Jim Glasgow Will Captain 1959 Jaxmen

Jim Glasgow, 260 lb. tackle, was elected by the football squad to captain the ‘59 Gamecocks. E. G. Taylor, Gamecocks' veteran center and '58 Gamecock captain, was selected as alternate captain, as was Jax State's Little All-Americans center, Embrey. (Glasgow, '58 Gamecock alternate captain, was selected by senior men, along with E. G. Taylor, as last year's "Most Valuable Lineman.")

"I'm very happy and anxious for his arrival," he said. "My advice to him is to keep his mouth shut and work hard."

Dear Student

College graduation is almost a necessity today for young men and young women who have the means) qualifications to attain it. The ever-increasing complexity of life demands an ever-increasing educational level on the part of people.

As a student, you are given the opportunity here of training your mind and broadening your capacity to meet the demands of life which are often insuperable and baffling. You cannot afford to waste your time. There is too much at stake for you. College is no longer a place devoted primarily to the pursuit of a good time. Those who con-ceived it as such soon find themselves on academic probation or dismissed as academic failures. A situation of this kind creates a scar that cannot be removed in a lifetime.

Our educational program here is concerned with a view of offering the best education opportunities for those who enroll with us. Although provisions are made for an ample amount of social life and entertainment, the college does not serve as a center of fun or as a reforma- tion for those who do not see fit to obey its rules and regulations. We cannot afford in readiness to go to the limit with a student who is devoted to the ideal of education as the first consideration in college.

I urgently request you to keep in mind and to pursue the high values for which this college is maintained and supported. This course will pay great dividends to you in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

President

Additional Space Will Make Outlook Bright For Term

For the first time the state legislature, meeting in a Special Session for Education, has seen fit to appropriate funds for a building program at state colleges. Jacksonville's appropriations, which amount to $1,501,000, gives the college a bright future to contemplate, as the funds are to be used for newly-needed buildings and extensions. This fund of almost $2 million will be divided among the colleges which are suffering from the want of additional dormitory space, classroom, gym, hall, and library facilities.

According to Dr. Houston Cote, president of J.S.C., the architects have been working on plans for a combined dormitory and student union building since last April. The dining hall now in use has a capacity of 396 students daily, and for several years it has been accommodating 800 students daily. The new cafeteria will be equipped for 800 students and this will make it possible to serve twice that number. The cost of the new building will be approximately $170,000.

For some time the accrediting agencies have been requesting that Jacksonville officials enter the Ramona Wood Library, and the time for its extension will be done at an early date. A number of classrooms will be added to Agri Hall, the science building. This addition has become necessary due to the increasing number of students majoring in science and math courses.

The planned building program also includes the erection of another dormitory and the conversion of the present library hall into a fine arts building.

Student Is Injured In Auto Accident

When returning from a vacation to the Gulf Coast, Mrs. D. L. Prickett, the former Patricia Holset of Alexander City, was critically injured in a auto accident. She was taken to Agri Hall, the science building. Patricia is a student at Jacksonville State College. In the same accident, her husband, Oliver, and her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Dooley, were killed. The wreck occurred near Brewton.

The Collierville citizens extend their sympathy and hope for a speedy recovery for Patricia.

EDITORIAL—

WELCOME TO JSC

"If the students and faculty members survive the pressure, we will have an IDEAL, Institute of higher learning." This statement was made by a Jacksonville citizen concerned the academic revolution which this college has been undergoing for the past two years. As the Collegian welcomes you to the full semester of the 1959-60 school year, we encourage you to get off on the right foot. We can assure you that the atmosphere will be one of progress and enthusiasm. Elsewhere in this paper you may read the excellent qualifications of the new faculty members; they have been added to an already adequate staff. Dean Theron Montgomery, who has the responsibility of hiring and firing the faculty, has scheduled all physics classes to be held at night so that he could employ highly trained men for the positions. The Dean hopes that with the money we have finally received from the state, he can employ more teachers with Ph.D. degrees.

You have one of the most respected administrators in the South as president of JSC, Dr. Houston Cole. With determination and patience, you can survive the pressure. Take advantage of every opportunity offered here this year and grow with the institution. Welcome ... Fay Simpkins, editor.

School Spirit Is Prominent At Jax State

When pamphlets hold pigeons and fountains grow on lawns, then you may take as a part of the history of this season when school spirit at Jacksonville State is again prominent as it is now.

School spirit has actually returned to its former self. McMillian, rung session, and the honorable Wade Court, were pleased, most of campus was pleased, and give enough to make up the first unit guards.

Freshmen Have Frolic At JSC

by Sherry Stahr

We all got up early today. By all I mean the counselors, the S.O.A., the officers, the entire freshmen class, Dr. and Mrs. Cole, and myself. The occasion was Freshman Orientation, and oriented they were.

In Daugette there was a lot of door-knocking activity. "Get up, shutley, and myself. The occasion was Freshman Orientation, and oriented they were."

Reports were received about men and marriage. The prettiest view for the Padmas. And then last year the Mocs administered the score stand at 157, and a costly Gamecock fumble paved the way for the host club.

Here I feel it necessary to explain that, to my knowledge, all JSC/Mocs have loaded with one of their finer team in quite a few years.

The next opponents for the hometown Jacksonville State College football horde is loaded with one of their finer team in quite a few years.

A rugged group brusiter met the Jaxmex in '56, the season that UC was loaded with one of their finer team in quite a few years. And may our local gridiron heroes post a 9-1 seasonal record and meet Freeze Island in the Refrigerator Bowl. But meet wasn't all that they did.

The Jacksonville State Gamecocks, with only one player missing from the '58 roster, look to the new '59 season with the anticipation of the greatest season at Jacksonville State in many, many years. They are the University of Chattanooga Mocassins.

The opposition will be the second meeting between these two schools in a rivalry that was first launched in 1924.

The Jacksonville State club opened this ancient series in fine style with a thrilling 22-0 victory. Two years later this annual game was played on this campus, which lasted until the 59 season.

Chattanooga avenged the '24 defeat one season later when they trounced the 'Cocks 45-0. And they the Mocs administered the most humiliating defeat is the history of this sport by posting a 73-7 win.

Jackson State is ready for the 59 season with the anticipation of the greatest season at Jacksonville State in many, many years. Wayno Kebo, an attorney at fullback, has added great power to the lineup. Wayno, who has earned two letters on the Jax 25UN's, is out last season after a brilliant season in '58, F. Phillips, a 6'2, 230 lb., defender from Doxena, Ala., has become the Jack-of-all-trades in the gridiron warfare. Last season, J. E. played at tackle, and during the Spring training found him playing at center, but now that E. G. Taylor is returning look for J. E. most anywhere.

Buddy Simpkins, Senior from Talladega, is top man at guard. Roy has been spoken of as being the most consistent player on the Gamecock squad. Roy is a team with M. G. Hodges of Talladega and make up the first unit guards.

By Ed Neura, a Junior College All-Americans from Alexandria, Va., highly praised for his resilience and quickness. These two schools in a rivalry that was first launched in 1924.

Quarterback Harold Shanks, a senior from Trenton, Ga., was prone with injuries in '58 and missed most of the season, but the sidelines when he is right, is probably the best proven at this position.

The Pride of Georgia, Wild Bill Kinzy, is returning for his second season as a Jax State halfback. He plays with great desire and he goes full speed every minute he is on the field.

One of the team most versatile athletes is fullback Charles Clark. Clark, a senior from Elba, has fine speed and aggressive playing skills. Charles proved to be a tough linebacker in the '58 season.
