

As We See It

Well, well, is it such a thrill to be graduating from what you have grown into, become a living part of, during the last four years? There is an emotional arousal, but it can't be defined as a thrill. We are moved to regret, stirred in sorrow (the parting-is-such-sweet-sorrow kind), bowed in thoughts of past happiness and association; but we are rigid in determination, still in prospective joy, raised in an enlightened spirit which will see us through responsibilities and the job to be done.

We are grateful for our education. That may sound as if quite a bit is being taken for granted—that we assume that we are educated in the completeness of the word. No, we don't say this in that way. We are indebted to our teachers, the ones who have presented the stores of knowledge before us—it was there for us. Their time, their wisdom, their interest, their friendship — without all that ours would have been a feeble effort.

Some girls on the campus are now authoritatively enjoying rights and liberties which should have been theirs before, in face of the fact that tolerance prevailed on other hills. The inevitable and predestined association of opposite sexes in leisure time, when recreation and enjoyment are to be had, has unpremeditatedly led to reform, which is greeted with sighs of relief from many. Some know wherein this makes sense and others may not, but ne'er the twain shall mentally meet.

Let's everybody support the efforts of the Senior Class to make this dance one to be enjoyed and remembered. We're telling you, you'll miss something if you aren't there, and we mean really. Talk it up. Stir it up. Invite some friends. Be sure to come yourself.

To those of you who will remain here throughout the summer session, now, don't let things drag. Continue the weekly dances. Everyone enjoys them if somebody will see to it that they occur regularly. It just takes some few to arrange for it spread the time around, and dance-loving students will do the rest.

Remember when Comp-any H was moved from Camp Blanding, Florida, to Camp Bowie, Texas; well, it seems that most of them are coming back nearer home again. Many of the boys from JSTC who were members of

Commencement Begins Thursday

Senior Dance On Docket Saturday Night, 8:30 O'Clock

'Snookie' Cowart's Band To Furnish Music For Annual Graduation Ball

The most anticipated night of Commencement at JSTC is that of the Senior Ball. This year the dance will be held in the Physical Education Building, and is set for Saturday night of this week, at eight o'clock.

Leading the gala event will be Miss Constance Mock of Jacksonville and Lee Honea, Jr., of Piedmont. Mr. Honea is President of the graduating class, and Miss Mock is one of the most popular members. Both of them will receive their diplomas next Monday.

It has been announced by the Senior President that "Snookie" Cowart, who graduated here two years ago and has made a name for himself in the musical world, will return to furnish the music for the occasion.

"Snookie" is remembered here for his musical ability. He was leader of the college orchestra when a student here. He plays just about anything that will make music.

Mr. Cowart's band, or "Snookie's Clowns" as it is called, is made up of a bunch of fellows who know how to produce "Swingtime" tunes. They come to Jacksonville well-recommended as a rhythm-making outfit.

The patriotic spirit, on which the entire commencement is based, will prevail at the dance. National colors will be used in the decorating scheme.

The Ball is to be a program dance, of twenty-five dances, provisions being made for extras. The admission charge is to be $1.10. Bids can be obtained from Mrs. Opal Tucker. Those who are not on the campus but who are planning to attend should write either to Mrs. Tucker or Lee Honea or to some friend in school so that their bids may be gotten as soon as possible.

JHS To Present

To Confer Degrees

DR. C. W. DAUGETTE

Dr. C. W. Daugette, president of the college, will be the leading figure during the 59th Annual Commencement exercises of JSTC which will begin Thursday evening, May 28, and last through Monday, June 1. He will lead the academic procession Sunday morning and following the patriotic pageant Monday afternoon he will award the degrees and high school diplomas.

Patriotism, Program Theme During Graduating Season

Degrees To Be Conferred Monday When Pageant Climaxes Programs

The 59th annual commencement for the Jacksonville State Teachers College will begin Thursday evening, May 28, according to Dr. C. W. Daugette, president. The patriotic theme will be woven into all the programs presented during this week.

On Thursday evening, at Kilby Hall, at 7:30 o'clock, the students of the Elementary Laboratory School, under the direction of the supervisors, will present their annual program.

Studys Defense

Shelton Studying Air Raid Technique

Mr. A. C. Shelton, director of extension at Jacksonville State Teachers College, is representing

This occasion is always keenly anticipated and attracts the largest number of any program, with the possible exception of graduation. The kiddies of the six elementary grades present a varied and entertaining program.

On Friday evening the senior class, assisted by a large number of high school students, will give a patriotic pageant, "Freedom Forever," at 8:00 o'clock at Kilby Hall. On Saturday evening, the college seniors will have their dance in the new college gymnasium.

Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday. The baccalaureate Sunday services will begin at 11:00 o'clock Sunday, May 31, in the new gymnasium. The academic procession will begin in front of Bibb Graves Hall led by Dr. C. W. Daugette and members of the faculty, including the college and high school graduating classes.

The program is as follows: Processional, "March Pontificale," Gounod; doxology; invocation, the Rev. Charles T. Ferrell; anthem, "Gloria," from "12th Mass," Mozart, Choral Club; scripture reading;

Remember when Company H was moved from Camp Blanding, Florida, to Camp Bowie, Texas; well, it seems that most of them are coming back nearer home again. Many of the boys from JSTC who were members of Company H are being sent to Fort Benning, Georgia, for officers' training. Every few days another one drops by here en route to Benning. We should be justly proud so many of our friends, our classmates, our students are to become officers in the army of Uncle Sam. We say that they will be officers, yes, because we know their caliber, and when those boys go in training to become officers that's what they'll do.

Some girl said some man said some fortune teller said that this war would be over, or rather would end, by November, I believe it was. My, there'll be many a disappointed young man if that's true. We all want a crack at those birds, and we feel that the war can't be rightly won unless we have a hand in dealing some of the defeating blows.

Our patriotism will be laborately displayed all throughout the graduation exercises, beginning with the Senior Ball and being closed with a pageant finale Monday evening at 6:00 p. m. preceding the conferment of degrees. Yes, our patriotism and determined war effort will be symbolized in pageantry. Seeing all this, realizing all this, taking part in all this behooves us to exemplify our sincerity by overt as well as introvert action. Action speaks louder than words. Now is the time for physical exertion and mental application, no time for trite talking and tongue wagging. We should have talked before December 7, 41—can't stop for oratory now; must act and ordinate our thinking; must thing on our feet so speak, must take it on the run. Let display and pageantry stir up the still nebulous feeling of national devotion in so many. May it all pierce the brave heart in the east (which) is the impetus of victory."

Miss Constance Mock, a former student who is to receive her degree June 1, will lead the dance with Mr. Honea.

Rev. Summers To Speak For "Y"

The new officers of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. will be installed Sunday night, May 31, at the Physical Education building. The installation is a regular feature of the graduation at JSTC, with Sunday night, following the Baccalaureate Sermon in the forenoon, being set aside for that purpose.

Speaker for the evening will be the Rev. A. C. Summers of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Summers has spoken before various groups of students in the past and they have come to appreciate his talks. Other things slated for the program are a trumpet solo by Mary Elizabeth McCluer, and a vocal solo by Morris Ratcliff.

The Y. W. C. A. officers to be installed are as follows: Inez Roebuck, president; Elizabeth Bell, first vice-president; Lillian Mize, second vice-president; Helen Pate Landers, third vice-president; Willie Jo Denty, secretary; Mary Elizabeth McCluer, reporter. The Y. M. C. A. officers to be installed are as follows: Clay Brittain, president; Erwin Shirey, vice-president; Wayman Strother, reporter; Herschel Cribb, secretary.

Aided By Seniors

The graduating Senior Class of this spring is to leave as its gift to its alma mater a fund toward the realization and erection of the Mary Forney Memorial.

Out of memory and respect for this good lady who meant so much to JSTC when it was in its formative and developing stage, the Class of '42 was unanimous, favoring this as their contribution to the school of their choice. All students who have passed through the halls of JSTC either knew Miss Mary Forney or knew of her loving devotion to this school. She was as much a part of the institution as has been math, science, education, Hames Hall, Kilby Hall, and the rolling hills upon which this school was founded. As these, she lives on in the spirit and memories of Jacksonville.

For some months a committee, with Miss Ethel Randolph of the Training School as its chairman, has been sponsoring a drive to secure a sufficient amount of money to erect a fitting memorial on some conspicuous campus site. Former students have contributed, those whom the committee have been able to get in touch with, but there are surely others who have a desire to do as much but who have not been contacted. There is an opportunity for those who haven't heard of the effort to make their donations. It may be done by direct donation to Miss Randolph, by mail, or otherwise.

Shelton Studying Air Raid Technique

Mr. A. C. Shelton, director of extension at Jacksonville State Teachers College, is representing Calhoun County at a special Civilian Defense School which is now in progress at the University of Florida at Gainesville.

He has sent word back home that the course he is taking is interesting and requires considerable study outside classes which run from 8:30 o'clock in the morning until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Shelton is to be at the Civilian Defense School for approximately ten days or two weeks.

Much of the instruction has to do with poison gas and incendiary bombs. For the first few days an intensive study was made of the various kinds of gases which are being used during this war. A study of bombs with emphasis on the incendiary type followed the study of gas. "Bombs aren't so hard to handle if you just know the technique," Mr. Shelton stated.

Practical demonstrations and rehearsals are carried on. This instruction is for representatives from certain areas invited to the school. When Mr. Shelton returns, he will be prepared to teach others and classes for this purpose will be organized as soon as possible.

Entering Frosh To Be Welcomed

Dr. C. R. Wood has announced that registration for the summer quarter will take place next Tuesday and Wednesday, June 2 and 3, with class work beginning on Thursday, June 4.

Entering freshmen (those who are graduating from high school and are planning to enter JSTC for the summer quarter) will be given the same orientation which freshmen, who have previously entered in the fall, have been given. This orientation consists of various physical and mental examinations, church receptions, picture shows, and a freshman party. This orientation will begin on Tuesday and will last for two or three days.

This program, however, will continue in the fall as before. Those students who plan to enter in the fall will be given the same orientation as those entering this summer. High school graduates who cannot enter in June but are planning to begin their college work in September, can also get the same program of studies that would be given them during the summer quarter, if they entered at that time.

nasium. The academic procession will begin in front of Bibb Graves Hall led by Dr. C. W. Daugette and members of the faculty, including the college and high school graduating classes.

The program is as follows: Processional, "March Pontificale," Gounod; doxology; invocation, the Rev. Charles T. Ferrell; anthem, "Gloria," from "12th Mass," Mozart, Choral Club; scripture reading; prayer, the Rev. H. Ross Arnold; sermon, Lt. I. A. Bentley; hymn, "Great God of Nations," Greateorex; benediction, the Rev. H. Ross Arnold; recessional.

Alumni Meeting
The Alumni Meeting will take place Monday at 11:00 o'clock. Expected among others are the five remaining members of the class of 1892. Immediately afterwards will be a luncheon at the Recreation Center with the class of 1892 and the class of 1942 as honor guests.

Graduating Exercises Monday
The graduating exercises will take place Monday afternoon at 6:00 o'clock in front of Bibb Graves Hall. A patriotic pageant will be given by members of the college senior class after which Dr. Daugette will award degrees to the college seniors and diplomas to the high school graduates.

Patriotic Pageant Monday At 6:00 O'clock

GRADUATING SISTERS

Pictured above is a trio that really gets things done in a big way. Since this is a senior issue you probably wonder which one is getting a degree. Well, all three are outstanding seniors and are also sisters. Not only have they maintained a "B" average practically every quarter but have been active in various organizations on the college campus. From left to right they are: Mrs. Opal Tucker and Myrene Oliver who are getting their degrees in June and Allene Oliver, who will receive her degree in August.

Prepare For Dip, Pool Opens Soon

Drag out your old swim trunks for within a few days the college swimming pool will be filled and open to the students. The pool, which is located at Kilby Hall, will remain open through the summer quarter. There are to be swimming classes for both boys and girls during this term. In addition to the classes there will be other periods set aside for the students to swim.

It will be of interest to the people that are staying in the dormitories to note that certain hours will be set aside for them to use the pool. The hours have not been announced yet but they will be as soon as the pool is made available.

Mrs. Calvert, who has charge of the pool, says that there remain several openings for life guards. Those who are interested in the job are urged to apply now. They can do so by seeing Mrs. Calvert and filling out an application

Catherine Redmond To Do Youth Work

Miss Catherine Redmond, a JSTC graduate of the 1941 class, has been chosen for Youth Caravan work by the Methodist Leaders. While a student here in college, Miss Redmond was an outstanding student worker in the Methodist Church. She was also a soloist in the Methodist Church choir while here.

Miss Redmond has been assigned to Camp Innabah, Pottstown, Pennsylvania, for one week of training. After leaving Pottstown she will have seven weeks service in the Northern Conference. Miss Redmond is to leave June 26.

Each summer many outstanding Christian young people who have had college work are chosen to instruct various groups of children and young people about church life. Miss Redmond is to be congratulated upon her assignment.

Since many students will be in school this summer and will be swimming in the "ole swimming hole" at home, the opening of the college pool is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation.

Farewell

WALLACE MORTON

Among those to bid farewell to JSTC this week is Wallace Morton. Wallace is a minister and plans to continue his study in a graduate school. He is one of the few students to earn his entire college expenses.

Over The Fence

All things must sooner or later come to an end, so with the writing of this column of OVER THE FENCE we shall store away our pen and ink until next September. However, the sports or recreational program for JSTC will not end now but will continue through the summer as of before, and, after all, we sports writers need a little recreation too.

For nine seemingly short months we have watched with keen interest the sports program here on the campus. Not only have we watched it, but we have expressed our views as well as the views of other people about this program. The sports fans of JSTC have had many and varying experiences during the term of 1941-1942.

In this final writing we think it well to epitomize, for your benefit, a few sports events which have occurred on the campus, so here goes.

First, back in September the year began with some misgivings because football had to be abandoned for the time being. This sacrifice was accepted more readily and the wisdom of the move realized, however, as time elapsed and such schools as Howard and Sewanee made similar moves because of the war.

During the autumn months the games of volley ball, tennis, and ping pong increased in importance and filled the sports program.

Then that exciting touch football game between the Morgans and the Calhouns which ended in a 13 to 13 deadlock. No football game could have aroused more enthusiasm than did that intramural fracas. (It will be well to remember that game when September rolls around again. Why not break that deadlock this fall with not one but many touch football games?)

December came and the cage team got underway. The prospects were bright; oh boy, with such boys as Hobby West, Gilbert Ayers, Herman Frickett, Lee Wilson, Bill Friedman, Austin Trussell, Roland Camp, "Doc" Wilson, Pat King, and Joe Wilson, the Eagle-Owls could give a good account of themselves, and they did. They did a good job despite the fact that several of these boys traded their basket ball uniforms for suits of khaki. First, it was Gilbert Ayers, followed closely by his teammate since high school days, Hobby West. Then came Herman Frickett's turn to depart. All of these boys were missed and missed greatly, but the basket-ball team rolled onward to become runnerup in the A. I. C. tournament.

May we pause to pay our highest respects to those sharp-shooting boys of the JSTC hardwood crew, who are now sharpshooters on a team that is playing a mighty important game. It is my highest ambition that the score of these boys may be high and the victory of "Our" American Team be decisive.

But back to the JSTC campus and a word about the Morgan-Calhoun competition. First it was a boys' ping pong tournament. The Morgan clan, led by Billy Grissom, took the cup. Then that hotly contested basketball series that ended in a 3 to 2 victory for the CLS in the five games played; then the girls' ping pong tourney which was won by the CLS. These contests have played no small part in arousing the competitive spirit of MLS and CLS members.

Then with the coming of spring attention has been shifted back to tennis, to softball, to horseshoes for a climax of the year. And we "ain't" dissatisfied "atall," no sirree. We wish to compliment every one concerned for the way things have been carried on.

Frank "Buckshot" Willett, an Anniston High School Senior, recently won his second straight Alabama High School Tennis Tournament. This Anniston lad had little trouble in capturing his second straight crown. Leslie Longshore, a team-mate of

We Need Every College Man In Officers' Training

★ To Man the Mightiest Air Army in the World ★

Make Your Choice This Week For Present or Future Officers' Training

IF your blood boils at the very thought of an enslaved world...

If Jap treachery and Nazi savagery make you see red and itch for a gun—calm yourself with the promise that we shall pay them back with compound interest!

We shall—and you as a college man now have the opportunity of serving as a Flying Officer—a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—with that branch of service which will do that paying back in person—the U. S. Army Air Forces!

Under the new Army Air Force Reserve Plan—if you are a Senior or wish to leave school—apply now for your Aviation Cadet training.

You and your friends can share together the work and fun of flight training, and after approximately 8 months—earn the right to be flying officers in the U. S. Army Air Forces!

On the other hand, if you are a Freshman, Sophomore or Junior—you can, if you like, continue your studies under the Deferred Service Plan of the Army Air Forces—and become better prepared for Officers' Training later.

New Simplified Requirements

To qualify you must be 18 to 26 (inclusive), physically fit—and pass a new, simplified mental test which college men find easy.

When you are ready—and facilities are ready—you begin as an

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standing.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R. O. T. C. plans.)

Aviation Cadet at $75 a month, with expenses paid.

If you have majored in science or engineering you can try for a commission in the ground crew—in Armament, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

80% Have Won Commissions

Due to thorough training—about four out of every five Aviation Cadets this past year received Second Lieutenants' commissions—of which 67% are now flying officers.

The tremendous expansion of the Air Forces should assure rapid advancement in all branches. And after the war—you'll be ready for the ever-growing opportunities in aviation.

Settle Your Service Now

The years ahead are war years—and every college man should make his plans accordingly.

To make America supreme in the air we need every college man who can qualify for active or deferred service.

So take advantage now of this option. You may never again have such opportunities.

See your Faculty Air Force Advisor for information and help with details. Join the thousands of America's college men who are enlisting this week!

NOTE: If you are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today.

History Club Holds Final Meeting

The History Club held its last meeting of the year Thursday night, May 14, in Room 34 at Bibb Graves Hall.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Willie Ann Harris. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

Two new members were admitted into the club. They were Eula Smith and Tommy Terry Jones.

An interesting discussion of the present war was led by Dr. Felgar, Head of the History Department.

Then with the coming of spring attention has been shifted back to tennis, to softball, to horseshoes for a climax of the year. And we "ain't" dissatisfied "atall," no sirree. We wish to compliment every one concerned for the way things have been carried on.

Frank "Buckshot" Willett, an Anniston High School Senior, recently won his second straight Alabama High School Tennis Tournament. This Anniston lad had little trouble in capturing his second straight crown. Leslie Longshore, a team-mate of Willett and runnerup last year, was defeated in the semi-finals. Willett and Longshore were members of the Anniston Country Club team which the JSTC netters played last season in several matches.

Practically all the S. E. C. football coaches believe that there will be at least one more good season of the S. E. C. football, with the exception of one or two teams which have lost several men due to graduation and the Army. Of course there is much uncertainty about the whole program because many coaches are entering the Navy and Army as physical instructors. However, there will be less scouting, less tension, and less concentration.

CLASS OF 1892 TO HAVE REUNION

Taking first place in the alumni news at this time is the announcement that the class of 1892 will return to the college for a reunion during Commencement Week and will attend the annual alumni meeting on Monday, June 1. As is customary, the alumni meeting will be held at 11:00 o'clock. The plans are for Dr. Daugeite and members of the faculty to entertain at a luncheon after the meeting, with the classes of 1892 and 1942 as honor guests.

Members of the class of 1892 are: Judge W. B. Bowling, LaFayette; Curtis B. Haley, Nashville, Tennessee; Mrs. J. T. Reynolds, Booneville, Mississippi; Mrs. Henry Edwards and Mrs. Lee Burton, Jacksonville.

LETTER FROM EDITH GISSENDANNER

Mrs. W. J. Calvert received a letter from Edith Gissendanner (Mrs. Earl), who lives in Crossville, announcing the arrival of a son, Samuel Earl, the second, on April 30.

In the letter, among other things, she said, "Tell Dr. Calvert I didn't learn much about handling babies using the powers of deduction to solve the 'whyfore' of their 'yelling' in his poetry class, that taught us all about the wiles of hooking a mate! So I guess I deserved that 'C' after all. But I do think it would add to the course to include a few lullabies; rhythmic, meaningless, monotonous sounds; even a few bird calls that might be pressed into use, when you've done all the 'book' says and they still yell—for no apparent reason.

Sergeant James Jackson, of Camp Bowie, Texas, and Noel Allen, of Randolph County, were among the former students visiting the college this week.

Mr. Erwin Shirey, a JSTC student, is to be married to Miss Millie Armstrong, of Anniston, Alabama, at an informal wedding in June, the ceremony to be performed in Mr. Shirey's church by Rev. O. N. Todd, of Tallapoosa, Pennsylvania.

Dr. and Mrs. Mock Entertain Supper Club Saturday Evening

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Mock entertained the members of the Supper Club at their home on Mountain Avenue last Saturday evening. The guests were greeted at the door by Dr. and Mrs. Mock.

Those assisting Mrs. Mock in serving were Misses Mary Frances and Lucille Redmond, Helen Pate Landers, and Charlotte Mock.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of sweet peas. Silver candle sticks at each side of the banquet held burning white tapers. Pink rosebuds, larkspur, and white candles were used in the living room and hall.

Those enjoying Dr. and Mrs. Mock's hospitality were Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Arnold, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Cayley, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stephenson, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Wood, Mrs. J. F. Grazier, Mr. and Mrs. Teuben Self, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Calvert, Miss Maudie Luttrell, Mrs. Rutledge Daugeite Mr. and Mrs. W.

MONTA JONES

Rather comely is this lassie with sparkling brown eyes. She was born at Berry, Alabama, where her home is at present. However, she has spent quite a bit of her time here, since she is to receive her degree in June.

Not only has she maintained a good scholastic record but has been active in various organizations on the campus and those connected with the work of the Church. The first year she was here she served as vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. and was sent as representative to the state conference at the University of Alabama. The second year she was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. and also represented it at Howard. She has again served as vice-president this year.

Yes, she has a hobby—stamp collecting. Some other things she really likes are: picnics, hiking, working with flowers, and (get a load of this boys) better than almost anything she likes to cook and sew. She says that she likes almost anything to eat but if there is anything she likes best, it's fried chicken and oysters, bless her heart.

The thing that she has enjoyed most has been her student teaching and it seems that she is really looking forward to the time when she can teach. As time draws near for her graduation we can only wish for her great success and simply gobs of fried chicken.

This tall, plond, immaculate soon-to-be graduate seen frequently in the vicinity of Daugeite Hall was born down in Clay County, at Lineville, where he has lived since. There he attended school until he graduated from high school, leaving a good record behind him.

Not only did he play the trumpet and saxophone in the high school band for about seven years, but also played halfback on the football team that for four years lost only two games, and tied one.

Of the things in which he excels tennis seems to be the outstanding one. He has played in several tournaments and went to the finals in the Talladega tournament twice.

Since he has been in Jacksonville he has found time to play in the school band and also the orchestra under "Snookie" Cowart, and to play some excellent tennis under Dr. Thompson. He has also found time for baseball under Coach Stevenson, as well as a few other things not pertaining to either sports or music. In the meantime his scholastic record has been far from bad.

He says that he likes Alabama and thinks that there are many places of interest to be found in our own state.

Among other things that Burney thoroughly enjoys are reading and dancing. Ranking as favorites in the literary field are Sinclair Lewis' ELMER GANTRY, and Edwin Robinson's FLAMMONDE. He likes Glenn Miller's orchestra and thinks that the "Blue Danube Waltz" is the most beautiful piece of music he has ever heard.

Rather startling and unique for most modern young people is the fact that he likes old-fashioned music best and that he likes good

MARGARET DISHMAN

Well here she is, Margaret Dishman, a girl who is very busy and is always going somewhere to do something. We predict that in the future she is really "going places."

Margaret is minoring in math, but who would have ever thought it to look at her math grades. She is majoring in science and really likes it. Not only has she tackled a subject that so many sweet little things think difficult but she has maintained a scholastic record that would make most of us simply green with envy.

Before entering JSTC she attended Athens College, where she was a member of the Beta Mu Kappa. Her one big ambition is to be a chemist.

However, Margaret does enjoy something that is very common among many people; she likes to make and keep scrapbooks.

But, listen to this: Miss Dishman enjoys classical music. Don't be so awed, freshmen, because she's getting a degree, and who knows what

FORNEY FOLLIES

BY BILLY GRISSOM

Forney Hall, the masculine madhouse, has been blessed with a baby! The castle of kingly cads is now ruled by a thatch of cotton hair, a pair of blue eyes, and a gurgle-gurgle voice which gurgles incessantly but never cries. Our chubby young friend is called Barney by his mother, but our group of Southern gentlemen have courteously given him a Southern title, "Colonel Boll Weevil." This youngest Forney fellow roams the halls and frequently drops in on a bull session. The other day he heard the boys heatedly discussing the cuffless pants situation. He waddled over to the middle of the floor, beat on his chest, and demanded attention. "Gubble glob bop beep goo guggle da do," he said in his most polished baby-talk. Then, with a rather dejected look on his face, he waddled out again.

All of the boys wondered what he had said and why he was so sad, so I set myself to the task of translating the passage he had so seriously uttered. From his mother I secured a rare and valuable book, "Baby Talk For Beginners," and after many hours of careful work I completed the translation which is as follows:

"You guys make me sick, griping because you can't get any cuffs on your pants! You don't have a thing in the world to worry about. What if you were in my place? Do you know what my pants are going to look like? They're going to have just two corners on them!"

The last act of the last performance of Forney's show of frivolities has come to a close. The curtain has been drawn and the leading characters of this year's play come forward to take a farewell bow. First comes Lee Honea, the master of dialogue. His performance throughout the play as a leader in activities, scholarship, and friendship has been superb. His record has been permanently carved on Forney's stage of remembrance and will remain there forever to inspire our rising young actors. Hats off to Lee!

Next comes the jester, the clown with the brains, the friendliest of a friendly cast, the favorite of a flock of fellows. A lot of applause goes to Earl Craft.

Then comes Homer Ferguson, everybody's pal. His characterization of the loyal student whose hobby is making himself handy and who is always in the right place at the right time deserves all the cheers which he receives.

Loaded with dictionaries, riding a bicycle, brimming with smiles, comes a preacher whose sermon is quite of deeds as well as words. For his sincerity, his independence, his vocabulary, Wallace "Shakespeare" Morton gets a big hand.

Fellow hearts sigh as the next character steps forward to take his final bow. His portrayal of the Romeo has been an excellent one. Boys admire him for his supremacy on the tennis courts. A lot of credit goes to Burney Bishop.

And last, but definitely not least, comes Huey "Doc" Wilson, whose height in likableness exceeds his height in stature. To a giant and a gentleman goes a world of applause.

YOUNG WOMAN OF THE CARACAS

Ybarra is not the only person who is "from the Caracas." JSTC has an alumni living there, also. She is Catherine Donnelly, who oddly enough married a man by the same name, so she is still C. Donnelly.

Her husband is employed by an oil company and they live in the suburbs of Caracas, near the highest mountain, "Avita." Since the war started, their return to this country is uncertain because of transportation. Their two daughters are in boarding school in this country and their son, three and a half, is with them.

She reports that the Venezuelans are very vigilant about foreigners, and that if the United States were as cautious, there would be less sabotage. The homes of all Germans, Italians and Japs are watched by detectives, and all persons are stopped on the streets frequently for a look at their passports.

The people are very pro-ally, she says.

Evans, JSTC Grad, Now Naval Ensign

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 20—George Bismarck Evans, Jr., age 25 of Birmingham, Alabama, has been commissioned an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve after completing a course of training at Abbot Hall, Northwestern University in Chicago. Eighth Naval District Headquarters announced today.

Ensign Evans has been under instruction as a midshipman for the past few months and will be assigned to a Naval unit either afloat or ashore. His address in Birmingham is 1630 North 19th Street.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Evans of Birmingham, and attended Jacksonville State Teachers College, at Jacksonville, Alabama.

Forney Boys Enjoy Hay And Chicken

In what you might term a farewell picnic, some thirty Forney Hall fellows and their dates journeyed to Snider's Lake last Friday night to eat, dance, swim, and well, just to have a big time.

The group which included several boys who are soon to join the Armed Forces of the United States, assembled at Forney and Weatherly Halls. A truck loaded with hay furnished transportation to the picnic grounds. After all, there is nothing like a good old-fashioned hay ride.

When the jolly crowd arrived on the picnic ground they found Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Head of Weatherly Hall, and Mr. C. M. Gary, Head of Forney Hall, spreading the picnic lunch. The lunch was swell; it included tomatoes, pickles, potato salad, rolls, chicken (and plenty of it), topped off by ice cream and cake.

This Forney picnic has no exception to those which have been given by the Forney boys in the past. When the Forney boys have a picnic they do just that, and nothing is left undone until it's a success. Hats off to Mr. C. M. Gary and his Forney Hall fellows.

win Robinson's FLAMMONDE. He likes Glenn Miller's orchestra and thinks that the "Blue Danube Waltz" is the most beautiful piece of music he has ever heard.

Rather startling and unique for most modern young people is the fact that he likes old-fashioned music best and that he likes good ole western pictures, especially the historical ones.

Having signed up with the Naval Reserve in January, he will enter a midshipman's school upon receiving his degree in June.

Students Can Be Supply Officers

The Navy desires to appoint 1000 officers in Class SC-V(P) in the Supply Corps of the U. S. Naval Reserve. It is intended that officers so appointed will be ordered to active duty for a course of instruction at the Naval Supply Corps School, Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, at various intervals, but not before the successful candidate has completed his college education. Upon completion of this course, qualified officers will be re-appointed in Class SC-V(G) and will be assigned to duty wherever their services are required. Those who fail to complete the course will be discharged.

Applicants must not be under 19 nor over 26 years of age as of the date on which application, with all accompanying papers, is submitted. College graduates and college seniors who will receive their degrees in or prior to June, 1943, may be considered. Applications from college seniors must be accompanied by statement signed by a person in authority in the college to the effect that, barring unforeseen circumstances, the applicant will be graduated prior to the date indicated above. College educational transcripts must accompany all applications; certificates of graduation do not provide the information desired as to the course pursued. Only outstanding young men of recognized officer-like qualifications are wanted.

While applicants must be physically qualified, waivers of minor physical defects may be recommended by the Medical Officer conducting physical examination if in his opinion such recommendations are justified. Those whose eyes are below standard may be accepted if their unaided vision is 12-20 or better in each eye, corrected to 20-20 by lenses.

Interested students are urged to submit applications at once to insure their being considered before the program is closed.

HELP YOU BECOME A NAVAL OFFICER

Freshmen, Sophomores, 17 THRU 19. Enlist now! Stay in college! You may qualify for a Naval Commission on the sea or in the air.

Freshmen. Sophomores. Here's a challenge—and an opportunity! Your Navy needs trained men. Trained men to become Naval Officers! And your college is ready to give you that training now.

Here's New Navy Plan

If you're 17 and not yet 20, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You then continue in college, including in your studies courses stressing physical training, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years of college work, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period after you have reached your 18th birthday, you may, if you so desire, take the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer . . . and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses, or who withdraw from college, will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination.

Deck or Engineering Officers

If you qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for

Aviation, you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Other Opportunities

If you do not qualify as either potential Aviation Officer or as potential Deck or Engineering Officer you will be permitted to finish your second calendar year of college and will then be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seaman. But, even in this event, because of your college training, you will have a better chance for advancement.

Pay starts with active duty.

It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

Little Tips Of Great Value

BY MRS. OPAL TUCKER

Students, are you going to the Senior Dance? Well, a large number will. Perhaps those people might be interested in knowing the following points of advice.

Since action on the dance floor speaks louder than words, don't worry about carrying on a clever conversation.

Do not monopolize one section of the dance floor and remember that you should not dance cheek to cheek with your eyes closed, regardless of how romantic you feel. Others might call you stupid.

An important part of good dancing is good posture. Stand erect and keep your distance. By all means the boy should realize that a girl cannot dance well if he grips her in a vice-like grip. No girl should twine her arm all the way around her partner's neck or lean too heavily on his manly chest. Avoid acrobatics, strangle holds, or sink-or-swim attitudes. Try not to bounce or prance. Be smooth.

The girl always precedes her partner off the floor. When the dance is over, he says to her, "Thank you for the dance." She may answer, "I enjoyed it too."

The girl should see that her program is arranged to have the first and last lead-outs, and a few in-betweens with her escort.

Treat your chaperons, class advisers, and hostesses as you would like to be treated were you in their position. They are there for your sake; so make them feel as if they are wanted. Besides those mentioned above, there may be present at the dance parents, faculty members, etc. Especially college students should speak to those people, welcome them to the college and invite them back.

Your escort may not be a student from this college; consequently he or she will not be acquainted with other college students. You should introduce your escort to several of your friends.

Throughout the dance, go the full gamut with your best smile, and the dance will be a success.

What Of The Summer Quarter?

With only a very few more days to go in the spring quarter, many students are faced with the question: Should I remain in school during the summer?

In normal times this question might be a bit insignificant; it would not make a great deal of difference whether you attended summer school or not if things were "as usual."

In fact, during such times (usual times) there are many good reasons for not remaining in school during the entire year. A break in the summer builds you physically, makes you mentally clear, and reimburses you financially. It gives the student a vacation. Boys find it helpful and often necessary to work during the summer months, in order to help defray college expenses.

In the face of present circumstances, however, the question of remaining for the summer term should be given quite a bit of thought. If you are one of those who is still pondering in indecision, why not ask yourself these things: Would I be able to serve my country best by remaining in school, or by leaving now? Am I going to be drafted? When? Would it be best to get as much work off as possible before I am inducted into the service? Would another quarter in college better qualify me for deferred status in some branch of the service? And if I leave school now, will I get lost in the "scramble" and not be able to return in the fall?

Ask yourself these questions. Honestly answer them, then decide accordingly. Remember, three more months in school might mean a lot in the military forces. It might mean a lot to both you and the Army. Being through college three months early could mean the difference between graduating and not graduating when you are called into the service of Uncle Sam.

Hats Off To Them

And here it goes: Father Time has taken another quarter, yes, another year, toyed with it, and made it into history.

During this school year, as is the case in every year, successes, failures, indifference, worry, gaiety, sadness, work, and play have enwrapped us and al-

The Leader Of The Band

To the third and fourth year students of JSTC, "Snookie" Cowart will need no introduction when he returns to play for the Senior Ball Saturday night. Just mention the College Orchestra or the Campus Literary Societies, and Mr. Snookie Cowart comes to their minds. A wee fellow, he was, who enjoyed his tooting, whether it was for the good of the College Band or for the betterment of his chosen Literary Society—(C. L. S., we believe).

Snookie is the type of musician that could take a bazooka and render an acceptable version of "Chopsticks," or with a harmonica he could probably produce a military march.

Saturday night, however, Snookie Cowart will be bent on doing one thing well, that is, making you, and everyone that attends the dance, have a good time. There won't be an exaggerated version of the "Anvil Chorus." Nope. Just plain good swing by a group of fellows who have it in them; and who have a leader that knows how to get the best out of a musical outfit.

Leisure

"A poor life this if, full of care,
 we have no time to stand and stare."
 —William Henry Davis.

The other afternoon I sat at a window in Bibb Graves Hall and stared at the bushes bent in the wind outside. The grayish clouds on farther made a melancholy background. As I sat there I became transfixed. My mind lost interest in the book before me, my thoughts seemed suddenly stilled. Only quiet nothingness pervaded my being. A moment before my mind had been filled with many thoughts, thoughts of the next class, the class that followed that, thoughts of the work which had to be done, thoughts of a hurried existence. But here in a twinkling all that passed away and true restfulness entered in as I gazed transfixed at the swaying bushes on the bank outside.

New untiring thoughts replaced the old. I thought of the strange peacefulness that had gently come over me. I thought how beautiful the darkening clouds seemed. For a brief moment, actually minutes, I left the life so full of care to pause, to stand and stare.

When once again I came back to the world about me, I felt refreshed and better prepared for the rest of the day. That brief period of meditation and relaxation was a tonic. A day which before promised to be laborious now seemed natural and easy. I arose from the chair feeling more like smiling and living with my fellow-man.

This hurried existence fraught with numberless cares tends to sap the mental and spiritual resiliency of the individual. Prolonged cares and duties carried day after day without release eventually place the burden bearer in a rut. Only as he learns to spring back fresh and ready for the battle every day, or at least every week, does he achieve any degree of contentment. Prolonged gloom caused by too much hurrying and fretting tends to give the lines of anyone's face a permanent sag. Mental and spiritual resiliency, or the ability to spring back by casting off the weight of every-day duties brings the contentment for which men seek; only by so doing can satisfaction be found. Tomorrow in "this poor life, full of care, just take time to stand and stare."

At Last

If school teachers of Alabama are seen jumping fences, standing on their heads, or pulling off some other unusual "caper" during the next few days, don't be surprised. They have a very good

Interesting Letters

Although our original intention was to publish in this column those letters received from former students who are now in service, we are including the following letter from England for the benefit of those who might be interested in the reaction of one who has actually experienced things as they are in England.

Normanby,
 Walton,
 Warrington

Dear William:

We were interested to read of the change in the weather in your part of the world, between March 3 and 9; several inches of snow on March 3, then within 6 days, jonquils in bloom, and other trees and shrubs in bloom! Up here, there is very little sign of spring, leaf buds are only just showing on the trees and daffodils are a few inches above ground. We have sown nothing yet, as the soil is too cold; the rhubarb is growing as well as anything and the maid and I often go down the garden and wonder how soon it will be ready. Unfortunately it is a fruit which needs a lot of sugar. We are trying to save as much of our sugar ration as possible for using the fruit during the summer; raspberries and apples especially, we hope will yield well.

It is surprising what we can save when we make up our minds to do a thing. Sarah (the maid) does not care for a pudding or sweet after dinner and I am not particular, so we save sugar in that way.

America is moving quickly when your age group has had to register and you expect to be called up before the end of the year. Age groups are being called up quickly here and Home Guard Cadet units are being formed also. David, Jack's eldest boy, joined last week and I think it will do him good, he is too quiet for a boy and needs bringing out.

I quite agree with you about the necessity for younger men in the cabinet. I have said for years that the men we are governed by are too old and young men are never given a chance to show their capabilities in government, but when there is war, they have to fight and die. It has always been so in the past, but I hope it will not always be so in the future.

We never have time for Gilbert and Sullivan now, but we often think of the days when we used to go to Manchester to see the operas, to a matinee and then the evening performance. I once went to four in a week.

Claudia and Bill are going to Methwold for Easter, the last time during the war when they will be able to use their car to go so far as there will be no petrol for private cars in a short time. Bill went down by train at Christmas, while Claudia locked after mother for me. Bill's sister will be at home also with her evacuee from Hull, a boy of ten.

I received a letter from Patsy yesterday; she has heard that Bert arrived in Tehran on March 9, and is living in the hope of being able to join him there.

She says food rationing is to begin and the sugar ration will be ½-pound per week, the same

We are glad to report that injuries were slight when SALLY KATE WESTER made a three-point landing at the Officers' Club Saturday night . . . If there ever was one, MARGARET SIMS is one. We mean a ONE MAN gal . . . Would you believe that HENRIETTA SHARPE actually stepped out on PRICKETT? For further information consult a Lieutenant at Fort McClellan . . . SARA JO HARDWICK says that college was fun while it lasted, even if she does have to go back to the country. Well, SARA JO, Pell City's gain will be Jacksonville's loss . . . ANNEBELLE COCHRAN has caught another gravy train. Maybe it won't make an unscheduled stop for a marriage . . . Why does JO DENTY pray for rain every Tuesday and Thursday night?

LENNIE SMITH'S personality will get her places. She is to play one of the leading parts in the Senior Pageant . . . MRS. OPAL TUCKER is overjoyed that she is getting her degree so that she can be at home with her husband . . . By the way, have you seen the "TWINs" from the Apartment. In case you haven't been introduced, they are plain HELEN and HARRIET. Some people insist, though, that HELEN gets more to eat than HARRIET . . . We are often made to wonder if a LT. DAVIS is taking JR'S place in JEAN TATUM'S heart . . .

We have one broad-minded girl in school. She's "in love" on Wednesday and Friday and very patriotic the rest of the week. Confidentially, we are referring to WILMA WILLIAMSON . . . School is almost out and JEAN LEATHERWOOD hasn't made that "catch" yet. Keep trying, JEAN . . . DORENA FULLER should try to improve her sense of humor.

DOWLING WHEELER has been exceedingly busy during recent weeks. It seems that he is helping a GIRL FRIEND back home with the ATOMIC THEORY. This atomic theory is kinda difficult to master, if you don't have a little inspiration, isn't it, WHEELER? And what do you think of this matter, DAISY? . . . Why was LORENE GUICE'S face so red on the way to school the other day? For further information ask EARL CRAFT; he seems to know all the details. It is possible that LORENE might be able to answer the question also . . .

SHAKESPEARE MORTON seems to find the Apartment Dormitory mighty attractive in his waning days at JSTC . . . If you see a light in BILLY GRISSOM'S room until the wee hours, don't be misled. He isn't studying; he sleeps with the light on now because he has a new picture of Charlotte . . .

Wanted: The army to raise their height limitations—GLENN SIDES.

Don't guess ROBERT SMITH is strolling around on fourth floor of Bibb Graves these days. DOT MONOHAN has left school, and, incl-

Army. Being through college three months early could mean the difference between graduating and not graduating when you are called into the service of Uncle Sam.

Hats Off To Them

And here it goes: Father Time has taken another quarter, yes, another year, toyed with it, and made it into history.

During this school year, as is the case in every year, successes, failures, indifference, worry, gaiety, sadness, work, and play have enwrapped us and allowed the months to slip by without our being conscious of their passing.

But as we reach the end, and pause to look back, it doesn't take long to recall many things that have happened during these last few months. Memories of our immediate past slide through the brain, every happening making its own impression. Often the things that happened only yesterday are faded, while things months past linger, always fresh.

But one thing that stands clear in every mind is the faces, the names, and the friendship of those fellows who have been called from JSTC this year to the armed forces of their country. These fellows have traded their books for guns, and instead of dealing with the make believe difficulties of college that bring a few sleepless nights and an occasional headache, they are living the life of a soldier and are undergoing hardships that bring blood, sweat, and tears.

Hats off to those fellows, hats off to Mr. Funderburk, that genial hard-working professor, who said, "I'll make a good soldier if it kills me."

"Hats off" to the many, many boys who were called into the service last year. Those boys are now prepared to give an account of themselves to the evil forces that would challenge the might of Uncle Sam, and would mock the right of democracy.

"Hats off" to the fellows that will be called in the future unless some unforeseen thing brings a stop to this madhouse. Yes, "hats off" to all of these boys and may God pity the tyrannical armies that dare oppose these boys.

Why Pray?

Why pray? That is a very remote question to ask Christian America. But many of us pray because it is a nice thing to do and "pop" taught us to pray when we were just boys. We are not grown enough to depart from such childish habits. We pray because some person with a great influence will hear us at church. We pray because we are having National Prayer Week. All of these are good on the surface but just why should Christian America pray?

We should think there are two excellent reasons. First, it gives man a peace of mind that can be had in no other way. Second, we believe there is a true and living God who hears our prayers and in due season from the profound depth of His loving heart answers our humble request. For these reasons Christian America should now whisper into the ear of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords the request of our broken heart in this dark hour.

A few days ago, our Mayor asked each person to pray in silence two minutes at noon each day. That is an excellent idea, but must Christian America be called to prayer by a noise at some central place in the city or by the desire of their hearts to talk with the Master? A great nation, Christian America, busily called to prayer by the whistle of the factory! Let us move on the idea and call ourselves to the sweet hour of prayer.

Many of us have not abided by the Mayor's request. Teachers teach right on, students read, talk and laugh, while others enjoy life as ever. Students have remarked on the reaction of persons to the call of prayer. May each of us answer the call when it comes at noon each day. If it takes a whistle to call us to prayer, we should by all means answer the summons.

lines of anyone's face a permanent sag. Mental and spiritual resiliency, or the ability to spring back by casting off the weight of every-day duties brings the contentment for which men seek; only by so doing can satisfaction be found. Tomorrow in "this poor life, full of care, just take time to stand and stare."

At Last

If school teachers of Alabama are seen jumping fences, standing on their heads, or pulling off some other unusual "caper" during the next few days, there is no need for alarm. They have a very good reason for trying something like this now—a reason other than being an "absent-minded professor." At last they have apparently secured a much needed raise in salary.

For years the teachers of the State have worked, pleaded, played politics, and done everything within their power to get a decent wage. Their efforts have been futile up to the present time. About the only thing they have been able to get is a bare means of existence.

Of course, the present wage increase is not an immediate improvement over the past. With the increased cost of living, a twenty per cent salary boost will not bring the teachers a better level of living; it will only help to maintain the one they have known. This wage increase, however, does brighten the future in the field of education. That is, it brightens the future if it is not a temporary measure that will be swept away at some future date. We can optimistically hope that it will not be.

No, this can be, and probably is a permanent step for the better. It can be the beginning of a move to raise Alabama educational standards, by giving teachers a square deal, and getting teachers that are worthy of their hire.

The Place For Music In The War

Within the last year most of us have heard quite a bit about keeping up the morale of civilians as well as service men. It could be found that many things contributed to the trend of the nation's morale. One of the most important of these is music. The honorable Lee O'Daniel, Senator from Texas, said: "The importance of good wholesome music properly applicable to the various phases of activity during a period of war is of inestimable value. Proper music in the home, in factories, in stores, on the radio and in schools and colleges will do more to inspire patriotism, elevate morale, submerge sorrow, and encourage increased efforts than any other form of activity."

Music and the arts are generally recognized as the symbols of civilization, and in peace time, the hall marks of a nation's culture. Dr. William Lyon Phelps, distinguished educator and author, says, "Music is the voice of civilization and we must not lose interest in the very things we are trying to preserve."

Within the last few years music has undergone a vital renaissance. This movement has ripened at exactly the hour of the nation's greatest need for morale-building power. Musical efforts are being directed into channels of wartime usefulness where they can serve in the best interests of military and civilian morale.

Back in 1935 musical organizations were sponsored by the W. P. A. as a relief measure for thousands of musicians who were thrown out of work as a result of the depression. The symphony orchestras, choruses and other ensembles that are a result of this earlier movement are bringing the world's best music to the civilians and soldiers in the military camps, in large cities, and in small towns. Many concerts have been given in areas containing a large number of workers in war industries. The admission is often the purchase of a defense bond or stamp. The musical groups have had conspicuous success in sustaining the drives to sell defense bonds and stamps.

to use their car to go so far as there will be no petrol for private cars in a short time. Bill went down by train at Christmas, while Claudia looked after mother for me. Bill's sister will be at home also with her evacuee from Hull, a boy of ten.

I received a letter from Patsy yesterday; she has heard that Bert arrived in Tehran on March 8, and is living in the hope of being able to join him there.

She says food rationing is to begin and the sugar ration will be ½-pound per week, the same as ours. The ration is quite a good one for those who are not extravagant, but of course in America you have other things which we cannot get, fruit, etc. We are looking forward to the fruit harvest and are hoping we shall not have many garden pests this year.

With love to both,

DOROTHY.

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Wood:

I think I owe you a letter since I worked for you while in school. As you remember, I am the red-headed lad who worked as general "flunky" in the library.

I really do enjoy hearing from the former students. The letters from them in the Teacoks are especially interesting. I have just read the letter from Norman Tant and was glad to hear that he was still alive. I have lost a cousin on Bataan with MacArthur's forces.

I'd really like to visit the "Gem of the Hills" and see all the people. I have an idea I would get lost in the Library since it is not on third floor of Bibb Graves Hall.

My experiences have been almost identical with those of Frank Bassett. I, too, am married. I pursued, fooled and wed a former Jacksonville student. I entered Midshipman School at Northwestern University and so did Frank; in fact, we were in the same company. I was chief unpaid-adviser to Frank in his problems that were then bordering on matrimony. (Don't sell Frank.)

After graduation I started to an Inshore Patrol School in New Orleans, and later Frank showed up with a wife. We were very closely associated while there. The bombshell fell and our ways parted. He went east and I went west. We both went as commanding officers on Patrol Boats, which I like very much.

I, too, know what it means to have a ship at my disposal and know that I am responsible. I know what it is to pace the deck looking out into the vast, mysterious beyond with no noise but the hum of the engines, the hissing of the waves, and the occasional joyous cry of the gull as the Cook throws food overboard.

After leaving Frank, I ran into Bill Tarleton, another Jacksonville student. We very often discuss former school happenings and wonder where all the students are.

Give my regards to all the teachers and students I know, especially Dr. Daugette, Dr. Colvert, and Mr. Cary. (Give me the inside dope on your children (as you called the library workers).)

I'd like to write more about my duty because I love it, but I can't.

Sincerely,

CURTIS WILLIAMS

Wanted: The army to raise their height limitations—GLENN SIBBES.

Don't guess ROBERT SMITH is strolling around on fourth floor of Bibb Graves these days. DOT MONOHAN has left school, and, incidentally, she has also left SMITH in the lurch . . . HORACE LEE CASEY and LOUISE BROWN seem to find something fascinating about the fourth floor these days. What about it, kids? . . . MARY ANN LANDERS is a good little girl these days—now, that's something, isn't it? . . . OLEN JINRIGHT says that he'll wager that he receives more mail from his UNCLE SAM in one day than most people receive in a week or even month. It seems that JINRIGHT received a couple of questionnaires and several letters from the UNCLE in one day . . .

"What seems to be the trouble?" the Doc asked a Forney fellow who was suffering from indigestion recently. "Well, Doc, it's like this. I ate too much. You see, I was following LEE HONEA through the Weatherly Hall servhis line the other day and by mistake I got his plate, and Doc I'm not used to having so much to eat," the nice chap replied. But, as for all LEE, it does help to have a girl friend in the kitchen.

GORDON SCOTT, the rampageous roaring romso who roams round romantic while boys bang boisterously begging "bitter sweets." Better beat the boys back, buddy. It breeds bad business . . . LONETI and PAT are rather inconspicuous these days. They are usually found close together with a trig book before their eyes. Don't study too hard, folks. It's bad for the eyes . . .

Flash!! OLIN MILLS STUDIOS takes great risk with expensive camera—some fifteen FORNEY HALL GUY'S have pictures made . . .

JOHN "ROMEO" RUSSELL, that dignified senior from Pisgah, Alabama, continually gets letters from the BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS, and the funny thing is that they always want to know if the baby's birth has been registered. Explain these letters, JOHN—E-K-P-L-A-I-N . . .

It seems as though UNCLE SAM doesn't need FERGUSON as badly as EDNA FOWLER. And say, EDNA, FERG certainly doesn't lose any time catching up with lost time, does he? . . . MARY JAMES PATTON reports that she spent a most delightful week-end here in Jacksonville recently—Why? Her DIBBY was here for a visit . . . The CAT came back, didn't it, RATCLIFF? . . . Just who is this Birmingham damsel from whom WILBUR COX receives so many letters? . . .

OVELLE KENT likes onions. If you don't believe it, just ask her . . . BUNNEY BISHOP also likes onions as well as GENERAL CUSTER . . . BATTLEING BAR C. SMITH hasn't been so enthusiastic about the ALA-BAMA COLLEGE GRL—wonder why. It couldn't be that she has found out about the gym affair . . .

HUEY "DOC" WILSON, the lankies fellow in college, has performed many duties and shot a lot of bull during his college career, but this is one thing which we thought that DOC would never do, and that was to wear a tie for such a long time. HUEY has been doing his practice teaching and has worn a tie for the past two weeks. My, say, how things can happen. We're taking for granted, HUEY, what wearing a tie for a long time is compulsory . . . HONEA and MOTLEY are seen together frequently. Could it be that CUPID has pierced the hearts, or is it that the two are just good friends? . . .
