GAMECOCKS PLAYED LAST GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

By Betty Vickery

The Senior Class of J. S. T. C. is sponsoring a Winter Carnival on Monday night, Feb. 25, 7:30 p.m. in the college gym. There will be a free one-show presented, by the International House Program. Don't fail to see the Calcut dance by Ben, Mens, and Miller's—the Apache dance by Rose Hufston and Katherine Cooper. Hear the beautiful foreign songs sung by the students of the International House Program. Highlight of the Carnival will be the crowning of the Queen of the Carnival. There will be cake walks, bingo, fortune-tellers, fish ponds and many other games. Many grand prizes will be awarded. Following the Carnival there will be a dance sponsored by the Junior class. No admission will be charged.

Some lucky persons will win each of the following prizes for the small sum of ten cents (10c) at the "Winter Carnival" to be given by the Senior Class on Feb. 25, in the college gym. The Senior Class wishes to express its most sincere appreciation to the merchants who so generously contributed.

The contributions and prizes are as follows:

New Young's Service Station and Drive-In, 5-cents oil change and 5-gallons of gas; Grog's Inn, Bar-U-Q, shoulder; Park's, 25-bag of candy; Cieslerfield Campus Representative, Park's Corned Beef Chases; Grog's Inn, 25-dollars; Jacksonville Hardware and Supply Co., Ash Troy; Ferrell's Jewelry, Eunice Lighter.

Pryor's Shoe Shop, Pair of shoes, Jacksonville Cigars, 2-30 days; Auto-Low, $3 on set of seat covers; Frankie Shoppe, 2 qts. of ice cream; Holden, Auto Parts, City Training Center, Cowan, Comics; Prichard's, Food of Candy; City Training Center, Candy; A. G. MacIntosh, Candy; B. S. F. Factory, Candy; C. H. Rice's, Candy; B. L.

The Jacksonville State College Gamecocks played their last basketball game of the season Friday night in the college gym. Their opponents were Howard College. The Gamecocks have won 15 and lost six under the coaching of Ray Wedgeworth. Members of the squad shown above: back row: left to right: Jack Rose, Lloyd Rainey, Shag Richer, Vivian Ward, Dub Hoover, and Radney Gore; front row: Aubrey Brooks, Jr. P. Whorton, Max Boudoin, P. B. Brooks and Wilford Coan. John Krochins was not present when the picture was made. Whorton and Rainey, both seniors, played their last game of college basketball. The Jax-Howard game ended 75-53 in favor of the Gamecocks.

GAMECOCKS PLAYED LAST GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

The Jacksonville State College Gamecocks played their last basketball game of the season in a Friday night game, and in winning it they did something they haven't done in a long time—beat Howard College.

The Gamecocks came from six points behind at the end of the first quarter to wallop the Bulldogs 75-53.

Howard looked good only in the first quarter. They scored six points before Jacksonville broke the ice, and at the end of the quarter it was 19-14 favoring the Bulldogs.

But Cohen, Richer and Company began hitting the second quarter, scoring 28 points that frame to only 14 for Howard to take a halftime lead.

Midford Cohen was high for the winners with 21 points, with Jack Rose getting 17.

JSC Rips Livingston 75-54

Jacksonville State Teachers College defeated Livingston's Teachers, 75-54, here. It was the hosts' second victory over Livingston this season.

Jacksonville led most of the way to its Slim Smith. The Gamecocks were leading 19-14 at the end of the first 10-minute period but stretched their lead to 50-13 at the halftime break.

Livingston closed it in the third quarter, putting Jacksonville's score up to 22 points, 71-49. The Gamecocks then pulled away with a final margin of 14 points.

Shag Richer and Lloyd Rainey both hit in the 20's to lead the Jacksonville quintet's scoring. Richer collected 26 points on eight field goals and eight free throws. Rainey got 21 on eight two-pointers and five free throws.

Sam Mitchell was the night's high scorer with 26 points. He accumulated for 14 field goals and four free throws. Junior Livingstone played in the game and played more than 30 minutes.

Valentine Motif Is Featured In "Frolic"

Hearts danced on the walls and swayed in mid-air at the annual Freshman Frolic on Feb. 12 at Jacksonville State College. The college gym was transformed into a Valentine array by the Freshmen. Huge glittering hearts were suspended from the rafters and miniature hearts labeled with each couple's names formed clever patterns on the walls.

The Freshman Class officers and class favorites performed the lead-out with Charles Pettry, class president, and his date, Mary Gilliam, climaxing the lead-out by breaking through a large cellulose heart. The class officers and favorites participating in the lead-out were: Jo Ann Porter, vice president, escorted by Tommy Phillips; Eileen McGraw, secretary, escorted by Ray Campbell; Jack Young, treasurer, and his date, Roberta Wright; Nancy Hill, class favorite, escorted by Steve Taylor; and Delores Eubanks.

JUNIOR CLASS TO SPONSOR TALENT SHOW

The Juniors are making plans to sponsor a talent show to be held Wednesday, February 27, at 7 o'clock in the Leone Coliseum Auditorium. Any one may be represented in the talent show.
quare Dance Institute A Success

The Squan decided to hold a square dance institute to promote interest in square dancing. The institute was held at the Squan Hotel in downtown Tallahassee during the month of February. It featured classes in square dancing for all skill levels, as well as social dancing sessions and a square dance competition. The institute was open to the public and attracted a diverse group of participants, including both beginners and experienced dancers.

The weekend concluded with a square dance competition featuring various dance teams from around the region. The event was well-attended and helped to raise awareness about the benefits of square dancing, including improved physical fitness, social interaction, and mental well-being. The institute was considered a success in promoting square dancing and fostering community engagement.

Our subject for the spotlight this time is none other then Jack H. Tucker, who comes to us here at Jacksonville from Pell City, Alabama. He graduated there in 1943 and his main interest at the time was basketball. After graduation, Jack went into the Navy and remained there until 1946. His next three years were spent while working as a seaman in Birmingham. Then Jack came to Jacksonville in 1949.

In deciding what course to major in, Jack chose business administration and is working for a B. S. degree in that field. He is also a cadet major in capacity of executive officer in ROTC. A member of the Big Board and Blade, a first lieutenant, and operations officer in the Civil Air Patrol.

After attending his various classes every day, Jack goes to work at 2:30 p.m. and works until 12:00. His job there is supervisor of the traffic branch of transportation.

When asked what the most important thing that has happened to him here at J. S. T. C., Jack immediately replied, “Getting married last summer!” He is married, as we all know, to Carolyn Summerville. Jack did say, however, that he has enjoyed the friendliness of the student body here.

In his spare time (?), Jack likes to eat the delicious rice puddings which Carolyn makes and he also enjoys reading “Life” magazine (lots of pictures, he said). His favorite color is red—the color of his wife’s hair!

QUESTION: How would you like for the Senor to have a name band for the Senior Ball?

Mary Wein— I think it would be good if they knew in advance they can pay for it. Are they planning to have one because it’s their last dance.

Dodie Lasseter— I’d love it. Is it going to be Ralph Flannigan?

Jane Davis— I wish they didn’t have to wear them because I don’t know.

Mary Sharp— I guess they will.

June Tuggle— I think it’d be real nice if they’d get those off.

Fay Brown— N. C. (no comment).

Joe McCloskey— I like it because if you ever get it started on a sound basis it will set a precedent for every year.

Lloyd Mims— It would be a wonderful change.

Jack Bailey— If they can’t get anybody else, my band will do it.

Wilbur Shaw— I think it’s a wonderful idea. I think that the more did before they have it.

Alice Williams— If I had a real good-looking date, I’d do it.

Jack Abbott— I think it if any girl has the senior band should.

Ross Smith— I just don’t have an opinion.

Therma Parker— Any kind of band would do if they would put the boy’s name on.

Betty Sue— What kind of name?

Buck Stone— If they can afford it, and the school would back it.

Rita Sue— O. K., if they can afford it.

John— If they have a name like Spike Jones they can get one.

E. Sutherland— Any good band will do.

Byrd Tucker— Mama won’t let me dance.

Pat Kenner— I can’t be there.

Morrison— Leg-band or arm-band.

Fads ‘N’ Fashions

It is the year 2010. I turn to the moulded pages of an old scrapbook... a paper heart... a rose... a bid... "Freshman Frolic..."

Ah, what a life was mine then! Instead of the dull gray and black that I am now surrounded by in this old maid’s home, there were whirliging skirts, sparkling, dangling earrings, golden slippers, and swanky tuxedos. I remember how Marlene Coffin carried out the Valentino spirit in her red taffeta, top and full white skirt... Helen Thompson looked like a dainty China doll in her lemon-colored balerina length dress. Layer after layer of ruffles with a satin ribbon overlapping each.

Her satin, lemon-colored shoes were a perfect match... Blue rosebuds embedded in a blue skirt of net gave the effect that Peggy Thornton was floating on a baby blue cloud. (And we don’t doubt that she was.)

Ruth Simmons, in a white satin bodice with sequins lining the top of the full net skirt, did a good job as usual in the "Dago Stomp."" Shag," and "Savoy," which were popular steps back in the good old days.

Betty Vickers carried out the shades that were such a rage back in ’29. Purple and lavender. A velvet-topped purple and a balance skirt of lavender.

Of course, red was in the majority and the dresses that topped the list were those of Nancy Brown and Doris Lee Prater.

were an inspiration not only to his own people, but all the world.

He was never in good health, but he carried on in the best tradition. As a king and as a man, George VI measured up.

Now for the first time since the death of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, England has a queen, and I am certain that Elizabeth will, as her father did, measure up.

While my personal association with Her Majesty has been very slight and on a most formal basis, I was impressed by her poise, dignity and her conscientiousness in the performance of her public duties. The noble ideas she has put forward in her speeches and broadcasts, have won her world-wide respect and admiration. In the British Commonwealth, she is loved not only for the high qualities which so well became her as Heiress Presumptive, but for herself, in her own person, with an affection that transcends all party and political differences.

Her love-match and happy marriage sent a gleam of hope across a sad and disillusioned world. Men and women of many creeds and in many lands rejoice that the destiny of the British Crown should be in the hands of one who has so clearly shown herself worthy in every way of the high standards and selfless traditions that adorn the Throne.

When, on her twenty-first birthday she made a dedication of her life to the service of her people, she called on them to join her in her resolution, and her clear young voice, heard in all the capitals of the Empire as she spoke from Cape Town, tied another of those tenuous, steel-strong, impalpable bonds which hold Britain and her sister nations so closely together.

Yesterday, the Empire centered around the person of His Majesty, the King. Today, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II has taken his place, and her whole life forms an omen of good for the Empire's tomorrow.

America, with its close ties with Britain, wishes her well in the trying years ahead, and we join the anthem in saying prayerfully, hopefully:

God Save The Queen!

POLITICAL TID-BITS

The presidential situation seems to be brewing better than ever. The Republicans have two leading candidates for the Republican nomination in Sen. Taft and General Eisenhower. Senator Taft appears to be ahead in the running with the General a close second. Sen. Aiken (Republican, Vermont) said the General was a dead duck if he didn't start fighting.

The senator stressed that "Ike" must come home and start the campaign if he didn't want his promoters left out on a limb.

The Democrats are still short of a sure-fire nomination. The list of hopefuls still includes Truman, Vinson, and Reed. The party leaders hope that Stalin has starved measure to the point where he would relinquish peace. Vinson is expected to remain in the race with the Supreme Court unless the president can locate a better job for him. The only one left is the president's office.

The Midwestern Democrats want another Truman-Barkley ticket. Truman to get up before breakfast to run the country. Barkley to get up after dinner to make excuses.

cause if you ever get it started on course it will set a precedent for every year.

Lloyd Mims — It would be a wonderful change.

Jack Bailey — If they can't get anybody else, my band will do the job.

Wilton Shaw — I think it's a very good idea — it'll bring out the school spirit.

Max — Think somebody ought to have one — it has been so long since they have.

Vivian Ward — I think they ought to have dances cause it keeps me awake till after midnight.

Dot Davis — If it doesn't cost too much money, O.K.

Rayford Boozer — If they play fast jazz music, I want it.

John Hyde — I think they should have more funds than the sopho-

Elsie Walden — It's all right.

This is democracy and the band should be able to do what they want to.

R. O. T. C. SPONSORS

SECOND DANCE

By Austin Gay

The R. O. T. C. department sponsored its second dance of the current school year on Jan. 31. Preceding the dance, a banquet was given in the dining room of the school auditorium. About seventy-five couples enjoyed dancing to the music of the R. O. T. C. band.

With two successful dances behind them the Military Department will sponsor the Annual Military Ball during the Spring Quarter.

In the past this dance had been one of the better dances given at this institution, and we feel that this year will be no exception.

THE IDEAL GIRL

By Sandy Sutherland

Dear Reader:

The young ladies of Dauguate Hall have selected the best features and characteristics of the men on the campus and put them together to form the ideal man.

We have taken a poll of a cross section of the male students on the campus to find the ideal woman, and here she is:

We will take the hair of Nancy Blackburn, eyes of Betty Cole, complexion of Freda Falman, smile of Rosalea Goett, figure of Nancy Blackburn, figure of Sara Lee Miller, clothes of Isabella Russell, personality of Ruth Simmons, dancing ability of Shirley Chiao, and present to you our opinion of Jacqueline's Ideal Woman.

This model is entirely too large to be supposed of feminine origin, the suggestive things were removed.

Room 221, the orchid room, is famous for its horticultural displays. The most recent remodeling is found in the room with the red-striped walls.

And so it goes, as Dauguate becomes increasingly more modern and attractive, leading the way in campus fads and fashions.

Mrs. E. Warbuton, of London, England

MRS. E. WARBURTON OF LONDON, ENGLAND

Mrs. E. Warburton of London, England, who is visiting relatives in the United States, is attending classes at Jackson State College Monday morning in The Graves Hall Chapel. She was introduced by Miss Minnie Littlefield, a graduate student in education. Seated on the platform were Dr. W. J. Calvert, head of the English department, Dr. H. P. Feigl, head of the history department, and Mrs. Robert Brown, wife, Warburton's sister.

Mrs. Warburton, the former Mary Elizabeth Thomson, 70, of The Hague, a week after the Atrocities Convention was signed in 1918 to work with the U.S. Intelligence Service. She met Mr. Warburton, a native Briton, whom she married. Since then she has lived in England, but finds frequent trips to the United States. Her two daughters have received a part of their education here.

Since she represented both the pro-British and the pro-American points of view, her remarks were especially interesting and well-balanced. She asked for friendship and understanding on the part of the British, whose actions are often questioned by the people of this country.

Mrs. Warburton pointed out that many Americans do not realize that Great Britain must consider the present economic situation in formulating her foreign policy. She must think of how her policies will affect the people of her country.

For instance, she said that the British have always had a great respect for the Chinese Communists, but they have a sympathy and understanding for the people of the United States. Her remark is open to question and she is trying to work with them. It is, however, a question as to whether or not the pacifist movement is being hindered by the problems which the people face.

She also emphasized that while Great Britain has been accused of exploiting the British Empire, which she has extended her former empire, she has been more of a blessing than a curse to the British Empire and that those countries have enjoyed their freedom from British rule. She would not have otherwise been possible.

The evening was filled with fun with faculty and students taking part. Two members of the faculty talked, and many asked questions when she had concluded.

Mrs. Warburton and Mrs. Brown were guests of the college at luncheon in the faculty dining room of Hammond Hall.

THOUGHTS AFTER MIDNIGHT...

Ernst Schwartz

Men are bizarre, I think. When I go back to the dormitory, they are always talking about women—where they see them, or how they see them. And by this I mean that men are interested in women, but they do not accept the exist of the idea that women are business women. They think of business and sometimes very much so, depending upon what age they happen to be.

Men are bisexual, even boys in love. One might ask if they really are, or just kids with a preference of love. There are certainly more men who are bisexual at the moment and it gets more and more exaggerated because of the fear of being gay. It's a matter of the fear of being gay, but it seems to be incapable of atonishment. One would say that they do everything by profession.

Life would be simple, but for love. When I look in the mirror, I see only one conqueror, and from time to time a lone person is being consumed. The other thing I see is another woman who is loving for laurels, who are scorned and live by profession. From time to time I can see on this night the fear of a married woman with eyes like a horse, and between them a great space filled with a sort of a bouquet of coarse and slow is not Nature.

MR. MRS. HARLAN MATTHEWS MAKING GOOD IN TENN.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Matthews (Betty Crockett) were surprised when they are conquered. And then there are those who are never in love, those who think that marriage is an old-fashioned thing. They make fun of it, both partners. He says that women think only of dresses that they expect to have. She says that men want only adventure, that they think only of beautiful legs.

And what about those who think of romance or make fun of it? Well, we are rather pitiful, like passengers on a night train with an unknown destination. Are women the conductors? What difference does it make? The men are traveling without purpose, the women by profession. The men continue the ride because it is too dangerous to get off while the train is in motion. And the poor women, they are never allowed to go anywhere.

The city is beautiful, but it seems to be incapable of atonishment. One would say that they do everything by profession.

Jodie Connell New Gamecock Captain

By Bob Finn

Jodie Connell, a young man who has been known as a "good but quite" means, is the new football captain of the University of South Carolina Gamecocks.

He was elected to that position, mainly because of his leadership on the football team. Jodie has been outstanding in the classroom as well as on the football field, and the student body was very pleased with his election.

Let us pray for the students of the whole world. For those who are persecuted for their faith.

For those who are living in constant fear.

For those who are suffering from hatred, fear, war, and the effects of war.

For those who are hungry and cold.

For those who are in despair at the collapse of false hopes...

According to the policy statement, their commissions in the spring of 1955 will be called into active service.

Despite his brilliant high school record, there still remained some doubts about Jodie's ability to play football. However, he proved himself to be a valuable asset to the team and helped lead them to victory.

WESLEY FOUNDATION NEWS REPORTED

The Wesley Foundation is continuing to have great speakers for their Sunday night programs. The special speaker for the night of January 31, Dr. William J. Conyer, gave an inspiring message on "The Great Things of Life." February 10, we were honored to have Dr. T. E. Montgomery speak to us about "A Tale of Two Cities." The Wesley Foundation, Valhalla party was held at the Methodist Church on February 14, Thursday night, February 14.

Fourteen Wesley Foundation members attended the State Methodist Movement Annual Conference at Huntingdon College, February 15-17. We are proud of our state campers: Jane Johnson, state secretary, and L. A. McConatha, state publicity chairman.

THE FACULTY MEMBERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Prof. Walter Mason and Prof. Howard Johnson, faculty members in the music department, are making plans to attend the Music Educators National Conference in Philadelphia from March 21-26.

This is of widespread interest to people in the field of music education everywhere, and should be of special interest to us here at Jacksonville, as Mr. Mason heads our music department, and Prof. Johnson, one of seven men, selected from all over the U. S., to serve on a national committee for music and classroom teachers. Now it is a challenge to play the organ in the chapel. It is very good that we have the organ, but it is not as good as it could be.
