Donna Wright Chosen Best Dressed Girl

The COLLEGIAN staff are happy to announce that Donna Wright has been chosen as the best dressed girl on campus. A committee consisting of chairman, made the selection. For those of you who don’t know Donna she is the pretty blonde with brown eyes that marched with our famous Ballerinas last fall. Donna is a junior from Birmingham where she lives with her parents, Mr., and Mrs. Glen Wright.

Listed among her many activities are: ROTC sponsor, member of the Marching Band, Ballerinas, and Ballerina council, Masque and Wig, and last, but not least, of Student NEA. Donna has been a very busy girl in the last couple of years since she graduated from Banks High School. She was elected best dressed girl at Banks; then elected to the College Fashion Board at Love's, sophomore class favorite and treasurer; and finally, she was in the top ten of the Miss Mimosa contest.

Again, congratulations to Donna for being chosen as the best dressed girl at Jax State.

Judy Berry Crowned Queen Of Brigade Ball

The advanced cadets wish to thank the student body for helping make the annual Brigade Ball a success. The theme of the dance, “International Peace” was carried out very effectively through efforts of the advanced cadets. A color scheme of white, gold, and blue was used to coordinate the highly-decorated auditorium.

The leadout was begun with the introduction of the senior advanced military cadets, followed by the presentation of the candidates for Brigade Queen. The queen, Judy Berry, a sophomore from Arab, was chosen by student vote. She was crowned by Capt. J. W. Britton, Capt. H. J. Cole.

SGA Officers Chosen

Candidates for the office of president of the Student Government Association spoke to the Student Government Association spoke to the Student Government as the student body at an assembly on Wednesday morning in the Leone Cole Auditorium.

Tony Normand, president of the SGA, introduced Gail Fenner, the secretary, who led the devotional.

Randall Wolfe, candidate for treasurer, who is unopposed, was introduced by his campaign manager, Bill Fulton, to outline his platform. Bill reviewed Randall's qualifications.

Mary Jane Baker, candidate for secretary, who was also unopposed, was introduced by Mary Ann McCurdy, her campaign manager. Mary Jane gave her views of the duties of a good secretary and stressed the importance of better SGA-student relations.

Tommy Monroe, candidate for vice president, introduced a novel plan for making the elections a success. Tommy reviewed his qualifications.

Excitement and enthusiasm increased when the opposing candidates for the presidency, John Mann and Larry Payne, made their appeals to the student body for support.

Jimmy Purcell, campaign manager for John Mann, introduced his candidates and told his qualifications. At this point, many of John’s supporters marched around the auditorium chanting “we want Mann” to the tune of “Working for the Man”. Every time the song was sung John told of his willingness and desire to serve the SGA.

He concluded with the comment, “Remember, I am not running against my opponent, I am running for the office of president of the Student Government Association.”

Jimmy Wilson, campaign manager for Larry, told of Larry’s past experience as vice president of the SGA, and of his qualifications. As Larry was presented, his supporters waved banners and chanted “Payne for president!”. Larry reviewed the history of the college and its spectacular growth in recent years. He stated that he wished to see it continue to grow, and he promised, if elected, to serve the SGA in a worthy manner.

All candidates encouraged the students to exercise their voting privilege, and to help get others to vote.

Tony gave details of the election, stating that the polls would be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. He also urged the students to get out and vote for their candidates.

The following is an interview which was conducted in response to numerous questions which have been asked concerning the dining hall. The interview is between a COLLEGIAN reporter and Mr. Haywood, director of the dining hall.

1. What is the capacity of the present dining hall?

The present dining hall was originally designed to accommodate 1,200 students. We are feeding over 1,700 at any one time. We can accommodate approximately 400 students at one time. We have added another 100 seats to the present facility.

2. Is there any possibility of a two-meal or a five-day plan?

No. We have a five-day or a two-meal plan. It is a deduction in the price of those meals which includes all meals--breakfast, lunch, and dinner--available to him as a board/student. Students have the idea that if they could not pay the full maximum cash charge for each of these meals, they would merely mean the deduction of the price of those meals from the present plan. This could not be true for these reasons:

First, to put a student on a two-meal a day or a one-meal a day, each plan would have to be figured separately and added to the raw food cost of each meal. Students have the idea that if they were able to eat only one meal a day, they would have to pay only the raw food cost. They have the idea of part-time employment and enough added to the raw food cost of each meal to take care of labor and other expenditures that go into the cost of preparing and serving these meals.

Second, if a student on the two-meal a day or the five-day plan should want to eat a breakfast meal or a week-end meal, he would have to pay the full maximum cash charge for each of these meals. Over a year this would cost more than the usual cash charge.

Third, by not knowing how many to expect, we have to be figured for each meal and the students seem to like best such as "seconds," and unlimited beverage. We simply would not know how many to expect on our second. We would have to spend. Under our present plan we DO know these facts, and we spend a bit more than the yearly charge.

Viet Nam Historically And Culturally

Perhaps in this period in which the importance of South Viet Nam is so vividly apparent, it would be logical to dwell at the history of the Viet Namese and some of the cultural aspects of South Viet Nam. In Viet Nam's history and culture are to be found a great body of the problems Westerners have in understanding its people.

One of the foremost aspects of life in Viet Nam is its agrarian-mindedness. Many of the people there are free only as much as enough food to live from day to day. This situation has been in existence for some time in South Vietnam. Because of the complete absence of political or military affairs, they tell themselves that they should value something else.

People of the West are appalled at the disinterest and indifference of the South Viet Namese in political and military affairs. Perhaps history affords a reason for this indifference.

The North Viet Namese have always been more militaristic, more warlike, and more interested in military and political affairs. Per- tical and military affairs. Particularly, a desire on the part of the South Viet Namese to handle their political and military affairs.

Of course, this has been true of the American military officers is also a contributing factor to the indifference and disinterest of the South Viet Namese troops in the war.

The Vietnamese in South Viet Nam trying to convince these people of the value of human life, that life is worth anything. Yet at the same time we put a weapon in their hands, and then tell them how to take human life, we teach them new and more effective ways of destroying humanity, they tell us they should value something else.

To Cut Or Not To Cut...

To begin with, there is a distinct difference between the practice of line breaking and the breaking of law. After all, the SGA members are caught in their trap. Schedules are thrown into a tizzy, tempers and angers flare, extra 20-30 minutes while scores of line breakers are enjoying a hearty lunch meal.

Thus the time for action is here. Either clamp down with methods, stop line breaking or proclaim a policy of letting the whole world in and where they want. As it stands now, most students are situated between the rock and a hard place. They either stand by helplessly watching flocks of people cut in front of them or cut and risk getting a fine from the SGA. Being late to class, having to eat food in huge indigestable chunks, or standing in line for hours in the middle of the day after standing for two hours in lab is no worry to Mr. Line Cutter. The solution to this problem probably doesn't rest wholly in the student's power to break the law, but perhaps one reason this rule is unenforceable is that SGA members often break it too.

Most Unconstitutional

Sen. It would be allowed to govern themselves; they have no constitutional piece of legislation before it, that we may return to the Constitution before it is too late."

Dr. Elmer Pendell Retires ??

"Pendell, Elmer, population economics, education ...

So begins Who's Who in America's description of one of Jax State's most amiable professors. Dr. Pendell is retiring this year at the age of seventy. Anyone who has ever met him will find that it is almost impossible to believe that a person with so much vitality and with such a youthful personality could be retiring.

Born in Waverly, N.Y., in 1894, he is a person whose record shows that he is genuinely dedicated to teaching and scholarship. Dr. Pendell has received a law degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C. He obtained a BS from the University of Oregon and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago. He earned his PhD at Cornell University.

Before coming to teach at Jacksonville in the economics department, Dr. Pendell taught at Cornell, Baldwin-Wallace College, Ohio College (Ohio), and the University of Arkansas and Oklahoma A & M (to name a few). When asked what leisure enjoyment he would pursue, Dr. Pendell advised that he judge and experience.

Summing up his thirty-odd years of teaching and research, Dr. Pendell says simply, "It's been a lot of fun. A bag of luck to you, Dr. Pendell, in your new book and in your many years of service yet to come. Your career has truly been unique and indeed amazing, and your life has truly been served others.

Dr. von Spakovsky Retires from JSC

Dr. Anatol von Spakovsky will retire from Jacksonville State College in late June after thirty years of dedicated service, strength, courage, and dedication. His wisdom led him to escape the Communist regime three times. His strength followed in stride to give him the physical assurance that he needed. His courage gave him the optimisitic attitude to make him push ahead and not look back. His dedication to writing has produced several books and articles which have been circulated through Europe and in this country.

When Dr. Spakovsky was in Moscow University, World War I came. He joined the military and became an officer. In Poland, his army, he had to flee for his life from the Communist. He went to Archangelsk. Sometimes he had to walk and some of the time he rode horseback, but mainly, he had to accept the fact that he was going from one portation that came his way. From Archangelsk, Dr. Spakovsky had to travel 3,400 miles. This time he skied one thousand miles through snow and ice covered forests to reach the safety of the Russian Army.

When he left Finland, he went across Europe back to Russia, to Sverdlovsk, where a fleet awaited to attack the Communists. Here, he joined other forces and defended Russia against the Communist. On the eve he had to flee. He was wounded twice, but he kept going until he reached Yugoslavia.

In Yugoslavia, Dr. Spakovsky was taken as a prisoner of war until he accepted the deal, "You sign the papers, or we'll shoot you." He signed the papers.

Gamecock Football Coaching Staff

This season the Gamecock football team is under the capable supervision of head coach Jim Blevins, and assistant coaches Carlton Rankin and Ken Beard. All of the coaches mentioned graduated from the University of Alabama and did well in their college football careers. Jim Blevins graduated from Moulton High School and then accepted a scholarship to Alabama. While in college Coach Blevins led his team to a victory in the Liberty Bowl in 1959.

Blevins coached at the University of Alabama for two years and at Moulton High School for two years. Last year he came to Jax State as assistant coach to head coach Don Salls.

Coach Blevins is married to the former Rose Werner and has one son, David, who is four years old.

Now only six years after his graduation from the University of Alabama, Blevins is head coach at Jacksonville State College. Great things are expected of Coach Blevins and everyone is sure he will put forth all the effort and determination he can into his new job.

Carlton Rankin, backfield coach, is a graduate of Piedmont High School and the University of Alabama. Rankin, while at the University was selected to play in the Crusade Bowl which was played at Baltimore, Md., in 1963. He was also selected to play in the All-American Bowl in Buffalo, N.Y., in 1963. He also played in the Blue Bonnet Bowl (1960), the Sugar Bowl (1962), and the Orange Bowl (1963). Rankin signed with the Atlanta Falcons in the National Football League.

Top Florence

The Jax State tennis team picked up its second straight victory by defeating arch rival Florence State by a score of 6-3 in a match played at home on Saturday, March 27.

Unlikely the come-from-behind victory against Alabama College, the Gamecocks struck early with singles victories by Steve Ellard, John Mann, Herschell Turner, and Johnny Castleberry paving the way for victory. In doubles competition, the team of Mann and Turner won by forfeit, while the team of Ellard and Matthews again won its No. 3 doubles spot by scores of 9-7, 6-0.

Florence star Winky Adams had to come from behind to defeat a game with Tommy Ham by scores of 6-8, 6-2, 6-3, while his brother, Buck Adams, defeated Frank Waits in straight sets of 8-6, 6-3. In the No. 1 doubles spot the team of Adams and Adams combined to defeat Ham and Waits by scores of 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

One of the most exciting matches was the No. 2 singles in which John Mann lost the first set 5-7, was faced with match point four times in the second set, rallied to win that set 8-6, then won the deciding set handily 6-1.

modifies from the government as public schools do. The dining hall has to operate entirely from the revenue taken in from students. All costs of raw foods, labor (this includes student workers), and the purchasing of new equipment (dishes, silver, etc.) must come from what you, the student, pay for your meal ticket.

3. Most we have the present system of checking meal tickets?

Personality, I don’t like it, but we are forced to have it. The reason is dishonesty. There are some people who would try to let their buddies have their meal tickets if they didn’t have a system of some kind. The present system seems to eliminate most of this. When a student eats a meal dishonestly, then the students who have paid for their meals are also paying for his.

4. Why does the cafeteria serve only two vegetables?

Under our present method we are able to move approximately 15 students through the lines per minute. This means that if all 1,700 students were fed by continuous feeding, it would take one hour and 34 minutes. Should we add the third and fourth vegetable, each student would then have to make his choice. This would reduce the flow to approximately seven per minute, and it would take over four hours to serve the noon or evening meal.

When the next cafeteria is ready for operation, Nestle says she hopes to have it so constructed and equipped that it will provide this extra service. Again let me point out that our kitchen staff were designed to feed only 1,200. The administration realizes our problem and is working toward making better facilities possible for our students.

We hope our students realize that last season will continue to bear with us.

5. Do we have a dietetic department in the School of Nursing?

As a specific job, no. The position of Director of Food Service is, I think, a full-time job. It is divided into a number of different areas of work and the number of people we can hire is limited by the amount of money we have. We strive to have the same kind of service as is available in the Student Union and the Student Center.

We hope our students realize that the system of meal tickets provides the maximum amount of food service that we can have without the cost of the food being too high.

The JSC seniors handed the St. Bernard squad their first loss of the season, while posting their third victory of the season.

The Gamecocks captured five out of the six singles matches, and added frosting to the cake with two out of three victories in doubles competition.

Jax State now goes on the road to face tough opponents, Troy on Wednesday, April 7, and Florence on April 10.

Next home action will be Tuesday, April 13, when they face Howard College in an important non-conference battle.
