Thanksgiving Is Here

Thursday is Thanksgiving, when all Americans and all of the free people everywhere should give thanks to God for deliverance from oppression and servitude. We should give thanks for position of leadership in the free world, and should vow once more to uphold that honor with dignity and understanding.

Old 'Teacola' Gives Way To New 'Collegian' As New Era Opens

Title Selected From Entries By Students

An era is passing at Jacksonville, and another of the school's traditions has gone for good. Whether for better or for worse, the college student newspaper will have a brand new masthead when the December issue is published. The change from the old "Teacola" to a new name has been approved and the new title has been selected by a student-faculty committee.

This will be the final issue of the old "Teacola", and the name that has appeared on the masthead for many years will be missing next month. The new title that has been selected from the suggestions of the student body is "Jacksonville State COLLEGIAN." The new title is considered to represent our college much more than the name that appears for the last time on this issue. The name, "Teacola", was appropriate enough when our school was primarily a teachers college, but it no longer represents a true picture of our curriculum. The old title was derived from the words "teachers college of Alabama."

Although this publication is thought of primarily as a student newspaper, it also does an outstanding service in advertising Jacksonville. Copies are mailed each month to every high school senior in the Jacksonville area, and more than 3,000 reach the homes of prospective Jacksonville students every time it is printed.

Outsiders who read this newspaper after this issue will know exactly where it is published and what it represents by reading the masthead alone. The old title was too suggestive of a soft drink to

KDE Enters Winning Book At Cincinnati

By JoAnn Lewis

Jacksonville's chapter of Kappa Delta Epsilon, professional educational society, known as the "baby chapter", has made headlines in its first year's work as an organization. It won one of the three national awards given at the bi-annual convention held in the Netherland Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Nov. 10-14.

Mrs. W. J. Calvert, chapter adviser, and JoAnn Lewis, president, were sent as delegates to the convention as representatives of the local chapter. The national organization paid the expenses of two from each college chapter to at-

AN EDITORIAL

Progress Of New Publication Now Depends Upon Students

Jacksonville students are reading their last issue of the Teacola, and most are looking forward to a new era, as far as our student publication is concerned. Next month the first "Jacksonville State COLLEGIAN" will appear before the student body and thousands of high school seniors throughout the Jacksonville area.

No doubt, there are students who object to seeing one of our traditions changed. The "Teacola" had become an important part of student activities here over a period of many years, but tradition once more has yielded to progress. What happens to our student newspaper after this month is directly up to the student population.

The present enrollment will remember the "Teacola" as a once-monthly publication. It has been an important factor in influencing high school seniors to choose Jacksonville as their college home. However, we realize that it has not done its job in promoting student activities and keeping campus spirit at a high peak. It could not do its job because of the fact that it has been a monthly paper and could not furnish the continuity that is needed to promote activities and create interest.

In fact, it has been increasingly difficult to maintain an active interest in the publication among the student body, and sometimes even among the members of the staff. With the changing of the official title, there has been a noticeable increase in interest. If the current interest continues to increase, there is an excellent possibility that the new "COLLEGIAN" will become a twice-monthly publication sometime in the near future.

However, there is a lot of organizing and a lot of preparation to do before the big move can be made. There is a lot of student agitation for two issues each month, and the presidents of all the campus organizations have expressed a profound interest in the change. The college administration also has expressed a willingness to go along with the venture, provided the problems can be solved.

First, an expanded advertising campaign will have to be organized to furnish the extra funds needed to publish the extra issue. Organization has been started for the advertising program, but student cooperation is desperately needed. Few of our prospective advertisers are willing to give a donation twice a month, or even once a month. We must support our advertisers and let them know that they are getting something for their money.

The second problem to be solved is the matter of finding enough students who are willing to do the editorial work. We especially need responsible freshmen and sophomores who are willing to devote the necessary time to the work. It will take students who will accept the "COLLEGIAN" as their first responsibility in extra-curricular activities. They must be willing to learn during the re-

Following initiation the following officers were elected: president, Barbara Shirley; vice-president, Marian Laney; secretary, Judy Boozer; treasurer, Sidney Whitley.

Gamecocks End Season With A 32-0 Victory Over Howard

By Ernest Winchester

The Howard Bulldogs, seeking to end their season on a happy note, were handed a bit of surprise as they tangled with a high-scoring Jax ball club. Howard's Berry field last Saturday afternoon. Jacksonville won the contest by a surprising score of 32-0.

Howard coach Bill White had hopes of springing a surprise on the highly favored visitors, since Jacksonville came out on the raw end of their encounter with Florence the week before. Halfback Al Woodham and Freddie Casey, however, spoiled the Bulldogs' hopes as the two of them accounted for 322 of the total 478 yards rushing. Casey made two touch-

Northeast Alabama Symphony Opens Second Season Here

The first fall concert of the Northeastern Alabama Symphony Orchestra was held in the Leone Cole Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, November 21, at 4 o'clock. Dr. Robert Louis Barron is conductor and Walter A. Mason is assistant conductor.

Allie Sue Grimes, mezzo-soprano of Gadsden, was soloist for the concert. She is a graduate of Judson College, and she appeared as soloist both with the Judson Symphony Orchestra and the Glee Club. During her college days she studied with Mrs. Pauline Gurganus, Natalie Lucia Naylor and Ruth Melba Armstrong. She continued her career after leaving Grieg). The Morning, Ase's Death. and more than 3,000 reach the homes of prospective Jacksonville students every time it is printed.

Outsiders who read this newspaper after this issue will know exactly where it is published and what it represents by reading the masthead alone. The old title was too suggestive of a soft drink to be appropriate for a college that is growing as fast as Jacksonville.

The new name was selected from the list of suggestions submitted by the student body. The student who entered the winning suggestion was promised a place in the history of student activities here and adequate publicity. However, the winning title was not signed, and the student who suggested it will remain anonymous.

Wesley Conducts Religious Talks

The Wesley Foundation, in an endeavor to present a variety of programs, has scheduled a series of lectures by representatives of the three major religions—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant.

The purpose of such programs is to enlighten everyone in the doctrines and beliefs of these world faiths, in as much as many of us are unjustly prejudiced toward sects having beliefs different from ours.

These informative talks began Thursday, Nov. 4, at the regular Wesley Foundation meeting in the little auditorium. The first speaker was Chaplain Lt. Col. Arthur O. Hoppe, who spoke on protestantism. There were sixty-two persons, of various denominations, present. The Wesley members believe the program was very successful.

The Catholic representative, Chaplain (Major) Ruggier will visit our campus on Dec. 2nd to give a talk on Catholicism. The following Thursday, December 9, Rabbi Howard L. Fineburg, of Gadsden, representing the Jewish faith will speak at the Wesley Foundation.

Decorations will follow the theme of "By The Light of The Silvery Moon", and Rip Reagan will furnish very danceable music.

The leadout will feature the following members of the sophomore class, President Buddy Davidson, Vice-President Ray Pruitt, Secretary Jane Sims, Treasurer Hollis Laney, Reporter Jo Deerman, S. G. A. Representatives, Bill Campbell and Mary Sprayberry: the favorites, John Lee, Peggy Payne, Carolyn Dews, Jo Deerman; beauties, Regina Miller and Sarah Vawter; Committee of Ten, Garland Ward, Carolyn Baker, Carolyn Dews, Faye Kidd, Bob Rogan, Herman Landers, Ted Wilson, June Wade, Peggy Payne and Joe Anglin.

Bids for this semi-formal (no flowers) dance are now on sale for $1.50, stag or drag.

Don't Forget The Sophomore Hop Next Wednesday

the Netherland Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Nov. 10-14.

Mrs. W. J. Calvert, chapter adviser, and JoAnn Lewis, president, were sent as delegates to the convention as representatives of the local chapter. The national organization paid the expenses of two from each college chapter to attend the convention.

The Jacksonville chapter won the national scrapbook award. The scrapbook was made and presented at the convention without local members getting a glance at it before entry.

Initiation ceremonies were held by Delta Kappa Epsilon, national honorary sorority for women in education, at Jacksonville on Wednesday, Nov. 17. Charter members of the organization performed the rites, assisted by the faculty sponsor, Mrs. W. J. Calvert.

The following were initiated: Orble Barnes, Jamestown; Billie Nell Black, Hesper Clemons, Dadeville; Judy Boozer, Natalie Cooper, Mary Waldrep, Jacksonville; Myra Culp, Sycamore; Joyce Cummings, Rockmart, Ga.; Sara Hornsby, Arab; Frances Jobson, Weaver; Martha Knowles, Gadsden; Marian Laney, Virginia Voss, Anniston; Polly Mehan, Pell City; Charlotte Robbins, Rockford; Willodean Roddam, Wedowee; Blanche Rutland, Cedartown, Ga.

Sophomore Hop Set For December 1

One of the biggest events on the campus each year is the Sophomore Hop. This year's dance on December 1, will be no exception to those in previous years.

Decorations will follow the theme of "By The Light of The Silvery Moon", and Rip Reagan will furnish very danceable music.

The leadout will feature the following members of the sophomore class, President Buddy Davidson, Vice-President Ray Pruitt, Secretary Jane Sims, Treasurer Hollis Laney, Reporter Jo Deerman, S. G. A. Representatives, Bill Campbell and Mary Sprayberry: the favorites, John Lee, Peggy Payne, Carolyn Dews, Jo Deerman; beauties, Regina Miller and Sarah Vawter; Committee of Ten, Garland Ward, Carolyn Baker, Carolyn Dews, Faye Kidd, Bob Rogan, Herman Landers, Ted Wilson, June Wade, Peggy Payne and Joe Anglin.

Kappa Delta Pi Admits New Pledges

Fall initiation ceremonies for Epsilon Phi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi were held Monday evening at Noble Inn in Anniston. A dinner was served before the initiation.

Miss Lucille Branscomb, faculty sponsor, presided over the initiation, assisted by Mrs. C. T. Harper, teacher of commercial subjects at Jacksonville High School, and Mrs. Woodrow Albea, librarian at Anniston High School.

The following were received as members: Marian Laney, Sidney Whitley, Anniston; Charles A. Hodge, Talladega; Barbara Shirley, Fort Payne; Mary Satterfield Newman, Judy Boozer, Jacksonville; Loree Teal, Tressie C. Johnson, Edna R. Baker, Jack Lister, Gadsden; Pearl S. Gilbert, Alabama City; Margaret Voss, Fruit-hurst.

Barbara Shirley was elected president; Marian Laney, vice-president; Judy Boozer, secretary; Sidney Whitley, treasurer.

Election to membership is based upon the attainment of high professional, intellectual and personal standards. Its purpose is to foster a high degree of professional fellowship among its members and to stimulate professional growth by recognition of achievement in educational work.

The group voted to establish a scholarship fund for worthy students in education.

In addition to the members, Mr. and Mrs. Opal R. Lovett were guests at the dinner.

do the editorial work. We especially need responsible freshmen and sophomores who are willing to devote the necessary time to the work. It will take students who will accept the "COLLEGIAN" as their first responsibility in extra-curricular activities. They must be willing to learn during the remainder of the year, because they are the ones who will accept the responsibility of meeting the deadlines next year.

Now is the time to get behind your student publication while the interest is at the present peak. When the administration feels that the students are interested enough to make a twice-monthly publication feasible, we will surely have our two papers each month.

Science Club Holds Initiation Ceremonies

Phi Mu Chi Beta had its semi-annual initiation in the Lounge, November 2. Fourteen new initiates took the initiation pledge and President Ross Smith told how the club functioned. The new members were introduced and a social hour followed the initiation service.

The new members are: Jimmy Tidmore, Billy Gibbs, Wayne Deaton, Helen Smith, Frances Jobson, Nellie Thomas, Jane Kurzhola, Douglas Waugh, Kay Stevenson, Bill Pannell, Dot Rice, Stitaya Sirisinha, Harry Sherman and Ken Hitchcock.

The old members present were: Vivian Carlisle, Shirley Dunn, John Butler, Joyce Cummings, Jeanette Honea, William Paschal, Gerald Poore, Blanche Rutland, Barbara Shirley, Ross Smith, Edith Wilson, Bobbie McDougal, Rolanda Goetz, Thomas Shamblee, and advisor Dr. Wilkes.

the night favored visitors, since Jacksonville came out on the raw end of their encounter with Florence the week before. Halfback Al Woodham and Freddie Casey, however, spoiled the Bulldogs' hopes as the two of them accounted for 322 of the total 478 yards rushing. Casey made two touchdowns and Woodham made one.

First score was made by Casey on a 52-yard run. Later in the first period he again raced into the end zone, climaxing a 30-yard sprint.

Shackled by the relentless Gamecock linemen, Howard had only two serious threats. They got to the Jax 11, and once to the 29 in the final period.

Other Jax scores were made by Woodham, Bob Coley, and "Bull" bailey.

A host of seniors turned their last performance at the Howard game. Ends Ray Campbell, Gallant; and Coley, Lincoln; also co-captains Paul Thompson, Albertville; and Harold Bentley, Arab. Others were center Travis Walker, Walnut Grove; Bailey, Trussville; and fullback Virgil Holder, Albertville.

The Howard victory was the seventh win for the Gamecocks, compared to two defeats and one tie.

The Gamecocks whipped Maryville, Carson-Newman, Livingston, Troy, South Georgia, West Georgia, and Howard, while losing to the University of Chattanooga and Florence and tying Austin Peay.

The first disease to reach epidemic stage in Alabama was yellow fever. It was brought to Fort Louis de la Mobile by a sailing vessel from Santa Dominga in 1704.

Interesting Program

The program was as follows: Prelude to "Loreley" (Max Bruch); Symphony No. 24 in B-Flat Major (K-182), (Mozart), allegro, andante grazioso, allegro; Aria: "Adieu Forrets" from "Jeanne d'Arc" for mezzo-soprano and orchestra (Tchaikowsky) Mrs. Grimes.

Kappa Phi Kappa Initiates 6 Members

At the last meeting of Kappa Phi Kappa initiations were held for the following new members: Ray Campbell, Valta Lawler, Jimmy Reaves, Harry Sherman, Travis Walker and Douglas Waugh. After initiation ceremonies, refreshments were served by Mrs. Barbara Cole and Mrs. Joanne Phillips.

Members for Kappa Phi Kappa Educational Fraternity are selected on the basis of scholarship, initiative, personality and potentialities as members of the educational profession. Old members are: Milton Acton, Hugh Avant, W. H. Ashburn, Ray Black, Stossil Cole, Thomas Freeman, Billy Gibbs, Bob Hand, Gene Hanson, Dewey Huddleston, Carl Manship, Douglas Martin, Jerry Miller, Claude Mullinax, Bill Odum, Billy Pannell, Tommy Phillips, Charles Pollard, Charles Smith, Wayne Wallace, Thomas Walthall, Sidney Whitley. Officers are Stossil Cole, president, Billy Pannell, vice-president, Tommy Phillips, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Fields and Dr. Self are sponsors.

GAMECOCKS TO OPEN CAGE SEASON WED.

Jacksonville's 1954-55 basketball season will officially open next Wednesday, December 1, when Coach Tom Roberson's Gamecocks take on the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa. The game will be the first of two against the state's big University, with the battle with Auburn coming up on December 11.

Coach Roberson will have several of his mainstays from last season in the line-up again this year, including Howard "Mouse" Waldrep, Tom Richey, Buddy Mayes, Joe Craig, and Larry Oswald. In addition, he will have a lot more boys who represent Jacksonville's most promising basketball crop in years.

Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes (Mellish-Quilter), Do Not Go, My Love (Richard Hageman), A Memory (Rudolf Ganz), Hills (Frank LaForge), Mrs. Grimes, Katherine D. Bates at the piano.

Peer Gynt Suite No. 1 (Edvard Grieg), The Morning, Ase's Death, Anitra's Dance, In the Hall of the Mountain King; Serenata Sorrentina (Radie Britian), Four Airs from "High Jinks" (Friml).

Single admission to the concerts is $1.50 and $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students.

EDITORIALS

Changing our Alma Mater should require forethought

The proposed new Alma Mater which Dr. Duncan and his musicians introduced to the student body recently obviously met with the approval of a large percentage of the people who heard it. The music is distinctive and the lyrics need little, if any, alteration to meet the approval of the entire student assembly. It is a great piece of work and there is little doubt that it could influence our school spirit considerably.

However, the big decision that faces us is not whether we need an Alma Mater, because we already have an Alma Mater. The question to be decided is whether we, as a student body, are to accept the proposed new school song and adopt it as the beginning of a new tradition at Jacksonville. There are more factors to consider than most of our students realize.

There is a decision to make, and the student body should be allowed a strong voice in the matter. Very few students realize that Jacksonville has an Alma Mater and has had one for many years. Few, if any, of our present students have ever heard it, and the music that should be played at all of our student assemblies has become lost through neglect. Perhaps the proposed Alma Mater is much better than the old one, but far too few of us would be able to make a choice, since we have heard only one side of the discussion.

If we are to make a decision, now is the time for us to hear both arrangements. We cannot take it upon ourselves to change a factor as important to our college tradition as our Alma Mater should be without spending a lot of thought upon the matter. The students who have never heard the Alma Mater obviously will not be concerned so much with traditions, simply because the official school song does not represent a tradition at all. It has been buried far too long to arouse much sentiment among the present enrollment.

Even so, we should consider the opinions and wishes of our alumni, who sang the Alma Mater during their school days here and think of it now as one of the ties they have with Jacksonville. Our judgement should be sound, and we should consider both sides carefully.

When the decision has been made, we should insist that the Alma Mater we choose should never be buried and forgotten again.

Our cafeteria is big business that must make ends meet

A student body as large as Jacksonville's can be expected to have its share of complaints, some of them legitimate and others not so well-grounded. No one expects to satisfy 1,200 people all of the time, and anyone who does so has accomplished what approaches the impossible.

One of the loudest complaints that has reached our Student Council this year has concerned the cafeteria and our daily food. Only the campus residents are directly affected by any policies or any menus that Mrs. McWhorter decides upon. It is their complaint, since they are the ones who have paid cash in advance for meals served at Hammond Hall.

The problem has been thoroughly discussed by the Council and many of the old complaints have disappeared completely. The basis of most of the complaining has been misunderstanding.

We readily admit that many of the meals at Hammond Hall aren't like Mother cooks. On the other hand, many of the meals that Mrs. McWhorter puts before us leave little to be desired. Many of us do not realize dietitian faces makes her worth every bit of the compensation that she receives, and she deserves the respect and admiration of all of us.

Solon Glover, the assistant college treasurer, has revealed many of the problems involved in the operation of Hammond Hall. The cafeteria is strictly a non-profit operation and does not receive any funds whatever through state appropriations. The money we pay for our meals is used in the dining hall and nowhere else. Salaries for the dietitian, cooks and workers in the cafeteria come from the money we pay in, and all of the food that is bought comes from the same source. Mrs. McWhorter must make the books balance, or be ready to meet the consequences.

Too many of us are convinced that students at the other state colleges are getting more for their money. Mr. Glover has answered that charge by offering the Student Council a chance to send representatives to the other colleges, unannounced, and see for themselves what our neighboring students are getting. We are willing and the

With little to do and plenty of time to do it, I strolled over to Ramona Wood Library on a delightfully warm November afternoon. First I read the Birmingham News, glanced through the latest Atlantic Monthly and spent twenty minutes digesting the highlights in the current issue of Newsweek. Back into the stacks I leisurely wandered, stopping a moment at the bulletin board exhibit which informed me of National Book Week.

What a satisfying experience it is, this browsing through the stacks with no particular problem to be solved and no one certain book to find! And so I stopped in the section marked 921, which I readily saw is biography. So many wonderful books about as many wonderful people! A nice new looking book, Letters of Edna St. Vincent Millay, caught my attention. I have long loved her poems. Perhaps reading her letters will be nice.

Forty-five minutes pass and I've done just that. I have not read anything as fine for a long time. These letters gave me an insight into the character of this writer as none of her poems has succeeded in doing. Miss Millay is writing

Howard Waldrep's Athletic Ability, Leadership Noted

How Howard Waldrep retains his modest attitude is most certainly a miracle, for he wins outstanding honors in everything he undertakes.

A star athlete, "Mousie" is captain of the basketball team, president of the "J" Club, a member of Kappa Phi Kappa, and manager of the football team. Although his extra curricular activities require many hours of work our spotlighted senior was on the Dean's List last spring, and was this semester selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Howard's versatility is well known to those who attended Anniston High with him. There he won letters both in football and in basketball, being chosen as an "All-District" basketball player in '49.

After high school days ended, "Mousie" attended Shead Junior College for one year. At Shead, he was an outstanding basketball player, and was voted "Unanimous Choice" in the Mid-South Junior College Basketball Tournament.

In 1951, Mister Waldrep became Sergeant Waldrep. He served with the Army in Korea, where he was awarded the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantry Badge. One wonders how he can still be called "Mousie" after all this!

Thomas F. Stevenson
Pastor, First Methodist Church

There is a story told of an Eastern king who seemed to have everything that the heart could desire. He was quite wealthy, he had power, he was well liked by his subjects, and his country was enjoying peace and prosperity. But despite all of this he was unhappy and dissatisfied with life. He called together his wisest counsellors to try to find some solution for his unhappiness.

After a long discussion of the problem, one of his wise men suggested that they search for the happiest man in the kingdom. When that man was found they were to take his shirt and let the king put it on in the belief that the man's happiness might be contagious. The king, who had frantically sought happiness in just about every other way, said that he would try this plan. They found the happiest man in the kingdom after a search of several months. However, they were unable to try out their plan, for the happiest man in the kingdom did not have a shirt.

In our search for happiness many of us act like that king did. We keep seeking the external things of life in the hope that we can find an internal happiness. We often think of money or material success as the key to happiness. Only to awaken one day to the fact that happiness is not achieved in that way. We do not seem to realize that happiness comes to us as we learn to live at peace with ourselves and at peace with those about us. And that peace, which comes to us as we forget ourselves in the doing of God's will, is referred to in the Bible as the "peace that passeth all understanding".

We have heard the words of Jesus read so often that we sometimes do not notice the stark contrast between our idea of happiness and his. His teaching can be described as the reversal of our commonly accepted standards as is so clearly shown by the words, "The first shall be last and the last shall be first." When he talked about happiness he said that it comes to the poor in spirit, those who mourn, the meek, those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers.

Do you want a real and lasting happiness in your life? You cannot get it as the Eastern king tried to find it, nor can you get it as many of us try to find it today. But you can realize an inner hap-cussed by the Council and many of the old complaints have disappeared completely. The basis of most of the complaining has been misunderstanding.

We readily admit that many of the meals at Hammond Hall aren't like Mother cooks. On the other hand, many of the meals that Mrs. McWhorter puts before us leave little to be desired. Many of us do not realize that feeding five hundred students is a much harder job than feeding the family at home. The responsibility and problems that our

Too much faculty supervision kills initiative in our clubs

The role extra-curricular activities play in promoting self-confidence, leadership, character, and initiative among students has been outlined many times in our student publications. Our organizations have a distinct place in the training of our students for the years after college. Participation in these activities provides the extra something that is needed to produce a well-rounded college graduate who is not afraid to tackle the problems that come his way.

Most of our campus organizations are giving the students the training which is necessary to promote self-confidence. Once a student has done one job well, he is not afraid to try the next. He leaves a well-defined path from one activity to the next, until he has gained the unquestionable distinction of being a leader.

Unfortunately, not all of our organizations give the students a chance to show their real worth to our campus society. Their initiative is being buried and their training in leadership is being hampered by too much interference from faculty advisers.

This publication realizes that faculty advisers are an important and necessary part of our campus organizations, but we insist that they should be advisers and not dictators. Perhaps the word "dictator" is much too strong to use in reference to any of our faculty advisers, but the fact remains that

PLEASE, BAND MEMBERS, HOW ABOUT COOPERATING

Our band members, or at least their instruments, have been conspicuously absent from too many pep rallies this fall. Although they represent the one group that could do the most to enliven the spirit of our pep rallies, only a few of the faithful have volunteered to show up for music making.

Even at the big pre-game rallies before the Florence downfall, there were no instruments around to add the pep that only music can give. We realize that the band was practicing during the 4 o'clock rally on the Thursday afternoon preceding the Florence game, but what about the 6:30 o'clock bonfire and the big send-off on Friday morning.

Please, band members who have been very considerate in the past, why not keep up the good work and get back into the swing of things.

Too many of us are convinced that students at the other state colleges are getting more for their money. Mr. Glover has answered that charge by offering the Student Council a chance to send representatives to the other colleges, unannounced, and see for themselves what our neighboring students are getting. We are willing, and the Student Council is willing, to accept Mr. Glover's word that we average getting as much or more than other students.

better leaders will be produced when students are allowed to make decisions for themselves, so long as such decisions do not conflict with college regulations and Christian principles.

It is true that student officers do not always make the best decisions, but only a few do not profit by their mistakes, and all of them have learned by making the mistake. In almost every case where student officers make a wrong decision, they feel that it is their duty and responsibility to make amends. When the faculty advisers make the wrong decision, especially when it conflicts with the desires of the student officers, the sense of responsibility and the willingness to correct the mistake is not nearly as strong among the students.

In most of our organizations, the students make their own decisions. They have made mistakes but the good that they have accomplished completely overshadows the wrong.

College Basketball Tournament. In 1951, Mister Waldrep became Sergeant Waldrep. He served with the Army in Korea, where he was awarded the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantry Badge. One wonders how he can still be called "Mousie" after all this!

Howard and his wife live in the Veterans' apartments. Mary Faith is also a senior (class beauty, no less!), and is from Scottsboro. When graduation time rolls around next June, Howard will receive a B.S. degree in Secondary Education. His major is physical education, and his minor is history. This future coach is well qualified for his chosen profession, with unlimited experience in swimming, basketball, football and other phases of physical education.

The next book which I examined was The Autobiography of Wm. Allen White. I opened the book at random, read a chapter where Mr. White buys the Emporia Gazette: "I had crossed the Rubicon—that border line in this world between the hired man and the boss. I waked the next morning, which was Sunday, sacred. I had the key to the office in my pocket. After breakfast I went to look at it, all alone." And there, . . ." The Gazette was growing. The little four-page paper which we took over in 1895 with a circulation of less than five hundred, . . . now had over two thousand circulation. It was a six-page paper now every day." In this book William Allen White gives the story of our country through the presidential administrations of Taft, Roosevelt, Harding, and Wilson as seen through the eyes of a small town newspaperman who knew personally each of these men. Some day I'll come back for more and read other chapters by Mr. White.

Now I've discovered this Lindberg book, The Spirit of St. Louis, and must examine it. After reading two pages of chapter one, I am convinced that here is a book not meant for browsing. This book must be devoured and digested, every word of it. For Charles A. Lindberg, I discovered, can write and, what is more, he has something to write about.

And so, I checked the book at the desk for two weeks.

As I cross the campus it is twilight, this benediction of a perfect day. I am on my way to the lighted window which marks the spot I call "home", and an hour program with Gary Moore.

All this and TV, too!

Especially severe was the yellow fever epidemic of 1853, which began in Mobile and spread up the river, forcing hundreds of persons to flee from their homes in the river towns.

New Members Here

The Writer's Club met last week and initiated the incoming members for this semester.

The new members accepted into the club were Nancy Baker, Oxford; Nancy Williams, Gadsden; Mohammad Boutaleb, Morocco and Donnie Calvert, Jacksonville, junior member.

Old members performing the ceremony were Betty Wade, Birmingham; Marian Laney, Anniston; Bobby Hawkins, Arab; Douglas Williams, Anniston; Harry Wheelock, Birmingham; Carolyn Fite, Anniston; Jane Sims, Pell City; and Dr. William J. Calvert, sponsor.

Hi! I'm back again to tell you what your S.G.A. has done, is doing, and plans to do in the near future. This report to you resembles the report of S.G.A. activities that Gene Hanson, vice-president, gave at our last council meeting.

You may have wondered how the S.G.A. functions efficiently and quickly, just as any organization, the S.G.A. has its standing committees, whose job is to have a regular report for the council and carry out a specific task, and for other immediate jobs, a temporary committee is selected by the president of S.G.A. The standing committees are: Social Committee, Election Committee, Ways and Means Committee, Coordinating Committee, Honor System Committee, and the Workers Council.

The Honor System Committee has met twice this month with the Worker's Council to discuss the value, workability and advancement of an honor system here at our college. This program will move slowly at first, but will move more rapidly later if the majority of the students on the campus wish to establish an honor system as our second tradition—our first tradition being friendliness. During the month of November, a theme contest, sponsored by the Writer's Club, is being conducted. The S.G.A. is offering prizes which were mentioned in my report last month.

There is a parking problem in all of the parking areas at this time, as most of you realize. Until this problem is solved and more parking spaces can be furnished, the rule set up by the S.G.A. of requiring cars not to park around Hammond Hall will be revoked and will be enforced.

The S.G.A. will soon have a glass-enclosed bulletin board outside the Grab, large enough to be used by the various organizations on the campus. Other new items on the agenda will be props to be used for the dances. Heretofore, when a dance was given, the students had to haul their props from places far from the college. Props that can be used at any time for a dance will be very convenient. Several students have also suggested that the S.G.A. see that mirrors are placed in the rest rooms of the gymnasium. This plan will be carried out as soon as possible.

To encourage more students to go to Florence the S.G.A. payed $1.25 per student for a chartered bus. There was a good response to this offer.

On behalf of the S.G.A. and the student body, may I congratulate the football players on their fine work and great spirit this year. We are really proud of each one of you football boys.

The S.G.A. members in the future will have pins representing their organization. The members will be allowed to wear the pins while they hold office and if they do not want to buy the pin, return it at the end of their term of office.

The annual this year sounds as if it will be better than ever before, although it was very good last year. JoAnn Lewis, Harry Sherman and all of the other members of the annual staff seem to be doing a grand job.

That covers our activities for this month. Any suggestions you have for improvement of our campus will be greatly appreciated.

who mourn, the meek, those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers.

Do you want a real and lasting happiness in your life? You cannot get it as the Eastern king tried to find it, nor can you get it as many of us try to find it today. But you can realize an inner happiness as you are willing to forget yourself in the service of God and the service of man. Then you can find the peace that passes understanding, the abundant, and the life eternal.

SENIORS RECEIVE THANKS
On Oct. 28, the Senior Class sponsored a very successful "Monte Carlo" party in the gym. The party was a success because of the splendid cooperation of committees and their chairmen, the senior class's participation, Dr. Wilkes, the faculty advisor, and the interest of the student body.

Bill Hammill and Virgil Holder chairmen of the publicity committee, advertised the party, while June Usry and Lu Mosely headed the committee for collecting prizes from the merchants that back Jacksonville State. Shirley Childress and Joe Sawyer, chairmen of the decoration committee, met with their committee and decided to use Hallowe'en decorations in the "Senior Phenix Club". The entertainment chairmen, Billy Pannell and Vivian Carlisle, received splendid cooperation.

The games were planned and made by the operators at the party. "Bubba" Carroll had the baseball "ring the can" game next to Holder's "Tennis Ring the Can game." Carl Manship and Nancy Johnson took over the ping pong game. In the corners where the lights swung low, Joe Tommie and Ben Nodal, with red garters on their black shirt sleeves, played black jack with the guests. Rayford Boozer and Jerry Roberts were keepers of the dice tables.

The prizes from the color game table which Tommie Phillips and Ernest Winchester set up disappeared quickly. The dancing in the center of the club was enjoyed continuously. Heading the big table next to the door, Jean Pittman and Dot Orr called numbers until some lucky winner yelled "BINGO!"

Faye Crumbley and Lu Mosely added a bit of beauty to the room where the coffee was served. Bob Hand and Joe Conyers, senior class president, were the doormen, and Harry Sherman made change for the "Senior Phenix Club."

The entertainment committee presented a good intermission show which included a pantomime of the Stamps Quartet by Tommy Walthall, Joe Radford, Dub Hicks

By BETH TAYLOR

Who in Randy Furseth's hometown in Norway would have predicted that 19 years from that November 9th she would celebrate her birthday in Daugette Hall? Well, she did. Randy enjoyed the surprise party she received from her new friends. Happy Birthday, Randy!

Our crab apple trees here on Solomon's Hill have yielded their golden fruit twice since Omar Calciolari and Alice Jane Williams were chosen class favorites. It was plainly tolled by the wedding bells on Nov. 6, at the First Baptist Church in Oxford that Alice and Omar were each other's favorites too. Omar graduated in the department of business education here and Alice in home economics. They will live at Fort Benning, Ga., where Omar is an officer.

The "Scenic Campus of the South" is made more beautiful by a lovely group of girls wearing pretty rings. These girls are engaged but have not set definite dates for their weddings: Betty Dickson to "Piggy" Watford; "Ducky" Cain to "Bud" McCarty; Mary Ann Criction to Billy Gann; Wanda Robinson to Jimmy Bear-den; Sue Roberson to Paul Brown, and Orble Barnes to "Pat" Allen.

Two of our football line heroes are to be married soon. Roy "Bull" Bailey and Sandra Taylor have set their date for November 24. Sandra is from Anniston and a former student of JSC, and "Bull" is a senior with a major in physical education and a minor in history.

Don Standridge from Cleveland, Alabama, is our other football player who is being married this month. Miss Billy Ann Engle from Oneonta will become Don's bride this Thanksgiving. He is a physical education major and a biology minor.

When Doug Nolen puts up his lab equipment for the last time and receives his degree in chemistry this semester he will soon have another red letter day in his life. On January 30, 1955, Miss Oselene Sims will become his bride. Osie is a business major and comes to us from Pell City. They will live at Fort Sil, Oklahoma, for the first few months because Doug will be a commissioned Ft. O. T.C. officer.

Congratulations Don and Billy Ann and Doug and Osie!

June 18th, 1955, seems a long way off for Faye Dryden, for on that day she will become Mrs.

Coach Don Salls paid N. C. Denton a double doctor bill because Coach lost a little bet they had. If the new baby was a girl there was to have been no charge, if it was a boy the bill would be doubled. Jax's 1972 quarterback, Donald Joseph Salls, Jr., "Dee" for short, arrived with very healthy lungs on November 6, 1954.

Dr. and Mrs. Fields had a different taste in their choice for a new baby, and Laura Allison, the name they gave her. Congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Fields. To Laura Allison, we hope you inherit mother's beauty and your father's intelligence. No doubt Jax State will be fortunate to have such a co-ed in 1972.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Moon of Anniston have a boy. Joyce, his mother, named him Herbert L., Jr., but Lowell insists that his name be spelled "Quobpt" because Joyce, an English major, told him once that a proper name could be spelled any way one chooses. Lowell is a pre-law student and promises to teach "Quobpt" everything he learns here at Jacksonville.

Miss Maude Luttrell Talks On Europe Trip

Miss Maude Luttrell, beloved English instructor, recently told of her summer trip to Europe at an assembly of the student body.

Miss Luttrell, in telling of her trip—which she has done for numerous clubs—does not attempt to tell what is right or wrong with Europe after her eight-week's tour, but rather she gives her impressions of the people and of the great beauty of the old country where the old and new blend so harmoniously. With St. Luke she said, "I'm going to testify of the things I've seen."

In London she bought a four-piece set of antique silver with the $100 presented to her last spring by the faculty and students (by adding to it). It was purchased in the silver vaults located underground. She loved England and in true literary fashion expressed her impressions in the words of Rupert Brooke and Lord Tennyson. She was intrigued with the beauty of Paris, the cleanliness of Holland, the interesting scenes of Switzerland, and most of all with Italy, and Rome in particular. With Browning, she said, "You must study Rome with your soul."

But above all she loved the fine people of Europe. They were so

It's A Good Answer, But Expect No Mercy

This is an answer Dr. Gary received on a chemistry test:

I think that I shall never see, a mark as lovely as a "B"; a "B" whose fat and lustrous curves will please the eyes and soothe the nerves. A "B" that drives away dull care and brings the gladness everywhere, a "B" that in time I wish, would measure fourfold to make Dean's List. "D"'s are probably made by fools, but not according to my rules; for on this test it seems to me, that only God could get a "B".

Blade Admits Latest Pledges In Annual Rite

"B" Company, 9th Regiment has been quite active this year. The company has already sponsored its annual military dance. It was quite a success. The company sponsors a military dance during the first semester every year and a big Military Ball in the second semester.

The company is under the competent leadership of Capt. Joe W. Parson, 1st Lt. William P. Pannell, 2nd Lt. Norman C. Propes and 1st Sgt. Sidney L. Whitley. The older members of Scabbard and Blade are James R. Campbell, William Hammill, Harris Love, Gary Morgan, Thomas Shamblee, James F. Solley and James H. Royal.

Sixteen pledges were initiated informally during the week of Oct. 18-21. On the night of Oct. 21, the pledges were taken to a nearby mountain, Chimney Peak, for a simulated military maneuver. The ceremony of the formal initiation of the new members was held on Nov. 1, 1954. The new members are Earl W. Aldrup, Jr., James Bishop, Gary F. Burns, Paul Cothran, Gene Hanson, Carl G. Harrison, Carlton Hosmer and Gerald K. Johnson. Others were Lewis T. Leath, Larry L. Lyda, William E. Morrow, Calvin L. Smith, Russell A. Vaughn, Merle L. Wade, James H. Watson and Wayman Wester.

"B" Company also initiated three officers as associate members. They were Lt. Col. Albert W. Harvey, Maj. Dillard F. Jones and Capt. Lawson D. Franklin.

The company plans to buy enough sabres for all of the cadet officers through the staff.

It is also planned to stage a

Miss Branscomb To Attend Convention

Miss Lucille Branscomb, head of the Jacksonville College Business Education Department, will attend the Southern Business Education Association's annual convention in Little Rock, Arkansas, during the Thanksgiving holidays. She will appear on the convention program to discuss the subject "Providing business education services to the business teachers of Alabama." She will explain the plan to provide these services through the cooperation of the Alabama Business Education Association, colleges providing business-teacher training, and the State Department of Education, a joint project being launched this year in Alabama.

As Alabama's state representative in the Southern Association, Miss Branscomb is a member of the SBEA Executive Board which will meet during the convention. She is also Unified Chairman of Business Education in Alabama, representing the United and National Business Education associations, as well as the Southern, and the Future Business Leaders of America.

Local Young Demos Organize Club Here

The Young Democrats Club is one of the newest clubs on the campus. There is an active membership drive at present time, and the only requirement to become a member is to be a good Democrat. The president of the Jacksonville chapter is Hollice Laney; the administrative vice-president is Dwight Evers; the executive vice-president is Jack McClendon; the treasurer is Leon Staggs; and secretary is Betty Smith. Anyone interested in joining this organization please contact any of the officers or come to the meeting every first and third Tuesday of each month at 4 o'clock in the Little Auditorium.

Mr. Belser is the faculty advisor for the organization.

But above all she loved the fine people of Europe. They were so wonderful, and the former students of the International House came miles to see her, or their parents entertained her. As a result she came home with this feeling: that God has made all people, and to "owe no man anything but to love one another."

A man's size can be measured by the size of a thing that makes him mad.

"B" Company also initiated three officers as associate members. They were Lt. Col. Albert W. Harvey, Maj. Dillard F. Jones and Capt. Lawson D. Franklin.

The company plans to buy enough sabres for all of the cadet officers through the staff.

It is also planned to stage a bingo party and to sponsor the "cadet of the year". The cadet of the year is chosen from the list of cadets who were selected as "cadet of the week." The "cadet of the year" is chosen on the basis of leadership and general military excellence.

Yellow fever returned again and again to Mobile after it was first brought there in 1704, and there were 40 deaths from the disease in Mobile in 1819, probably a third of the population at the time.

- FINER FILTER!
- FINER FLAVOR!
- KING SIZE, TOO!

Winston tastes good—like a cigarette should!

Winston brings flavor back to filter smoking—full, rich, tobacco flavor! No wonder college smokers are flocking to Winston—on campuses across the country! Along with real flavor—the kind you've been missing in filter smokes—Winston brings you a finer filter. This exclusive Winston filter is unique, different, truly superior! It works so effectively, yet doesn't "thin" the taste or flatten the flavor. Winstons are king-size, too, for extra filtering action—and easy-drawing for extra good taste. Try a pack of Winstons!

'Deuces' Take Football Title; Wallop Stars

The intramural association climaxed this year's touch football season with awards and a championship game in College Bowl. The awards were presented at assembly in the Leone Cole Auditorium. At the same assembly the students who were chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" were presented certificates.

The intramural board held a special meeting to select an all-star team to play the champion "Deuces" in the championship game. The board was composed of coaches from each team and regular members appointed by Mrs. Calvert, head of the intramural association. These all-star members were presented certificates similar to those presented to the All-Staters. The champion "Deuces" received key chain medals with the inscription "Intramural Champs, 1954".

Carlton Hosmer, Talladega, was awarded a trophy for his outstanding playing and good sportsmanship. Along with the trophy went the honor of "most valuable player", and he went on to prove just that in the championship game played in College Bowl. The "Deuces" came out on top of that contest by the surprising score of 26-0.

During the half-time, Miss Betty Dickson of Gadsden was crowned "Miss Intramural." Betty was selected for this honor by a committee of faculty members at the assembly program.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER—Carlton Hosmer (left) receives the first annual 'J' Club trophy for being selected the 'Most Valuable Player' in the local intramural touch football league which ended its season recently. The trophy is being presented by Howard Waldrep, president of the 'J' Club.

International House Receives Cards From Former Students

The International House has received greetings from a group of former students who held a reunion in Paris, France, recently. Included in the group were: Ernest Schwarz, and his wife from Lausanne, Switzerland; Martha Elton Maddox and E. R. ### Jax Tennis Slate Is Announced For 1955

The tennis team, with a near-perfect record last year (won 11-lost 1) is looking forward to another good season this year. Fifteen matches have been scheduled for this season on a home and home basis.

The Schedule

West Georgia, Mar. 11, home; Davidson College, Mar. 18, home; Marion Institute, Mar. 22, away; Oglethorpe University, Mar. 25, home; University of Chattanooga, Mar. 30, away.

Florence, Apr. 1, away; West Georgia College, Apr. 7, away; Howard College, Apr. 8, away; Marion Institute (Spring Festival), Apr. 15, home; Oglethorpe, Apr. 19, away; Troy, Apr. 22, home.

Howard College, May 3, home; Troy, May 6, away; University of Chattanooga, May 10, home; Florence, May 13, home.
