AMBASSADOR SPEAKS THEIR LANGUAGE—Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow (left), U. S. State Department veteran of 36 years, talks to Kwon Myoung Ja (center) of South Korea, and Gordan Boughton of Australia during his visit to the International House at Jacksonville State College. He spoke on "U. S. Policy in the Far East," and told of events which are of great concern to the students and the countries from which they come.

Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow Speaks On The Far East At IH Dinner-Forum

Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow, a veteran of 36 years with the U. S. State Department, reinforced President Johnson's policy of assisting South Viet Nam in resisting external aggression and subversion in a speech delivered at the International House dinner-forum on Feb. 25. His topic was "U. S. Policy in the Far East."

This policy and its overall objectives he described as being a determination to help other countries maintain their individual and collective security from external aggression and subversion; to assist them in developing free from domination, and in accordance with their own traditions and to see the emergence and survival of non-communist nationalism.

The principal aim is peace and security for the nations and a concern for fair play, he said. The U. S. does

"Would you discriminate against a Negro entertainment group for an SGA Big Event?" This question was the basis for a poll among Jacksonville State students. The results were NOT: However, it was not unanimous; 100 said yes and 48 boys out of 100 gave this as their answer. The other 77 girls and 98 boys feel that good entertainment provides enjoyment regardless of the artists and most students were quick to point out that the rhythm and associated popular music and rock n' roll was native to the Negro tribes of Africa.

This attitude is in favor of non-discriminatory action which reflects some of the changing ideas that the modern college student has. The barriers of prejudice are beginning to be replaced with humanitarian ideals of equality. Whom do the students want?

According to the results of the poll, the Supreme's are tops. The boys preferred the head of the list, who rated in second place, too, with the boys, the girls and the disc jockeys, Johnny Mathis seem to hold over one-half of the votes reported.

After the Supremes and Johnny Mathis, the most often named entertainers among the girls are James Brown (17 out of 100), Otis Redding (9 out of 100), and Ray Charles (7 out of 100), and the boys' first choice, the boys, on the other hand, put their next three choices not the Supremes, James Brown, and Otis Redding, the last two having nine votes each. The Supremes, who were the girls' first choice, received third place among the boys with ten votes.

The remaining votes from the girls were cast for the Platters, Louis Armstrong, the Impressions, Duke Ellington, and the Ramsey Brothers. "A" list, all of whom had one vote each except the Platters who received four. One girl said she would like to see the Snappy Seven, a group who played for the senior prom at her high school. The groups with five or less votes named by the boys were the Tams, the Drifters, the Impressions, Louis Armstrong, and Harry Belafonte.

All in all, the general attitude of the students conveyed the idea that if the groups were worth hearing, it would be supported regardless of race, because, as one girl said, "good entertainment is simply good entertainment."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to direct this letter to the administration concerning the meal ticket policy. The statistics printed in the COLLEGIAN on Feb. 7, indicated that 65% of the girls and 67% of the boys go home on weekends.

It would seem that the best policy for the administration to follow in fairness to students who go home would be the adoption of an alternate five-day meal ticket plan.

I would like to suggest some kind of inquiring be held as to why this could or could not be done. I can see no reason why students should not be allowed to purchase meal tickets for only the food they eat. Even if a student does not eat Sunday dinner elsewhere without the feeling that he has paid for two meals, I am one of the 65% who still go home and I would like the benefit of all the money I spend.

Same Old Stuff

This editorial concerns the same old stuff that you hear all the time about why YOU should take part: about why YOU should be interested in happenings and events, and why YOU should care who leads and makes policy and represents YOU. I really realize that this is probably so worn out that YOU read it the effect is probably nil.

There is probably a reason for this, but I don't know exactly what it is. Not knowing the reason for the failure of this type of writing to get results will baffle all my readers of the resolution of the old stuff.

Whether the reader realizes it or not there is an IMPOR- TANT election to be held on the JSC campus on April 5. This election will decide who will take the reins of the Student Government Association and in turn how next year will turn out. The reader may think that this election will have little or no effect on him as an individual and see very little reason to vote, or to participate in pre-election campaigning. I hope this is not the case for unless each person who attends JSC votes and takes an active part, his election and the resulting student government will not be a truly representative body for everyone.

YOU, the reader decide, do you have the old fashioned GUTS to take 45 seconds and vote, or do you want to spend all next year complaining about the SGA officials. If you don't vote, then be man enough to keep your mouth shut, because whatever happens it will be directly accountable to you, for your selfishness and lack of real insight or whatever.

7. Takes little or no interest in the progress of his students.
8. Shows partiality toward some students.
9. Tells “off-color” jokes and uses improper (and profanity) language to waste time which should be used for presentation of material.
10. Keeps accurate records and grades and returns papers promptly.

Dear Editor,

February 21, 1966

Re Mr. Kline (COLLEGIAN, Feb. 9). Our hands are not completely tied in the respect to weekend social activities. This is exactly what fraternities and sororities are for. If the city and school cannot provide any substantial entertainment for us, then we must organize ourselves and try to remedy this plight. If the administration has agreed to answer our questions then have them explain why they have not suggested the idea of fraternities and sororities at Jacksonville. They are the ones who seem to be trying our hands and keeping us from helping ourselves.

Fraternities and sororities have long been a method of providing a social education to complement the academic education we get weekdays. Jacksonville is probably the largest school in the southeast without them. If there is a good reason for not having them why don’t someone at least tell us what it is?

Your Chance

With the wide range of candidates and interest groups one should be able to find at least one candidate that he can vote for in this election.

Editor's Note: In the last COLLEGIAN, I made reference to a financier in the Birmingham area who wouldn't mind investing considerable funds in student-oriented enterprises in Jacksonville. I wrote this man and he is anxious to find out how many students would patronize investments made in Your Chancd amusements

Do you want to see something that will make you mad? And make you woof, whoof, and hiccup at the same time? Then plan to be on hand for the JSC Student Senate meeting which will take place the first week in April.

Under the direction of C. P. Heath of the business department, 50 students representing every department at JSC will write almost the entire modern world with some of the bars directed at certain conditions here at JSC ranging from automobiles on campus to birth control. Issues have not been ignored because of their sensitivity.

The reason for the "R-E-V-I-E-W" in the title is that a review of the original review, "The What and the Chaff." The original was written by four people, a member of the Memphis Press Scimlar, a congresswoman's wife, a Northwestern University coed, and our own Mr. Heath. Two of the sketches in the original have been dropped of eight students accompanied a congressman's wife, a head of the art department, Kuniyoshi.

The prints are realistic and will go on display in the Mason Hall gallery on March 11, it has been an art exhibit by such well known printmakers as John Stuart Curry, Thomas Hart Benton, Wanda Gog, William Gropper, Umberto Romano, and Yassu Kunihy.

The gallery will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SGA Announces Campaign Dates

President John Mann, advises that the SGA has decided that official campaigning for SGA positions for next year will begin at 12 o'clock midnight, March 27. Until this time, all candidates have been urged not to do any vote getter.

Election Day has been set for Thursday, April 18. Early voting machines will be used and the votes will be tallied and results given immediately after the election.

Don't Be A Litter Bug

Mr. J. E. Fain, director of Public Safety Services, points out, "Our attention has been called to the thoughtlessness of some students in the Student Union Building." Mr. Fain refers to the fact that there are those who continually littering the floor and tables with their trash which could just as easily have been disposed of without causing any receptacle. Some consider the floor one large ash tray and toss their cigarettes in these ash trays of themselves by not using real ash trays. The Grab and the Student Union are for the students, but students who avail them selves of the facilities must also take the responsibility for keeping the facilities in reasonable cleanliness.

Those who feel that they do not have to heed this warning may be surprised when they receive citations or are suspended from use of the Grab and SUB. Think Clean "Literally."

Phi Beta Lambda announces that student director- ies already ordered by students must be picked up no later than Friday, March 11. Beginning Friday all copies on hand will be sold for $5.00 each. Inquire at machines' room in business administration department to get your copy.
Gamecocks Top Troy
Take ACC Honors

The Jacksonville State Gamecocks won their first Alabama Collegiate Conference Basketball title by defeating arch rival Troy 73-71 in a game played at Stevenson Gym on Feb. 19. The win avenges two earlier setbacks by the Red Wave this season, Bill Spivey, senior forward from Guntersville, paced the Gamecocks with 22 points, 18 of which came in the first half, Behind Jones in the scoring column were Fred Lovorn, who had 19, Paul Trammell and Terry Owens who had 12 and 13 points, respectively. The tempo of the game started off fast and for the first 10 minutes the lead changed back and forth. The With about five minutes left in the half the Gamecocks began getting free shots on the Red Wave, Jones extended their lead to seven points and they gradually pulled away from here. By the middle of the second half the lead was up to 15 points and the Gamecocks fans were almost assured of being conference champs. The win was the seventh in a row for the Gamecocks who, after a rough beginning season, plan to play steady basketball. The win gives the Gamecocks a conference record of 9-2, and an overall record of 16-12. The final action for the Gamecocks will be at the ACC Basketball Tournament this year being held at Alabama College.

Track Beats Football In Tennis

To everyone who is wondering about this strange head at the top of the story, I will explain. So sit back in your desk and listen to this fantastic tale.

In my daily journeys to the athletic building I made it a daily effort to supply the students with worthwhile sports news, my weary eyes witnessed a tennis match that will go down in the annals of Jacksonville athletic sports as a classic. This duel pitted assistant football coach, Ken Beard, against returning track coach, Mike Mann. When I happened on this epic struggle the match was all tied up at four games apiece. Snatching a news story I stopped and will report to you what happened.

As I approached Coach Beard had just sent one of his fireballs serve across the net to Coach Mann's backhand, and Coach Mann, with his great reflexes, rifled the ball back in the face of Coach Beard. The stand has been built, and an antenna will soon be installed. A member of the tennis team, and Mrs. John R. Stewart, Jacksonville.
