Bish. Oldham To Visit Here For Program

The Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, D. D., S. T. D., retired Bishop of Albany, will be the guest speaker for the annual "Religious Emphasis Week" here, beginning October 12. The prominent churchman has accepted the invitation to speak to Jacksonville students in daily services to be held in Leone Cole Auditorium.

The Rt. Rev. Oldham is a brother of the Rev. John L. Oldham, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Jacksonville. During his visit here, the retired bishop will make his home with his brother at 311 East Ladiga Street.

Bishop Oldham is a frequent speaker at colleges and universities and has addressed student assemblies at Cornell, Williams, Columbia, Russell Sage, Emma Williard, Vassar, Skidmore, Elmira, Catham Hall, Syracuse, Union, Hamilton, and the University of Vermont.

Early in his episcopate as third Bishop of Albany, the well-known religious leader was selected for a mission of comity and goodwill by the Council for Interchange of Preachers and Speakers, receiving the appointment to spend the summer of 1925 preaching in cathedrals and parish churches in England. Since then, the Rt. Rev. Oldham has visited many of the countries of the European continent, Asia and Australia.

Receiving early recognition as a leader in world peace and Christian unity, he represented the Episcopal Church in 1937 at the Conference of Life and Work

College Heads Express Hope For Great Year

A new year begins today for an estimated 1,200 students as Jacksonville opens its 71st regular session. College officials are expecting the enrollment to continue at a high level, and the estimated number of students will be registered by the end of the week.

Entering freshmen report for examinations today, while registration opens for upper classmen. Freshmen and upper classmen will continue to register through tomorrow, and regular classes will begin on Wednesday. Registration for evening classes was held on Thursday.

Changes Being Made

The new year will see several changes here. The semester system will replace the old quarter system, new members will join the faculty, new buildings are being erected, an several new organizations will make their appearances.

The student organizations also will begin to function actively by the end of next week in an effort to preserve and improve the high school spirit and friendly atmosphere at Jacksonville. SGA inauguration, freshman assemblies and parties, class elections, and the first football game of the year will highlight the student activities during the first three weeks.

Dr. Cole, Dean Wood and other members of the college administration and faculty hope to make this year the best ever inaugurated here, both scholastically and socially. The Student Government Association under the leadership

First Semester Under System Change Starts

Jacksonville makes its transit from the old quarter system to the recommended semester system today. The college has been operating with the quarter system since it was first established as the old State Normal School in 1883. The change is considered a progressive step undertaken to keep pace with the development of new educational methods.

The new system is being inaugurated because the administration and faculty believe that it will be advantageous to the college and student body. President Houston Cole has pointed out that in the past teachers' colleges have worked primarily with the public school system of the state. Before the advent of the nine-month public school term, many teachers taught the required number of months and then entered college in the spring for the spring and summer quarters to work toward their degrees.

Since the public school term has been lengthened, teachers have had less time for the spring quarter. The nine-week summer quarter session under the semester will suffice for teachers who must return to their schools for the interim session which makes up for the "cotton picking" season.

For students who are not teachers, the semester system will eliminate some of the interruptions, such as quarter exams and registration. College authorities believe that it will make for higher scholarship, since there will be

GREETINGS FRESHMEN—Welcome to the most beautiful campus in Alabama. It's complete with decorations, including this month's Gem of the Hills, Miss Virginia Berry.

Frosh Open School With Social Events

The freshman orientation program will receive special emphasis here this week, according to the plans announced by Dr. Houston Cole. The program actually started yesterday with the opening of the college dormitories for new freshman campus residents.

The first assembly of the entering freshmen is scheduled for 9:45 o'clock this morning when the English placement tests will be given. Algebra placement tests for math majors will be given tomorrow morning, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Student Clubs Are Important In School Life

Campus organizations have become an important part of Jacksonville's student life and are recognized as contributing a great deal toward the development of leadership and character among the students who take an active part in campus activities.

Each year, college officials and student leaders attempt to stress the importance of the organizations which have become a part of college life during the past several years. Each student should join at least one organization during his stay at Jacksonville and should take an active part in any of the activities sponsored by the organization.

Participation in the activities of the student organizations can add much to college life, and a student's education is far from complete until he learns to create new friendships and work harmoniously with his fellow students. Jacksonville's student organizations are a proving ground for leadership, initiative, personality, and character.

The organizations listed below are open to students who wish to take an active part in campus extra-curricular life. Look them over and pick the organization which interests you.

THE MASQUE AND WIG GUILD

The Masque and Wig Guild, the dramatic organization, was organized in 1947. Since that time it has presented stage plays, radio shows, chapel programs, and special skits. Membership is gained through open tryouts which are announced publicly in the fall and spring of the year. Plays are given twice a year and in the interim, radio shows are presented over local stations.

It is a policy of the organization that members actively participate in all projects so that valuable experience in all phases of dramatics may be accomplished. The Masquer's pin is awarded to those students who gain enough points to qualify for it; points are given in proportion to the work done on projects. THE MASQUE, a trophy awarded for the best performance, is given to the best actor in each play, determined by three judges in the audience.

Meetings are held once a month, or more often as is necessary.

See ORGANIZATIONS, Page 8

A special assembly will be held this afternoon in the Little Auditorium, when the freshmen will receive a personal welcome from Dr. Cole, the college president. Arlie Gunter, president of the Student Government Association, also will welcome the first semester students on behalf of the entire student body. He will explain the student handbook and will offer other information valuable to the new students.

The freshmen were greeted today by the first issue of the Teacola, which contains information concerning all phases of the college administration, organization, and activities.

Registration for the new students will begin tomorrow afternoon.

A round of social events and "get-acquainted" parties are scheduled for the first week, beginning with a get-together planned by the Physical Education Department for the gymnasium tonight. A theatre party will be given by the Princess Theatre tomorrow night, and the churches of Jacksonville will hold an open house Wednesday night.

Plenty of fun is assured for Thursday night when the freshmen attend a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cole. The season's first pep rally will be held Thursday night before the Gamecocks leave for the opening game of the 1953 football season at Livingston.

mer of 1925 preaching in cathedrals and parish churches in England. Since then, the Rt. Rev. Oldham has visited many of the countries of the European continent, Asia and Australia.

Receiving early recognition as a leader in world peace and Christian unity, he represented the Episcopal Church in 1937 at the Conference of Life and Work, Oxford, and on Faith Edinburgh. He was the American delegate at the Continuation Committee, World Conference on Faith and Order at Clarens, Switzerland, in 1938. In the same year he represented the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches at Larvik, Norway.

Since 1935 Bishop Oldham has been president of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches. He served for fifteen years as president of the Albany branch of the Foreign Policy Association and is still Honorary President. He is a member of the English-Speaking Union, the Pilgrims of America, Council on Foreign Relations, Newcomen Society, and the Church Peace Union.

Bishop Oldham was appointed by the Presiding Bishop to represent the Episcopal Church at the Centenary of the Church of England in Australia, a tour of three months, October to December, 1947 which included a visit to Hawaii. The Bishop preached in the various Anglican Cathedrals and a number of parish churches, addressed the Melbourne Church Congress, youth gathering, the Mothers' Union Festival, university groups, and meetings of the English-Speaking Union and of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches.

Miss Johnston is the daughter of Mrs. A. P. Johnston and the late Mr. Johnston. Her father was an alumnus of the old State Normal which became Jacksonville State Teachers College.

Miss Johnston is a graduate of Judson College and has a master's degree from Columbia University, majoring in library science. For a number of years she did library work in the Birmingham schools before coming to the Jacksonville High School as librarian. She has served as president of the Alabama Library Association and is active in the American Library Association. She is highly regarded in library circles all over the state.

Miss Johnston is a devoted member of the First Baptist Church, and has been prominently identified with the work of the Junior Red Cross.

She will begin her new duties next week when the fall session opens.

vice will be the first of its kind ever staged at Jacksonville and will include much of the pageantry that usually goes with initiation ceremonies.

The inaugural ceremony is being planned by Miss Lucille Branscomb, with the assistance of Dr. Cole and the SGA officers. It will be held during the regular Wednesday assembly period, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Arlie Gunter, a senior from Geraldine, will be officially installed as the new president of the Student Government Association, the highest student honor that can be received here. His fellow officers who will take the oath of office are: Travis Walker, a junior from Walnut Grove, vice-president; Elaine McGraw, Gunterville, junior, secretary; and Ben Nodal, a senior from Havanna, Cuba, treasurer.

The officers were chosen by student ballot during the regular Student Government elections held last spring. Gunter will replace Homer Stephens, who served as SGA president during the regular session of 1952-53. The vacancy was filled during the summer quarter by Dixie Brown, who was selected in a special election of the spring Student Council.

The new Student Government Association will be complete after the third week when the class officers for the year will take office. The newly-elected president, Student Government representatives, and the social chairman of each class will form the sixteen-member legislative body which meets twice monthly.

The Student Government Association is responsible for enacting legislation which affects the students directly. The laws are passed by the class representatives, and are subject to approval of the college administration.

The Student Government president holds the most important office that can be filled by a student here, and he plays a major part in all of the activities concerning the students.

Mr. J. M. Anders, head of the history department, serves as faculty advisor for the student congress.

parties, class elections, and the first football game of the year will highlight the student activities during the first three weeks.

Dr. Cole, Dean Wood and other members of the college administration and faculty hope to make this year the best ever inaugurated here, both scholastically and socially. The Student Government Association, under the leadership of Arlie Gunter and Mr. Anders, expects to begin one of its most active years and will initiate a program aimed at improving student relations through recreation and other activities.

The new semester system should produce higher scholastic averages, and an expanded program for recognizing the top scholars will provide more incentive to work than has been provided in previous sessions.

New Organizations

The new year also will see the beginning of at least three new organizations. The Jacksonville Young Democrats, a member of the state and national Young Democrats, will begin its first full year here. The Alpha Phi Omega, a national honor fraternity for former Boy Scouts, will be organized under the direction of Dr. Self. A new honor society for student leaders also will be organized before the end of the first semester and will be open to students of proven ability as scholars and leaders.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

College Mourns Sudden Death Of Mrs. C. R. Wood, Librarian

Jacksonville lost one of its most beloved faculty members during the summer holidays when Mrs. Ramona Wood, wife of the college dean, died suddenly on August 30 at her home.

The death of Mrs. Wood came within three months after the untimely passing of Miss Dora Wood, who had served the college faithfully in several positions for many years. Both of the late faculty members will be honored with memorial pages in the 1954 Mimosa.

Mrs. Wood had been librarian at Jacksonville State Teachers College since 1921. She was a graduate of the old State Normal and held a B. S. degree in library science and an M. A. degree from Peabody College. She was a member of the Progressive Study Club; the Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women; the American Library Association and the Womens Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Cole, Dean Greet Students

Jacksonville students, old and new, received a word of welcome from the offices of the college president and dean today. The messages from the school's top officials are printed below.

The college welcomes the new students who are enrolling with us for the first time. We are also happy to see former students back on the campus.

The new year beckons with high resolve to all of us—students, faculty, and administration. It can be, and I think will be, the best year in the history of the institution.

Life has become a complicated process. The stress and strain on the individual is much greater than was the case in years gone by. The times call for educated minds, high character, and great courage. This college is dedicated to the task of leading students in this direction.

The value of this college year to you will depend largely upon your own resolve and determination. It can be of lasting value these organizations until recent months when her health had been failing. She had been an outstanding citizen of Jacksonville for the past 35 years.

must return to their schools for the interim session which makes up for the "cotton picking" season.

For students who are not teachers, the semester system will eliminate some of the interruptions, such as quarter exams and registration. College authorities believe that it will make for higher scholarship, since there will be longer periods in the class rooms, more time to master subjects, and more intensive training.

Jacksonville makes the change to the semester system along with Alabama's other teachers' colleges, and will join the University among the state schools operating four-month sessions.

According to the registrar's office, students should have no trouble making the change from the old to the new. The normal load for the average student will remain at 16 hours, while veterans attending school under the GI bill still are required to take at least 13 hours to receive full pay. Under the semester system, a student completes a full college year in two sessions, instead of attending three quarters under the old system. A graduating senior must have 128 hours under the semester system to earn a degree, compared with 192 quarter hours.

The first semester, which begins today, will continue through next January, with time off for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. The second semester begins February 4 and will be completed on June 8.

Mimosa Will Open 1954 Class Photo Drive In October

Class photographs for the 1954 Mimosa will be made during the fourth week of school, according to an announcement made by Jacksonville's annual staff. Ed Cosper, commercial photographer from Anniston, will begin taking the portraits on October 5.

Appointments for students living off the campus will be made during registration this week. Photographs for students living on the campus will be made in the dormitories after the evening meals.

A one dollar charge will be made for the pictures in order to cover the expenses of having them made. The cost to the student will be considered as a down payment on the 1954 book, leaving a balance of three dollars to be paid before November 15.

Any student who buys an annual before his portrait is made will not be charged for his individual picture. According to plans, four different poses will be taken of each student, and the proofs will be shown later this fall.

Your Student Democracy

Jacksonville's entering freshmen will have an excellent opportunity to watch democracy in action here this year. They will have a chance to observe and participate in a legislative system modeled after state and national congressional bodies. The Student Government Association owes these new freshmen and the old students a lot of constructive legislation, and the prospects are good that Arlie Gunter and his fellow officers will provide the leadership for a great year in the SGA.

There are many ways that the Student Government can prove to be an invaluable asset to the college and the student body. It has a tradition to uphold and new horizons to explore. What it does during the next nine months will leave a lasting impression upon the students and the members who are responsible for the actions taken by the group. In a very definite sense, the SGA is the life of the student body. It is a very important part of our school, and it deserves all of the respect which the administration and the students hold for it.

However, the officers and the members of the Student Government are responsible to the students. The action they take is supposed to be the will of the majority, passed with due respect to existing laws and regulations. Like any worthwhile governing body, the Student Government depends upon the electors for opinions and approvals of its laws. Without the expressed opinion of the students, the SGA cannot operate as it should, no matter how efficient the officers and representatives happen to be.

Therefore, it is the duty of every student to take an active interest in the affairs of the Student Government Association, support its good laws, and disapprove oppressive legislation.

Start the new school year off right by electing the most capable representatives to serve on your Student Council. Examine their records for integrity, leadership, and initiative. Steer clear of the deadheads who are seeking offices purely for the publicity, and then make sure that your representatives are doing their jobs as active members.

Remember, the Student Government Association is your congress. The laws it passes affect you in the same manner that state and national laws affect you on a larger scale. The needed legislation that the Student Council fails to pass is your loss, and you are directly responsible.

Invest In Your Yearbook

Yearbooks and old coins have something in common—they grow more valuable with the passing years. No token of campus life can claim the sentimental value of a dog-eared yearbook that has been worn by constant use. Even though the pages may become soiled and torn, the contents remain priceless and grow more mellow with age. Nothing can bring back memories of college life as much as a student yearbook that is crammed with pictures and thoughtful words.

A college yearbook can be an important factor in maintaining a high spirit among the alumni long after the students have finished their academic work. The book ties the graduate to his alma mater, and each time he thumbs through his priceless volume he returns to the campus where he spent four of the best years of his life. His old school mates, his instructors, his classes, and his activities are recorded for life in vivid illustrations.

The college yearbook does more than provide graduates with a pictorial record of their school days. It is one of the best means of publicity that a college can produce. A good book is a direct enticement to the high school senior who is undecided about his future schooling. When a prospective college student compares the merits of the competing schools on the basis of college life portrayed by yearbooks, the college with the most attractive annual is most certain to gain another freshman.

Jacksonville students should consider their yearbook as an indispensable part of the college, and they should be willing to support it in every way possible. Not only does it provide a lasting means of enjoyment, but it is also a direct contribution to the growth of the school.

The 1954 MIMOSA can be the biggest and best annual ever published by Jacksonville students. A lot of work has gone into the first stages of production for the new volume, and a lot more will be done before the book is sent to the printers in January of next year. The success of the 1954 annual depends directly upon what is accomplished in the advertising and sales campaigns. The plans which have been drawn up for the new MIMOSA will need approximately $4,000 for completion. If the goal is reached, Jacksonville will have a yearbook that will compare favorably with any book published by a school of comparable size anywhere in the South.

If each student will support his annual through subscriptions and photograph campaigns, the goal is sure to be achieved. In fact, if three-fourths of the students enrolled at Jacksonville will buy a 1954 book, the sale of advertisements will be of relatively minor importance.

College Days Can Be Happy Days; Make The Best Of Them

The TEACOLA staff would like to take this opportunity to welcome the student body of JSTC's 1953-54 school year; especially do we welcome the great number of beginning freshmen who have come to our school to continue their education. We wish for you, all of the success and happiness that is possible for you to obtain now and in the future.

NOTES FOR VETERANS

Jacksonville's Veterans' Office has been set up to assist all former servicemen who are attending school under any of the GI bills. The office will be open through most of the day to assist with any of the problems which may be facing veterans enrolled here.

However, the office must have the full cooperation of the veteran in order to make the training program as efficient as possible. Dr. Self, the college Veterans' Affairs officer, has provided the following notes to assist the ex-servicemen to receive his training allowance with the least amount of difficulty possible.

1. Have you been to the Veterans Affairs Office to see if your enrollment under the GI Bill is in order?

2. Each veteran must have a Certificate of Eligibility before enrollment can be completely processed.

3. The Veteran must attend classes regularly and make satisfactory progress before the college can certify to the student's sub-

Welcome to the "Gem of the Hills" and to Fred's Fabulous Fables. Since the summer quarter, this column of literary trash has been completely removed from a front page position to one more suitable to its taste.

It has been one long month since the end of the summer quarter. I didn't think so much could happen to one person in one month. I've been drafted and shafted, died and cried, all in 30 days.

While on the subject of the summer quarter, we would like to congratulate the summer social committee for three months crammed full of activity. Let's keep things going this fall.

Our new S. G. A. officers, Arlie Gunter, Travis Walker, Elaine McGraw, and Ben Nodal, show promise of supplying us with a year of first-class student government.

The 1954 "Mimosa" seems to be floating along in a great way... via sweat from its editor's brow. Namely, one Harry Sherman. Better buy that copy now. It promises to be the best in the history of the school.

For the past two weeks a group of students have been working hard to keep up the good name of the Gamecock's football team. From all indications we are going to continue to have one of the best small college ball teams in the South. Needless to say, every student will attend all the games and continue to show the same high spirit that we have had in the past.

We had the New Deal. Then came the Fair Deal. Now the South Koreans come along seeking a Rhee Deal.

I guess it would be best to completely ruin this column with another fable. With safety-first in mind, I would like to dedicate this one to the freshmen.

South have been saddened by the sudden death of Ramona Middleton Wood on Sunday morning, August 30.

Mrs. Wood was prominent as a citizen because she identified herself positively with many worthwhile projects in the community and the state. She was a devout church member and worker in the Jacksonville Methodist Church but she was far more than the conventional church member—she was a rich, true and inspiring Christian. Ramona Wood was an active member of the American Association of University Women and a charter member of the Progressive Study Club. As a club member, she served as president during the second year of its organization. In the State Teachers College, every faculty member and student knew her. "To know her was but to love her". Needless to say, she was greatly beloved.

Ramona Wood was a gracious and lovely woman at all times. Her influence will be keenly felt throughout Alabama where school libraries have been staffed by young people trained under her thoughtful and sincere guidance. Through the lives of many young men and women who 'caught the gleam' in Mrs. Wood's inspiring eye, as she so ably and efficiently directed the State Teachers College Library, her influence will continue to live. There are many men and women holding responsible positions in Alabama today who would never have achieved success had it not been for Ramona Wood's financial aid to deserving students. Only Ramona Wood's closest and dearest friends knew of her sacrificial service to these young leaders.

As a neighbor and friend, Ramona Wood was at her best. Her home was always a delightful place to visit. Whether in her kitchen, her living room, or in the wide open spaces on her lawn, she portrayed such natural charm and tactfulness that too often her guests were hesitant about taking their leave.

To those of us who have known Ramona so well, so closely and so long, the following lines seem almost to have been spoken by her:

Let me be a little kinder, let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be when I am weary, just a little more cheery;
Let me serve a little better those that I am striving for . . .
Let me be a little braver when temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder to be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of me.

We, who have known Ramona Middleton Wood for a little while, or longer, either as the faithful, loving wife, the affectionate mother, or as a friend and neighbor will continue to

In the love of There as the love of Her.
Think of her still as the same.

Religion In Schools

Few problems of our educational system have required such consistently delicate handling as that of religious instruction in the public schools. Although it is a rare parent who actually objects to a short devotional and courts have leaned over backward to avoid any suspicion that teachers might be forcing religion on any child.

In the several legal suits over supposed religious bias in the school room, the principle of freedom of worship has been rigidly upheld, even when this meant the exclusion of any form of religion from the school.

Yet United States Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, even as he cast a vote against formal religious instruction in public schools, voiced this thought:

"One can hardly respect a system of education that would leave the student wholly ignorant of the currents of religious thought that move the world society for a part in which he is, being prepared."

Substantially the same view might have been expressed this Summer by the American Association for Colleges for Teacher Education, a department of the National Education Association, when it accepted a $30,000 grant from the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis to "develop religious literacy" among prospective teachers.

Working through a dozen or so teachers' colleges, the group will set up educational machinery for training these young men and women to deal intelligently and reverently with religion whenever it comes into the learning process.

It is quite likely that the project will invite criticism from those who do not understand its purpose, but in reality it has little or no formal religious connotation. It is based on the sensible premise that a teacher who has no fundamental knowledge of religion—one of the moving forces of the world's progress—is not well prepared to teach or even understand history, literature, or other allied subjects.

We would not hire a teacher who did perhaps the scope of the "teaching about religion" program can best be expressed in the words of the Educational Policies Commission on Moral and Spiritual Values in Public Schools, when it stated recently:

"The words and attitude of the teacher should be such as to reassure each child that his religious benefits are considered to be right for him, so that he will feel comfortable with his own creed or lack of creed.

"The public school can teach objectively about religion without advocating any religious creed. To omit from the classroom all references to religion . . . is to neglect an important part of American life.

"Although the public schools cannot teach denominational beliefs, they can and should teach much useful information about religious faiths, the important part they have played in establishing moral and spiritual values in American life, and their role in the story of mankind."

With the present unrest, instability, and disorder—international, national, intersectional, local, group, and personal—the world should appear more real and life seem more serious to you than for students of the past decade. It would seem that you, more than they, should stop to think a little, to evaluate procedures, to judge people and movements, to plan for life.

You have left home, job and loved ones that you might come here to better prepare yourself to live. Life is here just as much as out there. As you are in the school community this fall, you will be in the larger community after you have left school. If you hope to be a leader in your community when you are fifty, begin by leading in college; if you hope some day to be rich, begin by being frugal of resources and time his fall; if you would be respected and admired late, begin by being admirable now; if you would have people care for you when you are older, begin by knowing and being interested in people while you are in college.

SO WHAT?
Study enough so that you will be familiar with what is being discussed in class, and so that you will not be worried for fear you may be asked a question.

Keep posted in what is going on about you and in the world at large.

College days are some of the happiest days of our lives, and it's true that they fly by too swiftly, but there are certain courses that must be studied and passed. We must not let the social side of life overshadow our school work too greatly, for we are in college primarily to obtain an education. If every day finds us with our lessons prepared, we will discover that studying is not a dreadful chore, but a pleasure.

Mankind is social minded. We do not like to live alone, and some of the best places for our social spirit to develop are in the clubs, at ball games and dances, and other extra-curricular activities of the campus. By taking part in the work of these organizations we can develop well-rounded personalities.

The high standards of J. S. T. C. in leadership, character, and achievement have inspired each of us to strive harder to make our school career here successful and to maintain the high spirit of our Alma Mater. We are all duty bound to study, think, and live in such a manner as to add something to the life of our school and to the welfare of our nation.

FABLE OF THE MONTH: A freshman (boy-dog by sex) strolled up to a street corner and waited for the traffic light to change. Just as he began to cross, he saw a beautiful coed standing at the bus stop. He hurried across and turned around to get a better view, but, much to his disappointment, she had caught a bus and was slowly riding out of his sight. MORAL: ALWAYS LOOK BEFORE CROSSING THE STREET.

The Faculty Speaks Educational Methods Are Based Upon Personal Need

By Dr. Reuben Self

Teacher education is concerned with the development of professional competency. This is an inclusive concept involving personal, social, cultural and intellectual growth along with vocational competency. The several aspects of professional competency are not inculcated separately. In fact, a program of teacher education which is psychologically sound provides for the simultaneous development of all the many-sided aspects of the individual. Rightly conceived and administered, teacher education manifests no cleavage between the vocational and the academic aspects of the program. All are parts of an integrated whole. In providing for this all-round maturation of the trainee a teacher-education program utilizes functionaries who, although concerned with the total development process, are specialists in a single area of growth. One of these types of functionaries is the educationist, the specialist who is especially concerned with educational theory and methods of the other hand, he might learn to despise the subject, to fool the teacher, to get a mark without effort, to cheat examination, or to wiggle his ears to amuse the students on the back row. The meaning gleaned from instruction are contingent not so much upon what is taught as upon the manner in which content is presented. The way a student feels about content and about himself in relation to it is far more important than the subject matter presented.

Educational theory takes into account the whole learning situation at the very heart of this learning situation is the learner, probing into his environment for meanings and values. Educational experience must be organized in such a manner that the quest for meanings will not be in vain. Those experiences have value for the learner which fulfill his basic needs. Among these basic needs are the preservation and enhancement of the person and the maintenance of self esteem. Experiences which fulfill such needs of students are meaningful to them and are fully accepted. Experiences which fail to fulfill basic needs are rejected. Educational method is concerned with the learner, his all-round process of growth and maturation, and also with the meanings and values which are organized about this process. A procedure in education based solely upon content and upon factors external to the learner and his system of meaning might frustrate or completely distort the process of human development.

Found this interesting little observation on the so-called weaker sex in "Sideliner" the other day: "Whenever you hear some fellow say he can read women like a book, it's a safe bet the guy is too old to start a library."

Class Elections Will Be Held During 3rd Week

All Candidates Must Qualify By Next Friday

The election of class officers for the new school year will be held on Friday, October 2, in accordance with the constitution of the Student Government Association. All four classes will meet on the selected date to choose the eight officers who will serve as class leaders through next May.

The procedure for the election of class officers, as outlined in the student constitution, calls for nominations to be completed by 3:30 o'clock on Friday, September 25. According to Arlie Gunter, SGA president, forms for nominations will be available next Monday and may be obtained from Elaine McGraw, SGA secretary.

The forms must be signed by the candidate and returned to the SGA for approval before a student can qualify for a position as a class officer. In order to qualify for any class office, the candidate must be enrolled as a regular student with the full intention of remaining at Jacksonville for at least one scholastic year. All candidates must have at least a "C" average for all work done at Jacksonville.

The eight officers to be elected by each class will include the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, two Student Government representatives, a social chairman, and a reporter. The president, SGA representatives, and the social chairman will serve as members of the Student Government Association and are expected to meet with the SGA at each of the regular sessions.

The candidates will have a week for campaigning before the elections are held. Each class will meet separately, with the class faculty advisor acting as chairman, and the elections will be conducted according to popular vote.

In order to stress the importance of the class offices, the following duties are outlined for each position:

(1) It shall be the duty of the president of each class to call and preside over the meetings of his class. He shall be vested with the power of appointing the various committees necessary for carrying out class functions and social ac-

GAMECOCKS HAVE MASCOT—The Gamecocks at Jacksonville State College have a real live gamecock as a mascot. This registered gamecock was purchased by the Students Government Association. Herb Griffin of Birmingham is caretaker for the bird, which makes its home in a coop outside Pannell Hall. Griffin attracted attention when he entered college by going out for football even though he had an artificial leg. He lost his left leg when was a small boy rescuing his dog from a street car track. Herb and the gamecock will be on hand at all athletic events.

ROTC Regulations For Newest School Session Are Outlined

New Changes In Draft Laws Are Explained

A recent change in Alabama Selective Service Laws specifies that an individual who fails to pass 60 percent of his college work in any one term or semester will permanently lose his deferment. "Incomplete" grades count as "failing to pass", a further incentive for one to get his work in on time.

A change in Army Regulations specifies that in the future candidates for commission must be receiving a degree, or have sufficient credits for a degree, at time of commissioning (this includes veterans).

Previously, commissions were earned in four years regardless of total credits accumulated. The Military Department has no information as to special considerations for students who carry light loads and are working their way through college.

Objective Restated

The objective of the ROTC program is to produce qualified second lieutenants in the Armed Forces during periods of emergency. In the present crisis students who attend college and take ROTC are deferred from their two years of required service until they have completed

Administration Changes In Military Dept. Listed

The Military Department is preparing for a record enrollment of 400 cadets in the ROTC program this fall. This reflects an increase of ten percent over last year, according to Lt. Col. James A. Blodgett, commanding officer.

Captain Dillard F. Jones, recently returned from Korea, has been assigned to replace Major E. B. Richardson, now en route to the Far East. Captain Jones is a native Alabamian who graduated from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and spent several years in agricultural extension work. He will instruct all the MSIII students.

Captain Lawson D. Franklin has been assigned as an additional officer. He calls Florida his home and he graduated from the University with A. B. and B. S. degrees. He has just returned from service with occupation forces in Germany. Capt. Franklin will teach freshman subjects.

Lt. Col. Blodgett will teach sophomore subjects and Major Frank Freeman will handle the seniors this year. Other staff members include Master Sergeant John R. Wix as Sergeant Major; Master Sergeant Turnipseed as Rifle Team coach; Sergeant First Class Hendrix as chief of the firing battery; Sergeant First Class Brasseale as communications chief and Sergeant Knott as supply sergeant.

Changes in Drill Period

Tryouts For Rifle Teams Awaiting Finish Of Range

Several rifle matches have already been scheduled for the ROTC Rifle Team, and tryouts will take place as soon as the new six-point rifle range is ready. Regulars on the team receive appropriate athletic awards.

No matches have been scheduled for the Girls Rifle Team, but it too will meet as soon as the range is ready. Girls interested in trying out are urged to contact Master Sergeant Turnipseed at the ROTC building.

No Drill Squad as such is being organized this year. The entire sophomore class will receive advanced drill instruction.

'Mimosa' Staff Starts Fall Annual Work

Jacksonville's 1954 annual staff will begin four months of work today on the production of the biggest yearbook ever published by the college. Much of the work already has been completed on a 260-page annual that will cost approximately $4,000 before the final plans are completed.

The new Mimosa will include several features which were missing in previous annual publications here. It will be a complete record of all of the activities at Jacksonville since the spring quarter. A 20-page summer section, including class portraits, instructors and all of the summer activities by Harry Sherman, editor, and Mr. James C. Wilkes, faculty advisor. though college.

Objective Restated

The objective of the ROTC program is to produce qualified second lieutenants in the Armed Forces during periods of emergency. In the present crisis students who attend college and take ROTC are deferred from their two years of required service until they have completed college and ROTC and have received a commission, at which time they are called to perform the deferred service as second lieutenants. This arrangement permits students to complete their education.

The two years of Basic ROTC are required at Jacksonville for all physically-fit freshmen and sophomores. Those excused from ROTC are required to take a physical education course in its place. College credit is given for ROTC as for any other course, one credit per semester for Basic and three credits per semester for Advanced, which count toward the total credits required for graduation.

A Tarrant High School senior has been awarded the first of a series of annual scholarships offered by Paul Snow, a Birmingham business man and an active alumnus of Jacksonville. The youth is James Winbond Terrell, Jr., of Birmingham. He will be listed among Jacksonville's entering freshmen here this fall.

The scholarship was established recently by Mr. Snow, who is one of the enthusiastic members of the college alumni. The award will be made yearly to an outstanding high school senior who can meet the qualifications set up for the $450 fund. The winner must have a scholastic average of "B" or above and must be approved by a selection committee.

The committee is currently composed of Dr. J. F. Glazner and L. W. Allison, two of Mr. Snow's former professors.

seniors this year. Other staff members include Master Sergeant John R. Wix as Sergeant Major; Master Sergeant Turnipseed as Rifle Team coach; Sergeant First Class Hendrix as chief of the firing battery; Sergeant First Class Brasseale as communications chief and Sergeant Knott as supply sergeant.

Changes in Drill Period

The weekly drill period has been moved to 1130 Friday. The cadet battalion will assemble and drill on the baseball field and main campus areas. Classroom sections of freshmen and sophomores will assemble as platoons on drill day, doing away with a separate drill assignment for each individual.

Key cadet officers are announced as Darwin C. Miller to be Cadet Lieutenant Colonel and Battery Commander; Jack R. Collins, Cadet Major and Battalion Executive in charge of extracurricular activities for the battalion; Forrest Killough, Cadet Major and Battalion S3, plans and operation for the weekly drill period; David W. Lacey, Cadet Captain and S1, in charge of drill day personnel assignments and rosters; Bobby Knight, Cadet Captain and S2, publicity and public relations; Guy E. Sims, Cadet Captain and S4, in charge of drill areas and equipment; Thomas K. Triplett, Cadet Captain and Battery Commander of Battery A; Ivan F. Smith, Cadet Captain and Battery Commander of Battery B; and Wayne Hopper, Cadet First Lieutenant and Commander of Headquarters Detachment.

High Rating at Summer Camp

gust. Forty-three MS-III participated, along with 2300 other college students from every state and from Hawaii. College groups were purposely broken up and distributed evenly throughout 24 different training units, so that Jacksonville students competed individually with students from Auburn, Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Texas A & M, V. M. I., and every other school represented. Each student was rated and ranked individually within his training unit. One-fourth of Jacksonville students were in the top ten percent of the camp, and five local students received awards for outstanding work.

Thirty-three second lieutenants were commissioned at Jacksonville during the past school year, including two students who received Regular Army commissions in competition with cadets all over the nation. These two men were selected in Washington on the basis of reports submitted from their summer camp, the college, and the Military Department. They were 2nd Lt. Johnny J. Churchill, and 2d Lt. Herbert H. Jones of Ashland, both on active duty at Fort Sill.

"Jacksonville has a first-rate unit, and I'm proud to be associated with it", stated Lt. Col. Blodgett, Professor of Military Science and Tactics. "Entering students should realize that every minute of their ROTC classes include information which they will soon be using, whether or not they continue ROTC."

In order to stress the importance of the class offices, the following duties are outlined for each position:

- (1) It shall be the duty of the president of each class to call and preside over the meetings of his class. He shall be vested with the power of appointing the various committees necessary for carrying out class functions and social activities. He shall also serve as a member of the Student Council.
- (2) The duties of the vice-president shall be the same as those of the president if and when for any reason he should become acting president.
- (3) It shall be the duty of the secretary of the class to keep the records of all class meetings and to handle all class correspondence. Records shall be kept in a special book and passed on from year to year.
- (4) The treasurer of each class shall receive all funds and shall dispense of them under the direction of the president and the class. He shall be required to keep an accurate record of all debits and credits and be ready at any time to open the books for inspection by the treasurer of the Student Government Association.
- (5) The social chairman of each class shall act as chairman of the social committees of the class and shall serve as a member of the social committee of the Student Council.
- (6) The Student Government Association representatives shall represent the members of the class in any legislation enacted by the Student Council.
- (7) The reporter shall be responsible for all publicity for the class and shall see that news articles concerning class functions are published.

page annual that will cost approximately $4,000 before the final plans are completed.

The new Mimosa will include several features which were missing in previous annual publications here. It will be a complete record of all of the activities at Jacksonville since the spring quarter. A 20-page summer section, including class portraits, instructors and all of the summer activities, already has been completed and will be among the first copy to be sent to the printers this fall.

A schedule for class portraits is being set up for commuters and campus residents. Ed Cosper, commercial photographer from Anniston, will make all of the class portraits and will begin work during the last week of October. Commuters will be given appointments for pictures when they register this week, while the campus residents will be photographed in the dormitories.

The 1954 Mimosa also will go on sale today. The book will cost four dollars, and arrangements have been made for students to make partial payments.

According to the plans which have been set up by the Mimosa staff, the new book will include separate sections for the administration, activities, classes, organizations, summer school, military, features, and athletics. The theme will be carried out with portraits of scenery from the Jacksonville district.

The new annual staff is headed by Harry Sherman, editor, and Mr. James C. Wilkes, faculty advisor. The staff includes Billy Pannell, business manager; Bobby Hawkins, circulation manager; Mary Sharp, associate editor; Nancy Wood, theme and division pages; Katie Smith, production manager; William Jackson, activities; Harriet Hackworth, administration; Sidney Garrett, organizations; Ann Bennett, features; Harvey Ham and Fred Lybrand, athletics; Curt Shamblee, military; Sam Sturdivant, art; Jean Pitman, layouts; Alice Williams, senior section; Judy Trotter, juniors; Margie Clark, sophomores; and Jo Ann Lewis, freshmen.

The business staff includes Jack Collins, Lu Mosely, Helen Thompson, Sandy Southerland, and Beth Taylor.

The first copy for the Mimosa will be sent to Taylor Printing Company, Dallas, in November and the final copy will be completed in January. The book will be delivered to the students in April.

Five New Students Join Jax International House

The new foreign students to be associated with the International House this year arrived on Sept. 12 to join the four left over from last year.

The European students were met in New York by Mr. and Mrs. A. Haerberlin of Beacon, N. Y., natives of Switzerland and friends of Renate Graf's family.

A representative from the office of Congressman Kenneth Roberts met them in Washington and took them around the capital.

A brief background sketch of the new students is given below: Miss Renate Graf, of Zurich, Switzerland, was selected by Regula Schlatter, who was a student here last year. Regula says she is year here.

Mr. Frits Buhrman, Amersfoort, Holland, is 20 years old and is a Protestant. His father is manager of a wholesale trade organization. During World War II, his father was sent to a concentration camp by the Germans. Frits had to work to help support the family, but his mother, who had been a teacher, helped him with his school work in the evening. He has finished college at Castle Nijenrode, Holland. He speaks English, French, German, Dutch, and has studied Spanish. Frits wishes to be a teacher in the field of business administration. He likes public speaking and has spoken before the American Businessmen's Club at Amsterdam.

Miss Dora Miranda, student at Candler College. She has studied home economics. Her preferred sport is bicycling and her hobby is photography. Miss Helen Smith, who was Raquel's student the past year and who will be in the Spanish section of the International House Program this fall, met Miss Miranda and her family this summer and spoke very kindly of them, Dr. Jones stated.

Mr. Pierre Perron, Montreal, Canada, was selected by Dr. W. P. Percival, Director of Protestant Education, and Mr. C. T. Teakle, Supervisor of French, in the Department of Protestant Education in the Province of Quebec. Mr. Teakle has written that

Barron Begins As Instructor In Music Dept.

Several new faculty members have been added for the fall term: Dr. Robert Louis Barron will join the music department to teach strings and to conduct the college orchestra. Dr. Barron taught at LaJunta College, Colo., the College of the Pacific, and Mills College. He has played professionally both in recital and with major symphony orchestras. He founded the Amarillo (Texas) Philharmonic Orchestra and was its conductor for eight years before going to Colorado where he organized the Arkansas Valley Symphony Orchestra. He played his debut concert at the age of 16 in Chicago, and after further study appeared in 165 concerts throughout the U. S. He received doctor of music degree at the Musical Arts Conservatory, Amarillo, Texas.

Wiser To Return

Wymer C. Wiser will return to the science faculty after two years of graduate study at Vanderbilt University. Mr. Wiser completed his course work for his doctorate. He has a master's degree from Peabody. Mr. Wiser teaches biology.

Clay Brittain will return to teach psychology after several years of study at the University of Chicago. He received his master's degree there and has done considerable work toward his doctorate.

Tom Roberson will join the physical education staff as assistant coach and instructor. He received his master's degree at Florida State University where he was also a member of the coaching staff.

Raymond Watson, Jr., of Anniston will teach freshman and sophomore engineering subjects.

Mr. Watson graduated from Anniston High School. He attended A. P. I. extension classes, Wright College, Chicago and Oklahoma A. and M. He is working at Jackson State College to complete a major in mathematics.

Miss Barbara Cotton will direct the home management house. She has a B. S. degree with a major in home economics from Alabama College and is doing her graduate

'Good Ole Summer Time' - It Was Hot, But There Was Fun For All

By Harry Sherman

Jacksonville's brave young students (some weren't so young) have no fear of a long, cold winter. A few icy mornings and six feet of snow will be welcomed after a torrid three months of sweat and more sweat in summer classes. Only the swimming pools and cool showers kept a lot of us going, and the switch to a nice, frigid evening of football will be ample reward.

The only decent thing that the hot weather accomplished was to take a few pounds off our more healthy students. For that reason alone, many of them will consider the summer a definite success. The rest of us had other things to relieve the pressure. There were no mint juleps (at least not where I could find them), but Ma McWhorter's iced tea pulled us through.

If you can forget about the weather, you may take it for granted that the summer was enjoyable enough for most of us. The campus was jumping practically every night, and only the most anti-social students found the last season under the old quarter system monotonous.

Mr. Henry Greer took a lot of the heat off with his summer recreation program. He promoted everything from softball to community singing, with weekly square dances in between. The square dances were a regular Thursday night feature and the singing provided less active entertainment every Tuesday night.

The summer softball league deserves credit for providing entertainment for the largest group of students. Pannell Hallers were well satisfied with the program, and some of them might be a little hard to live with for a while. First, the Student Government this fall, met Miss Miranda and her family this summer and spoke very kindly of them, Dr. Jones stated.

Mr. Pierre Perron, Montreal, Canada, was selected by Dr. W. P. Percival, Director of Protestant Education, and Mr. C. T. Teakle, Supervisor of French, in the Department of Protestant Education in the Province of Quebec. Mr. Teakle has written that Pierre finished "his high school course with first class standing, and is of splendid character and habits". Mr. Perron is French Protestant. His father is a landscape gardener and nurseryman.

The four students who were here last year and will return are: Mildred Fernandez, Ben Nodal, Cuba; Jacques Corman, Belgium; and Rolanda Goetze, Venezuela.

top of the four-team league and then whipped Lyle Darnell's All-Stars in a post-season game.

The Student Government Association, under Dixie Brown's leadership, did its part toward providing recreation for the summer. The SGA and the class officers went all out in their weekly socials at Chat 'Em Inn. There were refreshments, games, and dancing for anyone who wanted to have a couple of hours of good Monday-night fun.

Miss Lucy Branscomb reestablished the fact that you can't keep a good outfit down when her Civil Air Patrol staged the annual Sadie Hawkins' Day. The festival was a riot and the dance and stage show that provided the climax was downright hilarious. Sam Jones, commandant of cadets, was the inspiration behind most of the antics, and he united the romantic Dogpatchers in holy wedlock right before the eyes of Dean Wood. (Poor boy! What was just plain fun turned into an epidemic. Ole Sam's done gone and got married.)

We can't forget about the summer social life without praising the annual Class Officers Ball. It was the crowning feature of the summer activities, and the old cats say that it was one of the best ever. Jimmy Simpson and his orchestra were great and the lead-out was one of the best of the year, including the annual class dances. The credit goes to Charlie Hammett and his social committee, with special recognition to Beth Taylor, Tom Wheatley, and Peggy Sharpton. Peggy was responsible for the theme, "Moulon Rouge," and Tom carried it out to perfection with his art work.

Now to the business side of our summer life and a word of praise for the peons who did the work. First, the Student Government more engineering subjects. Mr. Watson graduated from Anniston High School. He attended A. P. I. extension classes, Wright College, Chicago and Oklahoma A. and M. He is working at Jacksonville State College to complete a major in mathematics.

Miss Barbara Cotton will direct the home management house. She has a B. S. degree with a major in home economics from Alabama College and is doing her graduate work in home management at the University of Tennessee. She has taught for three years and was assistant dietitian at Alabama College.

Teachers Study

During the summer a number of professors have been away from the campus for study.

J. E. Duncan has been at Peabody where he finished up requirements for his doctorate in

Lawrence R. Miles, registrar; Ernest Stone, director of extension; R. Liston Crow, treasurer;

Emmett Fields received his Ph.D. degree in history at Vanderbilt in August; J. C. Wilkes will receive his Ph.D. degree in biology in November at the University of Alabama.

Other Faculty Members

Other members of the faculty listed in the catalog are:

Houston Cole, B. S., M. S., LL.D.

Stone is working on his doctorate in administration at the University of Alabama.

Mrs. Lord, Laughton Will Visit Jax Campus

U. N. Delegate To Speak Here On October 8

Two well-known speakers will appear before Jacksonville students early this fall as the college continues its policy of bringing outstanding orators to the campus. Mrs. Oswald Lord, United States representative to the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, will speak to the student body on Oct. 8, while Charles Laughton, famous stage and screen personality, will be here in December.

Mrs. Lord has for years been prominent in the civic and welfare work of New York state. She was vice-president and director of the East Side Settlement Homes in New York and chairman of the Citizens Committee of the Department of Health.

Director of World's Fair

A director of the New York World's Fair, Mrs. Lord was chairman of the national advisory committee on the women's participation. She is now a director in the Metropolitan Opera Guild, a member of the National Institution of Social Sciences, a member of the nursing committee of Henry Street Visiting Nurses, the Junior League of New York, alumnae group for Smith College.

In 1943 Mrs. Lord was awarded an official ribbon by the federal government for 5,000 hours of volunteer services in the Office of Civilian Defense.

She is also the author of several articles published in widely-circulated magazines. She was appointed representative to the United Nations by President Eisenhower this year to succeed Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Charles Laughton

Charles Laughton brings his "one-man show" to Jacksonville in December when he will present "An Evening With Charles Laughton" under the management of Paul Gregory.

Since he first began reading from the literary classics before paying audiences, Laughton, already internationally famous as a screen and stage star, has captured the hearts of Amer-

E. BASKIN WRIGHT Directs Evening Classes

Jax College Grads Will Receive First Alumni News Soon

Beginning this fall, the Jacksonville Alumni Association will become one of the most active functions connected with the college. A recording system already has been set up to keep an accurate account of graduates, including their addresses and information concerning their activities.

Extension Set To Transfer Night Classes

Announcement was made recently that Jacksonville State College is transferring its extension centers to the college campus and in the future will conduct evening sessions here on Monday and Thursday.

Registration for the fall semester will be held on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 10-11, in Graves Hall at Jacksonville, from 6:30 to 9:00 p. m. Classes will begin on Thursday, Sept. 17, and will be held every Monday and Thursday evening at 6:00 thereafter, through the semester, which ends on Jan. 29.

E. Baskin Wright, director of the evening session, stated that the college had been operating extension centers at Anniston and Piedmont for the past four years. These centers will be transferred to the college campus.

Provide Better Services

Mr. Wright pointed out that this change is being made primarily to give greater service to Calhoun and neighboring counties. In running the off-campus centers, the number of college hours given students had to be limited, but with the classes operating as an integral part of the college, residence credit will be given for all work taken.

Another reason, he continued, is that a number of courses in science and in the business field which could not be offered in the centers can be offered here. Evening students will have full use of the library and all other facilities available to day students. A broader course of study designed to meet requirements in the fields of business administration, pre-engineering, and courses leading to A. B. and B. S. degrees will be offered.

Classes Restricted

Evening classes will not be open to teachers or persons working to secure or renew teaching certificates, Mr. Wright stated, nor will students enrolled in day classes be eligible.

The evening session work has been approved for training by World War II and Korean War

THE EDITORS—The two student editors who will be in charge of college publications here this fall are Fred Lybrand, (left), editor of the "Teacola", and Harry Sherman, editor of the 1954 "Mimosa".

Students To Receive Awards For Activity

Student leaders for the new semester will have a chance to qualify for one of the highest honors offered at Jacksonville as a new program for student recognition goes into effect under the semester system.

The awards will be primarily for extra-curricular activities, but the student who qualifies must also have an academic standing of at least a 1.5 average. Letters of appreciation will be given to selected students at the end of each semester, and the winners will be considered in the selection of a "Student of the Year" at the end of each school term.

The program for recognition of student leaders was initiated by the summer Student Government Association and is expected to receive the approval of the new Student Government this fall. The program also has the full approval of the administration and is expected to develop into one of the highest honor groups on the campus.

Two students already have been approved for high honors for their work in student activities during the summer session. Tom Wheatley, a graduated senior from Buffalo, N. Y., will receive one of the first letters from the college for his outstanding contributions to student activities during the summer and previous quarters.

The other award will go to Harry Sherman, a sophomore from Anniston, for especially outstandadept at painting and spent a lot of his time on decorating committees for the annual student dances. He was also a member of several of the honor societies and worked on the production of the Teacola and the Mimosa.

During the summer, Wheatley's activities included an outstanding job as business manager of the "Soundings," the official publication of the Writer's Club. His excellent job of decorating for the annual Class Officers Dance made the SGA-sponsored ball one of the best in the annual summer series.

Sherman's award was given on the basis of outstanding work as editor of the 1954 Mimosa, associate editor of the Teacola and Stu-Jack, president of the sophomore class, and as an outstanding member of the summer Student Government Association. Under his leadership, the Mimosa staff has already completed much of the work needed for the production of what promises to be the best yearbook ever published at Jacksonville. His services in the summer SGA were contributed as chairman of several committees and as an active participant in other SGA activities.

The letters of appreciation are awarded on the basis of leadership, initiative, school spirit, character, scholarship, and achievement. Nominations for the awards came from members of the faculty and the Student Government Association, and the selections were one-man snow" to Jacksonville in December when he will present "An Evening With Charles Laughton" under the management of Paul Gregory.

Since he first began reading from the literary classics before paying audiences, Laughton, already internationally famous as a screen and stage star, has captivated many thousands of American listeners and has won for himself the undisputed leadership in a new form of public entertainment.

Laughton, who appears to read from the books spread out in his hands in full view of the audience, actually does not read at all. He recites. For he has committed to memory the entire vast repertory of classical excerpts with which he entertains audiences.

He can recite the entire Book of Job, the Song of Solomon, the story of David and Goliath—one of his more captivating "numbers—the story of Genesis, and several other long Biblical passages. Also, he has memorized a great deal of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers" and whole chapters of novels by Thomas Wolfe, notably "Of Time and the River", besides much of Mark Twain, James Thurber, and Stephen Vincent Benet, whose "John Brown's Body" he edited and prepared for stage presentation in this current theatrical season.

Meal Ticket Policy Stated

Jacksonville students have received another caution from the school authorities concerning the policy for meal tickets. In order to avoid future misunderstandings and to avoid trouble for the students, the treasurer's office has again outlined the policy for the use of the new meal tickets in Hammond Hall.

The tickets are issued to each student who pays for room and board on the campus. They are non-transferable and their misuse carries a possible heavy fine. According to the treasurer, the tickets are to be used only by the students to whom they were issued and any violation will subject the student to automatic expulsion.

No duplicate tickets will be issued to any student during the first semester unless the full price of the remaining value of the meal ticket is paid.

No student or visitor will be allowed to eat in the college cafeteria without showing his meal ticket to the checker at the door or paying the price of the meal.

There are three college physicians in Jacksonville, one of whom is available each month. He is located at the doctor's office in Dugette Hall each week-day from 10:00 until 10:30 o'clock.

Beginning this fall, the Jacksonville Alumni Association will become one of the most active functions connected with the college. A recording system already has been set up to keep an accurate account of graduates, including their addresses and information concerning their activities.

A new alumni publication containing news of college activities and other information concerning the alumni will be printed three times each year to keep Jacksonville graduates posted on events which affect the college and their former classmates.

Classes Restricted
Evening classes will not be open to teachers or persons working to secure or renew teaching certificates, Mr. Wright stated, nor will students enrolled in day classes be eligible.

The evening session work has been approved for training by World War II and Korean War G. I. Bills and the Army Information and Education Program, Mr. Wright added.

Faculty and Courses
The faculty and courses to be taught are as follows:

The other award will go to Harry Sherman, a sophomore from Anniston, for especially outstanding work during the summer.

During his enrollment here, Wheatley was an outstanding contributor to campus activities through his work in many of the student organizations. He was especially active in the International House activities and the Masque and Wig Guild. He was especially and as an active participant in other SGA activities.

The letters of appreciation are awarded on the basis of leadership, initiative, school spirit, character, scholarship, and achievement. Nominations for the awards came from members of the faculty and the Student Government Association, and the selections were made by a committee composed of four faculty members and the president of the SGA.

The Selection Committee included Mr. Anders, faculty advisor of the SGA, as chairman, Dr. Calvert, Dr. Fields, Dr. Montgomery, and Dixie Brown, president of the summer SGA.

New Campus Buildings Reflect College Growth

The spectacular growth of Jacksonville State College is reflected vividly in the continuous building program on the campus. The construction now in progress, when considered with the buildings recently completed and others which are now on the drawing boards, give a definite picture of Jacksonville's rise in prominence as one of the outstanding educational institutions in the South.

The picture of progress is even more vivid when the present campus is compared with the old State Normal School of the 1920's. Almost all of the old buildings have been replaced by modern structures. Forney Hall, erected in 1927, is still used as a boys' dormitory, while Kilby Hall and the ROTC building remain as additional monuments to the old campus. Even Kilby Hall, which houses the laboratory classes for elementary students, has been modernized to a large extent by recent construction.

Beautiful Campus

Jacksonville can now boast of one of the most beautiful campuses in the nation. Its buildings are modern and are outmoded only by the rapid climb of enrollment figures. The oldest buildings on the new campus are Bibb Graves Hall, whose picturesque tower dominates the campus, and Daugette Hall, the girls' dormitory. They were the first two buildings of an expansion program that can be divided into two different phases.

Under the administration of the late Dr. C. W. Daugette, who served as college president from 1899 until his death in August, 1942, the new campus maintained a steady growth. Abercrombie Hall was erected in 1939, along with the library and physical education building. Construction had begun on Hammond Hall, the college cafeteria, and an addition to Daugette Hall when the late president died.

When Dr. Houston Cole was appointed in 1942, the second phase of Jacksonville's growth began. Hammond Hall and the Daugette addition were completed and Pannell Hall was erected. The modern high school building, Leone Cole Auditorium, the International House, president's home, and college home management house have been built since the close of World War II.

Construction began during the summer on a home management house for high school students, an addition to Hammond Hall, new rooms for Kilby Hall, and additional parking space in front of Bibb Graves Hall.

New Additions

The high school home management house, located next to the gymnasium, will be ready for use in October, and the new rooms at

Students Have Opportunity For Religion

The church and Christian religion form a prominent part of Jacksonville's student life, and the churches of Jacksonville and surrounding communities always reserve a special welcome for college students.

The church is closely connected with the activities of the college, and many of the campus organizations were established primarily for religious emphasis. The Wesley Foundation, the Canterbury Club, the Baptist Students Union, the Westminster Fellowship, Campus Light, and Pi Tau Chi are local organizations whose aims are to promote Christian fellowship at Jacksonville.

Students are urged to attend any of the local churches and to participate in their activities regularly. The First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, St. Luke's Episcopal, West Side Baptist, Church of Christ, Church of God, Congregational Holiness, and the Sheltonville Baptist Churches have extended a cordial welcome to each student and have planned special services for the young people.

In addition to the several organizations, other means are provided for religious emphasis. A morning watch is held each school day in the little auditorium, beginning 15 minutes before the first class of the day. Religious Emphasis Week is one of the highlights of campus activities each year, when well-known speakers visit the campus for inspiring addresses.

Jacksonville's religious organizations are listed below. Every student should join one of the organizations and take an active part in the activities.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE—Jacksonville's new home management house for college home economics majors was completed last year. Six selected home economics students reside in the new home each semester. It is completely furnished with modern home conveniences, including a kitchen for home cooking. The house will be under the direction of Miss Barbara Cotton this year.

ADDITION TO KILBY HALL—New construction at Kilby Hall, the college elementary laboratory school, will provide eight new class rooms, offices, and rest rooms. The rooms will be ready for use this fall.

DAUGETTE HALL—The girls' dormitory is one of the most prominent buildings on the Jacksonville campus. The building actually is considered two dormitories, with directors for each section. Daugette Hall is directed by Mrs. Carrie Rowan and Miss Alta Millican is in charge of the annex. The building is named for the late Dr. C. W. Daugette, former president of the college.

ABERCROMBIE HALL—Completed in 1929, Abercrombie Hall represents the last building completed under the administration of the late C. W. Daugette. The boys' dormitory is directed by Miss Lucille Branscomb.

The addition to the cafeteria will provide space for 250 more students and will speed up service in the dining hall considerably.

Other buildings are now being planned, and at least one will be started in the near future. A new all-purpose building for the use of high school students will be erected this year. It will be located between the gymnasium and the auditorium and will provide rooms for band practice and athletic activities.

Official College Dormitory Rules

For the benefit of the students who will reside in the four dormitories during the year, the Teacola is publishing the following rules which will govern the conduct of campus residents.

These rules have meet with the approval of the Student Government Association and the college administration, and any violation of them will be dealt with by the dormitory directors or the Discipline Committee.

DORMITORY RULES FOR MEN

1. Conduct which violates custom or Christian principles and shocks the community sense of propriety constitutes a public tort and such a tort shall be brought to the attention of the Discipline Committee for necessary punishment.

2. Students are liable for any damage done to school property.

3. Rooms must be kept clean.

4. Guests are expected to observe the dormitory rules and any violations will be charged to their host.

5. The possession or consumption of intoxicants is prohibited in the dormitories, on the campus, and under the jurisdiction of the college administration.

6. Gambling is prohibited.

7. Students must refrain from unnecessary noise.

8. Painting of rooms or furniture by the students is prohibited unless permission is granted by the Dormitory Director.

9. Nails or tacks must not be driven in the walls or furniture without permission of the Dormitory Director.

10. Electrical wiring must not be changed by students. If any electrical repair or change is necessary, the campus engineer should be contacted to make the change or repair.

11. Disorderly conduct in the dormitory and on the campus is prohibited.

12. Boys shall not be allowed in the girl's dormitory until 4:30 p.m.

13. Girls are not allowed in the boy's dormitory except by permission of the Dormitory Director.

Note: A student who violates a dormitory rule may be expelled from the dormitory by the Dormitory Director.

A student who is expelled from the dormitory will not be permitted to occupy a room in the dormitory again unless approval is given by the Director of Student Personnel.

DORMITORY RULES FOR WOMEN

1. Conduct which violates custom or Christian principles and shocks the community sense of propriety constitutes a public tort and such a tort shall be brought to the attention of the Discipline Committee for necessary punishment.

2. Rooms will be inspected each morning. Some restrictions will be enforced for disorderly rooms or abuse of property. Girls are requested to leave the parlors orderly at all times.

3. Any girl who leaves the dormitory is required to sign out at the place designated for her. She must list her name, where she is going, and the time she signed out. When she returns, she must sign in, giving the time, in her own handwriting.

4. To leave the dormitory on an out-of-town trip, a girl must have written permission from home, and approval from the Dormitory Director.

5. If a girl signs out to attend a dance, she must attend the dance and stay until it is over. She may leave a dance only with the permission of the girl's dormitory director. When the dance (this pertains to the annual dances) is over the girls are given one hour in which to arrive at the dormitory. A specified time shall be set for girls to be in the dormitory when attending dances other than annual dances.

6. No girl may have an overnight guest without first securing permission from the Dormitory Director. Out-of-town guests are limited to one night except on week-ends. Guests are expected to observe the dormitory rules and any violations will be charged to their hostess.

7. Quiet hours shall begin at 9:00 p.m. This means that there will be no loud talking, laughing, singing; no loud noise created by the playing of musical instruments, nor by any type of conduct. Hall monitors shall give "call downs". A person receiving more than three in one month shall be subject to restrictions.

8. Girls shall not receive nor make telephone calls after 10:00 p.m. unless absolutely necessary.

9. Girls may wear bluejeans on the campus Saturday only. Shorts may be worn in the dormitory, on tennis court, and in the gym.

10. Talking out of the windows is forbidden at all times.

11. No girl shall possess, consume, or be under the influence of alcoholic beverages while in the dormitory, on the campus, or under the jurisdiction of the college administration.

12. Freshmen shall be in by 9:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights, 10:00 p.m. on Sunday and Wednesday nights, 11:30 on Friday and Saturday nights. Sophomores and Juniors shall be in by 10:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday nights, 11:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Seniors shall be in by 10:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday nights, 12:00 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights, and shall have one Senior night (11:00 p.m.) per week.

13. Painting of rooms or furniture by the students is prohibited unless permission is granted by the Dormitory Director.

14. Nails or tacks must not be driven in the walls or furniture without permission of the Dormitory Director.

15. Electrical wiring must not be changed by students. If any electrical repair or change is necessary, the campus engineer should be contacted to make the change or repair.

16. Smoking is prohibited in public or on the campus.

17. Boys shall not be allowed in the girl's dormitory until 4:30 p.m.

18. Girls are not allowed in the boy's dormitory except by permission of the dormitory director.

19. No girl may be on the street alone after dark.

20. Dates cannot be held anywhere on the campus except directly in front of the girl's dormitory.

Note: A student who violates a dormitory rule may be expelled from the dormitory by the Dormitory Director.

A student who is expelled from the dormitory will not be permitted to occupy a room in the dormitory again unless approval is given by the Director of Student Personnel.

Gamecocks Begin New Season With Road Tilt

First Contest At Livingston Saturday Nite

The 1953 football season will open for Jacksonville's Gamecocks Saturday night when they meet Livingston in a road game at Demopolis. It will be the inaugural tilt of a rugged nine-game schedule that will keep the Jaxes busy through November.

Twenty-two lettermen and a group of promising young newcomers will furnish the talent for a new football year that will see a definite change in playing rules. The free substitution laws, which were in affect for the past few seasons, are a thing of the past for college teams. Whether the new rules limiting substitution will help or hurt the Gamecocks will become known before the season is far along.

Coach Ray Wedgeworth expects most of his trouble to come from the backfield, where the Gamecocks are short on experience and material. The line, under Coach Tom Roberson, will monopolize most of the experience, since practically all of the returning lettermen are linemen.

Livingston will furnish some of the roughest opposition the Gamecocks will face all season, and the fact that it is the opening game will make the situation even rougher. Coach Ray Richeson's

Wedgeworth Heads J'ville Coaching Staff

Two changes in the Jacksonville coaching staff this season sends Coach Ray Wedgeworth to the top as head man of the 1953 Gamecocks and brings Tom Roberson back to the campus as assistant.

Wedgeworth, who has served as Jacksonville line coach for the past six years, inherited the top coaching job when Coach Don Salls was granted a leave to work toward his doctorate in physical education. Roberson was a member of Jacksonville's 1949-50 coaching staff and has spent the past two seasons as line coach at Florida State.

During his stay with the Gamecocks and while serving as line coach for Gadsden High School, Coach Wedgeworth has built a reputation as one of the best defensive scouts in the business. His ability at scouting and building stout lines has had much to do with the phenomenal success which the Gamecocks have enjoyed since 1946. During the last half-dozen years, the Jaxes have seen only one or two lean seasons.

The 1947 squad, under Salls and Wedgeworth, swept through an undefeated, untied season and came close to duplicating the feat during the next two years. Wedgeworth is remembered by many of the old-timers as one of the best centers in the history of Birmingham-Southern football. During his college days, the Guntersville native won honors as a member of the All-Dixie Conference and Little All-American teams.

Roberson was a four-year letterman at Sylacauga High School and played his freshman football and basketball at the University of Alabama. He transferred to the University of Chattanooga for a year of football before entering the Air Force in 1943. He spent 37 months in the service, including a tour of duty in the European Theatre of Operations. He continued his football in the service, where he put in two good seasons.

SERVICEMEN REQUEST LETTERS FROM STUDENTS

GAMECOCK CAPTAINS—Two linemen have been selected to lead the 1953 Gamecocks (aggregation at Jacksonville State College) as Johnny Howell of Bessemer and Travis Walker of Walnut Grove were chosen co-captains by the lettermen at a meeting last Friday.

Howell, a 6'3", 210 pound end is the son of Hollis B. Howell of Bessemer, and prepped at Ensley High School where he earned two football letters. A senior at Jacksonville, he is a physical Education major and plans to enter the coaching field on graduation. A defensive standout for the post two years, Howell is expected to do equally as well on offense under the new ruling. He is married to the former Betty Burson of Palmedale.

Walker, the son of T. B. Walker of Walnut Grove, is a 6', 190-pound tackle. He earned three football letters at Walnut Grove High School before coming to Jacksonville, and as a junior has two Gamecock awards to his credit. Walker is also a Physical Education major and plans to coach upon graduation. The new substitution rule will have no bearing on this Jax stalwart, as he has played both offense and defense for the past two years. Walker is married to the former Louise Smith of Walnut Grove.

ed guards will be on hand with Harold "Pistol" Bentley, Arab, Guy Sims, Gadsden, Kendall, Clemmons, Guntersville, Jack Grizzard, Oxford, and Harry Yocum, Attalla.

Don Bulger, Sylacauga is the only returning letterman at center, but at least two promising newcomers are expected to take up the slack. One of them is big Joe Curry, Jacksonville High School's All-County pivotman of last season.

There are five lettermen available for duty in the backfield, but four of them are running at the quarterback and fullback slots.

Returning Backs

Don Mauldin, Fairfield, and Don Warren, Tallassee, are back as signal callers, and Lamar Howell, Jacksonville, and Virgil Holder, Albertville, will run at fullback.

Cheerleaders To Be Picked By Student Ballot Next Week

Eight new cheerleaders will be elected next week to head the cheering section at each of the remaining eight games on Jacksonville's 1954 football schedule. The new cheering squad will be picked by popular vote of the student body, following tryouts at the football stadium. The exact time for the election will be announced by the Student Government Association later this week.

Any student who wishes to enter the tryouts should contact Arlie Gunter, SGA president, or another SGA officer. The candidates will perform individually before

The Jacksonville coaches probably will have to depend more upon a stout line than anything else in the season opener. Most of the forward positions are well taken care of by experienced lettermen, some of whom operated regularly last season.

The end positions will have six lettermen for a drawing pool. John Howell, Birmingham, Bob Coley, Lincoln, Ray Campbell, Gallant, Herschell O'Dell, Lincoln, Jack Stewart, Lineville, and Bud McCarty, Anniston. Each has won at least one Jacksonville monogram as flanker.

Experienced Tackles

Five lettermen also are returning to the tackle positions, with Roy "Bull" Bailey, Trussville; Travis Walker, Walnut Grove, Charles Solley, Sylacauga, Bob Donahoo, Lincoln, and Bill Roddam, Pinson, back at their old positions.

Another Albertville boy, Paul Thompson, is expected to take care of most of the work at left halfback. A couple of transfers and a newcomer showed enough talent in spring training sessions to make the Gamecocks look considerably stronger on offense. Gene Hanson, a likely-looking transfer from Auburn, probably will call most of Jacksonville's plays from quarterback, while George Keech, All-County and All-State back at Anniston two years ago, will run at halfback and quarterback. Charlie Grisham, who took up football here for the first time last spring, will operate at right halfback. He was an outstanding high school performer at Oneonta during his prep school days.

in group projects that are valuable to the student, school and community.

The purpose of FBLA is to provide opportunities for leadership, make useful contacts with business, provide guidance in the choice of a career, and raise business entrance standards. During the past two years, the Jacksonville Chapter took the lead in the organization of a state chapter of FBLA. Some of its other projects are to bring outstanding businessmen to speak on the campus, provide employment information to seniors, promote interest in business education, and to encourage scholarship.

Regular meetings are held monthly and other meetings may be held as is necessary.

(Continued from page six) and all other who wish to take part) and between the students and the adult members of the local church.

The Fellowship meets on Thursday nights for programs of worship and study, which includes guest speakers and forum discussions. The members are guests of the congregation at their monthly covered-dish suppers. Informal suppers are enjoyed every Sunday night at the new Fellowship House. The program also includes visits to other campuses and other social functions.

The new Fellowship House is always open to the students and offers an ideal place to enjoy games and fellowship during leisure time.

THE CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club is one of the religious organizations of the Protestant Church, though any student of any denomination may become affiliated with this organization. The National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States sponsors this club, and provides programs of worship, study and activities to be carried out by the students themselves, thus giving them their home. The local Rector, the Rev. John L. Oldham, 311 East Ladiga Street, is the immediate sponsor and adviser together with a number of the college faculty. Meetings are held weekly on Sunday evening at the Rectory.

THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union seeks to maintain a strong link between the local Baptist Church and the students of the college who are Baptist or whose religious preference is Baptist. Members of the Baptist Church or any of its auxiliaries are members of this organization.

The Baptist Student Union works in close connection with the Baptist Training Union, Sunday School and YWA, lending its assistance at any and all times. Working in this capacity, it seeks to help solve their problems and to aid them in their programs of work, including mission study, Bible study and prayer.

All students are invited to attend the meetings of this organization.

PI TAU CHI

Pi Tau Chi is a national honorary religious society designed to give recognition to Methodist students on college campuses for outstanding unselfish Christian service and leadership. Members are chosen in their junior year by the membership of the Wesley Foundation.

Jacksonville, the Alpha Zeta Chapter, was awarded its charter in 1949. Its charter members were initiated by the Alpha Alpha Chapter at the University of Alabama but succeeding members are initiated locally. Each Spring a state initiation is held at which all local members from all college campuses in Alabama are jointly initiated into state membership in a beautiful and sacred ceremony.

THE USHERS CLUB

The Ushers Club, formed in 1950 is composed of twelve male students chosen by the faculty. As members leave the organization others are voted in by the faculty to take their places.

It is the endeavor of the organization to have only as members those male students who have earned the reputation of being excellent students, honest citizens, and conscientious men.

The Ushers Club renders service to those campus organizations desiring them. Meetings are held once a month.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The Jacksonville Chapter of this national business society was organized in 1951 under the sponsorship of the Commercial Club. Unlike membership in the Commercial Club, however, which is honorary, the FBLA is open to all business students who meet certain requirements. It gives everyone an opportunity to participate other activities on the campus.

STU-JACK

The Stu-Jack is published weekly by the Student Government Association which edits and bears all expenses. The Stu-Jack is an unofficial publication of the views of the students on the campus, news items of interest, sports events, and other items which might be of interest to the student body. The purpose of the paper is to keep the students informed of activities which have taken place and are to take place on and off the campus. It bears personal opinions and tends to bring a closer relationship between the students and the faculty.

LEONE COLE HOME EC CLUB

The Leone Cole Home Ec Club is an organization composed of home economics majors and minors, interested persons who have taken home economics classes and interested faculty members. It is an active member of the state and national home economics associations. Regular meetings are held each first Tuesday night.

The club carries on many interesting activities such as bake shops, teas, receptions, coffees, banquets and an annual Christmas party.
