Sophomore Hop--Time Near

Student Prince Set For November 27-28

James Baker: "Hubert, you can't leave me! Who will shave the goat?"
Jean Iverson: "Hubert, tell the boys that there's a lawn mower in the woods.

It isn't that Jean goes around saying things like that to particular people, but as Grebe in "Student Prince" she gets to take the perfectly lovely cracks at Baker, who plays the part of Lutz. He's up to his usual crazy tricks. No one really knows what he'll pull this time, but whatever it is, you can be sure he'll be funny.

This opera is the biggest production the music department has put on yet. The list of principals is long and both the choruses are large. Costumes are being ordered which were made by the original design. Scenery is being designed along Walt Disney-stuff lines. Day and night people sing—"Deep In My Heart", "I'm Swingin', Sentimental Jazz", "It's All Right, Sam! We Two", "Drinkin' Song", They're all lovely and singable.

The cast is a hard-working class. Every one of them is a hard worker, and no one is going to slack off this time. The dress rehearsals will start first thing Monday morning, and the show is scheduled for November 27 and 28.
...made him think about all the "nuts" in Jacksonville. He said that they weren't nuts but that they were just little people who didn't see any of the men of the city. And that everything outside their little sphere they considered to be nuts. I asked him what hope there was for Jacksonville.

He said that when they began to look with interest to the opinions and feelings that may differ from their own, and to the possibility of tolerance, they would begin to grow. "The people of Jacksonville will be destroyed," he said. "They're too small, but they'll be men.

I was relieved to read this article and to read the editorial telling you that we are nuts, but that we don't have to be, and that when the days come that we aren't. Jacksonville will have school spirit, and I'll be MEN...."

---

District 6, A.E.A. To Meet Here Nov. 18

Members of the Sixth District of the Catholic Education Association will assemble here on Monday, November 18, for the annual all-day meeting. Several events will be held that day, and the superintendent will be on hand.

Masque And Wig Chalks Up Another Dramatic Success

The seventh and, thus far, best effort of the Masque and Wig Players was held last Saturday night at the Town Hall. The play, "Angel Street," was done perfectly and the audience was thrilled. The play's success was due in part to the fine direction of the leaders of the group, and the audience was in the mood for the bizarre, the black-lighting and the unusually good cast.

The Victorian atmosphere was translated into a modern scene, and the audience was treated to some of the finest acting of the year. The play was a success and was sold out.

Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation.

For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

The dance is a no-stag affair, and tickets are being sold at $2.00 each. The cast, orchestra and everyone is invited to attend. The dances are unsual for a dance, but the students would not accept it, so they wrote the play.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.

---

...Miss Stuntz reports that these needs exist in all universities and colleges and that the students are more than willing to cooperate in any effort for the betterment of the university. They will be asked to respond to the situation. For example, they're asked to fill out a questionaire of Studentenverf (a student relief organization) at the University of Michigan, and they are being asked to contribute to the fund. The students were sitting in the offices to hear part time jobs possiable. One was asked an applicant to sell it. They were asked to sell it at a price.
THE SATURDAY LETTERS

November 18, 1950

Rabbit tracks in the half-inch snow blanketed an edge in the wind that blew down from the north. Sharp sounds started up from the rusty, high-speed train. Cars loaded with smiling grandchildren, slipping along the river roads toward old hometowns. Ears full of harvest trees- red! Cozy sounds coming from kitchens! Boys making white whips with done to the high school field in support of the big game! City workers standing in front of drug store creaming of days past.

Thanksgiving.

Prayers are made with words alone. Appreciations, attendances, offerings, all add up to the spirit of Thanksgiving and the expression of humble acceptance of the bounty given.

The idea started when the early colonists reaped a harvest after hardship, sacrifice and suffering. It started as an expression of a day to say to all through our prayers and good offices, our thanks and gratitude for the purpose of setting goods. No dictator says, "Be Thankful." No role in a book for us to be appreciated. It is our own world and we take it.

Thanksgiving.

Regardless of our troubles and misunderstandings there are many reasons why we look forward to the day and regain the memory of events.

R. E. Manchester
Dean of Men
Kent State University

THE SATURDAY LETTERS

November 11, 1950

The Age of Know How

The world is full of "Know How." These setting patterns in education, business, industry and the professions emphasize desirability, skill and techniques. There is "Know How" very much needed and not too well understood. It is the one connected with a man's ability to govern himself. He learns how to do a dozen things but often finds knowledge useless because he cannot control the many, intricate and complex details contributing to the self-management skill. His task is that of a man trying to drive a dozen wild horses in all directions.

Intelligence pulls one way, emotions pull other ways. Social pressures upon him, environmental situations exert a force and conversation results. In other words, "Know How."

Advice comes from many sources. Suggestions come from many dog-gogers. A man stands and takes up the advice. He knows that the advice he will talk among the virtues and faults of "General Average" and he knows that he will have much fun and satisfaction as a result. So he is put to know if in him he is an expert statistician, he will laugh in my face. And what a joke.

As the days go by, you will hear about the "General" to keep your feet always on the ground. Maybe your luck will be better than mine. Maybe on some bright morning you will meet him face to face. If you do, say hello to him. I am sure he will return your greetings. That is the spirit of the "General" to keep your feet always on the ground.
Uncle Remus

[Guest editorial from "The Auburn Plainsman"]

Next to enthusiastic parental spanking, the first great treasure of childhood next door, the bully of the block, comic strip influence today's six-year-olds more than any other social institution. This is what is known as the "infantilization" of children, a term used by educators and psychologists to describe the phenomenon where children are treated as if they were much younger than they actually are. The "Uncle Remus" series, for example, is a classic example of this phenomenon. The stories are written in a simple, child-friendly language, with a focus on moral lessons and adventure, rather than complex themes or realistic representations of the world. This approach is intended to make the stories more appealing to children, but it can also be seen as a way to control their exposure to more complex ideas and emotions.

Segregation

The following is a talk, in its entirety, made by Claire Rutherford, at a recent conference program given at the First Baptist Church in Linville, Alabama.

"I am sorry to confess that I know nothing about the question and that, although I am interested in the Negro problem, I have no opinion about it because I know neither circumstances nor the heart of the matter.

"So the only thing I can do is to tell you about what I saw in Europe."

"In Belgium there is no segregation in the States."

"Now, what I want to ask is this: (1) Why have we acquired such a formidable reputation as a nation of social reformers? (2) Is it a question of degree of civilization? (But then what about educated Negroes and uneducated people?)"
Maison Internationale Shares Good Fortune

In a conversation at the International House a few nights ago, the students, who are a part of the French Program, were discussing their ideas relative to the program. The conversation was remarkable in that it reflected the opinion voiced down the following question:

"We, who are fortunate enough to be a part of the Foreign Program, feel that we have had a good fortune with the students who are here. Much can be said and has been said about the program, yet all the words one is tempted to say on paper cannot express just how much this experience has meant to many of the American students realize just how much has been done to make their stay here enjoyable. They help them in every capacity, whether it is in their welfare, being a leading force behind any activity, which makes dormitory life more enjoyable. They are cooperative, kind, and willing to help others. They have won the affection of the students who are here.

The climactic moment of the evening in the Leoni Club Auditorium featured

THE FACULTY MEMBERS GIVE RECITAL

GOOD NEWS FOR DORM STUDENTS AT JSC

The members of the Westminister Fellowship will sell delicious ice cream in dorms each evening starting on Monday nights from 8 until 10.

The Westminster Fellowship has undertaken the project in order to raise $100. The money is to be their contribution to the fund for the Presbyterian Church educational building, which is expected to be completed by Christmas.

A CRITICAL ANALYSIS OF POETRY

The name Mary is very fitting for the title, for it could offer to anyone from Tugboat Annie to Betty Hutton. It is more probably the latter, for it takes many names to buy a steamboat. The particular one she has been known to take such a romantic poet as to a steamboat and put such extraordinary feeling behind it. The suggestive power of Monte Cristo is unparalleled because of the famous line, "he who sees the first line as everyone expects." The poem was evidently written by a poet who is familiar with its features for a fine poet would take such a common subject as a steamboat and put such extraordinary feeling behind it. The suggestion that the owner is more cleverly shown by the fact that the steamboat belongs to the poet himself.

The steamboat, on closer analysis, could therefore not be a steamboat but her husband of whom she is a commoner, her personality is so different. The cleanness of the poet is so unusual.

THE READER

The chances are when a man daps upon the back he is only trying to make you cough up something.

FACULTY MEMBERS GIVE RECITAL—Miss Ollie Barnes, organist, seated at the organ in the Church of St. Michael's and All Angels, where she gave a recital Sunday afternoon. She was assisted by Irwin Swack, violinist.

Miss Ollie Barnes, organist, was presented in her organ recital on Sunday afternoon, November 13, at 3 o'clock, at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels. She was assisted by Irwin Swack, violinist. Both Miss Barnes and Mr. Swack are members of the music faculty at Jacksonville State College.

Miss Barnes graduated from Alabama College. She received her master's degree at Columbia University, and studied organ at the Union Theological Seminary. She is regarded as an artist of outstanding ability.

Mr. Swack received his bachelor's degree at the University of Music and her artist's diploma at the Juilliard School. He has a master's degree from Northwestern.

French House at Wilson College

Chambersburg, Pa.—This year will see the realization of a dream long held by the administration and French department at Wilson College—a French House on the campus college.

French majors and minors will live in a French atmosphere, hearing and speaking only the French language. All students, especially those with a knowledge of French have been invited to visit the French House.

Very careful planning is being done in order to insure an academic and social unity there, but these plans will include ample opportunities for the entertainment of non-French speaking friends. The house will be under the direction of the entire French department.

Judge (to Yogi): "Do they catch you with this bundle of silverware, whom did you produce?"

Yogi (to Judge): "Two fraternity houses, your honor."

Judge (to sergeant): "Call on the town restaurants and distribute this stuff."

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 7...THE RAVEN

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 7...THE RAVEN

Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1950

By Mary Elson

We all hear about those who are in the limelight because of their various accomplishments or outstanding positions on our campus. But seldom do we know about the persons who work behind the scenes to receive but little recognition and thanks for their efforts. One of those who should be brought to our attention is Betty Vickery. She has merited the respect of those who know her by her years of fine service in clothing, which is a continuation of a high school activity. She has had charge of this phase of production for the "operettas" "Naughty Marietta," "The Mikado," and for the play "Night of January 16th" at Angel Street. When the band needed uniforms for its major project, Betty designed and made six of the nicest outfits that we have ever seen.

Although the designing and making of costumes has taken many of her days and nights, Betty still finds time for other activities. She is a member of the Writer's Club, which honored her in publishing her poems in its publication "Soundings." Betty also takes music classes even at the music department a large part of the day, where she plays the flute. Her music skills, combined with her band, and tympani in the orchestra and glee club, make her a valuable asset to the music department.

The Steinway piano sold at auction last week, and the first bid was made by Betty. This bid was made by her to raise money for the school. She is very much interested in the school as everyone expects. The name Mary is very fitting for the title, for it could offer to anyone from Tugboat Annie to Betty Hutton. It is more probably the latter, for it takes many names to buy a steamboat. The particular one she has been known to take such a romantic poet as to a steamboat and put such extraordinary feeling behind it. The suggestive power of Monte Cristo is unparalleled because of the famous line, "he who sees the first line as everyone does not expect."

The poem was evidently written by a poet who is familiar with its features for a fine poet would take such a common subject as a steamboat and put such extraordinary feeling behind it. The suggestion that the owner is more cleverly shown by the fact that the steamboat belongs to the poet himself.

The steamboat, on closer analysis, could therefore not be a steamboat but her husband of whom she is a commoner, her personality is so different. The cleanness of the poet is so unusual.

THE READER

The chances are when a man daps upon the back he is only trying to make you cough up something.

Faculty Assembly Here For Conference And Workshop

During the past two weeks two large professional teacher-groups have met on our campus. On October 21-25 the Alabama Division of Classroom Teachers of the Alabama Education Association met here. Mrs. Robert Self is president of the division; Mrs. R. B. Sellers of Pensacola is vice-president; and Mrs. C. T. Wooten of Jacksonville is secretary-treasurer.

Panel discussions were held on the work of classroom teachers, program planning, teacher education, professional standards and teacher welfare. This was the first state planning conference for the teachers.

Here to assist Mrs. Self and her officials of the group were Mrs. Jessie Pool, Southeastern regional director of classroom teachers, and Miss Mary Tilly, assistant on the National Education Association's committee for federal aid and legislation.

A banquet was given in Ham- mond Hall Friday evening for the visitors and local members, and a reception was held at the home of President Houston Cole after the evening session.

The evening session in the Leoni Club Auditorium featured

Maison Internationale Shares Good Fortune

In a conversation at the International House a few nights ago, the students, who are a part of the French Program, were discussing their ideas relative to the program. The conversation was remarkable in that it reflected the opinion voiced down the following question:

"We, who are fortunate enough to be a part of the Foreign Program, feel that we have had a good fortune with the students who are here. Much can be said and has been said about the program, yet all the words one is tempted to say on paper cannot express just how much this experience has meant to many of the American students realize just how much has been done to make their stay here enjoyable. They help them in every capacity, whether it is in their welfare, being a leading force behind any activity, which makes dormitory life more enjoyable. They are cooperative, kind, and willing to help others. They have won the affection of the students who are here.

The climax of the evening's treat in their welfare, being the leading force behind any activity which makes dormitory life more enjoyable. She helps them in every possible manner to make Panell truly a home-away-from-home.

Her cooperative spirit and willingness to help others has won for her the everlasting respect and admiration of the entire college. In Panell's lounge, she is surrounded by a group of boys singing the latest hit songs, or she may be found in her room sympathizing with some fellow who feels he has more than his share of trouble. These fellows may forget many of the wonderful things of their college life, but they will always remember Panell's friendly housemother—"Mom" Gerstisser.

In charge of the election were Paul Patterson, B. J. Norton, T. B. Bishop and Hoyt Simpkins. Panell challenges the other dormitories to participate in some activity helping them to develop a school spirit which will make college life more pleasant—a part of life that one can look back upon without sighs of regret for wasted opportunities.

Men in Armed Forces
Panell salutes her men who are in the armed services by establishing a Roll of Honor. The Roll of Honor includes the following:

There will probably be several other names added to this list as soon as Colonel Rushford sends in the ROTC's Form 44 to the draft board.

Some of the tall men on the second floor of Panell have a hand in spite of the ladies who stayed up there last summer. It seems that the men are constantly buying their heads on the shower curtain holders which the women had installed. This has proved to be embarrassing to Gordon Dees, who was married only recently, and has quite a time convincing his bride that he knows how to use the bath towel on his forehead.

It has been suggested that the name of Panell should be changed to International House since there are so many Yankees and other foreigners living there.

Be sure to watch this column for the next Girl of the Month—Coke belongs.

Scott Girl: How did you find the man at the sorority rush party? Seemly Pink: I just opened the door marked MEN, and there they were.

She was only a clergyman's daughter but you couldn't put anything past her.

"You can use my name...but don't quoth me!"

In Lincoln, Nebraska, a favorite hunting spot of students at the University of Nebraska is Hermie's "Inn" because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly university atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in university haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

5 full-necked CAMEL J's
Ask for it at your store...both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Other Under Authority of the Coca-Cola Company by Alabama Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Anniston, Ala.

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
Continued from page 1)

The student housing center, the home of Bonnie Cobb and friends...

KAPPA DELTA FI
Members of Kappa Delta Pi, the national honor society for students who plan careers in education...

The council will elect a senior counselor, a junior counselor, a bursar, a scribe, and standing committees for this academic year.

ARTICLES OF THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION
The first Baptist student mass meeting of the year was held on Monday, October 2, in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Scott, president of the Baptist Student Union, spoke on the occasion. Dr. Zercher, president of the BSU, sang a solo. The message was "Faith to Live By." The BSU will have a group of students attending the meeting of the council.

Extra-Curricular Organizations

WESLEY FOUNDATION
Bonnie Cobb was elected Training Unit director for the college students’ department. Under her leadership the programs are expected to be of a good quality and interest to the student body...

The council will elect a senior counselor, a junior counselor, a bursar, a scribe, and standing committees for this academic year.
The president of the BSU, sang a solo in The subject of Mr. E. F. C. was a "Faith to Live By". Many people were as well as students attended the meeting.

Immediately following the program a Hallowe'en social was held in the basement of the church. Games were led by Mrs. Dick Wallace, and refreshments were served by Betty Jean Young, Mary Jose Waddell, Bes- sie Windham, and Frances Combs, assisted by L.J. Young.

The next music meeting will be on November 21 at the First Baptist Church. This will be a Thanksgiving program, and Dr. Houston Cole will be the speaker. Another social will be held and will be at the close of the program. All are cordially invited to attend.

Christmas Banquet
A Christmas banquet is being planned for Tuesday, December 19. Floyd Moody, social chairman of the BSU, is chairman of the banquet committee. Mr. Lamar Jackson, pastor of the Esley Baptist Church, will be the banquet speaker. Bill Hawkins, BSU president, will be toastmaster and music will be arranged by Dot Riley, music chairman.

Tuesday, November 6, the BSU executive council met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wallace. Business was transacted, reports were given, and discussion about coming activities was held.

Y. W. A. Reorganization
The Y. W. A. has reorganized this year. Frances Knight was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Betty Humphries" dropping out of school. These meetings have been held with good attendance. Besse Windham is program chairman.

Kefauver
Born in Tennessee
Senator Kefauver was born in Monroe County, Tenn., 45 years ago. His grandfather was a Baptist minister. He graduated at the University of Tennessee. He taught and coached, later working his way through Yale University's School of Law.

He practised law in his home state until 1928 when he was elected to Congress to succeed the late Sam D. McReynolds.

In 1947-48 he made political history in his home state when he was nominated and elected to the Senate. Ten days after the bitter opposition of the powerful political machine of E. H. Crump, Memphis political leader of long and successful standing.

Senator Kefauver has already uncovered key gambling syndicates. Frank Richiex, New York's notorious bookmaker, has already been convicted and sent to jail. It has already been proved that the investigation is efficient, thorough-going, and will get results.

E. E. A. (Continued from page 1)
chairman; W. J. Terry, superin- tendent; Lloyd Berry, Douglas, chairman, Frank Grove, consultant.
Committee reports will be made after the meetings, with William Kennedy, vice-president, presid- ing.

W. J. Terry will speak on "Educational Legislation"; "My look at Europe"; will be Ernest More's topic; and Miss Zora Allis, president of the E. E. A., will discuss "The President Sees It".

Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. with Dr. W. E. Hill, president of Peabody College, as host. The local presi- dents will be given special recog- nition.

We were happy for over a year. Your Honor, and then . . . then the baby came.

"Boy or girl!"
"Girl, she was a blonde and moved in next door."