

'Senior Week' Plans Made During Regular SGA Session

The regular meeting of the SGA was Tuesday night, Nov. 3, and many reports and important items were heard and discussed.

Charles Sweat told of Senior Week which will begin Monday, Nov. 9. The schedule of events for that week is as follows:

Monday—Dance at Jacksonville recreation center for seniors only.

Tuesday—Wiener roast at Boozer's Lake.

Wednesday—Shipwreck party at Jacksonville recreation center for everyone.

Thursday—Picnic, and the place where it will be to be announced later.

Friday—Girls' date night and sock hop in Chat-Em, free.

Saturday—Place is reserved at ball game for seniors.

Of course, during Senior Week the seniors will have such privileges as cutting the chow line, asking undergraduates to do little things for them, and having a place to eat reserved in the chow hall. Also, all senior girls will have 12 o'clock permission every night.

Nov. 12, there will be a special pep rally, which will be the last for this year. The public address system will be used and all coaches and football players are asked to please attend and join in.

Regarding the two or three old televisions, any dorm is welcome to them provided they pay for the repair work on them.

A committee was appointed to look into getting outside judges for the talent shows and suggestions for ways in which to improve the talent shows. Clark Gable is the chairman of this committee, with Joan Smithey and Shelby Chandler to work with him.

26 Bands Will Be At JSC For Band Day On Nov. 14

The largest number of bands ever—twenty-six—including the Jacksonville Southerners, will perform in Snow Stadium Saturday, Nov. 14, for the Annual Band Day celebration. Band Day grew out of the custom among the alumni directors to bring their bands back at homecoming. The date was changed last year due to insufficient funds to take care of such a large number.

From 3 o'clock till 5 o'clock, the bands will perform individually. A pre-game performance will be presented by the Jacksonville Southerners. After them, the massed bands will play "The Star Spangled Banner." During half-time, the bands will again perform together.

The bands that will be here and their directors are:

Crossville, Richard Cooper; Leeds, DeWitt Self; Ider, Johnny Shook; Geraldine, James Holcombe; Glencoe, Gene Barnes; Fyffe, Coyle Harris; Southside, Jan Stowers; Disque Junior High (Gadsden), John Caruth; Pell City, Jack Cox; Commerce, Ga., W. J. Pochus; Munford, Ralph Westmoreland; Brundy County, Tenn., George Bennett.

Cordova, De Leath Rives; Hokes Bluff, Rod Ferguson; Alexandria, Harold Summerville; Jacksonville, Wayne Hopper; Jacksonville State College, John Finley; Oneonta, Jerry Countryman; Heflin, Ronald Brooks; Johnston Junior High (Anniston), Jack Cobb; Valley Head, Barry Thomas; Cedar-

town, Ga., John Thomas; Walter Wellborn, William Tolbert; Tallapoosa, Ga., Jackie Caven-der; Arab, Wayne Washum. Mary Ann Waldrep

Northeastern Region Slates Science Fair At JSC In March

Many High School Students Invited

The Northeastern Regional Science Fair will be held at Jacksonville State College in March 1960 and junior and senior high schools of nine surrounding counties are being asked to participate in it. Reuben B. Boozer, a member of the college science faculty, has been appointed regional coordinator, and Dr. Harold Strickland, also a member of the faculty, as regional counselor, by the Alabama Academy of Science.

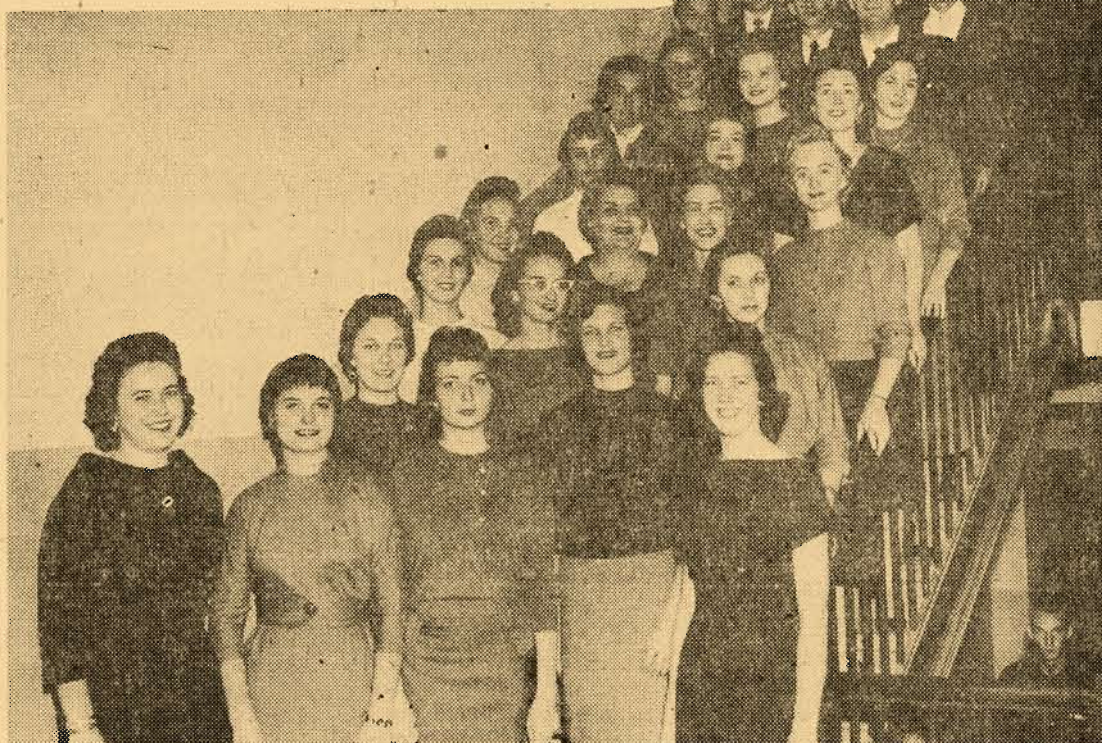

Mr. Boozer and Dr. Strickland will direct an administrative council and executive committee which will insure the success of a fair in this region. Chairmen of the administrative and executive committees are as follows:

Dr. P. J. Arnold, Col. Earl Aldrup, Dr. Gordon Mainland, finance; Dr. Emmett Price, Newbern Bush, Gaither Snoddy, judging and awards; Mrs. Douglas Johnson, Mrs. J. J. Campbell, Mrs. R. K. Coffee, publicity; Dr. Sammy Ingram, Charles M. Gary, Tommy A. Williams, Opal R. Lovett, public functions; Lawrence Hicks, John H. Patty, Ralph Lindsey, physical facilities, administrative council.

Attention Seniors

The following seniors have not filled in their senior sheets for the 1960 MIMOSA. These sheets request the name of the student, his home town, his degree, his major, and his activities at J. S. C. If these sheets are not completed by Friday, Nov. 13, the following students will have nothing but their names under their pictures:

James E. Bearden, Charles R. Bedwell, Leola Bowers, Melvin Browder, James A. Daily, Herbert E. Doss, George Douthit, Gerald Dupree, John W. Fox, Don Hancock, Joe C. Kidd, Joe Bob Lambert, Bill Lazenby, James E. Lee, Howard L. Morris, Don T. Morton, Ralph Payne, Carolyn J. Pippin, Robert R. Power, Melvin Ridgon, Neil J. Sanders, O. W. Smith, Therman Smith, Harold Solley, Thomas V. Whit.

These forms can be filled out any afternoon after 4:00 P. M., in the MIMOSA office in the basement of Daugette.

EDITORIALS—

We Need You...

I would like to have a straight student to student talk with you about your 1960 MIMOSA. It seems that we should do this more often, but this is really the first opportunity.

As you know, the creation and completion of a two-hundred-page yearbook involves a great deal of work. A large part of the time that my staff spends in the MIMOSA office is used for items that never show, such as collecting money, checking to see if names are spelled correctly, balancing the books, contacting people for pictures and ads, and many other things, and generally for coordinating a variety of ideas, projects, and efforts into a sensible, compact, united whole.

But our efforts make up only half the bargain—your efforts make up the other half. We can only arrange and plan, but we need your cooperation to change ideas to layouts and dreams to a beautiful yearbook.

I know that many of you are interested in our work. You have expressed a willingness to help in any way possible on many occasions, and at this stage in the game, your help is greatly needed. We are only four weeks away from our major deadline when our completed copy for one half of the 1960 MIMOSA has to be sent to the publisher. By meeting our deadline on time we are guaranteed by Paragon Press that our completed books will be at JSC on May 1, which is the date that I promised you when you bought your annual.

Now, this is the way that you can help us. We put deadlines on everything so that we can arrange to get our work done. You can help by meeting your deadlines. If you have something that is due on a Monday, don't turn it in on Wednesday. That type of thing costs us twice as much in time and effort, and keeps us from working on something else. If we arrange to make a photograph of you or your organization, be at your designated place at the right time. We will be there, and we can get your photographs taken quickly with as little wasted time as possible.

These are only little things, but the little things really count. Your cooperation with me and my staff can make our work so much easier, and you will know that you had a part in making the 1960 MIMOSA the success that it will be.

Draft Notice For Students

So that male students subject to induction in the Armed Forces will know something of the deferment granted to college students, the Registrar's office here gives pertinent information regarding procedures to be followed by those wishing to defer their service obligation until such time as they complete their college work. Some of the information and language given is taken from an article appearing in the October of Higher Education, published by the Office of Education, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

On the average local boards are selecting men for induction between the ages 22 and 23; most students, however, can complete their undergraduate studies (and in some cases graduate study) provided they are making normal progress toward a degree. Those who reach 22 or 23 usually, if they wish to postpone their military duty, must make application for a deferment. Local boards, of course, operate within the framework of the law in determining whether a student's deferment is justified.

A student's deferment rests upon either of two criteria: the Selective Service College Qualification Test (SSS recommends that all students take this test, on which a score of at least 70 must be made. To be eligible for the following year's deferment, the student must be in the upper-half in the freshman year, in the upper two-third in the sophomore year, or in the upper three-fourths in the junior year.

One of the first steps in student's getting a deferment because of scholastic standing is to request of the Registrar's office that a College Student Certificate, SSS Form 109, be sent to the local board concerned. These forms are only submitted by the Registrar's office when requested by the student as evidence in support of his deferment.

Deferment classifications are listed as II-S or I-S(C). The former may be given to the student who is maintaining the required scholastic average and who may be deferred from military service until his undergraduate academic studies are concluded. The latter classification, I-S(C), is applicable to a student who actually receives an order to report for induction while he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course of instruction. This student is entitled to a "statutory student deferment" for the remainder of the academic year (through May at Jacksonville) if he continues to pursue his program satisfactorily.

Phi Beta Lambda Elects Officers

Phi Beta Lambda held its first meeting of the year at which time the following officers were elected: Gene Motley, president; Charles Robertson, vice-president; Darlyne Voges, secretary; Mary Jim Ingram, treasurer; and Joan Lasseter, reporter.

The executive council met and many interesting programs and activities were planned for the year.

Collegian Spotlight Features Two Outstanding Seniors

Shining brightly in the Collegian's Spotlight this week are seniors Wanda Roberts and Robert Brooks.

Wanda's home is in Auburn now, but she graduated from Cedar Bluff High School in 1957.

A very active high school student, Wanda was a cheerleader and a class officer for two years. She belonged to the Beta Club, the FTA and the FHA and represented her high school at Girl's State.

When Wanda came to Jacksonville in the summer of '57 she was elected SGA representative. She has held several other class offices: sophomore vice-president, junior secretary, and she is now an SGA representative for the senior class. Wanda has also been elected to "Who's Who."

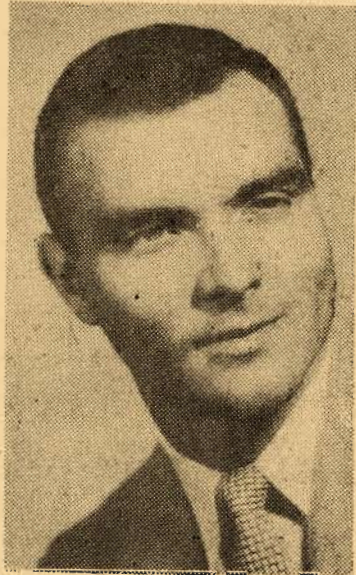

This attractive young lady was a "Gem of the Hills" her freshman year and a sophomore beauty; she is also one of the senior class beauties this year.

The Wesley Foundation is one of Wanda's main interests. She has held the offices of secretary and social chairman of this organization. She is majoring in home economics and minoring in science. She was treasurer of the Leone Cole Home Economics Club her junior year and is president this year.

After graduation in July, Wanda plans to teach home economics.

Robert is a business administration major and an economics minor.

A 1955 graduate of Sylacauga High School, Robert was active in the Sylacauga Letter Club. He lettered in football, basketball and baseball.

Robert entered Jacksonville in the fall of 1956.

Being a "house daddy" in Freshman Hall keeps Robert very busy; but he has time to take an active part in campus functions. He spends much of his spare time participating in intramural sports.

Last year Robert served as SGA representative for Pannel Hall (before it was converted) and was tapped for membership in the Scabard and Blade military organization. He also belongs to the FBLA.

The senior class elected Robert as one of the favorites.

After graduation in May, he will spend a few years with Uncle Sam. He had made no further definite plans, but Jan Adams holds a place in his future.

Wanda and Robert are both hard workers and will surely be successful in whatever they undertake. Good luck and congratulations on your achievements at Jacksonville State.

Weekly 'Film Day' Is Announced

Featuring The Aero-Space Age All students, faculty and staff are cordially invited to a weekly program of films that should be of interest to all Americans.

Shown every Wednesday in the Little Auditorium at 10:00 and 11:00 a. m., 2:00 and 3:00 p. m., will be films of action, production, research, by military, government, and commercial agencies, featuring satellites, rockets and missiles, airplanes, both jet and prop, and their use of the air and space in peace and war.

Great men in the history of flight and space research will be seen: The Wright Brothers, Jimmy Doolittle, Martin, Douglas, Vandenburg, Von Braun, Medaris, and their great work in the old days and in this day of swift change and development.

CAP Active At Jax State

By Joe Duckett

One of the most interesting and worthwhile organizations at Jacksonville is the Civil Air Patrol. As its name indicates, it is dedicated to the promotion of interest in aviation in all its phases, and to the new Age of Space, with its rockets and missiles. It also provides a group, trained and ready to help out any time local emergency, in peace or war, such as lost planes or persons, fire, flood, tornados, or enemy bombs.

The Jacksonville Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol engages in a variety of activities, including flying, of course; short-wave radio communications, search and rescue in actual as well as practice missions. It sponsors a drill team for both boys and girls. Its training program provides a study of the principles of flight, weather, navigation, aircraft structure, and other subjects related to flying, career opportunities in aviation, the latest developments in the air and space age, as well as training in teamwork, leadership, and command.

Sponsors Many Worship Activities

Off-campus activities sponsored by the Jacksonville CAP consist of field trips to airports, to Air Force bases like Maxwell and Gunter, in Montgomery; to aircraft manufacturing plants like Hayes Aircraft in Birmingham and Lockheed in Marietta, Ga. Both male and female members may attend a week's summer encampment in August, at Maxwell Air Force Base, where each cadet is given an orientation flight in jet aircraft. A military ball is held in the Spring at Gunter Air Force Base for CAP cadets. Also in the Spring the drill teams may enter statewide competition with other squadrons over the state. The winning team is flown to the regional meet, following by the national and international meets. In April, members may attend the Southeastern regional conference, held, for example, last year at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and in others at Daytona Beach, Naples, Biloxi, and Chattanooga.

MIMOSA Notice To Organizations

All organization pictures for the 1960 MIMOSA must be made by Nov. 21. The following organizations have not indicated a time to have their pictures made, and if this is not done by Nov. 13, these organizations will have to be left out of the annual.

Presidents of the following organizations can make arrangements for their group pictures in the MIMOSA office in the basement of Daugette Hall any day after four o'clock. Business Discussion Group, Pi Gamma Mu, Kappa Delta Pi, Civil Air Patrol, FBLA, Westminster Fellowship, Social Science Club, Leone Cole Home Economics Club, Pi Mu Chi Beta, J Club, Rho Omega Tau Chi, International House, Masque and Wig, Kappa Phi Kappa.

FAIR

Calhoun, Clay, Cleburne, DeKalb, Etowah, Randolph, St. Clair and Talladega. Any school from these counties desiring to take part in the fair should write Dr. Harold Strickland, Ayers Hall, Jacksonville State College, Jacksonville. Chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics are read in which students may develop exhibits.

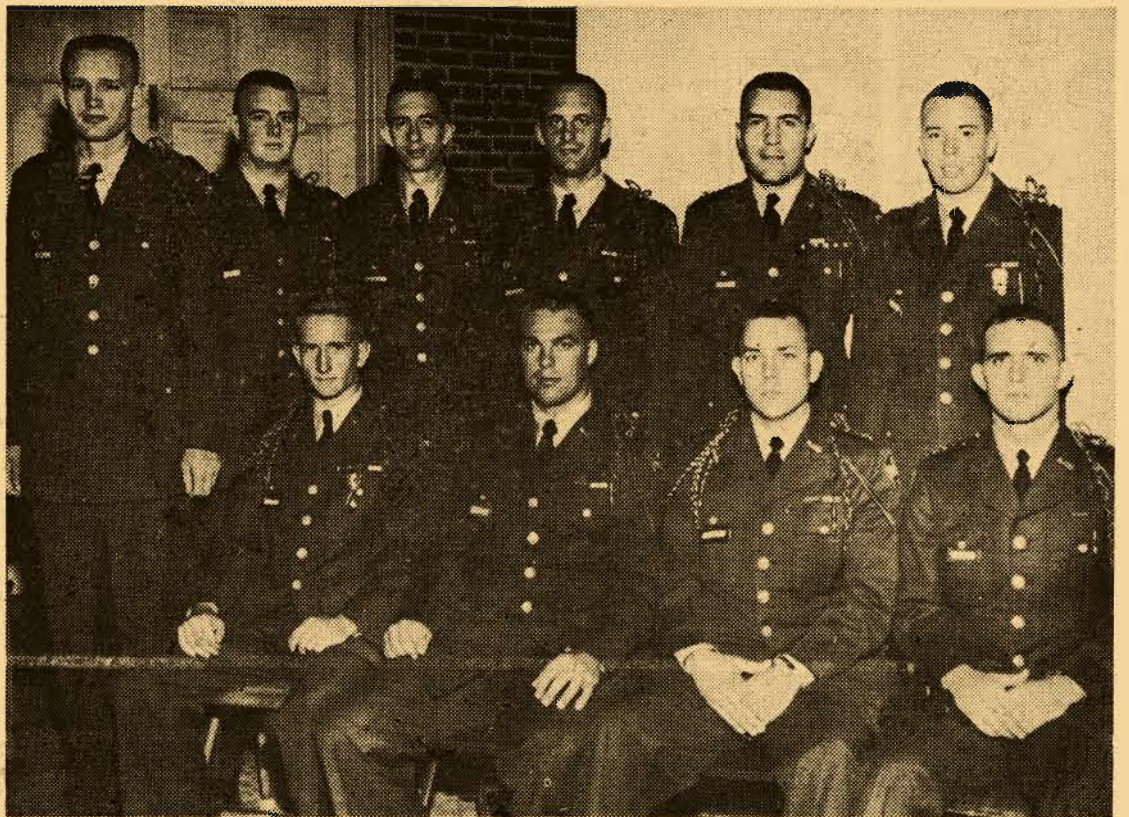

The two students whose exhibits are judged best in the Regional Science Fair will be rewarded with an all-expense-paid trip to the National Science Fair in Indianapolis, Ind., in May 1960. The trip expenses of the sponsors of the winning students will also be paid to the National Science Fair, and there will be other prizes given.

To qualify for Gorgas Scholarship awards in Alabama, and for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships and Awards, a senior in high school should get in touch with his principal or science club adviser so that entry forms may be completed.

The Science Talent Search, a science aptitude examination, is now open but must be completed in December.

Jacksonville was host to the Alabama Academy of Science and the Junior Academy of Science in 1958, and Mr. Boozer served as counselor for the Junior Academy in 1958-59.

Alabama has been divided into several regions and similar fairs will be held in all parts of the state next spring.

DMS STUDENT—Twelve seniors at Jacksonville State College were honored as Distinguished Military Students at a formation of the Corps of Cadet on Oct. 23. Dr. Houston Cole, president, presented the certificates and spoke to the cadets on the value of self-discipline and courtesy. Selection as a distinguished military student is based on the student's quality credit average, military grades, and his achievement scores made at the ROTC summer camp held for cadets between their junior and senior years. The following named cadets were cited: Cadet Colonel Edward R. Wynn, Alabama City; Cadet Lt. Col. Joseph R. Lambert, Alexander City; Cadet 1st Lt. William J. Cook, Jr., Piedmont; Cadet Capt. James D. Davidson, Cedartown, Ga.; Cadet Major Jimmy W. Green, Piedmont; Cadet Capt. Joe A. Garner, Hartselle; Cadet Capt. Theodore J. Leonard, Jacksonville; Cadet 1st Lt. Robert W. Darby, Smyrna, Ga.; Cadet Capt. James M. Cushman, Jacksonville; Cadet 1st Lt. Jimmy R. Morris, Gadsden; Cadet Capt. Gerald D. Dupree, Huntsville; Cadet 1st Lt. Charles F. Clark, Elba.

BSU Delegates At State Convention

By Wallace Johnson

The Jacksonville Baptist Student Union was well represented at the recent annual convention held at the Highland Baptist Church in Florence. Approximately 50 students from Jacksonville made up the Gamecock delegation.

Upon arrival in Florence students were assigned to homes in which they would be staying during the convention. The housing program was very well organized and was carried out in an excellent manner.

On Friday night the entire assembly met in the sanctuary of Highland Baptist Church to hear speeches made by student missionaries serving within continental United States. Missionaries from New Mexico, Alaska, California, and Arizona were represented at the convention.

Students attending the convention had the privilege of visiting some of the major points of interest in the Tri-City area: Alumnium, birthplace of Helen Keller, Muscle Shoals City, Florence State College, Diamond Chemicals, and, of course, the Tennessee Valley Region along the Tennessee River. The students who visited the points of interest realized that the Tri-City area is one of Alabama's most progressive areas.

Leonard Roten, Jacksonville BSU Director, should be complimented for the fine job he did in getting the Jacksonville delegation ready for the convention.

The following colleges were represented at the convention: Jacksonville State College, Troy State College, Livingston State College, A. P. I., University of Alabama, Howard College, Birmingham-Southern College, Judson College, Alabama College of Montevallo, and Huntington College of Montgomery. Student workers from the Birmingham Baptist Hospital in Birmingham were represented also.

Phi Mu Chi Beta Banquet Is Held

By Mary Ann Waldrep

The initiation banquet of Phi Mu Chi Beta was held Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, at the Faculty Club. The tables were arrayed in an autumn motif which combined brilliantly-colored leaves, silver and gold pine cones, nuts and berries.

After the invocation by Dr. Gordon Mainland, a member of the biology department's faculty, a luscious dinner of roast turkey, dressing, green bean casserole, sweet potato souffle, salad, apple pie, coffee and hot rolls was served.

Dr. Montgomery brought greetings from the college, using his original witticisms to stress the importance of science today.

The new members include: Paul Allison, Oneonta; William Locklear, Florence; Joyce Farley, Jasper; Nickie Williams, Fort Payne; Gay Nell Thornhill, Bobby Glasgow, Joe Medlock, Boaz; Jim Averv, Dian Avery, Five Points; Billy Anderson, Vinemont; Larry Martin, Robert Faison, Janice Battles, Anniston; Rodney Akers, Guin; Ernestine King, Rainsville; Jean Trull, Jimmy Pike, Heflin; Bonnie Hesterly, Pell City; Byron Ridgeway, Arab; Margaret Eason, Goodwater; Beñny Abney, Fruithurst; Stanley White, Talladega; Ruth Finley, Paul Carr, Carolyn West, Jacksonville; Lenton Williams, Glencoe; Jerome Savage, Bessemer.

HOME ECONOMIC MAJORS MEET THE FRESHMEN—Miss Eleanor Kelly, a member of the faculty, is shown talking with some of the guests who called for tea at the Home Management House Tuesday night.

Colts Clinch Title Over Viks

The Hamilton Colts clinched the 1959 Jax State Intramural football championship by defeating the number one contender, Percy Powell's Vikings, 6 to 0. The game was closely fought with terrific play in the line. It was a hot contest between guard Bobby Brown of the Colts and guard Jim Padgett of the Vikings. Robert "Bear" Brooks, Colt lineman, who named to the All-Star team for the consecutive time, which must be a record, was also outstanding in the Colt victory. The Colts also had All-Star Doug Davidson, Duck Hodges, and Ted Ford in the line.

The touchdown resulted from a Arlin Carter to Richard Pike pass for a 35 yard touchdown. Pike ran the last 15 yards. The extra point pass to Ford was incomplete.

In the first period, Ted Ford dropped several passes which would have put the Vikings back to their own goal. But after Ford couldn't hang on to the passes, the Vikings defense tightened up. Tommy "Sun" Clecker and Sam Kenimer intercepted several Colts aeriels, and the line play of Padgett Jim Harris, Spud "Boaz" Pate, and Charlie Myers was outstanding. This was the first loss for the Vikings. The Colts were undefeated, untied for the season.

SPORT SHORTS

By Hal Hayes

A schedule which, in Bible parlance, was enough to make a preacher cuss, will end for the 1959 Jacksonville State Gamecocks Saturday night. With that evening's final whistle the end of a sport, which seems only have started yesterday, will be history.

The opposition for this final night of '59 gridiron activity will be Northeastern Louisiana College of Hammond, La. Kickoff time has been set for 7:30.

Reports from the bayou country have told that the Wildcats will field a heavy and well-experienced eleven for this week-end's battle. Their line averages 210 and the backfield 185.

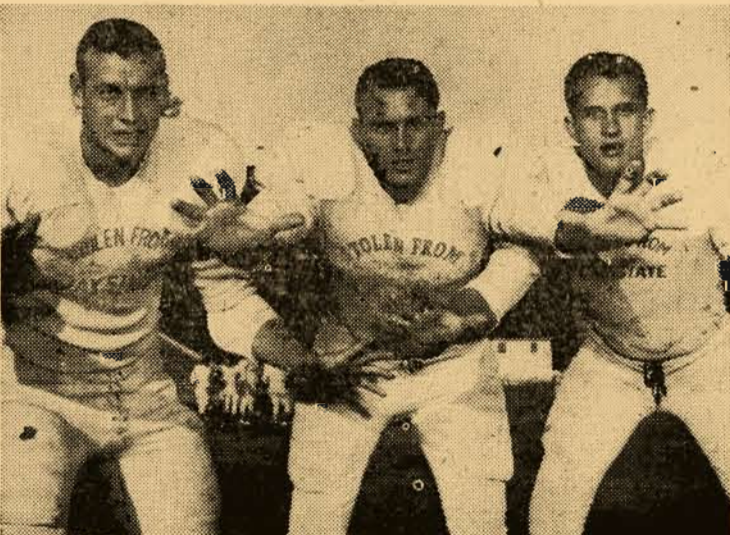

So, precedence of this season will not be broken. The Gamecocks will end their season just like they started and continued, facing a veteran eleven. The Wildcats will roll into town loaded to kill and ready for fight.

It has been a good season for the Gamecocks and here's hoping it'll continue in this flavor through Saturday night. The college squadron has compiled a very impressive 5-2-1 worksheet.

Among the victories include a 21-7 licking handed Louisiana College; 14-0 Homecoming spanking thrown to East Tennessee State; the bouncing of Troy State, 35-12; a "squeak-by" 15-14 decision over Austin Peay; and a thorough 26-0 whitewashing planted on Livingston.

Chattanooga, 0-19, and Middle Tennessee are the lone clubs who have out distanced the Gamecocks in scoring. The Blue Raiders of Murfreesboro eked out a 21-20. verdict.

Last week's 0-0 ties with Carson Newman accounts for the final 1 in the record for '59.

TAYLOR, FULMER AND BOOZER—Three of the mighty Gamecocks who have had a successful season.

Coach Roberson Announces 19-Game Basketball Slate

Head Basketball Coach Tom Roberson has announced a 19-game schedule for his 1959-60 JSC Gamecocks. The roundballers hoist their competitive flag Dec. 2 in Rome, Ga., against Berry College.

Candidates for the squad have been working out for the past four and one-half weeks, but official drills will head into its second week today. Until Coach Roberson was able to devote part of his time to the sport, student assistant Ronald "Crip" Copeland has been in charge of the practice sessions.

Only three lettermen are missing from last season's club, one of which is Copeland. Other monogram winners not with the team this season include Don Wilson, last season's MVP, and Jim Hodges.

Copeland, a defensive specialist for three seasons, has forsaken this, his final season of eligibility to serve as aide to Roberson.

Returning from the '58-59-club are: this season's Captain, Gerald Dupree, Bill Bowen, Harold Bobo, Larry Hawkins, Earl Cleland, Lefty Bollinger, James Alexander Watson, Jr., Gerald Halpin, Leo Clark (Charles) and Duckworth D. Hodges, III.

(P. S. Students, watch D. D. Hodges, III. He's quite talented on that court!)

The schedule: (The dates are enclosed in parenthesis.) December game—(2) Berry, there; (3) Shorter, here; (5) Georgia State, here; (8) Howard, here; (9) Shorter, there; (16) Florence, there; (17) Tennessee Wesleyan, here.

Colts Win Big Intramural Battle From The All-Stars

By Bob Hayes

Steel nerved Arlin Carter rushed Woody Hamilton's Colts from the brink of a 0-0 deadlock here tonight (Nov. 4) to clinch the JSC Intramural champs a 6-0 victory over the league All-Stars.

The former Fort Payne High great accomplished his feat with a perfect 3-yard spiral into the awaiting arms of teammate Doug Davidson inside the velvet zone of the mother lofe. Carter then was tagged before he could run for the point after.

Both teams threatened several times but could never find the key punch until Carter plastered Davidson. Once a recovered at the three yard line by All-Star guard Jay Lee halted the Colts.

Outstanding for the winners included: Carter, Davidson, Jimmy Austin, who caught a beautiful 65-yard toss from Carter, Richard Pike, the league's "Most Valuable" player Ted Ford, Bobby Simmons, Bobby Brown, Robert "Bear" Brooks, DeWitt Dodd, Hondo Wilkes, Hank O'Neal, Winston Massey, Duckworth Hodges and Jake "Wor Haw" Ayers.

In defeat these were the stalwarts: Sam Kenimer, Don Morton, Jack Savage, Jerry Walker, George Cash, Edward Cash, Andy Page, Jimmy Padgett, Boaz Pate, Jay Lee, Jerry Cole, Roscoe Cardin.

Coaches for the All-Stars, selected by the five managers of the league were Percy Powell and Bob Taylor.
