

Self-Study To End With Visit By Educators

Dr. Fine To Speak Here

Dr. Benjamin Fine, whose syndicated articles appear in the Birmingham News and about 100 other newspapers from coast-to-coast, will speak at Jacksonville State College on Oct. 24, on "Changes Initiated in Education Since Sputnik".

Dr. Fine is the first and only American to be invited by the Republic of West Germany to evaluate its school system. He is also doing a series of articles for the North American Newspaper Alliance, of which he is education editor and syndicated columnist.

In 1944, he received the (Continued on Page 8)

for she is truly an ideal example of an outstanding coed. Evidence of this is the fact she was freshman class favorite, junior class social chairman, senior class treasurer, (summer semester), junior class beauty, "Miss Friendly, 1960-61", ROTC sponsor, (Honorary Lt. Colonel), and a candidate for Military Ball Queen, in her junior year.

This year she has been crowned "Miss Homecoming"; she is a candidate for "Miss Mimosa"; and senior class alternate beauty.

This versatile young lady is the daughter of Mrs. Bethal Keahey of Talladega. While at Talladega High School, Pat was extremely active in extra-curricular groups, and was rated as one of the top students. She was cheerleader for three years, homeroom officer for four years, senior class officer, secretary of the Sports Club, member of FHA and Tri Hi-Y, and was graduated in 1958 with honors.

With a history major and physical education minor, she plans to graduate with a BS in Secondary Education. Through this graduation, Jacksonville State will lose, indeed, one of the most congenial, popular, and projecting personalities on campus.

Notice

The school nurse will be in the infirmary, located in the basement of Doughty Hall, from 9:30-10:30 and 2:30-3:30 every day Monday through Friday. She may be reached by calling HE 5-9281.

Who's Who List Given

Without any doubt, the honor of being selected as one of the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities is an achievement which will follow one all through life. Just as the Bronze Medal is presented to a soldier for outstanding service beyond the call of duty, this award is given to college students who strive for scholastic achievement and at the same time participate in student activities.

Talent Show Slated Here

One of the biggest-extra curricular activities* of the year for Jacksonville students, the annual semester talent show, awaits everyone Wednesday night (Oct. 25) in the new Leone Cole College Center Auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock.

According to reports from the SGA, approximately 15 acts have been booked for the show. The performances usually run one and a half to two hours.

There will be an intermission following the ninth act, and at this time door prizes will be awarded the person with the winning ticket stub number.

Counted among the stars lined up for this semester's star-packed night will be several new freshman acts and many of the old standard bearers of JSC talent-show fame. Included among the new 'rookies' are Mary Frances Wagnon, Gadsden; California's Phil Dayton; Ronnie Wilson of Anniston; and several others.

Old favorites who will be on hand for the curtain-raising will be Linda Lou Andrews, Sparky Parrish, Sandra Smith, Sandra (Continued on Page 8)

DR. WALTER D. SMITH
... Dean, Winthrop College

DR. W. E. LOWRY
... Dean, Sam Houston

A team of five outstanding educators will arrive on Sunday, Oct. 29, for visitation of the institution following a two year self-study under the supervision of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. They will spend the greater part of the week familiarizing themselves with the workings of the college, the faculty and students.

Members of the team will be Dr. Rufus C. Harris, former president of Tulane University, now president of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., who will serve as chairman; Dr. Walter D. Smith, dean of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C.; Dr. W. E. Lowry, dean of Sam Houston State College, Huntsville, Texas; Dr. R. W. Steen, president of Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches, Texas; and Dean Samuel Frank Logan, Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C. (Photographs of Dr. Steen and Dean Logan were not available).

The faculty has been engaged in the self-study for two years and the evaluation will mark the end of the preparatory period. During this time assets and liabilities have been brought to the forefront, first by department heads and later by division chairmen. From these findings have come the reports which will be studied by the visiting team and upon which their report and recommendations will be based.

Guide lines for future progress of the college will also be established by the study; and aims, objectives and philosophy have emerged as a result of the close scrutiny given every phase of the academic program and campus life.

The objectives are listed as follows:

1. To cultivate facts as a basis for thought.
2. To cultivate the will to work and the ability to relax.
3. To add to the range of knowledge within the framework of personal integrity.
4. To view life as an avenue leading to a world of beauty, both near and far.
5. To instill the principle that happiness is a product of achievement.
6. To develop civic intelligence and a desire to perform the duties of citizenship in keeping with local, national, and world demands.

The statement of philosophy adopted was:

This institution aims at excellence by promoting in its students a balance between facts and thought, between work and play, and between knowledge and character. It would equate life with beauty, achievement with happiness, and civic action with freedom's demands.

Embodied in the final report will be the statement of be- (Continued on Page 6)

COLLEGIAN EDITORIALS—

Editor's View

The COLLEGIAN POLICY has been stated a number of times, but some members of our student body seem to forget.

The material to be used is due in the editor's office by 2:30 Tuesday afternoon preceeding the Friday of publication. The only exception to this rule is when the event occurs later in the week.

We will not accept any material from any organization, individual, of the student government unless they let the staff know in advance the material will be late due to timing of the event.

It requires a great amount of time and work to plan the paper and we are not going to make exceptions. Our time is as valuable to us as yours is to you.

We appreciate your cooperation and are willing to work with you, but let it be emphasized once again we expect you to be co-operative too.

Eight-Page Edition

Today a milestone is reached with the appearance of the COLLEGIAN. For the first time since the inception of this "The Voice of the Students", we have an eight-page paper to greet our readers.

A satchelful of hours went into the production of these eight pages, exactly twice the number required to fill a four-page edition with news of, by and for the students. The staff of the COLLEGIAN really bent their respective backs to come up with today's issue.

However, the staff is not looking for roses. We merely wish to convey the idea to the students that the COLLEGIAN is for them, for their purposes, and to relay to them the assurance that we shall try to bring them news that they want to read and to know something about.

We'd like to urge prospective writing talent to no longer 'hide in the weeds', but come forward and join the staff in helping the COLLEGIAN grow and function more capably. There are plenty of new journalistically-inclined students who could help the news gathering and writing personnel of this paper which would help to make it as good as we feel it should be.

Only you, the reader, can help the COLLEGIAN become 'top notch'. You can do this through two means: (1) Urge anyone you know with writing talents to join the paper staff; and, (2) Offer suggestions, constructive or destructive, to any staff member, editor or associate editor.

Through the full cooperation of the students, today's eight-pager might not be a once-in-a-lifetime project. If we have the news to fill the paper, an eight-pager might become standard.

It depends upon you. —HH.

Appreciation To Governor

Fence-straddling individuals, die-hard opponents and loyal followers have got to hand it to the man, Governor John Patterson has certainly been a friend of Jacksonville State. Look around and you'll see.

Under the former attorney general's administration, many thousands of dollars have been appropriated to this institution for building purposes. Although many "experts" have taken him to the woodshed over the proration of moneys to the various school systems of our state, the governor, whose father graduated here, has been loyal to "his old school".

Though a graduate of the University of Alabama, Governor Patterson practically grew up right here. And his number of visits here are comparable only to the pretty Mimosa trees that once decorated our lovely campus.

Logan Hall; Patterson Hall (named for the Governor's late father); the beautiful new dining hall; a new dormitory, contract for which was let only recently; the addition to Ayers Science Hall; the soon-to-be fine arts building; the conversion of Hammond Hall into a student union building; and the forthcoming additions to Ramona Wood Library are all measures taken while he has sat in the No. 1 chair in Montgomery.

The COLLEGIAN wishes to thank Governor Patterson for his job well done. From each student, faculty member, graduate and friend of Jacksonville State, "Thank you, Governor Patterson very much!" —HAYES.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This letter is written in hope of reaching the freshman class.

We, as freshmen have chosen to attend the best college in Alabama. It has a high scholastic rating, the friendliest students and a beautiful campus. In time it will become to some of us a second home. Have you stopped to think what makes Jax State the college it is? It is we, the students. We are the reason for the very existence of this college; therefore if Jax State is to continue to be the best it is our duty to give our best.

At the recent freshman class meeting more than 800 freshmen were absent. These people failed to participate in the election of a candidate for "Miss Homecoming", a candidate for the "Miss Mimosa" contest and the class beauties. They also failed to contribute to finance the float to represent the class in the homecoming parade. From a class of 1126, $9.60 was collected. Can we be proud of this show of spirit and concern for our class? Let it not be said that the largest freshman class in the history of Jacksonville failed in the outset.

Let each of us do his part in giving money and time to support our class. We know that we are the greatest freshman class ever. Let us prove it to the administration, upperclassmen and the future freshman classes.

Sincerely,
Sandra Bonilla

'Thank You'

Dear Students,

Jacksonville State's 1961 homecoming was one of the greatest success stories ever written. And the 'authors' were you, the students of our very fine institute of higher learning.

Homecoming responsibilities were met with a lot of zest, vigor and vitality on the part of every student who had a hand in the proceedings. Working together as a team, we made our homecoming one comparable to any said event in any college in the South.

The parade through Jacksonville was one of the best ever witnessed here. Too, it was one of the best executed. Thanks be given here to the ROTC staff of our school, city and county law enforcement officials.

Student committees, headed by members of our school's faculty, really worked and did their jobs magnificently. Jacksonville State's student population is to be highly commended.

Again, on behalf of the Student Government Association 1961-62, permit us to thank you for your undying cooperation and helpfulness.

Sincerely,

Vocational Testing Service Now Available To Students

The office of the dean of students, has announced broadened vocational testing services, free to all newly-enrolled freshmen and to any other interested upperclassmen.

Dean Willman describes these tests as instruments to help the college student decide upon a reasonable and satisfactory choice of a vocation.

Do You?

By Prof. LEON McCLUER

Once when I wanted to find a man in a city where I knew the postmaster, I went to the post office and asked a clerk if I might speak to the postmaster. When he came to the window, I said, "Fred, I want you to take two minutes of your annual vacation and come out on the walk." On the walk, I asked, "Can you tell me where I can find Hugh Frank?"

"Yes," Fred replied, "he and another old codger are living together, in the last house on the left on north Main Street, and he isn't worth a damn."

When I inquired as to the reason for this low evaluation, Fred replied, "He married one of those S. girls from over around S. Mound and never has amounted to anything."

The reputation of a shiftless man and his ne'er-do-well descendants had created an unfavorable reputation for a community which had given its name as a byword for trash throughout the surrounding regions.

Every area, every group, every institution develops a reputation which expresses or connotes its quality as far as the gentlest breeze or the most violent storm carries its name. Notwithstanding what the catalog or the administration may say, the connotations of a reputation become a part of the intuitive evaluation reached by all who consider the institution.

The value of a college degree depends upon the connotations of the college name and reputation as evaluated by employers and colleagues. When you graduate the value of your degree will depend upon the institution's reputation for scholarship, for quality of public performance, for wholesomeness of college living, for strength and integrity and standards of faculty and students. The conduct, conversation, industry, honesty, accomplishment of every person associated with the college whether on the campus or off becomes a factor in the value of your degree, just as you enhance or destroy the degrees of others.

College personnel have two obligations which too often are overlooked or never truly realized. The first concerns mutual helpfulness and loyalty, and courtesy and helpfulness toward persons who appear to be strangers and who might be aided by a friendly word or bit of direction. The second involves conduct and attitude when off the campus, especially when representing, or accompanying representatives of, the college.

The reputation of Jacksonville State College, the value of its degrees, rests ultimately upon the individual—upon you. Are you an asset or a liability to Jacksonville State College, to your classmates, to yourself?

The tests are of two types: an interest test to determine what the student wants to do as a chosen vocation and ability tests to determine what the student is able to do. When the student has completed the tests, to be given on Saturday mornings, he will discuss with Dean Willman their interpretation and the student will arrive at his or her own decision about what seems to be the best career choice in view of the test information and other factors about himself.

Two different Saturday mornings will be required for a student to take the battery of ability tests and the interest test. The first one-half of the tests will be given to those freshmen students whose last names begin with letters A through B, on Saturday morning, Oct. 21, beginning at 8 a.m., and continuing until noon in Room 100 of Ayers Hall. The second half of the tests will be given on Saturday morning, Oct. 28, during the same hours 8 a.m. to noon, again in Room 100 of Ayers Hall. Students will be scheduled for individual conferences concerning the test results and their implications when they have completed the tests.

Students whose last names begin with other than A through B will have their opportunity to take these tests at a later date to be announced at freshman orientation meetings and in the Collegian.

It is felt that this free testing and counseling, worth approximately $40.00 per student at a private vocational testing center, will enable the college student benefitting from it to take maximum advantage of his college training, giving him a strong sense of direction and purpose and a strong confidence that the career which he has chosen is both attainable and interesting.

Facilities are available to test one hundred persons at a time, so slightly less than one hundred freshmen will be invited for the first two testings and interested upperclassmen may stop by Room 204, Bibb Graves Hall, and reserve a place for themselves to take advantage of this opportunity.

Hayes Is Now Assoc. Editor

Today, three years, 85,000 words, 50 columns and 500 quips later, Hal Hayes, Albertville senior, is stepping down as sports editor of the COLLEGIAN, "The Basket", as he is known, has been promoted to the rank of associate editor of the college paper.

In making the announcement Editor Troy Dobbins stated that the approval of Hayes to occupy the new position was made jointly last week by Dr. Theron Montgomery, dean of the college, and Mrs. R. K. Coffee. Mrs. Coffee is director of the News Bureau of Jacksonville State and adviser of the paper.

Ken Monk, assistant sports editor from Fairfield, will be elevated to the role held by Hayes for so long. The new sports editor pens his first column today.

Hayes also says goodbye to sports in his final "Under the Hayes Stack" today on the sports page. That's on page 7.

Tired, Happy Student Leader Thanks Fellow Workers

Sandpaper-voiced Wallace Johnson slumped into an easy chair in Patterson Hall's teevee room, lit a cigarette, one of those you can light at either end, and began to talk. It was 'shop talk' . . . his business . . . leading the JSC cheering.

A broad smile, a W. J. trademark, accomplished each remark. The young man from Jasper was bubbling over with complimentary superlatives for the high spirit exhibited the past night, a while ago or whatever time it was at the moment. The head cheerleader of the Gamecocks, though near exhaustion, was a pleased fellow.

His was an easy smile. Coach Don Salls' football Gamecocks had just pocketed another good account of themselves. Homecoming was successful from all aspects and the highly spirited fans made a lot of noise in praise of those who fought on Paul Snow Memorial Stadium's sodded turf.

"You know," growled a mighty hoarse young junior in the college, 'tonight's Jacksonville's cheering section was the liveliest and best group we've ever had since I first became a cheerleader. Buddy, tonight," then he stopped as if to check out whether it was still Saturday night or early Sunday morning, "was great."

Graves Chimes echoed the an-homecoming as far as school Sunday morning all over Gamecockland. The preceding night had been filled with so much merriment, pleasure and excitement, one had just about lost all track of time.

"This has been a terrific homecoming as far as school spirit is concerned," complimented Wally, "and I just wish everyone knew how much the cheerleaders really appreciate their cooperation and help they gave us." Little did 'Good Old Wally' realize he was talking to a journalistic robot who was down dictation as fast as one chubby, tired hand could move.

"Honestly, I'm so excited and pleased with our cheering for the night, I just don't think I could sleep even if I went to bed. I'll tell you," beamed Wally, "let's stay up and see the Sunday morning 'Three Stooges and Popeye Show'."

Ordinary excitement and pleasure couldn't hog-tie the head cheerleaders, 20-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnson Sr., and keep him away from his sleep. It's doubtful Sherry Styles, Ears Cummings, Jackie Bollen, Winston Massey, Jimmy Deerman, Marie Andrews, and or Patty Faucett, could keep Wally out of bed on any other, ordinary night past 1 o'clock.

But, this was a special occasion. And Wallace Johnson, like many of his other schoolmates who had long ago bade good night to Saturday, October 14, was a happy fellow!

—ROBERT H. HAYES.

A Gamecock Gets Culture

By GERALD WALDROP

I have heard it said that whenever one misses church, he misses a spiritual blessing. Last Tuesday night, Oct. 17, the new Leone Cole Auditorium was the scene of the best cultural experience this writer has ever had. It was shared by other students, the faculty, and a number of citizens from Jacksonville, and surrounding areas.

Sara Henderson Hay, a nationally-known poet and critic, and a former resident of Anniston, was presented by joint sponsorship of the fine arts and language divisions of Jacksonville State College.

Miss Hay began to write poetry as a very young girl. At the age of ten, her first poem was published in the Anniston Star. In 1933, she submitted a collection of poems in a contest and won the Kaleidograph Award. The Kaleidograph Press published her poems in a book called the Field of Honor.

Soon afterwards, Miss Hay began to review poetry and fiction for Saturday Review of Literature. Her second book of poems, This Is My Letter, was published in 1939.

Miss Hay's poems have been published in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, The Saturday Review of Literature, Harper's and Good Housekeeping.

In private life Miss Hay is the wife of Nikolai Lopatnikoff who is a well known Russian-American composer. Her husband is the head of the Musical Composition Department of the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Being a native of the "Promised Land" section of a nearby metropolis where the higher cultural things of life are virtually unheard of, I was reluctant to go. I, like most of my classmates in high school, disliked poetry. Anyway I decided to go. The main reason was, to tell the truth, to make an "A" in literature. I pictured an old woman of about 90 with a feeble voice and a feeble mind reading the poetry. A dull evening came to my mind, but to my surprise the evening turned out to be an unforgettable one.

Miss Hay, instead of being old and feeble, was a very attractive, intelligent, and charming person. She held an overflow audience of about 200, including me, captivated from beginning to end.

Her poems were humorous, such as The Syndicated Column, and touching, such as Wars and Rumors of Wars. As she read, she took time to explain her poetry so that people like me could get a deeper understanding of the higher cultural things of life.

Miss Hay has motivated me to look into poetry—and to get its deeper meanings and thoughts. I would like to see more people like Miss Hay come to Jacksonville and convey to me and others . . . the blessings of the fine arts.

Congratulations

To Coach Salls and his Gamecocks eleven who came out on top of a mighty battle with Troy State, October 6. The COLLEGIAN and the entire student body tip their hat to the Jaxmen and hope that this is only a taste of more victories to come.

Campus Regulations Listed

By DEAN WILLMAN

Upperclassmen will want to know and cooperate with the following campus regulations recently released in the J Book and now publicized in the Collegian:

Conduct In The New Dining Hall And Student Union Building

There will be no loud or boisterous activity in the new dining hall or Student Union building. Pep rally-type activity must take place outside the new dining hall or Student Union. There will be no smoking in the new dining hall.

Petting or Necking

Public display of affection is prohibited on the campus at any time. Holding hands is not considered bad taste. But boy's arm's around a girl's shoulders or waist, etc. is.

Student Health Service

There is a full-time, registered nurse during the college term to provide health services for students. Any resident student needing medical attention should notify the housemother who can take the appropriate action. Commuting students should report directly to the college nurse for First Aid. Her office hours will be announced. The nurse's office and infirmary is located in the basement of Doughty Hall on the end nearest the College Center.

Mail

Mail boxes are located in all the dormitories on campus. Mail delivery is made twice daily, Monday through Friday, and on Saturday mornings. Kindly have your correspondents give your full address on the envelope not just Jacksonville State College.

General Regulations

Pertaining To Conduct

The discipline of the college is administered by a standing Honor Council, and the College reserves the right to suspend or expel any student without formal charges, if, in the opinion of the Council such action is advisable. Conduct which violates custom or Christian principles shall be brought to the attention of the Council for the necessary action.

Students are expected to conform to the laws of the United States, the State of Alabama, the City of Jacksonville, and to the college regulations. Any student who is charged with a violation of a city, state, or federal law or who is indicted for any such offense shall be subject to disciplinary action pending the outcome of the trial.

Any student who makes a false statement to any official of the college is subject to immediate expulsion.

Alcoholic beverages shall not be brought on the campus at any time, and students shall not return to the campus showing evidence of drinking. This rule applies to all functions sponsored by any organization of the College, whether held on or off campus.

Smoking is not permitted in classrooms, library, or dining hall at any time. Women are restricted from smoking outside buildings and in the halls of the academic buildings. Smoking for women is permitted in the "Grab", dormitory rooms, and the dormitory lounges.

Possession of firearms, firecrackers, or any other such devices that may endanger the health or well-being of students is prohibited.

Gambling is prohibited in any form on the campus or at any function under college jurisdiction.

Campus Dress

For everyday activities most campus dress is casual and comfortable — always in good taste. Men

Men may wear bermudas on the campus at any time. Men may wear bermudas in the library and the academic buildings only if they are wearing knee or heat socks and a knit or sport shirt. Polo shirts or T-shirts are considered inappropriate dress.

Women

Women may wear bermudas in the dining hall, in the dormitory, lounges, and for outdoor activities. Women may not wear bermudas, pedal pushers, or blue jeans in the academic buildings, including the library, at any time.

Student Performances

The Dean of Students requires that he be notified of the time and place of a complete rehearsal of any talent-type show.

Clearance from the Dean of Students will be necessary before a talent show can be presented. All persons in the show will either present their acts at the rehearsal and give their acts exactly the way they will give them the night of the show, or submit to the Dean of Students a complete script of their parts in the show exactly as they will be given in the actual performance.

The Dean of Students and such other faculty members and students representatives as he may select, reserve the right to delete or suggest changes in any part of such talent-type shows.

Students Activities Of All Kinds

All student activities must be cleared by the Dean of Students. The places and time of meeting must be cleared so as not to conflict with other activities previously scheduled.

Failure to comply with this request may result in the cancellation of an improperly scheduled event.

Campus Traffic Regulations

The following traffic regulations at the College will be rigidly enforced by the campus and City of Jacksonville police departments:

1. Parking is prohibited in zones which are marked with a yellow curb.
2. Double parking and parking in the middle of the streets are prohibited.
3. Parking spaces in front of Graves Hall, in front of and behind Ayers Hall, behind the Music Hall, and around the circle in front of the gym are primarily for the use of commuters and faculty.
4. Cars must be parked carefully within the spaces with no overlapping.
5. Students living in the dormitories will park their cars in the designated parking area assigned to the dormitory in which they are residing, and will walk to class rather than drive their cars to classroom buildings. Parking on grassed or shaded areas not in the parking areas is absolutely prohibited. Cars will not be driven on the grass or sidewalks adjacent to the dormitories at any time.
6. All directional signs must be observed.
7. The speed limit is 20 miles per hour on and in the vicinity of the campus.
8. The washing of cars on the campus is strictly prohibited.
9. Cars driven by students failing to comply with the above stated rules will be hauled off campus and a fee will be charged by the hauling service.

ORGANIZATIONAL NOTES

Phi Mu Chi Beta

Phi Mu Chi Beta, the local science organization for science majors and minors, was organized in 1952 and has been active since that time. Members are selected on the basis of character, personality, and scholarship.

Several interesting programs and special social events have been planned for the coming year. Specialists in various fields of science will present programs or lectures relative to the members' interests.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Phi Mu Chi Beta was held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 27, in 100 Ayers Hall.

The meeting was called to order by Robert Haley, president. The roll was called and minutes of the last meeting were read by Glenda Simpson, secretary.

Dr. Gordon Mainland, guest speaker, introduced by Gennette Ferrell, gave a very interesting and informative talk on the trip he made to Colorado State University this summer. The major part of his talk consisted of a discussion on the relationship between the DNA-RNA molecules and genetic characters.

Some interesting events of the business session included the appointment of Walter Studdard as assistant to second vice-president; Steve Olaveson, chairman of projects and membership, and the selection of Gennette Ferrell as the club's homecoming queen candidate.

Those students who received questionnaires from Phi Mu Chi Beta can still return them. They should be turned in as soon as possible.

Masque & Wig

The Masque and Wig Guild of Jacksonville State College would like to extend an invitation to all students interested in drama to join the organization.

The meetings will be held every other week. The next meeting will be Thursday night, Oct. 26, 7 p.m., room 117 Bibb Graves.

Masque and Wig will produce several one act plays this semester. Next semester, M & W will have two major productions one of which will be Look Homeward Angel.

M & W looks forward to seeing you Thursday night at the meeting.

Delta Omicron

By JUDY JONES

Delta Omega, Jacksonville State's chapter of Delta Omicron International Music Fraternity, will present its first musicale tonight.

The topic is the study of the comic opera, starting with Pergolesi and continuing through the music of Gilbert and Sullivan. Participating on the program will be Judith Jones, Sherry Pickrell, Virginia Ellis and Sandra Parrish, accompanist. Judith will sing "Se Tu Ma Me" by Pergolesi and "Voi Che Sapete" by Mozart.

Guests at the program will include the patrons; Dr. Robert Cantrick, Mr. Dan Sparks, Mr. Malcolm Griffin, Mr. Harold Thompson, and three new pledges; Nancy Mackey, Karen Adams, and Patsy Bryant.

Refreshments will be served.

Phi Mu Alpha

By JUDY JONES

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity, gave an alumni tea at the faculty clubhouse, Saturday, Oct. 14.

Guests included Mr. David Walters, band director of Jacksonville State, Mr. Van Hamilton, and Mr. DeWitt Self.

Refreshments were served by Judy Jones, sweetheart of the fraternity.

WAA Notes

The Women's Athletic Association of Jacksonville State College held its first meeting Wednesday, Oct. 11.

The president, Helen Taylor, called the meeting to order. Officers for the new year were introduced as follows:

Helen Taylor, president; Becky McClendon, first vice-president; Mary Thompson Haynes, vice-president; Peggy Haynes, secretary; Joan Strickland, treasurer; Nancy Chitwood, reporter; and Sandra Lester, intramural chairman.

Helen introduced Mrs. Gene Hanson, a new faculty member. We were happy to hear that she would be assisting Mrs. Calvert in working with us.

The WAA will have its regular meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. They will be held at 10 a.m., in the lounge of the P. E. building. Membership dues are $1.00 per year.

All P. E. majors and minors who are interested in becoming members are requested to come to our next meeting which will be held at 10 a.m., Oct. 25.

'J' Club

Sanctioned by the administration of JSC, the athletic J Club issues the following request: High school sweaters, jackets, etc., bearing athletic letters won while in high school will not be worn on the campus of Jacksonville State. The sweaters and jackets may be worn, but without the letters.

Also, the J Club, opened exclusively to members who have gained membership through competition in intercollegiate sports here, asks that students refrain from wearing slip-over sweaters and jackets displaying the name and emblem of other colleges.

These moves are being taken in an all-out effort on the part of the "J" Club and the Student Government Association to raise school spirit out of its present doldrums. All students are urged to comply with these requests and to do their share toward boosting the spirit of our school.

The SGA recently undertook a project to secure sweaters and light-weight jackets bearing the name of the institution, and possibly the school seal or a picture of the mascot, Charlie Gamecock, to be placed on sale. As soon as this order has arrived students are then requested to buy the Jax State merchandise and lay the others aside.

Be proud of Jacksonville State and do your share to make it a better school and one with better school spirit and morale. Only you and you and you, the students, can accomplish this endeavor.

International House News

Scholarship Girl

On Oct. 2 a special committee from the Alabama Federation of Womens Clubs came to the International House to select the "scholarship girl" for 1961-62. The committee was composed of Mrs. J. A. Britain, Jasper, president; Mrs. B. P. Bowden, Birmingham, 1st vice-president; Mrs. James R. Morrow, Birmingham, junior assistant director and International Affairs Department chairman; and Mrs. Mary L. Lowrey, director of Second District. Mrs. Ernest Stone, Jacksonville, chairman of the Division of Scholarships and Loans, was unable to be present because of illness.

Anna-Marie Buff of France was selected.

Dr. Spakovsky Speaks

On Sept. 27, Dr. Anatol von Spakovsky, a member of the sociology faculty, spoke on the Berlin crisis from the scientific view; he attempted to place himself in the place of both the West and USSR in order to understand the point of view of each.

He said that the Berlin crisis was originated by the decision of the Allies to divide Germany and to leave Berlin under their control in the middle of East Germany, which is ruled by the communists. This division of Berlin into western and eastern sectors, particularly since it is situated in the center of communist East Germany, was not only unreasonable, but also very dangerous for future political development in Europe. The present events prove this, he declared.

None thought 16 years ago, not even Churchill, and much less President Roosevelt thought that Russia would be quickly transformed into a great power and become a political and ideological threat to the western world.

As time has passed, Berlin has turned into the West's principal propaganda center, and has therefore become a bone of contention in the throat of the Russians, who disliked the state of affairs by which 18 million East Germans were observing and coveting the life enjoyed by the West Germans. The final goal of Russia is to incorporate Berlin into East Germany, he said.

Dr. Spakovsky believes that the solution of the Berlin problem will lead either to the loss of prestige by East or West, or to a war. Three possible solutions offered are as follows:

1. Leave Berlin as it is. Dr. Spakovsky believes that this is, in general, no solution, and simply will preserve the status quo.
2. Declare Berlin a free city. This is only a temporary solution. After a while the Russians would demand a complete incorporation of Berlin into East Germany.
3. War. This war would destroy not only Berlin, but also Europe, and this destruction of the western world would forever annihilate the political and cultural leadership of the white race.

Latin-American Party

The Latin-American students organized a party on Sept. 16 to commemorate the independence of Latin-American countries from Spain — Sept. 15, 1821. On that day the Spanish governor met with 12 men from five provinces: Guatemala, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, and El Salvador, to carry out negotiations. They met for several hours without coming to a decision. Dolores Bedoya de Molina, in a secret conspiracy with the priest, arranged for him to ring the church bells after the explosion of some firecrackers. The people were called together. When representatives of the provinces heard the noise, they hastily signed the document of independence. This was known as the "Bloodless Revolution".

The commemoration celebration was enjoyed by all present. Maria Nieves-Cabrera and Esperanza Vidal performed a Latin-American dance, "La Cueva"; several skits were presented by Carlos Zeller, Erskine Lane, Fernan Peralta, Francisco Tamez, Esperanza Vidal, Italo Morales, Myriam Gatenoa, and Maria Nieves-Cabrera.

The entertainment followed a Latin-American meal prepared by the students from Latin-America.

Japanese Girl Gives Talk

Yukiko Ano gave an informal talk about her country of Japan on Sept. 13, accompanied by pictorial illustrations. Her description made those present feel that they would one day like to visit her country.

Wesleyan News

On Wednesday, Oct. 18, the Wesleyan Society of JSC met in room 100 Ayers Hall. The group was presided over by Reeves Smith. The Wednesday meeting was the first one held by the Wesleyan Society this semester. The speaker was Miss Marilyn Terry, a missionary who returned from Korea only a short time ago. Miss Terry gave an interesting and informative lecture on the people, times and customs of Korea. She also gave a very interesting account of the all girl school in which she taught language and worked with children. The Wesleyan Society was very fortunate to have the pleasure of having Miss Terry speak, and hopes that she will soon return to deliver more interesting lectures.

The Wesleyan Society meets every Wednesday night at 6:30 in room 100 Ayers Hall. The public is invited to join them.

Circle K

The Jacksonville State College Circle K Club met recently and elected new members for the year. They are John Dodgen, Ronnie Harris, Brad Mitchell, Johnny Brooks, Tommy Whitley, James Justice, Donald Robinson, and Jimmy Austin.

Circle K is a service organization designed to carry out plans initiated by the faculty and students. To be elected to this organization each student is judged on the basis of scholarship, character, and personality.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club of St. Luke's Episcopal Church elected officers for the school year. They are Gordon Simpson, president; Linda Vines, vice-president; Carolyn Rogers, secretary, and Troy Dobbins, publicity director.

CAP Shows Film On Civil Defense

"Disaster, Are You Ready?", a Civil Defense film, was shown by CAP last week to the college community and citizens of Jacksonville.

Its purpose was to alert everyone to the dangers of natural and wartime disasters, and show the necessity of organizing for preparedness to face such disasters.

This film was shown as a public service by the Jacksonville Composite Squadron of Civil Air Patrol, one of its primary functions being to assist the Mayor and Council in promoting Civil Defense.

A good representation of civic clubs, college and city schools, and local citizens was reported.

CAP high school cadets distributed Civil Defense material giving information on how to prepare for disaster. Names were taken for follow-up by the squadron's Civil Defense Committee.

Tribute Paid To Dr. Cole By People Of Jacksonville

Business and professional firms of downtown Jacksonville recently paid due homage to Jax State's distinguished president, Dr. Houston Cole during College Appreciation Day.

A committee of the townspeople presented Dr. and Mrs. Cole with a beautiful silver service and punch bowl during ceremonies staged in beautiful new making Jacksonville State College one of the foremost institutions of learning in the South. We want you to know that we do not take the spectacular rate of growth and development of the college for granted. We know that it has come about only because of the superior leadership on your part and hard work on the part of the entire staff and faculty. Because of these facts, we feel that Jacksonville is a better place in which to live from every point of view: socially, culturally, educationally, economically and spiritually.

In order to show our appreciation in a more tangible way, we should like to present to the college this silver punch bowl and tray. And to show our appreciation to you personally, we should like to give to you and Mrs. Cole this silver service which we hope you will enjoy for many years to come.

Again, our sincere thanks and appreciation for all you have done for us.

Meet The Cheerleaders

By HELEN STEAKLEY

The cheering section at the Jacksonville State football games is enthusiastically led by four lively girls and four energetic boys. They are: Patty Faucett, Sherry Styles, Jackie Bollen, Marie Andrews, Jimmy Deerman, Winston Massey, Wayne (Ears) Cummings, and Wallace Johnson, captain.

Patty Faucett of Palmedale, Alabama, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sanders of Palmedale.

Patty graduated from Tarrant High School in 1958. While attending high school, she was a member of the Book Club and secretary of the Dramatics Club.

Patty, a senior, has been very active at Jacksonville State. She has been chosen as an ROTC sponsor, sophomore class favorite and cheerleader. She is a member of the Leone Cole Home Economics Club.

Sherry Styles, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mrs. James Styles of Trion, Ga.

Sherry attended high school in Trion, and graduated in 1960.

Sherry's high school time was not only dedicated to studies but to many activities. She was cheerleader, member of girl's basketball team, secretary of FTA and treasurer of the Beta Club.

Jackie Bollen is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Bollen of Remlap. Jackie graduated from Locust Fork High School in 1960.

While attending Locust Fork, Jackie participated in many school activities. She was cheerleader, president of the Beta Club, associate editor of the school paper, member of the Glee Club, member of the FHA, class favorite and "Who's Who".

Marie Andrews is a 1960 graduate of Troy High School. While attending Troy High, Marie was a Mermaid in '60, member of the high school band, and a member of the Beta Club.

Marie is a sophomore here at Jax State majoring in secretarial science and minoring in English.

She was the social chairman of the freshman class and a member of SGA '60-'61.

Jimmy Deerman in 1959 was president and salutatorian of the first graduating class of Plainview High School in Rainsville. While in high school, he was active in Beta Club, Student Council and other extra curricular activities including the varsity basketball team.

Entering Jax State the summer of '59, he was elected vice-president of freshman class. His hobbies are piano, modern jazz and variety dancing, all of which have won Jimmy prizes in college talent shows.

Jimmy is now a junior pursuing an AB degree with a major of mathematics and minor of accounting and English.

Wayne Cummings better known as "Ears" is the son of Mr. L. C. Cummings of Haleyville.

"Ears" graduated from D. B. Comer at Sylacauga, in 1957. He was president of the student government association, vice-president of Mu Alpha Theta and member of the basketball team for two years.

Since attending Jax State he has been a member of the FBLA and of the intramural football team.

Wallace Johnson is head cheerleader. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Johnson, Sr. of Jasper.

In keeping with today's initial eight page paper, the COLLEGIAN is planning another big edition for next time, Monday morning, November 6. In order to do this we need the help of all students.

Even until time for the COLLEGIAN to go to press, the editorial department was pounding their typewriters long and hard. Some of the organizations on campus and some of our staff members had not turned in their stories.

With this in mind, let us urge all reporters of the various organizations on campus to have their stories in by 2:45 Tuesday afternoon, October 31.

Wallace graduated from Jasper High in 1959, where he was active in many school functions. He was student promoter of the senior trip, member of annual staff, member of SGA, member of basketball team, member of FTA, member of Quest Club, member of Key Club, and "Who's Who".

Since coming to Jacksonville he has been equally active. He has been a member of SGA, and the Circle K. Club.

The cheerleaders are doing a good job of encouraging the Gamecocks to victory. When they say "Are you ready?" You get those hands up and yell!

This summer, "Dink" attended the University of Alabama on a National Science Foundation Scholarship. After graduation in July, he plans to attend the University of Alabama on a two-year scholarship.

We wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors and may each step lead him to success.

"Dink" is married to the former Reita Biddle from Ft. Payne.

The radiant beams of the senior spotlight proudly shine on June Buckelew of Boaz. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Buckelew of Boaz.

June is a 1958 graduate of Boaz High School. While at

JUNE BUCKELEW

Boaz High, June was vice-president of the band, reporter of FTA, member of FHA, member of the Beta Club, member of the paper staff, and a member of the choir.

June transferred from Snead Junior College to Jacksonville in 1960. While at Snead she was treasurer of the Methodist Student Movement and member of the Home Economics Club.

While at Jacksonville, June is majoring in home economics and minoring in science. She is also a member of the Leone Cole Home Economics Club. June will be graduating in January and plans to teach home economics.

MRS. ARCHIE F. GLASS

Color TV Bought By Patterson Hall

The men of Patterson Hall, so named in honor of the late Albert Patterson, recently took a giant step toward progress in the dormitories of Jacksonville State. Our hat is off to those fellows.

Under the guiding hand of Elmer Tate, the men of Patterson have purchased a beautiful, 21-inch color television set. It was installed during the week of the World Series and has since afforded the men there many hours of pleasure.

The lone color television station is Birmingham's WAPI-TV, Channel 13. At least two hours of color telecasting may be seen during a day and soon, according to reports from the Magic City, more programs are shifting to color during the present season.

Mrs. Archie F. Glass is house-mother at the new dorm.

Mrs. 'Susie', Friend To All, Dies

Being floored by a feather is one cliché that normally would not fit this scribe. But, last Saturday morning even the lightest breeze out of the north, south, east or west could have jolted these 300-odd pounds off its feet.

The announcement came, though expected for a long time, and the force was terrific. Our beloved "Miss Susie" Glover had been taken away.

The razor with the new blue blade almost scarred the "Basket" for lifetime. A great friend of four years and one who was a friend of Jacksonville State students long before would no longer grace our halls with her kindness, neatness and warm, friendly smile.

Cancer had halted one of Alabama's grandest women. We're all going to miss her. Mrs. Glover, beloved mother of JSC Business Manager Solon Glover, was "Miss Susie" to her multitude of friends. From the very first day I walked down Bibb Graves' ground floor, "Miss Susie" was my friend and I'm really going to miss her.

"Miss Susie" had much in common with student population of our school. She loved youth, a good laugh and an easy smile.

These were composite factors of her splendid makeup. When the Man who called her Saturday made this great lady, he undoubtedly broke the mold.

"Miss Susie" is gone. Logically she will never greet "her favorite students" from behind her Bookstore desk, but her memory will endure for ever and ever.

JSC Class Beauties Chosen

SONJA O'KELLY

Sonja O'Kelly, a very pretty and friendly senior, was selected as senior class beauty. She is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. O'Kelly of Anniston.

At Anniston High School, Sonja was active in many school organizations. She was chaplain of Hi-Y, treasurer of FTA, member of the National Honor Society, and a homeroom officer every year.

At Jacksonville, Sonja is a ballerina, member of Phi Beta Lambda, and vice-president of the senior class. She was voted junior class beauty and was candidate for "Queen" of the Military Ball.

Sonja will graduate in May with a major in secretarial science and a minor in English. After graduation, she plans to work on her master's degree.

Carmen Rubio, a very lovely Latin girl, has been chosen junior class beauty. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alejandro Rubio of Brazil.

Carmen's nationality is Cuban, but she moved to Brazil a year ago. She is a graduate of Candler High School of Havana, Cuba.

Since coming to Jacksonville State College in 1958, she has been candidate for "Miss Mi-mosa" and co-chairman of the International House. She is majoring in French and minoring in secretarial science.

Besides her college activities, Carmen finds time to travel. She has traveled the United States, Canada, and parts of South America. Also this gracious lady enjoys music, reading, stamp collecting, and horseback riding.

Janice Green, a very vivacious and charming girl, was chosen sophomore class beauty for 1961-62. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Green of Gadsden.

Janice's charming personality and beauty brought her much popularity during her high school days at Gadsden High School. She was Gadsden High "Queen", senior class beauty,

JANICE GREEN

A very attractive brown-eyed blond was chosen as freshman class beauty. She is Dianne Culver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Culver of Munford.

Dianne attended Munford High School where she was head majorette, vice-president of the band, member of FHA, and FTA clubs and senior class beauty.

At Jacksonville State College, Dianne is a ballerina with the Jacksonville State College Band. She is majoring in elementary education.

Hayes Says 'Thank You'

The over bulging, red, five and dime scrapbook, housing many great memories of Gamecock athletics, will suffer from obesity no longer. Today shall reign as its day of deliverance or swan song.

With eight bells, as played by Bibb Graves Chimes, a tenure of three years as sports editor of the COLLEGIAN will end. Henceforth, the chair as associate editor of this newspaper will be "covered" by ole Robert, here.

Three years ago, back when my favorite Reid boy, Tom, first hung the monicker "Basket" on me, a promise was made. Come 50 issues of editing the COLLEGIAN sports page and the Hayes sports byline and UNDER THE HAYES STACK would go under collegiate lock and key. Collegiate lock and key, only, because someday, I hope, said byline and column will live again on the pages of some daily newspaper.

'Tis mere understatement to say I've greatly enjoyed my opportunity to visit here bi-monthly during these past 36. Second to eating and working with the school talent shows, serving as sports editor of this paper has been one of the greatest thrills of my life.

What is done today, probably, should have been done long ago. But until the chance to broaden my journalistic scope while serving as associate editor came along, it would have taken 20 pounds of dynamite and "seben" twenty-penny nails to move me out.

The pleasure of writing a sports column in the COLLEGIAN would have never been had people like Bill Kinzy, Jim Glasgow, Hank O'Neal, Wayne Keahey, Hondo Wilkes, Jim Emfinger, Bud McCarty, Don Wilson, Earl Cleland and Roy Fulmer not stopped by here. Too, E. G. Taylor, Grover Whaley, Bob and Joe Ford and Bill Nichols were very instrumental in affording the 'Basket' some of the best times and most enjoyment ever experienced.

The high calibre of men who so proudly and graciously wear the colors of our Gamecocks in any and all sports. The always smiling and gentlemanly mannered, people who give of their athletic talent for the sake of ole JSC. Such are memories that will never fade from the roly, poly mind of the Sand Mountain corn pone fed fat boy.

Tom Maddux, Jackie Jackson, Lamar Caldwell, Tom Reid, Arland Carter, Bobby Johnson, Cecil "Farmer" Dunn, Gerald Halpin and Jackie Cooley also made my stay here wonderful. Too, the fine men of Jacksonville's athletic staff, Coaches Don Salls, Ray Wedgeworth, and Tom Roberson, were great inspirations and sources of constant cooperation and dependability when news was needed.

And there's Mrs. R. K. Coffee, one of the grandest ladies I've ever known, and the best friend a sports writer ever had, Photographer Opal Lovett. My association, as sports publicity director and associate editor, will continue with these wonderful folks. But, I would now like to thank them for their help while this station here was serviced by 'The Basket'.

Might sound like apple polishing, but I'd also like to present "roses" to various members of our faculty and administration for their fine comment, helpfulness and cooperation during the past three years. It's not necessary to mention the names, these people are reading and they know perfectly well who they are.

The reading public also has done yeoman work in making this job as wonderful for me as it has been. I greatly appreciate those of you who have continually kept apace with athletics through this column. And, I'd even like to thank those of you who have inserted the COLLEGIAN into hallway garbage cans . . . nine times out of ten with the sports page standing up where people can see what it is. (I guess I thank you!)

Well, it's time to go. But I just wanted to tell all of you wonderful people of Jacksonville how much I appreciate the way in which you have received the Hayes sports byline and column. I'd like very much to greet each of you, personally, and shake your hand, but I don't have the arms of an octopus . . . only the weight.

Gamecocks Eke Past Governors

By RUBY ABBOTT

Collegian Sports Writer

The Jacksonville Gamecocks, a solid 10-point underdog before game-time, rose to the occasion to upset the highly-favored Austin Peay Governors by a lopsided 21-6 before some 6,000 jubilant fans on hand to witness the homecoming spectacle.

The Gamecock's versatile tailback, Arland Carter, paved the way for his cohorts with his brilliant running and passing. The blond flash, who hails from Fort Payne, snowed his "blue blood" early in the game when he passed 53 yards to end Ronnie Harris for one touchdown and ran 20 yards for another to sew up the game for Gamecocks late in the third quarter.

While Jax State's offense was putting on its greatest show of the year the Gamecocks' forward wall was staging a sideline of its own as it turned back everything in the way of offense the Governors had to offer. With the likes of end Gerald Halpin, end Ken Wilson, and center Tom Maddux to anchor Jax State's line the heralded backs of the Governors were held at bay and kept backed up in their territory throughout the game.

Carter spent little time in getting the Gamecocks out front. After three successive sweeps around his right side Carter decided to pull one out of the hat for the homecoming fans, who had scarcely settled in their seats. He started to his right again and faked the old single sweep right and heaved a bullet-like pass to Harris all alone at the Governor's 30-yard line and the big end trotted the remaining distance unmolested.

Lamar Caldwell's PAT conversion with 1:30 left gave the Gamecocks a 7-0 which they never forfeited.

After the first quarter and

RUDY ABBOTT

Abbott Joins Staff As Sportswriter

Rudy Abbott, a member of the ANNISTON STAR sports department for the past 2 years, has joined the COLLEGIAN staff. This was announced last week by the editors of this paper.

The good-looking son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Abbott, Anniston, writes his first story for the COLLEGIAN today. He is a graduate of Walter Wellborn High and a sophomore physical education major in the college.

Look for the Abbott byline and enjoy his articles, bi-monthly in the COLLEGIAN!

Meet The Gamecocks—

Maddux Hustler For JSC; Playing Days Almost Over

By KEN MONK

COLLEGIAN Sports Editor

The Collegian sports spotlight now falls on one of the toughest linemen that the Gamecock team has produced in a number of years. Tom Maddux is the 210-pound hard-nosed center who is one of the Captains for the Jaxmen. He is a senior who hails from Albertville.

In high school, Tom was a real gridsman: he was selected on the all-county, All State, and All Southern teams. Upon graduation from high school, Tom attended the University of Alabama, but not to play football. He thought then, that his playing days were over. However, in 1958, Tom decided that he wanted to play football again, so he came to Jacksonville State. The only difficulty that faced him was the eligibility rule that kept him out for one year.

When the 1959 season arrived, nothing could hold Tom back. It was his first year with the varsity, and he alternated with senior E. G. Taylor, captain of the Gamecocks. In 1960, Tom was still hustling. He was made first string center and he played some great football. His greatest game of that season came against Carson Newman. In that spectacular game he alone made 19 tremendous tackles, and was on numerous others. He is a real demon on defense.

At the close of the 1960 season, Tom was named the "Most Valuable Player" on the team. He was also chosen unanimously to the All Alabama Collegiate Conference team. Honors for Tom just did not stop in the 1960 season. In the spring training game

Remaining Games

For the benefit of our readers, here is a listing of the remaining games on the 1961 Jacksonville State football schedule. There is one home game left in this season.

After an off-week from competition this Saturday (Oct. 28) the Gamecocks reopen their 'workshop' the following Saturday, Nov. 4, in Florence against the Lions of FSC. This is an afternoon game with a 2 p.m. kickoff time.

Saturday night (Nov 11) Coach Don Salls brings his squad back home to face Louisiana College of Pineville, La. Home games always have a 7:30 kickoff.

The season then comes to a close Saturday night, Nov. 18, in Livingston.

of that year, Tom was named the "Most Valuable Lineman" in the annual "J" day intra-squad game.

Tom plans to graduate in January with a BS Degree in Secondary Education and a major in physical education. He has chosen coaching as his life's work. Tom is married to the former Miss Iva Jo Hornbuckle and he is the father of a lovely young daughter, Susan Leigh. Iva Jo may be remembered as the "Miss Homecoming" three years ago. Best of luck in his coaching career to Tom Maddux.

CHOSEN AS THE BEST FLOAT in the homecoming parade was the beautiful work of the junior class. The MIMOSA and Scabbard and Blade floats tied for second place in this competition.

CAP Fall-Out Shelter Float Leads Homecoming Parade

An actual Atomic Survival Shelter, preceded by the Jacksonville Civil Air Patrol Emergency Rescue Vehicle, led the "Parade of Floats" in the College Homecoming Parade last Saturday, to form a two-unit CAP float that was both unusual and timely.

The shelter, prefabricated, had arrived only two days before homecoming and gave the public its first opportunity to view an actual fall-out shelter.

The float was sponsored by the Jacksonville College Squadron of Civil Air Patrol, through the cooperation of the local Civil Defense Committee, of which Miss Lucille Branscomb, member of the college faculty, and CAP Commander L. J. Young are co-chairmen with Mr. Jack Boozer of the City Council, recently appointed by Major Frank Casey to organize Jacksonville for Civil Defense and promote, among other things, the construction of fall-out shelters.

Several shelters are now being constructed in the home of local citizens and an "open house" will be held soon to allow the public to visit them. Sub-committees are being appointed and another mass meeting will be held soon to acquaint the town and schools with the Civil Defense program.

Ken Porter To N. C.

Ken Porter, Jacksonville State's current gift to professional baseball, has been assigned to Winston-Salem, North Carolina, of the Class "B" Sophomore League for next season. He is property of the Boston Red Sox.

Signed off the campus last spring for a $20,000 bonus, Ken spent his first season in pro ball with Alpine, Texas, where he posted a respectable 2-1 mark.

The flame-throwing left hander won 4 games and lost 2 last spring with the Gamecocks. For his sterling performances for the baseball unit of Coach Frank Lovrich, Porter was named to the All Alabama Collegiate Conference team.

part of the second were spent with neither team making any lead way until Eugene Griep stepped into the picture to spark the Gamecocks on another one of their touchdown drives.

Jax State put the ball in play at their own 27 and were soon beating on the Governor's doorstep after the talented wingback, Griep, had reeled runs of 35 yards and 15 yards with the latter carrying down to the enemy's five yard line. From there quarterback Lamar Caldwell rammed it over running over two would-be Governors in the process.

Carter was halted in his bid to run the PAT and with 6:45 left in the first half Coach Don Salls proteges were out front by a comfortable 13-0 margin which they carried to the dressing room at halftime.

During halftime ceremonies lovely Miss Pat Keahey was crowned "Miss Homecoming" for 1961 to highlight the activities that began with a big parade downtown Saturday afternoon.

Guard M. G. Hodges provided the spark that set up Jax State third and last touchdown of the evening when he fell on a Governor fumble at the Austin Peay 30-yard line. Three plays later found the Gamecocks marking six more points to their column when Carter found a large hole off tackle and dashed the remaining 20-yards.

Carson Southard passed to Stanley Bell for the two-point conversion and the scoreboard lights which had been worked so frequently for Jax State's side told the Gamecocks' fine side of the score 21-0.

The Austin Peay boys, determined not to be skunked, came roaring back after getting the Gamecocks kickoff out to the 46-yard line. They drove the remaining 54 yards in 12 plays with Quarterback Dick Moore hitting Cliff Sims in the end zone for the final 26 yards.

The Gamecocks enjoy an open date this week before running against the small college powerhouse of the state, an ACC in the person of Florence State at Florence. Florence and Jacksonville, both single wing powerhouses, should be the showdown match in the run for the ACC championship.

DAUGETTE HALL'S winning dormitory display gets final "going over" before homecoming morning's judging. Many hours were spent on the project, but much rejoicing reigned when the winning dorm was announced at halftime of the JSC-Austin Peay game.

Homecoming Floats Call Best Ever In Big Parade

By JUDYE JONES

Jax State students went all out to make the homecoming festivities of 1961 a success. The parade was larger than ever before and all the dormitories had excellent displays.

Daugette Hall won first place in the dorm display with its gigantic Gamecock football player with a spiked club standing victoriously over the beaten Governors of Austin Peay, characterized by stuffed football jerseys.

The junior class float carried off first-place honors in the float division. The Scabbard and Blade float tied for second place with the "Miss Mimosa" float.

Glazner Hall added a unique touch to homecoming this year. In addition to an attractive dormitory exhibit, Glazner also entered a float in the parade. This is the first time that a dormitory has sponsored a float and it is an idea that should be continued in following years.

For the best decorated car, the Law Club took first place.

Notice

The 1962 edition of the College Placement Annual is now available, free of charge, in the dean of students office for all seniors in non-teaching majors.

The annual is a veritable "gold mine" of information on jobs and names and addresses of employment directors in all the major businesses employing scientific mathematical and business majors.

Come by and get your copies, seniors.

PARADE FLOAT—One of the attention-drawing floats in the Homecoming parade at Jacksonville Saturday was this one based on the theme of survival in an atomic attack. The float was sponsored by the Jacksonville State College Civil Air Patrol unit.

TALENT SHOW

Reaves, Mary Ellen Johnson, Judye Jones and Gail Maze. Ken Mitchell will also be on hand with his orchestra; Billy Church with his 'twangin' guitar; Al Berry, Tom Camp, and many other favorites.

Emcees for the night, Hal Hayes, Jackie Cooley and Mike Kimberly, have noted that they will recreate one of the all-time great pantomime numbers last seen two years ago. It will be the "Cool Alaska Rock and Roll", a number greatly loved during the heyday of the Sonny Roberts-Clark Gable-Hal Hayes stint as mcs.

For this the fall show, the SGA has appointed Hal Hayes, Jackie Cooley and Mike Kimberly to serve as masters-of-ceremonies for the night. That's 7:30, this Wednesday night in the Leone Cole College Center Auditorium.

SORRY!

Through some grievous error on the part of the COLLEGIAN staff, the pictures of the outstanding football players, Ray Gentles and Jim Williams, who were chosen for the spotlight in the "Meet the Gamecocks" series, were left out.
