Welcome, New And Old Students-

Miss Millican, New Girl's Counselor

Miss Alta Millican who began her duties as Girls' Counselor this fall is new to the job but not new to the campus. She has been director of New Hall for the past year, and for several years has been a supervisor in the Jacksonville High School, secondary laboratory school for the college.

This well-traveled counselor did not start out to be a counselor. She began her career as an elementary teacher in her hometown of Valley Head. Then she was offered a position at Ider, in Dekalb County, to teach in the senior high.

Then doing graduate work at the University of Alabama (she is an alumnae of Jacksonville State), she chose to minor in school administration and supervision. This included work in guidance—in studying the aptitudes, personal potentialities of students. Graduate student Millican lik-

Political Debate Set For JSC Oct. 2

One of the first events on the calendar of Jacksonville State College for this fall will be a political debate on Thursday evening, Oct. 2, in the Lenoir Auditorium. Congressman Albert H. Rains, Democrat from Alabama, and Congressman O. K. Armstrong, Republican from Missouri, will debate the issues of the presidential campaign.

People You'll Meet

Jacksonville State College began its seventy-first year on Sept. 22 when registration for the fall quarter began. Registration was held on Sept. 22-23, and classes begin Wednesday.

During the long summer and fall vacation, the buildings have received necessary repairs and improvements. An infirmary has been equipped in Daugette Hall, and Mrs. William Setkowicz has been employed as nurse. The new home management house for the home economics department has taken shape and will be completed early this fall.

A number of changes in personnel have been announced. Dr. Charles K. Cayley, professor of political science, has been appointed head of the social science division to succeed Dr. R. P. Falar, who retired. Mrs. Estelle McGowan has been promoted to assistant in the department of government.

The campus is always open to new students, and help is always gratefully accepted. If you would like to work on "The Ttaclea," just go in to see Mrs. Coffey, the adviser, in the dean's office, or the editor at Pannell Hall.

Many changes have been made in the college, and the student body is the happier for it. They'll need dancers, singers, actors, artists, writers, and everything when "play time" comes.

Jim's Jottings

Hi there!

Hope you have a minute to spare, you newcomers. Glad to have you with us. Guess you are all tangled up in registration regs, getting started in classes, etc. if you aren't now, you will be. We old'uns can sympathize with you; we've been through it many times before.

Wanted to let you all know about the campus; to help a little in getting into the swing of things. We want you to feel at home here, and, above all, to feel that you belong. There are many fine, constructive organizations which need your support and interest, and we thought you might like to know about a few of them.

You might be interested in the religious organizations which sponsor the Morning Watch and Vesper services in the Little Auditorium every day. Forget your troubles for a few minutes and join in singing some of the old familiar hymns.

The Masque and Wig Guild offers many rewarding experiences if you are interested in dramatics. Mr. Miles, the director, and Mr. Hunt, the producer, have not presented a flop yet. The Guild has even branched into that current popular medium, the theatre-in-the-round.

There will be tryouts for cheerleaders early this fall too. If you come to college, "The Tacklea" can always use fresh talent. Articles are always welcome, and help is always gratefully accepted. If you would like to work on "The Tacklea," just go in to see Mrs. Coffey, the adviser, in the dean's office, or the editor at Pannell Hall.

The college has become well known throughout Alabama for the productions presented by the music department. The biggest one yet is being planned for this fall, a musical play that is not too long off Broadway. If you enjoy music, you can come in and work with your classmates if you just like to sing. The college choir is the finest for you. They'll need dancers, singers, actors, artists, writers, and everything when "play time" comes.

7th Session Beginning Marked With Progress

O. K. ARMSTRONG

Congressman Rains is an alumnus of this college. He is a representative from the Fifth Congressional District. His is a member of several important committees in the House and is regarded as one of the outstanding members. He is in great demand as a speaker, having noted that his oratorical ability enables him to carry his ideas.

Dean's List for Summer Quarter

Dean C. B. Wood released the Dean's list for the summer quarter recently which will be of interest.

Students who made all A's or B's with no income from jobs; students who are entirely dependent on scholarship aid for their support; students who are in their last year of study and have completed all requirements for graduation; students who have maintained a grade-point average of 3.5 or better in all courses taken; and students who have achieved a grade-point average of 4.0 or better in all courses taken.

Nara being the capital of Japan, and nearby Kyoto, being the ancestral home of the Emperors, Miss Millican's interest in Japanese culture and history is evident. She is also known for her proficiency in Korean and Russian.

Students who were accepted into the summer study abroad program included:

- Yvonne C. Dwyer, junior from McMaster University, Hamilton, Canada.
- William T. Jackson, senior from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland.
- Andrew W. Curley, senior from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.
- Carol A. Renn, senior from the University of Illinois, Urbana.
- Robert F. Kellermayer, senior from the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana.
- Jason A. Smith, junior from the University of Virginia, Charlottesville.
- Emily J. Sullivan, junior from the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

The Emperors still go there for the coronation rather than to the capital city, Tokyo, which is the current capital city of Japan.

Last winter, President Howard spoke to the students about the significance of New Hall, a dormitory for girls.

ALBERT RAANS
Congressman Armstrong, a former newspaperman and staff writer for Reader's Digest, will be remembered as having taken part in the Town Meeting of the Air program which originated in Jacksonville in June, 1951. He was elected to Congress in 1959. During his spring of 1953 he visited Japan, Korea, and Formosa, and more recently returned from an extensive trip to Europe.

The debate is expected to be a lively one since both men are especially well suited for presenting the issues of the day.

Friends of Miss Dora Wood will be glad to know that she is improving and hoping to be able to return to her duties soon.

Division of Fine Arts, Walter A. Brown, head; James Duncan, head; John T. Finley, Miss Olive Barnes, Howard Hoyland, Mrs. Pat Burnham, music department; Miss Stella Hugger, Mrs. Dean Edwards, and Dudley Hunt, Jr., are department heads.

Meet Your President--

President Cole Celebrates 10th Anniversary As President

Jacksonville State College has three extension centers--Anniston, Piedmont and Talladega. The Anniston Center, directed by Dr. D. H. Wright, will begin its fourth year this week. Registration was held on Monday and Dr. Wright says that there is a new one proposed to open over the mountain to Iron City and on to the Oxford-Atlanta highway. The college will soon be in easy access to students in all directions. Although Dr. Cole speaks of his role in playing in clearing these roads, there can be certain public approval of his enthusiastic interest.

Jacksonville has gained international publicity with its unique International House. Under the directorship of Dr. James H. Jones, Dr. Cole has cooperated with this project, giving his usual insight and understanding. The music department, too, has blossomed into one of the best in the state. New tennis courts, a basketball court, a baseball diamond, a new stadium with complete press box facilities have been constructed. Jacksonville has attracted some of the finest athletes in the state.

The new home management house for the home economics department is going up beside the International House. Dr. Wright, Jacksonville College's head of the state department of H.E.A. will be a student at the University of Georgia. This is the beginning project for the coming year will be the construction of the science building. After that the addition to Pannell is planned.

Dr. Cole was correspondent for the Birmingham News when he was a student at the University of Alabama. He was sympathetic to this student reporter. He expressed the opinion of his many years in Jacksonville that the Jacksonville campus has been pleasant. It has been good for his personal growth and cooperation with the faculty. In addition to this, the people of the city of Jacksonville have been most cordial and helpful. If any progress has been made in this period, a great deal of credit must go to the fine people with whom it is my pleasure to be associated.

A rosebud for his buttonhole...

A brisk walk across the campus...

What Do You Expect Of College?

That's such a trite question. The usual answer: Exactly what you put into it. The next question that usually jumps into mind is: Well, what are you supposed to put in it?

The family says: "Now do good. Don't play around. Don't go out (or boy) crazy. Don't... Don't... Don't... They mean well, you know that, but there's another side to the story.

College is not all academic. Try to make friends. This, or any other campus can be a mighty dull place without someone to talk to. You can make friends and connections that will benefit you all your life long.

Some organizations. They need you and you need them. You'd be surprised how many employers will look in your record and say, "Well, he was a good student, but isn't he a good mixer? There aren't any outside activities listed. Doesn't he have any initiative?"

Dr. Cole says: "Why did you come to college? To catch a husband? To have a good time? To delay going to work a little longer? To learn something? To get an education?"

To get an education! Psychology says that an education is what can be learned that will help you get the fullest amount of living possible in any environment.

Enjoy these next four years, you freshmen. You have something pretty wonderful to remember all your life long. Work hard. Have some fun. Make some new friends. And build on the foundation you have already laid a good solid way of living.

Glad to have you with us!
Ode To September
Sweet is the voice that calls
From the babbling waterfalls
In meadows where the downy seeds are flying;
And soft the breezes blow,
And eddying corn goes
In faded gardens where the rose is dying.

Among the stubbed corn
The flitting quail pipes at morn,
The merry patridge drums in hidden places.
And glittering insects glean
Where busy spiders spin their filmy cases.

At eve, cool shadows fall
Across the garden wall,
And on the clustered grapes to purple turning;
And pearly vapors lie
Along the eastern sky,
Where the ebb tide harvest-moon is redly burning.

Ah, soon on field and hill
The wind shall whistle chill,
And patriarch swallows call their flocks together,
To fly from frost and snow,
And seek lands where now
The fairer blossoms of a balmy weather.
—George Arnold

Nothing Attempted, Nothing Done
Finding fault is a lazy man’s job; it’s easy to do. The galleries are overflowing with critics who come and go in search of new talent. They say there’s no such thing as a quick fix, but I believe in making mistakes because they attempt nothing. Down in the arena are the doers. They make mistakes because they attempt things. How do you think they got anywhere? Edison, Burbank, Ford, Marconi, and the Wright brothers probably have an all time tradition of the Ford. Forget to put a reverse gear in his automobile. Edison once spent two million dollars on an invention which failed. The gigantic creative experiments of these men in blazing new trails made mistakes inevitable. But who remembers the critics who laughed at them?

The man who makes no mistakes lacks boldness and the spirit of adventure. He is a brake on the wheels of progress. There are no thrills in his life; and there are no monuments to his memory. But should a friend of his achieve the goal over a road that was rocky and rutty, he is the one to boast—

"I knew him when..."—Alfred W. Brandt

Historical Background Of Jacksonville Is Interesting
In a recently published booklet by the Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville in commemoration of the semi-centennial of the John H. Porter Chapter of the Y. M. C. A., the information below was given about “Historic Jacksonville.” It will be of interest to those who are here for the first time.

Benton County, Alabama, was created December 18, 1823, after the successful conclusion of the Creek Indian War. Into this lovely country came with its soft somber hills, its virgin woodland, clear streams, and cool springs, the restless settlers from the Carolinas, Georgia, and elsewhere, many with their household goods and slaves. They bought their land, in many instances, from the Indians, who stubbornly remained until transported forcibly by General Thomas C. Hindman. The city of Jacksonville has been most cordial and helpful. If any progress has been made in this period, a great deal of credit must go to the fine people with whom it is my pleasure to be associated.

Where You Will Live And Attend Classes

Jacksonville Campus Boasts Beautiful Buildings, Setting

Jacksonville State College has one of the most beautiful campuses in the state, as you'll observe. The buildings, of English style architecture, are located in a hillside overlooking the town of Jacksonville, facing Chimney Peak, a foothill of the Allegheny Mountains. The buildings pictured on this page are those which you, as new students, will be living in attending classes in, and seeing for the next year or years.

The old campus on which Furman all is located, was the original scene of the college. Hamers Hall, which will soon be razed, was the first building to be erected. It was Colburn College, and was donated by the citizens of the town who raised the state-aggregated funds for the State Normal School, from which the Jacksonville State Teachers College evolved.

When the school outgrew its present site, the site of the present new campus was purchased, and by 1915 the buildings had been erected. Although the old campus is still in use, boys and girls who have been walking on those sidewalks for 11 years or more, and the town of Jacksonville hold sacred memories for many.

You will gradually lose the traditions and carry them on for the present and immediate future. That is an important part of college life.

HAMMOND HALL—named for the late J. D. Hammand who helped secure state appropriation for the old State Normal. Here you will have your meals.

THE LIBRARY—You will spend many hours reading, studying and browsing in this building. It is one of the best college libraries in the state.

PANNELL HALL—named for the late Dr. H. G. Pannell, an honored alumnus of this college. Pannell is a dormitory for men, located on the new campus. It is one of the most popular dormitories among the men students. Mrs. George C. Nish is the house mother.

LABORITE HALL—named for the late Dr. C. W. Danzell, who served as president of the college for 12 years. Danzell was the girls' dormitory, and was the first dormitory to be erected on the new campus. Mrs. John F. Rowan is the house mother.
LEONE COLE AUDITORIUM—(named for the late Leon E. Cole) the auditorium is one of the newer buildings on the campus. It is regarded as one of the most beautiful and artistic in the state, and is where you will be attending assemblies, lectures, plays, etc.

ROTC BUILDING—This is where all freshmen boys will be taking for classes in military science. Located on the old campus, this building was at one time the Jacksonville High School. The drill grounds are located nearby for ROTC students. Major James Fidgert is commanding officer.

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE—Here you will meet students from many foreign countries. This building was erected five years ago after the International House Program had been conceived of and instituted here by Dr. J. H. Jones. With the sympathetic support of President Cole and the generosity of world-minded citizens, funds for erecting the building were raised. It has had many notables to visit there during past years.

KOREAN VETS GIVEN
Advice By V. A.

Montgomery, Ala. — Veterans Administration this week told veterans how they can prevent unnecessary delay for education and training under the new Korean G. I. Bill.

First, said Harley A. Smith of the Alabama Regional Office of the VA, Alabama veterans should submit their completed applications for training to the Alabama Regional Office at 400 Lee St., Montgomery, and not to the VA's headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Smith said he had been notified that hundreds of applications had been going to Washington, that he had received mostly delays in response, and that the VA Central Office asked for all pertinent documents and copies of separation papers (Form DD 214) along with their applications for G. I. Training. VA must have the information contained in these papers for training.

Third, veterans can help VA help them, Smith said, in preventing unnecessary delays to include photostatic or certified copies of their separation papers with their applications for training. VA must have all information contained in these papers for training.

Fourth, VA can help veterans help themselves. VA will tell them, Smith said, that if they want to get all their papers in order they should complete: (1) Identification of the veteran, (2) Program of education or training, (3) Education and training received, (4) Education and training needed, (5) Experience.

Unless all necessary information is included in the veteran's application, VA can't take action on the veteran's application, Smith said.

Some old-fashioned mothers who can remember their husband's first kiss now have daughters who cannot remember their own first husbands.

VALENCIA HALL—(named for the late Dr. C. W. Valencia, who served as president of the college for 28 years) Valencia is the girls' dormitory, and was the first dormitory to be erected on the new campus. Mrs. John F. Rowan is the house mother.

ABERCOMBIE HALL—(named for the late Dr. John Abercombie, an alumnus of this college and one of the state's most noted educators) Abercombie is also a dormitory for men on the new campus. Mrs. Lucille Brancomb is the house mother.

JUST AN ORDEAL

A story that goes back for the up that cheers somewhat too much was finally cornered by his wife in a bar where he was dreamily contemplating a slug of rye. Being a genial man, he offered her a sip, but when she took it she gagged and sputtered, finally cupping out with, "How can you drink that horrible stuff?"

"See" said the husband, "all the while you thought I was having a good time!"

Meet The International Students--

Students From Eight Other Countries Arrive This Week

Jacksonville paints with pride its International House. The International House Program, begun about seven years ago, is now firmly established. Each year a new group of students from other countries arrives in the fall to spend nine months on the campus. They live, study, play with the American students, and build up friendships that are lasting—thus international good will is established.

Each year the number of students has increased, and this year will show the largest number of countries represented.

You may be interested to see this program in action to understand and appreciate it. But by the time this year is over, you will be as proud of it as everybody else in Jacksonville.

The new students this year are:

Hans Struth, Furtbrugg - Mainz, Germany, was given a scholarship by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Page Biss, 2940 Forest Glen, Birming- ham. Mr. and Mrs. Biss met him while visiting Europe last summer. The German student is 24 years old. He attended high school in the French city of Mainz. During World War II he served in the Russian Army. He is studying English and German at the University of Alabama and plans to major in political science.

Cesar Real, Mar de lava No. 10-7, Popolapa, D. F., Mexico, was selected by the Rev. Wesley Math- 119-2-11, Methodist missionary in Mexico, who wrote Dr. Jones that Cesar is a young Christian.Scholar as well as an outstanding scholar. He is 17 years old, an active member in the First Street Methodist Church in Mexico City. He graduated from Preparatory, and is a doctor. He ranked second in grades in his class. His mother is a widow with five children. Cesar is the youngest. Dr. Math-119-2-11, wrote of him:

"Comes from humble surrounding's, but he is a bright student and is very promising." He is studying English. Marianne Malandre, Besancon, France, is related by marriage to Margarette Pflieger, who was here in 1947-48. She has studied English, German and French. She also understands German. Marianne plans to major in political science. She is a member of the Protestant church, was a Girl Scout, plays the piano and does classical dances. She received the Bachelor's degree in 1950. Her father is a business man. Her mother is a business woman.

Mildred Fernandez, also of Ha- vana, Cuba, is beginning her sec- ond year here. Mimi is majoring in art and sculpture. She is a member of the Methodist youth groups, and is greatly beloved on the campus.

Benjamin Nodal, also of Ha- vana, Cuba, is a brother of Roque Nodal, who graduated here and taught in Oxford last year. He is majoring in Business Administration and is active in the Future Business Leaders of America. Incidentally, Benjamin is national champion in swimming. He is 24 years old. He attended high school in the Athenee Mohammed-Sthil, of Lausanne. He was discharged in 1918, returned to Mainz High School, and finished his studies there in 1948. Later he studied economics and law at Mainz University.

Elaine Amiot, Hatley (Que- bec), Canada. Elaine was selected to represent her country at Jacksonville by Dr. W. J. Perra- vo, director of Protestant Educa- tion in Canada. She is 20 years old. She attended Quebec High School in Quebec City, and Macdonald College, School for Teachers, and received a teaching license in 1943. She is studying English and French at the University of Alabama. She plans to major in psychology and education.

Francisco Cuicte, Viic (Liene), was discharged in 1918, returned to Mainz High School, and finished his studies there in 1948. Later he studied economics and law at Mainz University.

Yvonne and Roland de Goote are from Vietnam. Their father is a University professor there. They are very "international". Their parents are European, they were born in Europe, but have lived for a number of years in South America. Jacques Corvain is also beginning his second year here. He is Mimi's cousin, and took part in the program last year.

JOKES

A man stopped in at a jewelry shop to look at some sale watches advertised at a below cost price.

"If you're selling these at last night's cost, how do you make any profit at the mark-up?" he asked.

"Oh," replied the jeweler, "we make our profit repairing them."

"And if the profits are built in at a knock-down price, how do you make your profit on the mark-up?"

"Why, we make our profit repairing the case!" the jeweler replied.

According to the report of the State Superintendent of Education in 1910, the last before the War Between the States, the average attendance school term was six and a half months. However, several counties had nine months. In some townships the sixteenth section funds were sufficient to keep the schools going all year. The school population was reported at 185,160, and the enrollment was 82,276.

Gamecocks Begin Season With Promising Fledglings

The Jacksonville State Gamecocks took to the practice field this week to iron out several flaws discovered in their last quarter defeat at the hands of Livingston State, 20-13, Saturday night.

The defeat was a crushing blow to the more than 3,500 Jacksonville spectators who saw Jackson-ville ignite into a blaze and suffer a defeat at the hands of Livingston. It was then that the inexperience of the Gamecock squad caught up with them as Livingston ignited into a blaze and scored 20 points with the aid of 12 plays.

Coaches Don Salls and Ray Wedgeworth were not pleased with the score but added that there were very well pleased with the spirit the boys showed on the field.

The Jacksonville defense was outstanding for the first three quarters with Livingston continually getting thrown for losses. The offense was fairly strong in the first half but virtually non-existent in the last two periods. Jacksonville's passing was an unexpected surprise. Coach Salls stated that he was well pleased with the attitude and cool-headedness of the boys.

Joe Dacus, halfback from Summerville, Ga., played an outstanding game at left half. He kicked points of 44 and 47 yards. Right halfback John Krochina's running was impressive.

Little Bob Henderson was less than spectacular for the Gamecocks. Bob was injured late in the second period and was carried to the hospital for treatment. The extent of his injury is not known, although it is believed to be a strained back muscle.

Gamecock Team Analyzed

For the past three weeks 50 football players have been rug- ged training at Jacksonville State College. Coach Don Salls has put the men through a two-day prac-tice which has rounded the men into shape very well.

The boys have been showing great spirit and hustle in their work. Salls is pessimistic about the coming season due to the lack of depth in his squad.

They are green for the most part and late season should put some well-recognized backs on the field.

The most encouraging news in the Jacksonville camp is the work of the defense. Wedgeworth is again working hard on his specialty, the strong defense. The Gamecocks have put a lot of work into the defense. Wedgeworth has been well pleased with the results except for the line backers. The passing defense has been strengthened considerably since the start of practice.

Salls has the backfield working smoothly with the offense working form the T and the box.

Salls has not come up to what he wants but is improving every day.

This week the Gamecocks will travel up to Maryville, Tenn., to meet the highlanders of Maryville College at 8:00 Saturday night. Salls hopes his squad will sufficiently shake off the woes of the Livingston defeat to turn their minds completely on the preparation for the season opener in Maryville eleven.

Now she also has been appoint- ed secretary for the Gamecock football team.

The Spotlight

Our spotlight this time is focused on one of the most outstanding male students on our campus. He’s a first quarter senior and a history major. His name would be Don Henderson.

Hi, Bob

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION FIRST ON CALENDAR

Plans for freshman orientation were announced as follows:

- Registration was be held on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22-23.
- Freshmen were asked to come on Sunday so they could get settled in the dormitories and be ready to register and started on their college careers Monday morning.
- Open house will be held at the local churches on Wednesday evening.

This issue of "The Teacola" was prepared especially for all entering students. It is your student publication. It will be found interesting in the school.

The Gamecocks, who played two football players who have been rugged training at Jacksonville State College, have had the men through a two- \-day practice with a hard fought contest against the high-flying Gamecocks last year.

Now she also has been appointment counselor for girls for the coming year. She will also teach two freshman classes.

One of these, Modern Social Customs, was originated by the late Leona Proutt Cole, so freshmen could be taught rules of etiquette and social behavior. "The enthusiasm and wholesomeness of youth itself is stimulating," Miss Millican explains. "Teaching is a mechanical thing. Just as a skilled workman uses tools to achieve certain goals, so a teacher works with people and sees ideas develop in their minds. Too much emphasis has been placed upon freedom without recognition of the responsibility that goes with it. Influencing students to recognize this fact offers a challenge to me."

Slender, bright-eyed, she has needlework for a hobby. She makes her own clothes and keeps an electric portable machine in her room for constant use.

She is the incoming president of Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma; a member of the Jacksonville State Association of University Women, vice-president of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church; has worked with children and young people in the Sunday school; has served on the State Textbook Committee; and on evaluation committees in several towns as representative of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He isn't sure what, he wants to do when he graduates, but Seed, That's just the way I felt when I applied for training. The form has five sections which the veteran must complete. 1. Identification of the veteran. 2. Program of retraining applied for. 3. Education and training received while on active duty. 4. Civilian education. 5. Employment experience.

Unless all necessary information is included on the form VA's can't take action on the veteran's application. Smith said.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cayley have returned from Canada where they spent the month of August at the University of Colorado. They are out to win this year but will work more on the preparation of the boys for the coming season.

Miss Lucille Branscomb was hoping that the end the application, Smith said, will show up much better under pressure. They are working for the '53 edition of the Gamecocks. They are out to win this year but will work more on the preparation of the boys for the coming season.
