Girls' Football, Sock Hop Highlight 'J' Day Festivities

By Tressie Smith

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the quadrangle on our campus was buzzing with people and activities.

There were numerous games for everyone. The girls enjoyed such activities as sack races, pie-eating contests, three legged races, hula-hoop contests (which I'm sure the boys enjoyed viewing equally well), and egg-pitching contests.

The boys participated in such activities as a sack race, greasy pole climb, greased pig catch, wheel barrel race, and tobacco spitting contest.

At intervals during these games and activities, musical talent from the Talent Show entertained the spectators and gave the contestants an opportunity to rest from their strenuous activities, especially those who had tried to climb the greasy pole or to chase that greasy pig.

After supper the big event of the day occurred in Snow Memorial Field—the girls football game with Daugey playing Pannell. It was some game! Did any of you football players see any new plays? Wonder if Coach Salls was there to get an idea for a few new plays for next year?

Following the football game there was a sock hop in Chat-Ten where "J" Day came to a close with dancing contests and rest and relaxation for the poor girls who had played ball. Hope all of you girls who played are able to make it up these many stairs and hills today without too much pain.

CADET OF THE MONTH—Cadet Col. Richard Wynn from Gadsden, the Commander of ROTC Battle Group, is shown making the award to Tommy Whatley. Whatley is this month's Cadet of the Month. The cadets are judged on appearance, military bearing, and general conduct.

Dr. Cole Addresses Future Teachers

Dr. H. Cole was the guest speaker at the regular N. E. A. meeting which was held in the Little Auditorium Nov. 12. Dr. Cole's talk was in keeping with the motto of National Education Week, "Praise and Appraise Our Schools." Dr. Cole commented that we must advocate, legislate, and create higher educational standards in Alabama schools. Dr. Cole also stressed the need for higher quality in the American education system if we are to survive and compete in the race for knowledge that exists today.

In the business session of the meeting a new treasurer, Betsy Jane Thompson, was elected. The next N. E. A. meeting will be held December 15, at which time a Christmas Party will be held.

Hatcher Is Invited To Regional Meet

Samuel P. Hatcher, a member of the business faculty, has been invited to attend a regional CPCU educational conference at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta on Dec. 3-4. The conference is sponsored by the American Institute for Property and Liability of Underwriters.

Mr. Hatcher, who teaches insurance, statistics, management, marketing and purchasing, is one of 5,000 CPCU members in the U. S. There are only eight or ten in Alabama.

CPCU is the highest professional designation in the property and casualty insurance field.

All clubs and organizations must clear all dates and reservations for rooms, buildings, and the Leone Cole Auditorium through Dean Willman's office. Otherwise, it may be necessary to cancel an event if the responsible person does not clear the event through this office.

Class Officers To Be In Leadout

By Wallace Johnson

Scott Williamson, president of the junior class, announced this week that the Glenn Miller Orchestra will play for the annual Junior-Freshman Dance to be held in the college gymnasium on Dec. 7. Directing the orchestra will be the famous Ray McKinley, playing in the Glenn Miller tradition with the authentic Miller arrangements. The orchestra will also feature the Lenny Hambro Quintet.

This is not a new arrangement of the Glenn Miller orchestra. It started 25 years ago when Glenn Miller was just beginning his fabulous career. It was in a Chicago night club that Ray McKinley met Mr. Miller and since Mr. Miller's death he has been carrying on the tradition of the Glenn Miller orchestra.

Ray McKinley was also a big hit in the TV world. He has appeared on ABC television numerous times, very often making big hits at each appearance. He was also the founder of the Glenn Miller Army-Air Force Band album, which is considered in the music field as an excellent piece of work.

This dance is the largest dance scheduled this season at Jacksonville, and every effort possible is being put forth to make it the best in the history of Jacksonville.

A theme has not been decided upon at the present date, but Joe Gregory, social chairman of freshman class and Catherine Dunaway, social chairman of junior class have issued statements that this year's theme will be one that has never been carried out at a junior-freshman dance.

This year the freshman and junior classes are also planning to provide tables at the dance so the bleacher-type seats will not be used. This is also another first for Jacksonville Junior-Freshman dance.

The price of admission per couple will be $4.00 for advance tickets and $4.50 at the door.

EDITORIALS—

Day and Night...

Dean Montgomery commented recently that Jacksonville is becoming more and more cosmopolitan. That is, we attend classes fifteen hours a day. It doesn't matter if it is daylight or dark. Day students are going to night school and vice versa. Actually, it doesn't make much difference as long as we get the education we are paying for. Too many of us are trying to cheat ourselves. We want a bargain in everything except education.

It was my fate to fall victim to one of these night classes this semester—the bad one which is in session from 8:45 to 10:30. Although I complained about having my classes strung out thirteen hours a day, I was amazed by the number of people who have chosen to study by artificial light.

I found that the veterans make up the large majority of the night classes. There are those who enroll and attend classes only to receive money from Uncle Sam. These men make little contribution to the class, and of course, they receive little knowledge in return.

Others are making this effort not because they want to learn, but to get that degree which is so important in our increasingly specialized society—they need the degree to keep their jobs.

Then there is that challenging group of veterans who have returned to school to finish the education that was so rudely interrupted by war. They have served their country well, and still they have the initiative to continue their studies. Seeing this exhibition of ambition makes me realize that the millions of dollars which is spent each year by the federal government for veterans aid in education is not spent in vain.

The remaining percentage of students is in night school because they had to schedule a required class so that they could graduate at the end of a certain semester. We all have our reasons.

Few people are aware of the difficulties involved in attending night classes. The majority of the students rush in from work, eat a hurried meal, and dash to meet the six o'clock class. When dismissed from class at 10:30 P. M., they find that the library is closed, making the assigned report or the research work impossible to do unless they go to the city library during their lunch hour. How can we expect the degree received under these circumstances to have the same quality as one where facilities and time are available for studying?

A great deal of praise is in order for those night students, especially the veterans, who possess that spark which encourages them to study while the rest of the world is sleeping.

Gadsden Club Visits College

A group of Gadsden High School students, members of the Science Club, their sponsors and others, visited the science department at Jacksonville State College recently.

The group was composed of officers of the Science Club: Harris Langford, president; John Keeling, vice-president; Kathie Simon, secretary; Kenneth Hammock, treasurer; Wesley Brock and Bill Basenberg, delegates to the Alabama Junior Academy of Science; Judy Pritchett, Dianne Dobbs, and the faculty sponsor James O. Davie. They were welcomed by Dr. Paul J. Arnold, head of the science division, who introduced them to Dr. Harold S. Strickland and Reuben B. Boozer, members of the faculty. Mr. Davie told of some of the activities of the Gadsden students and their aims, including plans for a science fair at their school. Mr. Boozer explained the set-up for the Regional Science Fair to be held here, and Dr. Strickland told of the role of the Alabama Academy of Science.

The students were served cold drinks and taken on a tour of Ayers Hall, the science building.

Notice Of Thanks

The senior class would like to express appreciation to all those who helped make Senior Week a success.

Especially, we wish to thank Dean Montgomery, Dean Willman; senior advisers: Mrs. Roebuck and Mr. Hatcher.

Mrs. Hudson wishes to thank the student body for their cooperation in using the trash cans outside the dining hall, and for the good behavior exhibited at the meal time. The crowded conditions have caused some difficulty at meal time.

Pledges Honored By Kappa Delta Pi

The fall pledging ceremony for the Epsilon Phi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi at Jacksonville State College was held Thursday evening in the lounge of Graves Hall. Kappa Delta Pi is a national honorary education society for men and women, and election to membership is based upon high scholarship (2.3 minimum), character, leadership, professional interest, and potential success as a teacher.

Pledges were: Billie Reid Bryan, Weaver; Wanda Lee Gilliland, Gallant; Joan Lassetter, Carolyn June Kerr, Gadsden; Margaret Ann Leonard, Wayne Wilkinson, Jacksonville; Mary Liveoak, Cedartown, Ga.; Hazel I. Mitchell, Anniston.

Shirley Pike, Heflin, is president of the chapter; Sarah Maude Johnson, Fort Payne, vice-president; Mary Jim Ingram, Pell City, secretary-treasurer. Miss Lucille Branscomb is faculty-counselor.

Members are chosen by a committee composed of faculty from the education division and are voted upon by members of the chapter. Membership continues after graduation. The society's purpose is to encourage and promote continued professional interest and study in the field of education.

Newman Club

Designed especially for Catholic college students and others who are interested, the Newman Club is an organization of spiritual leadership. Originated by John Henry Newman in England in the 19th century, the Newman Club has grown to be a national organization. In 1879 Newman was made a cardinal. One of the strongest "campus" clubs in the Federation is that of Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, where two full-time chaplains care for the needs of about 3,600 members.

With the aid of Rev. Donald J. Grainger of Anniston, a Newman Club here at Jacksonville College is to be organized and is to have its goal set on becoming a member of the national organization.

Meetings will take place in the Little Auditorium at 7:30 every Tuesday evening.

Two Outstanding Students Share Collegian's Spotlight

The two seniors sharing this week's Spotlight are Mary Elizabeth Hubbard from Anniston and Joe Bob Lambert from Alexander City.

Mary graduated from Anniston High School in May of '57. She was active in the Thespians, the FTA, the Scribblers, and other organizations. The title, Miss FTA, was bestowed on this attractive young lady while in Anniston High.

The summer of '57 was the first semester Mary attended Jacksonville. Her freshman year, she was elected a class favorite and a dormitory officer in Doughty Hall.

Her sophomore and junior year, Mary commuted.

Mary has belonged to the Writers' Club for four years and is in charge of getting its annual publication "Soundings" organized.

Recently, she was featured as "Gem of the Hills" and was elected to be one of the senior class beauties.

Mary thinks about the most wonderful thing that has happened to her since coming to Jacksonville was meeting Bill Nichols. They are engaged to be married in January.

After she graduates in May,

A college education, says the contemporary sage, never hurt anyone who was willing to learn something afterwards.

JOE BOB LAMBERT

with an English major and a history minor, Mary plans to teach and be a housewife.

Joe Bob graduated from Benjamin Russell High School in May of '56, and all he will reveal of his high school days is that he played football.

Joe Bob has many honors to his credit since entering Jacksonville in the fall of '57.

The Ushers' Club and Phi Mu Chi Beta, a science fraternity, are organizations in which Joe Bob is a member. He is also a counselor in Freshman Hall.

Joe Bob has an outstanding ROTC record. He belongs to the Scabbard and Blade, is captain of Rho Omega Tau Chi, a military fraternity, and for four years he has been captain of the Jacksonville Rifle Team. He holds a medal for a Distinguished Military Student.

Biology and history are Joe Bob's major and minor fields, and he ranks high scholastically in these subjects.

Joe Bob is engaged to Sandra Davis, a recent Jax State graduate, and they will be married in June. He will then go into the army and perhaps make a career serving Uncle Sam.

Mary and Joe are friendly, hard-working students who enjoy working with people and taking active parts in campus functions.

They deserve to be in the Spotlight.

Gamecocks End Season

The Jacksonville State Gamecocks have just finished their 1959 football campaign, and they should be congratulated and given many words of praise. Coach Salls and his assistants, Tom Roberson and Ray Wedgeworth, led the Gamecocks to their best season since 1955, with a 6-1-2 record.

SIMPKINS The Gamecocks had victories over Louisiana College 26-6; East Tennessee 13-0; Troy State 35-12; Austin Peay 15-14; and Northeast Louisiana 26-12. The Gamecocks tied Carson-Newman 0-0. They lost to Chattanooga 19-0 and to Middle Tennessee 21-20. Jacksonville possibly could have gone undefeated had several of the first unit players not been injured at the beginning of the season. For example, Ted Boozer and tackle Grover Whaley missed the Chattanooga and the Middle Tennessee games.

Jacksonville State should be very proud of the '59 Gamecocks.

Coach Tom Roberson has been putting his Jax State basketball squad through lengthy drills in preparation for the season opener rapidly approaching against Berry College.

All but three are returning from last season's squad. The returnees and the many newcomers should have a fine season this year.

The Intramural basketball league went into action Tuesday night with a game between the Bulldogs, managed by Carl Bain, and the Bruins, managed by John Posep. The Bulldogs had most of the players who composed the championship team which was managed last year by Woody Hamilton.

The Bulldogs won the opening game, 63-37. They were led by Willard Townsend, Ted Ford, Bear Brooks, Jerry Haas, and Bobby Simmons. Bobby Simmons connected for 14 points for the winners. The opposing team was led by Bill Joe Hammonds and Bill Lazenby.

Southern Team Victorious In Intramural League Play

One of the most hardhitting intramural ball games is the annual North-South classic between the boys in the band. The history of this series shows the South to be the undisputed victor with three wins and no losses. This year, with the South outnumbered 3 to 1, the North had no doubt in their minds that history would be changed.

The Northern team was coached and quarterbacked by Melvin Morgan, first string from Emma Sanson. Morgan was supported closely by Dillard Feigley, all-state for Athens. Other outstanding players for the North were Skee Baby Perkins, Kidd, and Homer McCullum. The Southern team was sparked by lanky Bill Lazenby from Eclectic, who was in the center of every play. Bill's teammates were Buck Cofer, Happy Tinsley, and Randy Quinn.

Things looked black for the Southern team that cold Saturday as they lost the toss and kicked off to the powerful North. It was a rugged battle the entire first quarter, as each team failed to make the yardage needed and was forced to punt. The decisive action exploded late in the first quarter when Lazenby connected with Tinsley for the first completed pass of the ball game and for a first down. Lazenby moved the ball deep into Northern territory with a mighty end run, and two plays later he threw to Tinsley in the end zone for the first score of the game.

This touchdown seemed to break the spirit of the Northern team, but their chance came late in the second quarter. Due to a mix-up in the Southern defensive signals, Feigley broke loose to receive a pass. Morgan threw a beautiful pass into his waiting arms, but Feigley dropped the ball!

Early in the third quarter the South pulled the old "sleeper" play and connected for a touchdown. This play also worked in the fourth quarter for another touchdown.

The most outstanding offensive players for the South was Lazenby, who threw four touchdowns and caught two. The best defensive players was "Battling" Buck Cofer, who threw the North for numerous losses.

The only successful Northern play was a spectacular moment when the North threw the ball into the air, and Lazenby and Cofer collided in mid-air while attempting to intercept it!

The South's 36 to 0 upset was attributed to superior coaching, to tremendous stamina, and to the brilliant playing of every member of the team.

from classes shortly before final examinations, and also there has been no clear-cut financial commitment by the sponsors of the game."

The invitation came from the Federal Amateur American Football Association of Havana, Cuba. Coach Don Salls said the letter from the group's president, Gonzalo Quesada Mesa, specified that the Gamecocks would play a leading amateur team of Havana between Dec. 5th and 10th.

The Gamecocks finished their season last Saturday night with six victories, a tie, and two losses.
