WHO'S WHO STUDENTS AT JAX STATE — Named for "Who's Who" at Jacksonville State College for 1963-64 were, left to right [1st row], Janice Cook, Cullman; Lani Mainland, Jacksonville; Gerald Waldrop, Gadsden; Judy Shanaberger, Jacksonville; Mary Gibbs, Gadsden; Sara Prestridge, Heflin; [2nd row] Nona Sue Moore, Anniston; Janice MacConchie, Alvin; Alvin Smoake, Jacksonville; Judy Mims, Alexandria; Margie Baldwin, Shawmut; Glenelle Halpin, Lineville; Jane Prestwood, Rirmingham; Helen Steakley, Crossville; [3rd row] David Moon, Sycamore; Robert Morton, Albertville; Elizabeth Ann Campbell, Munford; Hudon Priest, Jacksonville; J. V. Williams, Woodland; Dixie Dennis, Heflin; Larry Davis, Boaz; Wenona Jones, Guntersville; Rodney Shirey, Fort Payne; Raymond Kay, Rock Spring, Ga.; [4th row] George E. Smith, Bessemer; Randall Cole, Fort Payne; Jerald Abercrombie, Blountsville; Wayne Dempsey, Jacksonville; Dale Dixon, Talladega; Ronnie Harris, Crossville; Mitchell Caldwell, Dadeville. Not present were Lavon Lang, Albertville; and Kathleen Donaldson, Gadsden.

Hanson Heads Cadets; Other Leaders Named

Cadet ranks and duty assignments were announced by the military department of Jacksonville State College the past weekend. Col. John A. Brock, commanding officer, stated that 792 students are enrolled in ROTC this semester.

Cadet Col. Robert W. Hanson, Boaz, is brigade commander; Cadet Lt. Col. James Hudon Priest, Jacksonville, Brigade S-3; Cadet Major Morgan E. Canady, Birmingham, S-1; Cadet Major Herbert E. Griffin, Lineville, Bridge, S-4.

Company commanders are Cadet 1st Lt. John S. Turner, Jr., Eastaboga; Cadet Captains Paul R. Isbell, Leeds; John E. Brooks, Gadsden; Franklin J. Allen, Blue Mountain; Bobby R. Johnson, Jacksonville; Melvin L. Morrow, Oxford; Kenneth H. Pollard, Borden Springs; William G. Rylant, Sylacauga; Roger L. Williams, Anniston; William T. Griggs, Union Grove; Michael R. McGuire, Montgomery; Jim D. Weaver, Cedartown, Ga.; Troy Crumpton, Roanoke.

At SGA Meeting

$2000 Administration Grant Announced

Talent Show Emcees Named

The Student Government Association, meeting Oct. 15, gave the job of emceeing the Fall Talent Show to Tony Normand and Judy Shanaberger, the muchly applauded twosome who emceed the summer talent event. Ira Joe Crawford made the suggestion that the two be asked to do this semester's show because of the high quality of the event last summer. Mitchell Caldwell offered a second, and the motion passed.

In a financial report by the SGA treasurer, Bobby Clotfelter, it was announced that the administration had made an appropriation of $2,000 to the association. This pushes the SGA treasury to $4,330.64, which according to Clotfelter, "is an astounding figure compared to what we are used to at this time of year." After the meeting of present obligations which amount to $1,031.21, the sum will be narrowed to $3,299.

Taft To Speak Here Next Week

We want to remind everyone that Mr. Charles Taft, son of President William H. Taft, will make 2 campus addresses on Nov. 7, at 2:00 p.m., and 8:00 p.m. His subjects will be "What Use is Our Education?" and "Moral Foundations of Governments."

Mr. Taft is a former mayor of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Clowning Ballet Group First In Concert Series

The first concert of the Jacksonville Community Concert Association series will be on Friday night, Nov. 8, in the Leone Cole Auditorium at 8 p.m., when the Nelle Fisher Ballet Co. will be presented.

This may be the first opportunity many have had to see a real ballet. The company is composed of five dancers with Nelle Fisher, choreographer, as soloist.

A food committee was appointed to work with Mr. Haywood, director of food service, on problems that might arise in his department. Student complaints and suggestions concerning the cafeteria should be presented to the committee, which is composed of John Ray, Jim Strickland, Jo Ann Thrasher, and Tony Normand, chairman.
Clowning Ballet Group
First In Concert Series

The first concert of the Jacksonville Community Concert Association series will be on Friday night, Nov. 8, in the Leone Cole Auditorium at 8 p.m., when the Nelle Fisher Ballet Co. will be presented.

This may be the first opportunity many have had to see a real ballet. The company is composed of five dancers with Nelle Fisher, choreographer, as soloist.

According to news reports from such cities as Cincinnati, Kalamazoo, New Haven and Boston, the group "performs superbly", "they have mastered the fine art of clowning, the pantomime", "a refreshing different concert . . . welcome to play a return engagement", "Miss Fisher held the audience spellbound", "A leap from ballet or a mannerism from Chaplin . . . freed the art form of its starred rigidity".

This company of professional ballet dancers is said to be equally famous for their acting ability and they combine the art forms of theatre-dance-pantomime in an enviable record of repeat bookings on all leading hotels, night clubs and colleges.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets can be purchased from any Scabbard and Blade member for $2.50 [couple].

Nelle Fisher—Ballet Artist
A Clarification of Policy

Recently there have been complaints to the editors of The Collegian concerning their editorial policy. We feel the need of making a few things known, and clarifying our own position.

It has been argued that we have made it our policy to present the views of the students in any manner that we see fit. This may be true, but if so, it is because of our views being shared with the students. We do not give the students an opportunity to express their opinions.

We would like to go around town reading the college administration would like for us to present our views. This may be true, but if so, it is because of our views being presented to the students. We do not give the students an opportunity to express their opinions.

We have the responsibility to make the event what it was. The editors are in perfect accord with the Administration. There is no need to subject ourselves to the consequences of our actions. The editors, and we see no need to subject ourselves to the consequences of our actions.

A majority of our staff body has shown its appreciation for the facilities it provides. The administration now has plans for an elaborate addition to the present facilities. We have the same standards as our competitors.

A majority of our staff body has shown its appreciation for the facilities it provides. The administration now has plans for an elaborate addition to the present facilities. We have the same standards as our competitors.

We have the same standards as our competitors. We are competing in competition with other good products, who is going to buy it? We are missing out in this respect by associating with schools in a lower class than we. I think we are a fine institution.

A majority of our staff body has shown its appreciation for the facilities it provides. The administration now has plans for an elaborate addition to the present facilities. We have the same standards as our competitors.

Our atmosphere is very much affected by our athletic teams. Why is it that approximately 80% of our students can’t tell you whom we play or when? Why is it that many students have to be persuaded to put a Jacksonville sticker on their cars? (There ought to be an SGA fine against it.) Why does one hear other colleges’ cheers in our dining hall on Saturday afternoon? Why is it that when most students are home for the holidays and summer vacation they don’t brag about their college? Where is the traditional freshman spirit? Where is the excitement, pride, and loyalty that college students (and alumni) like to show in their teams whom they turn creates a collegiate atmosphere.
Historic Jacksonville

Anyone who had looked over the campus and the downtown area recently must surely have noticed that there has been an epidemic of historical markers, and we (particularly as history students) are glad to see it.

The first thing this writer did when he came to Jacksonville three years ago was to go around town reading historical markers—there were a lot then, but the historical associations are hard to keep up with, and now we’re behind in reading. We encourage all of the students to pause a few minutes and read these markers and to share in the rich heritage of the area.

Blessed is the town that is given the interest of two such groups as the Alabama and the Forney historical associations—and this is our Jacksonville.

The Flag, Welcomed Sight

Last Monday morning saw, after several months of absence, the return of a welcomed sight to the Jacksonville State campus—the United States flag, flying proudly atop a previously lonesome flag pole. For quite sometime the pole had been derelict in need of repair, but the flag could be hoisted. Since a new flag pole is soon to be constructed in front of Bibb Graves, the pole’s repair was neglected.

New flag pole, or no new flag pole, Circle K decided the flag should be flying, so a faithful member, Jimmy Brooks, climbed the pole, attached a rope, and later secured a flag. Members of Circle K will now raise and lower the flag every day.

We commend Circle K for its concern and for its positive action.

The Care Of Jacksonville Estate

Dear Jax Family:

When you think of it each of us is a sort of co-owner of the entire Jacksonville campus. It is yours as much as anyone else’s, since it is the property of the taxpayers of the whole state of Alabama. Most of us are either taxpayers or our fathers and mothers are, so the campus is our “estate.”

Maybe that puts a little different light on our estate. After all when we are at home on our own or our parent’s property, we take good care of it. Our property and its care is, a reflection on each of us, so we keep it neat and attractive. Now the same attitude should possess us when our campus is concerned.

We don’t want to be ashamed of a dirty and littered campus when we bring our friends here.

The remedy:

1. Don’t throw material down on the campus in the first place. Keep it until you pass a trash receptacle.
2. When you see litter on our campus, pick it up as a matter of pride and put it in a receptacle.
3. If you see others dropping litter, remind them tactfully that its campus and point them toward the nearest trash receptacle.
4. Be particularly conscientious as you leave the dining hall and the Student Union.

The outcome? A campus which will be all ours. Take care of your “estate form now on—its yours.

Sincerely,

Dean Willman

Dear Gabby

Gabby: Why have the SUB doors been marked “entrance only” and “exit only”? I notice that you must enter on the left and leave on the left. This sounds to me like some infiltrator’s plot to condition the students think to avoid the Right. What do you think?

Young Republican

Dear YR: You have a better answer than I could come up with.

Dear Editor:

In behalf of the students and members of the Coffee Shop staff, I wish to thank Mr. Howard O. Prichard for providing the ten decks of cards, three sets of chess, four sets of checkers, one ping pong set, and one bowling set for use by stu-

We sincerely appreciate Mr. Prichard’s concern.

Yours truly,

J. E. Pain
Director of Auxiliary Services

Drama Guild

Proud Of Float

Dear Editor:

I would like to express deep pride in the Masque and Wig’s winning first place in the float competition last week. The Guild is only a small group even though we are growing rapidly and are very ambitious. We are an extremely active group of people who share a common interest in creative dramatics. This includes the arts and crafts of play production, and dramatic portrayal of character. When called upon to enter a float in the parade, we members had boundless imagination and ingenuity. The result of our work was, of course, fifty dollars for the club treasury.

These deserving distinctive recognition, who are, by no means, the only ones deserving gratitude and thanks, are: Harmon Turner, President of the Guild and organizer of the float committee; Shirley Williams and Kay Dobie, the collective artists whose ideas add a real touch to our practice; Randall Hston, who hauled the materials in his uncle’s truck (Thanks, also, goes to the uncle); Tom Perkins, the brave soul who hid inside the float and pulled the string which made the gamecock; Bab Sherman, who painted the ark; Betty McClure, who donated the yard which to construct the float; Duffle Pate, Thomas Reed and Ken Abbott, all of whom worked extremely hard.

We are many, of course, whose names do not appear here, because of lack of space, but it is hoped they shall know their diligence by the result. and in case of any different one month later are

Sincerely,

Mrs. LeFevre
Sponsor

Homecoming Very Impressive

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter as an expression of my admiration and approval with the way the homecoming was conducted. I am sure all who witnessed the events were impressed. I have heard much about the parade, game, and all the other activities were equally impressive.

I am very glad for the whole weekend made one fact quite evident—the students of Jax State can do anything they want, and do it well, if they make it in the right spirit of cooperation and team work.

Congratulations to all who helped make this year’s homecoming an overwhelming success.

Sincerely,

Dick Johnson
Senior
By CHARLES LYBRAND
COLLEGIAN Staff Writer

Jacksonville State College has occupied two different campuses in its sixty-one years. In 1833 the Jacksonville Normal School was begun in one sixty-two foot square, two story building donated to the new normal school by the progressive-minded members of the town of Jacksonville who had built it as the beginning of their courthouse and rented a hotel on the campus. Later the Normal School bought the building donated to the new Jacksonville College. When life returned after the Civil War, the building was torn down and a passing era were eventually swallowed by the dustbin of time.

In 1916 the Jacksonville Normal School was suddenly reborn as the Jacksonville State Teachers' College, and the above building was torn down. Today, all that is left of that period, when life was so much different from what it now is, is... Old Forney Hall stands above it all as a monument dedicated to the homey charm and the nostalgia attached to it. This dormitory was built with $75,000 aid from the state whatsoever. The total cost of this building was $75,000 and was built with no aid from the state whatsoever. [taken from "History of Jacksonville State Teachers' College", by Wilson. A976; 16.W68H; Ramona Wood Library].

Jacksonville owned only twenty acres at its old location, and considering its present productive spirit, it is remarkable that it remained as long as it did on that small lot. In 1930 the old campus was partly deactivated and, one by one, the stately, columned buildings of a passing era were eventually torn down. Today, all that is left of that period, when life was so much different from what it now is, is... Old Forney Hall stands above it all as a monument dedicated to the homey charm and nostalgia. To look upon the gallant edifice is like looking upon a part of oneself which one never knew existed. Forney Hall is yet alive and is yet a part of us, but her life continues only through a veil of nostalgia.

This year our administration plans to renovate Forney Hall and make it ready for occupancy by next fall. Amiable and enthusiastic Dr. Cole, the "building president", views Forney as... too good a building to let go. $75,000 is to be used to put her back on her feet. A new heating unit will be installed, the entire inside will be repainted, the plumbing will be modernized and the bathrooms tiled. The same type of furniture used in the present dormitories will be installed and one hundred and fifteen rooms will be made ready for two hundred boys. The main advantage of the new dorm will be its price, designed to give those who otherwise would not be able to stay on campus, a chance to do so. Eight dollars a month will be charged, almost half that charged by any of the other boys' dorms.

Once again there will be two campuses. Let us" hope that someday, soon, they will be connected by a third. If all goes normally, Dr. Cole, who just "can't stand still", will see that such happens.

FORDY HALL—This drawing of Forney Hall is the way the building may someday look, as envisioned by the writer of the article, Charles Lybrand.

Homecoming '63

By DONNA BROWNING

To earn more! Learn more! A person who can read and doesn't is just as bad as a person who can't read at all.

This is just a sample of the advice you will find posted around the room at the college's Materials Center. But advice isn't the only thing found in the Materials Center. If you are a student or instructor at Jacksonville State the Materials Center has many things for you. There are all of the state-adopted textbooks, charts and posters on many subjects, over 1700 mounted pictures on a variety of subjects, 70 filmstrips, 250 book jackets, and over 7000 different pamphlets dealing with 1000 different subjects, all of which can be checked out for a limited period of time.

Our Materials Center is located on the first floor of the Graves Hall directly across from the art department. The Center occupies two rooms and has a total of 66 people in order to give you efficient service.

MATERIAL CENTER—Consulting a textbook in the college's Material Center are, from left, Mrs. Liston Crow, director; Mrs. Margaret Williams; and Dr. Howell.

You are cordially invited to come in and look around and feel free to check anything out that you wish. The Instructional Materials Center is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

For the other boys' dorms.

Once again there will be two campuses. Let us" hope that someday, soon, they will be connected by a third. If all goes normally, Dr. Cole, who just "can't stand still", will see that such happens.

FORDY HALL—This drawing of Forney Hall is the way the building may someday look, as envisioned by the writer of the article, Charles Lybrand.

Homecoming '63

By DONNA BROWNING

To earn more! Learn more! A person who can read and doesn't is just as bad as a person who can't read at all.

This is just a sample of the advice you will find posted around the room at the college's Materials Center. But advice isn't the only thing found in the Materials Center. If you are a student or instructor at Jacksonville State the Materials Center has many things for you. There are all of the state-adopted textbooks, charts and posters on many subjects, over 1700 mounted pictures on a variety of subjects, 70 filmstrips, 250 book jackets, and over 7000 different pamphlets dealing with 1000 different subjects, all of which can be checked out for a limited period of time.

Our Materials Center is located on the first floor of the Graves Hall directly across from the art department. The Center occupies two rooms and has a total of 66 people in order to give you efficient service.

MATERIAL CENTER—Consulting a textbook in the college's Material Center are, from left, Mrs. Liston Crow, director; Mrs. Margaret Williams; and Dr. Howell.

You are cordially invited to come in and look around and feel free to check anything out that you wish. The Instructional Materials Center is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

FORNEY HALL—This drawing of Forney Hall is the way the building may someday look, as envisioned by the writer of the article, Charles Lybrand.
MANY HOURS of planning and hard work went into the building of the homecoming floats.

LOGAN HALL was awarded first place in the dormitory competition.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES reached a climax with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Pam Borgfeldt.

Phi Mu Chi Beta Celebrates 10th Year

This year’s homecoming marked a special occasion for one of JSC’s largest honorary fraternities, for it was the tenth birthday of Phi Mu Chi Beta, our math and science fraternity.

In October of 1953, 20 students and an interested faculty member, Dr. James Wilkes, decided that Jacksonville needed an organization for science and math majors. The results of their efforts led to the formation of Phi Chi Beta, a biology and chemistry honors society.

One to the Southern Research Center on cancer, in Birmingham, and one to Republic Steel in Gary, Indiana.

Important Health Service Rules Announced by Dean Willman

Mrs. Margaret Mizell, R. N., is on duty in the infirmary from 7:45 to 8 a.m.; 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. From 8 to 8:30 a.m., she is on duty at the nursery school.

The college physician, Dr. James Williams, is available for consultation and treatment. The student is charged only for medication and/or x-ray and operative procedure. The student may, if he wishes, request a physician of his choice and be billed privately by that physician.

Standing Orders

Any acute or chronic condition necessitating absence must be described and excuse re- quested in writing by the student’s physician. Visits to physi- cian and dentist must be scheduled, if possible, during hours when the student has no classes.

Only medications which do not require prescription will be administered without physici- an’s written order. Routine medications, nose drops, aspirin, etc., will be furnished on an emergency basis. Students are expected to furnish their own supply of proprietary medications. Other medications and treatments will be administered only upon presentation of pre- scriptive order and physician’s order. First aid supplies are available in all dormitories. First aid may also be obtained in the infirmary.

Excuses

Only the nurse can authorize physical excuses from classes. She is authorized to use her discretion in excusing students from classes upon the following basis:

Spanish Club Is Organized

El Club Social de Espanol, the new Spanish club, has just been organized. The main purpose is to further interest in the Spanish language and the countries where Spanish is spoken through various social activities planned for the school year. Plans are being made for a regular column in the Col- legian dealing with club activi- ties. Any clubs wishing news of their club to be published may contact Lynn Duty.

MATERIAL CENTER—Consulting a textbook in the college’s Material Center are, from left, Mrs. Liston Crow, director; Mrs. Margaret Williams; and Dr. Howell.

You are cordially invited to come in and look around and feel free to check anything out that you wish. The Instructional Materials Center is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 4 p.m., and 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Saturdays.

Important Health Service Rules Announced by Dean Willman

Mrs. Margaret Mizell, R. N., is on duty in the infirmary from 7:45 to 8 a.m.; 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. From 8 to 8:30 a.m., she is on duty at the nursery school.

The college physician, Dr. James Williams, is available for consultation and treatment. The student is charged only for medication and/or x-ray and operative procedure. The student may, if he wishes, request a physician of his choice and be billed privately by that physician.

Standing Orders

Any acute or chronic condition necessitating absence must be described and excuse re- quested in writing by the student’s physician. Visits to physi- cian and dentist must be scheduled, if possible, during hours when the student has no classes.

Only medications which do not require prescription will be administered without physici- an’s written order. Routine medications, nose drops, aspirin, etc., will be furnished on an emergency basis. Students are expected to furnish their own supply of proprietary medications. Other medications and treatments will be administered only upon presentation of pre- scriptive order and physician’s order. First aid supplies are available in all dormitories. First aid may also be obtained in the infirmary.

Excuses

Only the nurse can authorize physical excuses from classes. She is authorized to use her discretion in excising students from classes upon the following basis:

Fever, persistent nausea, severe sprains, strains, causing physical disability; severe dysmenorrhea, loss or breakage of glasses, hearing aids and/or prosthetic devices.

You must see nurse before missing a class for physical rea- sons, except in an emergency. In such instances, written excuse from housemother is necessary. When treated by physical staff at night, at home or on student’s own initiative, validation must be presented from that physician before an administered physical excuse will be issued by nurse.

Absence from class for physi- cal reason, without authorization from nurse will constitute a cut.
JSC Tennis Players' Dreams Realized

After many years of hoping for dry weather during the tennis season, tennis fans at JSC have finally realized a long awaited event. Jacksonville State College will have hard-surfaced tennis courts. No longer will the students, faculty, and tennis teams of Jacksonville State College have to play on courts which might be known as "fair weather friends." There has been quite a change.

There are, however, two schools of thought about the surfacing of tennis courts. Many people still hold that dirt courts play better than surfaced ones. As all know, for many years tennis was played on grass covered courts. The other line of thought is that surfaced courts are far superior to those of packed earth. There must be merit in this because all professional matches are played on hard surfaces.

Evidently the administration of JSC has found favor with the latter argument because the college paid some $15,000 to have the courts constructed to their present state. This is a tidy sum to pay for such a seemingly small project, but everyone who has played on the new courts is well impressed with the quality of the work. They have permanent color and striping and are constructed in such a manner as to drain off any water which might ordain after a rain. The students of proudly stand on a tennis court. Jacksonville are fortunate indeed to have these courts and should show this gratitude by maintaining the courts' fencing and netting.

JSC Tennis Players' Dreams Realized

TENNIS COURTS—JSC's newly resurfaced tennis courts provide college players with a dream come true.
Two-Platoon Football In 1964

Writing in the current issue of Look Magazine, Blaik declared: “When the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association meets at Port Lauderda., Fla., next January, they will very likely legislate for free substitution. This will open the way to two platoons and the caliber and tempo of play that the college game deserves.”

Blaik noted that in the period between 1940 and 1952 when colleges played separate units for offense and defense, this two-platoon football “proved to be the most effective, most exciting and best football in the history of the college game.”

Blaik characterized the present substitution rule as “merely another in a series of complex, ineffectual, tedious compromises.”

In his Look article, Blaik based his prediction about the return of the free-substitution rule to college football on three developments:

1. A growing conviction among the members of the rules committee that continued opposition to the free-substitution rule in the face of the strong wishes of almost 75 percent of the coaches would intensify discontent and antagonism, and almost certainly hobble the game.

2. The request of the Ivy League for a free-substitution rule... the about-face of the Ivy League will influence faculty people everywhere.

3. Increasing realization among coaches that they probably can help their chances of gaining free substitution with the approval of professors by also proposing safeguards for current ceilings on player recruitment. One of the principal, and invalid, arguments of the anti-platoon group is that the two-platoon game requires more players, more recruiting, more coaches and inflated budgets.

Five of the eight NCAA district representatives on the 18-man rules committee who have been against two-platoon football, as listed by Blaik, are: Norm Daniels of Wesleyan, Rip Engle of Penn State, Abe Martin of Texas Christian, Fritz Brennecke of Colorado Mines and Tom Hamilton, ex-Navy and Pittsburgh coach and now commissioner of the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

The Roughnecks Are As Follows — Front row, left to right: Weldon Parrish, Preacher Sanderson, and Randy Proctor. The entire offensive line has played well. On defense, Tom Hammill has been singled out by the coaches as having most defensive ability.

These young men playing together as a team for the first time find themselves at something of a disadvantage to the older, more established teams whose members have played together for two to three years. This has certainly not dampened the competitive spirit of these men. They tenaciously fight in every ball game, and, win or lose, always play well.

Perhaps the most serious blow to the offensive unit of the Roughnecks was the loss of Preacher Sanderson, their fine little running back. Sanderson suffered a separated shoulder and is expected to be sidelined for the entire season. Sanderson is regarded by many in the intramural circles as the best halfback in all the league. This is quite a reputation in the present intramural football season is still far from over, and while the Roughnecks have their share of fine ballplaying talent, they will deal several teams a chance of coming out on top.