

MILITARY BALL TO FEATURE DOERNER ORCHESTRA

An outstanding event of the coming week will be the military fraternity ball which is being sponsored by Co. I, 4th Regiment, National Society of Pershing Rifles, and Co. M. National Scabbard and Blade fraternity which will begin 8 p.m. Friday evening, Nov. 16, in the new Leone Cole Auditorium. This affair will furnish added interest for the weekend which will also see the Jax State-Livingston game the following afternoon.

The fraternities have signed George Doerner and his orchestra to furnish the music. Peggy Palmer is vocalist. Also to add color to the event will be the tapping of new members of Scabbard and Blade and presentation of citation cords to new members of Pershing Rifles. This ceremony will take place during the intermission.

To insure a relaxed atmosphere, members of the fraternities have voted to have the dance semi-formal. They are confident that all students attending the dance will have a pleasant evening and will be glad they came. They suggest also that attendance at the dance will stimulate interest and support for the football game on Saturday afternoon. The dance and the game will assure students of an enjoyable weekend, one that they won't want to miss.

Admission to the dance will be $2.50 per couple—the most reasonably-priced dance one could hope to attend, considering the quality of entertainment. The fraternities' primary purpose in having the dance is to acquaint students on the campus with their organizations and provide them a pleasurable evening and not to make a profit.

Tickets may be purchased from members and officers of either fraternity or may be obtained in the Cofee Shop in the Student Union Building from Mrs. Cass, Mrs. McGee or Clark Moon.

Endowment Foundation Is Conducting Drive For International House Funds

By GEORGE SMITH, Collegian Staff Writer

International Endowment Foundation, Inc., sponsoring organization of the International House Program, is conducting a drive to raise money for the newly-planned International House.

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE — The proposed building for the International House program, when completed, will provide room for growth.

'Cold Germs' Postpone Recital; Warren Will Be Heard Tonight

The regularly scheduled recital of Thomas Warren on Oct. 29 was postponed because of an uninvited visit by cold germs, but Mr. Warren will be in even better voice tonight in the Student Union Building Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Robert Cantrick, chairman of the fine arts division, in making the announcement called attention to the variety of Mr. Warren's program. There will be something for everyone to enjoy, he said, and much of it will be within the appreciation of students.

His first two groups will include compositions by the masters; the third group will be English and American ballads and folk songs.

He will be accompanied by his wife, June Warren, at the piano.

Mr. Warren joined the music faculty this fall and will be making his first public appearance. Before coming here he gave concerts regularly and was violist with the Marietta [Ga.] Symphony Orchestra. Last year he was chairman of the music department at Reinhardt Junior College and was director of a church choir in Waleska, Ga.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital.

Counselors Are Listed For Fall Semester

For several years it has been the policy of the college to employ juniors and seniors as student-counselors in the dormitories. These students are selected on the basis of achievement, leadership and character.

Serving as student-counselors this semester are the following:

The board members hope to have this new building under construction by next April 1, and ready for occupancy by the fall semester of 1963. The new

Did you notice that red, white and blue banner you passed on the way to class this morning? The United States flag, a mingling of Betsy Ross and "Don't tread on me," adds up to Old Glory's flying in the breeze outside Daugette Hall on the quadrangle with deep pride.

She is there every day and most of us walk by her without so much as a nod; usually without even seeing her there. Despite the lassitude with which we pass our flag, it would be inaccurate to consider that we do not value it. Every morning some member of JSC's Circle K Club gets up early enough to raise the flag on the quadrangle in order to have it there when we start our day. Circle K deserves praise of the highest order for this service they render.

You will pass the "stars and bars" again, and when you do the temptation will be habitually strong to go on your way without glancing up or taking note of it, yet the flag will be there. It will be there to express, in one condensed version, all the ideals and rights our American way of life affords. As it waves, it is speaking for our striving democracy which falters now and then to look to its magnificent past and to its promising future in order to pull itself together. The flag represents this past and future which are so vital to us.

Important as it is, however, the flag is looked upon as an ordinary thing—we sing about it at football games and salute it at political rallies, but rarely give it a second thought except on these special occasions. We should daily emphasize the importance of this banner. It is the heart of our patriotism; it calls from us the love that is not evident in the cold, impersonal functionings of our government.

In these times of complex relations and endangered world peace, it is paramount that we refer to our history and future to derive some source of hope for the present. When troubles that seem beyond solution confront us, we must look for strength somewhere, so we look to our flag. It is a representation of our hope for the future as well as the glory of our past. It is the unifying symbol of these United States.

For several years it has been the policy of the college to employ juniors and seniors as student-counselors in the dormitories. These students are selected on the basis of achievement, leadership and character. Serving as student-counselors this semester are the following: Sue Clinkscales, Pell City; Jane Duke, Joan Smithey, Gadsden; Bobbie Freeman, Mary Morgan, Talladega; Brenda Holbrook, Fort Payne; Geraldine Gray, Heflin; Jane Hubbard, Norma Owens, Anniston; Judy Jones, Macon, Ga.; Wenona Jones, Guntersville; Carole Pemberton, Wattsville; Emma Phillips, Sayre; Jane Prestwood, Birmingham; Carmen Rubio, Cuba; Betty Westbrook, Bremen, Ga.

Young Republicans Organize Jax Club

If you are interested in government and the function of our nation's political parties, there is a campus club that is seeking your membership. Called the Young Republicans Club, it is a brand-new group with bright plans for the future.

The group was organized early in October with Dr. Elmer Pendell as sponsor. At the first two meetings, a constitution was drawn up and officers were elected. Robert C. Cantor, a prominent young businessman of Calhoun County and JSC graduate, helped the group get Steve Young, concert guitarist and folk singer, will appear in Hammond Hall Auditorium [student union building], Thursday evening, Nov. 15 at 7:30. He will present a varied program designed to entertain any lover of good music, and especially those who enjoy the beautiful tones of the Spanish guitar or the intriguing meanings and melodies of folk music.

The program will be of an informal nature and the surroundings as well as the program will be colorful. Everyone is asked to come, just as they are dressed, from the pep rally just beforehand. The auditorium will be lighted by candles, the audience seated on cushions, and expresso coffee will be served free, thus everything is designed for the audience's pleasure and comfort.

Tickets for the "Sweat Shirt Concert" will be 50 cents each. They may be purchased from members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity [music fraternity], the music department office, or at the door.

Steve is a native of Gadsden, where he first took up the guitar. He moved to Beaumont, Texas, where his musical growth skyrocketed. There he became connected with a recording group which has made some promising recordings now on the market. He returned to Gadsden, then moved to Birmingham which he now uses as a base for his musical operations. His fame spread rapidly and he has been called on to furnish entertainment at fraternity functions and rush parties at the universities of Alabama and Auburn. He has performed in Atlanta and has been featured in concert with the folk singers Richard and Jim with whom he appeared here

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE — The proposed building for the International House program, when completed, will provide room for growth.

The board members hope to have this new building under construction by next April 1, and ready for occupancy by the fall semester of 1963. The new building, of Georgian architecture, is to occupy the site of the present music building. The building is designed to have a central section and two dormitory wings. The central section will consist of classrooms, various language dining rooms, assembly and recreation rooms. On both sides is to be a dormitory wing—one for men and one for women—allowing for double rooms, in each of which a foreign student will room with an American student. The white columned front is to face Pelham Road, and the building in itself will be a beautiful addition to the campus.

Cost of the wings as dormitories will be taken care of by government loans. The central section will be erected at a cost of over $110,000. Of this amount, the International Endowment Foundation had already in hand, by the beginning of the drive, about $50,000, and has since then raised approximately $30,000. The attempt will be made to complete the drive by the middle of November.

The man responsible for and heading the whole campaign, "the spark plug and captain of the team," is Col. C. W. Daugette, Jr., chairman of the foundation. The general chairman of the local drive is Dr. W. J. Calvert, Jr. The drive among

'Premieres' Play Saturday Night

The Student Government Association is presenting one of the favorite campus dance groups, the Premieres, in a Saturday night swinger in Leone Cole Auditorium.

As a fitting conclusion to a socially full weekend, the afternoon football fans can plan to spend the evening on campus, as well.

Admission will be only half a dollar for boys, and a quarter for girls. Dress casually, and prepare for some fun.

Watching The World

By BOB REILLY

The cold war has been covered more adequately than any previous war. Communications and the improved caliber of newsmen are the paramount reasons.

But there is one area which correspondents today have left almost untouched — the human side of this cold war.

The personal, intimate story of the minor players flowed across editor's desks before and during the Second World War but now these performers have been pushed into the background and supplanted by missiles, nuclear bombs and threats.

We need a writer today who can tell us about "war and men." We need another Ernie Pyle.

The late Ernie Pyle was a master at writing about "men and war." His words were simple, [penetrating] and projective and captured a nation's heart at a time when it had little else to give. Fellow writers called it "Ernie's War" for he lived it and died with it.

What would Ernie have written when the Cuban crisis reached the brink and men were called to arms?

He probably would have told us how he got the assignment in Cuba and then go into some detail about the blockade in the Caribbean. But the heart

Chastity And Temperance

Several months ago releases appeared in the daily press about a controversy on the campus of Vassar College set off by an assembly talk made by the president, Sarah Gibson Blanding. Dr. Blanding followed the talk up with an article in the current issue of McCall's Magazine which should be required reading for every college student.

When she made the talk, she did so in response to a request from student officers for a definition of the handbook statement that students are expected to maintain the highest standards of behavior. For a century, it had not occurred to a president of a college such as Vassar that there was any need to make explicit what was considered to be implicit, but Dr. Blanding gave an off-the-cuff, straight-forward expression of her belief that the young woman who drinks to excess or engages in premarital sexual relationships is not living up to the highest standards of behavior. She advised those students who did not wish to comply with decent standards of conduct to withdraw from college.

She pointed out that 19th-century morality, much of which may be outdated, is anathema to some leaders of the present college generation, but 20th-century morality is confused, and the college freshman finds herself without guidelines except those provided by apparently sophisticated, popular-self-assured classmates or upperclassmen.

That immature and anxious-to-please freshman, who dreads nothing so much as "not being popular", not being like some of the self-appointed campus leaders, can easily become involved in affairs that are not desirable, to say the least. The step from the casual to the promiscuous is a short one, she stated.

Dr. Blanding also pointed out that our culture is built around the monogamous family unit, sanctified by Hebraic-Christian tradition. She believes it is the responsibility of parents and educators to prepare young people to live within this cultural framework, not as something that is repressive and imprisoning, but as a background for creative development and responsible freedom. She believes, contrary to the Kinsey report, that premarital relationships set the stage for later extramarital relationships, which weaken or destroy family life.

She asserts that premarital chastity on the part of young women is conducive to the stability of marriage. Conscience and moral attitudes are individual matters, she says. Conduct and behavior—except for someone alone on an island—are not. A college has the responsibility and the right to lay down ground rules for the behavior of the young people who are voluntarily enrolled.

These ground rules are a reflection of the best of our cultural traditions, modified gradually and thoughtfully in terms of changing social needs and conditions. Self-indulgence and moral laxity are not desirable directions of change.

Dr. Blanding said that an overwhelming majority of undergraduates at Vassar, as well as their parents and the alumni, supported her stand.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

This letter is being written as a request and a suggestion. It is with regard to the student activity cards that we get at registration. I am going to use the term "we" instead of "I" because most all of the students are interested in these answers.

We would like an answer to the following questions from someone who can answer them. First: Exactly how much do we pay for student activity tickets? Second: What activities do we get with them?

A lot could depend on these answers. First: We could decide if we are getting our money's worth. Second: Depending on this decision we might have a suggestion that could tremendously help in the outcome of our activities [cultural, social and entertainment] which are certainly an important part of a well-rounded college education.

If we decide that we are getting enough for our money in the tickets, we might voluntarily propose a small increase in their price. Many students are recognizing the economic potential we have with our large student body. If 2,500 people paid just $3.00 more at registration for activities cards there could be $7,500.00 to be used specifically for activities. There would hardly be a limit to the cultural and popular entertainment activities that could be brought to this campus. Most all the students will agree that they would just about as soon pay [for example] a sum of $343 as they would $340 at registration if this money were used directly for activities.

This would mean that for only $3.00 a student could see a variety and a host of entertainers. Many students paid $2.00 each to see the "Four Freshmen" two weeks ago. If we had had this suggested setup on activity tickets they could have seen them for about $.50 or $.60, therefore about five times as many students could have afforded to see them.

The "Four Freshmen" are one of the nation's top entertainers and J'ville was fortunate to have been included in their tour which included George Tech, Alabama, and Vanderbilt. The audience and entertainers were very well accommodated

Watching World

of his stories might have been centered around such people as Corporal Omen, of Missouri; Private Kimmey, of New York; and Pfc. Fullington, of Florida; all of whom were just called into service.

Corporal Omen has a wife and a dog named Morgan back home. Every day he receives a letter from his wife saying how she and the boys down in the shop miss him and that Morgan refuses to eat and lays in the far corner of the kitchen and whines. Omen undoubtedly is pleased with these letters because he reads them aloud four or five times for all to hear before stashing them away under the drawer inside his foot locker.

Private Kimmey and Pfc. Fullington were roommates at Iowa University two years ago and by chance of fate they got into the same company here at Guantanamo. There are some dissenters among the draftees and Kimmey and Fullington always take Uncle Sam's point of view. The other night Fullington came up to me and said, "dammit, these guys get my goat — always hollering about how lousy they got it. They ought to be in that dam Castro's army."

These examples certainly do not do justice to Ernie Pyle's style and they weren't meant too, but I hope they illustrate a part of a picture he painted. Ernie wrote about people who pass through history without notice but yet paved the way so that we may continue to live in freedom. He wrote about joy, sorrow, and the strong and weak, the good and the bad. He wrote with a point of view with an eye on realism.

There are many of Ernie's type of people today. They can be found in the military, the Peace Corps, in missionaries, in some government posts, in many places at all times.

If Ernie Pyle were alive today he would still be writing about the "common Joe" because that's the kind of guy Ernie was.

Senior Spotlight

Our Senior Spotlight this week glows around the figure of an outstanding young lady. Inez Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert C. Brown, of Lineville.

Inez's "trademarks" are her industry and her red hair.

INEZ BROWN

Around the SUB, she is known as Dean Willman's "good right arm"—she has worked in the dean of student's office since she came to Jax State.

Inez was salutarian of her 1960 graduating class at Lineville High School. She was an outstanding student in high school as well as active in extra-curricular organizations. She was president of the Beta Club, vice-president of the Student Council, vice-president of FHA, a member of FTA and Pep Club.

Inez didn't rest on her laurels after coming to college. She continued to be a straight-A student in college and she became a member of many clubs and honorary organizations. She is president of Three Keys, secretary of Kappa Delta Epsilon, and member of Phi Beta Lambda. Recently, she was selected for "Who's Who" among students in American Colleges and Universities.

Inez plans to get married after graduating and to teach in Calhoun or Clay counties. No one doubts that she will be a successful wife, mother and teacher. Whatever Inez does, she does well.

The male candidate for Senior Spotlight is a well-known, brilliant student by the name of William "Willy" Chitwood. Only 21 years of age, Willy plans to graduate in May with a BS in secondary education and a BA with a double major in English and history.

Willy is a graduate of Oxford High School, where he was active in Beta and Key Clubs and was in the top 10% of his graduating class.

He entered Jax State in the fall of 1959, and has distinguished himself in both curricular and extra-curricular activities.

WILLIAM CHITWOOD

He is now vice president of Sigma Tau Delta, chairman of the Writers' Club, a Soundings' representative, and member of Pi Gamma Mu and Three Keys. He has been on the dean's list every semester and, as of now, has an overall average of 2.9.

He was chosen to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities and has been nominated for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship.

Mr. Chitwood expects to do graduate work toward an MA at the University of Alabama and to get his Ph.D. as soon as possible. He plans to enter

Dr. Blanding said that an overwhelming majority of undergraduates at Vassar, as well as their parents and the alumni, supported her stand.

There are many lessons to be learned from Dr. Blanding's remarks, and chief among them is that each student must be himself or herself in order to escape the slavery of dependence on the dictates of others as a means of achieving popularity and prestige, and that one does not have to learn about lower moral standards by personal experience.

Student Cooperation Good

The student body is to be congratulated for their overwhelming support of the recent SGA-sponsored talent show. Certainly it is encouraging to the Student Government to see such a demonstration of student interest in campus activities.

Credit should also be given the Student Government Association for the presentation of such a good array of talent. Certainly the show met any expectations the student body might have had of it.

With continued cooperation between the EGA and the student body the social life of our campus should progress steadily upward.

IEF Conducting Fund Drive

the college faculty is under direction of division chairmen of the college; among the college staff the drive is directed by Mr. A. D. Edwards; laboratory school staff is headed by Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Stone. Dormitory directors are heading the drive among the students, and Mr. William M. Longshore is director of the drive for the remainder of the city of Jacksonville.

The new building will fulfill the dream of the International House director, Dr. James H. Jones, who founded the program in 1946 when he sponsored four French students. In 1949 the program was extended to include students from other countries, and since then it has had students from over 30 different countries. Of the nearly 150 students who have participated in the program, twenty have received either the B.S. or B.A. degree here.

Since its founding in 1946 the International House has received commendation from nationally-known newspaper writers and broadcasters. Miss Pauline Frederick, now NBC television's United Nations reporter, has visited the International House and once gave it coverage on nationwide radio. The International House has also been privileged to have visits from the late Miss Dorothy Thompson, distinguished newspaper columnist and lecturer, and Drew Pearson, world famous columnist, who has written about the International House in his syndicated column.

times as many students could have afforded to see them.

The "Four Freshmen" are one of the nation's top entertainers and J'ville was fortunate to have been included in their tour which included George Tech, Alabama, and Vanderbilt. The audience and entertainers were very well accommodated in our beautiful new auditorium, but because of the price many of the students and faculty missed a very enjoyable Sunday afternoon program.

This new set-up could be adopted in several ways. It might have to be voted on by the students, or the SGA might be able to suggest it to the administration. Maybe a committee could be set up to decide what entertainment groups would be selected to come to J'ville. This committee could consist of possibly the SGA and Dean Willman [who is open and willing for suggestions] or however it could be worked out.

We hope that these questions will be answered and possibly this suggestion adopted. These cultural and modern activities are entertaining and enlightening for modern students in a cultural and modern college who have to leave someday and meet the competitions of the cultural and modern world.

Sincerely,
Johnny Brookes

Sigma Tau Delta Pledges Named

The pledge meeting for the Sigma Tau Delta was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Roebuck on Oct. 30. The following were pledged:

Rebecca McClendon, Wenona Jones, Ruth Marie Evans, Jethro Harbison, Dianne Meagher, Carol Jean Gilmore, Fred Clontz, Louise Riddle, Kay Savage, and Eva Pennington.

The initiation ceremony is to be held on Nov. 13 at 6 p.m. in the Blue Room. All pledges as well as old members are urged to attend.

An interesting talk by an outstanding speaker is scheduled in addition to the initiation ceremony.

Jax State To Be Alma Mater Of 12 From One Family

Jacksonville State College seems to be the last step in the process of growing up for members of the W. L. Little family of Centre. Presently there are four members from this 13-children family at Jax State—four others have at one time attended Jacksonville, and two daughters still at home plan to come to Jacksonville upon graduation from high school. Mr. and Mrs. Little also received their degrees from Jacksonville State.

Those enrolled here now are Julia, Thomas, and Bill Little, and Mrs. Mary Ann Roberts.

Julia, last year's sophomore beauty, is now a junior majoring in biology. Thomas, a second semester freshman, is majoring in business administration. Bill, quarterback for last year's Cherokee Warriors, is now a freshman working toward a degree in math. Mrs. Roberts of Glencoe will graduate this year with a degree in elementary education.

The Little family, recently spotlighted in the Birmingham News, has certainly made its mark on Jacksonville State College. If the college had the support of a few more families like the Littles, we'd be a university in no time.

This young man's artistry will be enhanced by his musical versatility. He will play Flamen-co [music of the Spanish gypsies], classical selections, folk songs, and some beautiful songs written by himself. He will perform on the classic or Spanish guitar the banjo, and will sing the thought provoking folk music with a warm and feeling voice and style.

Sit-In Sessions With MENC

The Jacksonville State Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference has organized and in conjunction with Circle K, will soon present a new idea in spending a leisure hour. President Ronald Hyche announced this novel project after a recent meeting.

Everyone who enjoys music of any kind, but who never quite gained a concept of how it came to be heard, how it looks on the page, and why, will be invited to "open house" sessions — in the SUB — with musicians from our own campus.

The first of these sit-in sessions will feature those jivin' jazz men of the Phi Mu Alpha Dance Band. The Little Wit, "Brother Dave" Walters, director of the Southerners, will be on hand to fill in the blank spots on "hep" type music while the rest of the guys will cease to be irritated as we look over their shoulders, ask questions, and soak up some of the cool sound waves they create.

Later in the season look for more and less serious such hours at various times — even in daylight, maybe.

Oblong Observations

It is a crying shame that the majority of any audience at Jax be made up of people who are not connected with the college.

New Library Check-Out Policy

Because of the necessity of being sure all materials have been checked out of the library, an assistant will ask to check all your books and materials at the exit. This is not a duty the staff enjoys, but one we feel is necessary in order to ensure the preservation and the future availability of as many books and library materials as possible.

Your cooperation in having your library books open at the date due, and your notebooks and brief cases open for checking will speed up the process of your passing through this check out point.

All members of the library staff appreciate your understanding and cooperation.

National Exams Now Available

Bulletins of information on graduate record examinations and national examinations and attached application forms are now available in Dean Willman's office in the Student Union Building. The graduate record examinations are now required of all students seeking to enter the graduate school at Jacksonville State College.

National teacher examinations are being given for the convenience of education students who plan to seek employment in Florida, North Carolina, and South Carolina or other states which require certain scores on these examinations.

Jax State Beauties

"The most beautiful girls in the world have passed through these doors." Perhaps this inscription should appear on the Bibb Graves entrance, for no truer statement could be made. Through the years our campus has been graced with an abundance of the graceful, and this year is by no means any exception. The class beauties are selected by popular vote by the other members of their class, and therefore are judged not only by their natural beauty, but by how well they are able to handle their gifts. Let it never be said of a gem of these hills that beauty is only skin deep.

The loveliest of the senior class are [L. to R.] Miss Carmen Rubio, Brazil; Miss Judith Jones, Macon, Georgia; and Miss Sandra Parrish, Roanoke.

Junior beauty is personified in Miss Anita Henry, Miss Lem Lanier, Tallahassee; and Miss Mary Gibbs, Gadsden.

GAMECOCK TALENT—Winners of the Fall talent show in group competition were the Flatback Five; "Choc" Hamner accepted the prize. First place winner was Jimmy Purcell, in individual competition, followed closely by "Skip" Pittman, second place, and Joe Otts, third.

A large percentage of the student body attended with many off-campus guests being present, also. Not only did this event draw one of the largest audiences of the year, it also displayed a new line of talent which will be an asset to the school in future entertainment events.

Bringing up the winners' circle were: first place, Jimmy Purcell, who won the audience with his country-style comedy describing his visit to the National Democratic Convention and his song about "Grandma's Lyesoap"; Second place was taken by Skip Pitman who changed the pace of things with his harmonica and his version of "Moon River". In third place we find Joe Otts who sang the lament of "Please Help Me, I'm Falling" with a newly added touch, of course. In the group competition, the winners were the "Flip-Flop, Flatback Five", a crew of campus-cutups who rearranged the words of "Thunder Road" for effect. [What an effect!!]

Other acts participating in this talent show included singers: Martha Ann Moore, Billy Church, Kathy Ward, and Glenn Hester; Comedy groups: the team of Helen Steakley and Starlitters and others provided nice background music and stirred up quite a bit of excitement with their own specialties.

Congratulations and thanks go to Mike Kimberly and Paul Bain, emcees for the talent show. They kept the audience in a "giggle" with their jokes, skits, and ad-libs. Jax State hopes to find these boys in the "driver's seat" when talent show time rolls 'round again.

Jax State thanks all concerned in making this event possible. We hope future events will capture the students' interest and be as successful as was this Talent Show of the Fall, 1962.

Two Free Books Now Available

Two very helpful free books especially designed to help Jacksonville State College seniors secure jobs upon graduation are now available in the office of the Dean of Students. The 1963 College Placement Annual lists hundreds of job opportunities in a great variety of job categories.

The book titled "Career" goes into more detail about a fewer number of jobs.

All seniors are welcome to pick up copies of each of these books while the supply lasts.

delegate to the United Nations, whose daughter was a member of the program here; and French wartime ambassador to the United States, Henri Bonnet.

The primary purpose of the International House is to train and prepare young people from this and other countries for leadership, in the interest of world brotherhood and peace, based on the proposition that respect, understanding, and a search for true values are the means by which this may be attained.

Our International House is unique among institutions of its kind in that every student makes some substantial contribution to the program. All students here are carefully selected and are on scholarships provided locally. Many of the students make their contributions by teaching French, Spanish, or German to their fellow students, and in the elementary and secondary schools of Jacksonville. Other students publish The International Voice, the official bulletin of the International House. The students present programs of native dances and folk-songs for various organizations and appear before many thousands of people every year.

Our International House's uniqueness is also shown in that every International Student has an American roommate, and they are all adherents of some religious faith, be it Protestantism, Catholicism, Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, or Bahaimism. It is rare for an International student to be unhappy at Jacksonville, and they all return to their countries as ambassadors of goodwill for America.

Examples of the high quality students who participate in the program are Mohammed Abutalib [Morocco], Aida Ferrarone [Lima, Peru] and Tommy Watson [Anniston]. Mohammed attended Jacksonville State from 1954 until his graduation in 1958. After returning to Fes, Morocco, he was selected by the American embassy to open an International House there to receive business and professional people from all over the world. He was later chosen by the United States and Moroccan governments to go to Washington and work on an Arabic-English dictionary. Mohammed expects this book, the first of its kind, to be finished by 1964.

Aida Ferrarone also was graduated in 1958. Her first job upon returning to Peru was teaching American children there. After two years she was selected by the United States government to work in Washington, D. C., for the Voice of America; she now writes and broadcast in Spanish.

Tommy Watson, of Anniston, after four years in the program was given a Fulbright scholarship which enabled him to study a year in France; he then received a teaching fellowship in romance languages at the University of Washington. He was awarded a teaching fellowship at the University of California at Berkeley, where he received th Ph. D. degree in 1960. After spending another year in Europe doing research while on a Woodrow Wilson traveling grant he accepted a position as professor of remance languages at Pomona College [Claremont, California].

Phi Beta Lambda Hears Bowman

The Jacksonville State College chapter of the Phi Beta Lambda met Wednesday, Oct. 31. The featured speaker for the meeting was Mr. Bowman, a representative of Sears Roebuck & Company, who spoke to the club on the "Success Story of the Sears Roebuck Company".

Don't forget to buy your student Directory now. The supply is limited. To get yours, see a member of the Phi Beta Lambda. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 5, in Room 304, Bill Graves Hall. All members are urged to attend.

Campus Chatter

Words mean a whole lot to all of us, and if you doubt the importance of the manner in which they're used, consider:

Call her a hen and she's mad; call her a chick and she loves it. Call him flat-headed and he wants to slug you; call him level-headed and he's flattered. Call her a sight and she'll get into a huff; call her a vision and she blooms. Call her a kitten and she purrs; call her a cat and get out of the way.

The Russian school teacher was giving her students an examination. "Who were the first human beings?" she asked.

One youngster responded promptly, "Adam and Eve were the first."

"Correct," said the teacher. "And what nationality were they?"

"Russian," answered the young student.

"Correct again," said the teacher. "And how do you know?"

"Well," answered the pupil, "they had no house to live in, no clothes to wear and only one apple between them — and they called it Paradise."

More and more these days, any time we save getting there is spent looking for a place to park.

Curtain Falls On Intramural Football; Bengals 1962 Champs

By WALTER CLARK

The very thrilling and exciting intramural football season has ended with the great Bengals, coached by Larry Mack Lee, coming out on top as the 1962 champions. The Bengals are prepared to play one more game against the All-Stars this Wednesday night at 6:30. It is apparent that they have the necessary qualities for a winning team: weight in the line and speed in the backfield.

Playing the end positions for the Bengals are Charles Lumsden, Bugger Brooks, Lou Higgins and John Smith. Charles is a 188 pound physical education major from Piedmont. Bugger, who is the "do it all" end from B. B. Comer, is better known for his baseball playing but is also good in football. He weighs 167 pounds and is majoring in ceramics. Lou is an agriculture major from Eastaloga, weighing 139 pounds. John hails from Piedmont and is majoring in business.

Holding down the middle of the line is Gary Tucker, Jim Partain, Pug Stripland, and Wayne Clotfelter. Gary, a transfer from Alabama, rocks the scales at 215 and is majoring in pounds and comes from Orlando, Fla.. Pug is a 195 pounder from Gadsden and majors in sociology. Wayne is also from Gadsden, majors in history, and weighs 172 pounds.

At the center position the Bengals have their version of Leroy Jordan. This rough, tough man is David Lynn Moore. David, known as "leatherneck" by his friends, weighs 195 pounds and his home is Birmingham.

Few teams in flag football this year were fortunate enough to have as many good backs as the Bengals. In the backfield for the Bengals are: Bobby Sides, 165 pounds, forestry major, Anniston; Adolf Lee, 180 pounds, physical education major, Addison; Terry Baggett, 155 pounds, physical education major, Fairfield; Larry Holder, pre-law major, Albertville; Morris Parker, pre-med major, Anniston; and "little preacher" Dwight Sanderson, 150 pounds, Birmingham.

These boys have not lost a game and thus have wrapped up the championship. They have played very well and have been coached very well also by Mack Lee. Everyone is urged to see

Basketball Season Opens With Berry

By JERRY DeSPAIN

Basketball season will officially open for Jax State on Nov. 29 when Coach Roberson's basketball Gamecocks take to the court against the Berry College quintet, followed by Walker College in Jasper on Dec. 1.

The Gamecocks will have eight returning lettermen from last year's team which had a twelve and eight record. These men are Ronnie Harris, Henry Mathis, James Williams and J. L. Bellamy at forward, Don Wallace at center and Rodney Shirley, Windell Nix and Mitchell Caldwell at the guard positions.

The Gamecocks will have a great amount of speed on the court this season combined with a lot of talent and experience.

Coach Roberson will have James Williams as his student coach and Claude Washington and James Bryson as managers.

The game with Berry College will be at home in the Stevenson gym [the college gym] Let's all go down and give the Gamecocks a big send off into their 1962-63 season. Remember that date, 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 29. Support your basketball team!

Gamecocks Close 1962 Grid Season With Home Tilt

By CHARLES COUCH

Many of you recall November 10, 1961 when Coach Don Salls' Jacksonville State College Gamecocks defeated a very fine Livingston team on their home field by a score of 9 to 6.

The 3-point margin by which the Gamecocks won the contest came by virtue of a 34 yard, first quarter field goal. Coach Salls was surely anticipating, and rightly so, a close game when he sent in the field goal attempt in the first stanza.

Big, likable Jim Harris was everyone's hero when he split the uprights from 34 yards out. The Jaxmen were able to finish ahead of Livingston and thus establish a 5-4 record for the '61 season with 2-1 ACC record.

In the 12 times these two teams have met since 1946, Jacksonville has won 9 while the Livingston eleven has won 3.

The 1962 edition of the Gamecocks has given an excellent showing for itself. Arland Carter, Little All-American from Fort Payne, has run the pigskin 94 times for a total net gain of 554 yards. The Gamecocks, sporting such stalwarts as Arland Carter, Eugene Griep, Johnny Tipton, and Ronnie Harris, are leading the ACC in team passing and running.

The '62 Gamecocks are captained by the very able Lamar Caldwell and Bobby Joe Johnson.

This year the Jacksonville - Livingston game [Jacksonville's final game] will be Nov. 17, at 2:30 p.m. The administration plans this to be a closed weekend. This should not be necessary. The students of Jacksonville State College should have enough enthusiasm and school spirit so that every student residing on campus and every commuter should endeavor to see this ball game and cheer the Jaxmen to the top.

Six Seniors Play Last Game

Six of the Gamecock football players will graduate this year. This weekend when they play against Livingston they will be playing their last college game. All six of them are outstanding players and their leaving will be a big loss to the team.

Ray Gentles, from Scottsboro, weighs 190 pounds and is 5' 10" tall. Ray has been a star ever since he first came to Jacksonville. He is the fastest man on the Gamecock squad and has won many ACC honors. This year he has done a fine job and is one of the leaders in the conference.

Johnson

Bobby Joe Johnson, from Centre, weighs 215 pounds and is 6' 4" tall. Bobby is a guard and is one of the fastest and most rugged of the linemen. He is a terrific blocker on both offense and defense. He was named Most Outstanding Line-man in 1960 and 1961 and also named to the All Conference team in 1961. Bobby is the football captain this year.

Jackie Jackson, from Bowdon, Georgia, weighs 215 pounds and is 6' 1" tall. This year Jackie is playing end for the team but previously he played at the tackle position. He is great on defense and is quick to see what the opponents are trying

MEET THE GAMECOCKS

It was a great day and the start of a tremendous career when Arland Carter first showed up for football practice four years ago. Arland, who was a Little All-American last year, is one of the most outstanding players Jax State has ever seen.

This superior football player really began his career at Fort Payne when he entered high making him a real triple threat.

And this year? Arland is well on the way to breaking his last year's rushing record and is a candidate for Little All-American again this year. At the end of seven games he has carried the ball 92 times for a net gain of 554 yards and is the leader in the ACC for rushing. He has done a great job in the loga, weighing 139 pounds. John hails from Piedmont and is majoring in business.

Holding down the middle of the line is Gary Tucker, Jim Partain, Pug Stripland, and Wayne Clotfelter. Gary, a transfer from Alabama, rocks the scales at 215 and is majoring in physical education. Jim, a pre-dental student, weighs 200 tucker, pre-dental major, 180 pounds; and "little preacher" Dwight Sanderson, 150 pounds, Birmingham.

These boys have not lost a game and thus have wrapped up the championship. They have played very well and have been coached very well also by Mack Lee. Everyone is urged to see them play Wednesday when they face the All-Star team.

Sportswise

The football season is almost over and basketball is about to begin. There's no time to think about studying because there is always a ball game to go see. The football season ends with a home game against Livingston. The game will be played at 2:00 in the afternoon. Why in the afternoon? Well, Livingston plays all of their games in the afternoon if possible and since Jacksonville is going to beat them we decided to let them have their choice of time.

Then on Nov. 29, the basketball Gamecocks will meet Berry College on our home court. The cheerleaders have said that they are going to be present at the basketball games this year contrary to the practice of former years. Our team needs your support. Without school spirit and student support there is no need for a team.

Sports in 1961—

On Nov. 9 the Professional Golfers Association voted unanimously at Hollywood, Fla., to eliminate a clause from its constitution limiting its membership to Caucasians.

On the 13th Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, scored a unanimous 15-round decision over Kazuo Takayama of Japan to retain the world featherweight championship in Tokyo.

The 25th was the day Ohio State won the Big Ten college football championship by defeating Michigan University 50-20 in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Minnesota wound up in second place when it was defeated 23-21 by Wisconsin the same day.

The faculty is really getting rough on the students around here now. For instance, the other day one of our professors was asked if he planned to give a quiz the next day in class. He answered nonchalantly, "A quiz? Why, I'd climb through that transom over the door before I'd give a quiz tomorrow." A sigh of relief passed through the classroom. But the next day, after the class had assembled, there was a sudden clamor outside the door. The transom began to creak open and, to the utter amazement of the students, in climbed the professor—grinning happily and clutching a three-page quiz in his hand.

when Arland Carter first showed up for football practice four years ago. Arland, who was a Little All-American last year, is one of the most outstanding players Jax State has ever seen.

This superior football player really began his career at Fort Payne when he entered high school and lettered in basketball, baseball, and football, earning some wonderful honors in football. He was selected All-County for three years, All-Tri-State for two years, and All-State for one year.

ARLAND CARTER

Here at Jacksonville Arland is majoring in physical education and minoring in geography. When he graduates he plans to coach athletics and teach social sciences. He is a member of the J Club and is a fine student. Proof of this is that he was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities this year. And, in addition to being a fine student, Arland is very well liked on the campus by everyone because of his friendliness and fine personality. Very few people can achieve these goals in addition to being a football hero.

Here is a description of Arland football-wise last year: He was a great star who did everything for the Gamecocks. He was named to the Associated Press Little All American team, selected as the "Back of the Year" in the Alabama Collegiate Conference, and chosen as Jax State's "Most Outstanding Back" of the year. In the 1961 season alone he gained 656 yards rushing, 487 yards passing, and heaved 6 TD passes,

And this year? Arland is well on the way to breaking his last year's rushing record and is a candidate for Little All-American again this year. At the end of seven games he has carried the ball 92 times for a net gain of 554 yards and is the leader in the ACC for rushing. He has done a great job in the backfield and has scored many points for the Gamecock team.

The name Arland Carter will echo in Paul Snow Memorial Stadium for many years to come after he graduates as the most outstanding player Jacksonville State College has ever had on her team. She will be proud to have him as an alumnus.

BOBBY JOE JOHNSON

By JAMES HASTINGS

One of the greatest things that ever happened to Jax State occurred when Bobby Joe Johnson decided to obtain a degree from the college of the Gamecocks. Bobby, at 220 lbs, is one of the most rugged linemen that Jax State has ever had. He is quick both on offense and defense and has a habit of playing in the opponent's backfield. It is certainly going to be hard to replace a boy of Bobby's ability.

Bobby hails from Centre where he attended Cherokee County High. One would only have to look at the honors Bobby achieved in high school to know that he was an excellent athlete. He lettered in football, basketball and baseball and as you can see he is an all around player. Bobby was also chosen to be an all-state football player at Cherokee County High. With all this activity he still had time to be in Who's Who, plans this to be a closed weekend. This should not be necessary. The students of Jacksonville State College should have enough enthusiasm and school spirit so that every student residing on campus and every commuter should endeavor to see this ball game and cheer the Jaxmen On To Victory.

As an added incentive to remain on campus, there is to be a dance in Leone Cole Auditorium the night before the big game, sponsored by Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade.

Then there are those poor souls who stand around and itch for something when they should be out scratching for it.

secretary of FFA, and president of the C club. Thus the Gamecocks could only come out on top when he chose to come here.

Bobby is the son of Mrs. Reba Johnson and she is indeed fortunate to have a boy like him. In the future, Bobby plans to enter the field of coaching and I am sure that there are quite a few high schools that would be more than happy to have him on their coaching staff. He is majoring in physical education and minoring in geography and will graduate with a BS degree in secondary education.

Not only has he achieved many honors in the field of sports at Jacksonville, but he has also been president of the J Club and this in itself is no small achievement.

In the last three years, Bobby has won many honors here in Gamecock-land. For both years 1960 and 1961 he was chosen the most valuable lineman on the Gamecock roster. His play was so good in 1961 that he was chosen to the All ACC team. What more could he achieve?

Well this year he is the captain of the Gamecock squad and he is the sort of fellow whom one expects to be a leader. As Bobby is a senior, this year will be his last for the Gamecocks. Even though he missed two games because of injuries this season he in no small way has been responsible for the impressive showing of the Gamecocks thus far. After he is gone, people will still be talking of the boy from Centre who ranks in the top with the best players in Gamecock history.

6'1" tall. This Jackie is playing end for the team but previously he played at the tackle position. He is great on defense and is quick to see what the opponents are trying to play. Te is a terrific tackler also.

Reid

Tom Reid, from Trussville, weighs 185 pounds and is 6' tall. Tom is very versatile and can play in any position in the backfield. For JSC he has played half-back, fullback and end. He is always ready to play and will with great determination and drive.

Arland Carter, from Fort Payne, weighs 180 pounds and is 6' tall. Arland is one of the greatest players Jax State has ever had on her team. He is a great star who can do everything in the backfield. For a complete story of Arland you will find him featured under Meet The Gamecocks.

Carter

Caldwell

Lamar Caldwell, from Alexander City, weighs 180 pounds and is 5' 10" tall. Lamar is another tremendous player. He is a truly outstanding player, a great competitor, and a fierce tackler and blocker. And he can handle that pigskin very well. Last year he was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates and is co-captain for the football team this year.

Many pleasant memories can be recalled when one thinks of these seniors and what they have done for Jacksonville in the last four years. We salute these great football players and wish them all the success in the world.
