Letters To Lily
Dear Lily,

I have been going steady

Robert Westbrooks, a sociology major from Piedmont revolutionary influences in state government on Monday at Jacksonville State College, predicted that women will take over in a few years if present trends continue. Dr. Edwin Van Keuren (left) and Baskin Wright (center), political science professors, arranged the series of addresses being given by legislators at the college during the summer session. Senator Mathews Speaks:

State government is undergoing a revolution," State Senator Pete Mathews, senate floor leader, told political science and history classes Monday morning. Sen. Mathews was the second in a series of addresses being given by Alabama legislators at the college during the summer session, operated by their schools." Another revolutionary effect he mentioned is the increase in women's influence on government. "There are more registered women voters than men; women outlive men; and at the present ratio of population, there will be three women to
Dear Lily,
I have been going steady with a boy for almost a year now. I love him very much, but there is one problem—his bad breath. This may sound silly, but it can be quite offensive at times. Every time I mention it to him, he gets flustered, and this leads to a big argument. I’m afraid our relationship is headed toward an unhappy ending. What can I do?

Concerned

Dear Concerned,
What ever happened to your promise to try to do something about his problem? If this doesn’t work, ask yourself which is stronger, your love for him or his bad breath. Remember, halitosis is better than no breath at all.

Lily

Dear Lilly,
Please give some advice to young couples who plan to get married while still in school. I am married, have an eight month-old son, and am trying to finish school. I don’t regret anything, but I only wish I had received some advice two years ago.

EXPERIENCED

Dear EXPERIENCED,
Your letter is advice in itself. All too often, young people mistake infatuation for love. Be sure you know what you are doing before you walk down the aisle. Many times these marriages are happy and successful, but many times they aren’t. Before you enter this strictly adult role, be sure you have given it adult thought. Remember, "Pomp and Circumstance." "Here Comes the Bride." A-Bye Baby" can’t be sung as early as many individuals who we point to as morally fine. I believe our generation has produced as many individuals who we give it adult thoughts. There are more registered women voters than men; there are three women to every two men by the year 2000. The nation is becoming predominantly female," the bachelor senator declared. Five of the 20 state government offices are now occupied by women.

During the question and answer period, Sen. Mathews pointed out that reapportionment and redistricting will have revolutionary effect on state government, with less representation from smaller or rural counties and more for the larger, urban counties. "The gasoline tax fund is a good example," Sen. Mathews continued. Without equal distribution of the fund, the smaller counties could not build roads or have basic utilities.

Where Do We Stand?

We are presently engaged in our most desperate struggle for freedom since the creation of government. Two ideologies, which are radically different and opposite, are at this time to predominate over each other. One, democracy, is based on the beliefs of individual liberty and human dignity; the other, communism, savagely maintains state sovereignty by means of oppression and tyranny. The two systems CANNOT peacefully co-exist, because communism thrives as it conquers subversively.

Those who believe in the good faith and sense of justice of the communist leaders are either deceiving themselves miserably or they are deluded supporters of the diabolical doctrine.

The most recent addition to the communist gang was the island of Cuba in the year 1959. Cuba is only 90 miles away from the American mainland. Such a strategic location for a Soviet military base, as the critical position Cuba now holds for the purposes of the puppet government of Fidel Castro. It is true that the Cuban regime does not have the power to conquer the United States, but if such a situation were to occur, the United States would face a serious threat to its national security.

In recent years, the Cuban regime has been involved in various subversive activities, such as the Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961 and the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962. These events have shown that the Cuban regime is capable of engaging in aggressive and violent actions against the United States.

In conclusion, it is clear that the communist ideology is a threat to the freedom and security of the United States. We must remain vigilant and work towards maintaining a strong and independent government.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Kifer,

First of all, I, as editor of the COLLEGIAN, would like to thank you for your interest in campus affairs. I am glad that the school paper be of high quality and based on the right ideas. I have had your interest right. Now I would like to clear up your question. When I mentioned the "status quo", I was speaking of the fact that the COLLEGIAN can do so either. Therefore would you explain just what it is that the COLLEGIAN "must and will preserve."

Sincerely,
Kenneth Kifer

Dear Mr. Kifer,

In the last COLLEGIAN you stated that "the status quo" must and will be preserved." I cannot quite understand your saying this, as the "status quo" is the very thing that the COLLEGIAN has always been against.

What other newspaper has said so much against those vices that are a part of today's society? One member of the faculty has said that the main problem today is indifference, or in other words, acceptance of the "status quo." Today's leaders, especially the religious leaders, are all actively against such acceptance.

As it says in the Bible, "be ye not conformed to the world, but be ye transformed ..." I cannot accept the "status quo," but one that which is right, nor do I think that the COLLEGIAN can do so either. Therefore would you explain just what it is that the COLLEGIAN "must and will preserve."

Sincerely,
Kenneth Kifer

Dear Mr. Kifer,

The status quo is the very thing that the COLLEGIAN is against. I would like to thank you for your interest in campus affairs.

Sincerely,
Joe Stahlkuppe, Editor JSC COLLEGIAN

Yesterday, Today And Tomorrow

When the word MORALS is mentioned, in reference to college campuses, many parents and other adults immediately begin to think of such things as Beatle haircuts, "beat" music, the twist, the Slop, un-convention al clothes, club initiations, and various other things of this nature. To many people these images of college life--the youthful high-jinks--are confusing, and perhaps diabolical. On the other hand, the worst, the minds of many adults become filled with ideas about delinquency, drug addiction, alcoholism, and sex. They feel that these strange symbols of adolescence and independence should be crushed--that they are bringing on the decadence of modern society.

From parents and the bookshelves to consult the age-old theories of ministers, philosophers, and others who claim that they have penetrated the realms of the "blue denim" world. Having consulted these theories, a number of which are based on Puritan ideologies, parents decide that their son or daughter is "sick." Perhaps some type of mental problem does exist, but the parents are trying to see how they can pack into a telephone book when they are overseas, or when they are engaged in one of the modern dances of today.

Dear Mr. Kifer,

I have been engaged in a conversation with several of my students, and I would like to ask you for your opinion on the matter.

Sincerely,
John Smith

Dear Mr. Smith,

The "blue denim" world is not as simple as it seems. It is not as easy to label a high school student as "sick."

Sincerely,
Joe Stahlkuppe, Editor JSC COLLEGIAN

Cadets Begin Summer Camp

ROTC cadets left June 19 for summer camp at Fort Bragg, N. C. They will complete their training on July 30.

Included in the group were the following:

Cadets Dorsett and Welch will be commissioned second lieutenants at the close of summer camp, and will be awarded their degrees immediately after.

Capt. Thurreton E. Pike, a 35-year graduate, is the new adjutant on the ROTC staff. Capt. John Turner, Sg./Major Marion E. Hineline, and M/Sgt. Wesley Wooley are new members of the staff.

Senior Spotlight

One of the exceptional students attending summer school this year is Jackie Elrod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wiggins of Birmingham, and a 1962 graduate of Ensley High School. At Ensley Jackie was a member of the Art Club, president, vice president and secretary of her homecoming section, and member of the choral group. She is majoring in elemen-

Jacksonville State. Since his freshman year of 1961, he has steadily moved toward success in college which will provide the basic foundation for his future. His high quality of leadership, character and hard work have brought Leon many honors and rewards. An honor student in high school, he has continued his high academic zeal in college. SGA Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the Student Government Association was held on Friday evening following elections of class officers on Thursday. SGA President John Mann presided at this call meeting and Randy Wolfe led the Senate in the invocation. Following roll call and the reading of minutes from the last meeting, Mary Jane Baker read a letter from Dean William B. regarding policies of contracting campus entertainment through various agencies. The report from the Honor Council concerning line-cutting in the cafeteria was also read for the benefit of all new Senators. A financial report was given by the treasurer.

A dining hall committee was appointed to work with the entire student body on any matter concerning the campus food services as follows: John Mann, chairman; James Haywood, director of food services, Joe Stahlkuppe, editor of COL-LEGEAN; Mickey Lewis, Cittrell representative; Leon Morrow, Logan representative; John McCarver, Abor-cromble representative; Gloria Dunn, New Dorm representative; Paula Hampton, Rowan representative; Mary Jane Baker, secretary.

This committee is composed of a student from each dormitory for the convenience of any student who wishes to make a suggestion or complaint.

The general meeting of the SGA will be on Tuesday nights at 6 p.m. in Room 217 Bibb Graves Hall. The faculty sponsor, Dr. Anders, will be present at regular meetings.

Suggestions for an orchestra or dance band are needed to be considered for the Summer Dance in July. Suggestions should be given to one of the SGA members. Include the name of the group, the cost, type of music, and name of leader.

A move for adjournment was made by Leon Morrow, seconded by Jane Reynolds, and approved by the SGA.

General Regulations

The discipline of the college is administered by a standing discipline committee and the college reserves the right to suspend or expel any student without formal charges when such action is thought advisable.

Students who violate the "General Regulations..." should be given to one of the SGA members. Include the name of the group, the cost, type of music, and name of leader.

A move for adjournment was made by Leon Morrow, seconded by Jane Reynolds, and approved by the SGA.

I, Jackie, have been working in the library, and at present I am majoring in elementary education.

During my college attendance, Jackie has been working in the Baptist Student Union, and at present she is majoring in elementary education.

In addition, Jackie has been working in the Baptist Student Union, and at present she is majoring in elementary education.

During her college attendance, Jackie has been working in the Baptist Student Union, and at present she is majoring in elementary education.

At present, Jackie is registered for the spring semester, and she will work in the Baptist Student Union.

In the fall semester, Jackie will work in the Baptist Student Union, and she will major in elementary education.

However, Jackie has nothing to fear.

In conclusion, Jackie should have no trouble in completing her college education.

declared by Jane Robertson and approved by the SGA.

Miss Douglass Olsen

Miss Douglass Olsen, assistant professor of English, is the first of her colleagues to be profiled in the COLLEGIAN. A native of Canton, Miss., she holds a BA degree from the University of Mississippi and a MA degree from Columbia University, New York City, with majors in English. She has done further graduate work at Washington University, St. Louis, and the University of Mississippi, University Center in Oxford; and at the University of Mississippi, coach in high school basketball, dramatics counselor for religious and social organizations, and sponsor for such honors as Kappa Delta Epsilon, here active at the University of Mississippi. She has contributed a number of articles to Delta Kappa Gamma, national educational society, and is a member of the graduate student board. Out of all her experiences, Miss Olsen says her special interest is "successful teaching." --Beverly McCurry

Methodist Students

Welcome Rev. Miller

Methodist students will have a full-time student minister in the future following the appointment of the Rev. Robert O. Miller by the North Alabama Conference.

Last year there were approximately 600 Methodist students enrolled at the college and about 1,000 are anticipated this fall. The Rev. Charles Howard, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Jacksonvile, has served as part-time minister for students in the past two years.

Mr. Miller is the son of the Rev. Otto Miller, a retired Methodist minister, and Mrs. Miller, of Birmingham.

A graduate of Birmingham-Southern College and Candler School of Theology, Emory University, he served as youth director at Westwood Memorial Methodist and First Methodist Church while an undergraduate student at Birmingham-Southern, and during his junior year was youth director at First Methodist Church, Monroeville.

Welcome To JSC

Jack Campbell

Jacksonville State College is fortunate to have as a student this semester Jack Campbell, from Gadsden. Jack has distinguished himself in many fields, but especially in the field of Christian service.

While a student at Auburn he made a wise decision, a decision that found his whole career. He decided to enter full-time Christian service, although his father was a professor of physics at Morehead State University. After making this decision, Jack attended Auburn only two years, graduating in 1963. He then received a BA degree in religious studies.

While at Auburn, Jack was awarded many honors, and his distinguished record displays his excellent scholarship and leadership abilities. His life, work, and influence are an inspiration to us all. Y'all come.
we are in a fit place and that it is not worse because we were here. It is OUR responsibility. WE CAN NOT and MUST NOT evade it.
