Jax Students Will Attend "Madame Butterfly" Opera

By BARBARA OWEN
Only a few miles to travel and JSC students will reach their destination — Metropolitan Opera, "Madame Butterfly", Birmingham, May 9. So stated one of the music students who plans to attend.

Two performances of the Opera will be attended by students from over the state. For many this trip has become a tradition, some having attended all seven seasons.

Jacksonville will have at least 60 students attending the opening performance. They will leave by bus and be under the chaperonage of Dr. Robert Cantrick, director of the college music department, and Mrs. Cantrick.

In talking with Dr. Cantrick, he said, "The response to the opera has been tremendous; we could have sold twice as many tickets. This completely dispels any doubt that Jacksonville students will respond enthusiastically to any fine cultural opportunities when given the chance. I do not believe there is any lack of support for fine arts among our students."

Auburn University, University of Alabama, Livingston State College, Huntingdon College, and others will each have large groups representing their school for the two day performance.

"Madame Butterfly" is one of the most familiar and popular operas in the Metropolitan repertoire. Written by Giacomo Puccini, it has traveled the world with brilliant success. It takes place in Nagasaki, Japan at the present time, with original language: Italian.

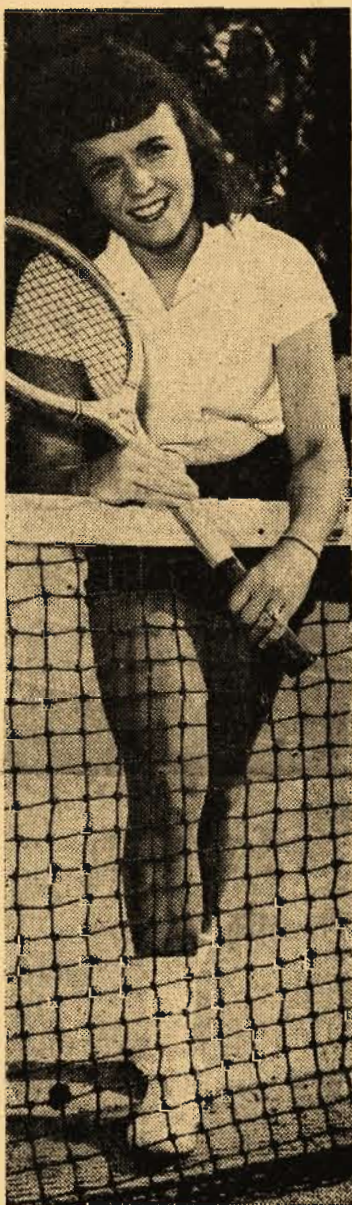

Puccini's work uses authentic color, both dramatically and musically; some of his themes are on genuine Japanese music with variety in low voice male roles.

Attendance at the opera will give students an introduction to the highest form of the lively arts.

Mrs. Robert B. Cantrick, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sparks, Dr. A. B. Hatch, Mrs. Houston Cole, Mrs. Mary L. Lowery, Mrs. Katie Lou Bryd, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. James Williams, Jr., Miss Eleanor Kelly, Mrs. R. K. Coffee, and Mrs. Barbara Owen.

CUTE GEM — Beautifully decorating the tennis court is this week's "Gem of the Hills," Miss Barbara Jones. A nineteen-year-old freshman from Collinsville, Barbara is majoring in secretarial science and minoring in mathematics.

The 1960 MIMOSAS will be distributed on May 16 only. All students who are presently enrolled at Jacksonville will be required to pick up their annuals on that day as no annuals will be given out after five o'clock Monday afternoon. Students who are not at JSC this semester will receive their annuals by mail. Every person who bought an annual will receive one, and no extra annuals will be available.

Soph-Senior Dance May 10

The annual Sophomore — Senior Dance will be held May 10, in the college gym with music furnished by Woody Herman and his orchestra. Dancing will begin at 8:00 and last until midnight. The tickets will be $4.00 advance and $4.50 at the door.

The theme of the Sophomore — Senior Dance will be "Shangri-La". The leadout will consist of the senior class officers: Frank O'Neal, Clark Gable, Marie Brooks, and Shelby Tankersley; the sophomore class officers: Wade Smith, Barbara Lowe, Sandra Lester, and Nancy Simmons and their dates.

Annuals will be distributed in the MIMOSA Office in the basement of Daugette Hall. No annuals will be given out in Bibb Graves. Each student must pick up his own annual, and commuters, transfer students, and freshmen will have to bring some form of identification with them. Faculty members will have their annuals handed to them personally.

Your receipts will not be required unless there is some dispute over payment. Each student must pick up his annual at the required hour.

The following is the schedule that will be followed:

9-12 A. M.: Residents of Daugette, and commuters. 1-5 P. M.: Residents of Freshman, Logan, Abercrombie, and Pannell.

Lee Manners Speaks On Art

Lee Manners, head of the Jacksonville State College Department of Art, addressed approximately 200 elementary teachers during the Birmingham City School Teachers Institute, held Saturday, April 30. Mr. Manners used an extensive display of children's art work gathered from schools throughout the state to illustrate his talk entitled "Current Trends in Elementary Art Education".

New Registration Plan Announced

A new procedure in registration is being announced by the Registrar's Office and is of vital concern to all students, other than beginning freshmen, who plan to enroll or re-enroll in September 1960. These students must file a permit to register in the Office of Admissions and Records no later than August 12, 1960. These blanks are available in the Office of Admissions and Records and should be completed and filed at the earliest possible moment.

No one will be permitted registration until a permit to register is on file.

The Ultimate Weapon . . .

People at colleges and universities have been saying for years that it isn't the goal of such institutions to teach young men and women what to think, but how to think. This rather worn phrase is perhaps tiring to some who haven't yet realized the seriousness of it, but surely there are a great many who have already discovered the truth of the matter and who credit education with providing them with the ability to "think straight." Many persons realize the full effects of their education only when they are confronted with the fact that they now think very differently about many things; that at least some of their old prejudices are now modified or completely eliminated; and that they now see themselves, their family, friends, and society in general in a truer light. Perhaps we do go from a sort of "idealism," to a sort of "realism" as some will say, but none, or at most very few, become so realistic that they no longer have ideals in mind — these are, surely, ever-present.

During the present time, especially, we should be thankful that education is now being taken more seriously than ever before, and that "straight thinking," the main by-product of education, is becoming more common among our people; for this is a time of decision for all of us — it is a time when we must choose the right people to lead us through a period in which "straight thinking" will be a more valuable asset and a far more powerful weapon than any bomb or any missile ever dreamed of by man; it is a time when education and its products will be in constant battle against ignorance and oppression all over the world; and it is a time when one wrong decision could conceivably cause us to lose everything that we hold dear.

As I See It . . .

May 2 — Tonight I was witness to a spectacular at Jacksonville State — the triumph of something constructive over inertia. It was really thrilling to see an organization get something off the ground, under, I am sure, extenuating circumstances. Of course, one of the reasons for this success was the support given to it by students and faculty. The Leone Cole Auditorium was not filled to capacity, and it rarely is, but the crowd was sufficient to show that there are people who are still interested in the untiring efforts of others.

The object under consideration was Two Blind Mice, a play produced by the Masque and Wig Guild. I expected to see no real acting, but I was pleasantly surprised. The overwhelming shining light was Faythe Shonesy who displayed a convincing talent indeed. Very good in their parts were the two blind mice, Doris Pickett and Mozelle Gibson. I was surprised to see another talent in the cast, that of Hal Hayes—a comic actor to be sure, but very funny and very much an actor. Of course, Clark Gable was an addition.

I was glad to see a comedy presented as this form of play is within the capabilities of college students. However, a comedy is not all fun; and I am sure some of the play could have been cut — particularly the four-letter words. Good movies are made without profanity, and I am sure that good plays could be presented in the same manner. People do not have to be shocked to be entertained. Also, the breaking of the fourth commandment is never in good taste, even in a college production.

Judging from the sense of accomplishment of others, I found Two Blind Mice quite successful, and I'm very glad I was in attendance.

Beatnik Sock Hop Held At Chat-Em

Chat-Em Inn in the basement of Daugette Hall was the gathering place for all beatniks Wednesday night, April 27. Dancing began at 8:00 and lasted until 11:00 p. m.

The mysterious hideaway was made enchanting by the dim lights, bongo drums, and Coheley's band — the Co's. Everywhere one looked he could see dark glasses and the glow of cigarettes. Along the side lines stood spectators who had come to see the "pack" gather.

Some of the interesting characters were: Pete, who collected autographs on his plywood Beatnik Board; Dark Hair, a mysterious girl dressed in a long white shirt, black leotards, and a long black wig; Rosey, dressed in solid black to accent her mysterious eyes; Split Personality, who was dressed with her clothes and make-up different on each side — one side civilized and the other side uncivilized; Janice, with her Japanese dress split up the sides

New Books

Eugene Vale—The Thirteenth Apostle. Here is a rich, dramatic novel rarely seen today. It is superbly written adventure fiction, but much more, adventure extended beyond reality into the mind and soul of a man.

Lately Thomas — The Vanishing Evangelist. The Turbulent Twenties brought to uproarious life in the first complete account of the century's weirdest cause celebre . . . The Aimee Semple McPherson Kidnapping Affair.

Franz Mehring — Karl Marx. This work is not merely a biography of Marx, but a thorough account of the development of his ideas, a critical analysis of his works, and a magnificent description of the whole troubled period in which the modern working-class movement developed.

Vasili Klyuchevsky — Peter the Great. There is no other comprehensive account available in English of the reign of Peter the Great, and of the many social changes which took place during that period. The book will be welcomed by both students of Russian history and by the general reader who wants to learn more about a vital period in the formation of the state of Russia.

Department of Army — Command Decisions. In this book twenty of the most crucial and controversial decisions of World War II are examined by a selected group of professional historians.

Cyril Bibby — T. H. Huxley. In the centenary year of the Origin of the Species, it is especially interesting to have this behind-the-scenes account of the part played by "Darwin's Bulldog" in the controversies aroused by the theory of Natural Selection. With forewords by Sir Julian Huxley and Aldous Huxley.

Cantrick's Work Used In Concert

"A Pair of Masks" for symphony orchestra by Robert Cantrick was one of six works chosen for the public concert presented Sunday afternoon, May 1, at the University of Alabama, by the Southeastern Composers' League.

Dr. Cantrick's work, along and her black leotards, dark glasses and bangle bracelets; last but certainly not least was the group of beatnik boys who brought a mattress from their dorm and placed it on the floor in true beatnik style.

Seeing the way the crowd relaxed and enjoyed themselves, it was suggested the student body should have another Beatnik Sock Hop.

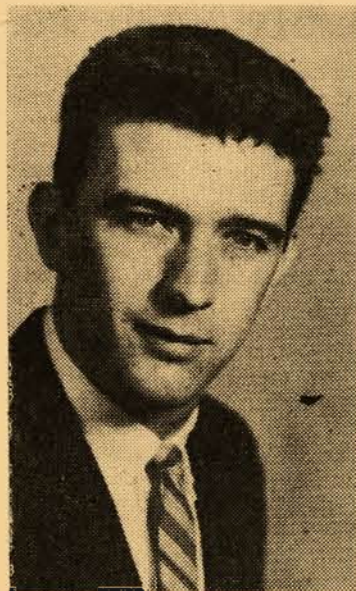

Canadian And Pisgah Native Divide Collegian's Spotlight

by Diane Shutley

You know, this job of interviewing Spotlights is an interesting one. I have a chance to meet such interesting people. In this job two challenges are involved. One challenge involves getting the most out of people without cutting too close. The other challenge comes in presenting these people to you, not as mere lists of achievements, but as the wonderful people they really are.

Some people never bother to blow their own horns, and the Spotlight this week belong in that category. These are people who keep their nose to the grindstone and make the most of this college opportunity.

If ever a man was born to be president, Bruce Thornhill is it.

BRUCE THORNHILL

A senior from Pisgah, he has been president of practically more organizations than the law allows. At Pisgah High he was president of the Beta Club, the FFA, and the Citizens Club. He was also president of both his junior and senior classes. But he participated in other activities as well. He played baseball and basketball, sang in the glee club, worked on the school paper and belonged to the FTA.

Bruce attended Snead and then came to Jacksonville, where he has been president of the Men's Glee Club and president of the science club, Phi Mu Chi Beta.

He stated that if he had his college career to repeat, he would not change anything.

NOTICE

Persons in the Jacksonville community are now looking for college students for part-time work at 50c per hour. A night clerk job at the Annistonian Motel is also available.

Come by Dean William's office for details.

with the five others, was chosen from approximately fifteen works which were read by the University Symphony Orchestra in three forum sessions Friday and Saturday, preceding the Sunday concert.

Judges were Ernest Krenek, internationally known composer; Chappell White, Dean of Fine Arts at Emory University in Atlanta; and Gurney Kennedy, Professor of Composition at Jacksonville University, Jacksonville, Florida.

Dr. Cantrick is one of the founding members of the League which was organized in 1949. His "Divertimento" for piano and orchestra was performed at the Composers' Forum in 1955.

Bruce, like so many others, likes the small college atmosphere and the friendliness of the people, but he said he would rather be on the quarter system.

Bruce will be getting his B.S. in May with a math major and biology minor. He plans to work as a computer mathematician for the government. I asked why he chose math as his major, and he replied that it seems to be a good field that he won't tire of quickly.

Next to be interviewed was Sherri Sherrard, a living example of the product of hard work and earnest effort. She comes from Campbellton, New Brunswick, Canada, which is really in the interior of Canada. After attending Campbellton High, Sherri joined the WACS for six years, where she traveled in the US and in France and Germany. You might wonder how a Canadian girl ever happened to come to Jacksonville, and I wondered, too. She said that when she finished her service she was stationed at Fort McClellan. She had seen the need for a college education, and JSC was a convenient place to come.

Sherri's record is remarkable at JSC in several respects. As she had not finished high school, she took the GED test for entrance and passed it. By sheer hard work and perseverance she has made the grades to graduate with a 2.55 average, which means she graduates with honors. Not only that, but she has received a $800 stipend from Emory University to work on her Master's in Business Administration. In speaking of college in general, Sherri commented that it is just hard work. If you want something you go after it. As a final note to this record Sherri was selected to represent the college in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Sherri had several nice things to say about the college and town of Jacksonville. She said that this is the first place in the states where she had found a hometown environment. The friendliness is high, and this is really the first home she's had since she left home in 1951. She said there was nothing she disliked about Jacksonville, but that we really do need something in the way of recreational or social activities. In the next five or ten years she expects to see JSC on top as a college.

As I said before, some people never bother to blow their own horns, and Bruce and Sherri are good examples of this type of personality.

John P. Tyson, Of Snead, Addresses Graduating Class

The large graduating class at Jacksonville State College filled the auditorium of Ayers Hall April 25 to hear a charge given by John P. Tyson, president of Snead College. It has become a custom here for some educator of experience to speak to the seniors, offering them admonition.

Mr. Tyson was introduced by Dr. Houston Cole who pointed to the fact that he holds degrees from the University of Alabama and had a successful career in teaching before becoming head of the junior college at Boaz.

Mr. Tyson told the seniors that their generation faces the greatest problems of any in the history of this country, and that their enthusiasm and knowledge of how to set things right would be welcomed. He stressed, however, that unless they were concerned and really cared, they could become part of the problem rather than the solution.

He charged them to be alert; to be concerned, and to follow their concern with action by voting intelligently, getting happiness from their work, being receptive to change, and to accept the challenge of excellence.

"We live in an era of mediocrity", Mr. Tyson declared. "We do just enough to get by. You can't replace with mediocrity that which was established with excellence. You must render service and develop the ethical, moral and spiritual side of your lives. The future lies in the character of our citizens", he concluded.

SGA Report

A regular meeting of the SGA was held on Tuesday night, May 3, and a number of items of importance were discussed.

It was announced that "J" Day will take place on May 12, beginning at 1:00 p. m. Each dorm representative was urged to get participants from his or her dorm to enter the contests. A trophy will be given to the dorm winning the most points.

Cheerleader elections will be held on "J" Day at 4 p. m. Qualification blanks may be obtained from any of the SGA officers.

The self-study questions of the SGA were read and discussed.

It was suggested that the constitution be amended so that the SGA members can impeach an officer.

The meeting was adjourned at the conclusion of all business.

By HAL HAYES

IT SEEMS TO ME — Jerry Garnett, rookie tennis coach at JSC, has done a remarkable job in lifting the tennis fortunes of our school . . . With the help of eight eager young gentlemen the Gamecocks netters have bowled over seven of eight opponents thus far in the '60 campaign and appear headed for their finest seasons since the sport's inception . . . Don McConkey, Stacy Shaw, Hank Seale, John McDougald, Jackie Cooley, James Daily, Gene Motley, and Frank Atkins are the gentlemen of whom we speak . . . er, write.

The intramural program of this year deserves a bouquet of roses . . . Coach H. L. Stevenson and his battalion of lieutenants, headed by Duck Hodges, Charlie Myers, "Hoss" Rogers and friends, have made great strides this entire year, and especially with their smooth-working softball program of this spring semester . . . The only thing we need now is some like the "Governor" around . . . A few more students with the zest, zeal and enthusiasm for intramurals like the "Governor" (Woody Hamilton) possess-

Gamecocks Get Anniston Quarterback

Coach Don Salls of Jacksonville State College recently announced that he had signed former Anniston High quarterback Tommy Ford to a 1960 Gamecock football scholarship. Young Ford is the 18-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Ford.

Ford, to graduate from A. H. S. in June, worked out with the Gamecocks throughout their spring training grid exercises which ended Friday night, April 15th. In the spring ending scrimmage he completed 3 of 6 passes and excelled on defense for his White team.

"We'll probably make a defensive specialist out of Tommy," commented Coach Salls, "he showed a lot of aggressiveness on defense throughout the spring and exhibited his eagerness at popping that ball carrier." From his left linebacking post Ford made several key and jarring tackles that Friday night despite the 26-6 licking his unit took from the Blacks.

"We're really happy to have a young man like Tommy joining us in the fall," exclaimed Coach Salls, "he's the type football players we're looking for . . . an athlete with desire, a good student and young gentleman."

Ford will enter school in the fall semester of '60 and is expected to pursue a major in physical education. —H.H.

sed and this place would be a lot better off.

The idea of a new baseball field is just the thing . . . Of course it'll be sorta sad to abandon the name 'Fort Apache' . . . So, take the name 'Fort Apache' over to the new field . . . The old 'Fort Apache' . . . Give it back to the injuns.

Won't that be something: A new baseball field . . . And with seats, too . . . For his efforts and wisdom in checking deep into the possibility of such a new baseball plant, Dr. Houston Cole should be commended . . . We appreciate it, Doctor.

Dan Martin, the Blountsville footballer who suffered a broken leg in the spring training-ending scrimmage four weeks ago, made a remarkable recovery . . . We're sure glad to see Dan back in school and know that his injury is progressing real nicely . . . Real brave boy, that Daniel . . . Says he's not through with football by a country mile.

The newly organized Alabama Athletic Conference baseball championship trophy of '61 might well rest in the halls of Bibb Graves . . . Coach Frank Lovrich only loses one man from this season's club. And just think, to strengthen JSC's pitching corps hard throwing lefthander Charles Bohannon will have licked his academic battle and will be ready to deliver again . . . A lot of power in that '60 Gamecock lineup . . . And eight-ninths of it shall return.

The lone graduate will be Gerald Dupree, one of the most capable and colorful athletes Jacksonville possibly has or ever shall produce . . . Not only will this very talented youngster be missed for his slick feilding and hitting abilities in baseball but also for his leadership and tremendous ability as a Gamecock basketball guard.

Gamecocks Play Friday, Saturday

In their lone competition of the week, Coach Frank Lovrich's baseball Gamecocks encounters Livingston State here Friday afternoon and then Journeys to Athens Saturday to meet the Bears of that school. Game time for the home struggle has been set for 3:15 p. m.

Monday (May 16) the Gamecocks play host to St. Bernard in the first of their final two games of the season. Florence State comes to Gamecockland Wednesday (May 18) to end the season for the hometown favorites.

All week day home games for the Gamecocks has a 3:15 starting time.

Gamecocks Will Complete Successful Season May 18

The killer instinct of Coach Frank Lovrich's Jacksonville State College baseball Gamecocks was flushed forward today (April 30) in Montevallo as they pumped it to Alabama College, 14-5. It was victory number seven for the JSC squadron.

A couple of times it seemed that the Scotties of Alabama College were going to need help from some higher force to get the Gamecocks out and retire the inning. And they possibly got it . . . At least Jacksonville did allow their hosts to bat.

The second and seventh frames were the favorites of the visiting baseballers as they counted 4 runs in each frame. For the day Gamecock war clubbers amassed 19 hits.

Hitting was not the only bright spot of the afternoon, though, as winning pitcher Butch O'Neal made sure. The hard throwing junior topped his fourth victory of the season with a 6-hitter to remain unbeaten in the season.

A trio of JSC hitters shared the spotlight of that speciality for the day with 3 hits each. Sam Whiteside, almost a synonym of hitting, Jim "Doggie" Austin and Jimmy Harris were the big stick men for the day.

The Alabama College duel marked the second victory of the week for the Gamecocks who knocked Livingston off 8-4 Wednesday (April 27) behind the 6-hit hurling of Albertville's John Allen. In this one Jacksonville hitters enjoyed a field day by bashing out 13 safeties.

Gerald Dupree, one of JSC's most versatile athletes, enjoyed a tremendous afternoon in a performance that shined like a sore thumb. The hustling senior swatted a solo homerun in the first inning, a single in the 7th and a double in the 8th.

"Doggie" Austin, too, counted 3 safeties among his honors for the day in 5 trips. His were all singles.

St. Bernard, tough with a capital "T", spoiled the hopes

Tennis Team Closes Season

A Herculean task confronts the Jacksonville State College tennis Gamecocks today as they face the University of Chattanooga tennis squad in that Tennessee city. Time for this match was scheduled for 2: p. m. — C. S. T.

Today's trip will be the finale of the season for the Gamecocks who end their season here Saturday at 2 against St. Bernard. Southern Union pays a visit to our campus Wednesday for a 3 o'clock meeting.

As of this writing the local record for the season is 7-1. The Gamecocks have topped Troy, 5-4, St. Bernard, 7-2, Marion, 7-0, Southern Union, 9-0, Montevallo, twice, 6-3 and 7-2, and Florence, 8-1. Only Chattanooga, 11-8, have dumped the locals.

Because of our early deadline COLLEGIAN sports are not able to announce the results, but nonetheless it is worthy to mention that the Gamecocks were to have played in the first Alabama Collegiate in St. Bernard last week-end (May 6 and 7).

In the St. Bernard — hosted tourney the Gamecocks owned an early tournament favorite label, quite an honor for the work done by Coach Jerry Garnett, in a field with Troy State, Florence, St. Bernard and possibly Athens.

Members of Coach Garnett's outstanding contribution to Jax State athletic glory are Hank Seale, Bessemer, Stacy Shaw, Chickamauga, Ga., Don McConkey, Bidgeport, John McDougald, Geneva, Oneonta's James Daily, Lanette's Gene Motley, Jackie Cooley Talladega, and Lester's Frank Atkins. —H. H.

Dr. Anatole von Spakovsky, professor of sociology, had an article published recently in "The Aryan Path" in Bombay, India. The article was entitled "Individualism, Collectivism, Solidarity".

for a winning streak since last time the COLLEGIAN came calling. The Saints silenced Gamecock hitters, with big Delaine Hulsey doing most of the work in capturing a (April 23) 5-2 decision.

It wasn't only the power of St. Bernard but also the faculty feeling of the Gamecocks which added to the woes of the visitors. Jacksonville fell apart under the 10 errors committed.

Jacksonville managed only 3 hits off the offering of left hander Hulsey including John Allen's towering home run in the 5th inning with one on. Sam Whiteside's 5th inning double and a Butch O'Neal single in the 7th ended the hitting for the Jacksonville visitors.

The third loss of the Gamecock season was charged to two-time loser John Allen who surrendered 6 hits. Allen's record is 2-2 for '60.

Hosses Holding First Place In Softball League Standings

While "Hoss" Rogers is thanking his lucky stars for permitting his "Hosses" to retain first place in the Intramural Softball League standings he should also shake the hands of Carlton Posey's Bruins. Had the Bruins not turned giant killers and despoiled of the Yellow Jackets and the Warriors, "Hoss" and his group would be struggling to reach the top instead of fighting to remain there.

The Bruins batted the Warriors down 11-3 (April 28) and then sat the Yellow Jackets in the shade with a 7-3 verdict (May 2). In the meantime the Hosses were riding over the Rebels and the Hurricanes in their march to the throne room of league champs.

Eagle-eyed George Sims, standout for the winless Hurricanes, is the league's leading hitter with an outstanding .667 average. Second is Carlton Posey, Bruins, with an even .500 mark.

Among the league leaders, Willard Townson is the big swinger with a .434 average. Catcher Wade Smith, a hustler from the word "go", is second for the leaders with a .400 reading to show for his play.

League standings —
