

Annual Joint Convention Is Held At JSC

Jacksonville's Phi Beta Lambda and the business administration department were hosts to 250 college and high school students from 50 chapters of Phi Beta Lambda and the Future Business Leaders of America at their annual joint convention on April 22-23.

Phi Beta Lambda is the collegiate division of FBLA, the national organization for high school and college business students.

Some of the highlights of the program were: An address at the general session on Saturday morning by Dr. Houston Cole, president of the college, followed by a panel discussion composed of Mr. Ray Glenn of Republic Steel, and Mr. Homer Doss of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, both of Gadsden, and Col. Edward James, Jacksonville professor of economics, moderator. Their subject was the "Importance of Education to Success in Business."

The election of state officers was held, also state-wide contests, including the selection of Mr. and Miss Future Business Executive of Alabama, Mr. and Miss Fu-

April A Busy Month On Jax State Campus

April was a busy month on campus with many activities going on--in fact, some days were like a three-ring circus with several events happening at once.

The month got off to a busy start with a very successful Religious Emphasis Week, featuring Dr. Walter H. Judd, congressman, missionary and physician, of Washington, D. C., and a large group of ministers from over the state.

The Festival of Arts followed the second week with a number of interesting highlights: art shows; the entertaining performance given by Dr. Tom Wheatley, '53, of New York City; and the clever and sophisticated student performance of "The Wheat and the Chaff, Revisited." The week ended with the spring convention of the college section, Alabama Home Economics Association, with representatives from most of the state's universities and colleges attending.

Sandwiched in between, but non-the-less important, were the ROTC military ball during which Cheryl Hudson of Anniston was crowned "queen", the SGA election which resulted in Phil McMahan's being elected pres-annual spring luncheon.

Tonight and tomorrow night, the music department will be staging "Camelot", the first musical to be given here since the late Walter A. Mason died. The International House will have its regular monthly forum Wednesday night, April 27. Mrs. Robert Schwartz of Birmingham will speak on "The Role of the American Woman in the Mid-1960's."

May will be filled with recitals and various departmental events, culminating with exams and graduation exercises. Bishop Kenneth Goodson of the Methodist Church will deliver the baccalaureate address.

Coming Events

Prominent on next week's calendar are two events when students will be spotlighted for their achievements of the year now drawing to a close.

On Wednesday, May 4, Awards Day will be held in the Leone Cole Auditorium at a special assembly.

The Student Government will present the annual service award; Certificates of Achievement and Letters of Appreciation will be handed out; and certificates will be public speaking, extemporaneous speaking, spelling and vocabulary relays.

The winner will be announced in the next issue of the COLLEGIAN, as well as the new state officers.

At the annual banquet on Friday evening, the guest speaker was Mr. Lem Coley, vice president and director of public relations of the Russell Manufacturing Company, Alexander City. All the guest speakers are members of the Associated Industries of Alabama. Each year the AIA contributes two college scholarships to winners of two of the top state contests. The awards luncheon was held on Saturday with all winning contestants being presented with handsome awards by Mr. Horace Harvey of Birmingham, assistant state chairman.

Miss Lucille Branscomb, head of the business administration department, is the state director of Phi Beta Lambda and FBLA. Pat Davis is president of the local Phi Beta Lambda Chapter; Ray McKay, 1st vice president; Robert Williams, 2nd vice president; Martha Crawford, secretary; Barbara Smith, treasurer; and Donnie Barksdale, reporter.

Mrs. John Collins is chairman of the local sponsors committee.

Notice

Assignments for the next edition of the COLLEGIAN will be posted on the COLLEGIAN office door Wednesday morning. If you signed up at the beginning of the semester to be a writer, or if you are interested in being a writer for the paper, please check by the COLLEGIAN office Wednesday morning.

I will be in the office from 8:30 to 12:30.

Annual Student Art

Show Holds Exhibit

The annual student art show began Wednesday, April 20, and will remain on exhibit until May 12, in the gallery of Mason Hall. Hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

A reception was held on Friday morning, April 22, from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

On display are ceramics, crafts, prints, drawings and paintings.

You are cordially invited to visit the exhibit.

The Upward Look

by LANDIS ROGERS

As we journey through life we should cultivate the habit of looking up, since so many of the best things in life are above us--the blue sky, the moon, the stars, the rainbows, the green boughs of the trees, the fleecy clouds, the fleet of birds, the great big sun, and the glorious sunsets. "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills," said the psalmist. Surely, that man lives only a poor and lowly life who never learns to look off into the distance and up into the heights.

So much in the overall character of the day depends on the direction given to it in its earliest hours--the first thought, word, emotion, deed. Someone has said that the first moment of the day is a tuning-fork on which we strike the keynote for the entire day. A few minutes of quiet fellowship with God in the early morning, or just one deep breath of his tranquility before the labor of the day begins can work wonders for us.

Absentee Ballot Requests Given Out In Chow Hall

By CHARLES W. PALMER

Last Monday and Tuesday absentee ballot requests were given out in the chow hall by members of Students for Sparkman. These blanks are to be sent to the register of your home counties so that you will be sent an absentee ballot for the Democratic primary on May 3. They should be sent as soon as possible so that the absentee ballot can be returned to you at the earliest possible date.

The last session of the state legislature has made it possible for students that are in school outside their home counties to vote by the use of absentee ballots. It is important for the many students that are over 21 to use their democratic privileges by voting.

It is hoped that everyone eligible will vote this year in his home county or by use of the absentee ballot. There are additional copies of the application in the registrar's office.

Earlier this year Dr. Ogilvie addressed the Tool and Die Manufacturers Management Institute at the University of Illinois concerning personal qualities necessary to achieve success in selling.

Take A Lesson From Life

FATALISM OR FAITH?

"When I was just a little girl,

I asked my mother, "What will I be?"

"Will I be pretty, will I be rich?"

Here's what she said to me:"

So sang the little girl. And the answer of the mother was simple, "Whatever will be, will be." And so it was handed down from generation to generation. Many people today succumb to that deadly philosophy of fatalism--a philosophy that destroys the dignity and the initiative of every human being. In a sense, we become puppets pulled by the strings of fate. We lose the very characteristics that make us children of God.

We should remember that some things in life are given quantities. Some things cannot be changed. Heridity will decree that the color of a person's hair will be black or brown. Heridity will cause one to be born with a white

Cadets will receive the ROTC Certificate of Meritorious Leadership Achievement; Superior Cadet Award; ROTC Medal, Association of the U. S. GEM OF THE HILLS--A welcome addition to any tennis team is our pert, vivacious gem, Miss Viki Curlee, a freshman from Anniston.

Don McMillan--As I Remember Him

Don McMillan loved life. I can not seem to remember anyone who enjoyed living any more than Don.

Don and I went to Jacksonville State from September '57 to July '61. We went into advanced ROTC together and were commissioned on the same day.

Don and I were in the same platoon during summer camp at Fort Benning during the summer of '60.

Summer camp was a time of harassment, but I never heard Don complain once.

When the rest of the platoon would sit around at night and complain, Don would point out the good points and laugh at our complaints. He always made the most of what was before him.

But Don also took life seriously. He knew what he wanted out of life and knew how he was going to achieve it.

Don had a bright future in the army. Don would have worn general's stars one day, I am sure. Many of his classmates felt the same as I do.

I do not know how Don got to Viet Nam but if I knew him the way I think I did, he volunteered. Don did not like to see others oppressed.

I am sure Don would not want us to mourn him. He would want us to remember him. He would want us to finish what he could not.

His family has much to be proud of. His country has much to thank him for. I am honored to have known him.

This is the way I remember Donald McMillan.

Make It An Annual Event

The performance given by members of the cast of "The Wheat and the Chaff, Revisited" brought to wide attention the wealth of talent among Jax State students, much of which had not been demonstrated publicly before. It was also plummeted to the forefront special creative abilities of faculty members who gave unstintedly of their time to work up the entertaining amateur revue.

We say "amateur," but about the only thing amateurish about it were the students who were making their first appearance on stage. They and all the others gave a finished, sophisticated performance that would do credit to any college or university.

The performance also brought to public attention the fact that heretofore there has been no theatrical of this nature for students to demonstrate their talents in. The Masque and Wig Guild has done a fine job with drama, mainly stage plays, but a musical revue has not been attempted before to our knowledge.

It has received campus-wide praise and deserves recognition. We recommend that it become an annual event.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor

Recently I went to Bibb Graves Hall to get some fossils from one of the cabinets to use in a talk to the Rome Rock Club. When I approached the classroom I noticed a class in session. As I waited for the end of the period, a student came up and, offering me a political card, asked, "Are you Dr. Calvert?"

I answered, "No, I am Leon McCluer. I am waiting to get some fossils from a cabinet".

He said, "Was that your $5 gold piece which was in the cabinet?"

Some of the mineral specimens cost me five or six times as much as did the $5 gold coin. Should I remove everything and deprive others of an opportunity to see, enjoy, and learn simply because there is a cur in the group?

Are the possessions of college students, is college property, safe so long as there is such a contemptible mongrel cur on the campus?

A Letter To Dad

Dear Dad,

Thanks for the money to begin the second semester with. The only trouble is, I graduated yesterday. I know it's sort of a surprise, with me being an entering freshman several months ago. It was sort of a surprise to me too.

I went to register yesterday and when they gave me my IBM cards they said I had enough credit hours to graduate and sent me to the Dean to get my diploma. The only thing I can think of is that when I stepped on my cards with my golf shoes last fall they got messed up. Anyway, I was given a 8-553-22 today, a diploma. I went to see the Dean and he said not to tell him his machines were wrong, with 56,000 students in them.

Anyway, I got a BA in philosophy. I don't know if I should stay in chemistry now or not. What do you think? I know you were quite interested in me working in the

I tried to get into grad school but they needed references from five teachers in undergraduate school and I only had three.

Last night I started to call, but I didn't want to worry you about it, since I'm a graduate now and should be able to take care of myself. So today I went down to the army place. They're looking for college graduates to be officers. I did OK on the tests, so I guess I'll go in there a while. I seem to fit in pretty well.

Besides, next year I'd be eligible for the draft anyway, and businesses don't like to hire graduates who haven't been in the service yet. They said they'd teach me some philosophy. I brought a book with me.

I hope everything's fine at the drug store.

SGA Meets

MEETING OF APRIL 11

President John Mann called the meeting to order. The invocation was given by Randall Wolfe, roll was called, and minutes of the last meeting were read. The financial report was given with the present balance on hand reported as $7,551.94.

President Mann then read this proposed resolution for parking next year:

Resolved:

A. To turn the parking over to the responsibility of the school with the SGA receiving all profits above and beyond the salary of the staff member who will fall under the jurisdiction of the school and of the president of SGA;

B. This person will be responsible to the school and to the SGA so that accurate files and books will be kept on all traffic fines, tickets and registration. These books will be audited, and the employee will be bonded;

C. This person will be hired through the auxiliary services with the approval of the senate. The office will be located in the auditorium of the SUB, and the person will be an employee of the SGA with a salary of approximately $3,000.

Jerry Savage moved to accept this resolution, Larry Studdard seconded the motion and the senate voted for-19, against-0.

The SGA is sponsoring a big event on May 4 and the senate voted to sponsor Lou Christy and the Four Tops accompanied by an eight piece band. The price of the contract is about $4,000. Jimmy Purcell moved to hire this Cluer. I am waiting to get some fossils from a cabinet".

He said, "Was that your $5 gold piece which was in the cabinet?" The emphasis on WAS surprised me!

I replied, "Yes, it is still there. I put it there to add to the mineral display."

When I entered the room, however, I saw that someone had gotten into the cabinet and stolen the gold coin.

Though many people come and go in Bibb Graves Hall, the only logical conclusion is that the theft was committed by some college possession, property, safe so long as there is such a contemptible mongrel cur on the campus?

Indifference to the immorality of those about you is one of the surest ways to destroy the values in your own life, and in the college, and the nation.

I will give $50 to any one who will furnish information leading to the identity of the thief, and to the return of the coin.

Need Money For Graduate Study?

Colleges and universities are fighting for good graduate students, and according to the best information available, they're paying for them.

Of the 100,000 graduate students in the U. S. in doctoral programs, 80 per cent are getting some kind of financial assistance, and aid for graduate students will undoubtedly accelerate in the future.

If you're one of the JSC students who is planning to go to graduate school, you may need some of this money and some of the places where it may be found are listed below:

Straight fellowships: These grants usually amount to $2,000 to $2,500 (but can range from a couple of hundred dollars to several thousand) and are tax free. A JSC graduate for example, now working on the doctoral program at the University of Tennessee gets enough to support his family for the entire time he is in school -- provided he keeps his grades up.

Teaching and research assistantships: These jobs involve some kind of work and also amount to $2,000 or so--but are taxable income.

Loans: This method of financing is beginning to catch on in graduate fields.

Of course, the best kind of aid is the straight fellowship. It has no work attached and gives the student time to study and make good grades, which is a must.

Unlike undergraduate scholarships, the size of graduate awards are based on merit--judged mostly by grades and the student's purpose -- rather than need.

Practically all aid money is used to pay living expenses.

Schools either waives tuitions or are paid additional sums by the same source that is giving the student his money.

More aid is available for students in the sciences than in the humanities and, on the average, individual stipends are higher for science students.

Relatively little financial aid goes to the 300,000 or so graduate students at schools where doctors' degrees are not offered in their fields of study, or to students aiming only at a master's degree.

Publications listed below will either give you information about specific fellowships, loans, etc., or tell you where to get these details:

Fellowships in the Arts and Sciences, American Council on Education, 1785 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C., $2.25; A Guide to Graduate Study, Programs Leading to the PhD Degree, same address, $7.50; Current Financial Aids for Graduate Students, College Opportunities Unlimited, Inc., 824 N. What Are The Best Paying Jobs?

What are the best paying jobs in the U. S. today? (Based on data collected in the 1960 census, According to Times, the top 39 are as follows:)

Physicians, median annual earnings 1959, $14,561; self-employed managers, banking and finance, $12,757; dentists, $11,858; medical science professors and instructors, $11,666; lawyers and judges, $10,587; airline pilots and navigators, $10,274; osteopaths, $10,128.

College presidents and deans, $9,704; self-employed managers, insurance and real estate, $9,410; salaried managers, manufacturing, $9,090; physicists, $9,043; aeronautical engineers, $9,018; veterinarians, $8,882; chemical engineers, $8,810; sales engineers, $8,694; architects, $8,651; economists, $8,649; electrical engineers, $8,553; metallurgical engineers and metallurgists, $8,534; geologists and geophysicists, $8,409.

Optometrists, $8,404; mining engineers, $8,359; mechanical engineers, $8,355; salaried managers, business services, $8,340; salaried managers, insurance and real estate, $8,231; technical engineers not in other categories, $8,062; agricultural professors and instructors, $7,918; salaried managers, communications and utilities, $7,916.

Engineering professors and instructors, $7,841; public relations and publicity writers, $7,826; psychology professors and instructors, $7,811; mathematicians, $7,780; self-employed managers, $7,673; salaried managers, construction, $7,632; civil engineers, $7,606; locomotive engineers, $7,586; social science professors and instructors, $7,510, etc.

If some of the income figures seem low or high, remember they are medians: half the people in that field earned more and half earned less.

Generally, earning power reflects the amount of time invested in education, but this does not always hold true. For instance, locomotive engineers with 9.8 median school years, rank in the top 50. Clergymen, on the other hand, rank 245th with 17.1 median school years completed. One reason is that many clergymen are furnished a house and other prerequisites in lieu of cash income.

Selection Team At JSC

An Officer Selection Team from the United States Air Force will be at Jacksonville State Wednesday, May 4. The team will be in the Grab from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m.

They will accept applications for pilot, navigator, or non-flying officer training in the United States Air Force. The Selection Team is composed of 1st Lt. Robert L. Moore and Tech. Sgt. Clarence L. Jeter from Montgomery and Tech. Sgt. A. C. Reaves from the Air Force Recruiting Office in Anniston.

Environment, too, determines certain limitations of life. One is born into wealth where education and skills can be acquired. Another is born in poverty.

But a second important fact emerges. It is the priceless possession of freedom of the voted to sponsor Ed Christy and the Four Tops accompanied by an eight piece band. The price of the contract is about $4,000. Jimmy Purcell moved to hire this group, Lane Warren seconded the motion, and the vote was 19-for and 0-against. Tickets will be sold in advance, Allied Arts cards will be honored, and the show may be limited to members of the student body.

John McCarver, publicity chairman, is putting out signs and information about cheerleader selection and class officer elections. Petitions for class officers are available in the Grab. Election of officers for the fall term will be April 28. Cheerleaders will be finally announced on May 4.

MEETING OF APRIL 18

The meeting was called to order by the president. Invocation was given by Mary Jane Baker, roll was called and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Delegates to the SUSGA Convention discussed the planned conferences and two more delegates were appointed: Taylor Hardy and Lane Warren, thus bringing the total number of delegates to six. Jimmy Purcell moved to appropriate $50 additional to the money already appropriated to cover the expenses of the two additional delegates. Marlon Mills seconded the motion and the SGA approved.

Two thousand, four hundred packages have arrived to be distributed to the boys on campus. There are cards on each Gift-Pac to be returned to the company.

The cheerleader selection committee is to arrange three sessions for tryouts of the new cheerleaders. Composing this committee are John Mann, Philip McMahan, Mike Mann, Coach Blevins, Mrs. Floyd, Mrs. Hanson and Dean Jackson. By April 25, every candidate should have turned in names so that the roll can be made out for practicing.

John Mann explained the contracts that determine the significance, the tradition, and the price leveling of JSC class rings. The following recommendation was made by the members of SGA at the motion of Marlon Mills: To have a standard form for the college ring during the next four years. No stipulation was made as to the company. Larry Studdard seconded the motion and the vote was 17-0 in favor of accepting this recommendation.

The social calendar was presented for the week, then adjournment was moved, seconded, and approved by the SGA.

Dr. Tom Wheatley Takes Part In Festival Of Arts

Dr. Tom Wheatley, '53, of New York City, returned to his alma mater to take part in its Festival of Arts last week.

He praised the college for initiating emphasis on the arts and for fostering interest in artistic growth.

"Recognition of the arts is needed when science seems to be automatizing mankind," he declared. "Science must be balanced with the humanities in order for man to retain his humanity."

Dr. Wheatley was scheduled to speak on "Theatre and Art--Here and in the Orient", but the talk was only part of an hour of brilliant entertainment for the faculty and students.

After he was introduced by a former professor, Dr. W. J. Calvert, he rose to speak but tripped and fell sprawling on the stage, scattering his papers all over the place. When he recovered, he continued the pose of the trembling, frustrated character of Robert Benchley's "The Treasurer's Report", which he first performed here as a student in the Masque and Wig Guild.

He reenacted scenes from the Pulitzer Prize play, "All the Way Home", and Sean O'Casey's "Shadow of a Gunman", in which he appeared on Broadway.

His description of the Japanese theatre, based on his experience as a Fulbright scholar, included showing replicas of actor's masks which came into use in 600 A. D.; the excitement of having the audience call out words of approval or disapproval; and his admiration for the Kabuki actor.

He gave the Masque and Wig Guild credit for the opportunity to develop his artistic interest, comparing this college's personality to a parent who seeks to foster and develop a child's artistic growth.

Senior Spotlight

CONTARDI

A man of many facets, one of deep philosophical ideas as well as a quick wit and a sincere devotion to mankind occupies this Senior Spotlight. Armando Contardi was born in New York City where he attended elementary and secondary school. He transferred to Jacksonville from Sheridan College in Wyoming. As a child, Armando had done some acting, but gave it up to complete high school and ultimately go to Korea while in the army. After returning from Korea, he was married and his wife inspired him to return to the theater. Though Armando will graduate this May with an AB in English, he hopes to go to graduate school and obtain a master's degree in the dramatic arts, after which he hopes to do some acting or directing and possibly teaching.

Armando hopes to be accepted at the Parkway Playhouse for six weeks of plays and production. Included in his repertoire of plays are the Rev. Toup in "Pool's Play", the warden in "The Valiant", and a dual role in "Separate Tables." All of these were presented at Fort McClellan with the Fort McClellan Players.

When Armando moved to the South, he was enchanted by the friendliness of the people.

Armando played Christ in the contemporary passion play, "A Man Dies". He felt the play made a lot of that Jacksonville needs a Fine Arts Center which would encompass ballet, art, dramatics, and music and that there should be a greater student participation in liberal arts at the college.

He has an interesting basic philosophy of life which is based on the brotherhood of mankind. "We are all brothers. If we aren't, we should be," he believes.

Piano Students Slate Program In Mason Hall

Piano students of Harold Thompson will present a program in Mason Hall performance center, Monday night, May 2, at 7:30.

The program will be varied, consisting of selections from both the solo and duo-piano repertory (Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin, Barber, Debussy, Dello-Join Gershwin, Prokofieff). This is the first time that a combined program of this type has been presented at Jacksonville State College.

There will be a reception following the program and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Kaye Walker Gives Recital

Kaye Walker, pianist, will present her senior recital Sunday afternoon, May 1 at 3 o'clock in the performance center of Mason Hall. Johnnie Kilgore, a senior piano student, will assist her.

There is no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Kaye is the retiring president of Delta Omega Chapter of Delta Omicron International Music Fraternity. Her numerous activities, honors, and recognitions include being a member of the A Cappella Choir for four years; member of the South...

Pentecostal Fellowship Gives Drama

The Pentecostal Collegiate Fellowship is sponsoring a drama, "Then Jesus Came", written by a Hawaiian girl, Barbara Tengan, which the members have revised, and are presenting to church audiences in LaGrange, Rome, Cedartown, Ga.; Birmingham and Anniston.

In the drama, an unbeliever is unhappy and confused about life and about Christ. One day as she sits pondering, she is made aware of the change in the lives of Biblical characters, as well as modern-day Americans after "Jesus came". The song, "Jesus Came" is also dramatized in the play. After realizing that Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever (Heb. 13:8), the unbeliever accepts Christ.

Students portraying characters in the play are as follows:

Carol Horne, LaGrange, Ga., the unbeliever; Sandra Aultman, Good Springs, the angel; Linda Fordham, Ranburne, the Samaritan woman; Jerry Smith, Jacksonville, the boy with five leaves and fishes; Emory Davis, Bayou Barre, Zaccheus; Gwendolyn

Report On Revue

C. L. SIMPSON, Asst. Prof. of French

A satirical revue, expertly staged and performed with the charm and exuberance of youth starts off with an enormous presumption in its favor. "The Wheat and The Chaff, Revisited" is precisely such a revue and its opening last night in Leone Cole Auditorium at Jacksonville State College furnished an event of stylish song and dance as a setting for mordant observations on a variety of cultured values and political presuppositions that are currently being questioned all over the United States by young college students armed with guitars, placards and the gift of satire.

The British "Beyond The Fringe" and "That Was The Week That Was" coupled with the American upsurge in folk and special protest singing has been a felicitous combination and has resulted in satirical revues that caricature, parody, and reduce to the absurd a number of principles that many of us hold quite as a matter of course. It is a virtue of good natured satire that it exercises its function of a gadfly with enough sting to make us reassess specific beliefs lightly entertained and convictions deeply rooted in this best of all possible worlds.

Directed by Colin P. Heath and produced by Mrs. Janet LeFevre, both of the college faculty, "The Wheat and The Chaff, Revisited" is ingratiating but caustic in its treatment of such subjects as war, advertising, the population explosion, fall-out, sit-ins, violence, the war against poverty, and a familiar kind of college student. But where the satire is most irreverent it charms by its candor, its wit, and the polish of its performers. The songs (some by Mr. Heath some by Bob Dylan, and other social protest singers) are handled effectively, and the dances (directed by Mrs. Zenobia King Hill) and mimed portions of the revue are a delight.

THE MISSION OF LIFE

When we view the throngs of humanity in our city streets, we are likely to become obsessed with the thought that "everybody is chasing the almighty dollars."

This is far from true. There are always some in the throng who are bent on missions of mercy, or are otherwise devoting their efforts to unselfish interests.

The annals of human endeavor are replete with names of those whose chief affairs of life were in the interest of humanity. It was B. C. Forbes, the maker of a great human-interest magazine, who once said, "Men who are the longest remembered, and whose memories are most highly revered, are not those who made the most money, but those whose hearts were gentle, whose sympathies were broad, and who best served humanity."

Diamond Dust

The Huntingdon Hawks took a doubleheader from the Jacksonville State baseball team on Friday, April 8, by the scores of 7-2, and 4-2. The two losses ran the Gamecocks' record to 2-5.

In the first game Joe Haynie

Falcons Beat Gamecocks 7-2

The Alabama College Falcons tightened their hold on first place in the ACC tennis standings by defeating defending champs Jacksonville State 7-2. The Falcons captured five of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles matches. The only Gamecocks who recorded victories were "Tiger" Tim MacTaggart at number five and the number doubles team of Lloyd Deck and Terry Mathews. MacTaggart ran his string of wins to seven with his win over Bill Toms, MacTaggart lost the first set 6-4, then won the next two 6-3, 6-3. In doubles, Mathews and Deck had little trouble in disposing of Ronnie Lewis and Toms winning 6-3, 6-2. The loss gives the Gamecocks an overall record of 4 wins and three losses and a conference record of 1-2.

JSC Over Troy 10-4

The weak bats of the JSC diamond stars began to ring out on April 9 and they recorded a 10-4 victory over Troy State. The Gamecocks struck for ten hits in going 2-1 in conference play.

Florence Stops Jax State 4-2

Despite the fine pitching of Jerry Wayne Hallark, who struck out 14 men, the Florence Lions defeated the Jacksonville State Gamecocks by the score of 4-2. The loss started for the Gamecocks and was treated rough as he gave up the majority of the Hawks' runs before he was relieved. Leading the attack for the Gamecocks was first baseman, Bobby Martin, who collected three singles. Other Gamecock hits came from Ray Busby, Dennis Love, Jay Palden, David Mann, Tony Goggin and Haynie.

In the second game the Hawks scored the winning runs in the last inning and relieved starter Jay Palden. Palden in the four innings he worked struck out seven Hawk batters. Leading the attack for the Gamecocks was Bobby Martin, Dennis Love, Jerry Ponder, Butch Mann and Greg Penland who each had one hit.

JSC Split DH With Samford

The Jacksonville State baseball team split a doubleheader with Samford University winning the opener 2-1 and dropping the nightcap 4-2. The win and loss brings the Gamecocks' record to four wins against six losses.

In the first game freshman Jay Palden pitched a fine four hitter in recording his first victory of the season. The game was highlighted by several old-fashioned arguments with the umpires. The Samford coach afforded the crowd some entertainment with his disputes with the umpire. Leading hitters for the Jaxmen were Ray Busby, Gary Ledbetter, Dennis Love and Greg Penland who each had one hit.

In the second game the Bulldogs of Samford jumped into a quick 2-0 lead. The fighting Gamecocks tied the score in the third inning but failed to hold the Bulldogs who picked single runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Winning pitcher was Buddy Nick while the losing pitcher was Jerry Hallmark.

Gamecocks Capture Tri-Meet

The Jacksonville State track team defeated Samford U. and Troy State in a triangular track meet held at the Saks High track on April 16. The Gamecocks track men collected 71 points, while Samford got 63 points and Troy got just 36 points.

At least six school records were broken at this meet with five in track events and one in a field event.

In the 100 yd. dash both Irv MacFarland and Don Cassidy broke the school record of .10:2 held by Leroy Armstrong last year when they ran it in .10:1. The Gamecocks took first places in two field events and five track events while Samford captured first places in two field events and five running events also.

The relay team of Irv MacFarland, Don Cassidy, Ray Vinson and Richard Cochran set a new record in the 440 yd. relay winning in the time of :44:6, breaking the old record of :44.8 set last year by Virgil Smith, Leroy Armstrong, Mike Zorn and Chuck Jennings.

In the field events Dick Bell won the shot putt with a toss 47'4 1/2". Steve Britt won the javelin event with a throw 152' - 2".

The mile and the two-mile events were won by Jacksonville's James Stanfield who ran the mile in 4:40.7 and the two-mile in 10:50.0.

The track team's next meet will be April 23, when it goes to Troy for a tri-meet with Troy and Samford. The next home meet will be on April 29 when JSC will be host at the Jacksonville Invitational Track Meet. The track season closes on May 7 with a triangle meet in Birmingham when Jax State will once again face Samford and Troy.

Let's get out to Saks on April 29 and support our track team.

Spades Nip Nannies 2-1 In IM Game

The Spades received key hits from Irv MacFarland and Weldon Curry paced the Spades to a 2-1 victory over last year's runner-ups, the Nannies, in a key intramural softball game. With

From here to the end of the game the Spades' pitcher, Jeff Hill, was in trouble every inning, but a fine defense kept the Nannies from scoring. In the sixth, for example, the

Injuries Hit Spring Practice

A rash of injuries has hampered somewhat the spring football drills at JSC this year. Three top performers are among the injured, watching for the remainder of the spring. Linebacker Pat MacTaggart was the first to suffer an injury when he broke his collarbone. Bill Stone, end and tackle, was the next player to be afflicted with an injury. Bill dislocated his shoulder and he will miss the remainder of the spring drills. Finally Jim Swords, a prime candidate for the tight end position, was struck down and had to undergo surgery. Eleven of these players are expected to play major roles for the Gamecocks next season and they will all be ready to go then.

Outside of the injuries the principal work of Coach Blevins and his assistants is to find backup players for the first stringers. In the three-game type scrimmages held in Anniston, the first team has completely dominated the show. With the passing of Richard Drawdy and the running of Robert Kelly, it appears that the Gamecocks are ready to start right where they left off last season, and if Coach Blevins can find the needed replacements he will surely improve on the 7-2 record he and the team compiled in 1965.

The Cinder Patch

The Jacksonville State track team opened the season on a sour note when they lost a close meet to Berry College of Rome, Ga., by the score of 73-72. The Gamecocks were leading in the meet when the Rome coach added the triple jump to the meet and this was the first knowledge Jax coach Mike Mann had of this event.

Standout performers for the Gamecocks were Irv MacFarland, Steve Britt, Dick Bell, and James Stanfield.

of Jerry Wayne Hallark, who struck out 14 men, the Florence Lions defeated the Jacksonville State Gamecocks by the score of 4-2. The loss brings the Gamecocks record to 4 wins and 7 losses.

The game was all tied up going until the top of the ninth when the Lions scored two runs which proved the margin of victory. Leading the attack for the Gamecocks was Greg Penland who had four of the eight Gamecocks hits.

The next game for the Gamecocks will be with Huntington. This will be a double-header.

Selections For Hall Of Fame

In the last issue of the COLLEGIAN there appeared the first selections in the newly-created Intramural Hall of Fame. In this issue we would like to make five more nominations. It should be mentioned that selection to the Hall of Fame usually goes to individuals who have excelled in several intramural sports, but it is not strange to see an individual make this accomplishment in just a single endeavor.

1. Ronald "Boots" Lackey--an active member of the Apaches football team, basketball player on the Pop-Tops, and softball star.

2. Tommy Ballard--Player, manager and official. Played on the Nannies softball team which finished second last year in the play-off.

3. Tommy Moore--Played for the SOL's this past football season and was one of the mainstays on the line.

4. Cecil Naftel--Official, manager, player. Selected to officiate at both the All-Star football game and the final game in the basketball league. Manager of the Righteous Boys, and outfielder on the Go-Hards.

5. Tim MacTaggart -- Football and basketball. Tim was selected to the All-Star football team and played a great game in the game against the Apaches. Played forward on the intramural basketball champs this year, was the leading rebounder for the team.

Lou's Net News

The Jacksonville State netmen won their first conference match with a 6-3 victory over Troy. The Gamecock netters split singles but captured all three doubles matches to record their third victory of the season as against two losses.

Winning for the Gamecocks were Steve Ellard who defeated Tommy Bass, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1; John Mann who beat Mike West 7-5, 8-6; and Tim MacTaggart who beat Bobby Register 6-1, 6-2. In doubles the teams of Ellard - Mann, MacTaggart - Chandelier, and Floyd and Gordon Boughton provided the margin of victory.

Jax Over Shorter 7-2

For the second time this season the Jacksonville State tennis team has defeated the Shorter team, this time by the score of 7-2.

The Gamecocks captured five of the six singles matches with Lloyd Deck the only Gamecock netman to taste defeat. In double the team of MacTaggart - Chandelier was defeated, thus accounting for the two losses of the day.

In singles Steve Ellard got revenge by defeating Barry Lee 7-5, 6-3 thus settling the score with the number one player from Shorter, who defeated Ellard in their first meeting.

This victory brought the season record to 4 wins and 2 losses.

★★★★ JSC Netters Stop Florence At 5-4 Score

In a thrilling come-from-behind victory the Jacksonville State tennis team evened up their conference record with a 5-4 win over arch-rival Florence. Trailing 4-2 with the three doubles matches remaining, the Gamecocks of Coach Tommy Ham got down to some serious playing and won all three matches in straight sets. Ellard - Mann defeated Adams - Bryant 6-4, 7-5, while MacTaggart - Chandelier beat Hall - Edwards 6-0, 6-2. The team of Deck - Mathews finished up the afternoon beating Newton - Bledsoe 6-1, 6-2.

The only Gamecocks to win in singles were Tim MacTaggart who ran his win string to eight, and Gordon Boughton.

The win gives the netters a 5-3 season.

The boss called the new stenographer into his office. "Miss Hawkins," he said, "you're the best looking girl we've had working in this office. You dress well, you have a nice voice, you make a good impression on the public, and your manners are excellent."

"Oh, thank you," she said, "your compliments are very pleasing."

"Enjoy them to the fullest," added the boss, "because now we are going to discuss your spelling, punctuation, and typing."

Weldon Curry paced the Spades to a 2-1 victory over last year's runner-ups, the Nannies, in a key intramural softball game. With the Nannies leading 1-0, the Spades took advantage of a streak of wildness by Nannies' pitcher, Tommy Ballard, to score the tying and winning runs.

With one out, a walk and a triple by MacFarland put the Spades back in the ballgame, and in the next inning a leadoff triple by Curry and a bunt scored the winning run.

Gordon Boughton Has Many New Experiences

Gordon Charles Matheson Boughton is an international student from Sydney, Australia. He is a graduate of Sydney Teachers' College with the qualifications to teach science and mathematics in the junior high level.

In May, 1964 Gordon was awarded the International

BOUGHTON

House Program Scholarship to participate in the International House Program at Jax State. He arrived at the college in the fall of 1964 after six weeks of traveling through the far east and the United States.

During the summer of 1965 Gordon taught at Camp Utopia in Springville. After camp, he had a most unusual and exciting adventure approximately four weeks before the fall semester started. What does this Australian do? He departs from Jacksonville practically penniless and on foot with the goal to get as far as he could and see as much of the United States as possible within this period. He was most successful for he hitchhiked to New York plus the surrounding states of the area.

Gordon participates in many and varied activities on campus such as the International Program, SGA, Canterbury Club, A Cappella Choir, and is a member of the tennis team.

After graduation in May, Gordon will return to Australia via Europe and teach science and mathematics in the Australia Education Department.
