

Music: Ray McKinley—

Tonight's The Night; Big Christmas Dance; Come

By Wallace Johnson

When one thinks of music he automatically thinks of Jacksonville State College and its high-rated music department. Well, tonight Jacksonville State will feature something else which will boost its well-known music name. Of course we mean the presentation of the Glenn Miller Orchestra under the direction of Ray McKinley. For the first time this season Jacksonville is honored to have a big-name band on the campus.

The Christmas dance sponsored by the Junior-Freshman Class every year will reach its highlight tonight when the world-famous band is featured.

The 17-piece band will be playing some of the numbers that made Glenn Miller famous. Selections such as "In the Mood", "String of Pearls" and many, many more will be played for your enjoyment tonight in the college gym.

"Winter Wonderland" has been selected by the decoration committee as the theme. Joe Gregory, freshman from Birmingham, stated that everyone has been working very hard to make the theme the best in the history of the Junior-Freshman Dance here at Jacksonville.

These dances not only are attended by people from Jacksonville. People from Huntsville to Mobile, from Memphis to Atlanta attend these dances annually. You know if people will drive this far to a dance that it must be good. This is really a chance in a lifetime to hear one of America's top orchestras. People usually have to go to the Sands in Las Vegas, the Town and Country in Chicago, or to other major night clubs throughout the United States to hear such an orchestra.

The leadout is always a feature of the Christmas dance, and this year's dance will be no exception. Ward Burt, freshman from Oxford, is in charge of the leadout and he has stated that it is going to be a very good one.

Another good feature about the dance is where it will be held. The college gym offers

Fashion Show At JSC Dec. 9

The holiday motif will be featured in the fashion show to be presented by the home economics department of the college on Wednesday evening, Dec. 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the Leone Cole Auditorium.

Members of the freshman clothing classes will model dresses, suits coats and other wearing apparel they have made during this semester under the direction of Miss Eleanor Kelley.

Miss Margaret Young of Anniston will be narrator. Miss Young has served in this capacity in Anniston fashion shows and is considered expert in the field. She will be introduced by Dr. Houston Cole. Wanda Roberts, president of the Leone Cole Home Economics Club will preside.

Another feature of the program will be the musical section by Errol Tabasky, a student from Hull, Mass., who is a talented accordionist. He will play between Scenes I and II of the show. Other music will be under the direction of Dr. Robert Cantrick, head of the fine arts division.

Immediately after the show, a reception will be given at the home management house for parents and friends of the students. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mary L. Lowrey, head of the home economics department; Mrs. S. B. Matthews, Mrs. John Green and Miss Kelley.

JACKSONVILLE STATE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Christmas Music To Be Rendered By JSC Choir

The Jacksonville State College choir will present a vesper program of Christmas music on three occasions before the holidays beginning on Dec. 18, it has been announced by Dr. Charles F. Lehman, the director.

The first appearance will be at the Fort McClellan WAC auditorium on Friday, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p. m. The second will be on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, at 4 o'clock in the Leone Cole Auditorium for the public. The final presentation will be for the students on Thursday morning, Dec. 17, at 10 a. m., in the Leone Cole Auditorium.

The program will be as follows:

Processional, "O Come All Ye Faithful" Cantus Diversi.

THE PROPHECY: Scripture, Isaiah IX:2-7, "And the Glory of the Lord", Handel, by college choir; Scripture, Isaiah XL:1-11, "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings" Handel, Nancy Kimberly, Anniston, soloist, with choir; "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" Praetorius, men's glee club.

THE BIRTH: Scripture, Luke 1:26-35-38; "O Holy Night", Adams, Judy Jones, Macon, Ga., soloist, and choir; "Carol of the Russian Children", Gaul, men's glee club; Scripture: John 1:1-14; "Silent Night", Gruber, college choir.

THE ADORATION: "We Three Kings", arr. by John J. Knox, James Bentley, Childersburg, Bruce Thornhill, Pisgah, and glee club; Scripture: Matthew II: 1-12; "Ceremony of Carols," Britten, women's chorale.

"Ceremony of Carols" will include: Procession, Wolcum Yole, There Is No Rose, This Yonge Child, Balulalow, This Little Babe, Spring Carol, Deo Gracias.

Recessional: from "The Ceremony of Carols"

Members of the college chorus are as follows:

Mary Butler, Trussville; Jimmie Carnell, Holly Pond; Mary Maud Clark, Gail Maze, Patricia Garnett, Romona Love, Jacksonville; Loretta Gilbert, Hene-gar; Nancy Hagan, Barbara Hames, Ira Dean Harris, Nancy Kimberly, Anniston; Lillian Howell, Sandra Parris, Janice Williams, Roanoke.

NOTICE!

The Masque and Wig will hold a meeting in room 317, Bibb Graves, on Wednesday, Dec. 9, at four o'clock. Plans for immediate and future projects will be discussed, officers elected, and suggestions entertained for activities both in the group, and for public presentation, in the spring semester.

William O'Sullivan, faculty director of the organization, is optimistic for a good season ahead with the excellent dramatic material he has observed in the JSC student body.

EDITORIALS—

Serious And Essential

Some very complimentary things were said about the Collegian in the "Letters to the Editor" feature this week. Progress in quality is indeed our most important goal.

What the Collegian would like to have in "Letters to the Editor" and feature articles is information which grapples with the student's deepest concerns, something serious and essential. We want to know the issue on the American campus, the opinions of the college student concerning the religious, social and political philosophies of our time. We want to know their reactions to the beatnik and existentialist fads of Greenwich Village and California's Beacon Street. We want to know whether they are stirred by the events in Palestine, South Africa, Hungary, France, China and Little Rock. We want to know what they think of the cold war, the armament and missile races and Khrushchev's visit to the U. S. We want to know whether they regard the philosophies of their professors as "irrelevant" to their situation, whether they place any faith in modern science and technology or in progressive theories of education. We want to know what they think of T. S. Eliot, William Faulkner, D. H. Lawrence and Tennessee Williams. We want to know their vocational plans or lack of plans and the reasons behind them. In short, we want to know what they think, what they read, what they feel, what are their philosophies of life or, if they have none, why? What we are looking for is something that will make the present-day college student understandable to those generations before him who were raised upon philosophies of self-confidence and hope or, at least, of courage. Even more important, we are looking for the present-day student's understanding of himself in world.

With this information the Collegian can become more essential to the Jacksonville State College.

Letters To The Editor

Fay B. Simpkins
Editor of COLLEGIAN
Jacksonville State College
Jacksonville, Alabama

Dear Mrs. Simpkins:

I should like to express my appreciation to President Garner and the members of the Student Government Association for doing such a splendid job this semester. All the activities have been well planned and a big success.

I feel that such work deserves a lot of praise and that we all should be grateful for such a hard working SGA.

Yours truly,
A Student

Dear Faye:

I would like to take this time to commend your good work as editor of THE COLLEGIAN. The girls in the dormitory always make it a point to get a COLLEGIAN and to read it from cover to cover.

We feel that the more pictures that are in a paper, the better it is, therefore we praise the pictures that appear in the COLLEGIAN. The table of activities always helps us in remembering the dates and places of various club meetings and activities.

The items printed in the newspapers are constructive, humorous, and helpful. We feel that it is a credit to this college to have such a fine newspaper.

We hope that you will continue this good work for the betterment of Jacksonville State.

Sincerely,
Kay Robinett

Dear Editor:

I believe it time for Jacksonville State College to build a student union building. The students of Jacksonville State College have gone too long without such a building.

A good student union building would help build the brotherhood of the students here. More students would take part in the many organizations we have here at Jacksonville. The trouble now is the large part of the student body know nothing of what goes on because they have no place to meet and join together as a body.

So I say, now is the time to act! Let's start off on the right foot on the drive for a student union building.

Sincerely yours,
Michael P. Hefferman

Dear Mrs. Simpkins:

I learn recently that a committee had been appointed by the Student Government to study the problem of the student parking. I also learned that the committee was dismissed because they did not think the problem serious enough to warrant their time and attention. I believe that anything which may cause a student undue hardship simply because of lack or organization should receive attention from the SGA.

There is a solution to this problem. Perhaps we could pattern our parking rules after some other institutions. Why not have the SGA write to different institutions, assemble the different views, and then organize a plan whereby the students at Jacksonville will have less confusion so far as parking their automobiles is concerned.

Sincerely yours,
Carl W. Hodges

Dear Fay:

I would like to commend you on the fine work you and your staff have done in editing and publishing the Collegian. Since it was first published, it has gradually become more important to the students, until now it is one of the trademarks of Jacksonville.

The Collegian is actually our only way of keeping up with current events at Jacksonville. It proves a well-rounded summary of general news, editorials, outstanding students, and sports. The articles are clear and concise. There is no prejudice evident in the articles, even though the writers may be biased personally.

It is entirely obvious to the reader that the Collegian staff is a hard-working group, who really want to do their best in composing the articles. We hope that each succeeding staff will be as competent and efficient as this one is. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely yours,
Diane Parnell

Dear Editor:

Some two or three years ago a chapel was to be built on campus but the project seemed to dropped by the wayside.

Many students here at Jacksonville would like to know what has happened to the chapel and why it has not been built.

I would appreciate your informing the students as to what has happened to the funds that were taken up for the chapel.

Sincerely yours,
James E. Lee

Part II—By Joe Duckett

Part I of our "Civil Air Patrol Orientation" outlined some of CAP's many activities: flying, short-wave radio network, search and rescue, drill teams, training programs, field trips, and social activities, all open to both male and female members.

Students interested in joining the CAP will be glad to know that flying is provided on Saturdays and Sundays, and Jacksonville members are encouraged to fly in the CAP plane based at Anniston Municipal Airport, maintained and flown by experienced and CAP rated pilots of the Anniston Squadron. The commanders of the Jacksonville and Anniston Squadron work closely together, and the two units share projects from time to time.

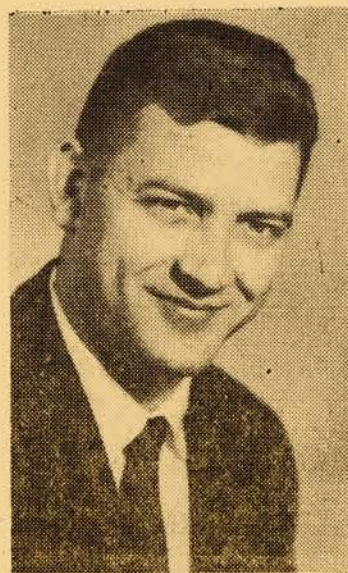

The Jacksonville Squadron has two short-wave radio stations, one fixed, Goldenrod 16 and one mobile, Hotrod 80, which participate in a daily statewide traffic net, in addition to being available for immediate use in emergencies requiring radio communication.

In The SPOTLIGHT—

Wanda Gilliland And Harold Summerville

WANDA GILLILAND

HAROLD SUMMERVILLE

The bright beam of this week's Spotlight falls on two very dependable, hard-working seniors: Wanda Gilliland and Harold Summerville.

Wanda's home is in Gallant; but she graduated from Ashville High School in 1957.

Wanda was a very enthusiastic worker in many organizations at Ashville High. She was a member of the FHA, FTA, and FELA, and was president of the Student Government Association. Wanda was also on the annual and paper staff at her high school.

In June, 1957, Wanda registered at Jacksonville for the first time.

The 1957 senior class at Ashville High certainly knew what they were doing when they elected Wanda as the girl "Most Likely to Succeed," for she has been a success at everything she has undertaken at Jacksonville. A member of the International House, Wanda is editor of the "International Voice," a publication of this organization.

Wanda has served on the SGA and is a member of three honorary fraternities: Kappa Delta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and is president of Sigma Tau Delta.

As a result of her hard work, Wanda was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges this year.

Wanda has a double major, English and French. She will graduate this July and plans to teach senior high school English or enter graduate school.

Harold is a commuter from Cedartown, Ga. He was graduated from Cedartown High School, where he participated in many school organizations, including glee club and band.

After high school graduation, Harold joined the Army and played in the army band for two years at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

Harold entered Jacksonville in the fall of '56. He is best known for his work in music.

For four years Harold has marched with our wonderful "Southerners" band and has been president for three years. He has also been in the concert band, the brass choir, and the college chours for four years. Harold played tuba with the Northeast Alabama Symphony for three years.

Harold received a Letter of Appreciation last year for his outstanding work.

The Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity members selected Harold vice-president of the organization and two years prior he has been pledge master.

The former Sara Phillips of Cedartown is Harold's wife and they are the proud parents of a month-old baby girl, Sherron Sherree. He is directing the Alexandria High School Band as well as attending school.

Harold will graduate in January with a major in music education and a minor in history. He will be presented in a senior recital in December or early January.

Students like Wanda and Harold help to make Jacksonville the friendly, closely-knit college it is. Congratulations to both of you on your outstanding achievements.

60 New Members In Phi Beta Club

Jacksonville's Phi Beta Lambda Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America boasts an increase of 60 new members as a result of a week of recruitment held just before Thanksgiving.

During recruitment week business students were given an opportunity to see a display of awards and various type of information concerning the objectives of FBLA, and an opportunity to become affiliated with the local chapter. Various members were posted at the FBLA table every hour during the week to receive memberships.

Officers of Phi Beta Lambda are Gene Motley, president; Charles Robertson, 1st vice-president; Gleen Smith, 2nd vice president, Darlyne Voges, secretary; Mary Jim Ingram, treasurer; and Joan Lassefer, reporter.

Meetings are held regularly every second Wednesday in each month, and evening meetings from time to time.

One of the most outstanding contributions of the local chapter is made through its student

SGA Notes

The regular meeting of the SGA was at 6:30, Dec. 1, 1959. Joe Garner thanked Don McMillan, who was in charge of "J" Day, and all the SGA members for helping making "J" Day such a big success.

There was much discussion as to ways of improving this big event in the future. Either a trophy or plaque will be bought and given to Pannell for winning the girls' football game. Every year this same trophy or plaque will be handed over to the dorm which wins the girls' football game. Good luck, girls!

A big sign is to be placed over the SGA door to help the students find it. Any student needing help from an SGA member, should not hesitate to come to the SGA office between the hours of 8 o'clock and 12 o'clock each day.

From now on the U. S. flag will be flying on the flag pole in the center of the quadrangle.

Many things were discussed and committees appointed to carry through with the needs of matters discussed. Such things as a program for acquainting the students with our Alma Mater; providing entertainment over the week-ends; and improving system of selecting people for Letters of Appreciation are a few of the many important matters discussed.

placement bureau, headed by Glenn Smith, who works with the college director of placement in bringing business representative to the college to interview seniors for possible employment.

All business majors and minors, whether or not they are enrolled in any business subject this semester, are urged to join this society. Freshmen who are planning to major in business, but have not yet become identified with the business department, are encouraged by the president to join.

Miss Branscomb Attends Meeting

Miss Lucille Branscomb, head of the business education department, attended the annual convention of the Southern Business Education Association held at the famous Cavalier Hotel, Virginia Beach, Va., during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Branscomb assisted in the overall planning of the convention program and participated as a speaker in one of its sectional meetings. The theme of the convention was "Widening Horizons in Business Education."

Also staying at the Cavalier Hotel, at the same time of the SBEA gathering, was a group of naval officers representing a number of European and Asiatic countries, who were attending an international conference at the Naval Air Station.

Miss Branscomb was invited to represent the Southern Association, as a gesture of good will, at a dinner given in honor of these foreign naval officers by Admiral William Romoser, Commander of the Naval Air Station. Included among the guests were the Vice-Admiral of the Formosa-Chinese Fleet; the Chinese General in command of the Nationalist Marine Forces; the Chief of Staff of the Pakistan Navy; the Chief Medical Officer of the Netherlands Navy; also its Director of Mines; the Chief Naval Officers from Italy and from Denmark. Also present were: the Admiral who is second in command of NATO; the Rear Ad-

Jim Glasgow Drafted By Detroit Lions Professionals

Jim Glasgow, 1958-59 Jacksonville State Gamecock captain and outstanding tackle, was drafted in the thirteenth round by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

Jim, a 6'6", 240-pound senior from Birmingham, has earned three letters in football at Jacksonville. It can certainly be said that Big Jim has been a real big factor in the success that the Gamecocks have acclaimed in the past three football seasons. Last season, Jim was selected as the "Most Valuable Lineman" and Tampa University named him unanimously to their All-Opponent squad.

Jim hasn't sign the contract but a conference with Jim and representatives of the Lions is set for next week to settle the deal.

Jim was among the very few players from small colleges drafted by the football teams. However there are many stars players in the NFL from small colleges. Probably the best known to us is Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears who played his college ball at Florence State.

SIMPKINS

Other players from the south drafted by the pro's were Billy Cannon, LSU halfback, Los Angeles; John Robinson, LSU back, Detroit and Tom Moore, Vanderbilt back, Green Bay; were first round draftees.

In the second round Detroit choose Warren Rabb, LSU back; Philadelphia got Maxie Baughman, Ga. Tech center; and Baltimore selected Mississippi guard Marvin Terrell.

In the third round, Los Angeles got Charlie Britt, Georgia, back; Chicago Cardinals, Hugh McInnis, Miss. Southern, end; and Charles Elizay, Miss. Southern, center.

In the seventh, Cleveland got Taz Anderson, Georgia Tech, back. In the eighth, San Francisco got Max Fugler, LSU, center; in the ninth, San Francisco got Bobby Wasden, Auburn, end, and in the tenth they drafted Mel Branch, LSU end.

Basketball Gets Underway; Two JSC Athletes Considering Wrestling?

With the sheer delight one receives from dropping an anvil on his toe, Tom Roberson, head basketball czar of Jacksonville State's Gamecocks, sends his warriors into action tomorrow night (Tuesday) in their second home game of the season against Howard. Tipoff time has been slated for 7:30.

The "delight" of the evening rests in the fact that the Gamecocks will go into the Tuesday night scrape without previous practice. Georgia State of Atlanta was here Saturday night no practice was slated for the Sabbath nor today. Decorations and decorators filled the gymnasium early this a. m., in final preparation for tonight gigantic Junior-Frshman Danc and so the Gamecocks had no place to drill.

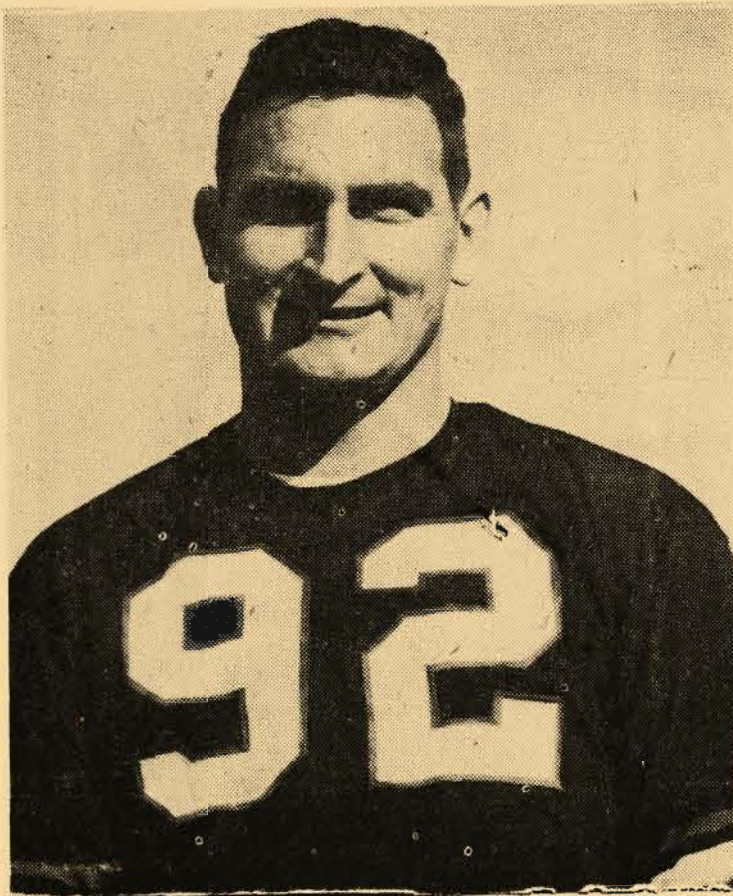

It could be long Tuesday for the Gamecocks. But, lets join together and revive the old Gabby Bell Thumb-pullers Club and join our superstitious natures together in hopes of pulling the Gamecocks through.

The renowned 'Blue Goose', as old as antiquity and filled with millions of wonderful memories for anyone who has ridden her, will be trucking it toward Rome, Ga., Wednesday night as the Gamecock roundballers visit Shorter.

This skirmish will be the second of the infant 1959-60 campaign for the local quint against the Georgia five. The first meeting was here last Saturday night.

Since the COLLEGIAN'S press deadline was several hours shy of gametime it is impossible to herein inform the public of its outcome. But had this columnist not given Yogi away early last year, the results could have been enclosed when the column was prepared Monday night. That Yogi was quite a ball!

Intramural Basketball Has Blazing Start Here

The 1959-60 Intramural basketball program of Jacksonville State College has gotten off to a blazing start with a newly organized program. The program is designed to enable more boys to participate in the basketball league. It is the biggest intramural program Jax State has ever had in any sport.

The program is divided into two leagues, the American and the National. The American league has nine teams while the National has eight teams.

Each league will play one round robin, then an elimination tournament between the two leaders of each league.

The American league teams and their managers are: the Bulldogs, Carl Bain; Posy and Holmes; Cherokees, Robert Leath; Clowns, Alston and Johnson; Gems, Horton and Green; Headwhippers, Bill Kinzy and Sam Kennimer; Midgets, Jackie Ayers; Professors, O'Neal and Austin; Tom Cats, Woody Hamilton.

At the present time, the Bulldogs and the Tom Cats are tied for the American league lead with 4-0 records.

The Governor, Woody Hamilton, has massed together another fine intramural athletic team and his Tom Cats are in the running for the league lead. He has gathered Carter Mays, Don McConkey, Wayne Hawkins, Ray Gentles, Tommy Kayndall, Bill Hodges, Edwin Ursy, and Barry Holdridge, to post a 4-0 won-lost record.

Carl Bain has a fine team and at this point, they are picked to take the American league. However, Woody Hamilton does not think so . . . anyway the battle between the Bulldogs and Tomcats comes to play-off Dec. 9.

The Bulldogs are composed of Willard Townsend, Jerry Hass, Ted Ford, Robert Brooks, Bogie Patterson, Wade Smith, and Duke Connell.

Another tough team in the American league, though their record doesn't show it, their name does, is the Headwhippers . . . what a name. This team is managed by Jax State football star Wild Bill Kinzy and his side kick Sam Kennimer. The name of the team is certainly fitting to the players who are Max L. Bass, Big Jack Gauldin, Charles Baker, Tom Maddox, Roy Fulmer, Jerry Screven, Jim Mayben, Mike Hamner,

Tom Cats	4-0
Professors	2-1
Bruins	3-2
Cherokees	2-2
Headwhippers	2-3
Gems	1-2
Midgets	1-2
Clowns	0-4

The National league is composed of eight teams. Their names and their managers are; Bobcats, Bob Taylor; Bullets, Sims, Lewis; Darlings, Phillips Hunt; Falcons, Baldwin; Gridsmen, Wayne Keahy and Ted Boozer; Panthers, Hubert Cummings; Rebels, Dan Martin; and the Trotters, Herring and Maddox.

The league standing is:

Gridsmen	4-0
Bullets	3-0
Darlings	3-1
Panthers	1-2
Rebels	1-3
Bob Cats	1-2
Falcons	0-3

The schedule is set up with three and four games being played a night, the first game beginning at 6 p. m.
