Williams, Conway Win In Run-Off Election

By Kay Kirkland

For the 1957-58 Mimosa, officers were chosen in an easy contest during SGA elections last week. Unopposed for the position of editor was Betty Alverson, a sophomore from Munford, Alabama. With a good bit of annual experience behind her, Betty shows promise of being a very efficient worker. She is new president, and a very active participant in extracurricular activities. Her first job in connection with the Mimosa will be appointing a business manager, since no one qualified for the office.

Bill Brown, new circulation manager, defeated Charles Nelson in the April 3 contest. A quiet and thorough worker, Bill should prove an excellent man for the position. A junior from Piedmont, he has been working this year as a circulation manager for the Collegian, and has been a valuable member of the staff.

Interest in the Mimosa offices seemed very low this time, probably because publishing the annual is recognized as one of the hardest jobs on the campus. However, if these two who were elected continue to be active workers, next year’s annual should be a fine publication.

‘Soundings’ To Be Out Soon

In a few weeks the efforts of the Creative Writers Club will be published in their literary annual, “Soundings” and it will go on sale at Bibb Graves. This book is composed by the group of prospective James Joyces, Dylan Thomas or Virginia Woolf personalities and are familiar faces about the campus who can be recognized as Kay Kirkland, Jerry Hamilton, Ed Parrish, Betsy Robinson, Sarah Johnson, Mohammed Boutilah, Clyde Martin, Bobby Sharman and Lynn Dyer.

Come along with us on a pleasant journey through moments of poetry such as “Natural Selection,” “The Forsaken” and “A Landing.” Laugh at an eccentric old man known as “Uncle George” or get a cat’s-eyes view of the world in a short story of “Confession.” Walk along a sandy beach in “The Miracle of The Dawn” or feel sad when you realize that “Nothing Lasts Forever.” Ponder the true meaning of a selection entitled “Storm.” Of all these selections and more will be found in the 1957 issue of the “Soundings”.

Alverson, Brown To Head 1958 Yearbook “Mimosa”

By Lynn Dyer

At four p.m. on Tuesday afternoon, many eager students gathered on the first floor of tabulation of votes in the SGA race. Joe Methvin, the dark-horse candidate of the primary, was victorious, raising the question of whether or not he would accept defeat. In case the majority of the votes cast for his opponent, Joe, was not new to the SGA race, he had campaigned hard and diligently and having put forth his best efforts toward the job he wanted so badly, there was nothing else to do except walk those last long moments while the votes were being counted.

The last votes were tallied and a tremendous roar shook the walls of Bibb Graves...a broad smile broke across the face of Curtis Williams as strong hands gripped his congratulation. Williams had won the SGA presidency by more than two hundred votes. Joe Methvin was one of the first to congratulate the new president and echoed the sentiments of a good loser with the statement: “It was an honor to have represented the students as a candidate for the presidency of the SGA and I wish to thank all members of the student body who voted in my behalf.”

Congratulations to you Curtis Williams. You have been elected to a big job and may you be ever mindful of your obligation to the student body that chose you as its leader.

Other SGA officers elected were: Bobby Kennamer, vice president; Scottieboro; Ophelia Conway, secretary; Isabella; and Richard Belcher, treasurer, Rionoke.

Sadie Hawkins

Week Successful

By Fay Blackwood

A very successful week of legal female pursuit of the Li’l Abner area reached a climax and conclusion last Thursday night. The Jacksonville Dog-Catchers did a yeoman’s job of square dancing, a guinea chase, bingo games, and finally a night of square dancing and comedy.

(Continued on page 4)
Religious Emphasis Week Termed As Successful Event On Campus

It is good to see Religious Emphasis Week being observed by students in an active manner for two years. This year's speaker did a fine job and the sessions were enjoyed by all the students and faculty members who attended. Perhaps next year will see several speakers and an enlarged program.

One of the biggest downfall of the American people, you, me and every other American, is the fact that we don't know how to appreciate the chance we have of worshipping the God we chose in the way that we choose. By not appreciating this freedom of worship, we are actually the ones to be condemned.

Did you ever go to church on Sunday and notice how empty the church can be? Did you ever wonder how many church-goers the country are just like the one you are in? Did you ever notice the people who go fishing on Sunday or some other place other than to church?

In case you haven't, the number is staggering. The number of times when church is missed most is when you are away from home fighting a war and are unable to attend a service. Chaplain, Two weeks ago the entire Armed forces, but when you are on a bombing mission or in a fox hole being shot at, you can't always make the service provided. Another time when church is missed is when you are in war and see close friends wounded or killed. It makes you stop and think about your own life, and it makes you long for a happy church home.

There are many other instances when you wish for this church and freedom. It is a shame that so many people are in an attitude of 'What's in it for me?'.

Lately there has been quite a bit of criticism directed at the police here. Some of this criticism was justified and deserved. However, a great deal of it has come from those students who have been fined for speeding, running stop signs, and for having faulty mufflers. The biggest and latest complaint seems to come from those students who have improper mufflers on their cars.

After arriving at the University of Georgia campus the nine officers of Kappa Phi met with the members of the Phi Mu Alpha Chapter. The nine delegates from Jacksonville, Allan Allen, Rowse Huddleston, B. D. Britti, Self Ed McColloch, Herman Jerry Harrision, Wayne Washam, president, and Charles McClain, left in two cars.

The day before the conference the officers of the nine chapters toured the campus with student guides. To conclude the festivities for the fraternity brothers, a Formal Initiation Ritual was presented by the Epsilon Lambda Chapter of Athens.

The number of votes cast for the election of a Student Government Association for a better Student government should be as one. With the students having elected their new officers, it is to be hoped that they will be a feeling of understanding between the students and the government.

The organization is looking forward to its annual social which is coming up shortly. The Beta Chapter of Kappa Phi at Austin has been under way for some time but we are ready now to go into the final stage of it.

The Kind of SGA Students Want

By Charles Nelson

Since the Student Government Association has been subject to some criticism, this writer decided to inquire as to what the average student wants. After enquiring of a number of students, a low percentage seems evident as to the kind of SGA they want.

First of all, the students look for active leadership from their elected representatives, especially the president. He should be the spearhead of a program of interest. After all, the purpose of the SGA is to represent the students by representing them at all times. They have not yet been subjected to the concept of what the SGA is doing in South Carolina, or in the administration that presides.

A major grip of most students is that they never know what the SGA is doing if they ever do anything. Most students feel that topics affecting the student are never presented before the student body as a whole, and also that the minutes of these topics are never measured by their standards. I feel that good government is not a concept arising from the Student Government Scholarship Fund.

Many students feel that passage through the SGA without the presentation of the facts before the students is impossible to have a well-organized program and that they never know what the SGA is doing.

With the students having elected their new officers, it is to be hoped that they will be a feeling of understanding between the students and their government.

Humphrey, expansion sec.

By Donald Murphy

The SGA sponsored Westminster News this year has a very profitable semester thus far. We have not yet started programs this semester. These programs range from a study of different religions, a study of prayer, what Siddh, should mean to us. The programs were presented by outside speakers and standing speakers that have been under way for some time but we are ready now to go into the final stage of it.

Arizona News

The organization is looking forward to its annual social which is coming up shortly. The Beta Chapter of Kappa Phi at Austin has been under way for some time but we are ready now to go into the final stage of it.

Why do the police stay in front of the high school or college everyday? For one simple and good reason. Because the parents of Jacksonville love their children and because some few college students insist on living like maniacs instead of like educated people.

Now as for waiting students in the early hours of the morning, this is not called for and Chief Tipton also stated that the Jacksonville police would not

Letters To The Editor

FELLOW STUDENTS: We take this opportunity to say that we are in deep appreciation of the honor you have bestowed upon us. We are very grateful for our appreciation by putting forth our honest efforts and doing our best during the past year. We realize our responsibility through you, and we hope that what they were meant for the good of the people. The Students Government Association will always be our best.

Curtis Williams, Bobby Eumman

Ophelia Conway

Richard Rehfeld

Mr. Bogi Orsby, Editor

Dean of Faculty

State Teachers College Jacksonville, Alabama

Dear Mr. Orsby:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to my supporters in the last election.

The number of votes cast was impressive inasmuch as this was the largest vote ever cast.

I have full confidence in Curtis Williams's ability to add a great deal of credit to the college and the Student Government Association.

Sincerely yours,

Joe Methvin

the two advisors to the Synod Council.

Wednesday night, we presented the Family-Night Supper Program. Dr. Walter Court- enay, Religious Emphasis speaker, was our guest.

PUPPET TEACHERS

I feel that it is important this year in getting students interested in the church. In order to accomplish this, we have allowed children to present programs this semester. These programs range from a study of Bible studies, a study of different religions, a study of prayer, what Siddh, should mean to us. The programs were presented by outside speakers and standing speakers that have been under way for some time but we are ready now to go into the final stage of it.

The next meeting of the F. T. T. Students will be held on May 30th at 7:00 o'clock. You are expected to present to win, so buy your chances now from any member of the club.

At the last meeting of the F. T. T. Students a program was presented for the 1957-58 year. These newly elected officers will assist the officers, the begin- ning in the next year.

They are:

Betty Sue Fahnkuhls, President

for the Synod Council of Alaba- mian

The Rev. Ed. Wilson is serv- ing his second year as one of the editors.

Phyllis A. Phillips

Please join in the field of education and support these students and the club, and the club can benefit you.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation members enjoy a Spring Retreat at DeSoto State College I

(Continued on page 2)

Jacksonville State Collegian

Published semi-monthly except August by the Student Body of the State College, Jacksonville, Alabama, and entered as second-class matter March 20, 1943, at the Post Office at Jack- sonville, Alabama, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Editor

Bob Craig

Associate Editor

Kay Kirkland

Circulation Managers

Bud Howard

Bill Brown

Typist

Thom Pennington, Lamont Levine

Social Editor

Bette Fousett

Cartoonist

Gerald Williams

Photographer

Opal Levt

Faculty Adviser

Mrs. R. K. Coffee

The Collegian Monday, April 16, 1957
The Cdlegian Monday, April 15, 1957

Meet Some People Who Lead Double Lives

By Lynn Dyer

There is an innate quality about those people who make the night school programs so successful. They walk their talk and fill the classrooms of Jacksonville State College every Monday night from dark to dawn, as if nothing had happened. They walk swiftly and surely through the halls of Science Building or the Physical Education Building and their every step seems to be planned in the direction of a goal; a goal that must be pursued with the decision of night due to the obstructions of a job or a family. These people are the "night people," the multitude of students enrolled in the night school program at Jacksonville State. In appropriate recognition of the fine job they are doing, the Collegian staff would like to present some of the "night people" of Jacksonville State.

Two distinguished career officers from the Chemical Corp at Fort McClellan sat studying over a cup of coffee. Interrupting their studying, I ventured into a conversation with them about the night school activities. They were quick to express their sincere praise of the courses offered to the night school students. They were also enthusiastic advocates of the night school program which gives them the opportunity to continue with their education.

Dr. Self has been a member of the Jacksonville State faculty since 1923. He has a B.S. degree from the University of Alabama; M.A. degree from Tuskegee Institute and Ph.D. degree from New York University.

Registration for the graduate program will be held on May 11 and classes will begin June 5. Dormitory reservations are being accepted at this time for graduate students.

It was also announced that Dr. E. E. Nelson, principal of Fairchild College and Ph.D. degree from New York University.

The Collegian

The Joke Box

Employer—"Are you looking for work, young man?"
Student—"No—but I'd like a job.""

The suit fitted her slender figure just as it appreciated the opportunity."

Why did you leave your last position?" Illness. The boss got sick of me."

Wife to sultry-looking husband who was saying, "What would you like thrown in your cage for breakfast this morning?"

Ad in a Springfield paper: WANTED: A secretary. She thinks like a man, acts like a lady—and works like a dog."

Voice on Phone: "Tomm, I'll be 85 today and can't come to town."

Professor: "All right. Who said this speaking?"

Voice on phone: "This is my roommate."

A University of Chicago student writes of a college student's study plan. He read the textbook. He studied the notes. He outlined both. Then he summarized his outline. Then he outlined his summary on 8x5 cards. Then reduced the card outline to a single card. Balled the card down to one sentence. Balled the sentence down to a phrase. Balled the phrase down to a word. Entored the exam. Analyzed the question. And then, Fergured it out.

The joke box is fun to read and most amusing when you have been brought up in such an environment. In the halls of class and the mixers, jokes are always the most hilarious form of entertainment.

The ROTC Inspection

Very Successful

By Robert Payne

Colonel James S. Johnson, an active and enthusiastic advocate of the ROTC program, said that the inspection held on April 18th was one of the most successful in the history of the ROTC program at Jacksonville State.

It was announced that Mr. Self would head the new Jacksonville State Graduate Division. The move is designed to provide more opportunities for students to pursue advanced degrees. The division will offer a variety of graduate programs, including degrees in business, education, and the social sciences.

The announcement was met with enthusiasm by the faculty and students, who saw it as a positive step forward for the university. The move was seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.

The move was also seen as a reflection of the university's commitment to providing high-quality education and preparing students for successful careers in a variety of fields.

The move also had implications for the university's budget, as it was expected to generate additional revenue from the graduate programs. The university administration was confident that the new division would be successful and would contribute to the overall growth and success of the university.
Injuries Plague Gamecocks As Spring Training Is Ended

By Huelon Davis

Jacksonville's® Gamecocks rounded out their fifth week of spring training Friday and are looking forward to the annual open house to be played April 19.

Old man weather, injuries, lack of experienced players due to graduation and drop outs, the latest losing Ed Duprend, center, and Pat Cannon, and "Tank" Jones, tackle from Guntersville, have brought about numerous headaches to the Jax mentor and his aids.

In an effort to circumvent some of the disappointments, a few changes were made. Ray Burgess has been shifted from slotback to his old end position; E. G. Taylor is expected to fill in at guard to center; and Jim Kilpatrick and Ed Blackburn have been moved to halfback positions.

Last Tuesday, Joe Ford, a big, rough, wide-awake newcomer from Gadston was moved to quarterback slot in an effort to solve big quarterback problem. Other players in position to overhaul the slot positions are Frank Stewart, Howard Howell of Sylacauga, a good high school passer; Wayne Gaulin who is expected to fill in at halfback; Harold Shankles and David Clutter who are returning halfback and holdovers from last year's team.

The reason for the quarterback shuffle is due to the fact that the passing hasn't developed. This has been stated before but the problem still exists.

It doesn't appear that the rain, injuries, lack of players on scholarship with eligibility, and the long lay-off due to the AEA and pawning have resolved the most disrupted spring training that has had its bad days in the last 10 years.

A combination of injuries are to Frank Hixon, suffering with a bad ankle; Tony DeLeo, head quarterback and coach Widgetworth is having back trouble. Also, the first alternating quarterback on the injured list is Dean Akers, a highly regarded pass receiver.

Gamecock Starling Line-up is a good one.

Although the complete squad has not yet been divided, Coach Ball is expected to announce a starting line-up for the red and white teams. It is not definite as to who will captain each team but most likely it will be Ed Duprend and Wayne Gaulin.

Two starting quarterbacks, Ford and Shank- le, are slated to be the two starting quarterbacks and the Yme being we will assume the position for the team captains.

The coaching of the two teams is to be handled by Coach Ball and Coach Widgetworth but as yet is not known who will coach which team. A flip of the coin will determine the factor.

The Red—E. G. Taylor at center; John O'Barr and Jimmy Luttrell guards; Tom Langston and Ed King holding down the tackle slots; and Ray Burgess and Bud McCarty at ends looks like a strong line but a reserve.

Reserve strength in slots, may be a weakness yet some of the under-rated players on the roster may develop into stars. For the backfield the potential, there may be an experience may be the big handicap. New-comer Joe Ford looks pretty good at quarterback and Keasby, Nichols, and McCarty may make up a backfield that could carry the ball. One thing sure though, come next Fall and we'll all see and know.

Senior Ball To Be Held May First

"Senior Ball" always means something special to students in Jacksonville. Gamecock students are no different, and many are already looking forward to the "big night"—May 1st that is. Jax seniors are not alone in preparing for the event this year. Sophomores and juniors are helping with all the plans and work which inevitably proceed a successful dance.

The theme for the big event has not yet been definitely selected. Final selection will be done by a decoration committee appointed at the last meeting last week. Watch for more information about this.

A big decision will have to be made for the dance this week. People from either school will have to make a decision about the bids on hand. Just ask them.

Orchestras for the Senior- Sophomore Ball will be Buddy Morrow's excellent group. Morrow, who has appeared on the campus this fall, should provide some good entertainment. It has been hinted that there may also be a floor show.

Tennis Season Ends On April 9

By Huelon Davis

Jacksonville State College's tennis team scored victories over Florence State College and the University of Alabama on April 6 and Florence State College in matches April 5 and 6. Senior Bill Fisher, third singles, and senior Art Thomas lost to Howard of Florence on April 5. Then on April 9 lost to Howard for the second time this year. Jacksonville's tennis college record is now an even 2-2 mark. The Gamecocks are second in the South Atlantic Conference. Marion because of darkness after Jacksonville's Davis Cup game. Kirkpatrick and Frank Stewart had the first set, 11-8.

Results:

Singles
Tom Nebrig (M) defeated; David Christian, 6-2, 6-3.
Tommy Gillespie (J) defeated; Bob Griswold, 8-6, 6-0, 6-1.
Dennis Kirkpatrick (J) defeated; Bill Fisher, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.
Ron Baskette (M) defeated; Will Provine, 6-1, 6-2.
Doubles
Maurice Morgan and Bobby Molley (J) defeated Bill Fisher and Tom Nebrig, 6-4, 6-7, 6-5. The second doubles set was called due to darkness.

Junior Cup
Jacksonville, 3, Florence, 0. Saturday afternoon (April 6) Jacksonville defeated Florence, 6-2, 6-4. Jacksonville won the tightest match for the singles winning three matches and two doubles.

Results:

Singles
Jerry Garrett (J) defeated; David Christian, 6-8, 6-3.
Tommy Gillespie (J) defeated; Johnny Jones, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.
Roger Burdge (F) defeated; Dennis Kirkpatrick, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.
Frank Stewart (J) defeated; Tommy Thompson, 6-2, 6-2.
Wayne Vaughn (F) defeated Bill McCarty, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles
Maurice Morgan and Bobby Molley (J) defeated; Hugh Craig, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Juniors
Jerry Garrett and Johnny Jones (F) defeated; Tom Murray and Bobby Molley, 6-3, 6-2.
David Christian and Tommy Gillespie (J) defeated; Roger Burdge and Sonny Thompson, 6-3, 6-2.

Dennis Kirkpatrick and Frank Stewart (J) defeated; Wayne Vaughn and Sonny Thompson, 6-4, 6-3.

Jacksonville A, Howard 9

In Jacksonville's last match, Tuesday, April 9, Howard completely outclassed the Gamecock's netters winning all nine events.

Results:

Singles
Carlton Crawford (F) defeated; David Christian, 6-2, 6-0.
Don McDougal (H) defeated; Tim Calvert, 6-2, 6-3.
Max Gartman (H) defeated; Dennis Kirkpatrick, 6-4, 6-0.

Doubles
Ron Baskette (M) and Frank Stewart, 6-2, 6-1.

Jack Wilson (H) defeated; Sonny Thompson, 6-3, 6-4.

George Newby (H) defeated; Paul Dean, 6-4, 6-1.

McDougal and Attaway (H) defeated; David Christian and Gillespie, 6-3, 6-2.