Bish. Oldham To Visit Here For Program

The Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, D.D., S. T. D., retired Bishop of Albany, will be the guest speaker for the annual "Religious Emphasis Week" here, beginning October 12. The prominent churchman has accepted the invitation to speak to Jacksonville students in daily services to be held in Leon Cole Auditorium.

The Rt. Rev. Oldham is a brother of the late John L. Oldham, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Jacksonville. During his visit here, the retired bishop will make his home with his brother at 311 East Leslie Street.

Bishop Oldham is a frequent speaker at colleges and universities and has addressed student assemblies at Cornell, Williams, Columbia, Russell Sage, Williard, Vassar, Skidmore, Elmira, Getman Hall, Syracuse, Union, Hamilton, and the University of Vermont.

Early in his episcopate as Bishop of Albany, the well-known religious leader was selected for a mission of charity and goodwill by the Council for Interchange of Preachers and Speakers, receiving the appointment to spend the summer of 1923 preaching in cathedral and parish churches in England. Since then, the Rt. Rev. Oldham has visited many of the countries of the European continent, Asia and Australia.

Returning from his extended trip to the Far East as a leader in world peace and Christian unity, he represented the Episcopal Church in 1927 at the Council of the World's Churches.

College Heads Express Hope For Great Year

A new year begins today for an estimated 1,350 students as Jacksonville opens its 71st regular session. College officials are expecting the enrollment to continue at a high level, and the estimated number of students will be registered by the end of the week.

First Semester Under System Change Starts

Jacksonville makes its transit from the old quarter system to the recommended semester system today. The college has been operating with the quarter system since it was first established as the Old State Normal School in 1883. The change is considered a progressive step undertaken to keep pace with the development of new educational methods.

The new system is being inaugurated because the administration and faculty believe that it will be advantageous to the college and student body. President Houston Cole has pointed out that in the past teachers' colleges have worked primarily with the public school system of the state. Before the advent of the nine-month public school term, many teachers taught the required number of months and then entered college in the spring for the spring and summer quarters to work toward their degrees.

Since the public school term has been lengthened, teachers have had less time for the spring quarter. The nine-month public school term under the semester system will suffice for teachers who must return to their schools for the interim session, which makes up for the "cotton picking" season.

For students who are not teaching, the semester system will eliminate summer quarters and regis-

First football game of the year will be played here Saturday, with the assistance of Dr. Cole and the SGA officers. It will be held during the regular Wednesday afternoon session.

SGA Officers To Be Installed In Ceremony

Formal inauguration ceremonies will be conducted in Leon Cole Auditorium here next Wednesday morning for the installation of the new Student Government Association officers. The impressive service will be the first of its kind ever staged at Jacksonville and will include much of the pageantry that usually goes with initiation ceremonies.

Changes Being Made

The new year will see several changes here. The semester system will replace the old quarter system. Many teachers, join the faculty, new buildings are being erected, several new organizations will make their appearances.

The student organizations also will begin to function actively by the end of next week in an effort to preserve and improve the high school spirit and friendly atmosphere at Jacksonville. SGA inauguration, freshmen assemblies and parties, class elections, and the first football game of the year will highlight the student activities during the first three weeks.

Dr. Cole, Dean Wood and other members of the college administration will preside over the ceremonies.

Student Clubs Are Important in School Life

Campus organizations have become an important part of Jacksonville's student life and are recognized as contributing a great deal to the development of leadership and character among the students. Here are a few in part in campus activities.

Each year, college officials and students attempt to stress the importance of the organizations which make up a college of college life during the past several years. Each student should take an active part in any of the activities sponsored by the organization.

Participation in the activities of the student organizations can add much to college life, and a student's education is far from complete until he has been active in school friendships and work harmonious with his fellow students. Jacksonville's student leaders attempt to give the best possible advice and take an active part in campus extra-curricular life. Look them over and pick the organization which interest you.

DEAN C. R. WOOD

Dr. Cole, Dean Greet Students

Jacksonville students, old and new, received a word of welcome from the officer of the college student president and dean today. The messages from the top officials are printed below.

The college welcomes the new students who are enrolling with us for the first time. We are happy to have another year of students back on campus.

The new year beckons with high resolve to all of us—students, faculty, and administration. It can be, and I think will be, the best year in the history of the institution.

Life has become a complicated process. The stress and strain on the individual is much greater than was the ease in years gone by. The times call for educated minds, high character, and great courage to fulfill the task of leading students in this direction.

The value of this college year to you will depend largely upon your cooperation and determination. It can be of lasting value because it is what you make it.

Jacksonville lost one of its most beloved faculty members during the past few weeks. The death of Miss Dora Wood, wife of the college president, occurred abruptly on August 30.

The death of Mrs. Wood came as a shock to everyone connected with the college. She was the first to walk up and down the hallways and was considered one of the best administrators on the staff.

Your Student Democracy

Jacksonville's entering freshmen will have an excellent opportunity to watch democracy in action here this year. They will have a chance to observe and participate in a legislative system modeled after state and national congressional bodies. The Student Government Association and the SGA, the old students a lot of constructive legislation, and the prospects are good that Arlie Gunter and his fellow office holders will provide the leadership for a great year in the SGA.

There are many ways that the Student Government can prove to be an invaluable asset to the college and the student body. It has continued to uphold and install new happy and harmonious trends. The Student Government depends upon the partners in this undertaking for opinions and approvals of its laws and regulations. If the students are pleased with the SGA, it cannot operate as it should, no matter how efficient the officers and the student body may be.

The college yearbook does more than provide graduates with a pictorial record of their academic achievements. It is one of the best means of publicity that a college can produce. A good book is a direct enticement to the high school senior who is undecided about higher education. When a prospective college student compares the merits of the competing schools on the basis of college life portrayed by yearbooks, the college with the most attractive annual is most certain to gain another freshman.

Jacksonville students should consider their yearbook as an indispensable part of the college, and they should be willing to support it in every way possible. Not only does it provide a lasting means of enjoyment, but it is also a direct contribution to the growth of the school.

The 1954 MIMOSA can be the biggest and best annual ever published by Jacksonville students. A lot of work has gone into the first stages of production for the new volume, and a lot more will be done before the book is sent to the printing office. The success of the 1954 annual depends directly upon what is accomplished in the advertising and sales campaigns. The plans which have been drawn up for the new MIMOSA will need approximately $4,000 for completion. If the plan is followed, Jacksonville will have a yearbook that will compare favorably with any book published by a school of comparable size anywhere in the South.

If each student will support his annual in every way possible, the college and the SGA will be. Much hard work has gone into the making of the new book. A lot of encouragement has been given by the SGA to the staff who are working on the book. It is only fair for the students to support the book in every way possible.

Religion In Schools

Few problems of our educational system have required such consistently delicate handling as that of religious instruction in the schools. The problem is one of the most difficult and complex. The goal is to be achieved. In fact, if three-fourths of the students enrolled at the college and the SGA will buy a 1954 book, the sale of advertisements will be of relatively minor importance.
Religion In Schools

Few problems of our educational system have required such consistently delicate handling as that of religious instruction in the public schools. Because of the presence of persons from many different religious backgrounds, the public schools have been the focus of much attention, both national and international. The problem is not merely a religious one, but also one of education, economics, and social welfare.

The public schools are a microcosm of society itself, and the problem of religious instruction in the public schools is a reflection of the diversity of our nation. It is therefore important that the public schools reflect the values and beliefs of the society in which they operate.

In the previous issue of this magazine, I discussed the problem of religious instruction in the public schools and the various approaches that have been taken to address it. I also discussed the importance of understanding the role of religion in our society and the need for a balanced approach to religious instruction in the public schools.

The Faculty Speaks

Educational Methods Are Based Upon Personal Need

By Dr. Reuben Selig

The problem of educational methods is a complex one, and it is not possible to make a single statement that is applicable to all educational situations. However, it is clear that educational methods should be based upon the personal needs of the student, and that the teacher should be adapted to these needs.

The concept of the educational process that is based upon personal need is a broad one, and it encompasses a wide range of educational activities. It includes the process of learning, the process of teaching, and the process of evaluation.

ROTC Regulations For Newest School Session Are Outlined

New Changes In Draft Laws Are Explained

A recent change in Alabama Selective Service Law specifies that an individual who fails to pass 69 percent of his college work in any one term or semester will permanently lose his deferment. "Incomplete" grades count as "failing to pass," a further incentive for one to get his work in on time.

A change in Army Regulations specifies that in the future candidates for commission must be receiving a degree, or have sufficient credits for a degree, at time of commissioning (this includes veterans).

Previously, commissions were earned in four years regardless of total credits accumulated. The Military Department has no information as to special considerations for students who carry light loads and are working their way through college.

Objective Restated

The objective of the ROTC program is to produce qualified second lieutenants in the Air Force during periods of emergency. The present crisis situation has added urgency to the manner in which ROTC cadets are deferred from their two years of required service until they have completed their education. The student will permanently lose his deferment unless he passes 69 percent of his college work in any one term or semester. The "Incomplete" grades count as "failing to pass," a further incentive for one to get his work in on time.

Administration Changes In Military Dept. Listed

The Military Department is preparing for a record enrollment of 400 cadets in the ROTC program this fall. This reflects an increase of ten percent over last year, according to Lt. Col. James A. Bledgett, commanding officer.

Captain Dillard F. Jones, recently returned from Korea, has been assigned to replace Major E. B. Richardson, now en route to the Far East. Captain Jones is a native Alabamian who graduated from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and spent several years in agricultural extension work. He will instruct all the MSIII students.

Captain Lawson, D. Franklin has been assigned as an additional officer. He calls Florida his home and he graduated from the University with A.B. and B. S. degrees. He has just returned from service with occupation forces in Germany. Capt. Franklin will teach freshmen subjects.

Lt. Col. Bledgett will teach sophomore subjects and Major Frank Freeman will handle the seniors this year. Other staff members include Master Sergeant John H. Wix, as Sergeant Major; Master Sergeant Turnipseed as Rifle Team coach; Sergeant First Class Hendrix as chief of the firing battery; Sergeant First Class Knapp as communications chief; and Sergeant Knapp as supply sergeant.

Changes in Draft Period

Three rifle matches have already been scheduled for the ROTC Rifle Team, and tournament will take place at the new six-point rifle range. Regulars and the team received appropriate athletic awards.

Several matches have been scheduled for the Girls Rifle Team, but it will meet as soon as the range is ready. Girls interested in trying out are urged to contact Major Sergeant Turnipseed at the ROTC building.

No Drill Squad as such is being organized this year. The entire sophomore class will receive advanced drill instruction.

The forms must be signed by the candidate and returned to the office for approval before a student can qualify for a position as a class officer. Extension Set To Transfer Night Classes

Announcement was made recently that Jacksonville State College is continuing its extension centers to the college campus and in the future will conduct evening sessions here on Monday and Thursday.

Registration for the fall semester will be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 14-15, in Graves Hall at Jacksonville, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Classes will begin on Thursday, Sept. 17, and will be held every Monday and Thursday evening at 7:30 thereafter, through the semester, which ends on Jan. 29.

E. Baskin Wright, director of the evening session, stated that the college had been operating extension centers at Anniston and Florence for the past four years. These centers will be transferred to the college campus.

Provision for Services
Mr. Wright pointed out that this change is being made primarily to give greater service to Calhoun and neighboring counties. In running the off-campus centers, the number of college hours given students had to be worked out with the classes operating as an integral part of the college, residence credit will be given for all work taken.

Also, it was pointed out, that is a number of courses in science and in the business field which were not being offered in the centers can be offered here. Evening classes will be held in the library and all other facilities available to day students.

For the students at the end of each annual session, letters of appreciation will be given to selected students at the end of each semester, and the winners will be considered in the election of a “Student of the Year” at the end of each school term.

The program for recognition of student leaders was initiated by the student government this fall. The program also has the full approval of the administration and is expected to develop into one of the highest honors groups on the campus.

Two students already have been approved for high honors for their work in student activities during the summer session. Tom Wheelrey, a graduate senior from Butts, had X, Y, Z, will receive one of the first letters from the college for his outstanding contributions to student activities during the summer and previous quarters.

The other award will go to Terry Slayton, a graduate senior from Anniston, for especially outstanding achievement in his work.

Students To Receive Awards For Activity

Student leaders for the new semester will have a chance to qualify for one of the highest honors offered at Jacksonville as a new program for student recognition goes into effect under the semester system.

The awards will be primarily for extra-curricular activities, but the student who qualifies must also have an academic standing of at least a 1.5 average. Letters of appreciation will be given to selected students at the end of each semester, and the winners will be considered in the election of a “Student of the Year” at the end of each school term.

Jonathan Davis when he will present "An Evening With Charles Laughton" under the management of Paul Gregory.

Since his first reading from the literary classics before a paying audience, Laughton, already internationally famous as a screen and stage star, has captivated many thousands of American listeners and has won for himself the undisputed leadership in a new form of public entertainment.

Laughton, who appears to read from the books spread out in his hands in full view of the audience, actually does not read at all. He recites. For he has committed to memory the entire vast repertory of classical excerpts with which he entertains audiences.

He can recite the entire Book of Job, the Song of Solomon, the story of David and Goliah—one of his more captivating numbers—and several other long Biblical passages. Also, he has memorized a great deal of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers" and whole chapters of novels by Thomas Wolfe, notably "Of Time and the River," besides much of Mark Twain, James Thurber, and Stephen Vincent Benet, whose "John Brown's Body" he edited and prepared for stage presentation in this current theatrical season.

Meal Ticket Policy Stated

Jacksonville students have received another caution from the school authorities concerning the policy for meal tickets. In order to avoid future misunderstandings and to avoid trouble for the students, the treasurer's office has again outlined the policy for the use of the new meal tickets in Hammond Hall.

The tickets are issued to each student who pays for room and board on the campus. They are non-transferable and their issuance carries a possible heavy fine. According to the treasurer, the tickets are to be used only by the students to whom they were issued and any violation will subject the student to automatic expulsion.

No duplicate tickets will be issued to any student during the first semester unless the full price of the remaining value of the meal ticket is paid.

There are three college physicians in Jacksonville, one of whom is available each month. He is located at the doctor's office in the hospital every second and third Tuesday.
New Campus Buildings Reflect College Growth

The spectacular growth of Jacksonville State College is reflected vividly in the continuing building program on the campus. The construction now in progress, when considered with the buildings recently completed and others which are under the direction of Miss Barbara Cotton this year.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE—Jacksonville's new home management house for college home economics majors was completed last year. Six selected home economics students reside in the new home each semester. It is completely furnished and equipped with standard home conveniences, including a kitchen for home cooking. The house will be under the direction of Miss Barbara Cotton this year.

Jacksonville can now boast of one of the most beautiful campuses in the nation. Its buildings are modern and are outfitted only by the rapid climb of enrollment figures. The oldest buildings on the new campus are Bibb Graves Hall, home of the administration, and Forney Hall, which dominates the campus, and Daugette Hall, the girls' dormitory. The building is named for the late C. W. Daugette, former president of the college.

Beautiful Campus

The oldest buildings on the new campus are Bibb Graves Hall, home of the administration, and Forney Hall, which dominates the campus, and Daugette Hall, the girls' dormitory. The building is named for the late C. W. Daugette, former president of the college.

Under the administration of the late Dr. C. W. Daugette, who served as college president from 1899 until his death in August, 1942, the new campus maintained a steady growth. A good beginning was made in 1939, along with the library and physical education building. Construction had begun on Hammond Hall, the college cafeteria, and a new addition to Daugette Hall when the late president died.

When Dr. Houston Cole was appointed in 1943, the second phase of Jacksonville's growth began. Hammond Hall and the Daugette Hall were completed and connexion Hall was erected. The modern high school building, Leon Cole Auditorium, the International House, president's house, and college home management house have been built since the close of World War II.

Construction began during the summer on a home management house for high school students, an addition to Hammond Hall, new rooms for Kilby Hall, and additional parking space in front of Bibb Graves Hall.

New Additions

The new home management house, located next to the gymnasium, will be ready for use. The addition to Daugette Hall will be completed by the beginning of the fall term. The building is to house the laboratory classes for elementary students, has been modernized to a large extent by recent construction.

Students Have Opportunity For Religion

The church and Christian religion form a prominent part of Jacksonville's student life, and the churches of Jacksonville and surrounding communities always reserve a special welcome for college students.

The church is closely connected with the activities of the college, and many of the campus organizations were established primarily for religious emphasis. The Wesley Foundation, the Christian Club, the Baptist Students Union, the Western Assembly Fellowship, Alpha Light, and Pi Tau Chi are local organizations whose aims are to promote Christian fellowship at college level.

Students are urged to attend any of the local churches and to participate in their activities regularly. The First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, St. Luke's Episcopal, West Side Baptist, Church of Christ, Church of God, Congregational, and the Sheltonville Baptist Churches have extended a cordial welcome to each student and have planned special services for the young people.

In addition to the several organizations, other means are provided for religious emphasis. As an example, a morning watch is held each school day in the little auditorium, beginning 10 minutes before the first class of the day. Religious Emphasis Week is one of the high points of campus activities each year, when well-known speakers visit the campus and give addresses.

Jacksonville's religious organizations are listed below. Every student should join one of the organizations and take an active part in the activities.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

The Westminster Fellowship is a student organization sponsored by the Presbytean Church. It promotes closer fellowship and takes an active part in the activities.

Gamecocks Begin New Season With Road Tilt

First Contest
At Livingston Saturday Night

The 1953 football season will open for Jacksonville State's Gamecocks Saturday night when they meet Livingston in a road game at Demopolis. It will be the inaugural tilt of a rugged nine-game schedule that will keep the Jaguars busy through November.

Twenty-two lettermen and a group of promising young newcomers will furnish the talent for a new football year that will see a definite change in playing rules. The free substitution rules, which were in effect for the past few seasons, are a thing of the past for college teams. Whether the new rules limiting substitution will help or hurt the Gamecocks will become known before the season is far along.

Coach Ray Wedgeworth expects most of his trouble to come from the backfield, where the Gamecocks will face all the action, and the fact that it is the opening game will make the situation even rougher. Coach Ray Richardson's Gamecocks will face all the action, and the fact that it is the opening game will make the situation even rougher.

Wedge Worth Heads J'ville Coaching Staff

Two changes in the Jacksonville coaching staff this season sends Coach Ray Wedgeworth to the top as head man of the 1953 Gamecocks and brings Tom Roberson back to the campus as assistant.

Wedgeworth, who has served as Jacksonville Line coach for the past six years, inherited the top coaching job when Coach Don Sallie, who went to work toward his doctorate in physical education, Roberson was a member of Jacksonville's 1949-50 coaching staff and has spent the past two seasons as line coach at Florida State.

During his stay with the Gamecocks while serving as line coach for Gainesville High School, Coach Wedgeworth has built a reputation as one of the best defensive coaches in the business. His ability to score and hold stout lines has had much to do with the phenomenal success which the Gamecocks have enjoyed since 1946. During the last two years, Jacksonville has seen only one of two losing seasons.

The 1953 squad, under Sallis and Wedgeworth, swept through an undefeated season last year and came close to duplicating the feat during the past two years. Wedgeworth is remembered by many of the old-timers as one of the best centers in the history of the Guntersville High School's All-Dixie Conference and Little All-American teams.

Cheerleaders To Be Picked By Student Ballot Next Week

Eight new cheerleaders will be elected next week to head the cheering section at each of the remaining eight games on Jacksonville High School's 1953 football schedule. The exact time for the election will be announced by the Student Government Association later this week.

Any student who wishes to enter the tryouts should contact Artie Gunter, SGA president, or another SGA officer. The candidates will perform individually before Servicemen Request Letters from Students

The Jacksonville Coaches probably all have to depend more upon a stout line than anything else in the season opener. Most of the ed guards will be on hand with Harold "Pistol" Bentley, Arne, Guy Sims, Gadsden, Kinfield, Clementson, Guntersville, Jack Grizzard, Oxford, and Harry Yocum, Atalla.

Don Bulger, Sylacauga
can be turned over to center, but at least two promising newcomers are expected to take up the slack. One of them is big Joe Curry, Jacksonville High School's All-County pivotman of last season.

There are five lettermen available for duty in the backfield, but four of them are running at the quarterback and fullback slots.

Returning Bucks

Don Mauldin, Fairfield, and Don Warren, Tallacees, are back as signal callers, and Lamar Howell, Jacksonville, and Virgil Holder, Albertville, will run at fullback.
