciation for the efficient and capable work of the distinguished and careful staff of the editor, Ted York, and all the regular staff of writers and artists. We have been much more difficult for the Juniors to publish.

On behalf of the Junior class and the special Tescal staff, I wish to express our deepest appreciation for this excellent assistance.

What Now, Democracy?

As we in America watch with dismay the ease with which the dictatorships of Europe surpass the democracies in diplomacy and in war, we find that we turn our eyes toward Norway, and almost automatically remind us of old, rich, mild, and dead. It may be due to circumstances, impossible to unwillingly not to take the initiative, and uncertain is what to be happened. Nature respects is strength; the one sin that she never forgives is weakness. No amount of sentimentalism can exist over that cardinal truth. What are those necessity qualities of the dictatorships, possess, but in which the democracies including our own, seem weak? First, discipline. Second, initiative.

Third, faith. Norway: We have been passing through an era of "self-expression." We have been concerned with individuals, their whims and eccentricities, their right to be different—or to be spoiled—or to all costs. The child rules the home; the child, in advanced education, runs the school; our very civilization threats to be run by a succession of child-generations, each of which indicates control immediately on reaching an age when he has some idea of what all is about. Nor do we grant opportunity for the discipline of Peace. The shifting forms, goes on relief, the incompetent worker, into WPA; the improvident aged receives old-age insurance. The government has been forced, by circumstances, that organize the strong as well as the weak, to take measures that can but encourage thriftiness and laziness. The dictatorships have also expanded money, wholesale; but they have demanded effort and sacrifice in return for gifts.

Fourth: the Germans deceive us. They are the osiris of the U.S., their enemies, and they are as intelligent, as capable, as well trained, as our own. They are trained, as we are trained, as the German and the American football team, that if is necessary of the benefit of the training.

Third, faith: The German obey and dare because, by whatever
Thank God!

In all of Europe, there is intense fear among the populace of certain nations that their country will next become engaged in what seems likely to develop into the most destructive and terrible war in the history of civilized man, or there exists a passive emotional acceptance of the fact that the country is already involved in conflict. Hate, determination, distrust, grief, and pain torture those unfortunate individuals who are not ruled by the God of War. Small wonder that neutral nations are being devious to appease the appetite of Marseilles; there is no complete safety for any nation or people. Young men, poet-scholars, farmers, doctors, poets, are giving their lives for what cause? Bombs fall from the sky to murder unarmed and defenseless people. Why? Metals, raw materials, and supplies that might be used, if times were different, for the advancement of civilization and for the comfort of human beings, are being blown into tiny little bits.

We have asked questions and we shall not even try to answer them. Why is it so? Why? No one knows. Is the world going to be destroyed? Who knows? Whether that storm will destroy the nation or the world, we shall have to wait and see. As for our country, you may be assured that we are doing everything we can to prevent war and to make our country strong, and to see that the nation is ready to defend itself if necessary.

Let’s be thankful that we were born Americans, rather than Europeans.

An Example

Last Monday in assembly the Rev. Mr. Parkman gave a brief, yet very timely address on a subject which should have caused every student that was present to think very profoundly. He used as his theme, "The Influence of an Example", and in so doing he showed that such a subject would fit no audience better than one made up of teachers and students to be.

Now, a short paragraph let us see why just the setting of a good example should be so particularly significant in the careers of school teachers. Briefly, let us consider the role of the teacher in molding the destinies of children. Under the present set-up of American society, it is the teacher who, more than the parent, has the greatest influence upon the life of the developing child than the teacher. Every day there stands out in every classroom in America an example which is copied as well as the worst. Fortunately, though, such examples are usually good, but in case one teacher happens to fail in setting an example, there are many innocent children are in danger of acquiring a wrecked disposition for life.

Therefore, it should be observed by the people whom they might wish to influence the best, physically, morally, and mentally. For, after all, actions speak louder than words.

Libray Opens At Night

A great stimulus for more studying, we think, is the opening of the library at night. Instead of the usual groups one sees walking around the dormitories just after supper, now are groups of students cheerfully making their way to the closed door of the library. By 7:15 each night, the spacious, well-lighted, comfortably crowded room has begun filling with—of all things in the springtime—students who are bent upon extracting knowledge in the J. T. C. Library.

The student body as a whole is deeply grateful to Mrs. Wood and Dr. Daugette for making possible the added advantages of the library being open at night. The students are using this new leisure time for study as well as for social life, because those interested in athletics have time in the afternoon for playing tennis, baseball, swimming, etc., without the necessity of feeling that they are doing it wrong. As a result, our industry has almost certainly been increased. Unfortunately, however, the number there seems to be increasing each night. As a result, our industry will almost certainly be increased. The quality shop has seen the pleasant surprise of parents when the next reports go home.

Forney Hall News

With Daylight Saving Time in effect and the warm spring nights here, our "Romoes and Jullets" should enjoy life better. Downing Cowden has presented a problem for the farmers concerning Daylight Saving Time; that is how the farmers going to move the rooster's crow up an hour? Downing, we believe the capture of Hitler would be a feat much more easily accomplished.

Several of the dormitory boys visited homesteads over the weekend.

A couple of our "heart-breakers" from Forney seem to have their wires crossed at the department dormitory, Edith, why don't you untangle things for them and be done with it? Mr. Funderburk and several Forney Hall boys spent the day at Chew Valley Lake Friday night. We hope that the rooster's crow up an hour?

Mr. Gary and the dormitory boys, along with their girl friends, enjoyed a bountiful feast at Forney Hall picnic held at the gravel pit Friday night. We hope that the dormitory boys will remember the occasion well enough to give a picnic and invite us.

We are glad to have Mrs. Bipp, who has added a member to the college faculty, back in the dormitory. We regret that Miss Eliza Parrish, Janell Eldred, and Erna Gildall accompanied Miss Allene and Myrle Oliver to their home in Joppa for the weekend.

The social for Daugette Hall will be a picnic at Oxford Lake Friday night. A gala time is anticipated. You had better play up to Daugette girls, boys, so you will get an "invite".

Mrs. McDonald Entertains Student

One of the loveliest social events occurring recently on the campus was the barbecue dinner given by Mrs. Sarah McDonald for her student teachers. The dinner, served in the home economics department in Hames Hall, consisted of delicious barbecue chicken, sliced celery, carrots, potato chips, lemon buttermilk rolls and coffee.

After the meal the guests retired to the dining room and talked and danced. Those enjoying this gracious event were Mrs. McDonald, the hostess, Sadie Baswell, Sarah Lynn Ogletree, Helen Barnes Wilson, Pauline Tate, Tom White, Aaron

Apartment Picnic

Friday night, May 3, the girls of the apartment dormitory gave a picnic at Oxford Lake. The girls planned and prepared a delicious supper consisting of sandwiches, cakes, and cold drinks.

Mrs. Buswell, matron of the apartment, and Mrs. Dillon chaperoned the outing. Everyone reported a good time even though the ride back in the open truck was rather cold.

The new dining room is eagerly awaited.

During the past two weeks, the Jax baseball team has played a total of seven games; they have tied one, lost three, and won three.

The first encounter was with Benedict, and the final contest ended in a 9-9 deadlock. The next four games were played on a road trip against Livingston and Marion. Livingston won both, with the final score being 12-5-3; Maharg split with the locals, 7-6-7-1.

In two games played last Friday and Saturday against St. Bernard, The Eagle-Owls won both contests.

The scores were: 10-6 and 8-7.

Baseball Roster Includes Stars Of High Caliber

The J. S. T. C. baseball team is made up of players that are well qualified for their positions. Some of them have played with fast semi-pro teams throughout the state. Carl W. Stewart, our shortstop, is a veteran of several years of semi-pro ball. Estes Hudson is playing his first year with the Eagle-Owls. Thomas P. White, while still in the huddle at the team behind the plate. In Brooks, the rookie sensation, Bell, Adams, and, Lyles we have one of the best pitching staffs that has ever worn monkey suit of Jacksonville. The first year men were develop into fine ball players. A winner within itself.

Inter-Class Softball Games Started

With the coming of warmer weather, local interest turns towards softball.

Prospects are good for each class; however the Junior and Sophomores boast that they have the better of the bargain by turning in 1 and 2 victories respectively.

The Freshman and Sophomore, seemingly lack that punch, organization, and class spirit that always wins the game.

Junior regulars and prospects: Bates and Hill, ngrs, Lauderdale, Brown, Lovett, Blackburn, Southern, Russom, Furrall, McIhee, Phillips, Dabbs, Gregg, Hudson. Stewart, Small, Lyles, and Baker. Hudson, Hill, Southern, and Lauderdale will be seniors this summer.

Sophomores: Jackson, Baker, Wallace, Ingram, Meade, etc. and others.

Wesley Foundation Conducts Services

The Wesley Foundation conducted the evening service at the Methodist Church on Sunday, May 8. The program was very fittingly centered around a missionary theme, using India as the particular country for discussion. Miss Madeline Wilson was the leader, and introduced the speakers and their subjects as follows:

Catherine M. Ashmore, "Indian Religion";
Constance Mock, "Mahatma Gandhi";
Mrs. Yvonne Fowler, "The India of the Future". Miss Melba Patton was the pianist for the occasion.

The purpose of the Wesley Foundation is to unite the college students and the local church more closely. One way of realizing the goal is the custom that has arisen for the Wesley Foundation to conduct one evening service at the church each month. The programs presented on these nights are always of great interest and importance.

The next program will be given on the first Sunday night in June and will be a candle-light service using the theme "Peace."
