

Nineteen New Teachers Added To College Staff

Summer Semester Becoming More Popular As Proven By Large Enrollment For 1957

Registration at Jacksonville College on June 3 and 4 involved the largest group ever to register in summer school. Accurate figures are being determined and may be ready for release today.

Undergraduates who went through the registration lines last Monday and Tuesday in a fairly continual stream kept the faculty, registrar's office, and treasurer's office very busy. One official was heard to remark, "Right now, I'm not sure what I am, but I am tired."

Except for a few who registered last week, graduate students had already gone through the process earlier, on May 11. The new graduate program is one reason for the larger enrollment, but a large group of freshmen students also have enrolled.

The summer session is becoming a more and more popular semester here. Students are discovering that the time spent in summer study can be well worth their time. Courses are sometimes offered which are not to be had in the spring and fall semesters.

"Ten hours' credit each for two summer terms will mean that diploma in hand a semester earlier.

It has even been said that the atmosphere in the summer time makes for easier learning. "It's a lot more fun than a regular semester," the general opinion.

Qualification Deadline

The deadline for qualifying for a class office is 4 o'clock, Tuesday, June 11. Anyone wishing to enter the race should see Ophelia Conway, SGA secretary, Dauge Hall; or Curtis Williams, president, in Pannell Hall. The election will be held Thursday, June 13, in Bibb Graves Hall.

Tuesday, June 18, will probably be the date for the first summer SGA meeting, according to President Curtis Williams. Meetings throughout the summer will be on every other Tuesday night. The only definite plans of the student government thus far are to continue the entertainment had last summer of the weekly square dances. Dances will be every Wednesday night in Bibb Graves' parking lot, sponsored by the individual dormitories. A class officers' dance will be included in the summer's activities sometime in July. No other plans are definite.

Spring Dean's List Is Announced

Recently released by the Registrar's Office is the Dean's List for the 1956-57 spring semester. Making all A's were Weldon T. Childers, Carbon Hill; Carol Miller Harden, Jacksonville; Jeanette P. Morgan, Jacksonville; Imogene Haskew Phillips, Weaver; Eloise Robinson, Jacksonville; Robert E. Rogan, Miami Beach; Thomas F. Rogan, Miami Beach; Afton B. Talley, Centre; and Ann Montgomery Taylor, Albertville.

Those students making a B plus or a 2.5-2-9 average for the semester were: Horace Acton, Blount Springs; Max L. Allen, Roanoke; Wanda Allison, East Gadsden; Sarah E. Anderson, Gaston; Mary Alice Anderson, Anniston; Albert M. Barber, Heflin; Iris Rose Baugh, Gadsden; William T. Bishop, Grant; James M. Boozer, Anniston; Alice Beverly Brown, Walnut Grove; Billie R. Bryan, Weaver; Robert L. Cantor, Anniston; Fred H. Casey, Jacksonville; Jo Ann Chesnut, Gadsden; Sister Mary Dolores Chrapek, Gadsden; Lloyd L. Christopher, Gadsden; Opal G. Chumley, Crossville; Daniel R. Cockrell, Goodwater; Jerry N.

Foreign Students Disband; Iranian Student Arrives

Another international student has been added to the college this summer. He is Kouros Hemmati from Teheran, Iran. He learned about Jacksonville from Hossein Ghaffari, who was a student here last year and was a famous actor in Krouros' home.

Kouros knew that Hossein was here in school, and he wrote him, receiving letters from the actor and from Dr. Jones which highly praised this school. Kouros says this is the only college he considered.

The new student's father is a government employe in Teheran. He has a brother and a sister, both younger than he. Kouros just graduated from high school in Iran. There, he says, girls and boys go to separate schools. He agreed that it looked rather strange to see co-eds all over the campus.

Kouros is planning to take an engineering course during his four years here. This summer he has signed up for French, trigonometry, painting, and swimming. Asked what his impression of Jacksonville has been thus far, he simply said, "I like it."

The dark-eyed, dark-haired young man said he flew by plane from Teheran to Montgomery, Alabama, where

The beginning of the summer semester at Jacksonville State finds several changes in the faculty here. Some of the regular teachers will be away for the summer. These include Miss Maude Luttrell, and Dr. B. H. Mock, English instructors, and Miss Olive Barnes, piano teacher, who are taking leave until the fall.

Mrs. Alfred Roebuck and Mr. J. A. Smoake will study English instead of teaching it this summer. Mrs. Roebuck is doing study at Vanderbilt, Mr. Smoake at the University of Alabama.

Nineteen new teachers and a library assistant have been added to Jacksonville's Staff.

The art department will add John H. Cleverdon as assistant professor of art. Mr. Cleverdon is a native southerner, having made his home in Mobile, Alabama. He received a B.A. degree in fine arts from Principia College at Elsah, Illinois. Then he spent twenty-one months in the army. In 1954 Mr. Cleverdon entered the University of Alabama to study business administration, later changing to study painting and then graphic arts. He received his M.A. degree at the end of last semester.

Allen Ivey, from Mr. Vernon, Washington State, will teach a course here called "Methods for the exceptional child." He graduated from Stanford University, California, in Psychology in June, 1955. Then he studied psychology and child welfare at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark, under a Fulbright Grant. His M.Ed degree was earned at Harvard's Graduate School of Education. He plans to continue his studies toward the Ed.D degree. Mr. Ivey has had a great deal of experience in social work, working as an attendant in a mental hospital, working with the Boy Scouts, as a youth adviser in Denmark, and counseling students at Tuft's University.

Included in the group of new English instructors are Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Cohen. Mrs. Cohen is the former Miss Lucian Dumas Anderson of Seneca, South Carolina. She received an A.B. degree from Winthrop College in South Carolina and her M.A. degree from Duke University. She then taught in the secondary schools of South Georgia and of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and was an English instructor at Wayne University in Detroit, Michigan. Work for her doctorate in American Literature was done at Duke University. She and her husband recently published jointly in the New England Quarterly an article on Ralph Waldo Emerson.

TALIENT BAGGETT

Baggett Appointed Session Treasurer

SGA treasurer for the summer semester will be Talient Baggett, Trion, Georgia. Tallent has been appointed to serve in place of recently elected treasurer, Richard Belcher who is not attending summer school and will take his office next fall.

A major in business administration and a minor in economics will be Tallent's completed course of study when he graduates in July. This qualifies him for the position of treasurer. He has also had recent experience as treasurer of his senior class for the past year.

The new summer treasurer is a member of FBLA and served one year as vice-president of the Baptist Student Union. He also belongs to Scabbard and Blade, honorary military organization. He has had four years of ROTC training and will receive a Reserve Commission in the United States Army after graduation, reporting to Fort Lee, Virginia, next January.

Tallent is engaged to marry Randa West of Gadsden. He will have completed four successful years at Jacksonville when he rounds out the summer as SGA treasurer.

NOTICE:

DON'T forget to attend the square dance every Wednesday night. Your presence will decide the success of the dances.

The next square dance will be this Wednesday night, June 12, in Bibb Graves parking lot.

IRANIAN MEETS AMERICANS—Kouros Hemmati, new Jacksonville international student from Teheran, Iran, is shown as he meets some of the other new freshmen and Dr. Jones, director of the international program. Kouros arrived in Jacksonville on June 3.

"Of All The Stupid . . ."

Would you believe it? Recently, the students in a class here were given outline maps of the United States and told to identify the forty-eight states. The results were surprising. A large part of the class missed over half the states. Even Alabama was mis-named or left blank—and by native Alabamians, too!

This sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? To think that anyone, especially a student who is supposedly much better informed than the average citizen, would fail to recognize his native state on a blank map! But, it's true. This really happened, either because of laziness or simple ignorance. Somebody just didn't bother to pay attention to a "little thing" which can become important. It can be awfully embarrassing to an American citizen when a foreigner knows more about this country than he does. It must be rather difficult for someone to listen to a news report or read a newspaper about a part of our country, if he doesn't know something about its basic physical appearance.

This is just one example of the "little things" that should be just common knowledge, and are yet neglected by so many people. There was the case told of by an accountant of a young man just out of college whom he hired as an apprentice in his office. The young man became an excellent accountant, expert in mathematics, but he couldn't spell. Finally he had to be fired. The mathematics of a college graduate who cannot spell can hardly be trusted explicitly.

It is chiefly a matter of learning whatever learnable crosses your path, especially in school, where practically everything is put before you. What you do with it is your decision. Just because you perhaps plan to teach English is no reason to ignore mathematics. What will you do when you have to average grades, or make reports? Very many mistakes in tabulating grades would put you in a difficult position. And there's no need to ignore English just because you are majoring in history. The reasons for this are many and obvious.

In other words, there is no need to neglect the incidental things which you may be asked to study and learn. Life is uncertain. You can never be sure what you may need to know, and it is certainly not smart to refuse to learn. Can you identify the forty-eight states of your country?

FOREIGN STUDENTS

he caught a taxi to the International House here. "It cost me $42 to ride the cab," he said, and laughed. Kouros Hemmati seems to possess the same eagerness that has made other international students so successful here.

International students of the college have disbanded for the summer and scattered all over the world. Margaret Dewar, of England, visited in New Orleans, then joined Francine Laloue, France, for a five-day stay in New York as guests of the Rotarians. The two girls will sail for home on the Queen Elizabeth.

Employed for the summer by American Airlines in New Orleans is Aida Ferrarone, a native of Peru. Hossein Ghafari, student from Iran, will join friends in California. Italy's Sergio Lerda-Olberg (Satch) will spend this summer in Rome, Italy.

Two of the students will travel over the United States before returning home. Jacqueline Verhaegan planned a month's tour of the west before sailing for Belgium on June 26. Paul Frys will return to France, after traveling to Chicago, Niagara Falls, Boston, New York City, and Quebec. Mexican native, Rosalio Wences, left Jacksonville for home immediately.

Music student Miguel Valdes, Cuba, traveled to New York to take an entrance exam for the Juilliard School of Music. Mohammed Boutaleb has a scholarship to study part of the summer at the University of Mexico.

Returning to Jacksonville for summer school after visiting friends in Kansas is Humberto Godoy, student from Guatemala. He and Kouros Hemmati, new student from Teheran, Iran, will be the only international students on campus this summer.

Class Cut System Is Re-Explained

This article has been written for the benefit of those who are new at Jacksonville College and are not familiar with the system for handling cuts. The cut system is one which every student in the college should thoroughly understand. The following is a brief explanation.

The number of cuts allowed in any course per semester is the same as the number of semester hours' credit given for the course. For instance, a three-hour course will allow three cuts. These cuts do not have to be excused. They are provided to be used at the discretion of the individual student. They are not under any circumstances held against the student. If you take four cuts in a four-hour course, and no more, you have nothing to worry about and no reason to get them excused, even if they are for excusable reasons.

Any cuts exceeding the allotted number, however, if not excused, will lower a final grade at the rate of one letter per unexcused cut. To get an absence excused, you simply fill out one of the cards available in the registrar's office explicitly for that purpose. The card asks for such information as the name of the course cut, the date of the cut, and the reason. It should be filled out and handed back to the Registrar's office within the same week in which the absence occurs. An absentee committee receives all the cards and decides whether the absences should be excused. This information is returned to the teacher of the course, who marks the fact on his own records. Each teacher keeps his own record of the absences of the students in his class and gives this information to the absentee committee at definite intervals.

The most important thing for you to remember is that after you have been absent from a class as many days as the number of hours, your next cut must be excused, or it will be held against you. To avoid complications, the most sensible practice is to use close discretion in taking your allotted absences.

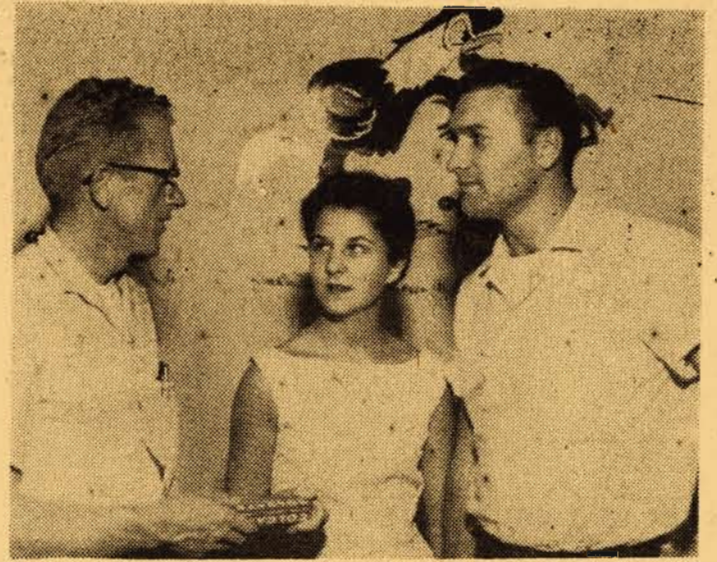

Collegian Needs Staff Members

Anyone interested in writing or doing any other work for the Collegian Staff this summer is asked to attend a staff meeting which will be held on Wednesday, June 12, at four o'clock in Room 204, Bibb Graves Hall. The meeting will be chiefly for the purpose of getting the whole staff together and organizing. Articles for the next Collegian may be discussed and assigned.

Please do not hesitate to join the paper staff if you are at all interested. Those who are already on the staff will be glad to help you, and you will be more than welcome.

LETTER TO THE STUDENTS

Dear Editor,

This space was requested to inform the student body that I have turned over all particulars concerning MIMOSA's Business Manager to Ben Prickett who is the new business manager.

I have enjoyed working with the MIMOSA staff this year; a great deal of the enjoyment comes from the help given me by the advertisers, my supporters, and the student body.

Particular thanks go to Mr. Opal Lovett and even more so to Mr. Floyd Tredaway without whose help my job would have been much more difficult.

In Ben Prickett, I believe you have a good worker who will bring much recognition to his new office.

philosophy of Nathaniel Hawthorn is especially interested in nineteenth-century American literature. He has published a number of articles on prominent writers of that period, and of the romantic period of English literature, in such scholarly journals as Modern Language Quarterly, Philological Quarterly, American Literature, Boston Public Library Quarterly, and Papers of the Bibliographical Society of America. Dr. Cohen received an A. B. degree and an A.M. degree from the University of Maryland. The Ph.D in English was conferred upon him by the Indiana University, and he was awarded from the American Council of Learned Societies a grant for a year of post-doctoral research at Yale University.

Dr. Cohen comes to Jacksonville from Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Indiana, where he was an assistant professor of English. He has also taught at Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan, and the Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Georgia. He is a native of Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Christine Forrester, a native Alabamian, is also joining the English faculty here. She has taught for the past eight years in secondary schools in North Carolina and Alabama. Oxford High School has had her services for two years now. Miss Forrester attended Howard College where she received an A.B. degree. Her M.A. degree was earned at the University of Kentucky. She will teach freshman English and speech courses here this summer.

Working as cataloger in the Jacksonville Library will be Miss Olive Jo Lamb. Miss Lamb has had experience in several high school libraries in Alabama. She also worked in the education library at the University of Alabama, and the library of Birmingham Southern College. Miss Lamb holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Alabama.

The other new teachers and the courses they will teach are: Dr. Emmett W. Price, biology; Dr. Elmer Pendell, economics; Miss Margaret Griffis, English; Dr. E. E. Nelson, general science; Dr. A. B. Hatch, foreign languages; Dr. Bernard Henness, composition and government; Dr. Leroy Brown, Dr. C. F. Newell, school administration; Frank Lovrich, sociology; George E. Crawford, business administration; John Coman, piano. Mrs. V. J. Klaus will teach psychology, and Mrs. John F. Green will take her place as director of the nursery school.

The Collegian plans to have interviews with the rest of the new teachers during the summer semester.

New Jacksonville Freshmen A Very Interesting Group

The freshmen end of Daugette Hall becomes a place for a mixture of freshmen and sophomores in the summertime. The entering freshmen girls are always tops in the interest category at about this time, though. This is mainly because they are new.

Some snooping was done along the second floor hall of Daugette Annex last Wednesday night after the first day of classes, and a little bit about quite a few of the freshmen girls was learned.

Jo Keith, from Ragland, was alone in her room. The light was off, and she apparently was about to go to bed, but she had left her door open and her sweet green eyes and dark hair couldn't escape notice. Jo admitted she had come to Jacksonville to study voice and major in music. She likes swimming and drawing.

The little blonde with big blue eyes and a winning smile is Charlotte Snead. Her hometown is Snead. Charlotte likes athletics and enjoys swimming, fishing, and horseback riding. She commented on the friendliness of the Jax students.

A pair of roommates who have joined the Chow Hall Gang are Mamie Joyce Bates from Collinsville and Kay Yancey, Rainsville. Mamie Joyce, who has a quiet look about her, with her dark skin and long, dark brown hair, was already busy studying. She plans to major in home economics. Kay doesn't know what she'll major in, and didn't seem to care a lot right at the moment. She was just enjoying herself. "I like to have fun," she said.

Jerrie Jackson and Christine Hays, roommates from Sylacauga, apparently were having the time of their lives. They appeared to be two girls who would have fun anywhere they happened to be. Both girls are majoring in business education. Jerrie fairly twinkles with liveliness. She plays just about every known musical instrument. Blonde-haired, blue-eyed Christine said, "I'm here, and that's all".

From Bangor, Ala., Carol Standridge has come to Jacksonville to take care of her sister. Carol, with her short brown hair and pert little nose is mighty cute. She seems to have jumped right into the spirit of Jacksonville.

Jo Ellen Parsons and Kay Powers, Ashland, were both trying to study. They're planning a very interesting major—medical technology. Three years of their study will be done at Jacksonville, then Jo Ellen and Kay will do supervised interning. Both girls said they came to Jacksonville, for one reason, because it was close to home.

"Crazy man, crazy!" That's Wanda Roberts and Linda Parris. They come from Cedar Bluff, and a friendlier pair couldn't be found. Linda's major is elementary education; Wanda will major in home economics. They're both as cute as can be and loads of fun to be with. It's a cinch they'll not escape notice around here.

Blonde Lawanda Brewer and dark-haired Faye Johnson live in the last room on Daugette Annex's second floor. Hayden is their home, and they are elementary education majors.

Their hobbies are records and reading, and Faye has been spending a lot of time lately dating Dub Hicks, a Jacksonville graduate.

These are just some of the new freshmen girls. There are a lot more interesting ones living in Daugette.

Here's the low-down on some of the new freshmen boys. This time, the snooper had to go to Pannell. Here is what he found out.

Don K. Hall, a Geraldine High School graduate, has enrolled at Jacksonville to take basic engineering this summer. At Geraldine, Don was valedictorian of his senior class, and was also chosen at the "best personality" among the Geraldine seniors.

Jimmy "Beagle" Machen, another Geraldine graduate, is also taking basic engineering here. Beagle was captain of the Geraldine football team, president of the Beta Club, and was chosen most intelligent in his senior class.

Jery "Doc" Thomas comes to Jacksonville from Altoona High School. Doc was valedictorian of his class. He plans to take pre-medicine at Jacksonville, and probably will be here for two years before transferring to another school.

Earl Cleland, Collinsville, has entered Jacksonville State seeking a degree in physical education. Earl was chosen "Most Athletic" at Sand Rock School during the past year. He plans to play basketball with the Gamecocks next season and his 6'4" frame should be a most welcome sight to the Jax camp.

It looks as though Jacksonville is really getting some fine new students.

ELEVEN GROUPS GIVE 100% TO CHAPEL FUND

The Chapel Fund, which was completed last semester, is ready and waiting for construction to begin. Eleven organizations on Jacksonville's campus had one hundred per cent of their members contributing to the fund. These organizations will be named on a plaque which will be placed in the new chapel. They are Kappa Delta Epsilon, education sorority; the Womens' Athletic Association; the Wesley Foundation; Civil Air Patrol; Future Business Leaders of America; Kappa Delta Pi, education fraternity for men and women; the International House; Usher's Club; the Men of Abercrombie; Writer's Club; and Phi Tau Chi, science honor society.

It has been suggested that the names of the people who headed the Chapel Committee since its beginning be placed on the plaque, also. This way recognition can be given to their work. Harry Sherman, a former editor of the Collegian in 1954-55 was first to head the committee. Dewey Hudleston replaced Sherman, and Bob Crosby, Collegian editor 1955-57, was head when the drive was completed.

Construction on the new chapel should be begun before very much time has elapsed. Then everyone, college students, faculty members and others who contributed may see their efforts rewarded and materialized.

Intramural Program for Boys

Plans are being made to get a full-scale intramural program under way by this week but more than likely more time will be needed to get all of the activities under way.

For the boys the activities include softball, horse shoes and tennis tournaments. S. G. A. President Curtis Williams mentioned also that a volleyball league might be formed. A meeting was held last Friday in an effort to get the softball league off to an early start but no immediate plans for the league were available by press time.

Chairman of the intramural committee is Wayne Brothers. To aid Brothers with the program will be James Webb, Thomas Walls, and Donald Moon. Webb will work primarily with the tennis tournaments.

All students interested in participating in the horse shoes and/or tennis tournaments please go by the Physical Education Office and sign up.

It is not a certainty, but Coach Stevenson is expected to play a major roll in the intramural program, especially the softball activity. Last semester he acted as supervisor and official score keeper.

Intramural Program for Girls

A lot depends upon the interest shown toward the idea as to whether or not an intramural program will be started for the girls. Softball and tennis tournaments will be the activities offered plus, possibly, volleyball.

All those interested were ask to get in touch with either Libby Mercer or Evelyn Rice, who are in charge of the program.

TOP TEN

An official record book will be kept and the top ten hitters, pitchers and latest standings of the intramural softball league will be printed in each edition of the Collegian in hopes that more interest will be taken in the program.

Standings and other important record of other activities will also be published.

TENNIS

Boys left on the tennis team attending summer school and some of the instructors at Jax will form a team and play other city or club teams. Captain Tommy Gillespie is working with Mrs. Calvert, director, in an effort to work out the details.

Other players attending summer school (and expected to play) are David Christian and Mike Livingston. Billy McCarty of Anniston is not in school but is expected to play with the team. Possibly others will play also.

SWIMMING

This summer the college swimming pool will be open, free of charge, until 9:00 p.m. to all students. The pool will not be open to students other than those enrolled for the course during classes but a schedule will be posted showing open hours.

Horace Pope and Cecil "Corky" Newman, perhaps two of the best qualified in the state, will be the instructors and life guards.

Students Qualify For Class Offices

During the first few days of qualifying, twenty-two candidates have filed class office petitions for candidacy. Petitions will be accepted through Tuesday, June 11, and the elections will be held the following Thursday.

Interest seems to be increasing as the qualifying dead-line approaches. Thus far, interest has been keenest among the seniors. Nine candidates have qualified for the eight senior class offices with competition existing only for the presidency.

Those qualifying are as follows:

Seniors: President, Jack

Crawford, Huntsville; and Lucy Durham, Gadsden. Freda Carlidge, vice-president, Cedar Bluff. Jean Bonner, secretary, Standing Rock. Sybil England, social chairman, Jacksonville. Betty Benefield, treasurer, Roanoke. Charles Nelson, SGA representative, Round Mountain and Jerry Harrison, Birmingham. Lanette Austin, reporter, Alexander City.

Juniors: James C. Bevel, president, Grant. Mary Nell Gallaway, treasurer, Gallant; and Myrna Masters, Geraldine. Deloris Haynes, social chairman, Scottsboro. Jerry Hamilton, SGA representatives.

J'ville Graduates Win Fellowships

Two recent graduates of Jacksonville State College have been awarded fellowships to do graduate work. Wayne Deaton, Huntsville, and Horace Acton, Blount Springs, both graduated as honor students last May 27.

A one-year fellowship from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission to study radiological physics at the University of Kansas was awarded to Wayne Deaton. He will also have training at Hanford Atomic Production Operation in Hanford, Washington, and will attend anti-aircraft and guided missile school at Fort Bliss, Texas. Deaton is also to receive $2500.

Horace Acton left Jacksonville to begin graduate study at Washington State University. He received a $1600 fellowship to study bacteriology. This will enable him to continue the study he did at this college in the field of biology.

Acton and Deaton were both well-known figures on the Jacksonville campus. They distinguished themselves in many phases of college life, including membership in scholastic organizations and honor societies. Both were named to "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges".

WAA Will Have New Rest Lounge

Work was started a short time before the spring semester ended on a new lounge on the second floor of the College Gym. This lounge will be the property of the Women's Athletic Association, and will be used by them for their meetings. It is also for the use of all women physical education majors and minors, who can use it at any time to rest, study, or to have special parties. The lounge is a lovely pink color, with matching drapes and lamps. A room is being prepared next door as a utility room, and is already equipped with a punchbowl and a coffee percolator.

The last meeting of the W. A. A. for the spring semester was held in the new lounge on May 14. At this meeting, new officers for the 1957-58 school year were installed. They are: Marie Luttrell, president; Jean Murphy, 1st vice-president; Jean Stewart, 2nd vice-president; Peggy Truitt, secretary; Shirley McPherson, treasurer; and Evelyn Rice, reporter. Mrs. W. J. Calvert is advisor.

The Women's Athletic Association and the physical education department are very proud of their new lounge. Plans are being made for a formal opening of the room sometime in the near future, so that faculty members and students from every department of the college may visit there.

sentative, Gaston and Yvonne Mearse, Dutton.

Freshman: Jimmy Keith, president, Fort Payne. Linda Parris, SGA representative, Cedar Bluff; and Wanda Roberts, Cedar Bluff.

If interest continues to increase at the rate it appears to be increasing now, this should be one of the better class officer elections ever held on the Jax State Campus.

GOOD 'OL SUMMERTIME—Sue Claybrook certainly looks cool and pretty as she poses as this month's "Gem of the Hills". Sue is a sophomore from Dadeville, and is majoring in elementary education. She looks very well with a wishing rod in her hand.
