ANNE LIVINGSTON
DIRECTS SOCIAL RECREATION HERE

"You never know where good leaders will come from, anywhere - they are not found training in their homelands. While we are training young people to become leaders, we must also train them to be good citizens in the country. And when they are good citizens, they will become good leaders."

Hannum Asks Students To Prepare For Professions

"In the history of our country, there have been great depressions. But there have also been times of prosperity. And we must prepare ourselves for the future, whatever it may bring."

Dances Have Proved To Be Season's Fad

"The dances have been a great success this year. But we must remember that they are just a part of our social life. Our main focus should be on education and personal growth."

New Courses Are OK'ed By State

The annual meeting of college deans was held at the State Department of Education on February 14-15. Dean C. R. Wood represented the Jacksonville State Teachers College at the meeting. The meeting was attended by representatives from both the Teachers College and the State Department of Education. At one session of the meeting, a resolution concerning certification rules and regulations was considered by both the teachers and the state education officials. The new courses were approved by the state.

Anders Speaks To IRC On Poland

The International Relations Club held its regular monthly meeting February 5 in Boyce Great Hall. Mr. J. Anders, a member of the history faculty and guest speaker, spoke on "Poland" as his subject.

Tant Disapproves Of Disarmament

Sgt. Norman Tant, a graduate of this college, returned to his alma mater on January 29 to give a lecture on the atrocities of World War II. He spoke of the horrors which he experienced as a prisoner of the Japanese and the treatment he received. He also spoke of the need for strong and effective military forces.

Cole Commemorates Famed Composer

In his three years at JSTC, Mr. Tant served in the artillery and in the infantry. During the 1940s, he transferred to Fort McPherson, where he continued his military career.

This column is primarily concerned with your opinions; we invite you to express yourself freely. Your time is not permitted to get a variety of opinions for this edition; so we shall be forced to write of existing conditions which I have heard discussed in general conversations.

Let us start with the Tea Dances. The Tea Dances are in a rut, largely to all of us. In ironing out these faults, we shall begin with the "Top Cats" who monopolize the selections for the record player with Jive. A little Jive is all right, but as I understand it, too much Jive is all right. And if I understand it correctly, the primary purpose of the tea dances is to give beginners a chance to learn and improve themselves. This can be a difficult task if the record player is in "Top Cats" or "O'Clock Jump" can name a dozen people who can't make that fast. Next, I would like to call out to the boys for better attendance at the tea dances. There is always a shortage of men. Need I remind you that this is one of the few social events for the student body. We want more of this sort of thing, and we need the students to show up in the best ways. The next time that there is a tea dance, we will ask you to attend the University of Florida, where you can do more work in English.

Miss Anders succeeded Del Rea as president of the Student Government Association under the provisions of Article 3 of the constitution. This new amendment, which went into effect last fall, was accepted by the students in the election last May and reads as follows: "When vacancies occur in the offices of President, Vice-president, Secretary, and Treasurer, the election shall be held in the fall of the year.

One student told me that the school was lacking in spirit; he added, however, that the friendly attitude of the students is excellent. This friendly attitude is the first step toward a good school spirit. I feel sure that we all have the highest degree of spirit as individuals, but we need something to group us and stimulate our interest. That is why I say more college social activities.
of Poland from the time of its victory until the present, relating how the country was divided between Prussia, Russia, and Austria. He also told of the restoration of Poland's independence in 1918, the First World War, in which the Poles fought bravely, and in which he himself was wounded. His story was followed by a question-and-answer period. As a result of this meeting, many students were interested in Poland and determined to visit the country one day.

Dr. Louis G. Hofrichter, the chairman of the Foreign Language Committee, Then, Mrs. Mary S. Boyles, President of the Student Government Association, addressed the group. She spoke on the need for unity among students and the importance of participating in the activities of the university. She encouraged all students to become involved in the various clubs and organizations on campus.

The meeting concluded with a discussion of the importance of international understanding and cooperation. The group felt that such understanding was crucial to the future of the world and that students should take an active role in promoting it.

One student told me that the meeting was clear and helpful, and that she had learned a great deal. Another student said that she had never thought about Poland before, and that the meeting had opened her eyes to a new part of the world. A third student said that she had always been interested in history, and that this meeting had reinforced her interest in learning more about different cultures.

In summary, the meeting was a success in that it provided students with a better understanding of Poland and encouraged them to become involved in the activities of the university. The students were inspired to learn more about Poland and its people, and to work towards a better understanding of each other.
Smoking

Within the last year the problem of smoking has hit the university at least several times. This time the subject is being approached in a different way; at first the question was where to smoke, and now the question is where to dispose of the cigarette stubs after the smoking is done.

The hall floor, we know, looks comforting. ARRANGEMENTS are now underway to obtain containers which will be placed in the hall for the disposal of cigarette stubs. Until these containers arrive, when it becomes necessary to smoke in the building, throw the stubs outside of a window... no other place, rather than the hall floor, for a place to dispose of your cigarette stubs.

A PROPOS

"KEEP GOING"

When the world has used you rough, and you feel you've had enough, keep going.

Get right down deep inside, raise your head and use your pride, keep going.

If you should fall, get up again, forget the pain and ease your pain; keep going.

You'll be surprised at what you'll do, after you think that you are through, keep going.

CLIMBED UPON A CLOUD ONE DAY

I climbed upon a cloud one day, to watch a world that once was gay. Instead, I saw a world of sin, I saw them all, both foe and friend.

I watched the strong go marching by, I watched the weak lie down to die. I watched a million years of grief go slowly marching on beneath.

And as I sat upon my cloud, it made me think; I thought aloud. I thought I heard my own voice speak. Are you the strong, are you the weak? Are you in the right or in the wrong? Fail in the line where you belong. It's up to you to pick up your cigarette stub; no one else can run your race. You feel you've had enough, keep going.

Letter To The Editor

In starting this letter I'd like to make it clear that I don't hold you responsible for anything that has been in the student newspaper but I do wish to let you know of the trouble we have had.

When I entered JSTJ I understood that it was run on the democratic system that we had here. Everywhere we turn there is some restriction on us.

Take the best example of this, the student lounge. It was, I thought, the place where students should be able to come and meet others. Recently I have been misunderstanding that the lounge was a place where students could meet between classes and in their spare time for a little fun and recreation, but I have found that it does hold the hands of those who go to it in their lap and whisper at each other. I think it's a stupid business to go to the lounge and have to say things that you would never say if you were really talking to someone.

Ye Olde Gossip

Here's that column again, folks! Well, GENEVA and NILES people are really talking up a storm and we might as well join in on the fun.

What's all this about COOTIE and ZEKE? Watch these two for further notice.

LOLA C., make up your mind, Is it MOSSY, CASEY, or CHAREE? We must have more reason for our selection.

MARY COBB, who is your present flame? ROGER, SAM or MALLICOAT? What happened to HARLEY?

MARY COBB graduated. She is now of Major caliber.

BENNETT

Now that BURT'S home, BILLYE seems to go visiting on quite a bit of that.

MARY PRADY, KAY BARKER, JANE SUTHERLIN, MARY LEA BROWNING, and HELEN BROWN are seen stepping out with looies and majors and such on Sunday nights.

CRIP is really quite serious about PAUL. Wasted a pinch or two on the last few week—looking at his on Sanandagan.

FORNEY FRANK, J. J. MCCARTY, ROBERTS, BRUCE.

GEORGE and DEAN got married and so did JEAN B. Watch ELEANOR BRITTAIN—she may try something new.

So glad we found out what a gallant guy TIDMORE is—AUBREY and BILL, do you ever get along?

CATHERINE TROTTER, who, as all this about, JOHN JACKSON, we heard you really had a good time on the picnic. Did you ever find out your coworker?

WANT TO TRY FOR BILLYE and BILLYE?

One thing you can say about Dean's boy FRED:

he knows how to get on Dr. Wood's list.

FLORIDA, what were you doing in the branch the other afternoon?

BOBBIE, you and WALLACE are doing all right.

PRADY, could a HAND have anything to do with your "being sent"?

EDITH, where do you stand? It is LOU, J. P. JACKSON, SNARE, or that mysterious telephone caller?

BETTY, has there ever been one man for you? We're waiting for the night you come in and really like the guy, ROSIE, there'll never be another GENE, eh?

FLORIDA, remember to get a good example of your students. TOMMY thinks you do.

HELEN, you shouldn't quarrel with strange women on buses.

Aren't the girls who like to date FAGAN, but we think he may have them bluffed off.

VIRGIL NOLES, what is that new course you're taking? KATIE likes basketball but if we had someone playing as she has, we would love.

STUDENT COUNCIL had a good party.

WILSON, what have you got that all the girls are crazy about?

BILL, it's a long way to NASHVILLE, NITA, why don't you—

GARNER, if you don't make an "A" in "Alrega" it's not your fault.

HAYWOOD and TIDBUT—quit quarreling.

It seems as though it is important. Why don't they?
I closed my eyes and spoke aloud.
As I spoke I raised my hand,
And awoke to be a better man;
To heed the brave in all their deeds,
Share with the poor in all their needs.
So now that years have passed by me,
I often sit and wonder why
A world so full of sin and pain
God today can win.

TO JOE
I climbed our mountain today, Joe,
Traversed the beaten trail,
Over which last spring you walked with weary step;
Climbed to the top to view the fields
Where not long ago, yet ages since, you followed the plow,
Persistently urging them to
To faster break the stubborn soil.
The fields, though rich with fertile seed,
Seemed empty, for you were not there;
Even as you breathe, gently sweeping the land,
Whispered of your absence.
Yet I fancied that this wind, blowing inland from the sea,
Held some message caught from your lips
As I looked far across the ocean to Joe.
Today was clear and blue
And something in its honest face
Reminded me of you.

One soft, white cloud crept over the tallest pine
Beyond the field they planted in the woods,
And a gentle whisper came to my soul
Dreaming that it was yours.

BROWNING AROUND THE EDITOR

As you have probably already heard, "As We See It" is under new management, which has produced the best results. Some of the new authors of this column give it a new character, and some of the old authors show a new face. The result is that the column is now more popular than ever before.

Katherine Baker has written "As We See It" and has done a very good job of it. She has added a new element to the column, which has made it more interesting than ever before.

Mary Katherine's articles have been very popular and have brought about a change in the column. The result is that the column is now more popular than ever before.

WILLODEAN RUCKS AND DURWARD WILKS
An Open Letter To Bokie

Dear Bokie:

"I Wish" I didn't "Miss You" "Every Night About This Time" but "If I Let Myself Fall" by going out "Once Too Often". It was to be "Just a Little Fond Affection" of "Making Believe" "There's No You", but "Isn't It Kind Fun" "Dancing In The Dark" "drinking "Moonlight Cocktails" and "Whistling in the Night" with "You in My Arms".

"I Can't Begin to Tell You" how much "I Love You", "I Never Mention Your Name" among such people as "Nancy" "because" we know "She's the Talk of the Town." When "You Came Along" you "Brought a New Kind of Love", the "Stormy Weather" disappeared and the "Blue Skies" keep me "Happy in Love". "I Don't Know Why I Love You Like I Do" for we never "get along Together", "You Were Right, Baby", when you sent me "Out of This World." "Surely you remember "The Long, Long Trail A-Windin' in the Garden of the Roses" where we straddled "Side by Side" in "the Evening by the Moonlight", "Please Think of Me", "Honey", when I'm Away "Out on the Outskirts of Town", "I Just Kissed Your Picture Goodnight" and know that "We Meet Again" even if its "Three O'Clock in the Morning".

"It's Been a Long, Long Time" since I've seen you "Angel", but "I Ain't Misbehaving" "cause when I look at you, I know "That's For Me", "I'm Mosieless, That's All Just for The Love in Your Eyes", someday I'll "Take The Train" and hurry to the "Girl of My Dreams."

In reading the column "The Weekly Quip" for the Mar 31 issue of the "Jubilee" I found the following humorous expression which I thought you might like to know:

"You have a poem that compares you to a flower. It says: "The rose is red, the violet is blue, "The lily is white and so am I. "But the rose has thorns, the violet has none, "The lily has a root and so have you. "Yet I'm not afraid to be a rose, "For I am strong and beautiful in my own way.""

I thought you might like to know that Miss Maron Coffee Hosts at Fort Marion Coffee, who received "The Rose" of the week in Wilmington, was Assistant Hosts at the Enlisted Men's Club Social at Fort McClellan, Alabama, in August. She began her duties there on October 14. "The Rose" to her duties as hostess, she teaches a dancing class, directs group singing and dancing.

Miron is secretary to J. R. Thompson, guidance supervisor, in the W. P. Duffin, special assistant to C. D. Stovall, training supervisor. Both girls majored in commercial arts.

John Harbour is teaching in the Spring Garden High School since his release from the AAF. He, Mrs. Harbour, and Mr. John have been living in Piedmont, Mrs. Harbour, the former Helen Burke, is also a graduate of the college.

Miss Gladys Manser spoke to the Woman's Council of the Christ Episcopal Cathedral recently on her work as a nurse in the United States Army. Miss Manser is an alumnus of the Jacksonville Alumni Association.

MUSIC STUDENTS GIVE CONCERT IN HEBLIN

The Vocal Ensemble, Double Trio, and several soloists, under the direction of Walter A. Mason, presented a program in the Ybor County High School, Sidney, and was as follows: "Madame Jeannette" (Nursey), "The Brie Cana" (Strom), "The Spirits With the Fringe on Top" (Rodgers), "Pony Express" (Strangers), "Jackson's" (Gatwick), "Close as the Pages in a Book" (Romberg), "I Dream of Jeannie" (Guercy), "by the Vocal Ensemble (Paul).

"Solemnity" (Waltz in C Sharp Minor) (Chopin), "June Song" (Stravinsky), "Dream of Spring" (Rutter-Nelson), "All the Things You Are" (Kern), "How High Is the Hill" (Barnes), "Ringgold", "Subscription" (Greenwood), "The Old Spanish" (Wolfe), "Double Trio" (R. H. Arribas), "Indian Love Call" (Farn), by Willodes Camp-

"Miss Keller" (to her friends as "Missu") heard a concert in the Col. Callum and Greer Gartoon, a woman's personality who is the outgrowth of political intrigue. She simply boasted all the usual motives that led to political success, but when the question of her ethics was raised, she became as interested in prizing up the iniquities of her opponents as if they were personal friends."
Forney Boys Give Shotgun Wedding

The boys of Forney Hall presented in assembly on February 8 a typical shotgun wedding. Roy McCandlen, as master of ceremonies, presented a news analysis in imitation of Walter Winchell, and introduced Kenneth Payton, who, with the assistance of Jean Harbit, gave a few sleight-of-hand tricks and a hypnotic act.

The wedding began with Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" played by Artie Johnson. The preacher, Jack Woodfin, opened with a complete recitation of a scriptural and bright rag handkerchief. Qibler, in his order of appearance were Myron McCormick, matron of honor; Jack Woodfin, best man; Jay Baggett and Edgar Payne, bridesmaids; Fred McCollum, the bride, appeared clapping to her father, Aaron Hand. The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of broom sedge and hickory leaves in her father's right hand and a well-polished U.S. gauger shotgun. Tom Morin carried the brides train. George Wood, the groomsman, appeared last. After the ceremony, the bride's bouquet was caught by Mary Frady.

The program was arranged and directed by John Martin, Roy McCandlen, and Bill McWhorter.

Daugette Speaks To Student Body

In assembly on January 19, President Houston Cole introduced to the students Colonel C. W. Daugette, Jr., son of Dr. C. W. Daugette, a former president of the Jacksonville State Teachers College. President Daugette gave a brief resume of Colonel Daugette's accomplishments before he went into active service in 1940 with Company "H" of the Alabama National Guard and at his duty in Italy with the 24th Division.

Colonel Daugette recalled vividly the day he had sat in assembly, when his father was president, and a farewell program was given for the local branch of the National Guard. Most of the company was composed of students, and few of that number, Ensign Young, Aaron Hand, and Lawrence Gaffey, are back in school now.

There were one hundred and fifty men in the original company and during their service more than one hundred of them were in a class of commissioned officers or high-ranking non-commissioned officers. Colonel Daugette pointed out the advantage which the men who had been educated in a teachers college had had over the other men, as they had been taught to lead, direct, and organize.

He spoke of the campaign in Italy, where part-time work and cooperation were shown by all the Allies. In speaking of the moment and of the future, Colonel Daugette said that the responsibilities for settling the world's problems rest upon young people as his listeners,

"The men whom we need will keep the peace after we have won it, and you know you won't let the men down who have died to gain it," he said in concluding.
Piano Recital

Miss Mary Blanche Scales

On Monday evening, January 8, in Bibb Graves Hall, Miss Mary Blanche Scales, of the Shorter College music faculty, of Rome, Ga., presented another in the concert series.

Her program consisted of the following selections: Fantasia No. 4, (K.470) (Mozart); Capriccio, Op. 110, No. 3 (Bruch); Keltie Rights, Maestro, Semipluse. Temperamente, Molto Allegro con fuoco (Dawdwell); Capriccio in F Minor (Dublin); The Night Winds (Dohnanyi); The Night Winds of the Great War (Sylacauga; Margaret Bell, Heflin; and Miss Stella Huger, Fort Payne, assisted by Claude Bennett, Jacksonvillle; Martha Pentland, Griptat; Gladys; Mary Jones, Heflin; and Carolyn Triplett, Stonewall, Birmingham; Evelyn Owens, Clanton; Ruth Chavers, Sylacauga; Margaret Bell, Heflin; Opal Adair, Buffalo; Martha Freeman, Ret.; Bernice Patterson, Fort Payne, and the Baptist Student Program of the Baptist Church in Jacksonville.

The program was given to the students for volunteer summer work, and to the residence hall for greater support of our Home Mission work.

Junior Prom

Plans for the Junior Prom have been started under the direction of Mary McDaniel, class president. She has announced the following committee: Band, George Anderson, chairman, Margaret Biddle and Vernon Haywood; decorating, Betty Fitzgerald, chairman, Catherine Smith, Wallace Walker, Patricia Trimble, Frances Watson, Alto Johnson, Katie Whatley, and Dorothy Sneed; girls and program, Hugh Morris, chairman, Jackie Cobb, and andretie Cobb; recreation, Louise Waters, chairman, Mary Johnson, Cullman, and Millen Riddle, and降水, Absolutely, and Miss Lutrell. Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Mrs. J. H. Jones, Miss Stella Rugg, and Miss Lutrell.

The dance will be held in the college gymnasium on March 17, from 9 until midnight.

"I Loved You, Too."

I have never seen a live dance, but I have seen them on television. I can say that the teachers who smoke don't try anything to the boys who light up in their presence.

Of course, the editor isn't reprinted, being a teacher, but when a boy is being pulled in to a smoking situation, I have heard more suggestive jokes told than I care to mention. I can see that the students who smoke don't try anything to the boys who light up in their presence.

The last point I'd like to bring up now is that the "calling down" that the boys get after the other week for the jokes pulled in, is truly a good time. I have heard more suggestive jokes told than I care to mention.

It seems to me, considering the fact that the purpose of the Louisville is not to be a place to meet between classes and to spend time for fun and recreation. According to the Student Handbook, "The trip is to be a social center for the students and to be enjoyed by all."'

Our Democracy — by Ray

Great Presidents Equally Revered

WASHINGTON — As a young boy, I met President Lincoln in 1865 and was struck by his kindness and humanity. As an adult, I served under him in the White House and witnessed his wisdom and courage.

LINCOLN BORN AND REARED IN A LOG CABIN, A HABIT OF THOUGHTFUL LIVING, AND WARY.

Yet, in our Democracy, it was possible for both men to rise to leadership and to attain the highest office in our land.
