Home Economics Members Present Ideas On Fashions
By Lucy Durham
Jacksonville’s Home Economics Department presented its third annual fashion show on Wednesday, Dec. 5, at the Leone Cole Auditorium.

A Broadway play, “My Fair Lady” was echoed in the theme of the show over which Peggy Wright presided. She introduced Mr. Baskin Wright who in turn presented the first part of the program, Mrs. T. E. Montgomery.

Some one spirited and warm-hearted the audience as the girls and boys from Mrs. Stringer’s kindergarten and the College Nursery School modeled small-fry fashions and added special appeal to the fashion show. The children were Teach them, Meg Glover, Tommy Robertson, Deborah Wilson, Patricia Benefield, Linda Benefield, David Reeves, Rebecca Ann Wright, Sparks Harper, Randy Harper, Beverly Bethua, Paula Bonzer, Jimmy Malliac, Deborah Callahan, Soll Shippam, Susan Rowland, Vann Newman. The children’s fashions were picked from the Quality Shop and Gray’s Mercantile of Jacksonville.

In Britain, 25% of the audience watched the dancers, “Tocight We Love”. The second scene, “Colonial Cottons” featured the Freshman Clothing Class in dresses that they had themselves sewed. The fresmen in some two were: Sylvia Davis, Barbara Owen, Carole Bone, Jane Smith, Carol Smith, Jo Sijsen, Carolyn Pipin, Annette Smith, Anne Giddes, Helen Marbut, Carol Ann Farrington, Beverly Brown, Ann Brothers, Ruby Cox, Betty Benefield and Bob Biard.

The tailoring class modeled suits, coats, and dress-jacket outfits in the third scene. Those modeling woolen garments were: Jan Colling, Jean Bonner, Peggy French, Wynelle Miller, Bess Marshall, Iris Bouch, Roxy Harper, Dot Gebbert, Lucy Durham, Jo Harris, Hazel Forbus, Pat Morgan, Sanmyre Higdon, Ann Brothers, and Rosemary McCullum.

Music was furnished by Martha Gisler and Peggy Wright. The stage setting for the fashion show was for “Prinio”, which was prepared by the Mausie and Tri. The staging was by Lavy Stewert and Jerry Harmon.

Upholstered were furnished by the Upholsterers Club. They were: Ted Wilson, Garland Ward, DeLeath Voie, Clayton Az. Tammy McMannen, Jacob Crawford, Bill Jones, Gary Greaves,Option Kerner, Horace Ashton, Gary Gregg, Gerald Williams, and Dale Nabors. Miss Eleanor Kelly, clothing instructor, directed the fashion show. Ann Botter, president of the Home Economics Club, presented Miss Kelly with a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Mary L. Lowrey and Mrs. G. S. Matthews served as hostesses.

Jacksonville’s Home Economics Department presented its third annual fashion show on Wednesday, Dec. 5, at the Leone Cole Auditorium.

By Anne McCullum Boyles

The Cobbler And His Guest

There once lived in the city of Marselles an old shoemaker, loved and honored by his neighbors, who affectionately called him “Father Martin.”

One Christmas Eve, as he sat alone in his little shop reading of the visit of the Wise men to the infant Jesus, and of the gifts they brought, he said to himself, “If tomorrow were the first Christmas, and if this Jesus were to be born in Marselles this night, I know what I would give him.” He rose from his stool and took from a shelf overhead two tiny shoes of soft, supple leather with bright silver buckles. “I would give him these, my finest work.”

Replacing the shoes, he blew out the candle and returned to rest. Hardly had he closed his eyes it seemed, when he heard a voice call his name, “Martin, Martin.” Instantly he felt a presence. Then the voice spoke again, “Martin, you have wished to see me. Tomorrow I shall pass by your table.”

“Father Martin did not sleep that night for joy. And before it was yet dawn, he rose and swept and tidied up his little shop. He spread fresh sand upon the floor. He washed his green boots of silk along the rafters. On the spooling linen-covered table, he placed a loaf of white bread, a jar of honey, and a pitcher of milk, and over the fire he hung a pot of tea. Then he took up his patient vigil.

Presently he saw an old street-walker pass by, bowing upon his then gnarled hands to warm them. Poor (Continued on page 6A)
Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

From the number of comments made and questions asked concerning the recent Junior and Freshman dance it appears that many students need to be clarified in the minds of some students. Therefore, the committees of the above classes responsible for the dance requests space in the Collegian to make some explanations and reasons clear.

The dance, one of the most enjoyable and successful ever held at Jacksonville according to the expressions of many people, was attended by approximately 500 people who were high in their praises of the orchestra, the organization of the activities, and the general conduct of the students. The orchestra leader and other members were generous in their praises of the activities and the enthusiasm and conduct of the dancers.

Some questions and criticisms have been asked and heard concerning the committee handling complimentary bads, methods of handling such dances, and handling the finances. In answer to these questions and criticisms the committees would like to make the following explanations and comments.

Complimentary bads were given to twenty-four school officials, radio station employees, and other people for services rendered the committees and the use of materials and facilities. Such services and materials as spot radio announcements, installation and operation of public address system, suggesting, supervising, and in some cases actually constructing decorations for the gym, are only a few examples of why complimentary bds: were given. No student was given a complimentary bbd by any committee for services rendered. It may have appeared that some people had complimentary bds, but this was not the case since these seemingly complimentary bds were paid for by friends either among the students or outsiders.

The problem of financing a dance of such magnitude was the problem of each committee faced by the committees. In order to close the contract with the booking agency, thus assuring the services of the "Glenn Miller" orchestra, it was necessary to sign the contract about one month before the dance and pay one-half the contract, or $500, at the time of signing. To raise this money, stock, at $5.00 per share, was sold to students, organizations, and other interested people. When it became evident that the sales of stock was not going to raise the $500.00 needed to close the contract before the deadline date set by the booking agency, a small short term loan was arranged to supplement the amount raised from the sale of stock and the contract was signed. The loan was repaid from funds raised by contractes on the sale of stock and bds. All funds were handled by the treasurer of the classes, who was elected by the classes, or by a representative of the class with full knowledge and consent of the treasurer. The final payment, of $500.00, to the orchestra was made in cash at the request of the booking agency and the leader. This cash settlement was made by class representatives, and included, in addition to the handling through the regular banking channels and complete records are available.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for Freshman and Junior Classes

Money Taken:

Stock $945.00

Tickets:

Advance 199 @ $4.00 796.00

Door 34 @ $4.50 153.00 949.00

Carnival 80.00

Coa Coa 9.00

Total Money Taken-In $1,683.80

Expenses:

Band $1,000.00

Stock 925.00

Rent of P. A. System 10.00

Decoration 47.82

Travel 10.00

Flowers 10.00

Piano (tuning) 7.00

Publicity 20.00

Total Expenses $2,047.12

Freshman and Junior

Danice Committee

Ed: A badly needed plan, one that SGA could use as a by-law to prevent any other problems, is one that would set up rules for financing and managing a dance. Perhaps an even better plan would be for the election of class officers to be held one month before the end of the fall term. The committees should be required to attend lectures prepared by an SGA Committee, instructing them on their duties and the proper procedure to use in carrying them out.

Another plan, also badly needed, would be to establish a fund to be used for dances. This fund could loan money to classes for dances and could do away with the selling of stock. SGA members would do well to give both plans a good deal of thought.

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my opinion about something that I believe is necessary for our campus for the good of every one of us. I believe that many students concern the couples who "court" outside the doors of Daughe Hall from morning until night. It is quite embarrassing to me, and I am sure that it is to every one of us. I am sure to have to interrupt one of these couples to enter the dormitory.

I can't imagine what a visitor would think about our school if he should see these people. I think that young adults should have more respect than to conduct themselves in any such manner. A person does not have to advertise the fact that he loves some one. If he wants to be the one that should be on our campus. For the good of everyone it's about time it was stopped.

A Reader

(Name withheld by Editor)

Ed: No comment. If you have anything to say, write a letter to the Editor.

Dear Editor,

What happened to our school spirit?

If you ask us, we have a lot of school spirit. We show it by attending the activities on the campus. For me, Jackie, let me say of the people we have "sang" was the first pep rally I attended. The majority of the students took part in the yells led by the cheerleaders. And the next night the stands were packed as we cheered the Gamecocks to victory. We, as students of Jacksonville think that Homecoming was the best game the college has had in the last seven years. The students exerted themselves. Many of them have cooperated, working on floats or practicing for the parade. The parade was quite large, with many organizations taking part in it. Yes, students take pride in their school spirit.

Jackie, we are planning a play on Friday, December 7. The cast was very enthusiastic about it. Therefore they put all their time and effort in to have a successful show.

We hear a lot of times that Jacksonviller's campus is one of the prettiest and friendliest in Alabama. We don't know if this is true. We, freshmen and attend assemblies. Yes, if you ask us, the school has a lot of spirit! Why should we slander it? If we slander the school spirit, we will soon have none because the school spirit is contagious. If you say to the students that we don't have any school spirit, we might catch that also.

Barbara Darden and Jackie Verhoegen

Dear Readers,

What is our school spirit on our campus. It is not all gone. But have you noticed that the same little group of people and the ones who exert spirit in every activity, yell at pep rallies, help to prepare and attend assemblies. You say that the first pep rally was a success. Did you attend the rest of them? None of them had a very large attendance, though the enthusiasm of the people that was there was genuine. Do any of the cheerleaders probably will tell you that the spirit from where they stood was low. As for Homecoming, there were several organizations which were very short on spirit with decorating, and it took hard work on the part of a few students to keep the day successful.

You definitely showed your own school spirit by writing this letter to the Collegian. I agree, school spirit is a concept out business. If students like yourselves and some other people like yourselves just keep your school spirit up, the whole student body can develop a better morale. What we need is more participation in the activities of the students as a whole. No, the school spirit isn't all gone. It just needs to be doctor up with a little more "get up and go!"

K.K.

GOING HOME

(Continued from front page)

In the same old way. Loving every moment, Chatting merrily, Christmas dinner, thanking God. We're gathered home once more, Eyes blue, lips red, and the bread and buns white and brown. Baking' bread and squash. What a night it was when we were kids.

Just to set and watch, Christmas love, for all the folks Gathered as before, Eating nuts and candy, Singin' songs once more. Loving the photographs, Old and treasured so. "Rememberin'" with them all, Recalling all the happy times.

THOSE who need to do, Just the thought of being home trees, Thrill me through and through, And the "strong and glorious feelin'" That comes with Christmas Day. Huggin' Mom and greetin' Dad In the same old way. Opening the packages Underneath the tree, Loving every moment, Chatting merrily, Christmas dinner, thanking God. We're gathered home once more, Eyes blue, lips red, and the bread and buns white and brown. Baking' bread and squash. What a night it was when we were kids.

Christmas (Continued from front page)

fellow, he must be half frozen," thought Martin. Opening the door, he called out to him, "Come in, my friend, and drink a cup of hot tea." Martin eagerly accepted the invitation.

An hour passed, and Martin gave quite a surprised woman carrying a baby. She spoke very softly, for fear she would disturb the shelter of his doorway. The heart of the old owl was touched, and he opened the door.

"Come in warm and while you real," he said to her. "You do not look well," he remarked, and he laid her down gently. "I hope they will take me in, and feed me a baby," she explained.

"Your husband is at sea, and I am ill," said the woman.

"Poor child," cried Father Martin. "You must eat something while you are getting warm. No? Then let me give a cup of milk to the little one. Ah, what a bright, pretty little child! She has not put no shoes on him," I shall have no shoes for him," sighed the woman.

"Then shall have this," the old owl replied. And Father Martin took down from the shelf the softest, warmest pair of trousers that he had admired the evening before. He made them fit the baby's feel—they fit perfectly. And shortly the poor young mother sat crying with that, and the old owl sat tearful with gratitude.

He carried the woman to his holt at the window. Hour after hour went by, and al though many visitors came to the window, and many needy souls shouted and beat the door, Father Martin's Expec tant Guest did not appear.

It was only a dream," he thought, and he hid hope, but He had nearly gone to sleep when he heard the door open. Suddenly so it seemed to his weary eyes, the room flooded with a strange light. And to the cobbler's astonished vision another face peered out. One, by one, the poor street-sweeper, the sick mother and her child, and people crying hungry were brought in. "Why did I not sit at your guest's door?"

At last, out of the silence, Father Martin heard again the voice of the old owl, "Come in, my friend, and eat something!" Familiar words, "Whose shoes are these?" A smile on the face and the voice seemed to ask, "Who are you, seamstress of the name, reserving Me for — I hungered, and you gave Me food — you gave Me drink— I was a stranger, and you took Me in—verify I say unto you, inasmuch as you have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

CHAPEL

(Continued from front page)

Members of the UUC's Club have been meeting at the UUC of the FLLA, Civil Air Patrol, Kamp Kookas and Eastroid. Eastroid and Blade are pushing for 100% donations by their members. The United TenCommandments, a 100%, receive a name plate on the doors. A sign will be placed that will be located in the chapel.

Give now so that construction on the building begins.

When a large orchestra is playing a composition that does not require the use of the tuba, the tubaist is usually covered in order to keep his instrument from blowing. The sound waves of the other instruments obscure the sound of the tuba. The orchestra is created to draw attention to the under-scored phrase, the theme, the dance, and so forth to guide the listener.
Dr. Jones is Cited For Work JSC

ED. NOTE: This is the first of two parts which the Collegian will print on Dr. Jones' accomplishments.

For service to the community and outstanding leadership in promoting good will and understanding, Dr. James H. Jones of State Teachers College has been cited by the Executive Committee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Meeting in Birmingham recently, the Committee reported that a certificate of special recognition be presented commending Dr. Jones for his untiring efforts in the whole field of humanitarian service.

The announcement was made by William A. Stewart, regional director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, who presented the illuminated parchment scroll to Dr. Jones at a date and occasion to be announced by Dr. Houston Cole.

The scroll reads, "James H. Jones, President, has been credited with leadership in promoting the cause of good will and understanding... Among all the people of our nation... there by fostering unity, justice, and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations... made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith." The scroll is signed by A. A. Head, Willam B. Floyd, and James L. Pernott, as co-chairmen.

The NCCJ recognition is based primarily upon the contributions of Dr. James H. Jones of Alabama State Teachers College and the Southeastern Region of the International House program at Jacksonville.

The high regard in which he is held by his fellow educators. Among those who were given credit and recognition were Dr. J. P. G. Smullin, Dean of Jacksonville State College Schools, who serves this year as Chairman of the NCCJ; J. F. J. G. Storm, President of the Alabama Federation of Jefferson County Schools, who serves this year as Chairman of the NCCJ; and L. W. McAdoo, President of the Educational Organizations for Brotherhood Wage and Dr. Tony E. Rowles, president of the NCCF and chancellor of Birmingham Southern College, a member of the NCCF national board.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a citizens' organization engaged in a nationwide movement to promote good will and understanding among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations. It is made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a citizens' organization engaged in a nationwide movement to promote good will and understanding among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations. It is made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a citizens' organization engaged in a nationwide movement to promote good will and understanding among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations. It is made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a citizens' organization engaged in a nationwide movement to promote good will and understanding among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations. It is made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a citizens' organization engaged in a nationwide movement to promote good will and understanding among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews by working to eliminate intergroup prejudice which distorts and disrupts social and political relations. It is made possible by the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and bringing about the accord of the Brotherhood of Man under the pen name of Interfaith.
FBLA, 'Blade' Tie For Top Honors

Last month the Collegian promised to rate the campus organizations. This has been done and the results are, not including the religious organizations.

First place, and the top rating goes to the FBLA and Scabbard and Blade. These two organizations selected from between three for first place. FBLA has two very determined faculty advisers in Mr. Tredaway and Mrs. Hicks, and a very energetic president in Bill Lindsey of Piedmont.

The Scabbard and Blade, in addition to their other activities, was the only organization which met the minimum, and freshmen class by buying stock in the recent dance. Number two organization in the Collegian poll is the Masque and Wig. These students, under the direction of Miss Ralph Lindsey, are doing a fine job. Their recent play, Picnic, was a great success.

Air Patrol takes the number three position. The organization is advised by Miss Branscomb. They have taken part in homecoming, promoted interest in aviation, and are raising money by selling useful items.

Number four spot is given to the Science Club. This organization could move up by taking a more active part in organizing and sponsoring activities for the student body as a whole. Of course, this can be said for all the organizations. A good project is one such as the SGA has established. They have set a goal the raising of the chapel fund and to prove that they mean business, they have already donated $800.

Seminole Women's Athletic Association is number five. They are very active, but could move up by wider ranger activities. Faculty adviser is Mrs. Culverture. Number six spot is given to the Young Lancers, a new organization which has shown a lot of spirit. It can go either up or down during the coming months.

Number seven-Freshman Class. Number eight-Kappa Delta Pi.

This is as far we can go to. We realize that we have left out a few organizations, but we don't feel that any others deserve space. However, though there isn't an English club at the present time the English Department has presented several very interesting programs this semester.

We sincerely hope that the organizations that did not rate will try to have a better year and will supply the editor with a letter from their president for the next month's Collegian.

Religious Emphasis

By Robert Hennessey

We are living in a day in which the most of us are thinking about religion in one way or another. There are more people who are members of the church today than at any one time in the entire history of our country. But do we really understand what is meant by religion? Religion is more than one concept and belief in God as a Heavenly Father.

If any one needs help to fully understand the term "religion" I would suggest reading the best of its ability, I believe it is the age in which we are now living.

I think that one of the most important phrases of religion is for religious belief to each other. In life we meet difficult people — people who have not been treated fairly, but who accept them. People who have never learned to accept the imperfections of men, people whose attitudes are expressed in the words "the whole world is wrong except me."

Tolerance is a gift that one is not necessarily born with, but rather, I believe, a gift that is acquired; then it is cultivated. How can one develop the attitude that one is perfect and lacks this fine art of tolerance? Those who are intolerant of the imperfections of others lack the basic step toward perfection, while those who have learned to accept the life of men and live with the imperfections of life are nearing perfection.

The more tolerant one becomes, the more nearly perfect one becomes. But, how is one to develop this characteristic? Can it be found in book? Can it be found in education? What good are books if their concepts cannot be translated into every day living? Of what benefit is education if it does not make the individual's life richer? Tolerance must come from living with and understanding the imperfections of life. It is absurd for one to believe that life itself is perfect. Life within itself has many imperfections. If life were perfect there would be no room for death, for illness, nor for the many things which seem to take the pleasures from life. To be tolerant we must first learn to live with these imperfections. Living is more than the mere process of giving and taking, but also giving off of waste products. There are many, of whom we can secure evidence of birth and evidence of death, yet we cannot find any evidence of their ever having lived. In spite of the biological principle which states that life is a quantity and not a quality, I believe that life, true life, is a quality and that the basis of this quality is tolerance. So here we have the first step of tolerance, and that is learning to live with the imperfections of life, and from this comes the understanding of life.

There is a proverb which says, "For every evil in the world there is either a cure or not a cure, if there is a cure find it, if not learn to accept it."

When one can practice this he is beginning to understand life.

Who has understood life better than all others who were before Him? Who has learned to understand the imperfections of life and try to live with this. Has he not shown us that we must first learn to live with these imperfections. Tolerance is a gift that one

Jacksonville State Collegian

Published monthly by the Student Body of the State College, Jacksonville, Alabama, and entered as second-class matter March 20, 1942, at the Post Office at Jacksonville, Alabama, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Editor Bob Chrisby

Associate Editor Kay Kirkland

Circulation Managers Buford Howard, Bryant Whitstone

Sports Editors Ernie Winchester, Virgil Nix

Social Editor Bette Foose

Cartoonist William Brown

Staff Writers Betty Stephenson, Jo Ann Simpson, Shirley Ray, Gloria Wise, Judy Archer, Martha Baggett, Janie Long, Marion Alford

Photographer Opal Lovel

Faculty Adviser Mrs. R. K. Coffee

RATED TOPS—In the Collegian's organization rating for November, the Future Business Leaders of America tied with the Scabbard and Blade for first place honors. FBLA officers are: Senator (left to right) Bill Lindsey, Piedmont, Jacksonville Chapter president; Garland Ward, Sylvanburg, state president. Standing, left to right, Buford Howard, Albertville, first vice-president; Harold Lynn, Gadsden, second vice-president; Judy McAlister, Piedmont, secretary; Marvin Henry, treasurer, Weav-

BEACON SIGNS

Books and printed materials are passageways leading to toward varied interests. Some require a certain amount of to other parts of themselves, but others which are

Sarah M. Waters

In 1836 Boston's choir director - composer Lowell Mason

The Messiah to this hymn of Handel's music is the Christmas carol "Joy to different kinds and classes of music. All told when very

(Continued on page 5)

(Continued from page 4)
Jacksonville's 1957 Class Favorites

Chosen Junior Class Favorites — Picked by the junior class as their favorites were, left to right, Beulah Richie, Fort Payne; Virgil Nix, Walnut Grove; Peggy Priskill, Atalla; James Roberts, Gadison.

Sophomore Favorites — Chosen to represent the sophomore class as favorites in the 1957 Mimosa were, left to right, Ben and Ed Myers, DeLand, Fla.; Freda Cartledge, Cedar Bluff; standing, Tom Murray, Oconeal; and DeLeath Rives, Albertville.

Freshman Favorites — Freshmen at Jacksonville have selected, left to right, Julia Phinough, Alexander City; Bill Pate, Sylasunga, and June Scott, Boaz.

Baptist Student News

By Ed Stewart and Lavy Buckner

On November 2-4 in Birmingham, the Alabama Baptist Student Convention was held. Jacksonville State was well represented by having 70 members attending the convention. The convention provided many spiritual experiences and a great deal of Christian fellowship with 1500 or more students from other colleges over the state. There were many interesting speakers on the convention program, and each seemed to stress the important part of the convention theme which was "CHRIST THE LORD, MY LORD.

A skating party was enjoyed by 45 or more students in Piedmont on November 12. Many came back with bruises and black spots, but a good time was had by all who attended. Miss Judy McAllister was the hostess for the party and the B.S.U. thanks her very much.

There will be a delegation of B.S.U. students leaving for Nashville, Tenn., on Dec. 27-30. The purpose for this trip is to attend the SOUTHERN BAPTIST STUDENT WORLD MISSIONS CONGRESS. There will be eight students from Jacksonville who will attend this Congress. They are Carolyn Baker, Kay Black, Anita Lockridge, Jo Ann Mauldin, Norma Brown, Ann Barber, Ed Buckner, Charles McCain, J. C. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Harper.

FLASH—There Is Big News In The Air! The radio station JSC—BSU TV brings an important NEWS FLASH, "Morning Watch" (7.45 a.m.) and "Vogues" (6:00 p.m.) are being saluted. "Y'all are cordially invited to be there." These services are held in the Little Auditorium of Bibb Graves Hall.

Joe H. Craig
Fort Sull, Okla. (Arichia)—Army 2nd Lt. Joe H. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Craig, Owens Cross Roads, Ala., recently was graduated from the field artillery officers basic course at The Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Sull, Okla.

The 18-week course trained Lieutenant Craig in the duties of a field artillery battery officer.

The lieutenant was graduated from Jacksonville State Teachers College, Jacksonville, this year.

Albert W. Wester
Fort Sull, Okla. (Arichia)—Army 2nd Lt. Albert W. Wester, whose wife, Doris, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wester, live in Leesburg, Ala., recently was graduated from the field artillery officers basic course at the Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Sull, Okla.

The 12-week course trained BEACON LIGHTS

(Continued from page 4)

The library staff wishes that each of you may know the true joy and peace of the Christmas season!

Lieutenant Wester in the duties of a field artillery battery officer.

The lieutenant was graduated from Jacksonville State Teachers College, Jacksonville, this year.
GIVE TODAY

THE CHAPEL NEEDS $500

So That Construction May Start Soon
Spotlight

Ted Wilson, Nell Smith are Selected For Varied Service

Almost everybody knows Ted Wilson. He's a six feet tall, dark-haired guy who would seem of a smile which seems to say, "I know something I'm not telling you.

The congenial Ted is studying for a major in mathematics and is interested in photography. He was attending DeKalb County High School when he was accepted by the United States Naval Academy but eventually decided to attend Samford University instead. After graduation, he hopes to enter the service and become a photographer for the Navy.

Ted proudly says he attended Benjamin Rush High School in Alexandria City. He

SELECTED FOR SERVICE

Nell Smith, a student at Samford University, has been awarded the title of "Most Creative" by the Alpha Delta Delta sorority. Nell is a senior at Samford and is planning to graduate next May and plans to go into business.

...in art, and other opportunities for creative expression.

The Masque and Wig Guild has established a reputation for dramatic club is to give students an opportunity to develop public speaking and dramatic abilities. Nell Smith, a senior at Samford and member of the Alpha Delta Delta sorority, has been awarded the title of "Most Creative." Nell is interested in art and creative writing.

Friendly Students Selected

By Joyce Bazeore

Ted Wilson, Nell Smith are among the ones selected from their classes to be honored.

Nell Griffin was chosen as friendly freshman girl. Donna, a blue-eyed blond, hails from Crossville. Interested in sports, she plans to major in physical education. Unfortunately for Opposite see here at J'tville, Alabama, and the Southern Union Athletic Director.

Friendly Students Selected

This week we would like for you to bring us a lot of things for Christmas. The first thing we would like to have a bag of money or a shopping spree. Next, we would like for you to bring some easy treats to the teachers, so the students can make good grades.

Bring Mrs. Rowan a little house so she can keep all her pets in it.

Peggy Prescott would like to have Elvis Presley. If you can't bring him here, then bring her a lot of pictures, so she can look at him all the time.

Joan Moore wants a new roommate because she is getting married, and Judy Tidwell wants a radio that will pick up all the stations, so she can listen to the ball games.

Bring Ed Meyers a case of Coca-Cola and the five dollars he lost. Phil Powell needs a waste basket to put all his parking tickets in.

Bring the basketball team a winning streak and a lot of fans to support us.

We would like for you to bring the crooks in Hammonds Hall a new book of recipes, so we can have different meals. Bring some warm weather for everyone so they can sit on the grass after supper.

Virginia Brown, an all-time low, so she won't be them every night.

Bring Bob Crook a new pair of glasses to replace the ones he lost so he can see again.

SPOTLIGHT Plan Activities

Jacksonville's chapter of Young Democrats has an interesting series of programs planned for its semester. Beginning in early November, it is hoped that they will be able to bring several prominent political leaders to the city for meetings. These arrange

Dear Santa,

We would like for you to bring us a lot of things for Christmas. The first thing we would like to have is a bag of money or a shopping spree. Next, we would like for you to bring some easy treats to the teachers, so the students can make good grades.

Bring Mrs. Rowan a little house so she can keep all her pets in it.

Peggy Prescott would like to have Elvis Presley. If you can't bring him here, then bring her a lot of pictures, so she can look at him all the time.

Joan Moore wants a new roommate because she is getting married, and Judy Tidwell wants a radio that will pick up all the stations, so she can listen to the ball games.

Bring Ed Meyers a case of Coca-Cola and the five dollars he lost. Phil Powell needs a waste basket to put all his parking tickets in.

Bring the basketball team a winning streak and a lot of fans to support us.

We would like for you to bring the crooks in Hammonds Hall a new book of recipes, so we can have different meals. Bring some warm weather for everyone so they can sit on the grass after supper.

Virginia Brown, an all-time low, so she won't be them every night.

Bring Bob Crook a new pair of glasses to replace the ones he lost so he can see again.

SANTA, we would like for this to be a happy Christmas and with your help it will be.

THE COLLEGIAN Tuesday, Dec. 11, 1956
Report To The Voting

By Ann Brown

The Student Government Association started our final Chapel Fund Drive with a $500.00 donation so construction can begin on the chapel this spring. A week-end activity was provided on campus by the presentation of the movie, "All the King’s Men" on Nov. 16. Horace Arcton, chairman of the committee, reported that only 34 students attended.

Joe Methvin, John Hughes, and Bob Crosby have been appointed to look into the possibilities of having two associations editors of the Mimosa added into the reworking of the constitution. John Hughes suggested that one should be from the previous staff to facilitate the work for the new staff. Progress is being made on the Mimosa to meet the publisher's second deadline of Dec. 14.

Joe Methvin will appoint an SGA representative for the junior class to replace Clayton Arrellington who asked to resign since he is now commuting. The council made a decision to change the regular meeting time from six p.m. to four p.m. because of other conflicting activities.

The Council selected a committee of five to boost a baseball team. With the enthusiasm of the chairman, Ed Meyer, we believe that Alabama’s third largest school will soon have a baseball team.

Mimosa Report

Work on the 1957 Mimosa is going full force. For two weeks a table has been set up in front of The Grab to complete sales of the yearbook. Last day for these sales will be on Friday, December 14. Please go by and pay the balance on your Mimosa, or if you haven’t bought one, do so before this date. A record number of sales is expected so reserve yours soon!

There is also in front of The Grab a box labeled “snapshots!” Any pictures you would like to enter in the annual can help make it better and more interesting.

Many new ideas for college annuals are being used in the new 1957 Mimosa, and all indications point to a more successful one than ever before! Be sure to get yours!

DAFFYDILLS

Lecture: something that makes you feel numb on one end and dumb on the other.

Shotgun wedding: a case of wits or death.

Gossip: one who puts two and two together and gets square.

Mary had a little lamb
It was given to her to keep
It followed Mary everywhere,
But died from lack of sleep.

Wife to surly husband shaving: “What would you like to be thrown in your eyes this morning?”

Second Guessing

By Bob Crosby

Bob Crosby is pinch hitting for Ernie Winchester this month because of Winchester’s traveling with the team. Look for your regular writer’s column next month.

Coach Tom Roberson certainly has reason to have his head in the air and his chest stuck out these days. Not only Roberson, but these very fine ball players that won two games and then met with highly favored Birmingham-Southern, and came out on the top with a score of 61 to 57. Looking at both teams before the game started, one would have picked Southern by at least twenty points. The game might well have been called the “Giants vs. the Midgets.”

Jacksonville players aren’t really midgets, but is the world of basketball they appear to be somewhat shorter than any other team around. Tom Langston, measuring 6-3 is the tallest man in the Gamecock lineup and from there they range downward.

However, the wins in the Jacksonville column show that the Jaxmen have something extra. The something is speed and determination.

Recently the Birmingham News said that Jacksonville would serve Auburn as a warm-up team. Well, everyone has his own ideas when he predicts sports. What actually happened was that Jacksonville’s “little men” made Auburn sweat for the entire length of the game.

At one time in the game Auburn lead by a 12 point margin, but they couldn’t hold it and at the final horn Jacksonville only trailed by 7. For Jacksonville fans this was a moral victory.

Now looking over the Alabama game, and it is somewhat painful, we find that the Gamecocks were soundly defeated. The big hitch here is that Alabama, like Auburn, plays Jacksonville only for a warm-up; however, it hasn’t been too many years since a Gamecock team beat a school that was five times their size – that’s right – it was the Crimson Tide. So much for Alabama and Auburn, we wish them both very successful seasons.

Now for a closer look at the members of the 1957 basketball team at home. The Gamecocks have six returning lettermen. This is not generally good for any team. Of these returning lettermen only one is a senior; this is good. Four are juniors and one is a sophomore. The average team height is only 6 ft. This again is not very good.

At the guard spots are Buddy Mayes and Joe Ingram, these two could play ball almost anywhere. Bill Laney and Bill McCarty, forwards, could use more height for their positions, but make up for a great deal of it by their good play and fighting spirit. Tom Langston, at center could use several more increase of tallness, but he is good on both the defense and offense. Tom held Auburn’s Hart to 14 points while collecting 22 for himself.

To sum things up, the Jaxmen, for their size are great. Fans can expect anything and not be too surprised at any upssets they may pull this season. Don’t look for the impossible, but don’t be surprised at the unusual.