JSC Begins Work For Annual Homecoming Here Next Week

Big Program Being Planned For Saturday

The annual kick-off coffee was held Wednesday morning in the lounge of Graves Hall. Lamar Triplett, president of the alumni association, of Bessemer, was present to discuss plans with the faculty and student committees. Dr. T. E. Montgomery is faculty chairman for the event.

The program for the day will be as follows:

Registration, 1 p.m.; band concert on Square, 2:00; parade, 2:00; tour of campus, 1:00-5:00; open house in lounge, 1:00-5:00; reception at President's Home, 3:00-4:00; Retreat and artillery display by ROTC, 4:45; barbecue supper, 5:00-6:30, at high school cafeteria; football game, 7:30, College Bowl; dance following game.

On Friday evening, preceding homecoming, a pep rally will be held around a bonfire, and a square dance will follow.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Committee in charge of arrangements are as follows:

Steering committee — Lamar Triplett, alumni; Arlie Gunter, Student Government Association; Dr. T. E. Montgomery, faculty.

Registration—J. A. Smoake, R. E. Williams, Wymer Wyser, Mrs. J. C. Wilkes, Mrs. Ralph Lindsey, Mrs. Mary A. Poling, members of the F.B.L.A.

Wednesday Is Final Chance For Pictures

The 1954 annual staff will offer a final chance for students to have individual class photographs made Wednesday when the camera will be set up in Bibb Graves lounge from 9 o'clock until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It will be the last opportunity for students and faculty members to have pictures made for the new Mimosa.

Two German Teachers Visit J'ville Campus

Two interesting visitors were guests on this campus the past week-end from Germany. They were Miss Irmgard Loesner, whose home is near Duesseldorf; and Miss Erika Becker, who lives near Mainz-Coblenz. They are ending a three-month's stay in this country under the sponsorship of the U. S. Department of State, U. S. Office of Education, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The scope of the planning for better understanding, the spread of democratic ideas, and technical "know how" of the U. S. government can be seen more clearly in the light of the project which brings these two visitors to our campus.

These two teachers of home economics and homemaking have come to Jacksonville after visiting several high schools in Calhoun County. Miss Barbara Cotton, director of the home management house, was their hostess for the week-end, and they were brought to the county by Miss Evelyn Cotney, state supervisor of the northeastern district.

Miss Loesener and Miss Becker left their homes in Germany on July 1 and flew to New York, arriving there on Aug. 1. They went directly to Washington, D. C., for a week's briefing and orientation for their experience in the United States.

In Washington they met other teachers and professors from countries of Europe, South America and Africa, and were given information and instructions to prepare them for their visit. They studied the life, culture and history of this country, and formulated plans for the whole trip which must be completed by the end of the year.

Sophs Open Annual 'Twirp' Plans Soon

This is the week the boys have been waiting for! It's the week that the girls have been saving their money for. It's the week of man's financial independence; the week when the girls do the asking.

The sophomore class will begin its annual "Twirp Season" Wednesday night, and the girls are requested to bear the financial burdens for a full week. The season will begin with a big square dance in the college gymnasium, starting at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, and students can look forward to a full week of unusual happenings.

Bonfire—Clay Brittan, members of the freshman and junior classes, cheerleaders and Miss Alta Millican. Square Dance—Mrs. W. J. Calvert, Gaither B. Snoddy, Jr.—John R. Finley, J. A. Smoake. Radio and TV facilities—Raymond Watson, Jr., Russell Greenleaf. Retreat—Lt. Col. Blodgett.

An outstanding feature of the day will be the appearance of several bands from visiting high schools which are directed by members of the college alumni. They will take part in the parade.

Dr. T. E. Montgomery, Jr., took part on a state-wide program held recently at Alabama College by the Alabama Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Wednesday Is Final Chance For Pictures

The 1954 annual staff will offer a final chance for students to have individual class photographs made Wednesday when the camera will be set up in Bibb Graves lounge from 9 o'clock until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It will be the last opportunity for students and faculty members to have pictures made for the new Mimosa.

Masque & Wig Guild Presents Skit Here Wed.

On Wednesday, Oct. 21, the Masque and Wig Guild will present a variety show at assembly in the Leone Cole Auditorium. You won't want to miss this entertaining forty-five minutes by this talented dramatic group. Mrs. Ralph Lindsey, a new member of the English faculty, is director of the Guild this year.

The Masque and Wig members are well known for the excellent productions of the past. Under the direction of Lawrence R. Miles, they have presented such plays as "You Can't Take It With You", "Outward Bound", "Blythe Spirit", and many others.

Along with this dramatic talent, the Melody Makers will play as the students assemble, and between acts and skits.

You will thrill at the highly professional acting of Richard Jones as he brings you "Tell-Tale Heart"; laugh at the humorous antics of Sandy Southland, Richard Nordman, Beth Taylor, Anne Bennett, Bill Hammill, Harriet Hackworth, Jack Collins and Joe Spullock, as they bring you a pantomime. You will love the enthusiastic way Neil Letson and Jack Collins gives excerpts from the "Little Foxes", and you will be impressed with the character dance Bill Hammill and Doris Prather do.

In the face of all this entertainment, it isn't exaggerating to predict that you will be enchanted with this program that is planned for your pleasure on Oct. 21 at 11:30.

SENIOR CLASS TO SELL HOMECOMING CORSAGES

Curtis Shamblee, president of the senior class, has announced that members of the class will sell chrysanthemum corsages for homecoming. They will be glad to take advance orders.

The corsages will be large white chrysanthemums with a red "J" and red ribbon.

Friends of John R. Finley will be interested to know that he is now Minister of Music at the First Baptist Church.

Farm Life in Pennsylvania
The first state Miss Loesener and Miss Becker visited was Pennsylvania, where they spent three weeks in the homes of Pennsylvania Dutch families. They witnessed the daily life on the farm and became acquainted with the work of the county home agent.

Extension Work in Arkansas
Their next stop was Arkansas where they spent three weeks with district supervisors observing extension work. They saw rice and cotton growing for the first time; they visited leadership schools and observed the work of home demonstration clubs in nutrition, food, clothing, etc.

Military Dance Opens Social Season Oct. 29

The first big dance of the year will be held at the college gym on Thursday, October 29th. The big event is the annual "Military Ball" under the sponsorship of the ROTC.

Preceding the dance will be a banquet for the advanced students at the high school cafeteria. The banquet will last from 7 until 8, and the dance will get underway at 8 and end at 12.

The music will be furnished by the Melody Makers. Tickets are on sale in Bibb Graves Hall.

The committees are as follows: Decorations: Mary Sharp, Harriett Hackworth, Willodean Benefield, Florida Phillips, (ROTC sponsors); Planning: Jack Collins, Ivan Smith, Billy Mills, and Lewis Butterworth.

This being the first dance of the year, a large turn out is expected.

...ing at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, and students can look forward to a full week of unusual happenings.

Wednesday's entertainment will feature expert square dancing, directed by two of the Mid-West's best callers. Ed and Lois Weaver, both of whom were born and reared in square-dance country, will call the dances and will offer something that will be entirely different from anything most of Jacksonville's students have seen before.

Mr. Weaver has been calling square dances since he was in junior high school, while Mrs. Weaver has a degree in dancing from a Nebraska college. They have entered numerous contests in the corn country and consider square dancing more of a profession than a hobby.

Tommy Phillips, sophomore president, has announced that the dance will cost thirty-five cents per couple or for stags, and the girls will pay the bill. Students should dress their country best for Wednesday's big attraction.

The program for the remainder of the week is being planned by Martha Knowles, sophomore social

...of the necessity of something to fill an unlimited amount of space.

Most of us either become adjusted or re-adjusted to college. Our mental alertness has been sharpened so that once again we can easily find a way not to study or not to go to class.

After the passing of one month, things are really buzzing around the campus. Ball games, twirp season, variety shows, military balls, sophomore hops, and square dances have everyone running in the opposite direction.

The big, big day will be here on October 31, when once again the old grads returns for a look at their Alma Mater. The homecoming game, the crowning of the queen, the parade, other activities are very exciting, but the thing that really fascinates me is seeing every room in every dormitory clean.

Congratulations to those who worked so hard to get out the first edition of the Alumni News. It was and no doubt will continue to be, a great success.

JSC was well represented at the state Maid of Cotton contest. The four students who participated are as follows: Mary Sharp, Calhoun County maid, Jimmie Guyton, Marion County maid, June Usrey, Etowah County maid, and Vecie Shanks, St. Clair maid.

The college band made its first appearance last Saturday at Troy. A large number of students made the trip down to take in Troy's homecoming day. From all reports they had one fine time. Next week-end we will all be in Gadsden for the Austin Peay game.

Wonder what makes us "the scenic campus of the South"? Is it the green grass, the white sidewalks, and the beautiful buildings, or is it the sign out front.

FABLE OF THE MONTH: On the day of publication, the editor of a college newspaper attempted to write a fable. Unable to come up with something hilarious, he became disgusted and gave up.

Moral: (See MORAL, page 8)

ADDITIONS TO FACULTY ANNOUNCED RECENTLY

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lindsey have been added to the faculty since the opening of school to take care of the increase in enrollment.

Mrs. Lindsey teaches English and is directing the Masque and Wig Guild. Mr. Lindsey teaches in the science department.

Mrs. Lindsey is a sister of Mrs. Lawrence Miles.

Week Of Inspiration

Bishop Oldham Ends Services

The Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, Bishop of Albany, retired, has been speaking to capacity audiences each day in the Leone Cole Auditorium in observance of Religious Emphasis Week. He made his final appearance on Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

His subjects have been especially appropriate and practical for the college-age group and have also been interesting and helpful to adults in the audience.

Prof. Leon McCluer was general chairman of the observance. Various student groups and organizations took part in the daily services. Arlie Gunter, Geraldine, president of the Student Government Association, presided at each service. Music students serving as organists were: Barbara Ann Self, Tarrant; Mary Ruth Watford, Gadsden; Jean McCollough, Anniston; and Sybil Doss Reaves, Weaver.

Each morning a different group sat on the platform—officers of the S. G. A., Monday; Baptist Student, Tuesday; local ministers, Wednesday; and representatives of all church groups on Thursday.

Hymn singing was directed by Ronald Brooks, Gadsden, and W. H. Ashburn, Jacksonville. The invocation was led by Claxton Henson, Anniston, Monday; Elaine McGraw, Gadsden, Tuesday; the Rev. Edwin Wilson, Jacksonville, Wednesday; and Douglas Martin, Ashland, Thursday.

Solos were sung by Joanne Porter Phillips, Trussville, and Gloria Wood, Jacksonville.

He began on Monday morning with the subject, "God". On Tuesday morning he continued with "Where Do We Find God?"; Wednesday morning, "How Shall We Find God?"; and on Thursday he will conclude with "What Shall We Do With Our Lives?"

He told the students that God is personal in that He has will-power and He has love. There is

In discussing "How Shall We Find God", Bishop Oldham said that faith and obedience are essential—they are the twin sources, the keys to the kingdom of God. He explained the difference in faith and belief. Faith is a nobler thing than belief; it almost eludes definition; it can't be so much defined as felt, and is not confined to religion.

Obedience is absolutely necessary and is the organ of religious knowledge. Belief is a thing of the intellect but faith takes the whole nature.

As his concluding message, Bishop Oldham gave two suggestions to the students as to "What To Do With Our Lives"—his final topic. He said they should (1) produce their own souls, and (2) expend themselves in the service of others.

The services were attended by capacity crowds.

Bishop Oldham was introduced on Monday morning by President Houston Cole. In his introductory remarks he quoted the new president of Harvard, Dr. Pusey, who told the Divinity School there, "What we need today is religious experience." Bishop Oldham, he declared, is a man who can speak out of a rich experience.

Vesper services have been held each evening and Bishop Oldham has held individual conferences with students.

Personality in the Universe because of God. He is omniscient, omnipresent and omnipotent. He is Power, Personality and Love.

God is to be found in nature, in human nature and in incarnation, he said. We can find Him in nature, in human nature and supremely in His Son. If God is like Jesus we can trust Him; in Jesus' quietness there is love, tenderness and patience—a new concept of God. We can interpret Him through the eyes of Jesus.

Students Plead For New Buildings

Let your sympathy rest with Alabama's State Board of Education and anyone else who has anything to do with raising funds for our education. They are faced with problems that go hand in hand with progress; problems that must be solved if progress is to continue.

As students, we should realize the mountainous difficulties of administration and construction that plague our educators, from our college administration all the way up to the national government. The simple truth is that Jacksonville, like many more of the nation's colleges, is growing too fast to accommodate the students. No doubt, the situation prevails throughout the state and the nation. However, we are mostly concerned with what is going on here, and our interests seldom reach out farther than the "Gem of the Hills" and our home towns.

Perhaps we are being more selfish than patriotic when we think only of our own problems. At any rate, we hope that the responsible people will hear our plea. Please, Sirs, we need more buildings and we need them now.

As students, we are pleading for the facilities that are necessary to complete an education. Without these facilities, we cannot compete for the best jobs when we finish our stay here. Our classrooms and our dormitories are crowded beyond the limit of effective work.

We have no doubt that our needs will be taken care of when the proposed science building and new dormitory are completed. However, we need the building now, and we believe that Jacksonville's continued growth depends directly upon how soon the buildings are started. Without the buildings, we have reached our peak of efficiency as far as education is concerned.

We need a science building and a boys' dormitory badly. During the past few sessions, the crowded conditions in the dormitories have caused most of our troubles. The students who reside on the campus are fully aware of the need for more living space, but most of them are even more concerned about crowded classrooms and inadequate laboratory equipment. As a representative of the students, the Teacola desires to express the opinion of the majority of the people enrolled here. We believe that we are doing so when we urge our college and state administration to erect our new science building as soon as possible.

RECENT VISITOR—Mrs. Oswald Lord, United States representative to the United Nations, looks over the recent publication of the Alumni News with Dr. Houston Cole.

Mrs. Oswald Lord Outlines U. N. Problems In Talk Here

Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, U. S. representative to the United Nations, spoke at a special assembly at Jacksonville State College Thursday morning in the Leone Cole Auditorium to a capacity audience. She was introduced by President Houston Cole. Arlie Gunter, Geraldine, president of the Student Government Association, presided, and the invocation was led by Dr. Paul J. Arnold, head of the science division.

Mrs. Lord told her audience about the work of the Commission on Human Rights in the UN of which she is a member. Her graphic account of the way disease is being conquered in all parts of the world and malnutrition relieved among children in underdeveloped countries gave interesting insight to the work done by this commission. She predicted that this type of demonstration, bringing the world the "know how", will do away with disease, and incidentally will do away with Communist infiltration.

She listed fallacies about the UN that are common knowledge and gave facts to discount them—fallacies that say the U. S. will lose its sovereignty in the UN; that the UN is a nest of Communist spies; that the UN dragged the U. S. into Korea, etc. The sovereignty of all nations is guaranteed under the UN Charter, she said; the UN is no nest of Communist spies because the Communists do not even have their full quota of staff members there and would if it nurtured spies; the U.S. acted ahead of the UN in the Korean affair.

She pointed out that it only costs 62 cents per person for the U.S. to be a member of the UN, and that 50 per cent of the voluntary contributions for relief comes from other countries.

She listed some of the accomplishments of the UN in the political field and made a strong plea for its continuance. She quoted Henry S. Stimson who said, "The

NOTES FOR VETERANS

The veterans office has been confronted with several problems since the beginning of the new school year.

The question of who may be claimed, as a dependent has frequently been brought to our attention. In short, those eligible to become a dependent are as follows: The veterans parents, children, and husband or wife. Anyone not falling into this category can not be claimed as a dependent.

Again we would like to stress the importance of signing the payroll on time. It is essential that Korean veterans sign the payrolls between the 1st and the 5th of each month in order that they may be in the Montgomery Office before the 10th. Payroll forms will not be mailed to individual veterans. Delay in signing payrolls will mean delay in receipt of your subsistence check from the Veterans Administration.

The Veterans Office, Room 209, Bibb Graves Hall remains open each Monday and Thursday evening from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

SGA Officers Are Installed In Formal Rite

The first formal inaugural ceremony in the history of our school was held at Leone Cole Auditorium on Wednesday, September 23. The officers of the Student Government Association received the oaths of office and officially began their terms of office for the 1953-54 school year.

Those officers elected last Spring are as follows: Arlie Gunter, president; Travis Walker, vice-president; Elaine McGraw, secretary; Ben Nodal, treasurer.

The program began with an introduction by Professor Clay Brittain, first president of the S.G.A. in 1943. Following Mr. Brittain, was a short message by Dr. Robert P. Feigar, who served as the first faculty advisor in the same year.

Mr. J. M. Anders, present faculty advisor to the S.G.A., administered the oath to the incoming officers, and last year's president, Homer Stephens, presented Mr. Gunter with the gavel.

Preceding the new president's inaugural address, the students pledged their allegiance and cooperation to the S.G.A. and to the college.

The program was highlighted by a message from President Houston

THE SPOTLIGHT

'Mimosa' Editor Is Leader On Campus

By RICHARD NORADMAN

The Teacola this month is proud to have in its Spotlight, Harry Sherman.

As editor of the Mimosa, he resembles the typical industrial executive rather than the favored campus student, which he is. Harry is an ex-sports writer for the Anniston Star, whose reputation is great for administrative efficiency.

Harry Sherman's success began before he graduated from Oxford High School in 1947. While in school there he was elected editor of the school paper and Yearbook, both of which were the best in the history of the school. While still in school he also held down a part-time job with the Anniston Star.

Harry left the Anniston Star to go into the army, where he spent two years. However, this did not impair his ability for unraveling snarls and problems of administrative work.

In the Fall of 1952 he entered J. S. C. as a freshman. In the Spring he was elected editor of the Mimosa. Within three weeks after he was elected editor of the Mimosa he completely laid out what promises to be the best annual yet.

During this past summer he presided as president of the sophomore class and also as assistant editor of the Stu-Jack. At the same time he completed single handed the summer section of the Mimosa, which was the first time this had ever been done. As associate editor of the Teacola he added something of a new look to the school paper by doing all the lay-outs in addition to writings.

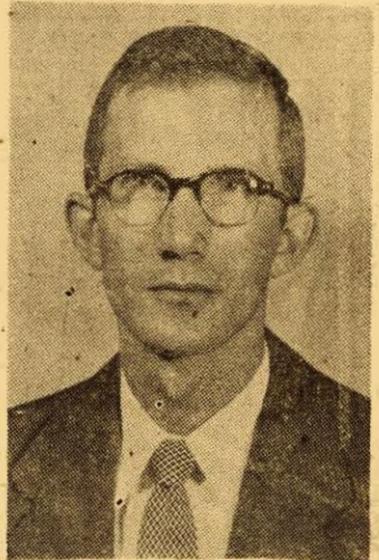

Harry was highly complimented this summer when he received a letter of appreciation from President Cole, the faculty, and the members of the S.G.A. for his outstanding work and good scholastic ratings.

I know that I can say for the entire college, that we take our hats off to Harry Sherman. We greatly appreciate the fine work he is doing.

A University student was on his way to visit some friends during the summer vacation. The way led through a swamp.

"Say," he asked his elderly guide, "is it true that an alligator won't hurt you if you carry a torch?"

The guide thought a moment

Two Buildings To Honor Late Staff Members

Dr. Houston Cole, president, has announced that the State Board of Education has approved the naming of two buildings on the campus.

The library will be called the Ramona Wood library in memory of Mrs. C. R. Wood, who was librarian for 32 years. Mrs. Wood died on August 30.

The new home economics building will be called the Dora Wood building in memory of Miss Dora Wood, assistant registrar, who died during the summer. The two members of the staff were not related.

Most of the buildings at Jacksonville have been named. Daugette Hall for women was named for the late Dr. C. W. Daugette, who was president for 42 years; Abercrombie Hall, for Dr. John Abercrombie, noted Alabama educator; Pannell Hall, for Dr. H. Clifton Pannell, an alumnus of the college, and an outstanding educator in the Hammond Hall, for J. D. Hammond, who was instrumental in securing the legislature to establish the old State Normal School in 1883.

The Leone Cole Auditorium was named for the late Leone Pruett Cole, wife of the president, and Bibb Graves Hall bears the name

During the past few years, dormitories have caused most of our troubles. The students who reside on the campus are fully aware of the need for more living space, but most of them are even more concerned about crowded classrooms and inadequate laboratory equipment. ## Alumni News Receives Praise

With the publication of Volume 1, Number 1, of the Jacksonville State College Alumni News, another forward stride has been taken by the fine institution of higher learning located up at the "Gem of the Hills."

The new publication, slated to appear three times during the current school year, seeks to inform former students and other interested citizens regarding the sum total of scholastic and extra-curricular activities being carried on at J. S. C. It also will serve as a clearing house for items of personal news about the college's alumni, thus nurturing friendships formed during under-graduate days.

The indications are, moreover, that the project will be a great success. For the October 1 issue combines interesting reporting with generous art and attractive typography, the end result being a 12-page tabloid newspaper that would be a credit to just about any college or university in the entire nation.

It is planned to publish succeeding issues in January and in April of 1954, with the number of issues perhaps being increased in the 1954-55 school year, and subscriptions are only one dollar each per year. This safely can be said to be a bargain rate, considering the skill and industry with which the J. S. C. Alumni News has entered upon the job of covering its news beat, meaning the J. S. C. campus, plus news of graduates' activities.

We congratulate Jacksonville State College on its new alumni paper, the latest of a long list of impressive "firsts" that have been recorded during the tenure of Dr. Houston Cole as the institution's president.

Sparkman Tells Of World Travels

Senator John J. Sparkman spoke at assembly at Jacksonville State College Tuesday morning in the Leone Cole Auditorium to an over flow audience. He was introduced by Arlie Gunter, of Geraldine, president of the Student Government Association. The invocation was led by Douglas Martin of Ashland.

At the request of President Houston Cole, Senator Sparkman related some of his experiences during his political career and told of associations with internationally-known personalities.

"I have enjoyed living these 53 years", Senator Sparkman told the faculty and students, "and my life has been enriched by the many great and fine people I have met in all parts of the world". He pointed to the fact that he had worked on the farm, the railroad, at a sawmill; he had practiced law, served as a member of Congress, as a representative to the U. N., and as candidate for vice-president on the Democratic ticket.

She pointed out that it only costs 62 cents per person for the U.S. to be a member of the UN, and that 60 per cents of the voluntary contributions for relief comes from other countries.

She listed some of the accomplishments of the UN in the political field and made a strong plea for its continuance. She quoted Henry S. Stimson who said, "The man who believes in good will never suffer defeat; he may suffer a setback, but never defeat. The worst sin I know is cynicism", and on this note she ended her interesting message.

During her visit to Jacksonville Mrs. Lord was the over-night guest of President and Mrs. Houston Cole. She was a guest at the International House for breakfast and in an informal talk there told of some contact she had had with each country represented there.

She was before her marriage, Mary Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, Minn., a member of the well-known flour milling company. She devotes her public life to the betterment of the world without material compensation, and her name is listed on many boards and committees engaged in volunteer services.

She proved to be a charming, down-to-earth person and captivated her audience and all who met her in Jacksonville.

greatly appreciate the fine work he is doing.

A University student was on his way to visit some friends during the summer vacation. The way led through a swamp.

"Say," he asked his elderly guide, "is it true that an alligator won't hurt you if you carry a torch?"

The guide thought a moment. "Depends on how fast you carry it I reckon."

The program was highlighted by a message from President Houston Cole, who discussed the relationship between the administration and the student body.

The ceremony was brought to an end with the student body singing in unison, "America".

Miss Lucille Branscomb was the author and director of the inauguration ceremony, which will become an annual tradition for the college. Miss Branscomb also wrote the inauguration ceremony of her own Alma Mater when she was a student at Huntingdon and it is still used each year.

BEN NODAL APPOINTED TO REPRESENT CHESTERFIELD

New York, N. Y.—Ben Nodal has been appointed Chesterfield campus representative at JSC, it was announced recently by Campus Merchandising Bureau, Inc.

He was chosen from applicants throughout the country to represent Chesterfield cigarettes, first choice with America's college men and women. The position will mean valuable experience in merchandising, advertising, and public relations, as the student representative gets on-the-job training in conducting a sales promotion program.

"No, I can't promise you you can marry my daughter," said the old grouch, "but leave your name and address and if nothing better turns up I'll call you."

He reviewed the events leading up to his nomination and told of how he had traveled by plane to most of the 48 states—a distance of 38,000 miles; and had made 50 to 300 different speeches.

During his political career, as a member of Congress, he has been associated with three presidents—Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower—and has come to know former President Hoover. In the UN he was associated with three of the top Communist leaders: Vishinsky, Malik and Grymoko. He has had intimate association with several members of the Supreme Court, among them Justice Hugo Black of Alabama, senior member of the court.

In his contacts as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, he visited in the home of the King and Queen of Greece; Generalissimo Chang Kai-Shek and Madame Chang; the Emperor and Empress of Japan; Dr. K. C. Wu; Sir Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Franco of Spain.

When members of the congress-sional committee visited Franco, Senator Sparkman told him that he had introduced the resolution to restore Spain to the family of nations in the UN, and he told him that the American people were concerned about the freedoms being restored to the people of Spain. Franco assured him that there was freedom of speech, and Senator Sparkman said that the people did talk quite freely; but the press is controlled, the freedom for public assembly and worship are limited. He said that many have not been satisfied with the speed in which the freedoms are being restored, although Franco assured them they would be.

Senator Sparkman spoke to the Civitan Club in Anniston Monday at noon; to the Piedmont Lions Club Monday evening, and to the Piedmont High School Tuesday morning after leaving Jacksonville. He will speak to the North Alabama Conference at Huntsville Wednesday morning before departing for Washington, D. C., where he will attend a conference.

Adm. Cater Joins Local CAP Staff

Admiral Cater Appointed

Announcement is made of the appointment of Charles J. Cater, Rear Admiral U. S. Navy (retired), as instructor-training officer of the Civil Air Patrol-Coordinated Aviation Course, sponsored jointly at JSC by the Jacksonville Squadron of Civil Air Patrol under the command of Major Lucille Branscomb, and the Science Division headed by Dr. P. J. Arnold. Thirty-one students are enrolled in the course this semester, for which they receive elective credit in general science, and which has been a part of the college curriculum since 1946.

This aviation course is only one of the many activities sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol at Jacksonville. When the Cadet Drill Team of the Jacksonville Squadron won the 1953 Alabama State Championship the past summer in competition with 15 other CAP squadrons in the Alabama Wing, it represented the growing success of the many projects being sponsored in aviation education by JSC, operating through the Jacksonville Squadron of CAP to direct a program for both college and high school students interested in aviation.

Aviation Program Offers Wide Variety Of Projects

Activities consist of not only military drill and training in leadership, cooperation, patriotism, and character building, but also preflight instruction and flight orientation; guidance concerning vocational opportunities in aviation; general information on the economic and cultural effects of the Air Age; operation of a short-wave radio station on a nationwide network; visits to airports and aircraft factories; summer encampment at Air Force bases; and participation in the annual International Cadet Exchange Program.

A Jacksonville CAP cadet was chosen the past year to represent

Alabama in Canada for a month's visit to promote goodwill among the youth of the two countries.

The above program provides general aviation education for all students, including teacher-trainees, and specific training for those wishing to enter civil aviation or service in the Air Force, where they are given priority for enlistment as pilot or navigator.

Training For Men And Women

Students, both men and women, who are interested in the aviation projects described above, are invited to contact Major Branscomb or Admiral Cater. Student officers are being chosen and will be announced in the near future.

Admiral Cater brings a wealth of training and experience to Jacksonville to share with the aviation class, as well as a class in business administration he is also teaching. He has a B.S. degree from the U. S. Naval Academy, where he also did a year of graduate work. He holds a master's degree in engineering from Perth State University and has done graduate work in business administration at Harvard. His naval experience before the war was in the design, construction, and operation of submarines, and during World War II he was in active command of naval units in the Atlantic and Mediterranean. As a designated naval engineer he participated in the operation of several large Navy yards. His last position before retiring after 35 years of service was assistant chief of the Bureau of Ships in Washington, D. C. He has also had considerable experience in flying.

Season At Troy Football Game

The Jacksonville State College Band made its first appearance of the 1953 football season last week when it accompanied the Gamecocks to the Troy State College game. Rain and out-of-state games have thus far prevented the band from taking its place in the stands and on the field.

J. Eugene Duncan, director of this very popular and spirited band, states that the pent-up enthusiasm which has always characterized the JSC band was turned loose in Troy. Two years ago in the same Trojan stadium, the band was acclaimed a primary factor in the last-minute touchdown which won the game for the Gamecocks, this by virtue of a sustained performance of one-after-another spirited march which seemed to catch on both on the sidelines and on the playing field. The band left Jacksonville determined to repeat its performance this Saturday.

Personnel of Band

Members of the band are as follows:

Flute and piccolo—Hugh Epley, John Carruth.

Clarinet—Natalie Cooper, Alan Mason, Mary Ruth Watford, Alicia Moody, Gloria Wood, Dorothy Wade.

Alto saxophone—Guy Bigham, Jerry Smith.

Tenor Saxophone—Dick Cooper, Dick Jones.

Baritone saxophone—Bill Hardin.

Trumpet—Jerry Countryman, Ronald Brooks, John Thomas, Mary Helen Molan, Coleman Hawkins, Robert Guyton, Jimmy Rayburn, Gordon Baird, Wendol Keisoe, Henry Browning, Bill Hester.

French Horn—Gary Morgan, Jimmy Haynes, Jack Shotts.

Trombone—W. H. Ashburn, George Broome, Phyllis Norton, Patrick Bentley, Burce Hendricks, Bill Pinson.

Euphonium—Deleath Rives, Bill Cheatham.

Bass—Tom Hooper.

Drum—David Simmons, Tommy McElroy, David Smith, Bill Aldrup, Joanne Phillips.

Glockenspiel—Nina Prince Martha Allen.

Majorettes—Florida Phillips, Jean Burns, Carolyn Freeman, Joyce Collins, Joene McKee, Martha Knowles, and Mary Knight.

Drum Major—Wayne Hopper.

Director—J. Eugene Duncan.

Pannell Boys Welcome New House Mother

Things are in full swing over at the number one dormitory on the campus. There has been little change since last year with the exception of a few new faces, a new house mother, new dormitory officers, and two or three freshly painted rooms.

Mrs. Hill, our new house mother, comes to us from Forney. We were very glad to see her get the "promotion." It is very unusual for someone to jump from the bottom to the top so quickly.

The boys all gathered at a house meeting and elected officers for this year. They are as follows: Charlie Wilson, president; Fahy Gardner, vice-president; Curtis Shamblee, secretary-treasurer.

The Pannell quartet has increased in number since the beginning of school. They now have 23 members. The returning lettermen are Fahy Gardner, Johnnie Towns, and Roy Dyer.

Harvey Ham and Kenneth Davis seem to have lost something when they moved upstairs from the basement. They keep talking about being short on quality points.

Moochie, Sandy, and Kro are playing "cut throat". Sandy bought a ring, then Moochie got even. Moochie tried to get ahead by buying a new car, but Kro didn't like for him to pick on his muscle-bound roommate, so he bought one, too! Wonder who will win?

There was a remarkable bit of legislative work accomplished at the last house meeting. The boys were faced with the problem of getting everyone quite by 10 o'clock. Through mental alertness and a process of elimination, they came up with a solution: Quite hours begin at 11:00 o'clock.

"My husband is wonderful in one respect," remarked a wife at a luncheon. "He never, never says 'told you so'."

"But of course," she added, after a pause, "he reminds me very frequently that he doesn't."

I made out my income tax report and took $25 off for medical expenses. I invited a nurse out to a nite club.

Nothing robs a man of his good looks like a hurriedly drawn shade.

Picks Officers For New Year

With the opening of the new school year, the Wesley Foundation turned over another leaf and seized the opportunity to get a new start. The first thing on the agenda was welcoming the freshmen and transfer students into our midst. This was done by holding open house at the church during the first week of the semester.

The officers are: Douglas Martin, president; Jo Ann Lewis, first vice-president; Glendis Walker, second vice-president; Myra Culp, secretary; Lois Culp, treasurer; Milton Acton, song leader; Mary Louise Kile, pianist; Mrs. Edith Wilson, publicity chairman; and a "Backward Party", went over with a bang. There were some very attractive ladies present. A beauty contest was held in which there was difficulty in selecting a winner from the two finalists, so prizes went to both of them, Miss Milton Acton and Miss Ross Smith.

Jo Ann Lewis, the program chairman, has planned a variety of programs for our regular meetings held each Sunday night at 6:00 and each Thursday night at 6:30. There will be films, special music, various speakers, etc.

The members are very proud of the increase in attendance, and are working on a campaign at the present time to gain additional members. Therefore, we would like to urge all the Methodist students, and anyone else who would like, to meet with us at our regular meetings.

Gamecocks Will Meet Austin Peay This Week

Gadsden Civic Club Promotes Charity Game

The Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, a women's organization in Gadsden, will sponsor the Jax-Austin Peay game in Gadsden on Oct. 24, it has been announced. The game will be played for charity.

Several of the Gamecocks will be playing on this old stomping grounds. From Etowah County High, they are: Harry Yocum, Ray Campbell, and Bill Clark; from Gadsden, Guy Sims, Carl Harrison, and Jack Connell.

Seeking revenge from last year's contest, the Jaxmen will send a power-packed line led by Captains John Howell and Travis Walker at left tackle and left end. The guard slots are anchored by Bill Hudson and Alex Mandil. At the other tackle and end are Bob Coley and Bull Bailey. Don Bulger is the likely bet for center.

In the backfield is a cracker-jack quarterback, Gene Hanson, handing the skin to such backs as Virgil Holder, George Keech, Carl Harrison and others.

Jacksonville's hopes have been brightened somewhat by the presence of Jack Connell, brother of the famed Jodie, who made top honors as a Gamecock guard. Jack is a halfback and can strictly move out from the split "T". Keep your eyes on that boy.

The Austin Peay game is the first of two scheduled home games that will be played in neighboring stadiums. The Gadsden organization made arrangements two weeks ago to move this week's contest to the Rubber City. The final game of the year will be played in Anniston's Memorial Stadium when the Gamecocks will meet Howard.

Except for the change of fields, the two games may be considered home games in every sense, and Jacksonville students will have the privileges afforded them at the College Bowl.

Both games are expected to give Jacksonville the chance to prove the merits of small-college football to the many grid fans in the two neighboring cities.

The Hawk's Eye

Bobby Hawkins'

Well, it's here. The big '53 Gamecock football season is rolling along in fine fashion. The "Cocks" are in a winning frame of mind—which we hope will continue. (?)

I don't believe I have ever seen a team work as hard and condition themselves in such a splendid manner as this football aggregation. I think it only fitting that head Coach Wedgeworth get a note of approval by the Jax student body. He certainly gets mine.

To the participants of the first pep rally held on the campus, all I have to say is—it was great! Even if Dr. Cole didn't come out of his nightly reclination, or was he out of town at the time?

Homecoming is just around the corner, and I need not tell you what it means not the things it brings. Dr. Montgomery, along with his assistants, are cooking up something special for this year's festivities. What do you say we all lend a hand to make this 1953 homecoming the most colorful yet?

The intramural football league started Wednesday, September 30, with the distillers of Forney meeting Ma Hill's elite troopers of Pannell; however the Pannellians must have been engaged in activities elsewhere as they didn't show up.

On October 5th Abercrombie engaged the Rebels and bit the dust by a scant 6-0 in favor of the Rebels. Bantam Bill Hamrill looked mighty potent triggering the "T" for Abercrombie in their "hoomilliating" defeat.

Mr. Forrest Killough is the top guy in the organization and the scheduling of games.

Moccasins Topple Jaxmen In Road Contest, 39 To 0

The Gamecocks were hopelessly outclassed when they engaged the U. C. Moccasins at Chamberlain field in Chattanooga October 2. Jax received the kickoff and on third down Hanson's pass was intercepted at midfield by Bunkers of Chattanooga who ran it to the six and two plays later Bunkers carried it over.
Jax's running attack was bottled up by a tough Chattanooga line during the first and second quarters with Chattanooga's ace quarterback Durham hitting his receivers Bunkers, Matodsky, and Pybulsky for T.D.'s. All his passes were over 15 yards and were with amazing accuracy. By the end of the first half the score read 39-0 Chattanooga. The second half was

Jacksonville Registers First Win By Downing So. Georgia

After trailing, 6-7, at the end of the half, Jacksonville's Gamecocks jumped into the win column by punching across two last-half tallies to take a scrapping South Georgia aggregation, 19-7, last week. The Jaxmen at last showed an offensive spark and scoring punch that has been lacking all season.
The Gamecocks drew first blood in the first quarter when George Keech returned a South Georgia punt to his own forty. From there the Jaxmen started on a touch-

South Georgia's Tigers came roaring back to score five minutes later. Quarterback Ashton Cassidy and Fullback Gene Cox sparked a drive that was climaxed when Cassidy passed to Pete Cox in the end zone from the five. Cook's conversion was good.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY ALPHA MU GAMMA

Members of Alpha Mu Gamma, national foreign language fraternity on the campus, have elected officers for 1953-54.

They are as follows:

Katherine Cooper, president; Virginia Voss, vice-president; Florida Phillips, secretary-reporter; Alden Huffaker, treasurer.

Other members are Jean Pittman and Ima Jean Craft.

Jax's running attack was bottled up by a tough Chattanooga line during the first and second quarters with Chattanooga's ace quarterback Durham hitting his receivers Bunkers, Matodsky, and Pybulsky for T.D.'s. All his passes were over 15 yards and were with amazing accuracy. By the end of the first half the score read 39-0 Chattanooga. The second half was a whale of a game in anybody's book. Neither team threatened at all. With the Gamecocks holding the 'Noogans to one scant first down.

Fullback Johnny Johnston, halfback Harrison and quarterback Gene Hanson were outstanding in the Jax backfield. With Big John Howell, Bull Bailey and Travis Walker anchoring the line.

New Residents Are Featured At Daugette

Daugette started the new school year off with a bang when they selected four fine girls as its dormitory leaders. This year we will be following Harriet Hackworth as president; Betty Wade, vice-president; Willodene Benefield, as secretary and Jane Mayes, treasurer. Good luck to these officers for a prosperous year in Daugette.

The question of a television set was brought up at our last meeting. We think that with the cooperation of each dorm member and the school board that our project will soon be under way.

New Hall has many new faces roaming its halls. Seen around are: Nancy Burroughs and Martha Knowles, transfers from Miss. State College for Women; Janet Taylor, a junior transfer from Auburn; Sidney Ann Clarkon, Joyce Cummings and Blanche Rutland all who came over from West Georgia. Snead girls joining us this year are Sue Robertson and Dot Orr. Along with these girls, we and Mrs. Rowan want to welcome into Daugette Hall Joyce Collins, Katherine Cooper, Hilda Tyler, Florine Rollins and Patricia Pharr. We especially want to give Odile Sawicka from France, and Renate Graf from Switzerland, a hearty welcome into the fellowship here in New Hall.

A girl who is not new at all to most of us is back after a year's work with the Defense Department. It's good to see Pat Renagel from Bradenton, Fla., with us again.

More news next time, folks.

P.S. A certain girl says that she lives in New Hall and she wants to see her name in the paper. Here is it—"WEEPY" WOOTEN.

J'Ville, Maryville Fight To Scoreless Deadlock In Rain

With the tail end of a hurricane blowing sheets of rain over the college bowl, the Gamecocks battled Maryville to a scoreless draw.

A small group of spectators, sogged as they were, were far from listless as the game was very spirited and play was wide open.

The statistics, along with the tie, showed the two aggregations to be evenly matched. Jax picked up a total of 151 yards while Maryville tallied 124. Q.B. Gene Hanson accounted for 29 passes he hit his receivers on 4 out of 14 passing attempts. The Scotties stuck to the ground, tying 6 passes and completing none. George Keech got 52 yards with an average of 4 yards per try. Fullback Lamar Howell did some fancy running with a nice average of 4.16 yards per try.

Play was centered around the midfield stripe of the game as neither team threatened too much in either period.

conversion was good.

Late in the third quarter the Gamecocks started rallying again after George Keech returned a Tiger punt to his own 38. A series of line plays soon placed the ball on the South Georgia 40. Fullback Virgil Holder went up the middle on the next play and covered the required distance to score. Hanson's conversion was good.

The Gamecocks put the game on ice early in the fourth quarter when George Keech again returned a punt to the midfield stripe. Several plays later the Gamecocks found themselves on the South Georgia 20 and Keech skirted his own right end for the tally. Hanson's attempt for the extra point was blocked.

Co-Capt. Travis Walker, Rosebud Bailey, Alex Mandli, Bob Coley, Bill Hudson and Herschel O'Dell sparked the Gamecocks forward wall, which played its best game of the season.

Outstanding performers in the backfield were Jack Connell, Carl Harrison, Virgil Holder, Johnny Johnson, George Keech and Gene Hanson.

South Georgia's Fullback Gene Cox was practically a one-man backfield as he picked most of his team's yardage. Mainstays in the Tiger line were Charlie Kicklighter, Joe Johnston and Don Gardner.

Except for the change of fields, the two games may be considered home games in every sense, and Jacksonville students will have the privileges afforded them at the College Bowl.

Both games are expected to give Jacksonville the chance to prove the merits of small-college football to the many grid fans in the two neighboring cities.

ALPHA GAMMA EPSILON ELECTS FALL PLEDGES

On Monday night, Oct. 12, members of Alpha Gamma Epsilon, music sorority, held their rush party at the Music Department.

Gail Mountain, the president, greeted the guests at the door. Joanne Phillips poured coffee at the prettily-decorated table which featured a color scheme of green and white. Sandwiches and cookies were served.

Officers in addition to Miss Mountain are: Polly Easterwood, vice-president; Mary Ruth Watford, secretary; Lou Mosely, alumni secretary; Jean Usry, treasurer; Gloria Wood, chaplain; Joyce Maddox, reporter; Joann Phillips, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Olive Barnes, faculty sponsor.

Pledges elected to membership are: Ann Bennett, Phyllis Norton, Alicia Moody, Nina Jo Prince, Naomi Stanley, Jerri Smith, Nora Jean Wilson, Blanche Bradley.

J'VILLE PEP SQUAD—Jacksonville's eight-member pep squad is busy preparing for a rush period during the remainder of the 1953 football season. They will lead the cheers at Saturday's game with Austin Peay at Gadsden. They also will have plenty of partisan Gamecock fans to lead at the Homecoming game with West Georgia here next week, the game with Florence on the following week-end, and the Howard game at Anniston. The cheerleaders are (bottom row) Bill Hammill, Jack Collins, and Gerald Johnson; second row Frances Hanson and Helen Thompson; (standing) Jane Mayes, Billy Pannell and "Weepy" Wooten.

Moore from Springville, reporter; Bobby Hawkins from Gunterville; International Voice—Editor, Neil Letson from Gadsden; Assistant editor, William (Shorty) Jackson and Bobby Hawkins.

We want to congratulate all these students who have been given these offices. We feel sure that their cooperation in work will make this school year an interesting and valuable experience for them, as well as for the International House Program.

Wednesday, September 23rd, the International group went to Anniston to present a program at a meeting of the Pitot Club in the lunch room of the Jefferson Davis Hotel. Renate Graf from Switzerland; Pierre Perron from Canada, Fritz Buhrman from Holland and Jacques Corman of Belgium spoke about their respective countries and compared their country to America. The whole group sang some French and Spanish songs and Pierre Perron and Renate Graf interpreted some piano music. The people seemed to enjoy the whole performance, although they could not understand the words to the songs. The students in return enjoyed the buffet dinner if I can judge by the number of times students went back for another helping of cake. The trip finally ended by a happy return to J.S.C. and a cheerful memory of a joyfully-spent evening.

Au revoir till the next edition.

"Now, my boy, tell me how you knew an old Partridge from a young one." asked the squier.

"By the teeth, Sir."

"Nonsense, boy, you ought to know that a Partridge hasn't any teeth!"

"No, Sir, but I have."

In one word, for three weeks now, the "House" is buzzing with feverish activity—a special buzz mingled with words of ticklishly pronounced English, French or Spanish which are not lacking of charm.

In organizing this year's program, these students have been appointed and elected for the following offices: International House Program—Co-chairmen, Benjamin Nodal from Cuba and Jacques Corman from Belgium; assistant co-chairmen, Katherine Cooper from Dothan and Florida Phillips from Jacksonville; French Club—president, Pierre Perron from Canada; vice-president, Odile Sawicka from Paris; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Ann Voss from

Crowded College Begins Return To Usual Trend

After several days of preliminaries and the usual festivities that mark the opening of the fall term, Jacksonville students have settled down to the routine of classwork. Indications point to one of the best years in the history of the college with an enrollment of about 1400. Dormitories are filled to capacity and some students have had to "double up" to take care of the overflow.

DRUM MAJOR—Wayne Hopper, Gadsden senior, led the Jacksonville College Band in its first half-time program of the year at Troy Saturday. He is also the band director for Jacksonville High School.

Campus Light Opens Annual Program Here

By VERA LATHAM

Are you wondering what kind of organization the Campus Light is? Well, it is an organization of the Sunday School and Training Union of the West Side Baptist Church of 713 West Mountain Ave. It is made up of college boys and girls and the young people of the church. We're quite proud of the work the Campus Lighters have done, and we hope to do more and more as time goes on. One thing we did was help to finish the walls and floors of our department in the 40-room Educational part of the church. We're proud of it because for a long, long time the work the "college kids" did will be before others in that form to inspire them to do still more

In addition to the large number of students living on the campus, and the list of commuters, the evening session has added about 350 students.

Enrollment figures for the current session, according to reports from the registrar's office, are as follows: Day Session—656 male students; 350 female students. Evening Session—337 male students; 23 female students. Total: 1367.

There are 489 veterans enrolled this semester—193 in the day session and 296 in the evening session.

New Policy Adopted

A new policy was adopted this year concerning the evening classes. Formerly evening classes were held in Piedmont and Anniston, but this year the work was transferred to the college campus in order to make available laboratory and library facilities. Full credit is being given these students and many are taking advantage of it.

Many Activities

Since the opening of school, several outstanding speakers have appeared before the faculty and students. Senator John J. Sparkman spoke at assembly on Oct. 6, giving an informal account of his experiences during his political career. Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, U. S. Representative to the United Nations, spoke at a special assembly on Oct. 8. Bishop G. Ashton Oldham conducted Religious Emphasis Week which ended on Thursday, Oct. 15.

Homecoming is the next big event on the calendar, having been set for Saturday, Oct. 31. Thanksgiving holidays will take place in November, and on Dec. 4, Charles Laughton, the noted actor, will appear here.

Mr. Brown: "I'm worried. It's raining and my wife is downtown."

Mr. Black: "Oh, she'll probably step inside some store."

Mr. Brown: "That's why I'm worried."

New circus performer: "You know sir, this is my first job in a circus. You'd better tell my what to do to keep from making mistakes."

Manager: "Well, for a start, don't ever address in front of the bearded lady."

GAMECOCK MAJORETTES—The Jacksonville College majorettes were on parade for the first time at the Jacksonville-Troy game Saturday. They are: (kneeling) Jean Burns and Joene McKee; (standing) Carolyn Freeman, Florida Phillips, Martha Kowles, Mary Knight and Joyce Collins.

Abercrombie Rolls Out Mat For New Boys

By Bob Hand

We come back to Abercrombie old timers and the welcome mat really goes out to our new boys. Ma Branscomb now has 95 adopted sons here.

Well it seems we have to put up with Ray and Travis again this year.

Kendall won't be with us all the year. His new roommate is at least better looking than "Pot" Williams (Right, Hesper.)

Abercrombie surely has a bunch of wheels as its residents this year. Let's see, there are officials from the SGA, BSU, Teacola, Mimosa, Class Officers, Kappa Phi Kappa, Alpha Phi Omega, Scabbard and Blade, "J" Club, cheerleaders and Co-Captains of the football team.

Joe Anglin and Frank Stewart seem to have had quite a bit of trouble getting to class the first few days of school, but they soon learned to just follow the sidewalks.

Someone tell Carl Manship it's not really necessary to stay over at the library all the time in order to make all A's.

weeks of summer training with the Marines. He now puts blades in his razor to shave.

Joe Tucker doesn't have to worry about "J" Meadows as much this year. "J" goes to class by himself now.

Jim Reaves is very happy that he made a successful campaign for president of the junior class. We wish him and his vice-president, Neal Hagood, a good year. We know they will do a good job.

Virgil McLoy Lovelace Holder, Jr., knows what a football field is for, but he is wondering if these music majors know what the music hall is for.

Jimmy Moon is proud of his roommate since they are both officers of the freshman class. Ted and Gerald wish to thank all the Freshman for a pleasant campaign.

We miss "Pockets" Aldredge this year. He is married and lives right off the campus.

Jerry Miller surely has a fine roommate this year.

Election was held Thursday night and the following boys were installed: J. C. Anglin, president; Bartow Wilson, vice-president; Virgil Holder, secretary; Byrd Tucker, treasurer; Bill Hammill, social chairman; Ray Campbell, recreation; Bob Hand, reporter.

Abercrombie's football team is expected to be in good shape under the coaching of Clarence "Big"

Daugette Hall Annex Elects New Officers

The following officers have been elected in Daugette Annex: Wanda Young, president; Betty Graham, vice-president; Mary Sue Ross, secretary; Mildred Wigley, treasurer; Carolyn Mauldin, reporter.

Well, Shirley Hicks has a beautiful stone on her left hand. Shirley, what is your secret to success?

It looks as though some little girl from Guntersville is keeping Jack Young busy—too busy to go to church.

What cute boy from Hokes Bluff has been seen with Jo Deerman?

Say, Nell, what is a short leg?

Hey, kids, you should be more careful. Next time it may be Dr. Cole.

Clara Mitchell sure likes B's. She has been dating two with the same name.

Hey, Fay and Danny, it can happen pretty fast can't it?

We have finally come across and decided to buy a television set. Each girl in Daugette will pay a fee of $1.00. The set will be placed

We're proud of it because for a long, long time the work the "college kids" did will be before others in that form to inspire them to do still more than they have done. At Christmas time we get real joy by giving toys, etc. to some children who otherwise might not see Christmas at all. This gives us a wonderful feeling inside—knowing that we have helped someone in just a small way. This year we want to do more than we've ever done before for that "someone" who may need our help.

The church has recently organized a chorus choir which sings in addition to the church choir. The college boys and girls sing in both choirs, and the pastor, Rev. Durro E. Wood, gives a special invitation to everyone to join us in the choir and in all the church services.

Our "Get Together Party" the first week of school was one we shall not soon forget. A large number attended and everyone had a wonderful time. We'll be having another one soon so be sure to be there!

God has certainly blessed us by giving us a church home away from home—one where we can meet with our friends and enjoy the fellowship together with God. West Side is truly a church home for each of us students away from home.

Wanda Young of Crossville, President of the Sunday School, would like to see more of you at Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10:00, and Verma Latham of Lineville invites you to start coming to Training Union at 6:30 every Sunday night. A blessing awaits you—so come on down to 713 West Mountain Avenue. Rev. Durro E. Wood, the pastor, gives a personal invitation to each of you to worship with us. We'd love to have you as a Campus Lighter too!

Alabama Club Women Hold Meeting On J'Ville Campus

The Second District Convention of the Alabama Federation of Womens Clubs was held on the campus of Jacksonville State College on Saturday, Oct. 10. Representatives from 90 clubs located in 14 counties were present for the sessions which were conducted in the Leone Cole Auditorium with Mrs. O. P. Drake, Jr., of Haleyville, district director, presiding. Hostess clubs were those of Anniston, Bynum, Oxford, Jacksonville and Piedmont, with Mrs. A. A. Humphries of Anniston as county chairman.

Registration was held in the International House followed by a coffee. Mrs. Houston Cole poured coffee during the period preceding the opening session.

Dr. Houston Cole welcomed the visitors to the campus, and Mrs. Claude Bradley of Collinsville gave the response. Joanne Phillips, a student from Trussville, sang. A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Norris Morgan of Piedmont.

State officers present were introduced as follows: Mrs. W. M. Beck, president; Mrs. Carl Strang, first vice-president; Mrs. S. E. Neill, second vice-president; Mrs. Marvin Rains, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. A. McCartney, parliamentary.

International House Chosen

Mrs. Gus Ray made the scholarship report during which it was announced that the International House at Jacksonville would be a special project for the federation this year and a $1,000-scholarship fund would be given to the program. ## Top Speakers Are Appearing Before Classes

The Department of Education has come up with something new in its 1:30 class. In order for the students to learn of the problems that will face them in the teaching world, a guest speaker has visited them each week since the beginning of school.

I. J. Browder, superintendent of the Gadsden City Schools, was the first of the series of educators to speak to the education students.

Mr. Browder used as his subject "Public Relations". He pointed out that there are various types of public relations between parents and teachers; parents and children; employer and employee.

The second speaker was Dr. Nelson, superintendent of the city schools in Anniston. Dr. Nelson discussed the financial side of education.

Last week Dr. Frank Newell, Calhoun County superintendent of education, discussed the relationship between the teacher, the principal, and the superintendent.

After each talk, the speakers invite the college students to ask questions. All students interested in these talks are invited to come to room 309 on Wednesday at 1:30.

Luncheon Honors Mrs. Beck

At noon a luncheon was held in the high school cafeteria honoring Mrs. Beck. Mrs. Alfred Roebuch, district chairman of International Affairs, presided. The theme of the luncheon was "International Relations". Mrs. F. A. McCartney led the invocation.

The luncheon program was presented by the students of International House. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, directors of the International House, were introduced and Mrs. Jones told of the purpose of the program. The following students took part on the program: Mildred Fernandez, Benjamin Nodal, Dora Miranda, Cuba; Renate Graf, Switzerland; Hans Struth, Germany; Jacques Corman, Belgium; Pierre Perron, Canada; Fritz Buhman, Holland; Odile Sawicka, France; Rolanda Goetze, Venezuela; Stitara Sirasinha, Thailand; Katherine Cooper, Dothan; Jean Pittman, College Park, Ga.; Virginia Voss, Fruithurst; William Jackson, Vincent; Helen Smith, Anniston.

Afterwards a tea was given at the beautiful new home management house with Mrs. Mary L. Lowrey and members of the home economics staff in charge.

The state convention of the federation was extended an invitation to hold the 1955 meeting on this campus.

It's hard to believe that this country was founded partly to avoid taxation.

"TWIRP"

Continued from front page chairman, and her committee. The girls will have a chance to treat the boys to plenty of entertainment this week. The big Jacksonville-Austin Peay football game at Gadsden Saturday night will give the girls a chance to repay the poor menfolk and ease the strain on the pocket book.

The co-eds also have a chance to do a little constructive work over the week-end when they can take their best boy friends to church Sunday morning and night. "Twirp Season" will continue through next Wednesday, which will be the final date night for the program.

The week's program will be the usual preliminary to the big Sophomore Hop, the first formal dance of the 1953-54 school year. The ball has been scheduled for Wednesday, night, November 18, when the Auburn Knights will furnish four hours of music for dancing.

A contract probably will be signed with the Knights later this week in order to provide entertainment by one of the best known dance bands in the state.

announced that all payments due on books already sold must be made by Nov. 10. The staff must have full payment on the date due in order to determine how many books will be needed.

The first copy for the annual will be sent to Taylor Publishing Company on Nov. 20, and an initial payment on all books must be made by Nov. 15. The first copy will be at least eighty pages and will include the introduction, the administration, part of the activities, the class sections, and the summer section.

Another shipment of copy will be made in December, including sports, features, military and organizations. Any late copy will be mailed to the printers on the first day of February. The copy schedule calls for the delivery of the annuals during April.

The feature section will be completed in November, according to the production schedule. It will include the class beauties, class favorites, and the Homecoming and Fiesta queens. Each of the classes will select its favorites during the second week of November.

Any student who wishes to have snapshots published in the 1954 annual must turn them in to Ann Bennett, feature editor or Harry Sherman, editor, within the next two weeks.

FBLA Selects New Leaders; Open Activities

The Jacksonville Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America announces the election of the following officers for 1953-54:

Herbert Griffin, president; Helen Thompson, 1st vice-president; Joyce Maddux, 2nd vice-president; Katie Smith, secretary; Jack Collins, treasurer-business manager; Margaret Ann Carter, publicity director.

Faculty sponsors are Miss Lucille Branscomb and Mrs. Lawrence Hicks.

The FBLA is a national society open to all business students. Its purpose is to provide leadership training for the individual and the opportunity to participate in group activities.

In addition to local projects, the Jacksonville Chapter of FBLA has assumed the leadership in promoting business education in Alabama high schools and colleges. As the first college chapter in Alabama, the Jacksonville FBLA sponsored the organization of the Alabama State Chapter and has been responsible for the formation of 15 high school chapters and one other college chapter during 1952-53. It was host to the first annual state convention in 1952 and to the second state convention in May 1953, when Jacksonville was honored by the election of two of its business students as state president and treasurer of the Alabama Chapter for 1953-54: Charles Huguley, President, and Jack Collins, Treasurer. The national FBLA office appointed Miss Branscomb as state director of the organization.

FACULTY MEMBERS HIT BY ILLNESS

The faculty has been hard hit by illness recently, and recent reports on their progress will be of interest.

Prof. E. J. Landers was brought home from the Baptist Hospital in Gadsden several weeks ago and is making steady progress.

Dr. Charles E. Cayley, who suffered a heart attack while vacationing in Canada in August, was flown to Birmingham and entered in the Jefferson-Hillman Hospital for treatment. This week he was brought home and is reported to be improving.

Mr. Liston Crow underwent an operation at the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital recently and is convalescing at home.

VISITORS

From Arkansas they went to Georgia, where under the direction of the Department of Education, they visited three different schools in East Point, Ga., and made a study of the school lunch-room program. They were taken to the Milledgeville State College for Women and saw the home economics department there. They also visited elementary and high schools, and homemaking classes.

Teacher Training in Alabama

Coming to Alabama, they were briefed on their stay here by Miss Ruth Stovall, state supervisor. At Holt High School, one stop on their itinerary, they saw how the school and community work together, and how students learn the skills in wood working shops, freezer plants, barber shops, beauty shops, etc. Miss Julia Menifee, state supervisor of the central district, accompanied them on this trip.

They had a half-day at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn and were given a glimpse of its vast agriculture and home economics program under the direction of Dr. Rebecca Pate, Miss Ruby Lea Robinson, Dean Zebulon Judd, Dean Marion Spidle, Dr. W. L. Davis and others. They were particularly interested in teacher training in home economics education there. Mrs. Glennie I. Nybeck, supervisor of the southeastern district, was their guide at Auburn.

Coming to Calhoun County with Miss Cotney, they visited the Alexandria High School where Mrs. Pearl Brown is the homemaking teacher, and they visited in the homes of several Alexandria students. They went to the Calhoun County Training School at Hobson City and were favorably impressed with the work being done by colored students. They also called at the office of Dr. Frank Newell, county superintendent of education.

Arriving in Jacksonville Friday morning, they spent a few hours in the home making department of the Jacksonville High School of which Mrs. Jessie Newell is director. They observed homemaking classes being taught by practice teachers and were taken on a tour of the new home economics building which is being erected for the high school.

During their week-end on the campus they also had an opportunity to observe the college life of the average American student.

Their tour in Alabama will be completed on Monday when they go to the Alabama School of Trades in Gadsden. They will then return to Montgomery, thence to Washington to make a report of their entire tour. They will spend a week in New York City sightseeing before their return to Germany.

The result of an experience like this one cannot be estimated, for in Germany Miss Loesener and Miss Becker come in contact with many people, both youths and adults. Miss Loesener, in the past, has traveled from country to country helping to develop farm production by advertising the population about methods in homemaking and agriculture. This type of worker spends a month in each community, speaking and teaching the youth and adults. Since World War II, Germany is divided into small farms, and the government is trying to develop the farms to a growing and successful enterprise. When Miss Loesener returns, she will be given a new assignment, and will be in charge of preparing literature for this program. She considers that her trip to the United States has been an important one to her.

Miss Becker is a teacher and extension worker. Each county has a separate school for farm girls and boys. She teaches farm girls, who are the future farm wives of the country, and they in turn return to their various communities to set examples for the rest of the people living there. They stay at the school during the week and return to their homes on week-ends. They only go to these schools from late fall to early spring because they work in the fields during the planting and harvesting seasons. Girls in these classes are usually 18 to 20 years old, sometimes older. The effort is made in these schools to develop the type woman who will make for good, substantial farm homes. Germany has had schools of this kind for boys since 1870, and for girls since 1930.

During the months that the schools are closed, the teachers do extension work.

Miss Loesener and Miss Becker speak English well, and both expressed their pleasure at being in this country. They have had some difficulty in understanding Southern children because they stur over words frequently but on the whole they have been able to understand very well. Both seemed to feel that they will be able to carry back many good ideas from this country, a better understanding of the democratic process, and a genuine friendliness toward the people because of the hospitable manner in which they were received.

Many people have social circles under their eyes!

Mrs. Beck delivered the president's message, outlining her theme and objectives for the year. Her theme is "Preservation of Our American Heritage Through Youth and Adult Training". Mrs. D. O. Gibson of Gorgas led the club institute, assisted by Mrs. Strang, and objectives of the Division of Public Education were presented by Mrs. Laura Hadley. Mrs. J. C. Smith made an appeal for the Adult Blind Workshop.

An award of $5.00 was offered by the district chairman on International Affairs to the club selling the most stamps before the spring meeting for the purpose of contributing earmarked funds for the International Endowment Foundation Fund.
