Band Day Saturday, November 1

Mimosa Pageant

Dec. 14 - 8 p.m.

By Jim Travis

Preparations are under way for the Dec. 14 presentation of Jax State’s goal “Miss Mimosa” to be held in the new Leake Cole Auditorium.

The curtain will rise at 8 p.m. on the production which culminates in the selection of some lucky girl to be “Miss Mimosa,” 1962.

Miss Mimosa festivities will follow the example of Atlantic City’s famous “Miss America” pageant and doubters the winner will feel almost as happy as she had become “Miss America.”

Throughout the day of the event, events will be observed and evaluated by the committee.

A banquet-type luncheon will be given in their honor to allow judges to become acquainted with each nominee.

Miss Mimosa candidates and monitors will be pictured in the Dec. 14th annual.

Finally, on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, intelligence and character, one young lady is selected to reign as “Miss Mimosa,” 1962, or age of the year will be devoted to her. All Miss Mimosa candidates and monitors will be pictured in the Dec. 14th annual.

Campus organizations are requested to nominate candidates of their choice. A $2.50 entrance fee, paid by each participating organization, must accompany all entries.

Freshman-Sophomore Dance November 11

There will be a dance in the new Leake Cole Auditorium following the football game of Jacksonville vs. Louisiana College on Nov. 11. This dance is being sponsored by the freshman and sophomore classes.

Come, dance, and enjoy the fun!

EDITORIALS — Just an Editor

(Editors' Note: The following editorial, entitled “Just an Editor,” has been appearing in college newspapers all over the country. It first appeared in “The White and Purple,” the weekly newspaper of Millsaps College, Jackson, Mississippi, and has been reprinted in “The Y View” of Bringham Young University, in “Top of the World,” the weekly newspaper of Western Michigan University, and “The Akron Buchette,” the publication of the University of Akron, Ohio. We reprint it from “The Alabamian” the school paper of Alabama College in Montevallo.)

Fred's a sycophant on top of a dean; don't first-list students can let down their guard; student body presidents can fraternize with the masses.

Only an editor is required to be providential always. Only an editor is required to know everything that happens, so it is taken for granted that he always knows it, and nobody ever tells him anything; only an editor is supposed to keep an open mind always, and at the same time snap decisions for each particular impose; only an editor is required to keep his nose out of politics, meanwhile keeping tab on the strength of each separate lineage.

Fred have their apple-polishers who ask questions after class; don't's list students get their quarterly reports; student body presidents transmit their quarterly reports; student body president bares complaints in Student Council meetings.

Only an editor has to guess. Only an editor has to grope blindly along, trying to put out a pattern with just the faintest inkling of back, who will never tell what they like or don't like, who will squawk scathingly only when they are mortally or irremediably wounded, who never thank him when he says anything nice about them or censures anything, who never complained when they lost a few inches, and, better, inexpressibly before they will so much as give him a news lead.

Profs have the satisfaction of seeing their teachings put into practice; don't's list students are an inspiration to their successors; student body presidents can point with pride at each year's end to long rows of achievement.

Only an editor never accomplishes anything.

Only an editor has to spread the spectacle of 941 of his 642 loyal readers and every week turn immediately on receipt of the news to the gossip column, ignoring everything else in the issue, to find the layouts on which he and his staff have spent hours of work and which he has planned for months, which are his only method of criticism of his school and society, coldly ignored.

Profs get to sit on the stage; don't's list students don't have to attend class; student body presidents get to introduce visitors.

Only an editor is fed enough not to want to trade places with any of them.

And when all is said and done, only an editor has the satisfaction of knowing that his thousands of words a week are written down for others to be read; of feeling something in a way which must have immediate and last effect; of knowing that, if he knew how to use it, he has the whole state for his audience; of knowing that he is doing a job, and that no one else could do it in quite the same way, and, last but not least, of being sure of a staff that, no matter how much he is forced to abuse them, overwork, deny them any reward for their work, will be done his bidding most cheerfully for literary effort.

Only an editor can gripe about it.

Student Government A Team

Every year students gripe about their SGA concerning the problems on campus. This is a senseless way of solving problems. The students are the purpose of the school and they should be considered as good as others.

I will admit at times many of us seem to forget that others are to be considered as well as ourselves. Anytime a Jacksonville State student has a problem, he is supposed to be brought to the attention of any SGA member and they together may work out a solution.

The Student Government is or should be representing the entire student body. Our SGA is not as powerful as some in other schools, but it does have a voice which it can and does use when appropriate.

I personally feel that the SGA student government could and would be a wonderful job if all students would try to work together as a team. I don't think our organization rates a golden medal, but they do rate a fair chance to improve themselves. Student back up has been the most gripping is unless you have a just cause. They are doing their best to represent you.

Wofford Dean Guest of SGA

The Student Government Association met Tuesday night, Oct. 31, with Wayne Hilliard, the president, present. After the roll was called by the secretary, Sandra Lester, the devotion was given by Leon Maloney.

Dispensing with the regular procedure, Wayne introduced Dean Frank Logan of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C., who was a member of the violin team for the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Dean Logan complimented our campus very highly and told about the Student Government Association on his campus.

A few words of the men making the arrangements, the reception, and about the memorabilia displayed on the first floor of Graves Hall can be seen by any who are interested.

SGA be divided into two teams for selling the jackets, and that the losing team give a party for the winners.

Troy Dobbins reported that letters for the bulletin board in the dining room can be purchased for three cents a letter a week.

Kern Morgan reported that the jackets which the SGA plans to sell are available. They will be white with the seal of the college in red and can be bought for $5.50. Dixie Justice made a motion that the jackets be purchased and Thomas Young seconded the motion. The motion carried. Ray Jordan made a motion to accept the committee's plan to buy $200 jackets and it carried after Ed Johnson seconded it.

GEM OF THE HILLS—In this week we find vivacious Julia Drake, a freshman, in keeping with her history major, as she views one of Jacksonville's historic markers. Also a class favorite, she is from Birmingham.

Art Show To Be Given Nov. 18

The Art Education Association of Alabama Education Association will hold a workshop at Jacksonville State College on Saturday, Nov. 18, it has been announced by Lee B. Mabin, head of the art department.

The workshop will meet one the evening of the school, the Birmingham City Schools, of which Miss Vera Wilson is supervisor. The work will be examined by the visiting art teachers and artists during the day.

The workshop will include on its program several different types of work, two dimensional (various media), three dimensional (wood carving, wire, pottery, etc.).

The art exhibit from the Birmingham City Schools will be displayed on the first floor of Graves Hall and can be seen by any who are interested.

Law Club Features Speaker

By JIM TRAVIS

For Law Club students and all others with a lively interest in law are invited to join the Law Club of Jax State College.

The purpose of the organization is to develop in students a clearer understanding of the nature, processes and influence of law as applied in everyday life. Members discuss issues involved in past and pending cases of law.

From time to time the Law Club brings to the college noted speakers, individuals in government, law and related fields, who present their observations and opinions on various phases of legal procedure.

Through these speakers, the Law Club helps law students prepare for tests and familiarizes them with the requirements they must meet in pursuing the profession.

Meetings are held every other Tuesday in Room 217 at 7 o'clock.

For Club officers include: Don Moon, president; Fred Green, vice president; Sarah Donalson, secretary; and Dr. Selman is faculty advisor.

All interested students may contact Don Moon or other Law Club members.

Science Club Views Two Films

A joint meeting of Circle K and Psychology Club, the only social science organization, was held in Room 235 in 100, Ayers Hall.

Two films entitled “Physics of the A-bomb” and “Atomic Support for the Soldier” were enjoyed by club members, new members, visitors, and faculty members.

The new faculty members were Mr. Bill and Mack Chapleau.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, Jan. 8, at 7:30 p.m. for the program announcement.

 Featuring — SANDEA LESTER **

This week the Collegian would like to feature a young lady who has been a very ambitious member of the college student body. She is Sandea Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lester of Dadeville.

This vivacious young lady recently graduated from Jacksonville State High School where she maintained an excellent record.

Sandea was a member of the Beta Club, Senior WRA, FFA, FHA, newspaper staff, Student Council, and was a member of Theta Delta Chi.

A senior majoring in physical education, she is a future memorable in history. We could not let her leave without receiving a few words of congratulations.

Sandea is a solicitor for the Student Council. Sandea was class princess, homecoming queen, and was featured in Who’s Who.
