Variety Show To Come Off Jan. 31

Chapel Completed
On JSC Campus

A long-time dream of a chapel for religious purposes by students, alumni and faculty at Jacksonville State College has been realized with the installation of pews and pulpit furniture. Finishing touches must be applied before the chapel is actually ready for use, but it is expected to be completed in the near future.

The chapel, located on the campus of the New Leone Center, is of contemporary design. The handsome front is of plate glass with a trim of the same artistic grill that is used on other parts of the building. A narrow, gilded cross, some eight feet tall, gives simple identification to the small sanctuary.

The furniture is solid oak in natural finish with the walls and woodwork emphasizing contrasting shades of blue. Indirect lighting gives an atmosphere of contemplation. An organ and the appropriate accessories will be added later.

The movement for a chapel was begun six or eight years ago when a need was expressed by students, faculty and others for a place suitable for meditation. Under the sponsorship of a student committee, funds were solicited from alumni, faculty and students. These donations were supplemented by the college to carry the project to fruition.

First Methodist
Extends Invitation

Lovely - Lovely - Lovely

Ballerina Classes
Begin Tuesday Night

The ground is being cleared for the new classroom building that will house the music, art, home economics and business departments on the third floor.

Announcement was made last week that Floyd P. Tredaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Tredaway, had been assigned to a new post: an assistant to the president of a new post. The post created to take care of the growth of the college.

Beginning this semester, Mr. Tredaway will coordinate and handle financial matters for the dining hall, book store, cafeteria, athletics and student loans. Future departments involve more than $1 million annually.

Mr. Tredaway joined the college faculty in 1954 after receiving his master's degree in accounting at Auburn University. His undergraduate work was done here.

He is assistant professor of business, a position he will continue to hold until he can be found.

He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Delta, Kappa Phi Kappa and Phi Chi honorary fraternities.

Nomination For Honor

The Jacksonville Exchange Club has nominated Mr. Tredaway as a candidate for Alabama "Young Man of the Year," in the nomination, emphasis was placed upon his many activities in the civic, church and commercial life of the community.

He is treasurer and member of the official board of the First Methodist Church. He is a past president of the Exchange Club, past warden, master of the hiram lodge, No. 42; past vice-president and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce; a member of the board of directors of the United Fund of Calhoun County, and past chairman of the Jacksonville UFO drive.

In 1960 he was selected as "Man of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Tredaway is a member of the City Council of which he is the mayor pro tem, chairman of the finance commission, and member of the airport committee.

In addition to these voluntary services, Mr. Tredaway has contributed much to the growth and development of his home town.

A shopping center on North Pelham Road and the first unit of a shopping center on South Pelham Road are the results of his leadership in the business life of the town.

He has also been interested and has helped develop a residential real estate subdivision in the northern section of town.

He is married to the former Miss Martha Self of Birmingham, also a graduate of the college and member of the science faculty of Jacksonville High School.

Floyd Tredaway Takes On
New Duties At College

Announcement was made last week that Floyd P. Tredaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Tredaway, had been assigned to a new post: an assistant to the president of a new post. The post created to take care of the growth of the college.

Beginning this semester, Mr. Tredaway will coordinate and handle financial matters for the dining hall, book store, cafeteria, athletics and student loans. Future departments involve more than $1 million annually.

Mr. Tredaway joined the college faculty in 1954 after receiving his master's degree in accounting at Auburn University. His undergraduate work was done here.

He is assistant professor of business, a position he will continue to hold until he can be found.

He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Delta, Kappa Phi Kappa and Phi Chi honorary fraternities.

Nomination For Honor

The Jacksonville Exchange Club has nominated Mr. Tredaway as a candidate for Alabama "Young Man of the Year," in the nomination, emphasis was placed upon his many activities in the civic, church and commercial life of the community.

He is treasurer and member of the official board of the First Methodist Church. He is a past president of the Exchange Club, past warden, master of the hiram lodge, No. 42; past vice-president and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce; a member of the board of directors of the United Fund of Calhoun County, and past chairman of the Jacksonville UFO drive.

In 1960 he was selected as "Man of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Tredaway is a member of the City Council of which he is the mayor pro tem, chairman of the finance commission, and member of the airport committee.

In addition to these voluntary services, Mr. Tredaway has contributed much to the growth and development of his home town.

A shopping center on North Pelham Road and the first unit of a shopping center on South Pelham Road are the results of his leadership in the business life of the town.

He has also been interested and has helped develop a residential real estate subdivision in the northern section of town.

He is married to the former Miss Martha Self of Birmingham, also a graduate of the college and member of the science faculty of Jacksonville High School.

Floyd Tredaway Takes On New Duties At College
Survey Taken On Marriage

By JANE GILLILLAND

An interesting and rather strange survey was taken during registration concerning the marital status of Jacksonville students. In an attempt to sample a representative faculty body, 500 students, ranging from freshmen to seniors, were interviewed. The percentages of people married, engaged, going steady, and playing the field were surprising, none of the answers were a little disarming.

Married students accounted for 23% of those interviewed. (There were more men than women.) Additional comments ranged from:

"Well, I guess, I've been married for six months," to "I've been happily married for 20 years." One lady stated, "Oh, I'm married and I'm also a grandmother."

Twenty men and twenty women were engaged. Those constituted 8 percent of the total. "We're planning to get married, and we've told our parents, so I guess we're really engaged," one boy said. "I'm going to be married this summer, but I don't know whether we're going to get engaged or not," noted a pretty blonde.

There were also 14 men who were going steady — 10 percent. People in this category probably had the most difficult answering: they couldn't decide one way or the other.

Of course, the largest percentage (52 percent) lies in the playing-the-field group. Here the boys outnumber the girls — surprising to note that a large percentage of this group acknowledged that they were, for the most part, doing nothing; some added that they like it that way.

There were only three divorces in the 500 interviewed. They composed one percent of the total.

For New Classroom Building

The ground is being cleared for the new classroom building that will house the music, art, home economics and business departments on the circle below the home management house. A number of small buildings, including the one used for the foods laboratory and nurses school, are being removed from the site.

While the home economics department is without a foods laboratory, Mrs. Mary L. Lower will hold her classes in the Faculty Clubhouse and the new Wood Cottage, which is used by the Jacksonville High School Home economics department.

These classes have been scheduled in the afternoon after the high school students have finished their classes, and others will be held at the Faculty Clubhouse. The faculty school will not operate until the new building is completed; clothing classes and education classes are being held in Graves Hall, as usual.

Martha Crow Worked Hard For Her Scholarship

Martha Crow, a senior, is one of three students receiving scholarships from the St. Clair County Development Association. They receive $35.00 a semester as long as their grades are satisfactory.

Martha is majoring in mathematics with a minor in chemistry. Her home is at Moody, a community in rural St. Clair County, and she graduated from St. Clair County High School at Odenville.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Crow, she is second oldest of five children. She was determined to obtain a college education, and come January, 1963, she will see the realization of her ambition. Her older brother, inspired by her example, has worked his way and

ROTC Graduates Commissioned

Seven ROTC graduates were commissioned as second lieutenants Friday morning, Jan. 19. Lt. Col. John A. Brock performed the rites.

Commissioned were: Robert Howard; Fayford T. Talley, Hanceville; Hoyt L. Abney, Attalla; Samuel G. Davis, Gadsden; Jimmie L. Avery, Five Corners, Talladega; Robert B. Gaston, Ga; Robert M. Harvey, Anniston; and Woodrow W. Cole, Jacksonville.

The men also received their degrees at the end of the semester.

100 New Freshmen Over 2,000 Register For Spring Semester At JSC

Classes began Thursday after three days of registration for the spring semester. About 100 new freshmen reported for orientation and registration along with more than 2,000 other undergraduates.

Several outstanding events are scheduled for the spring semester. These are addressed by Dr. John H. Fischer, president of Teachers' College, Columbia University, and Dr. Sterling McPherson, U. S. Commissioner of Education, Washington, D. C.

North Alabama Hi-Y club are meeting here on Saturday, Jan. 27, the annual convention of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs will be held here April 26-28, and the state convention of Circle K will also take place on this campus in April.

The alumni annual breakfast will take place on Friday, March 16, at 7:45 a.m., in the Terrace Room of the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham.

Other events will be announced later.

Join The Band

It has been reliably reported that there are at least 100 students on the campus who play a band instrument — but not members of the band.

Why not join this semester? It is good for an hour's credit, and who knows how many of these quality points might be when graduation time comes around.

The band is one of the college's greatest assets, and it is a source of pride for both students and faculty. A high standard is maintained by band members and the cripit de corps is one of the finest on the campus.

Mr. Walters, the director, is particularly interested in recruiting woodwind players, so if you happen to play an instrument of this kind, go see him immediately.

Enrollment In ROTC Reaches Highest Point

Enrollment in the ROTC reached its highest point this week when 487 freshmen were registered; 288 sophomores; 18 juniors and 27 seniors, a total of 834.

The military department is investigating the possibility of establishing a chapter of Peraing Rifles on the campus. This is a national honorary fraternity for basic ROTC students.

Plans are under way for a military ball to be held on March 7. A big name band will furnish the music and the department is working toward making this the biggest social affair ever sponsored by the cadets.

Cpt. James Mosley, Ill, was host to members of the Band at a spaghetti supper at the end of the semester. It was the final get-together before the graduating cadets received their commissions and left the campus.
Jacksonville State Collegian

Published semi-monthly except August by the student body of the State College, Jacksonville, Alabama.

Editor-in-Chief
Troy Dobkins

Associate Editor
Ken Monk

Sports Editor
Hal Hayes

Faculty Adviser
Mrs. R. K. Coffee

Photographer
Opal Lovett

Staff of Writers
Helen Steakley, Clovis Gaskin, Gay Tenselton, Jim Travis, Judy Jones, Gerald Waldrop, Rudy Abbott, Taska Williamson

NSA Troubles

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the National Student Association (NSA) is not a true representation of the 1.3 million students in 400 colleges and universities, Jacksonville included, that it claims to represent. The main reason is that only a small percentage of the total student population participates in this organization.

In the July 14, 1958, Congressional Record, Congressman J. B. Williams (D Miss.) inserted the following conclusions of Dr. J. B. Matthews, veteran investigator of communism: "The policies and programs of the NSA embrace the important ideas of the Communist Party insofar as these ideas come up and are used on the campuses of American colleges and universities; and that the leaders, spokesmen, and advisers of the NSA represent a high degree of pro-Communist infiltration of the organization."

It is well known, then, that in the 14th National Congress, Aug. 20-30, 1961, the NSA condemned the House Un-American Activities Committee, "Operation Abolition," loyalty oaths and disaffiliation, and anything but a unilateral disarmament program on the part of the U.S. It is also well known that it condemned Dr. Castro for restoring "academic freedom" to Cuba, and depleted the State Department ban on travel to Cuba as an infringement of "academic freedom."

"Academic freedom" is a slogan that comes up quite often among the NSA group. The student must not be injured in his search for truth by any limitation upon his opportunity to hear or read, or view anything. This group refuses to accept any acknowledged truth. They believe that they must find the truth for themselves. To them, as to Socrates, Knowledge is Virtue.

NSA maintains that students and teachers must have access to Communist literature and must be allowed to hear Communist speakers, even if these are necessary for guarding "academic freedom," and the search for truth. Even though this is a beautiful idealistic abstract thought, when brought down to a concrete instance, a particular speaker, known to be a Communist, cannot help but incorporate all the subjective means of expression and his own personality, to present what he would have us believe to be "objective" truth, and fool some of his listeners into believing him. As the commies would say, "You fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time—and that's good enough odds for us."

In a recent release from NSA, Ben Davis, Communist Party secretary, was quoted after a recent speaking ban at CCNY, as saying, "If the ban remains, 'academic freedom' will go out the window. It seems to us that if the Secretary of the Communist Party has to be quoted to prove a point this is not in its favor."

Along the lines of "academic freedom," the concept of "In Loco Parentis" or any form of paternalism has thrown out the window as "inducing or reinforcing immaturity, conformism, and passive submission." NSA maintains that... (Continued)

...situation which states that the NEC shall decide which resolutions shall be considered by the annual congress. The NEC, not the participating schools, sets the policy of the NSA, and then rules that representing 1.3 million students. By constitution the NEC does not even have to confer with participating schools before circulation of policy.

We understand that a new truce represents a new organization within the last two National Student Congress (NSC), with the idea of "stimulating and promoting a better understanding of America's world position in order to realize our national goals."

Perhaps it would be worth looking into...

Emily Post

Emily Post's America's foremost authority on etiquette, says in her book "Etiquette, The Blue Book of Social Usage" that people who live in dormitories should be considerate and courteous toward each other. Mrs. Post says that a dormitory is a home for many people. Consequently, these people should do all that is in their power to influence others to keep the set rules, respect the privacy of others, and be considerate of others at all times. According to Mrs. Post, this is all part of good etiquette which any well-bred person observes.

Many college students seem to think etiquette and manners are a thing of the past, or at least, a thing that only needed by the other fellow. A college is not only an institution of higher learning, but it is also an institute to teach students the finer culture of life, so that they will become good and well-bred persons. These rules apply to living with other people as well as being pleasant in public life.

Students who live in dormitories should realize the importance of etiquette. These rules are designed to help each person individually, and they will become good and well-bred persons. These rules should be kept for everyone who lives in dormitories and would be more pleasant for everyone.

'Supelcher Of Though'

In the upper right corner: "Books are sequelcher of thought."

The headlines of that first issue, edited by Martha Wood, read almost like current events: "Federal Aid Givens to 326 Students Here," "Judge Feidelson Speaks at College on Negro Problem." Judge Feidelson at the time was editor of the old Birmingham Age-Herald. He gave an "a stirring appeal for understanding between the races... and the elimination by law of lynching."

Also in that March 17, 1934 issue was news that the Jax State '33 basketball season ended with a successful 17-3 record. But football things hadn't been so good as the Jax State Eagle Owls of 31 produced a 2-4-1 showing. One win had been the resounding 40-0 tally over Piedmont College of Georgia. The tie was a 0-0 count with the Middle State Teachers.

The first Teasol editorialized vigorously for the use of the ballot for newspaper reading. "Campus readers... offer the best evidence of the most serious problems facing society today is that of handling liquor drinking among boys and men..."

On page four was the first of a series of articles on the "Geography of the Great Appalachian Valley in Alabama." Each was an extraordinary and interesting story, written by the forceful and interesting Miss Prussia. Further, the entire effort comprised part of J. F. Glaze's dissertation for a degree in business administration and economics. Thomas fills leisure hours with football, basketball, baseball, and tennis.

CAROL HAMMOND

Two Outstanding Seniors Earn Deserved Recognition

The COLLEGIAN staff would like to bring to the spotlight a young lady who has been a very ambidextrous member of the college student body—Carol Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond of Steele.

In 1959 the vivacious young lady came to Jacksonville from Etowah County High School at Attalla. In high school, she was an outstanding student of the FFA, Beta Club, FBLA and Library Club. She also did secretarial work for a teacher.

At Jacksonville, Carol is a member of the Phi Beta Lambda, very active member and secretary of the BSU. No doubt, you have seen a friendly smile as an outstanding characteristic as you pass by our "desert girl" in the cafeteria. She is also an active member of the First Baptist Church and teaches a Junior Sunday school class.

Another senior at Jacksonville State College has been added to the Collegian's ball of fame. He is Thomas Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Young of Crosville. Thomas has more success and activity. He graduated from Crosville High School in the spring of 1959, and entered Jacksonville State College that fall.

Thomas, with his pleasing and sparkling personality, gave much to Crosville High. He was well-liked by students and faculty at high school and he was a member of the Library Club, FFA, and senior "Who's Who." This was Thomas' "break." After Thomas entered college, his "breaks" really flourished—his popularity began soaring. Thomas is member of the honorary military fraternity, Rho Omega Tau, and former president of the fraternity. He is a counselor at Petterson Hall, member of the board of directors of the Circle K Club, member of the Service Corps and student director of intramural sports. He made a "hit" when he became treasurer of SGA for 1961-62, but his "gold record" was written when he was chosen for "Who's Who among students in American Colleges and Universities."

Thomas' future is sure to hold much success. He is entering the U.S. Army upon graduation in January, 1962. He will enter as a second lieutenant and with a B.S. Degree in business administration and economics. Thomas fills leisure hours with football, basketball, baseball, and tennis.
What Is It Like To Be A Counselor?

By JUDY JONES

Like any position, it carries its merits and also disadvantages, but every counselor will probably agree that the former outweighs the latter.

Becoming a counselor often necessitates leaving old friends or possibly a best-friend roommate, but this constant change is typical of life.

Like any position of authority, being a counselor develops a sense of responsibility, an indispensable trait. It also teaches self-discipline.

A counselor has the opportunity to meet and deal with almost every type of person. Experiences such as this cannot be learned from books, regardless of how you may study. Academically speaking, this position might well be called a course in human relations.

What are the qualifications for the position of counselor? Well, it would help if one is a registered nurse, a practicing psychiatrist, holds a degree in at least two subjects, is able to map out a four-year schedule for any individual in the dorm, is able to solve any problems—academic, personal, or social, and has the patience of Job!

All kidding aside, holding the position of counselor is truly rewarding and an honor for those who are chosen to serve in this capacity.
State Dept. Of Education To Be Responsible For Instructional TV

Alabama's educational television network is now being planned. The network will provide educational programs to schools throughout the state. The network is expected to begin operation in the fall of 1963.

Facts, Fads and Fancies

A

FACT—In 17th Century Massachusetts, low regulated fashion! Fancy clothing was deemed a sign of evil—Puritans were forbidden to wear lace, embroidery, silver or gold thread, silk and "sashed clothing!"

FAD—The "choppers" or shoes on stilts worn by fashionable ladies in 16th Century Venice was kept by their daily feet above the muddy streets became a fad throughout Europe. Milady's shoes were often so high she couldn't walk without assistance.

B

FASHION—All this year, fashion is all about the "flapper" look. Short skirts, bobbed hair, and "smoking" outfits are popular among young women.

FAD—In the 1950s, the sock hop became a popular event for teenagers. Dances were held at local schools and community centers.

C

FACT—In 18th Century France, King Louis XVI was executed by guillotine. The event shocked the world and marked the beginning of the French Revolution.

FAD—In the 1960s, the "flower power" movement swept across the country. Young people advocated peace, love, and understanding.

D

FACT—In 19th Century America, the Pony Express was a fast method of communication. Messengers rode on horseback carrying letters and packages.

FAD—In the 2000s, social media platforms became popular. People can connect with others from all over the world.
This Was War Between The States 100 Years Ago

Who knows but that the Confederates' failures to raise troops rapidly in 1862 could have been caused by continued bickerings between the Military and the Administration? And that a continued delay in military action, as Union General George B. McClellan, General-in-Chief, led to the issuance of his famous War Order Number 1 by President Abraham Lincoln? Two Confederate Generals, Joseph E. Johnston and Robert E. Lee, kept up arguments with Secretary of War Judah P. Benjamin over military supply. This controversy led to a new assignment with Beauregard. He was sent to Fort McClellan, after more than 26 years of active duty, moved his family to Jacksonville and announced his intention to enter the graduate school to work toward a master's degree. He received a degree in chemical engineering at Michigan State University in 1931. He also had courses at the Chemical Corps School and the Air Command and Staff College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery.

Col. Weinland came to Fort McClellan in 1939 where he has served as executive officer of the Chemical Corps School. Col. and Mrs. Weinland have two daughters, Jean Ann, 18, and Mary, 15.

Hats Tell Story of Gov. Patterson's Year

Wherever he went last year, Gov. John Patterson wore a dress hat, usually a felt or straw depending on the season. But on several occasions, he donned special headdress—everything from a colonel's hard hat to a ceremonial headdress of feathers. The unusual hats and caps which Gov. Patterson wore on these occasions tell part of the story of his third year in office, which ends this week. Follow events of 1961 by the governor's various hats shown above:

- Coalminer's cap, during tour of Gorges coal mine in Walker County; hunting cap, on dove, turkey and deer hunts in Marengo, Greene, Washington, Montgomery, Bibb and Autauga Counties; top hat, part of the governor's costume at Civil War Centennial observances at Montgomery, Abbeville and Headland; Lions cap, at opening of Lions-sponsored Special Trunk Rodeo at Gulf Shores; hard hat, at dedication of new manufacturing plant at Decatur; academic cap, for Citizenship Day at Alabama College; Western-style hat, for the Alabama Cattleman's Association annual rodeo at Montgomery; and feather headdress, in ceremonies at Boy Scouts' Camp Zinn near Anniston.

IMPORTANT

The following pictures will be made for the JMBOSA Wednesday at 1:00 p.m. in room 204-308.

PHI BETA LAMBDA CIVIL AIR PATROL ACCOUNTING CLUB KAPPA DELTA PI

Please come dressed in proper attire.

NOTICE

The typing placement test will be given for students who have had typing before entering college. In order to find where you stand in regard to this please contact Miss Newmon or Mr. Byrd at your earliest convenience.

BALLERINA

(Continued from Page 1)

every Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the college gym under the direction of Zenobia King Hill, noted dancing teacher from Anniston.

Students joining these classes will receive one hour's credit, and will be eligible to compete for a place in the Marching Ballerinas who accompany "The Southerners," the college band, in performances during the football season. All girls who are interested are invited to be present Tuesday night.
Friday Night, February 2nd —

No. 1 Defense Will Go Against Top-Ranked Offense

Co-Ed Reports On Snowbound Trip

By JUDY JONES

In her wildest dreams, probably every girl has imagined herself in unusual situations such as being a screen star, visiting faraway exotic lands, or, more typically, being snowbound with a victorious college basketball team.

Dreams do come true, as several Jax State co-eds will tell you. Not being the weather man (they do make mistakes on occasion, you know) six enthusiastic supporters of the Gamecocks decided to go to Rome, Ga. to see the game against Shorter College. (The judgment that prompted this decision is unique among the impulsive young, we're told.)

After a slip-and-slide joy ride on ice for a couple of hours, we finally reached Rome, where the car promptly quit. This came as no complete surprise, since it had been warned of with spasmodic cough and jumps for the previous twenty-five miles. We sat in the middle of town blocking the sparse traffic until we were hopefully told by the cab driver that we couldn't have possibly driven up the hill to the gym without chains. Chains! What chains?

When we finally made our grand entrance, (late of course,) imagine our surprise to find that we were the only girls from Jacksonville. And we couldn't imagine why we didn't receive an enthusiastic welcome after all our noble efforts!

Ignoring our cool reception, we thoroughly enjoyed the great game, trying our best to out-cheer the Shorter crowd, which was considerably larger.

When the game was over, Jax State victorious, and we were ready to return to back to school about the romance and excitement began to abate when Coach Roberson announced to the team that all roads from Rome were closed and the two senior girls of the team had gone to Rome for a movie the previous night. We went home.

Salls To Begin His 16th Year At JSC

Dr. Donald J. Salls, “dean” of Alabama Collegiate Conference coaches, is preparing to have a 16th season stripe stitched to his toga.

With the dawn of Thursday, March 1, football, springtime fashion, returns to the local front, and Coach DJS begins his 16th year as commander of the Gamecock sport.

“We are expecting around 50 boys to report for our first drill,” Coach Salls, always during a football season, announces.

Troy State Offensive Power Of Conference

By RUDY ABBOTT

The Alabama Collegiate Conference’s No. 1 offensive team, Troy State Gamecocks, takes on the top-ranked offensive powerhouse of the conference, Troy State, in the top-billed attraction of the conference here Friday night, Feb. 2.

The action really picks up the following weekend when Jax State hosts no less than three games. Tuesday night, Feb. 6, will see the Gamecocks host West Georgia and the following night Jax State does its best to avenge an early season defeat when it takes on the Jacksonville State Lions.

In the final game of the week, the Gamecocks of Coach Tom Roberson’s battle Athens on Friday night, Feb. 8.

The Gamecocks’ fine defensive record faces its sternest test when they take on the Red Wave of Troy, a team that averages 93.4 for the season.

The Red Waves, holders of a fine 12-2 record, stand alone at the top of the conference standings since only one of those losses counts in conference standings.

Their only loss to the conference came at the hands of Athens by a narrow 95-94 score.

The Red Wave’s big star is Paul Wold, who is supposed to be one of the hotshots of the conference. Leading the Gamecocks with their high-scoring forward, Allen Watson, the Springfield senior who is averaging better than 12 points a game. Watson, the spring-legged rebounder, missed three games earlier in the season because of a bad ankle, but is set for the big game Friday night, according to Coach Roberson.

Also slated to be ready for full-line duty is center Wayne Ray. Ray missed the last three games and the "Snowbirds" could really use him.
Sall's To Begin His 16th Year At JSC

Dr. Donald J. Salls, "dean" of Alabama Collegiate Conference coaches, is preparing to have a 16th season stripe-stitched to his toga.

With the dawn of Thursday, March 1, football, springtime, football, returns to the local front, and Coach DJS begins his 16th year as commander of the Gamecock sport.

"We are expecting around 50 boys to report for our first drill," Coach Salls estimated during a coffee break. "We'll probably work until sometime during the second week of April and then stage our annual 'J Day' intra-squad game. As yet Coaches (Ray) Wedgeworth and (Tom) Roberson, and I haven't set a tentative date."

Before returning to his piping-hot cup of java, the veteran tutor of the elongated ball reminded:

"We're going to have two organizational meetings, Feb. 27 and 28, and then don pads on March 1. Oh yes, how about reminding your readers that anyone wishing to join the 'Red Raiders' defensive team should sign up, in my office, by Feb. 21."

From tongue to paper ... Coach Salls reminded 'RI' hopeful himself.

Tom Maddox's Dream Realized

Life-long confidant Tom Maddox is fulfilling a dream which was first born while my favorite left-handed center and some squat, fat Haynes kid were growing up around Albertville's Alabama Avenue and Jackson Street. Today, and actually since Monday, Jan. 22, it's Coach Tom Maddox, assistant football mentor at Etowah High in Attalla.

"Some day, Hal," warm memories of the past recall, "I'm gonna coach at Etowah under Coach (Jim) Glover. You can go ahead and put that in your column."

That was the ultimate desire of the Maddux offspring who was to become one of A.H.S.'s greatest linemen and later captain and star superior in the football raiment of JSC. The flame never lost its vividness.

Roses to a great pal, his lovely wife, Jiva Jo, and daughter, Susan Leigh. Hope the coming years of sharing their friendship will be as wonderful as the first dozen and a half.

UP FROM THE SOUTH 46 — Pleasure of seeing one-time emcee buddy Sonny Roberts (now Lt. Roberts) in the audience Saturday night, Jan. 20, relieved a lot of pressure at the Hoken Bluff Quarterback Club football banquet. The 'Basket' was speaker over there for a great bunch of people who extended a very warm welcome and reception ... Don't get the idea that there is any real hostility visible whenever JSC and BDS stick up in athletic fight. These contests are usually described as friendly rivalries, which means that neither side has ever attacked the other with tear gas ... A thought good for thought: A lie can run around the world before truth can get its pants on.

Bye now . . .

Jacksonville Collegian
Sports Staff

WINDELL "Chick" NIX

By CLYDE DAVIS

Not every coach is lucky enough to have a pair of guards on his team that run like the wind, shoot with the deadly accuracy, and pass the ball with perfect poise. But this is just the situation Coach Tom Maddox enjoys, for on his squad of rambunctious are "Chick" Nix and Rodney Shirey.

Windell "Chick" Nix can still be remembered as a fast-breaking guard on Coach K. K. Carter's state tournament teams from Scottsboro. "Chick" was on three of these teams and was named most valuable player in the state as a sophomore.

Union graduation, "Chick" attended Florence State for a short time, and, being the fine person that he is, that cross-state institution failed to meet his requirements. So, trying our best to out-cheer the Shorter crowd, which was considerably larger.

When the game was over, Jan. Slate victorious, and we were ready to start back to school for finals, the romance and excitement began to abate when Coach Robinson announced to the team that all roads from Rome were closed for an indefinite time. It slowly dawned on our adventurous crew that we, too, were snow-bound.

Fortunately, one of the hotels was able to accommodate our 29-old member group, so Coach took full responsibility for us, got us rooms next to him, and made the necessary phone calls back to Jacksonville.

The following day, the ice had melted sufficiently to attempt a safe but slow return trip to school. So ended our adventurous trip to Rome — the unexpected fulfillment of a coed's dream.

Meet The Gamecocks

WINDELL "Chick" NIX

RODNEY SHIREY

WINDELL dropped out of school for one year to work in Chattanooga. "Chick" has almost grown famous for his ball-striking and long shot skills and here's hoping he grows even more famous.

The other fellow general on our Gamecock five is 'Mr. Smooth' himself, Rod Shirey, a Fort Payne sophomore, stands at the head of the circle during the round ball session and causes the "crazy kids" to move with machine-like precision. With his head fake and inside-out moves with the ball, Rod can drive on opposing defense out of their minds.

Nothing more should be said about the accuracy of this young man's shooting eye, because he has just broken a school record for hitting consecutive free throws. Shirey stood at the foul line in a practice session and nailed 122 points without a miss, thus breaking "Mouse" Waldinger's record of 107 which he set a few years back.

When a freshman moves in and gets a position from a veteran at JSC State, that freshman had better have something on the ball. This is exactly what Rodney did last year when he was a sophomore.

Rodney and Windell can both be seen in action again when the Gamecocks host Troy State in a collegiate conference class on Feb. 2 at the college gym.

Meet The Gamecocks

[Note: The text is a mixture of articles about football, basketball, and tennis. It includes names of players, dates, and events related to the 1962 season.]