ROTC Check Set April 7-8

The 1960 annual formal inspection of Reserve Officer Training Corps and National Defense Cadet Corps units in Alabama and Mississippi by personnel of IV US Army Corps began on March 24, it has been announced by Major General Stanhope B. Mason, commanding general of the corps.

Team II, under the supervision of Col. Robert P. Kirk, commanding officer of the Alabama sector of IV Corps, will inspect Jacksonville State College on April 7-8. Team members include Col. Abbott B. Walton and Lt.-Col. Arthur E. Buckley, assistant PMSTs, University of Florida; J. C. Parks, Arnold M. Livingston, Major William A. Hash and Capt. Howard Johnson, all of IV Corps headquarters; Major Harry E. Galman and Capt. Sydney E. Aikin, Alabama Sector, Birmingham.

IV Corps is responsible for all Army Reserve and ROTC training in the three states and will send experienced inspectors to observe all phases of the ROTC program.

Alumni Association Presents Portrait Of President Cole

An oil portrait of President Houston Cole was presented to the college on Friday morning, March 18, at the annual alumni breakfast. The presentation was made by R. P. Steed of Boaz, retiring president of the association.

Another interesting feature of the breakfast, which was attended by between 300 and 400 alumni, faculty and friends, was the presentation of the Alumnus-of-the-Year Award to Dr. Austin R. Meadows, assistant state superintendent of education.

Clyde Westbrook, principal of Goodwater High School, was elected president of the alumni association to succeed Mr. Steed; Hubert Street, Coosa County superintendent of education, was elected 1st vice-president; and Miss Mildred Ma-rona, Gadsden teacher, as 2nd vice-president. Solon H. Glover, college business manager, will again serve as secretary-treasurer.

In his report of the "status of the college", Dr. Cole told the large group: "Heretofore in our reports we have dealt largely with quantity—enrollment, expansion of the physical plant, size of the senior class, etc. Now we are more concerned with the qualitative aspect. It would seem that the common denominator of thinking on the part of faculty and administration is that we are not as yet furnishing the type of education that the seriousness of the times demands. In the light of the tremendous problems facing education, we maintain a feeling of awe, humility and inadequacy".

More than 100 were turned away from the breakfast because of a lack of space. Officials hope to arrange for a larger room for the breakfast next year.

Many Topics Discussed At SGA Meeting

By Tressie Paschal

Much of the discussion held at the SGA meeting on March 22 will be of interest to the students.

For instance, class presidents stated they are getting discouraged about members, not even the class officers, showing up for class meetings. Unless better attendance is brought about it will be difficult to make nominations for "Mr. and Miss Friendliest" which will come up soon. The deadline for nominations was postponed until March 31, and the election will be held on April 7, it was decided.

A motion was passed that the SGA lend the Business Discussion Group $90 to underwrite the publishing of their Student Directory, provided they cannot raise the money very soon. The Student Directory was published.

One of the biggest events of the Jax State year will take place Thursday, March 31, when the nationally-known orchestra of Les Elgart will provide music for the annual Military Ball sponsored by the college ROTC department. ROTC students have put much time and effort into preparations for the event, and this year's Military Ball is generally expected to be the best yet.

The orchestra, a fifteen-piece organization of some of the country's finest musicians, and their leader, Les Elgart, have recently completed several West Coast engagements and are now in this area for a series of one-night stands at various colleges, including Jax State, the University of Alabama, and Auburn University.

The Ball will be held in the college gymnasium from 8-12 P.M. on March 31. Early events of the evening will include a receiving line from 8-8:15, a Leadout at 9:30, and the crowning of the Queen of the Ball.

Bids may be obtained by contacting any advanced ROTC student or by going to the ROTC building. Prices are $4.00 per couple in advance and 4.50 per couple at the door.

New Registration Plan Announced

A new procedure in registration is being announced by the Registrar's Office and is of vital concern to all students, other than beginning freshmen, who plan to enroll or re-enroll in September 1960. These students must file a permit to register in the Office of Admissions and Records no later than August 12, 1960. These blanks are available in the Office of Admissions and Records and should be completed and filed at the earliest possible moment.

No one will be permitted registration until a permit to register is on file.

Manners Active In South's Art Affairs

Lee R. Manners, head of the art department, attended the Southeastern College Art Association in Greensboro, N. C., recently.

He will also have a one-man exhibit at his alma mater, the University of Alabama, later in the year.

Norman Cousins To Speak

Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review of Literature, will speak at JSC on Monday evening, March 28, at 8 o'clock in the Leone Cole Auditorium.

NOTICE

To all organizations:

Bulletin boards have been placed in Bibb Graves Hall for the purpose of posting announcements of all kinds. In the future, any notice found taped to any painted surface in this building will be taken down. Please cooperate in this effort to preserve the attractiveness of the building.

Where Is Our Nerve? . . .

I am wondering if we have gotten too much education in our systems these days. We have seen too many sides of too many things, and we seem to have lost ourselves in a world of facts. Have we lost our nerve along with our dreams? What has happened to us?

How many of us are presently occupied in doing the things we most like to do? How many of us are majoring in subjects that we like? We have allowed ourselves to be swayed by that great immobilizer of dreams, that great stifler of creative thought, the old and ever present phantom of public opinion. To illustrate, let me cite one example. How many boys do you know, who as children dreamed of being policemen or firemen, are presently preparing for careers as policemen or firemen? Today they will say that these professions are short on money and long on dangers. So what? Is money the only reason for being these days, and are we really that concerned about our skins? Of course, there's always the example for the girls—how many are in nurse's training that always wanted to be nurses? It is said that nursing school is hard—is that any harder than spending your life doing something you don't want or like to do?

What really has happened to our dedication and our nerve? And for that matter, what has happened to our individuality? We have often heard the argument that the things we want to do either cost too much or pay too little. But can you really put a price tag on a dream?

We are reaching the age now when we can see why the world is as it is. We can see the necessity for earning a living, and we can see many other whys and wherefores. But is that an excuse for us? Is that a good enough reason for quitting—for being gobbled up by our own society?

I am not trying to promote two current ideas—that no money is better than some money, or that rebellion against our society is a good idea! But I am saying this, that if some of us ever want to be great to ourselves, or to be worth something in our own eyes, it is time that we understood what is happening to us. We can only save ourselves from being overwhelmed by the processes of living.

—Shutley

Not Enough Indians! . . .

In every situation in our present-day society, the most popular goal in life of the average individual seems to be the attainment of a position of leadership. Parents begin very early to urge their offspring to be leaders in whatever activity they happen to be participating in; high school students work very hard to get coveted offices or positions within the school; college students want the honor of some high position to show on their college records; and those who have already started out in life beyond school enter the races for leadership in their chosen fields, for they know that leadership and responsibility mean not only prestige and power, but also, inevitably, wealth.

All this is really very commendable. It is certainly very good to urge a child to show controlled aggressiveness and leadership, and for others to desire positions of trust and responsibility within society—but the "rub" of the whole thing comes when we finally realize that very few people who get into positions of leadership have been schooled in the principles of leadership, one of which is sometimes spoken of as "followship." One outstanding characteristic of great leaders in general is the fact of their having been at some previous time good followers. It logically follows, then, that one who has proven himself incapable of following or who has never tried to be a follower should not attempt to lead anyone in any situation—that the discipline of "followship" should precede the responsibility of leadership. The fact is, however, that if you look around you nowadays, you will see a great many Sitting-Bull-type "Chiefs" and NOT ENOUGH INDIANS! UGH!

Two Outstanding Seniors Share Collegian's Spotlight

by Diane Shutley

First to be interviewed for the Spotlight was Wayne Wilkinson, an English major and math minor from Jacksonville. Wayne graduated from Jacksonville High where she had participated in many activities, such as the Beta Club, the Senior Play, and the FBLA. She had been secretary of the Science Club, president of the FTA, and a majorette. She had also been a Girls' State Representative.

During her stay at JSC, Wayne has been co-chairman of the Writers' Club, editor of Soundings, and a member of Sigma Tau Delta, Kappa Delta Pi, and Kappa Delta Epsilon. She was also selected to represent the college in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

When asked what she liked most at JSC, Wayne replied that as she did not live on campus, being with the students in class and sharing ideas with them had been of benefit to her. If she had her college career to start over, she said she would have taken more electives outside her major and minor fields. She explained that it was important to be competent in those fields, but that we should also have a working knowledge of related fields as well.

Wayne said that she probably would be teaching English in high school for some time. I asked if she had always wanted to be a teacher, and she replied that she probably had, but that her practice teaching had really decided the issue. She has a desire to help students to find their weak and strong points, and to guide them. I asked about her odd combination of math and English, and she answered that she had always liked math and that she thought she could do well in that field. She referred to the shortage of math teachers, and said that she would prefer to teach English, but that she could enjoy teaching math if the occasion arose.

I asked about the Writers' Club to which she had belonged. She replied that she thought it was good because it had given the members an opportunity to put their ideas down on paper. She also said that much had been learned through criticism and through the discussions that the members had had regarding different questions that had come up. Of course, the infor-

Westminster Unit Elects Officers

At a recent meeting of the Westminster Fellowship, new officers were elected for the coming year. Elected were: Donna Vaughan, president; Joan Smithey, vice-president; Sandra Lester, secretary; and Jo Ann Crowe, treasurer.

The Westminster Fellowship meets each Sunday evening at 5:30 at the Presbyterian Church in Jacksonville. Transportation will be furnished at that time from the International House, Pannell Hall lounge and the lobby at Daugette Hall to the church and back for those desiring to attend the meetings, which include supper and a devotional.

malty of the club had been an advantage.

After graduation in May, Wayne will go to Auburn where she has a fellowship to teach and to work on her Master's degree.

Next to be interviewed was Charles McCain, graduate of Handley High in Roanoke. At Handley he had been business manager of the yearbook, band captain, and senior superlative. He had belonged to the Student Council, the Drama Club, and the Glee Club.

If it could be said that Charles was "active" in high school, we would have to say that he had been "super-active" at Jacksonville. At one time or another he has been treasurer of the SGA, military editor for the MIMOSA, and president of the BSU for two years. He has participated in the Masque and Wig Guild, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the Band, the Chorus, Kappa Phi Kappa, Scabbard and Blade, Ushers Club, and the International House Program. Because of his outstanding work Charles has been awarded three Certificates of Achievement. Naturally, he represented the college in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Last year he was Chairman of the Religious Emphasis program, and presently he is the Choir Director of the Wilmer Avenue Baptist Church in Aniston.

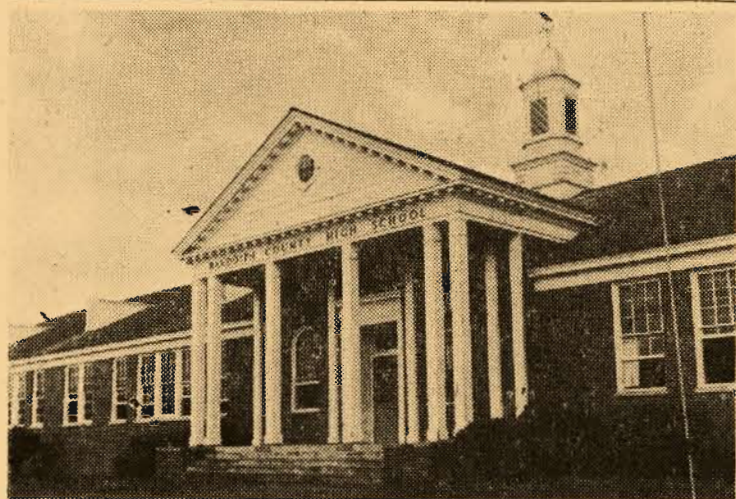

When asked the things he would change if he had his college career to repeat, Charles replied that he was giving the standard answer — he would limit his outside activities to two or three that deserved notice, and he would study more. He replied that the thing he liked most at Jacksonville was the Baptist Student Union, or rather, the idea of it which would encompass particularly the fellowship.

As he is considering the possibility of working in religious fields after his tour of duty in the Army, I asked if he had always wanted to do this kind of work. He replied by saying that his real interest probably began in his sophomore year. Charles stated that he thought a person should do what he enjoys most, and that we are pushed more or less by circumstances into the different fields that we can choose. We should look both for a job that we can enjoy and a field in which we can serve others. He thought that the field of religious music might be his particular life's work.

Charles will complete the requirements for his B.A. and B.S. degrees in May, with a major in Music Education and a minor in English. He will also receive his ROTC commission at the same time, and he expects to spend his next two or three years in the Army.

A LOVELY SPRING SIGHT is this week's "Gem of the Hills," Miss Judy Jones, Macon, Ga. A beautiful girl with a beautiful voice, Judy was the soloist with the Civic Youth Orchestra in Macon. A music major at JSC where both her parents attended, she is a member of the Women's Chorale.

RANDOLPH COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL, Wedowee, Alabama.

Randolph County High Is Featured By Collegian

By Wallace Johnson

This week the Collegian features Randolph County High School which is located at Wedowee, county seat of Randolph County. The school can boast of the many advancements it has made since Mr. Clifford S. Smith became its chief administrator.

At present the student body of Randolph County High School is in the process of organizing a student government association—a good organization that teaches governmental procedure, as well as how to get along with other people.

The school is a member of the National Beta Club, and there are also active clubs such as 4-H Club, "R" Club, FHA, FFA and Library Club. The student government association will add to the school's extra-curricular program and delegates will be sent to the Alabama Association of Student Councils which meets at Huntsville High School this year.

Although the school is presently accredited by the State Department of Education, because of the progress made during the past two years, members of the faculty feel that a higher accreditation should be sought. The self-study program conducted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is now under way, and the evaluation is expected this spring.

Mr. Smith pointed out that when any school seeks accreditation in the Southern Association that in itself is evidence of a desire to improve. The Collegian wishes to commend this fine school and the people of Wedowee for their efforts to obtain accreditation in the Southern Association.

The RAN-CO-WE-ALA is the school yearbook and its editors are Leford Williamson and Melinda Kerr. Business managers are Emily Mostellar and Juliette Morrison; feature editors, Millie Beth Lee and Linda Haynes; class editors, Helen Traylor and Jimmy Huey; sports editors, Harry Wilson

CLIFFORD S. SMITH
... Wedowee principal and Carl Dobson; advertising editors, Sara Dempsey and Gene Coe.

The enrollment this year is 315 including students in grades 6 through 12.

The 1959 RCHS football team finished the season with a record of 5 wins and 5 losses. This included a 4-2 conference record which was good enough for a tie for second place in the Cheaha Valley Athletic Conference.

The team placed one player, Barry Wilson, on the Class A All-State team and three members, Barry Wilson, Wendell Lovvorn and Walter Holloway, on the All-Conference team.

The football schedule consists of four Class A/A teams and six Class A teams, which shows they are playing schools with larger enrollments than their own.

The basketball team had a successful season with a record of 14 wins and 6 losses. The team won second place in the Cheaha Valley tournament which was played in the new RCHS gym. Walter Holloway, a member of the team, was selected as "most valuable player" in the tournament.

The Collegian would like to commend Randolph County High School for the fine work it is doing and to encourage the faculty and students to greater achievement.

Baptist Students Install Officers

New officers of the Baptist Student Union were installed on Thursday evening, March 10, at an impressive service held in the student wing of the First Baptist Church.

A candlelight ceremony was carried out with outgoing officers lighting candles of the incoming group and addressing each with a scriptural challenge. Len Roten, BSU director, Gerald Patterson, the president; and Dr. Billy Adams, the pastor-adviser, took part.

New officers include the following: Gerald Patterson, Lipscomb; Mary Maude Clark, Ramona Love, Bernard Boozer, Jacksonville; Margaret Eason, Goodwater; Ben Jones, Collinsville; Carol Borland, Birmingham; Mary Davenport, Pat Ford, Barbara Tumlin, Gadsden; Joe Gilliland, Rockford; Ronnie Perkins, Ronnie Hyche, Cordova; Pat Spraggins, Attalla; Harold Farmer, Cullman, David Moon, Sycamore; Tony Strain, Sylacauga; Movene Nelson, Newell.

Miss Mary Moss Goggans is faculty adviser.

Dr. Cantrick Given Honor

Dr. Robert Cantrick, head of the Division of Fine Arts, has received another honor in music circles. His composition, "A Pair of Tragic and Comic", will be played by the University of Alabama Symphony Orchestra at the Regional Composers Forum to be held at the University this spring. The Forum is sponsored by the Southeastern Composers League.

Each year a number of orchestral works are accepted to be read and Dr. Cantrick was among the composers so honored this year.

Guest composer at the meeting will be Ernest Toch, 1950 Pulitzer Prize Winner for his Third Symphony. Russell Gerhart, conductor of the Huntsville Symphony, will conduct Dr. Cantrick's composition.

Mary Jo Sisson To Attend Conference In Washington

Mary Jo Sisson of Ohatchee, a senior in home economics at Jacksonville State College, has received an invitation to attend the Golden Anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth in Washington, D. C., on March 31 to April 2. She was nominated by the State Advisory Committee on Children and Youth and will represent both the college and the state at the conference.

The purpose of the 1960 White House Conference is to "promote opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity". Between 6,000 and 7,000 invitations were issued throughout the U. S., and about a dozen of these will come to Alabama.

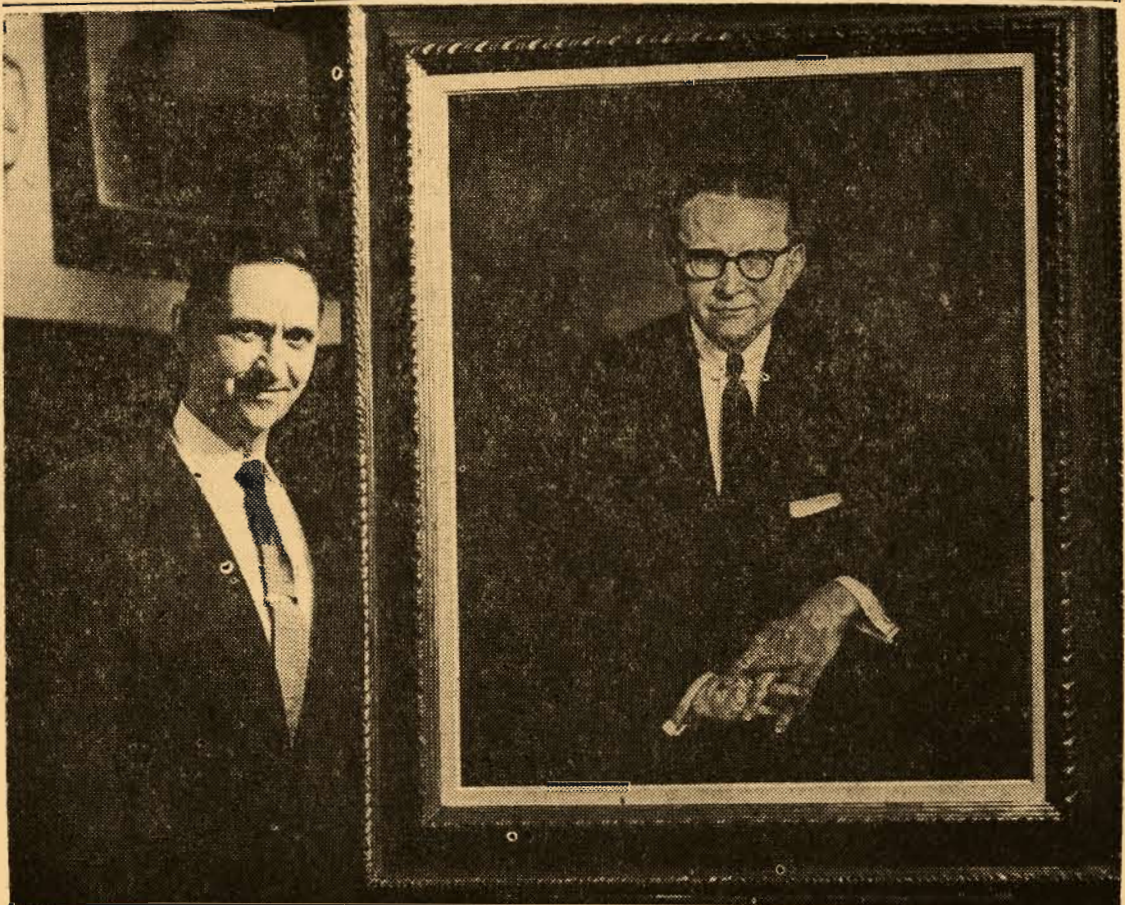

The conference slogan is "Individual Fulfillment in a Changing World". Mrs. Rollin Brown, chairman of the National Committee, said, "We are going to consider our status here in America in terms of what is happening in the world; we are going to think together; and we are taking into consideration that one of the great strengths of this country is the great diversity of our people". Understanding contemporary change as it affects the responsibility of home and community to enable children and youth to realize their full potential will provide a basis for the discussions that will be held.

Miss Sisson, former state president of the college section of the Alabama Home Economics Association, and past president of the Leone Cole Home Economics Club, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sisson, and a graduate of Ohatchee High School. She will receive her degree in May.

NOTICE

Students who plan to attend summer school must make their room reservations immediately in Room 204, Bibb Graves Hall. The fee is $1.00 for presently enrolled students, and $5.00 for entering freshmen and transfer students. All dorms will not be open this summer.

Vote For Your Old Alma Mater

Next issue of the Collegian will honor either Pell City High School or Anniston High School. The one having the most votes will be the one determined. College students and high school students may vote. Write a postcard to Wallace Johnson, Logan Hall, Jacksonville State College, Jacksonville, Ala.

No partiality will be shown by this writer to any high school, but please vote. High school students don't forget that you can vote but you had better write today.

Jax Baseball Series Will Open Today

By Hal Hayes

Coach Frank Lovrich's 1960 JSC Gamecocks throw open the gates of their 5-game baseball exhibition slate with Alma College, Alma, Michigan, this afternoon (Monday) at Fort Apache. Game time is 3 o'clock.

Alma, one of the Midwest's prime baseball powers, will offer opposition for the Gamecocks today through Friday, with each game beginning at 3. The regular season opens Saturday with Troy State visiting here.

"I'm planning to give all 18 (number of members of the varsity) a shot during this Alma series," Lovrich stated Friday afternoon, "and from their play I'll formulate my starting lineup for the Troy game. I'm planning to give everyone a chance to show what he can do."

Concerning the probable starting lineup and opening pitcher for today, Coach Lovrich commented:

"Really there's no telling who'll open up at any of the positions. I plan to substitute freely and frequently throughout the 5-game series, using as many as 5 pitchers every day."

Program Is Rearranged For Intramural Sports League

The volleyball and softball managers have been named to coach these two intramural sports for this spring. This list may not be complete, but here are the managers so far: Powell Washington, Jerry Coffield, Herb Long, Bob Taylor, Charlie Myers, Gerald Patterson and Gary Rogers.

The boys on these teams are required to play both of these sports for the same teams. They cannot change because the Intramural Program is under the Unit Rule. At press time, volleyball practice was already under way in College Gym. Competitive spirit is already filling the air.

This year the teams have a more desirable goal to reach. The Intramural Program is on the Point System.

The various sports are divided into two general classifications: Group A—touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball and track. Group B—horseshoes, table tennis, badminton, shuffleboard, and tennis.

Entrance points: For entering teams in competition, each team is awarded points as follows: Group "A", 50 points, Group "B", 25 points.

Winners, points: For winning a championship, a team is awarded points as follows: Group "A", 98 points, Group "B", 49 points.

Points awarded for each win: Round Robin: The number of points awarded for each victory depends upon the number of wins the first place team had, divided into the winners points.

Points awarded for each win: Single/Double Elimination: If group "A" or "B" sports are run in double elimination, the winner will receive 98 or 49 points. The points for each victory will be determined by dividing the number of games won by the champions into 98 or 49.

If group "A" or "B" sports are run in double elimination, the winner will receive 98 or 49 points as usual. A ratio of 2-1 is applied to wins in the winners and losers bracket.

Near the close of the sports calendar, the outstanding intramural athlete will be selected. Each organization will nominate one of its members and one opponent for the award.

All nominations will be submitted to the board and each representative will indicate by secret ballot his first, second and third choices. These votes will be weighted five, three, and one points, respectively, and the player with the highest total will be named as the recipient of the award.—P.P.

Tennis Notice

The first-round pairings for the table tennis tournament have been posted on the bulletin board. Please make every effort to play these matches before Wednesday, March 30.

Matches are to consist of the best two out of three games. They will be played at the players' convenience and results will be turned in to Mr. Stevenson.

Welcome Alma College baseballers! Sure hope you'll enjoy your visit on our campus.

Ah, what pleasant memories come to mind when thoughts of last season's Jacksonville spring baseball trip to Louisiana occur. We went Julius Caesar one better, for we went, saw, conquered—and had a licking good time!

Not only was our trip fun, but also very educational. To visit and walk the same ground Yancy Derringer once trod, see the renowned Bayou Country, listen to the legends and folk lore spun about Louisiana's controversial governor Huey Long . . . what a trip!

The scenes were really something to behold. One morning during a sightseeing tour I was looking at this fine old ruin when suddenly she winked at me.

I just hope our visitors from 'nawth' of the Mason-Dixon have even a thimble-full of the enjoyment which the 1959 JSC Gamecocks enjoyed.

What a party! What a party! There'll really be a whole lot of knocking goin' on April 15 when the football Gamecocks play their J Day intra-squad game.

This announcement concerning the date came from the office of Head Football Coach Don Salls.

With the conclusion of the annual clash, spring training 1960 will come to a grinding halt. The allotted period of 30-practice days will have expired when Coach Salls divides the teams, probably into the White and Red units.

Assistant coaches Ray Wedgeworth and Tom Roberson will, more than likely, then take the reins of the two teams while the head man assumes the role of observer-scout. This pattern will be a reprint of last season's duel which saw graduated Grover Whaley, Wedowee, and junior center Tom Maddux of Albertville tie for Most Outstanding Lineman honors. Scottsboro halfback Ray Gentles capped top backfield honors for his night's work.

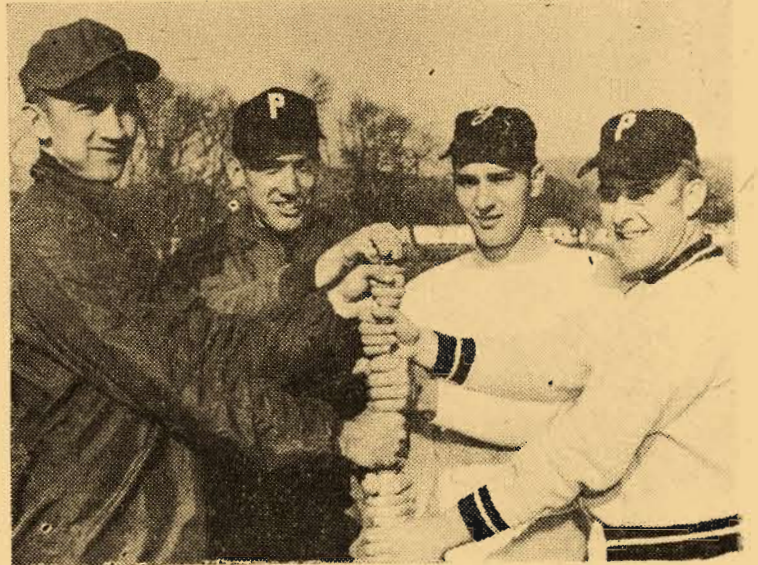

The Jax State tennisers meet Florence, here, Saturday (April 2) in their first match of the season. Starting time is —.

The following Saturday (April 9) St. Bernard plays host to the Jerry Garnett netters in the first road trip of the spring. Wednesday (April 13) always potent Chattanooga invades Gamecockland.

While talking about schedules: Coach Frank Lovrich's band of Gamecocks who compose the '60 baseball squadron encounter Troy in their first regular season battle Saturday (April 2). Game time is 2.

And then, before the COLLEGIAN goes to press again, the Gamecocks of Fort Apache will have tested Maryville, twice. A week-end, over night, trip to that Tennessee institution is calendared for Friday and Saturday, April 8-9.

AND NOW, HERE'S — Montreal (Canadian Football League) signee Jim Glasgow reports to the Alouette training camp in early July . . . July's also when '59 fullback Wayne

L. Hawkins, W. Nix Lead Volleyball All-Star Squad

Larry Hawkins and Wendell Nix of the championship Bobcats were the leading vote-getters on the recently-named Volleyball All-Stars of the JSC Intramural Sports program. This news was released Thursday by Intramural Director Coach H. L. Stevenson.

Other members of the All-Star squad included: Hawkins and Nix, Bobcats; Milford Roebuck and James Watson, Warriors; Charles Clark from the Yellow Jackets and Harold Shankles.

Second team All Stars included Charles Heaton, Warriors; Andy Page and Ralph Thrower

Keahey goes to Denver to cast his lot in the new AFL . . . Well-known sophomore W. E. (Duck) Connell is a cousin of former Jax State Little All American guard Jodie Connell . . . Advice to the wise: Don't waste your money on the current movie uptown. It's so bad the popcorn machine went on strike.

Baseball outfielder Jim Emfinger played freshman ball with the Auburn University Baby Tigers . . . Harold Shankles, for three years a Gamecock quarterback, has added another star to his crown of ability. His gospel quartet (Mike Brewer, John Jones, Ward Burt and DeLores Smith, pianist) swept top honors in the spring talent show . . . I once knew a rooster that was so lazy he waited for another rooster to crow, then nodded his head . . . Mike Livingston, player-coach of JSC tennis one year ago, is currently seeking his Masters Degree in P. E. at the University of Alabama. Mike related several weeks ago at the Capstone that he was contemplating enrolling at the University of Maryland next fall and begin work on his Doctorate. Real ambitious young man . . . Good luck!

Former Jax State basketballer Lester (Lefty) Bollinger is now a member of Uncle Sam's Air Force team . . . Newly named assist. football mgr. Glenn "Rat" Gentles is a younger brother of halfback Ray. The younger Scottsboro lad was also a halfback during his prep days . . . Just wondering: Sam Kenimer, who gave you the name Napoleon? Could of been a compliment. After all Napoleon was small but look what power he possessed . . . Went to a grand party the other night. We played Puss in the Corner. Someone hit me in the puss and I laid in the corner and bawled all night.

Olsen To Address Sigma Tau Delta

One of the most widely-anticipated programs of the year will be presented Tuesday evening by Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity. The group, including English majors, minors, and faculty, will hear the guest speaker, Miss Douglass Olsen of the English faculty, present her review of the celebrated novel, Dr. Zhivago, by Boris Pasternak of Russia. Those who have become interested in this book and its author because of the publicity both have received in recent months are eagerly looking forward to hearing Miss Olsen speak.

All English majors and minors are invited to attend this meeting.

SGA

Don McMillan was appointed chairman of a committee to provide planned, entertainment for the baseball team from Alma, Mich., that will visit the college this week. He is planning a get-acquainted party in Chat 'Em and things similar to that for the week.

It was also suggested that the ROTC admit the visiting baseball players free of charge to their ball on Thursday evening, and that they be given a cordial welcome by everyone.

Students are urged to attend class meetings and to voice opinions.
