

Anniversary, Homecoming Plans Begin Now

Learned From The Chimes

New teachers, students, classes, everything's new this semester. Real classy joint now.

One of the new students (freshman, N.C) was overheard at lunch to say, while assailing a particularly well-fried chuck of chicken, "now here's where I get primitive." You're not from that far back in the woods, son.

The new psychology teacher is also repeated to be a gem of crystal quality. Humorous, well-informed, and not in the least boring, from what I hear. If we knew what his stock number was, could order about a gross more just like him.

Another (still new instructor) Miss Clegg, (different stock number) has much to add to the decor of any classroom. We could use more of those, too.

Tanglewood Tangles—Once upon a time, not too long ago, a poor tenant farmer and his wife lived on the north side of the forest. As a meagre means of living, this particular old couple owned a flock of goats. The goals were the usual run of such animals, asking little, giving milk, and teaching their kids the facts of life, etc.

However, much to everyone's (the other goats) chagrin, one certain old nanny was not content to pass the time with such common procedures; she never failed to enlighten her pupils with such pertinent facts such as having been raised and educated on the Van Swineberg estate, doing post-graduate work at the Smathers collective and holding such important positions as associate assistant to the hired hand on the Trow-Fee goat-milk farm.

The tragic end for this old nanny's career was not long in coming; she soon held the honor (cumma sum laude) of being the only she-goat ever to be placed in orbit. (At 197,000 feet altitude, projected there by her own procreation of heated atmosphere.)

Moral: So what?

Made a grub-line ride the other night, matching such delicacies as Malts and root beer at the Rocket, very good barbecue at Warren's B'cue place and cigarettes coffee and atmosphere at the Gamecocks. Payments were convenient; 110% down and the rest anytime in the next two-hundred years or so. Peculiar item—the fellow at the Warren's Drive-In serves french-fries cut with pinking shears. Veddy Clever.

GETTING RIGGED—He won't play in the Homecoming game but . . . Here is a future Gamecock getting dressed for action. The scales indicate that little O. Rufus Lovett has about 200 pounds to go before he can be a successful guard. Coaches Robinson and D'Agostino aid in this experiment by checking the scales and adjusting the shoulder pads.

"What Is College For?" Dr. Cole Answers In Assembly

An assembly was held Wed., Sept. 11 in the Leone Cole Auditorium. Most of the program was for the benefit of the freshmen but many upper classmen attended.

After Richard Belcher, president of SGA, made announcements, Dean Montgomery introduced several of the new teachers. Dean Montgomery urged friendliness on the campus of the faculty and students.

Dr. Houston Cole made a most impressive address based on the question, "What is college for?" He warned freshmen that they were in for a surprise if they expected to merely have a good time here instead of studying. Some people go to college to qualify for a good job, to make friends and contacts, to keep up with the Joneses and to find a husband or wife, said Dr. Cole.

A college education is said to be worth $100,000 so each person should get his money's worth. A student should lose himself in goals and ideals of permanent nature.

Dr. Cole also stressed the importance of being refined. Use of words like "Howdy" are far from a pleasant greeting and should be avoided. Another remark told us of a possible $25,000 per year saving in the school budget if everyone were properly refined.

The standards which seem hard now will cause the graduates of JSC to rise up and call the faculty and administration, "blessed". Closing with the remark, "Study to show yourself approved unto God and yourself", Dr. Cole received a rousing ovation.

Later in the program, Dean Willman explained the rules and importance of the Order of Three Keys as an asset to JSC.

Jubilee Festivities To Be Theme For Homecoming

Dr. Willman Tells Of New Services

There are a number of new services available through the office of Dean of Students. Dean William urges all students to make use of these services. Here is a resume of the services:

In vocational testing, there are two tests given—vocational preference and vocational aptitude. The results of the tests are studied and the dean tries to find the medium between what a person is capable of doing and what he wants to do. In room 204, you may voluntarily take these free tests in a private testing room.

Confidential counseling on personal problems is another service of the office. It is hoped that students will come and talk over their problems before they snowball into seriousness. In strict confidence, a student may discuss problems like finances, etc.

The health service is really an improvement. We now have a registered nurse, Mrs. Ridgeway, whose hours are 9-10 each day except Sat. and 10-11 with Dr. Williams every day except Wed. and Sat. In emergencies call Hemlock 5-8926. One doctor will be on call the entire year; he is Dr. Williams and his hours are from 10-11 by appointment with the school nurse. Students are supposed to

Traffic Rules To Be Disciplined

Because of the near-killings in past days of faculty members campus traffic regulations has been deemed of urgent necessity; there-some-ever, we shall, for your benefit, set such as are in effect at the present time.

1. Parking is prohibited in zones which are marked with a yellow curb. This includes the visitors' zone in front of Bibb Graves Hall which is to be reserved for those persons not connected with the College who have business on the campus.

2. Double parking and parking in the middle of the street are prohibited.

3. Parking spaces in front of Bibb Graves Hall, in front of Homecoming will be observed at Jacksonville State College on Oct. 11, it has been announced.

With registration over and classes under way, committees are being organized to work out details on the annual celebration. The theme of the observance is expected to be the 75th anniversary of the founding of this college.

Floyd P. Tredaway and A. D. Edwards, Jr., will serve as faculty co-chairmen for the event. Richard Belcher, Roanoke, and James Kimbrough, Daviston, president and vice-president of the Student Government Association, will serve as student co-chairmen.

Though the actual dates have not been set, a jail will soon be erected on the campus to contain the prisoners that the Keystone Cops arrest. Now the boys have a chance to wear a beard, in fact, if they do not, the fine is $5.00 or a certain number of hours in jail until bail is made.

The rules of the celebration will pertain to commuters, faculty members, ROTC, and resident students.

During the final week before Homecoming, there will be such intertainment as a square dance, Southern Belle dance and finally the Homecoming dance sponsored by the J Club.

Soon, top hats will be on sale and the girls must find long dresses to compliment the beards that the boys will have.

Again this year prizes will be given for the best decoration of dormitories, cars and floats.

Prizes will also be given for the best slogan for Homecoming.

Emma Sanson and Jacksonville High School bands have been invited to perform at the game. The parade will consist of colorful surreys, wagons and other means of transportation typical of 75 years ago.

Plans will follow the same pattern as those of last year with a few changes. The parade will take place Saturday morning and a luncheon for the executive board of the alumni will be held at noon. The reception at the home of President and Mrs. Houston Cole, a band concert, ROTC review, "J" Clubs smoker and other informal affairs will fill the afternoon.

The alumni banquet will be held in Hammond Hall with Miss Katherine Killebrew of Anniston presiding. Miss Killebrew is president of the alumni

For Shame, For Sure

Some people will do anything! It is widely known now that the BSU had a very successful pre-school retreat. In another light, it may not have been so successful—some individual had the audacity to boldly steal a slide projector which was being used in the retreat programs. Until now, the projector is still missing. I trust that someone has only "borrowed" it and will soon return it.

If the person who relieved the BSU of the projector would really realize what he has done, he would make amends. Jacksonville State College must suffer when such things as this occur. The fact that this was a theft of a religious organization makes the act more tragic; moreover, what about the record players, radios, watches, irons, etc, that have disappeared from the various dormitories? To have to lock every door that opens into something of value is a sad reflection on the character of Jacksonville students.

To the one who took the projector—return it. There will be no questions asked—you'll feel better about it.

Next To Impossible

Finding a space for another office in Bibb Graves Hall is like finding a needle in a haystack. Just to say "thank you" to President Cole and Dean Montgomery for finding that rare space for a new "Collegian" office is not enough. Due to over-crowded offices in room 204, someones had to move out. The new "Collegian" office is located on the first floor of Bibb Graves. One of the exits on the North end of the building has been closed in and it makes a very good office.

Again I say: Thank you, thank you, thank you. The entire "Collegian" staff will be eternally grateful for the kind generosity.

Gregg, Greene, New Dorm Directors Share Spotlight

Counselors have replaced the house mothers in Daugette Hall and Freshmen Dorm. For the first time in the history of Jacksonville, college students have taken on the responsibility of supervising freshmen. In this issue, the Collegian recognizes two of these outstanding students: Betty Green and Gary Gregg.

Besides being a counselor, Betty has the added distinction of being one of Jacksonville's first graduate students, maintaining a straight "A" average during her first semester of graduate work.

Since Betty only received her B.S. degree in May of 1958, and she will receive her masters degree in May 1959, this means she will have gone from a freshman to a master degree in four years—another first in the history of Jacksonville.

ary fraternity, of which she was reporter. She has been featured as Gem of the Hills by the Collegian and was chosen favorite by the senior class.

6. All directional signs must be observed.

7. The speed limit is 20 miles per hour.

8. The washing of cars on the campus is strictly prohibited.

The parking situation is a problem, we know, since there aren't always enough spaces for the number of cars at hand, but things being what they are the regulations must be complied with. It isn't much of a task to understand the prohibition of car-washing on campus; water rates are high, and you are many, so that takes care of that.

You will be extremely interested, and doubtless overjoyed, to learn that all the traffic regulations here within stated will be most rigidly and soundly enforced by the local gendarmerie department which, as some of you know only too well have little or no compunction concerning the official functions of their high office. Please observe these little precautions and save the school, the Jacksonville Police Department and yourself, a lot of trouble.

While an undergraduate majoring in history and minoring in biology, Betty received many honors. She was a member of the Phi Mu Chi Beta, an honor-

"Hello" to all the new Freshmen who are commuting and may we say WELCOME! New faces soon become new friends so we invite all of you to visit the Commuters Lounge. Said lounge you will find located in the basement of Ayers Hall and south of Freshmen Dorm. The door will be open from 8:00 a. m. until the last of you leave in the afternoon. We have ping pong, magazines, cards, and comfortable chairs. It's really a good place to hang your Rat Cap in your free hours, so come on over!

While we are welcoming people we'd like to congratulate all of the former dorm residents who have joined the Commuters Club via the little gold band on the left hand.

The elections are coming up and we will have some people running for S. G. A. This is an important office and we urge all of you to cast a vote for your favorite candidate.

There will be a meeting of ALL commuters Wednesday, September 17 at 10 a. m. in the lounge. Please come and bring someone with you. This one is important!

Notice To Art Students

The Art Club's executive committee, consisting of Wanda Walton, president; Peggy Jo Morgan, vice president; Jo Ann Coppock, secretary; and Nancy Hammett, treasurer, met with the sponsors, Mr. Manners and Mr. Cleverdon, at the home of the latter September 9th at 7:30 p.m.

Plans and projects for the coming year were discussed, and names of prospective members were compiled. Mrs. Cleverdon served refreshments to the group after the meeting was adjourned.

"This is the very last word, madam," the salesman assured the woman shopper as he held up a royal blue Italian silk smoking jacket. "Just the thing for the man-about-town."

Now for a look over at Freshmen Dorm. Here we see Gary Gregg who has not yet become accustomed to the nickname "Ma Gregg" by which he is "affectionately" called by the boys.

Gary who is from Anniston and a senior graduating in May with a major in business and a minor in economics, is a familiar figure on the campus. Since beginning his college career in September of '53, Gary has served as vice president of the junior class, and secretary of the Usher's Club of which he is president this year. He is a member of the Scabbard and Blade, and this year has the high rank of company commander in ROTC. Serving as business manager of the Mimosa, Gary is constantly selling ads so as to finance a good yearbook. All of these activities added to his job of counseling make Gary a pretty busy "Housemom".

Reception In The A. M. Is Big Joke On President Cole

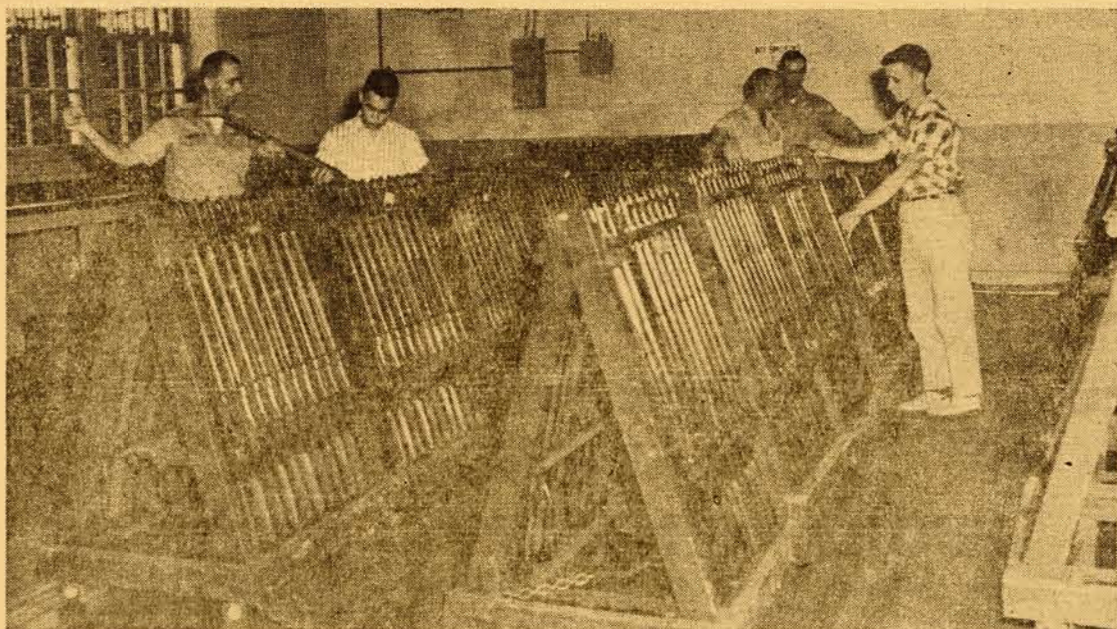

Just in case you haven't heard by now, those dainty red hats so common on our campus for the past few days were a part of what is called "Rat Week". This was only one of the many consequences of being a freshmen. There were things like naming ten to one hundred upperclassmen, carrying matches and handbooks, and being the upperclassmen's workhouse in general.

Perhaps the most elaborate occasion of the week occurred in the early hours of Tuesday morning. About 5:15 a. m. the familiar cry around Daugette Annex and Freshman Dorm was that of "Fall out, Rats." And every "good" rat promptly answered the call. The girls were clad in sportswear while the boys chose to wear their "Graduation" pajamas. Just before six o'clock there was a stampede from Freshman to the Annex. The boys rendered a few "Good Morning" songs and the girls were then invited to join them in a pep rally under the flagpole. Clark Gable and the cheerleaders were on hand to lead a few yells and acquaint the rats with a few cheers for the festivities which were to follow. A crew of freshmen cheerleaders was picked at random to lead the group in a yell or two. The head cheerleader was bedecked in an old-fashioned nightshirt—his name slipped by this reporter but his hilarious memory lingers on!

The rats then went to the lawn of the President's Home. The cry, "We want Dr. Cole," soon brought out the President of our college. Upon his appearance the crowd burst forth with their familiar "Good Morning" song. Dr. Cole presented red ties to Pat Keahey and the "Night Shirt Kid." After the presentation, Dr. Cole invited the group to go through his house to the patio. He greeted each of his early morning guests at the door. On the patio he gave a brief welcome and introduced our First Lady to the group. A special cheer was given in his honor and the party broke up.

It was almost breakfast time now, and Mrs. Hudson reported the best attendance record ever set for the breakfast meal. The Hazing Committee can also report a remarkable record of humor and cooperation among the rats this year. And if the records were checked closely, it was perhaps the largest number of visitors ever to call on our President, Dr. Cole, at 6:30 a.m.

The Gamecocks will play Troy State College Saturday night in College Bowl. "Miss Homecoming" will be crowned and prizes awarded for the best dormitory decorations, floats, etc.

In past events of this nature the spontaneous spirit of the students body has been an extremely important factor in assuring their success. The fervor exhibited and energy expended have always been tremendous, making each homecoming a gala occasion. The dormitory decorations, the parade, receptions for alumni; all these have been carried out in the true manner. We have no intention of this being an exception, an aura of football spirit will pervade each nook and cranny of the campus, and Troy State will go down to a devastating defeat. Freshmen, stand reminded that this is your day, given all you have toward making it a most memorable day.

There will be a concluding dance after the game with Troy State, probably informal, with all invited. Be sure not to miss the crowning highlight of the day's activities. Tromp Troy, et cetera.

BSU Is For You

The Baptist Student Union has a place for you—remember this from the very beginning. During our Vesper Services Monday thru Thursday and Morning Watch thru Friday, there is a warm welcome for you. Especially are we desperate for your talent, typists, musicians, speakers and we need 100 boys and girls to compose the "Amen Corner" at the First Baptist Church.

Remember the dates October 17th thru 19th THIS is our State Baptist Student Convention WHERE? Gadsden, Alabama, and Jacksonville Campus will be the host campus which means we must furnish 150 students to work during this week-end. Make no other plans.

Another important matter for Baptist Students is Church Membership. If you plan to be on campus regularly during week-ends—Move That Church Membership! Now you belong—loosen the apron strings at home and concentrate fully on a college life. Soon the Jacksonville Baptist Church will be moving into a new building and want you to move in with us. There will be a $50,000 Student Wing which will facilitate all student activities. Find your place in B.S.U., it offers the stability that a college student needs while away from home.

SPORTS SHORTS

Coach Don Salls and his staff have been working hard to mold about forty good football players into a winning football team. The 1958 edition of the Gamecocks is blessed with big linemen, fast backs, good team spirit, experience, and everything else that it takes to make a good football team. These boys must carry a full load of academic courses and still practice about two hours every day at College Bowl. Each week when the Gamecocks take the field they will be representing all of us that are enrolled as students in this institution of learning. This is OUR team so let's all get out to College Bowl on Saturday, September 27, and back the Gamecocks as they tangle with the Blue Raiders from Middle Tennessee. We have a good team this year; let's show them that we appreciate the effort they are putting out by backing them all the way. I have heard it said often that Jacksonville has the worse school spirit of any college its size in the south. Let's prove to these people that this statement isn't so.

SIMPKINS

It was a sad day on Solomon's hill when Coach Don Salls released the statement that Wayne Keahey was ineligible to participate in football this fall. Wayne Keahey is one of the finest fullbacks ever to don a Gamecock jersey and will be sorely missed this fall.

The football boys have made an excellent choice in choosing their captains this year. We of Jacksonville are proud to have such outstanding young men as E. G. Taylor and Jim Glasgow to serve as co-captains of our football squad. Congratulations to Glasgow and Taylor and also to the whole team for their wise choice.

(Baseball Meeting Set)

An assembly Wednesday brought about the postponement of the first meeting of the Jax State baseball squad. Coach Frank Lovrich again encourages all boys that want to go out for baseball to be in the Little Auditorium Wednesday, September 17 at 10 o'clock.

New Feature

Beginning with this issue the Collegian will run a new feature on the sports pages. This new feature will consist of the predictions of the outcome of ten college games and four high school games every two weeks. The people that take part in these predictions will be Don Salls, head football coach; Tom Roberson, assistant football coach; Bobby Hayes, athletic publicity director; Sid Simpkins and myself, Collegian sports editor. A percentage of the number predicted right will be recorded and the winner of the "Prediction Corner" will be announced at the end of the football season.

SECOND GUESSING

Middle Tennessee State, winner for the second consecutive year in the Ohio Valley Conference last year, looks as though they have the experience and power to have another fine football team. The "Blue Raiders" have 24 returning lettermen with an All-Ohio Valley conference selection at all but two positions—end and fullback.

Let's take a brief look at the Blue Raiders line-up so we will know what to expect in the College Bowl, Saturday night, September 27.

The ends will be the weakest position on the team. But this doesn't mean they will be push-overs.

Tackles are apparently controlled by Ralph Adams, 230 lb., junior and Don Franklin, 225, senior, both All-Ohio Valley conference last year.

Guards will be strong with Harold Green, 180 lb., senior, and All-Ohio Valley conference selection for the last two years and James Britton 215 lb. senior, who has lettered two years for the Blue Raiders.

Center will be in the hands of William Hall, 190 lb. senior also an All-Ohio Valley conference selection.

Quarterback will be in the hands of one of the finest quarterbacks in the south, Bob Hallum. The 185 lb. junior was All-Ohio Valley conference and honorable mention little All-American last year. Hallum threw 11 touchdown passes last season.

KILGORE

Meet The Captains

CAPTAINS—TAYLOR, GLASGOW

E. G. Taylor and Jim Glasgow, two big linemen, have been elected by their teammates as co-captains of this year's edition of the Gamecock football team.

E. G., one of the three seniors on the 1958 football squad, is beginning his second year as first string center for Coach Salls. Taylor played his high school football at Bessemer. While in high school E. G. received All-State honors. Taylor is twenty-five years old, stands five feet ten and weighs two-hundred pounds. E. G. came to our campus from the University of Florida and since that time has married a Jacksonville student, Myra Rich-ey from Geraldine.

Jim Glasgow, a mammoth 6 feet 5 inch 220 pounds sophomore tackle, is the other co-captain. Jim is a twenty-five year old veteran who is playing his second as a starting tackle for the Gamecocks. Glasgow spent his high school days putting a fear into the hearts of the foes of his alma mater, Jones Valley High School. This twenty-five year old young man is married and is the father of one child.

Both of these men are rated among the best linemen of college football in the South. Their football ability, their sportmanship, and their personalities will help these boys make Jacksonville State the best captains we have ever had.

Hayes Employed As Sports Writer

From the tip top of Sand Mountain to the shore of south Alabama, everybody is talking about Jax State's new athletic publicity director, Bobby Hayes. Bobby is at work day and night writing sport articles for newspapers all over Alabama and Georgia. Already many sport fans look forward to the day that "The Hayes Stack", Bobby's column, appears in their hometown newspaper.

Bobby graduated from Albertville High School in 1957. At the time of his graduation, he was already known all over the mountain for his wonderful coverage of sports for the Sand Mountain Reporter.

Last year Bobby (or Hal, as almost everybody calls him) attended Snead College where he served as publicity director for the best junior college basketball team in the South.

Bobby Hayes must have been

the person that the term "personality plus" was originated for. He is the type of person that you like the first minute that you meet him. If you have not met Hal just wander around the campus until you see a little bitty fellow with a great big smile and a hearty greeting for everyone and then you'll know that you have found him.

Of course, Bobby is majoring in journalism and he has the ambition of being a great sports writer some day. However it is the opinion of many of us that Bobby is already great in his field and we know that a person like Bobby will obtain the goal that he is working so hard to reach.

Bobby is very optimistic about the Jacksonville State Gamecock football team because he says that "Yogi" predicts a successful season for the Jaxmen. "Yogi" is a talking eight ball that Bobby depends upon for predictions of almost everything. Bobby attributes much of his success in sport writing to his closest friend, "Yogi."

Jacksonville State is really privileged to have a talented sports writer like Bobby Hayes around to publicize our athletic program.

Two hard-working stenographers were heard singing the blues while riding home from work on the bus. "Isn't it fierce the way we have to work these days?"

"Fierce isn't the word for it. Why, I typed so many letters yesterday that last night I finished my prayers with 'Yours truly'."

The Blue Raiders will have Bucky Pitt, 165 lb junior and Ray Pursis, 175 lb. junior, at halfbacks. Pursis was tagged by Blue Raider Coach Charles Murphy as the man to watch in 1958. He had a 7.7 rushing average last season.

At fullback will be Roy Hill, 185 lb. senior and Gene Windham, 195 lb. junior.

The Blue Raiders, with a 10-0 record last year, appear to be the team to beat again this year in this area. Last year the Blue Raider defeated Jacksonville 25-0. However, the Gamecocks will have two games under their belt and knowing the opposition of Middle Tennessee, I believe Jacksonville will be ready.

Let's all go out and back the Gamecocks. But remember fans, "When that one great scorer comes to mark beside your name, he marks not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."
