Smoking And Health Clinic Scheduled Here

Smoking and health will be the subject of a four day conference at the Jacksonville State University campus Tuesday, April 9, at Leone Cole Auditorium.

The public is invited to the 8 a. m. symposium.

Dr. Paul T. DeCamp, a lung specialist from Ochsner Clinic of New Orleans, La., will be the keynote speaker. The title of his speech is "Smoking and Health: Its Implications."

Also speaking on the program, which concerns 13 counties in Northeast Alabama, will be Dr. George Scofield, physician and pathologist from Carraway Methodist Hospital in Birmingham. His subject is "The Pathologist Looks at Smoking and Health."

Although the conference is designed primarily for JSU students, more than 700 letters have been mailed to education, labor, and business leaders in this area inviting them to the conference.

The conference here is one of five being held in Alabama which is the "Pilot Project" of which soon will be a nationwide effort.

District chairman for the program is Mrs. Palmer D. Calvert, head of the physical education department at Jax State;

Religious Emphasis Activities Underway

College campus circuit speaker, Dr. Thomas Ogletree, will address participants of Jacksonville State University's April 7-12 Religious Emphasis Week at 9:30 a. m. today at the Round House.

His speech, "The Context of a Theology of Responsibility," will also be presented tonight following a dinner for Religious Emphasis Week resource leaders and counselors.

Dr. Ogletree is the author of "Christian Faith and History" and "The Death of God Controversy."

The noted minister is professor of theology and history at the University of Chicago Divinity School. Prior to assuming his present position, he was professor of philosophy and religion at Birmingham - Southern College. He is married to the former Miss Marilyn Brittain of Anniston.

Dr. Ogletree spoke on the topic, "The Christian Affirmation of Life," Sunday night. A reception followed.

Students To Vote On Referendum Apr. 23

By a 14-1 roll call vote, the Student Government Association last Thursday night proposed a mandatory six-dollar per semester student activity fee for all JSU students enrolled for more than 10 semester hours or residing on campus.

The proposed fee is subject to a referendum of the student body and will be presented for a "Yes-No" vote at the April 23 SGA general election. A two-thirds "yes" vote of those voting in the election is required for the measure to become an amendment to the present SGA constitution.

Under the provisions of the proposed amendment, the payment of the activity fee for two semesters will entitle the student to one copy of the Mimosa at no additional charge. The activity fee will also replace Allied Arts cards which are presently sold each semester. The $22.75 paid by many students for these two activities will be reduced to $12 per year by the fee.

In addition, the fee allocations will provide supplementary funds for the publishing of a weekly campus newspaper, support for homecoming activities, a firm budget for the cheerleaders and school spirit activities, funds for an Associated Women Student's organization, intra-mural sports monies and funds for religious life activities. In anticipation of an active SGA program in the now under construction Student Commons Building, ten per cent of the fee is allocated to these operations and a like amount to a student oriented lecture series.

It is estimated that more than $60,000 will be realized from the assessment if approved by the student body and implemented by the administration as drafted. The six dollars per student per semester is based on a four per cent assessment of the $150 tuition. (See ACTIVITY FEE, Page 4)

Dr. Ogletree will address the assembly Tuesday morning at 10:30 on "The Church and Worldly Responsibility," followed by another film presentation at 1:30 p. m.

A ministers' and resource leaders' dinner will be held at 5 p. m., followed by a speech by the Rev. Mr. Brasfield.

Young Critics

President Lyndon B. Johnson's recent decision not to seek re-election this year has been attributed by more than one person to pressure by the discontented youth of America.

The widespread opposition to the Vietnam war and the disenchantment with the Johnson Administration had its beginning on college campuses across the nation.

Following the President's Sunday night radio and television address, students at JSU as well as at other colleges across the nation rushed from door to door yelling, "Have you heard the news - - Johnson's not running."

As Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., told college audiences in New Hampshire and Wisconsin: "The critical questions about the war were not raised by the opposition (Republican) party.

"They were not raised by the press.

"They were not raised by the business community.

"They were raised by you --the students."

If Johnson's decision was, as many believe, based on the prodding of younger candidates supported by an increasing number of young voters - - it is only a crack in the dam. --NB

Activity Fee Needed

The activity fee proposed last week by the Student Government Association has been acclaimed by both incumbent SGA officers and candidates for next year's positions as a move in the right direction.

In essence the activity fee proposal is an attempt to consolidate and organize the various aspect of student life on a sound financial base.

In a greater scope, the proposal may be considered a test of the role of the SGA and the individual student in the JSU academic community.

If the proposed fee receives the required two - thirds favorable vote of the student body on April 23, the democratic process of change in a self governing nation will have been exercised by students who will soon be required to participate in their local, state and national government.

Concurrence with and implementation of the activity fee by the administration will be a vote of confidence for the JSU SGA and an affirmation that JSU students possess the intelligence to manage - - individually and collectively - - their daily affairs.

An administrative veto or totaled disregard of the activity fee idea will in effect be an insult to the intelligence of 5,000 individuals who supposedly are capable of obtaining a college education. It might also be considered a reflection of the institution which is preparing these individuals to take their place in the world of the future.

Administrative disregard of the activity fee proposal will be an even greater insult to the "governing" authority of the SGA. To many it might mean the SGA has no power to govern.

The burden of implementation rests with the administration if the fee is approved by the student body. If it is approved and not implemented, it seems only fitting that the SGA - - which would then obviously have no power--should be dissolved. --NB

Obstacle Course

A 55-gallon drum filled with concrete placed in the middle of Pelham Road is not exactly what we had in mind to help slow down traffic for students going to and from Martin Hall.

In this modernistic world, surely something as simple as warning lights could be set up at each approach to Martin Hall.

As the college expands across Pelham Road, an overwalk will surely be required. But until then, the problem of crossing the road will continue to be a daily game of Russian Roulette. --LJS

Blasts Sports

Dear Editor:

Earlier in the semester, I made a few comments about the quality of the sports page in The Chanticleer.

Apparently my judgement was premature!

Minor sports, such as golf, tennis and intramural sports are not of the magnitude of football and basketball, but they do require a little more recognition than they have received in the past few months.

Considering that it takes several persons to put a newspaper together, I believe your sports editor's scope of reports has fallen far below an acceptable level.

I realized that many long and tiresome hours go into the preparation of a sports page, but I also believe that the quality could be improved if an honest attempt was made to get information concerning ALL of the campus sports.

Letters to the Editor

Busy Signal

Dear Editor:

For the past few years, I have heard complaints from fellow students and friends about unkind treatment from coed dormitory personnel.

I never gave the matter much thought until I was confronted with a situation which involved a woman's dormitory director and myself.

One night last week I stayed up studying for a test. I found myself without adequate study material. Shortly after 8 a. m. the following morning, I placed a phone call to a coed on campus to secure some lecture material.

The phone in the dorm was answered by a lady with an elderly voice, so I assume that I was not speaking to a student.

The telephone conversation, which did not last more than 15 seconds, went as follows:

"Could you please get (name withheld) for me?"

"There are no monitors on duty."

"This call is quite important . . ."

"No monitors on duty." hang up.

As to know whether I located lecture material is not important. What I am concerned about is why I was so rudely treated. Not only was an injustice done to me, but also to the girl with whom I wanted to speak. As a resident of that particular dormitory, she was denied a privilege to which she was entitled.

If my call had been a sincere emergency, and treated in such a rude manner as has been described, both the coed resident and I would resent and condemn such treatment far more than we do at the present time. It is my belief that the interest of a dormitory director is in the welfare of the dormitory residents. The attitude shown by the dormitory director seemed to be that of irresponsibility for her occupants.

Friendly?

Dear Editor:

As a Negro, first semester transfer student on "THE FRIENDLIEST CAMPUS IN THE SOUTH", I feel it is advantageous that I express my idea of this "Utopia."

I must say the students have been more than friendly. Some students help you save your breath by not speaking. The students in the cafeteria are the greatest, they will gladly get up and give you their table if you sit with them.

I could not write a letter without thanking those lovely students in Glazner Hall for being so warm hearted. I feel honored to hear those nice kind compliments that are whispered when I pass (Trigger; or at least I think that's what they said) and their generosity is unspeakable by the things they throw out the window. I know out of friendship.

I am overjoyed to see that the students have come to college (JSU) with an open mind, open to new ideas and are able to accept and not just tolerate.

Yes, the students of JSU are the greatest!

Qualifications

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my deepest appreciation to you and your associate editor, Mr. Norman Brown, for stating plainly in The Chanticleer your views concerning "campus inconsistency" and the "lack of interest in the Student Government Association." I believe you are making many students stop and think. It is high time someone "woke" the campus up.

I would also like to thank Mr. David Milam for his daring trek to Rowan Hall. My word for David is to keep up the good work, and don't give up just because a few people criticize you. All great men are criticized. At least the students know that one office of the SGA is behind them.

I would also like to express my opinion concerning the lack of candidates in the upcoming election of the SGA. The qualifications are too stiff. What type of validity does the 1.25 quality point average have on a candidate's qualification?

The qualifications for President of the United States, the highest office in the land, are that a person be 35 years of age and a citizen of the United States. If this is sufficient for the highest office in the land, why isn't the fact that a person is a full time student in good standing a sufficient qualification for an SGA candidate? Why not let the voter decide the candidate's qualifications rather than some election committee?

I raise the qualification issue because two students told me this week that they would have considered it an honor to have (See LETTERS, Page 3)

Kaleidoscope Courses On Paper

Ever been thumbed through the JSU catalog and found a course you'd like to take, and then found that it doesn't appear in the class schedule?

Chances are you have, or have at least noticed that some courses never seem to be offered. Many courses haven't been offered, and perhaps won't be for some time, if at all.

A check of the last three catalogs reveals that there are approximately 57 courses listed which haven't been offered through the class schedule on the undergraduate level over a six semester period extending from the fall of 1966 through the coming summer of 1968. The statement is heavily qualified since it is possible that some of the courses might have been offered and not listed for some reason, some might have been overlooked in the check, and because some of the courses listed have been offered--but as graduate rather than undergraduate courses.

Considering the number of courses listed in the catalog, 57 isn't a large number not to have been offered recently. There are reasons why they haven't been.

An official in admissions and records stated that the offering of courses is dependent primarily on two things: the demand for the course and having a qualified person to teach the course. An example of the lack of demand might well be why Household Physics (PHS 252) hasn't been offered recently, while an example of the lack of a qualified instructor might well be the reason for not teaching psychology of the exceptional child (PSY 441).

A breakdown by departments reveals that the following courses haven't been offered in the six semesters reviewed:

Business Administration, 9 courses, B. A. 370, 395, 463, 465, 485, 486, 498, plus 401 under Vocational Business Education; Psychology, Guidance, and Philosophy, 16 courses, PSY 242, 243, 301, 302, 303, 311, 312, 313, 323, 401, 402, 403, 441, 442, 443, and 451 (some of these, such as 401, are offered on the graduate level with a graduate course number); Art,

The film opens with a reminder of the vulnerability of nations to nuclear attack postulates a crisis, and portrays the events leading to the use of nuclear weapons.

As tension builds, the characters express their opinion that nuclear war is not inevitable.

When the mushroom is planted, civilization vanishes.

A city is ravished by a firestorm; trembling walls tumble in a concrete jungle; police shoot the hopelessly maimed; civilians raid military food supplies; and looters are tried and executed by firing squads.

The most disturbing incident is an attempt to present logical reasons for retaliation.

One may expect to leave the showing open-mouthed and speechless as he attempts to interpret the true meaning of the material so vividly exemplified.

Rather than shocking or frightening the audience, the film is meant to make the viewer sensitive to the need for better understanding and communication between nations.

By class level, one freshman, seven sophomore, 23 junior and 26 senior courses haven't been offered during the period reviewed.

If no one wants to take the course, or if there is no one to teach it, why is any one of these courses listed in the catalog?

Dr. Greene Taylor, head of the Division of Education, explained that before a course can be offered, it must be listed on the catalog. A course might well be in the catalog for sometime before a qualified instructor is found.

Fifteen of the 16 courses not offered by the Department of Psychology, Guidance, and Philosophy are psychology courses. Presently, neither a major or a minor is offered in psychology. The courses are listed; evidently in anticipation of obtaining qualified personnel at some future date.

Still, although there are good reasons for not having the courses offered, the situation to the average student can be confusing and even misleading, especially in the case of the Department of Journalism, which has only three courses, none of which have been offered (in recent history).

This may in part account for the quality of this feature.

Tell It Like It Is

A cartoon in the current issue of Playboy Magazine pictures a ten year old boy writing on a wall and two elderly gently passing the scene commenting, "Kids today like to tell it like it is."

Such was the advice of the editor of the Nashville Tennessean, John Siegenthaler, to 250 newsmen and educators at the March 26 meeting of the American College Public Relations Association at Birmingham.

Siegenthaler, who became editor of the paper in 1962 after serving as administrative assistant to the then Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told the educators and PR officers that the rebellion of students on U. S. college campuses is the major untold news story of today.

"It's not just the New Left at Harvard or Berkeley protesting the draft or smoking pot. There is a new type of student today."

He warned the convention participants to "tell it like it is" when speaking of today's campus.

"All too often, we're saying it's all just a passing fad, that these youngsters are yesterday's goldfish swallows and panty raiders. It's not true."

These young people have grown up in a society which they feel has lied to them," he said. "They have realized that we idealize institutions and political leaders who live by the double standard.

"The sense that the society in which they are about to live is not what they want to live in," he said.

Siegenthaler said communities tend to feel that the problem of college rebellion is remote until it involves a local campus. Actually, he said, today's college rebellion involves the entire college-aged community.

Telling It Like It is

According to city of Jacksonville Chief of Police Ross Tipton, city policemen do not have the authority to and will not stop and question co-eds for no other reason than their being seen entering or exiting a man's off-campus apartment.

Chief Tipton released this word after being informed that on March 29 an officer had stopped Carol Jean Smith and asked her name. According to Carol Jean, the officer implied the only reason he wanted her name was because of an alleged infraction of a school regulation prohibiting co-eds from visiting men's off-campus residences. The officer had apparently seen her sitting on the front porch of a Pelham Road house earlier that afternoon.

On conferring with a JSU administrative official, Carol Jean was told she could not get out of the car when visiting such residences.

Chief Tipton further clarified his stand, saying the city police were obligated to enforce school regulations only when they paralled a city ordinance, county or state law, or federal statute.

SGA office hours

Office hours for incumbent officers of the SGA have been posted at various locations on the JSU campus. They are: Monday - - 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and Wednesday, 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Tuesday - - 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. Thursday - - 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., 12:30 p. m. to 1:30 p. m., 4:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Reply

Mr. Sparks:

Thank you for your moral support of Chanticleer policy. Mr. Milam also expresses his thanks for your kind words.

We agree on your points for qualification for SGA office with the exception that a junior standing should be required for the president's office to assure the necessary knowledge of the campus and its activities is possessed by all candidates.

You, like many other students, have several good ideas. How about doing something about them instead of reclining on your posterior and mouthing off. With some exceptions, those now in power cannot be expected to change a system which has served them well in the past.

Whether you realize it or not you are a member of the SGA and entitled to voice your opinion on the floor of the student senate each Monday night. Of the 25 odd senators in the student senate, surely you can find one who expresses views similar to yours and will introduce the necessary legislation to bring about an amendment proposal for a campus referendum in an election.

Get in gear and I'll see you at the SGA meeting.

Question . . . .

What are your views on the assessment and utilization of the student activity fee as proposed at the April 1 Jacksonville State University Student Government Association meeting?

Answer . . . .

The assessment of the activity fee proposed at the last SGA meeting would, in the opinion of this student, be a step in the direction of improving student life at this university.

It seems to me that the position of our student government, that the quality of the student newspaper and yearbook, and the level of our social, academic, and religious lives could all be improved by the levying of this fee. I was impressed by the sections pertaining to entertainment and was glad to see that a portion of the $6 per semester fee would be set aside for improving the quality of guest speakers on campus. Another excellent section allocates funds for use by the SGA in promoting religious development.

I would advocate that, along with the proposed amendment, the SGA set up a budget and finance committee to assure proper use of all funds.

In conclusion, I feel I must add that my support of the amendment is contingent upon the approval of the students. I urge each student to study the proposal carefully and to voice his opinion on April 23.

Roger Killian
Candidate for vice-president, SGA

Answer . . . .

In order for the student government to provide valuable service to its students, it must possess at least two attributes - good leadership and proper finances.

The activity fee is one way in which the organization can pre-plan its role of furnishing entertainment and providing proper activities. By accepting the activity fee, our school would not be setting a precedent but following actions already prescribed by many other universities. I consider the amount to be paid (four per cent of gross academic tuition and fees) quite reasonable to both the student - resident and the student - commuter.

As to the allocations of this fund, I am in reasonable agreement with all except one. There is a ten per cent allocation to Student Commons Building operations. It seems to me that a sizable profit is made in the "Grab" on refreshment machines to overcome any expense incurred.

Therefore, it seems obvious that all the net profit made on the students is not being returned for expenses brought on by the students. Also, is this not similar to the operations of the book store, which is supposed to be doing a service for the student? If it is such a service for the student, why have successful bookstores been established in downtown Jacksonville?

If I am wrong in my insinuations, I voice an immediate apology to whomsoever feels an injustice has been made. If I am right, I, and my fellow students, are being wronged.

Jim Campbell

Disregarding the recognized authority of a state supported academic institution's administration to prescribe the ACADEMIC standards (such as grades and educational level) for admission and continued enrollment at a given institution, what is the role and authority of that administration in the government and regulation of the daily life of an individual within and without the geographic boundaries of that institution's campus, given that the individual in question is a citizen of the United States and a regularly enrolled student at that institution?

Disregarding the locally traditional activities of an administration franchised student government organization at a state supported academic institution (such as entertainment arrangements, charity drives, homecoming activities, etc.) what is the role and authority of that student government organization in the government and regulation of the daily life of an individual within and without the geographic boundaries of that institution's campus, given that the individual is a citizen of the United States of America and a regularly enrolled student at that institution?

Answer . . . .

Views on the authority of the administration and the student government to regulate daily life of the students:

The student should at all times, whether on or off campus, be subject to whatever rules and regulations as are necessary to protect the integrity, character, and morals of the other students of the institution. In other words, the administration and the SGA should have the authority to deal with students who commit acts which reflect upon the image of the institution and its students.

Regulation of the daily life of an individual by an institution's administration should, however, in this student's opinion, extend only to the point to which it is necessary to maintain high academic and social standards. The administration and the student government should, in my opinion, share the responsibility in prescribing and enforcing necessary restrictions and in maintaining acceptable standards. Cooperation between the administration and the student government would seem to be the only satisfactory route to success.

Roger Killian
Candidate for vice-president, SGA

Answer . . . .

I consider the main purpose of the student govern-

Activity Fee

tion and fees to be paid by each student this fall.

The activity fee as proposed will not be assessed during the short summer semester, but students who have previously paid the fee will be considered members of the SGA in the summer following the academic fee in which they paid the fee.

The amount of the activity fee to be allocated to each activity is set forth in the proposed amendment as a per centage of the total amount collected each semester. In an attempt to prevent campus politics or personal relationships from interfering with the allocation of the funds to the Mimoso, student newspaper, cheerleaders and Associated Women Students.

The amendment provides for a change in these activities per centage only by constitutional amendment. Other activities may be increased or decreased after the academic year begins in September.

ment is to bring to light, and help solve, the problems of the individual student.

It is difficult for the administrative staffs to handle individual problems, because they must deal with and organize the scattered activities of large numbers of students enrolled in a variety of programs. Also, it is difficult for teachers to involve themselves with students, because they are busy with research, professional activity, and off-campus life.

Therefore, it is through the student's representative body that his views have the greatest value. In order for the student government to function properly, there must be responsible and mature participation on the part of the student body and respectful acceptance on the part of both the administration and the faculty. Without either, the student government has little value.

OUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT MUST OVERCOME THE IMAGE OF SOMETHING IN WHICH IT IS USEFUL IN MAKING DECISIONS OF WHERE TO PUT THE TRASH CANS AND HOW TO PLAN A HOMECOM-ING WEEKEND.

Since the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land, the student is first a citizen and then a student.

Is not citizen - student synonymous with citizen-businessman, citizen-parent, citizen-teacher in that all citizens should possess the same freedom of speech, the same freedom of peaceful assembly, and the same right of petition that other citizens possess?

Is it not, then, conclusive that an institution's administration infringes upon the citizen - student when these guaranteed rights and freedoms are denied him? Not only should an institution's administration attempt to prevent the denial of the student's rights and freedoms, but they should insure that institutional powers do not restrain the student's personal development.

If a student violates the civil law, I believe punishment by civil authorities should be sufficient, except where discredit is brought DIRECTLY upon the institution. When discredit is evident, punishment should be complete and thorough.

This reveals a lack of maturity and responsibility on the student's character.

With the spring of Spring in Northeast Alabama, a new fraternity has been formed on the JSU campus.

Omicron Kappa is the third fraternity at JSU with its present membership of approximately 20 young men. Dean of Men Gus Edwards is faculty sponsor.

Under the auspices of Dean Edwards, Omicron Kappa hopes to eventually affiliate with and become a chapter of Kappa Alpha. This may take some doing, since KA has not established a chapter in this province since 1918. A luncheon meeting is planned by Omicron Kappa with the Anniston KA alumnae and its president Guice Potter.

Interested men students with at least a 1.25 QPA are invited to contact Seymour West, president of Omicron Kappa or members Chip Brewton, John Freeman, Jimmy Howard or Ralph Walker. The new group meets each Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in room 249 Bibb Graves Hall.

Seymour and Chip have recently visited KA chapter at U. of Georgia, U. of N. C., and Emory U. Plans for a chapter house at JSU are now in the making. Additional visits are planned for local Omicron Kappas to Auburn, Alabama and Georgia Tech.

The new fraternity presently plans a campus dance and a stag party before the end of the semester.

Delta Chi and Zeta Omega are sporting teams in the intramural softball leagues. At press time, Delta Chi remained undefeated.

The war cry of the indian brave pierced the night air at Crystal Springs last Saturday as Delta Chi puffed at a traditional indian party. According to unofficial reports, Delta Chi "social events" are getting better all the time.

Charles Here April 17

The long-awaited Ray Charles Show comes up next Wednesday night, April 17, at Leone Cole

Auditorium, sponsored by the JSU Student Government Association. Tickets for the show will be available in the Grab at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 9-11 for the holders of Allied Arts Cards only, according to SGA vice-president, David Millam. Those who have double AA Cards may pick up two tickets, and those who hold singles may pick up their ticket and also purchase one additional ticket.

Any remaining tickets will go on sale at 12:30 p. m. Friday, April 12, in the Grab.

Since his first smash hit, "Georgia On My Mind," Ray Charles has become one of the world's most popular artists.

Blinded at childhood, Ray has achieved more than most people with sight. According to Ray, with every bit of music he writes or performs, "I want people to feel my soul. I try to bring out my soul so that people can understand what I am."

He will be accompanied by the Raeletts, popular all female quartet.

BSU Talent Show Set For Wed. Night at LCA

The hidden talent of JSU will be revealed at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in an "Around the World Tour" talent show at Leone Cole Auditorium.

The Baptist Student Union sponsored show will feature students in sidewalk cafes of Paris and singers "Fresh from Carnaby Street."

Jimmy Nichols and Rosie Maynor will host the annual JSU "happening". Chris Carlyle and his combo will back musical attractions.

Admission is 50¢ with proceeds to be directed to the BSU mission fund.

The BSU has set a $1100 goal for the support of student summer mission workers, according to BSU president Wayne Luck.

According to Luck $120 has been collected since the locally BSU summer mission program was conceived this year. He said a stronger effort will be made to solicit contributions before the end of the current semester.

Luck said that there are 2,600 Baptist students enrolled at JSU and asked that each individual to contribute half a dollar toward the goal. He pointed out that JSU student Dana Baker will be working this summer as a student missionary with the migrant workers of Alabama.

NOTICE - - There will be a car wash each Wednesday at the Norge Village Parking Lot on Pelham Road from 12:30 to 5 p. m. The JSU Circle K Club is sponsoring the project. One dollar per car.

Art Dept. Slates Show

In an effort to present more of what's happening in the world of art to the students of JSU, the art department has on exhibit the circuit show from the 1967-68 28th Annual National Watercolor Competition.

The collection is in the basement gallery of Mason Hall and was arranged by the Alabama Watercolor Society, which sponsored the competition and judging last November.

There is excitement in this show," stated a member of the art department, "You will find that watercolor can range from pink pastels to pungent pastels," he added.

QUEEN OF THE BALL - - Pretty Miss Phyllis Melhorn is crowned Queen of the ROTC Brigade Ball by last year's winner, Jan Garner. First alternate in the event was Jeanne Bright and second alternate was Judy Rose.

ROTC Concert Plans Told

JSU officials announced plans this week for a Reserve Officer Training Corps band concert.

The concert is tentatively planned for Friday, May 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Jacksonville High School Auditorium.

Col. George D. Haskins, professor of military science at JSU, describes this year's ROTC band as, "One of the best military bands I have seen in my military career, and possibly the best ROTC band in the state of Alabama."

Local residents can appreciate the marching and musical ability of the band, as many of the band members are also members of the famous Marching Southerners. Subsequent announcements will be made in this newspaper.

Sports NOTES

Martin Ennis,
Sports Editor

If you've been watching our grid-ironers practice each afternoon and are planning to go to the J-Day Game, change your calendars . . . it is now going to be held Thursday night, May 2. Should be interesting, come on out.

The two new coaches helping out this spring are Buddy Blankenship from Decatur, Ga., and Grady Elmore, Jr., from Columbus, Ga. Buddy played football at Florida State and received outstanding comments from FSU football coach, Bill Peterson, when Buddy announced his new position. Grady Elmore, is a product of the University of Alabama, and coached his high school team to runner-up position in the state championship tournament.

Recently the Athletic Department signed two high school basketball players. Both are from B. B. Comer of Sylacauga . . . They are Tommy Reynolds, 6-7, and Lester Bryant, 6-3.

Speaking of basketball, at the JSU cage awards banquet Bill Brantley was selected most valuable and best field goal shooter. Fred Lovvorn was awarded the best free throw shooter award and also chosen as captain. Ken Rathbun was the best rebounder. Congratulations are in order to Paul Trammell, Steve Copeland and Fred Lovvorn. These young men are the Gamecock seniors, and they played on a championship team each year they were here at Jax State.

****

The baseball team seems to be another of championship caliber and a few of the outstanding men are: Gary Ledbetter, Ken Adams and Johnnie Butler for the hitters, and Jeff McCool and Darrell Childress for the pitching staff. Ledbetter and Butler are banging the ball at a .375 clip while Ken Adams is going strong with a .583 average. McCool is 1-0 for the season, pitched five innings. . . . has a cool 0.00 ERA and has struck out 11 batters in those five innings. Childress is also 1-0 . . . pitched nine innings. . . has an ERA of 2.00 . . . and has struck out 11. While we're commending people on the diamond; let's not forget Coach Wedgeworth, who does a fine job each spring.

****

The tennis team is having its problems but we have faith in Mr. MacTaggart and his netters, who are being coached this year by Ray Benton.

****

The golf team is reported to be getting better each time out on the links. Tom Howard and Marc Calton lead the way for the Jax State golfers.

****

The track team started their ventures April 4 and the results were too late for our deadline, but the sports department will have a full report on them in the next issue.

Things Looking Up At Spring Training Camp

No doubt head football coach Jim Blevins has many problems facing him this spring, but one of them will not be for want of a running game.

The Gamecocks should have the strongest running attack in years and probably the most depth.

Back at running back positions are Bubba Long, a two-year starter; Glen Spann, a promising junior; Lynn Swinford, who turned in a fine performance when Long was injured last fall; Mike Little, a flashy sophomore who missed last season because of injuries; and two newcomers, Robert Butterworth and Melvin Barber.

Long was one of the top running backs in the South as a freshman, but injuries slowed the 205 pounder last year. In spite of injuries, however, Long gained 559 yards rushing and caught 14 passes for 138 yards. Long has 1127 yards rushing for two seasons and 48 pass receptions for 678 yards. Long holds the career scoring record at Jacksonville with 120 points.

Along with Long at the

Gamecocks Rip Southern, And Athens But Lose to Livingston

Jacksonville tore Birmingham Southern apart here on March 28. Before the Panthers knew what hit 'em they were down 5-0 in the very first inning and out of the game.

Catcher Wayne Hester and Outfielder Kenny Adams struck the most damaging blows to Southern. Hester slashed an opposite field three run homer behind Adams' two-run single all in the first inning. Adams doubled home another pair in the second. For the day Adams had three hits and four rbi's.

Four more runs in the second inning really put the icing on the cake, and Coach Ray Wedgeworth's

Gamecocks Top Athens

The Jacksonville State University golfers out-classed the golf team of Athens College 16 1/2 to 11 1/2 in Anniston, allowing their opponents only one tie in the day's activities.

Senior and student coach, Marc Calton, took medalist honors with a 74 followed by Larry Blackmon's 76. Here is the way the Jaxmen did it:

Tom Howard d. John From 3-0; Marc Calton d. Jim McDoe 3-0; Howard and Calton d. From and McDoe 3-0; Larry Blackman d. Vince Stratton 3-0; Steve Marks and Tony D'Amelio tied 11/2; Blackman and Marks d. D'Amelio and Stratton 3-0.

In other golf action, Florence State edged Jacksonville by a close 9 1/2 - 8 1/2 score at Anniston Country Club. In a three way match against Alabama and Birmingham Southern held at Tuscaloosa, the Jaxmen came in second. The Crimson Tiders toured the links with a team score of 378, Jax came in with 421 and Southern had 456.

Terrell, of the University had the low score with a 70 (one under par), while Tom Howard's 80 was low for the Gamecocks and Byron Matthews' 84 was the best the Panthers could manage.

running back position are Swinford, a 185 pound sophomore.

At fullback, Spann started the last two games for Jax last fall and turned in fine performances. His return, along with Little, should give the Jaxmen a fine pair of fullbacks. Another top prospect at this post is Barber, a 6-4, 217 pound junior from High Point, N. C.

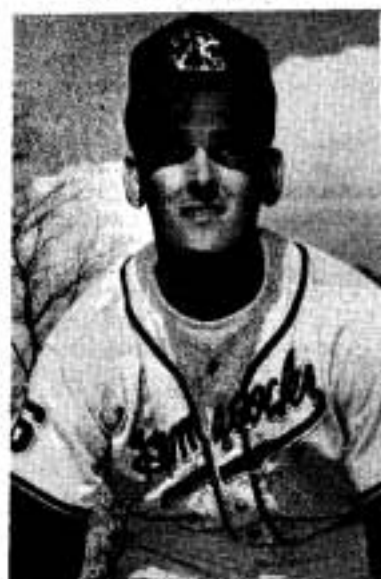

Blevins has plenty of problems facing him in troops coasted the rest of the way.

A trio of Jax pitchers, fronted by southpaw Jeff McCool of Birmingham, rationed Southern to only two hits and fanned 17 men. Meanwhile, Coach Al Wassum's Panthers couldn't find an effective

Coaching Clinic Set

A very unique coaching clinic will be held here April 12-13. As far as we know it's the only one of its type in existence.

Not only will high school coaches hear lectures by Head Coach Jim Blevins and his staff (Ken Beard, Buddy Blankenship, and Grady Elmore, Jr.), they'll see Jax State theories put to use on the practice field.

Lecturing sessions will be from 8 till 12, and after a break for lunch, on field demonstrations will be staged by the Gamecock football team.

Almost 100 coaches attended last year, but Jax is expecting at least double that figure this time. The clinic was very popular last year.

guiding the Gamecocks back to winning form, but this definitely isn't one of his biggest worries. Not at the moment, anyway.

thrower until Jim Humphries and Jerry Wilson came on after the damage had been done.

Following McCool to the hill for the Gamecocks in winning fashion were Lowell Tew and Jimmy Thompson. The righthanders worked two hitless innings apiece. McCool fanned 11 in his five innings, while Tew and Thompson got three apiece.

In other baseball action Jacksonville dropped Athens 5-2. Darrell Childress went the distance against the Bears.

The righthander whiffed 11 men and walked only three in his stint. Childress also threw only 103 pitches of which 80 were strikes.

The Gamecocks moved into a 2-0 lead at the end of the fourth, Ken Adams banged a double to drive in the initial run.

Athens got one in the fifth, but the Gamecocks got three more markers in the sixth to clinch the contest.

Also the Gamecocks dropped to Livingston by a score of 5-3.

A costly error in the second inning may have cost the Gamecocks the game. Livingston scored all their runs in that inning.

Netters Fall To Samford

The Jacksonville State University tennis team have had their problems so far this year, but show a lot of promise.

The tennis team has dropped two matches both by a score of 8-1. They Birmingham Southern.

This year's coach is Ray Benton from Fort McClellan. Ray is an outstanding player, and has served at several country clubs throughout the area and promises to be an excellent coach.

I M News

The Chanticleer will feature one IM game each issue, plus the scores during the period.

This issue . . . the Corksoakers vs. the 69'ers. Final score: Corksoakers, 2; 69'ers, 1.

Behind 1-0 until the last inning, the Corksoakers had to pull it out on a single by Bill Davis, followed by a Don McWhorter triple and the game winning single by Benny LaSalle wrapped it up for the winners.

The 69'ers scored their run on a first batter, first inning inside the park homerun. The whole 69'er team played well with Brock, Fowler and Hill being the stalwarts for the losers.

Jackson said the Alabama Highway Department marked off the parking lot disregarding his suggestions.

Changes in the parking have been proposed, but in the meantime, don't get lost in that big lot.

Remember, traffic and parking tickets must be paid - either individually or collectively before a student is allowed to register or graduate.

Student Directory To Be Ready In Near Future

The annual student directory, which is usually published before November, is now being printed and should be ready for mailing April 17.

Due to complications, the directory has been delayed, according to Miss Lucille Branscomb, advisor for the publication, which is an annual project of Phi Beta Lambda.

Since the publication is so far behind schedule, those who have already paid may receive their money back if they prefer, Miss Branscomb stated.

However, the directory will contain names and addresses of students for both semesters for the first time.

JSU Dancing Class

by Norman Brown
Associate Editor

"You men must have a clean shave and everyone must be dressed appropriately. Be sure to go to a few school dances to do your homework," said Jacksonville State University Instructor Zenobia King Hill to her class of 125 students.

Although the instructions may not seem appropriate for the academic endeavors of college students, they had best be followed if a student desires to pass the JSU course in ballroom dancing.

Each Tuesday night for the past three years, Mrs. Hill and more than 100 students have gotten together for a "dancing class" which makes many campus social events seem rather tame. Letter grade credit is awarded the student for completion of the course.

Classes begin with men and women on opposite sides of the classroom, drilling basic steps "by the numbers". Following the drills, partners are chosen, the lights are lowered and 250 feet tangle to music appropriate for waltzes, the cha-cha, the bop, and the funky-broadway.

A round of applause and a rain of coins may be forthcoming from the students when Mrs. Hill "outdoes herself" while demonstrating a new dance step. Laughter and informality are the order of the night.

"If I'm relaxed, the students are relaxed," said Mrs. Hill.

While encouraging informality, Mrs. Hill requires each student to show a mutual "please and thank - you" as is required by ballroom etiquette.

"I like to think of myself as teaching the course for the students' utilization," said Mrs. Hill. "But grades have to be given just like any other college course."

An equal male - female ratio is assured in the class by controls during each semester's registration. The one semester hour course is offered to the full-time student at no additional tuition charge.

"Working with these students is a unique experience for me," said Mrs. Hill. "I love it."

College students have been a part of Mrs. Hill's life since she became instructor for the JSU "Ballerinas" women's precision drill team more than 10 years ago. She has also taught ballet at JSU for six years.
