Letters To Lily

Dear Lily,

I am a beginning freshman at Jax State, but I am more mature physically and mentally than more young men my age. My problem is whether or not I should tell the girls I date how old I really am. You see, I'm only 16, and I've been dating upperclass girls.

Junior

Dear Junior,

Unless someone asks you, you're not obligated to tell your age. It sounds as though you're doing better than the upperclass boys. If you're "dry behind the ears" and you conduct yourself in a gentlemanly fashion, the age issue will not come up more than likely.

From The Editor

There are, on this earth, some individuals who are always willing to pitch in and do much more than their share. These rare ones are the exception rather than the norm and they are a welcome addition to any group, organization, or club. Jacksonville State is very fortunate in having several of these "beyond the call of duty" people. The Collegian considers it a privilege to have been associated with some of these individuals. Hard work, the ability to "do the impossible" and a genuinely sincere interest in their fellow students are merely a few of the attributes of these elite students. Their worth is not to be measured in the paltry praise of the pen, or the over-oscillations of the orator. The true measure of their worth may not be computed by the human mind, for over the course of life-time inanimate qualities continue to be made manifest in these lives and are eternally influential in the lives of others.

This "X-plus", "something-extra", "above the average" individuals, your students, and other "sincere interest in their lives" people. They give the baccalaureate address.

With the end of the summer session, the college will have awarded 470 degrees this year: 116 in January, 284 in May, and 120 in July.

Candidates are listed as follows:

Those receiving a B.S. in Elementary Education are:
- Burma Stewart Bailey
- Crystal Smith Childers

JSC Campus Continues

With Growing Pains

The friendliest campus in the South is also the fastest growing, according to Lawrence R. Miles, dean of admissions at Jacksonville State, who predicts registration for the fall semester will exceed 4,000. Of this number, about 1700 or 1800 will be freshmen. The school is in store for some "true trouble!"

The biggest problem concerning the fast growth of the college, according to Dean Miles, will probably be finding you may not get into every class that you want at the time you want it. Advising students, Dean Miles urges that they realize now that the time and money spent in college is an investment in living that will pay tremendous dividends. Students should enjoy doing their best at all times. Just as everyone finds it necessary to budget their money, it will be necessary to budget irreplaceable time.

GEM OF THE HILLS..."It's a long, hot summer" and this edition's lovely gem, Sue MacDonald, a senior from Birmingham, has found the perfect way to beat the heat.
High School Bands

Visit Jax State

During the month of August Jacksonvile State College will host several high school bands and choral groups. The members of each group will be housed in our "motel modern dormitories.

August 2-7 will be host to the Berry High School Choral group, Fairfield High School Band, and McAdory High School Band. August 9-14 we will be host to Shirley Ross Band, Marc Campbell and Minor High School Band.

"The COLLEGIAN cordially welcomes their visit.

What Squares Are Made Of

Back in Max Taint’s Day, language wasn’t “square”. You could have fooled for a square deal if you were honest. And you gave him a square root on his square root. You could look your fellowman in the eye. They got hold of this honest, whole-cut square. They didn’t want it to be square with the world. And that was when you and I were four-fellowman square in the eye.

Then a lot of strange characters got hold of this honest, white word. But it isn’t all of shape and then given back. Convicts gave it the first twist. To them a “square” was an inmate who wouldn’t conform to the convict code. Now everyone knows what a “square” is. It’s the man who never learned to get away with wrong doing. A Joe who volunteers when he doesn’t have to, and has never learned to slack off when he was supposed to. A handyman who gets the most in his work that he has to be reminded to go home. A guy who still gets choaked up when the band plays “America the Beautiful.”

“America the Beautiful”

The Complexity Of International Politics

Western policymakers, statesmen, and prominent government officials eye with delight the apparent relative absence of conflict between Soviet Russia and Communist China. More than likely, Eastern Communist leaders are enjoying this state of affairs as much or more as the American leaders. Foreign diplomacy is headed on a collision course with the United States and America, and the U.S.A., with its own independent nuclear force, the concept of an Atlantic partner, the United States of America and United States of Europe, and the entrance of Great Britain into the Common Market. As the U.S. nuclear warheads from Great Britain, and the entrance of the United States into Europe, and the entrance of Great Britain into the Common Market. We should be right optimistic about such a thing as to whether our freedom will survive. And there are many empires that our freedom will survive would be a fool out of myself. What is our nation coming to? This is a question that everyone asks, but no one seems able to answer. There is something that can be done, however, a person can read and study the problems that confront our nation and consider them objectively from a view that will neither be pro right or pro left, but which is truly America. Again I must say that to be pro American seems to be unpopular these days as it is to be religious to any given faith or to be moral, but it will have to be done if this nation is to survive against the fate that threatens to dissolve the bank of glory, because my friend, there are enemies at work and the only way we can take that same freedom from you and they are willing to take that freedom and enslave you at any cost. Why? Because they say that to be optimistic about such a thing as to whether our freedom will survive would be a fool out of myself. What is our nation coming to? This is a question that everyone asks, but no one seems able to answer. There is something that can be done, however, a person can read and study the problems that confront our nation and consider them objectively from a view that will neither be pro right or pro left, but which is truly America.
News From Camp

We have just finished three weeks of training and it seems more like three years. They are good at keeping you busy around here. One can sense the tension in the air. Many of the units are on stand-by alert for any enemy that may come our way. They are well trained and disciplined. They fight as a team and can be a force to be reckoned with.

By Mike Dorsett

Paine's Words Live On

Today freedom faces its maximum hour of danger. America can and must make its stand. Our enemies are many and uncertain. An ideology born in frustration and hatred challenges us to be free. It is an ideology which denounces the basic rights and faiths given in the Declaration of Independence, and in our Constitution.

To fight a war on communism with all its mistakes tenants and fanaticism, challenges us and the rest of the free world. Sooner or later America must make her stand. The right assumption is that nip service to the faith of our fathers is not enough to conquer an all-out devotion to an evil ideology. Human brillianc and material wealth are not enough. They must be dedicated to freedom as the Magna Carta, and in our Constitution.

Our mistakes, and our trials, the great more scales prestige lose than their the balance. Other nations, all our handicaps, enemies, all our handicaps, and they must live for, work for, and perhaps die for the freedom that America has been fighting for. What we have in this struggle is a strong, firm heart which makes us the people and that will go on with the great more scales prestige lose than their the balance. Other nations, all our handicaps, enemies, all our handicaps, and they must live for, work for, and perhaps die for the freedom that America has been fighting for.

Junk It!

Junk something every day! Junk your worries, junk your fears, junk your anxieties. If you have junk your little jealousies, envies, and hatreds, whatever interference that is in your life, get rid of it and get on with the world--junk it!

Every night before you go to bed, put in the junk heap all your disappointments, all your discouragements, our loose ends, our failures, our mistakes, our troubles, our worries, and our trials along with us. All of this huge load of rubbish requires more than 50 per cent of our vitality and it would be strange if we let the great more scales prestige lose than their the balance. Other nations, all our handicaps, enemies, all our handicaps, and they must live for, work for, and perhaps die for the freedom that America has been fighting for.

At this moment the enemies of this country strike deep at the heart of nationalism and use that freedom and the cries of freedom for their own personal and treacherous beliefs. These demands of freedom seem into the solid walls of the constitution and under- mine those ideals that have been set up for democracy and may enslave us forever. This is what brought about the fall of Rome, and the same thing is happening today. It is hard to find a basic idea that America has recently exported. We have brought aboard ideas of "Let Joe do it," or the idea that those who are taxed should be unburdened. It is hard to find a basic idea that America has recently exported.

In our government what is taking place that can cause the fall of the great governmental system? Here we see politicians worry not about their government or about the prestige of their government and country, but they worry about how they can give away freedom for votes and as a result sell out our freedom, or rather sell it, they give away the rights of others gradually as one power gets a little more prestige than the other and the great scales lose their balance.

What can we do to protect the fall of this great republic? We as college students have a world of things that we must do to preserve the ill-informed masses from destruction. We must have the knowledge, we must pass it along, we must teach the younger generation that journalism have the key to the future of America for one must help pass on the knowledge, and they must bring these same laws before the people in a way that none shall believe he has been misinformed.

Those taking business administration must go to the greatest front line to their part to keep Capitalism alive. The scientists and engineers must go out and show the people how they can benefit. The teachers must take this message to the people who are "behind us in these fields and that the people are happy so that the students and other form of government. And fast but not least the teachers must teach the younger generation that nothing is better than the Ameri- can system of government. And those that must live for, work for, and perhaps die for the freedom that others have had the courage to stand by and protect.
SGA Meeting
July 20, 1965

President John Mann called the meeting to order. Following the invocation, the secretary called the roll and read the minutes from the last meeting. Treasurer Randall Wolfe gave the financial report.

A letter of thanks from Mrs. Bernard Hennes was read to the Senate for the floral offering sent by the SGA to memory of Dr. Hennes.

Senior class representative John McCarver was appointed to be head of the decoration committee for the Summer Dance, which is Thursday, July 22. Joe Stahlkuppe moved that $20 be allotted for purchasing the materials to decorate the decoration committee for the Summer Dance, which is Thursday, July 22.

The motion was seconded by Robert Westbrooks and approved by the Senate.

Adjournment, Robert Westbrooks seconded the motion, and the SGA approved.

Faculty Spotlight

Featured in this week’s COLLEGIAN faculty spotlight is Mrs. William J. Calvert, head of the physical education department at Jacksonville State. If Mrs. Calvert isn’t the best known female member of the faculty, then certainly all who know her would say she is the most gracious.

Mrs. Calvert, as many may know, is the daughter of the late Dr. W. Daugrey, a former president of Jacksonville State. Her mother is the former Annie Rowan Forney, daughter of Gen. John H. Forney. Mrs. Calvert, who was reared in an antibellum home, is truly an example of the best Southern culture.

Other than having the advantages of gracious Southern living, Mrs. Calvert has also attained many academic distinctions. She is a graduate of Jacksonville State Normal School and Peabody College; holds a master’s degree from Louisiana State University, and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago and Columbia University.

While attending Peabody, Mrs. Calvert played on the Southern collegiate championship women’s basketball team; a member of the gymnastics team, and a dancer in the operatic troop.

As one can see Mrs. Calvert was an outstanding student, but more important is the fact that she has devoted a great amount of time and energy to the development of her school and community. At Jacksonville State she has organized and advised the Kappa Delta Epsilon Sorority, Women’s Athletic Association, Physical Education Association, and the Southern Female Athletic Association.

Mrs. Calvert is a member of Sigma Delta Delta, Gamma Mu, Kappa Delta Phi, Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Delta, the National Honor Society, and many other organizations.

The invitation to Gail Waldrop’s wedding was read from Coach Blevins. Mrs. Calvert’s hospitality during these visits was very much appreciated.

VOCALISTS CAPTURE PRIZES—Vocalists were awarded the three top prizes in the summer talent show at Jacksonville State College sponsored by the Student Government Association. Kay Duke (center) of Childersburg and COLLEGIAN staff, won first prize with the song “Till”; Eddie Bledsoe (left) of Atmore was second with “Constant Sorrow”; and Bill Supon (right) of Jacksonville was third with “If Ever I Would Leave.”

James Donald Robinson Accepts New Position

James Donald Robinson, son of Mrs. Clara Robinson of Sylacauga, who received a BS degree at Jacksonville State College on May 30, was awarded a master’s degree in mathematics and minors in English, has accepted a position with the Naval Weapons Laboratory at Dahlgren, Va. He was one of three graduating seniors who were offered fellowships for graduate study in leading southern universities, but he chose to go to the Naval Weapons Laboratory where he will also have the opportunity to return to his master’s degree.

His wife, the former Sandra Davidson, also of Sylacauga, who is a sophomore majoring in science, had a minor in physics, is transferring to Mary Washington College at Fredericksburg, Va., to continue her undergraduate work.

James is a graduate of B. B. Comer High School where he was a member of the Science Club and was first place winner in the state science exposition.

Senior Spotlight

The outstanding senior chosen to be in the COLLEGIAN’S Senior Spotlight for this edition is Rita Lynn Sanders from Birmingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sanders.

As a graduate of Hewitt-Trussville in Birmingham, Rita held positions of authority, leadership, and scholarship. She was a member of the National Honor Society, president of Sumas Amici, historian of her sector class, and finished high school as salutatorian of her class of 200 students in 1962.

Rita has deep spiritual values and has served in many areas of Christian service. An example of this dedication and service is shown by the position that she holds as staff officer of Alabama Christian Endeavor.

She embarked upon her college career in the fall of 1962 as a freshman at Jackson State College. Success is the word that describes her college life. She is graduating this July with an over-all average of 2.3 in secondary education consisting of a major in English and minors in history and sociology.

Rita is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, Phi Gamma Mu, Kappa Delta Phi, NEA and Baptist Student Union. She is also a counselor at Rowan Hall.

The future is filled with excitement for Rita. August is her wedding day and she plans to work in Birmingham for a while before going back to college in the fall.
exception. The exact number to accommodate three to a room this fall. For that matter, we will allow the boys dorm. Abercrombie Hall may be an exception. The exact number for this dorm isn't known. Freshmen will occupy completely the new dorm, Glazner Hall. Mrs. Esch will be the dorm mother there. All other boys' dorms will have freshmen except Glazner Hall. There is no exception to the three to a room rule in women's dorms. All the women's dorms will be home for Fall. The rooms will be furnished with a bunk and single bed to give adequate sleeping space. Changes are being made in the women's dorms, though. Daughter has a new furniture, an extra rod in each closet. Weatherly Hall (New Dorm) will have a new dorm mother, and rules will be stricter all around.

Jax State Needs A Swimming Pool

We believe that the addition of a swimming pool would be a definite asset to Jacksonville State College for many reasons. First, the addition of a pool would allow Jax State to field a swimming team for inter-collegiate competition. Second, it could be offered as a physical education course to interested students. Third, swimming is great for exercising — it tones and tightens the physical fitness of our student body.

Aubrey and Howard are only a few schools in Alabama which offer a swimming team. At present, Auburn is in the process of adding a new swimming facilities by building a much larger pool on campus. We would like to see this happen at Jax State so that it would be a definite asset for Jax State to be able to compete with other schools in swimming competition.

In recent weeks, many members of our student body have approached me about the matter of a pool and swimming. This interest has helped the physical education department at Jacksonville State become an important asset to the school as well as to the state and nation. Mrs. Calvert is certainly a person that believes in and lives by her profession of physical education. She is truly a talented lady, gracious and charming and possessing all the qualities of an outstanding leader and teacher. No one can doubt for Dr. J. W. Selman, professor of political science, is the native of Gadsden. Dr. Selman received his B.S. degree from the University of Alabama which he served in the army during World War II. After the war, Dr. Selman returned to the University of Alabama where he obtained his LL.B. degree. He practiced law briefly and was an attorney for state agency in Montgomery for several years. Luckily for his future students, however, Dr. Selman decided he would rather teach than practice law, so he went back to the University to work on his master's degree.

After receiving his master's degree, Dr. Selman went to the University of North Carolina where in 1955 he obtained a Ph.D. in political science. In the fall of 1958, Dr. Selman came to Jacksonville State College. At JSC he is professor of law and president of the Law Club and adviser for pre-law students.

Dr. Selman has received the COLLEGIAN would like to take this opportunity to thank and congratulate Dr. Selman on the fine work he is doing for Jacksonville State College.

Thinking Out Loud

America has drive in thoughts to new markets, drive in restaurants, drive in banks. Now help help help more drive in parking places. Many employees spend time shining up to the boss and they should use polishing off some work. One way to make people help is to let their driving be called to call work. This means a change in old attitude to excusing you from picnics. It isn't necessary to blow over the above changes in order to let your own shine.

One compensation for old age is that it excuses you from responsibility. To compete for old age is that it excuses you from responsibility.

SCOAG is Beyond Planning Stages

SCOAG 1965 is beyond the preliminary planning stage. Alex P. (Poli) Goodnow, chairman of the Second Annual Student Conference on American Government, reports that over 200 letters have been mailed to area businessmen soliciting financial support for the conference.

Pat has announced that the conference will explore the theme "American National Government in a Changing World." Three nationally known speakers will address the conference delegations.

SCOAG had its beginning last year when 50 high school students were invited to a three-day study of government. This year the conference will be composed of 75 high school delegates and 25 college delegates. The heart of the conference program will be round-table discussion where delegates will have an opportunity to wrestle with national government problems.

Working with Pat this summer on the details of the conference is a student steering committee and SCOAG adviser Dr. Anders, Dr. Van Keuren, and Dr. Selman. The conference will be held December 12 and 13.

The purpose of SCOAG is to cultivate among Alabama students an interest in and a better understanding of the American system of government.

The SGA sponsored Summer Dance Tour last night was thought by most to be a smashing success. The band was pretty good, the decorations and organization excellent, the couples at their attractive best, and the evening perfect for a semi-formal dance.

Ouida Francis Receives Scholarship

Ouida Susie Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mill R. Francis of Anniston, who received her degree in January has been awarded a graduate school scholarship by the University of Alabama carrying a stipend of $1500 for the academic year beginning in September. She was awarded a BS degree in music education with special honors in music here and began her graduate work at the University immediately afterwards.

An honor graduate of Anniston High School, she was listed in "Who's Who Among Student Leaders in High Schools of America" and received many honors for participation in student government and music.

At Jacksonville she was assistant for the A Cappella Choir, president and recipient of the Senior Honor Pin of Delta Omega, Chapter of Delta Omicron International Professional Music Fraternity, and member of Kappa Delta Epsilon. She was also organist for the Jacksonville Methodist Church.

In August she will represent her chapter by playing on the Collegiate Recital of the Triennial Delta Omicron Conference to be held in Bedford Springs, Pa.

At the University of Alabama she is pursuing a Master of Music degree in piano where she is a pupil of Roy McAllister. At Jacksonville she was a pupil of Harold Thompson.

Parking A Problem

In my interview with Curtis Estes (Sam Kercham) the campus policeman, he emphasized the parking problem that is sure to develop next fall.

"I think that the biggest problem this fall will be parking and traffic," was Mr. Estes' reply to the question of what would be his biggest problem next fall.

Mr. Estes continued, "I shall be working in the daytime next fall but I don't think that the student body will have as much to do with the driving on campus. They will probably park in the dormitories and walk to classes as they have done in the past.

I think that the biggest problem will be the parking in the dormitories and the traffic that will result from students trying to get to their classes on time."

ANNISTON BEACH--Whether you swam, talked or just stood around and watched, most agreed that it was a great party.
COACH ROBERSON

Barker of Springville. She is a past president of the Student Government Association and is presently a member of the English faculty. They have two sons, Tommy, 14, and Jeff, 9. Coach Roberson came to Jacksonville again in the fall of 1953 and has served as head basketball coach and assistant football coach since that time. It was not until this past year however that he could devote all his time to basketball. Under his leadership the Gamecocks have had but one losing season. Also during this time he has piloted two squads to conference championships—one in the English and aggressive on the Court. This is especially true on the weekends, and is for the students, and is for the students; therefore, if the students want the hours prolonged they should show it by patronizing the Student Union Building more frequently. Any changes in the hours will be up to the administration.

During the week the Student Union Building opens at 7:30 a.m. and closes at 10 p.m. The only change on the weekends is that the Student Union Building closes at 10:30 p.m. This time is only on Friday and Saturday nights.

SUB Will Stay Open Later if Patronized

Mrs. Cass, manager of the Student Union Building, stated that if the students would patronize the Student Union Building more frequently, then it might be possible to arrange to stay open longer on the weekends. As it is, there are times when there are as few as three and four people in the Student Union Building. With a crowd this size, there isn’t much reason to stay open longer.

If the students would come in, then Mrs. Cass would be glad to try and help and to plan activities for students, but only if the students will show an interest.

Usually the students leave around 9 p.m. and go to town. This is especially true on the weekends, and is one of the main reasons that the Student Union Building does not stay open any longer.

As it is too late to make any changes in the hours for the summer semester, the Student Union Building will wait to see how the weekends will be this fall, and to see what the plans are on campus.

On nights there are special activities on campus, Mrs. Cass believes the Student Union Building should be open longer. The reason for this is that the students usually gather in the Student Union Building afterwards.

The Student Union Building belongs to the students, and is for the students; therefore, if the students want the hours prolonged they should show it by patronizing the Student Union Building more frequently. Any changes in the hours will be up to the administration.

Concerning this season’s team, Coach Roberson stated, “With the loss of Pate, a man-to-man defense will probably be employed. One of the biggest problems this season will be a lack of reserve strength but the Gamecocks will be a color- ful team.”

The biggest thrill for Coach Roberson was quote, generous retirements, plus social security payments. The increase in salaries has been a boon to the teaching profession. It has been instrumental in keeping the best graduates in the state and in attracting others from neighboring states. Salaries have increased 600 per cent since 1942, Mr. Kimbrough stated, and the largest increase has come during the administration of Gov. George C. Wallace.

"Gov. Wallace has really lived up to his commitments to education," he declared.

of what would be his biggest problem next fall.

Mr. Estes' closing remark was about new regulations that will come into effect this fall.

"We shall have some new regulations this fall and I would like to ask for the cooperation of the students in making them work."

Jax State Fight Song"

Fight on, Fight on for ole' Jax State
We're proud that we're from Alabama,
Fight on, don't you hesitate.
Courage, pride, and loyalty will lead you on to victory, so
Fight on, fight for the Red and White;
We're gonna howl tonight.
Come on, let's Gamecocks, fight and see
That we will win the victory.

Intramural News

As the semester rolls to a close so does the intramural program for girls with four teams having participated: The Bats, Comets, Roadrunners and Sluggers. This summer's softball was a game quite new to many of the girls. Home runs were hit, pop-ups sometimes were caught, either in the eye by Judy Jones or in the surprising glove of Sue McDonald. Sandra Ivey even hit a few but didn't know whether to run to third, first or the pitcher's mound.

Coach Steved, always present for the games, often couldn't keep back a hearty laugh usually shared by his umpires and the by-standers. Like the time Kay Raines ran up from right field to catch a ball and it fell 15 feet behind her.

The Bats lost their first catcher to a field. She was so bruised after the opening game Mrs. Calvert thought she had a dirty face. There were plenty of scratches and dirty feet from the games, but no matter who won or lost, everyone enjoyed playing and are looking forward to intramurals this fall.

Winners of the Girls Softball League, the Comets are:
Dale McAfee, manager, Joyce Lyles, Sandra Brown, Peggy McDaniel, Tony Oden, Julie Coulombo, rose Mary Taylor, Joan Barrett, Carolyn Cole, and Fran Sutton.
