A STUDENT PUBLICATION, JACKSONVILLE STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

VOLUME IV

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA. MONDAY, SEPT 18, 1950

Dear Freshmen:

This issue of the TEACOLA is especially for you. It is meant to give you much information that you will need and want. It is also meant to introduce you to the paper and give you some idea as to what you can expect from your college newspaper.

In the past year at Jacksonville there has been quite a bit of discussion about the lack of student interest in everything. Grades weren't good, attendance at assemblies was poor, and you could find no one to do anything. I sincerely hope that you will not fall into this pattern. Jacksonville needs some new vitality. It needs to be shocked out of its care-for-nothing attitudes. You freshmen, who have the thrill and excitement of just beginning your college careers, have also the chance to be the "Hacola" that J. S. C. has needed for a long time.

If you are interested in any of the college organizations, ask your advisor how you can go about getting into them. If you are interested in newspaper work, see me. I need you badly.

While you're at J. S. C. learn to know the people of Jacksonville. They are interested in the college and in its students. Don't keep your sweet smiling face locked up in your dormitory room. Take a walk around the city. Learn its history. You'll find that it is a fascinating little town that lives and breathes Jacksonville State College.

I don't want to sound like your grandmother's great grandmother, but I do want you to realize the importance of scholarship. Education at any institution is more than books and classrooms, but that part of education will always be important no matter how progressive education gets. At first you will be excited about all the

PRESIDENT

Dr. Houston Cole

Dr. Cole has been president of this institution since 1942. His first interest is the individual student, and he always urges all students to feel free to call upon him when they need his services.

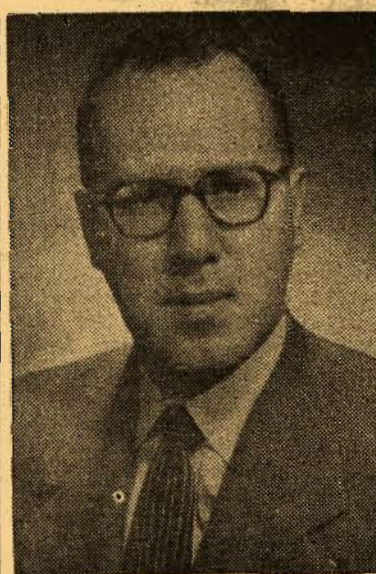

Registration Plans Are Outlined

Lawrence Miles, who will assume his duties as registrar this fall, has mimeographed instructions for registration. Since the procedure has been changed, the information given below will be of interest to those who expect to return this fall, as well as to those who are entering college for the first time:

Registration By Alphabetical Order

Registration will begin promptly at 8:30 a. m. on Monday, September 18, in the Little Auditorium of Graves Hall. It will continue through Tuesday and will be according to the following schedule:

REGISTRAR

Lawrence Miles

Mr. Miles took over the duties as registrar on September 1. He spent the summer visiting other colleges, and in graduate study at Peabody College, familiarizing himself with the best methods in handling the registrar's office.

Mr. Miles and his assistants have worked untiringly during vacation to make registration as simple and expedient as possible.

DEAN

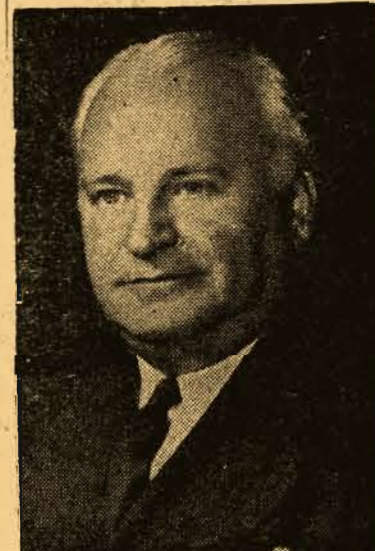

Dr. C. R. Wood

Dr. Wood, the college dean, is a familiar figure on the campus. He will be the confidant of all students, who will have to visit his office from time to time.

Dr. Wood has announced that courses have been arranged to offer a major in home economics this fall.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR

Dr. Baskin Wright

Dr. Wright came to the campus on February 1 from the University of South Carolina. For a number of years he was on the faculty of the University of Alabama. He is now student personnel director and will be associated with all students, particularly those who have work scholarships. He is also director of the Anniston Extension Center.

that it is a fascinating little town that lives and breathes Jacksonville State College.

I don't want to sound like your grandmother's great grandmother, but I do want you to realize the importance of scholarship. Education at any institution is more than books and classrooms, but that part of education will always be important no matter how progressive education gets. At first you will be excited about all the things that make your first days at school exciting—receptions, football games, dances, and many others; but remember to carry some of that excitement into Biology class, English, and student assemblies. You may or may not realize it, but there is an awful lot to learn in this world. I want to see everyone of your names on the Dean's List this quarter.

This is your newspaper—you freshmen and the other students of J. S. C.—I want it to be of interest and assistance to you. If there is anything I have neglected in this "issue for freshmen", you can see me, your faculty advisor, or just stop anyone and ask him. You may get the right answer, and if it isn't right, it will probably be interesting. Happy freshmen year to all of you. I know you will like Jacksonville State College.

Where Students Will Register

Jacksonville State Teachers College

Bibb Graves Hall will be a busy place on Monday and Tuesday when the fall registration takes place. This will also be the building where students will meet most of their classes, and conduct their business transactions. All the business offices, the College Book Store, The Grab, where students gather between classes, and the administrative offices, are all located in this building.

Bibb Graves Hall was named for the late Bibb Graves, Governor of Alabama, at the time the building was erected. It is built on the site of the home of General Burke, Yankee general, who was stationed here during the War Between the States. He liked it so well that he came back to live, and to rear his family.

Welcome, New Students

The Teacola welcomes new students to the campus, and old students back to the campus. This college should be one full of interest and excitement for everyone. There will be many of the usual and unusual things happening, and it is our sincere hope that you will take part in all of the college activities and that you will get a great deal from this year at Jacksonville State College.

While you are in school at Jacksonville you naturally will want to become associated with certain organizations and groups. Depending upon your religious preference, you will join the Westminster Fellowship, the Wesley Foundation, or the Baptist Student Union. You will be freshmen, sophomores, juniors, or seniors. You will be in Miss Edwards' 111 English or Mr. Brown's 101 Biology. There are other groups which will draw your attention, depending on their relationship to your interests.

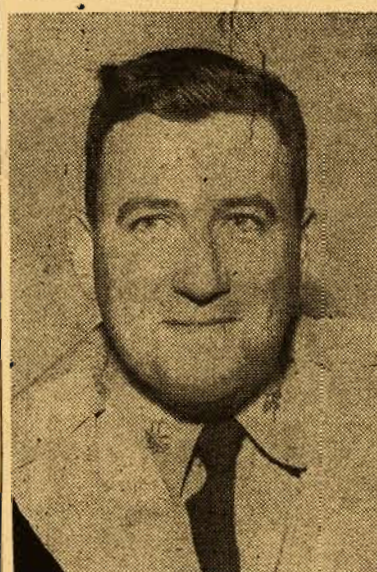

If you write, you might like to join the Writer's Club, the Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity, or The Teacola staff. If you like dramatics then what you want is to belong to the Masque and Wig Guild. There's Phi Mu Alpha for music majors and minors, and Kappa Delta Pi for education majors and minors. And there are many other—most of which you will find listed in your Student Handbook, but the handbook does not give all the information you might like to have about these various organizations. Your Teacola will give you this information beginning next month in a column entitled, "If You Want to Join—". Next month we will give you information concerning the clubs mentioned above, Writer's Club, Sigma Delta Tau, Teacola staff, Masque and Wig Guild, Phi Alpha Mu, and Kappa Delta Pi. So, "if you want to join" any of these, read "If You Want to Join—" in the next issue of the Teacola.

Commanding Officers ROTC

COMMANDING OFFICER

Lt. Col. Robert Raleigh

Colonel Raleigh is beginning his third year with the ROTC here, having help set up the unit. He succeeds Colonel Thomas B. Whitted, who had been here for two years.

Colonel Raleigh attended Bow-join College, and graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. He served in the European Theatre during World aWr II, and was stationed in Austria with the Army of Occupation.

He has announced plans for the unit in this issue of The Teacola.

Lt. Col. Robert C. Raleigh, commanding officer of the college ROTC unit, made this statement for The Teacola:

Indications to date show that this year the ROTC program at Jacksonville State College will be the biggest and best yet. Innovations in training aids in instruction have been installed to give the best training possible to the students that the time allotted allows. For those students who have been with the unit for the past two years, the innovation for transportation from Graves Hall to the ROTC building, the Military Department feels will meet with approval.

Changes in the Military Department Staff include the addition of Captain Edward B. Richardson, who came here from Fort Bragg, N. C. The Department's loss is Master Sergeant Lewis D. Brock, who is now on active duty as a captain in the Eighth Infantry at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Rifle Marksmanship

Rifle marksmanship will be encouraged to such a point that

ASSISTANT

Major Tracy Rasmussen

Major Tracy Rasmussen came to Jacksonville last fall upon his return from overseas duty in Europe. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and has had several years' experience as a commissioned officer.

Major Rasmussen also saw service in China and India during the last war.

This summer, he took part in the annual ROTC training camp at Fort Bragg, N. C., which was also attended by students from the JSC unit.

men will be actually excused from classes by roster to fire on the 22 Caliber Rifle Range. Inter-collegiate competition is being arranged, as well as awards for the best marksmen.

Award Sponsors

The Military Department has seen fit to obtain sponsors of several awards, such as loving cups, watches, medals, etc., for those students who show outstanding leadership qualities, high military scholastic ability and general all-round military aptitude. These awards will be sponsored by the American Legion posts in Northeast Alabama, and certain individual awards will be given. All of these should inspire keen competition.

For the Battery displaying the most competitive drill and military spirit, a drill streamer will be awarded at the end of the Winter and Spring quarters. In addition, individual drill awards will be given to members of the winning battery.

ASSISTANT

Captain Edward Richardson

Captain Richardson is beginning his assignment at Jacksonville, following tours at Fort Bragg, N. C., and Fort Jackson, S. C. He served overseas for 42 months with the 767th Field Artillery Battalion. He attended the Battery Officers Course at Fort Sill, Okla., in 1942; the Officers' Advanced Course in 1943; and the Mines and Demolition School at Camp Swift, Texas. Captain Richardson has been a commissioned officer for the past ten years.

He is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines.

school year the new Fighting Gamecock shoulder patch will be available, as well as a distinctive insignia for the shoulder loop of the uniform.

Girl Sponsors

Each Battery in the first month of school will be given the opportunity to select a girl sponsor, who, after being selected will be furnished a special women's ROTC uniform, to be supplied by the school.

It is further anticipated that several dances will be sponsored by the unit, as well as making the Military Ball one of THE dances of the year.

A drill squad will be realized as soon as possible. Once started, the unit at Jacksonville will make application for membership to the National Honor Society, "The Pershing Rifles". It is hoped that this drill squad will prove interesting and will also provide a color guard to march at the various football games and other ceremonies.

A LUMNI NOTES

On August 26 at the First Methodist Church in Jacksonville, Nancy Harper and Herschel P. Bentley, Jr., of Gadsden, were married. Taking part in the wedding were Charlotte Claypool, Jane Self, Eva Parton of Ohatchee, Judy Law, and Carolyn Ingram—all students at the college.

Nancy is teaching again this year in Gadsden, and Herschel will enter the Alabama Medical School in Birmingham and commute to Gadsden on week-ends.

FORD-LESTER

Martha Anne Lester and Roy Ford, Jr., of Anniston were married on Sept. 10. Their attendants included former classmates: Charlotte Claypool, Francis Striplin Mallicoat, John Christy and Bernard Hammett. Other attendants were Cherie Lester, Carolyn Lowery, Carolyn Gidley Allison, Richard Hearn, Charles Rice, Luke Rushton and John Ford.

Martha and Roy will live in Anniston at 1221 Thomas Ave.

L.T. KERMIT YOUNG

LEADS KOREAN ATTACK

According to a news release, Lieut. Kermit Young, an alumnus, recently led his company in an attack on the North Koreans, after his captain had been killed.

Kermit was a student here before and after World War II, and was elected president of the Student Government Association. He did not serve, however, because he recided to return to the Army as a commissioned officer.

The news' release said the men had been under attack for six days and nights fighting a wild battle as close quarters at Mount Sobruk. Sobruk is 15 miles west of Masan, and dominates a whole valley which leads toward Masan, chief western defense point for Pusan, the U. S. main supply port.

According to Stan Swinton, AP correspondent: "They were magnificent, magnificent. That company has been under sniper machine gun and motor fire 24 hours a day for six days. They hung on by their toe-nails and drove the Communists back".

The Reds filtered in through the darkness, a whole battalion of them.

"I opened my eyes and there was a gook staring at me. I threw a hand grenade and got him. The gooks got right to our fox-holes", said Pvt. Fredrick Worley.

With two platoons separated by the enemy, the company drew back on one hump of the mountain and counter-attacked. Their captain, leading them, saw figures in a former American foxhole and raised his rifle.

Somebody yelled in English: "We are GI's". The captain didn't fire. Then the man in the fox-hole killed the captain. It was a gook who spoke English.

Lieut. Kermit Young of Arab, "a gallant officer", in the worlds of his battalion commander, took over the company. They drove the North Koreans out down off Sobruk.

The price was heavy. Aid men with South Korean volunteers carried the casualties down the mountain on stretchers.

MARTIN-McCONATHA

Jean McConatha and John Martin were married in August. John had just completed work on his master's degree at the University.

They are living in one of the Anders' cottages, and both are teaching in the Alexandria High School.

Miss Carolyn Ingram and Miss Gwendolyn Anders will teach in Gadsden this winter and both will stay in the Acker home on Turrentine Avenue. Carolyn is teaching in Disque Junior High where Nancy Harper Bentley also teaches. Gwendolyn will teach at the University Center again.

Verna Williams Welch of the Williams community is also teaching in the Disque High School.

Calculus Or Korea

The Korean War is not the thing we wanted at this particular time. Many fellows who had not lost the war halitosis have had to return to the land of jet planes and atom bombs. Many faces that were familiar to this campus will not be seen this year, and many which we may get a glimpse of now will be gone possibly during the school year. It is a situation we did not ask for, but one which we cannot ignore. Something has to be done and America is the only nation which is financially able to provide men and equipment of any great amount.

This is not our war, but if we don't make it our war, there will be peace for no one at no time. We have to fight BUT, it is not wise for a man to quit school to go to war. There is a vast resource of male population without YOU. Think twice before you give up your books. It may not be the best thing for you to do after all. Naturally you want to help. You were born with a peculiar sense of patriotism, and it is your duty to help your country; but can you help it only by going to Korea? Until you are drastically needed, isn't it more important that you equip yourself with an education that will help you if peace should come during your college career, or help you to a better soldier should you have to go later?

The situation isn't so desperate now that the men who are studying to be better citizens—better citizens because they are preparing themselves to be useful citizens through their education—have to chuck their plans and take up their khaki coats and head for Eastern shores.

We have no liking for men who would go to school merely to get out of war, but neither have we a liking for a man who thinks so little of the importance of education, particularly his own education, that he would give it up at a moment's notice (Moment being Uncle Sam). Stay in school until the demand for YOU is stressed. You'd be surprised how good a war you can fight from a textbook.

Ground was broken Wednesday for the education building of the First Presbyterian Church. The architect's drawing of the building is shown above. The contract calls for an expenditure of $36,000. It is being financed jointly by the Synod's Student Fund and partly by the local congregation.

The building is designed to promote better facilities for ministering to college students, and it will be available for student use at all times.

The building will have twelve rooms and will joined to the church by a cloister.

FRIDAY A BIG DAY FOR JOHNNY WILLIAMS

Friday will be just another day for two practice sessions with calisthenics, hard scrimmage and wind sprints for most of Jacksonville State College's Gamecocks, but not so for John Williams of Gadsden, who has done a bang-up job holding down the fullback slot for the past three seasons. After practice he will hurry off to Talladega, where an important event will take place. At 6:30 p. m., he will be married at Trinity Methodist Church to Miss Averill Parsons, who is also a student.

John came to Jacksonville in 1947 and established himself as one of its football greats by sparking the offense on the undefeated team and becoming the season's leading ground-gainer among small colleges. He is also active along other lines on the campus. After having received various scholastic and other honors, he, in his senior year becomes president of the Student Council, president of the Physical Education Club, and treasurer of Kappa Phi Kappa, scholastic fraternity.

Recreation Center Is Bought By Legion Post From City of Jax

The Richard F. Waters Post of the American Legion has bought the Recreation Center building, it was announced this week. The property was owned by the City of Jacksonville, having been purchased after World War II from the U. S. government.

The Legion officers announced that they paid the City $6,000 for the property, and in the event they should dispose of it later, it will be offered back to the City first.

The building was erected by the government during World War II to serve as a place of recreation for service men at nearby Fort McClellan. It was estimated that the building cost $75,000. It was sold to the City for $7500.00.

Members of the Legion plan to improve the building. It is in need of repair and paint on the outside, as well as in parts of the interior. They also plan to keep it open for the use of the public.

The snack-bar concession will be in charge of Everett Daily and Earle Greenwood, who have operated it for the past year. They have painted the interior of the lounge and snackbar, and have put all the electrical equipment into operation. They have also kept the place open, when it would otherwise have been closed.

The Legion expects to cooperate with the citizens of the town and the various organizations in maintaining a wholesome place of recreation for the community.

Prize Offered for Name

The Legion post is offering a prize of $5.00 for the best name submitted for the new recreation building. A box will be placed at the Center for entries. Judges will be appointed to select the prize-winning name.

JSC MUSIC GRADUATES ALL EMPLOYED

All music graduates from Jacksonville State College have begun their duties in the various schools, according to Walter A. Mason, head of the Department of Fine Arts. This department was set up at Jacksonville four years ago, and the first graduates completed their courses in June and August of this year. Mr. Mason stated that the demand for music teachers has increased, and that he could have placed twice as many more.

The graduates and the schools in which they are teaching are as follows: Jack Connell, Gadsden, supervisor of music at Maryville, Tenn.; Kathleen Dickey, Centre, supervisor of music in Cherokee County; Adies Holliday, Attalla, band director at Oneonta; Linda Trotter Cain, elementary music teacher at Princeville; Harry Howell, instrumental music, Talladega City Schools; Jean Adams, piano teacher in Albertville.

Frank Jones, Albertville, assistant at Jacksonville State College; Orris Lee, Attalla, supervisor of music, Piedmont High School; Billy Reagon, Gadsden, band director, Crossville High School; Hugh Selman, Rome, Ga., supervisor of music, Spring Creek, Ga.; James Simpson, Jr., instrumental music, Anniston City Schools; Ina Jo Varnell, Piedmont, supervisor of elementary music, St. Augustine, Fla.; John Paul Whitt, band director, Gordo High School; Julian Stephens, Anniston, who was to have directed bands in the Alexandria and Ohatchee schools, was called to the army; Eugene Holley, Anniston, is band director at Oxford High School.

Joy Cunningham, Collinsville, will remain at JSC as assistant librarian; Eddsel Hand, Gadsden, is doing graduate study at Peabody College; Ivey Hutto, Oxford, will also do graduate study.

relatives; Dr. Spencer Frary made a trip to Cleveland, Ohio, and Winter Park, Fla.; Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Mock visited in North Carolina.

Miss Fanny Bush went sight-seeing in North Carolina and Virginia; Coach and Mrs. Don Salls spent a week on the Gulf after their return from a summer's study in New York; Mr. and Mrs. Arved Larsen spent their vacation in Washington, N. J., and Paducah, Ky.

Mrs. W. C. Sargent will return to her duties as manager of the College Book Store. She was away during the spring and summer quarters while undergoing operations and treatment on one of her eyes. Her assistant, John Kent, graduated in August.

There are several new teachers in the laboratory schools. Miss Una Hamric is filling the place left vacant by Miss Louise Bullock. Mrs. J. W. Caldwell (Jeanette Roper) is teaching second grade. She received her degree here some years ago, and has been teaching in the Anniston schools.

Miss Alta Millican has returned to the high school as supervisor after spending a year teaching in Japan. Miss Mildred Clower of Tallassee is the new physical ed teacher for girls in the high school; Clyde Roberson, a senior music major, will be band director; and Frank Jones, an instructor in the music department, will direct the glee clubs. Mrs. Elliott Leyden has succeeded Mrs. Lance J. Hendrix as lunchroom manager.

There are probably other members of the faculty who have had interesting trips this summer of which The Teacola has not been informed. If so, they will be mentioned later.

Miss Maude Luttrell is still excited over her recent trip to California. She returned home Sunday afternoon, having flown from San Diego to Birmingham on Saturday. It was her first flight—but not her last, she says.

Miss Luttrell drove to California with Miss Louise Bullock. Mrs. J. H. Jones accompanied them as far as Albuquerque. They stopped at all the places of interest enroute.

When they reached San Diego, Miss Luttrell spent the week-end at the home of Miss Bullock's sister before going to the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Kidwell.

Frank Jones had an unfortunate experience as a result of his heroic rescue of his parents from drowning at Jacksonville Beach last month. Frank, who will teach voice at the college and direct the glee clubs at Jacksonville High School, has lost his voice.

the elder Mr. and Mrs. Jones were carried out into a rough surf with a strong undertow. Frank swam to his father and pulled him shoreward. Then he noticed that his mother was trapped in the same current. He called for help, but the regular beach patrol had not come on duty, so none was available. He hurriedly pulled his father to the beach and swam out and rescued his mother.

He called so loudly for help in between his trips to the shore that he strained his vocal chords. He has been receiving treatment and hopes to be back to normal soon.

When the Jacksonville High School opened last week and Mrs. Elliott Leyden assumed management of the lunchroom, the absence of Mrs. L. J. Hendrix was very noticeable to those who have been associated with the Jacksonville schools for many years.

This is the first time since the 1920's when Mrs. Hendrix was not in charge of some dining room in the college or high school. She came to Jacksonville as Miss Edna Neighbors to be dietitian for the college, Dr. C. W. Dugette, the late college president, met Mrs. Hendrix when he was at Battle Creek, Mich. He was so favorably impressed with her that he employed her to work for the college.

She carried on her work in many different locations on the campus, finally ending up in Hammond Hall, the modern new cafeteria on the new campus. When the new high school building was completed, she was transferred to the lunchroom at her request. This summer she decided to rest for a while, and Mrs. Elliott Leyden was employed to succeed her. Mrs. Leyden will be assisted by Mrs. Royce Hicks of Four Mile.

Mrs. Hendrix has not deserted Jacksonville, however. She will maintain an apartment here so that she can spend a part of her time with her friends of many years. She will be missed at the college and high school where she is noted for the delicious food she always turned out for students and faculty.

A man was filling out an application blank and came to the question: "Have you ever been arrested?" His answer was "No".

The next question intended for those who answered yes, was "Why?" Nevertheless the applicant answered it with "Never got caught."

MUSIC TEACHER

Miss Olive Barnes

Miss Barnes came to the campus in June of this year as teacher of piano and organ. She is an artist of unusual ability, and has impressed all who have heard her play very favorably. She is a graduate of Alabama College, and has a master's degree from Columbia University. She studied organ at the Union Theological Seminary.

OPAL R. LOVETT

Opal R. Lovett has returned to Jacksonville as an instructor in visual-education after three years of practical experience with the Jasper Mountain Eagle's photography department. He received his degree here three years ago. During his college attendance, he served as college photographer.

His wife, the former Opal Adair, is also a graduate of the college. They have a small daughter—also named Opal.

COACH DON SALLS

Coach Salls is the power behind those Jax Gamecocks who have made a name for themselves during the past two seasons. He was a star on the Crimson Tide while a student at the University of Alabama.

Gamecocks Holding Two Practices Daily First Game Oct. 7

The Gamecocks are slated to continue their "two a day" work out schedule again this week as registration on Solomon's Hill does not begin until Monday. The practice field has begun to be spotted with more and more lookers-on indicating that football is in the air again. Street corner gossip has already started as to the success or failure of this year's aggregation. Coach Don Salls does not appear to be too optimistic over this year's prospects as injuries are already taking their toll.

Probably the worst blow dealt the Gamecocks was the departure of Jackie Wood, a right half-back of Heflin, who left this week. Jackie would no doubt have seen plenty of varsity service as a year showed some of his same form by blocking punts and spilling backs behind their own line. However, Wesley will be called upon this year to do a great deal of offensive playing. Whit Wyatt of Munford is doing a bang-up job holding down the other tackle post and will also be called upon to see both offensive and defensive service.

Billy Hudson of Guntersville and Jim Collins of White Plains, N. Y., two veteran lettermen, are showing up nicely at guard. However, Frank Adams, a 170-pound freshman from Handley High in Roanoke has been in the lime-light defensively for the past few days. He has consistently broken up plays and has generally been a thorn in the side of the offense.

This week scrimmage sessions saw two reserve ends from the 1949 squad making spirited bids for recognition. They are Ray Horne, a 170-pounder from Columbus, Ga., and Toliver Woodard of Haleyville, who tips the scales at 175. Both of these boys have given good accounts of themselves and expect to see ac-not appear to be too optimistic over this year's prospects as injuries are already taking their toll.

Probably the worst blow dealt the Gamecocks was the departure of Jackie Wood, a right half-back of Heflin, who left this week. Jackie would no doubt have seen plenty of varsity service as a freshman. The only other freshman to accomplish this at Jacksonville was John Williams, who held down the No. 1 fullback slot three weeks after he reported in 1947. Adding more grief to the right half-backs slot was the departure of "Boom-Boom" Mathis of Gadsden, who was looking very impressive in practice.

The injury jinx was not content to leave the already weakened right halfback post as it was, but reared its ugly head and also took in Harry West of Besmer who suffered a broken leg. During the past week Harry has shown even better form than he did in spring training and was counted on to push veteran Earl Roberts for the starting berth.

In addition to West, Hugh O'Shields, left halfback of Dawson, injured the knee that played him all through the 1949 season. O'Shields, a letter man of two years was going great and was showing that he intended to see a lot of action this fall, but is now definitely on the sideline for the rest of the season.

James Lee, of Winfield, also a letter man of two seasons has been forced to remain idle on account of a pulled ligament.

In spite of the injuries, Coach Wedgeworth sent the line through lengthy drills on blocking and tackling and rough work while Coach Salls has been placing emphasis on pass defense, passing and timing of plays. Although comparatively well pleased with most of the performances shown thus far, Salls stated that his charges are a long way from opening game form.

Football Team in the Making

Rounding out two weeks of "daily-double" workouts, the JSC Gamecocks held their most strenuous scrimmage on Wednesday. Afterwards, Coach Salls stated that some of the fog seems to be lifting and that he sees a football team in the making. Just how good this year's aggregation will be, however, depends on how well the newcomers can whip themselves into shape to meet the pressing problems of reserves in depth. Salls also stated that the returning lettermen were conditioned to their last season's weight, but were going to require a lot of work to get back their wind and general physical stamina.

This week scrimmage sessions saw two reserve ends from the 1949 squad making spirited bids for recognition. They are Ray Horne, a 170-pounder from Columbus, Ga., and Toliver Woodard of Haleyville, who tips the scales at 175. Both of these boys have given good accounts of themselves, and expect to see action this fall.

In the backfield, Mickey Washburn, the Dadeville flash, has not lost his knack for passing. Salls has experimented with several different units in an effort to find the most effective combination, but has made no statement as to which he plans to throw against Maryville. He has made favorable comment, however, concerning John Krochina, 190-lb. left half from Amsterdam, N. Y., and John Williams, veteran fullback from Gadsden. Thomas Poe, former Woodlawn High School star, also comes in for his share of the praise as a defensive back.

Neither Salls nor Wedgeworth will make any flat prediction about the squad at this time, but warn local fans not to look for anything spectacular in this year's squad, the lightest, youngest, and least experienced in years faces Maryville, Tampa, and Troy in the first three games, which would be rough going for any squad.

Schedule of Games

The Gamecocks will open their season on September 31 when they play Maryville College Maryville, Tenn. Four games will be played at home: University of Tampa on October 7, Troy State College, October 14 (Homecoming), St. Bernard, October 19; South Georgia College, Nov. 4; open date, Nov. 11. Games away from home, in addition to the Maryville game: Austin Peay, Clarksville, Tenn., Oct. 28; Florence STC, Florence, Nov. 18; Howard College, Birmingham, Nov. 22.

First Game of Season To Be Played Sept. 22 By JHS & Crossville

The first game of the football season to be played locally will be between the Jacksonville and Crossville High Schools on Friday night, September 22, in the College Bowl.

Tickets are now on sale at the high school office, the Community Center, and Crow Drug Co.
