Dean's List Announced For Spring Semester

The dean's list for the spring semester was released recently by Dean Lawrence Miles, registrar and dean of admissions.

Included among those who made all A's were:

Kathryn E. Lentz, Ft. McClellan, Anniston; Wallace Edward Lyons, Fort Payne; Barry W. McDaniel, Sylacauga; Barbara L. Moersch, Jacksonville; William S. Noll, Anniston; Martha Ann Powers, Talladega; Nancy Pafford Reynolds, Jacksonville; James E. Rodgers, Birmingham; Linda R. Sulser, Panama City, Fla.; Kathleen H. Taffee, Anniston; Martha V. Tarpley, Weaver; Cheryl I. Vinson, Oxford; Glendacile Williamson, Centre.

Included in those who made a B-plus average were:

Charlie D. Turner, Jacksonville; Nancy D. Durham, Oxford; Sonja Ann Jones, Heflin; William R. Lee, Villa Rica, Ga.; Annelee Newton, Birmingham; Lamand Roberts, Calhoun, Ga.; Martha Ann Smith, Birmingham; David L. Thomas, Birmingham; Rhonda Jean Vinson, Oxford; David L. Skees, Home-wood; Sara M. Hammock, Gadsden; Janet E. Langley, Oxford; Elizabeth A. McMahan, Hokes Bluff; James J. Morello, Birmingham; Peggy Jo Wade, Anniston; Catherine V. Woodham, Anniston; John M. Alvis, Jacksonville; James L. Brown, Douglas; Edward H. Carter, Section; Nalda R. Coffey, Albertville; Joseph C. Faughender, Piedmont; Charlotte A. Hays, Oneonta; Judy I. Hillhouse, Birmingham; Rosalyn C. Kitay, Jacksonville.

Emma Sue Livingston, Valley Head; Luther S. Long, Guntersville; Linda J. McCary, Fairfield;

SGA Lines Up Top Bands For Dances

The Blues and The Echoes will come to the JSU campus in the next few days to furnish top entertainment for the summer, it was brought out at the SGA meeting on Monday night, June 24.

The Blues will be here on July 2 and The Echoes on July 9. In addition, The Days of the Week will appear on July 15. All have current hit records and are expected to draw a big crowd to the SGA-sponsored affair.

T. Alan Doss, the self-appointed president of a so-called "Anti-Sex League", appeared at the regular meeting of the JSU Student Government Association meeting Monday night, June 24. Doss was accompanied by five bearded supporters who identified themselves as "innocent by-standers."

Although it was rumored before - hand that Doss would attempt to have the SGA sanction his "League" he did not bring the matter up during the meeting.

The Red Cross Blood Drive was the main item of regular business. The bloodmobile was scheduled to be at Leone Cole Auditorium on Wednesday, June 26. This is the first time the bloodmobile has scheduled a visit to our campus during the summer term.

An appeal was made by John Alvis, acting president, to all officers and representatives of the SGA to give blood at this time.

A quorum of ten voting members were present in addition to the group of interested students.

Every class was represented with the only conspicuous absence being the newly-elected freshmen SGA representatives.

Old business brought up concerned the $20 need for the uniforms needed for the girls who will be cheerleaders this fall. A motion was passed for this amount and the check handed over to the cheerleaders.

Freshman Officers Elected For Summer

Freshmen class elections were held at 7 p. m. in the Roundhouse on Thursday, June 13. Mr. and Miss Rat were also elected to commemorate the activities of Rat Week.

Only nine freshmen were present, and all were given some sort of office. (These nine interested students comprise 3.6% of the total freshman class.)

Mike Moncus was elected president of the class for the summer term. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moncus of Lanett. Mike is a 1968 graduate of Lanett High School and a political science major with an economics minor.

Judy Holland, a 1968 graduate of Banks High School, is vice-president. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holland of Birmingham. Judy is a physical education major with a minor in history.

Secretary is Glynda Arrington of Birmingham. She is a 1968 graduate of Banks High School and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. (See FROSH OFFICERS, Page 7)

It must have taken some doing, but Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison of Huntsville arranged their classes this summer so that they would not have to hire a baby sitter. Their eleven month old son Parker is shown being turned over to pop while mom heads into Bibb Graves for a class.

Notice

Students who are planning to return in the fall, and who have not already done so, are expected to complete a permit to register in the office of admissions immediately.

Spirit of '68

On Thursday, July 4, classes will be dismissed. JSU students and faculty members will not attend classes on this day because they are supposedly celebrating Independence Day, one of the most colorful and decisive days in history.

Independence Day is so important to history because on that day in 1776 a band of people who were concerned about their welfare and the welfare of their children announced to the world that they would live as a self-governed and free people.

If today's American citizens had been living in 1776, I'm afraid that the JSU students of 1968 would probably be attending classes on July 4th. In this reversed situation, JSU students would be in classes because the average citizen of today has never done what those determined and independent individuals did!

The average citizen (especially the average JSU citizen) does not recognize the fact that a change could occur because he is not even aware of the status quo. Due to the apathy and lack of interest that he displays in such objects as his school, his government, and even the people with whom he is in constant association, the average citizen is unaware of half of the life about him.

After recognizing the fact that the status quo could possibly stand a change, the citizen must give some serious and deep thought to the nature of this change.

The remaining step is where the average citizen - - special emphasis should be given to those connected with JSU again - - falls short. Although he may arrive at a decision on his plan, it seems impossible for him to take action. Where would America have been yesterday if the people of 1776 had not taken action with enthusiastic determination? Where is America today while the people of 1968 sit and watch others take action?

Frosh Elections

Freshmen class elections for the summer term were held in the Roundhouse on Thursday, June 13. Nine freshmen were present for the election. This number comprises 3.6 per cent of the total 250 freshmen who are on our campus for the first time.

Many freshmen obviously do not realize the importance of choosing qualified officers and representatives from their class to the Student Government Association. These same freshmen may have difficulty realizing the importance of the fall class elections or the SGA elections in the spring. What will the case be when these freshmen reach voting age? Will they suddenly realize the responsibility resting on their shoulders to choose leaders for our country, and to make their choice wisely?

Apathy on the part of JSU students is evident at all levels - - not just the first-time freshmen. This, however, is not an excuse for the lack of interest in this election.

The newly - elected freshmen officers need the support and cooperation of the entire 250 members of their class--not just nine.

In the coming fall election for freshmen officers for the regular term, it will be each individual's responsibility to vote and encourage every member of the class to vote.

I sincerely hope the freshmen class will set an example of class participation by voting that you will be proud of--one that upper-classmen will perhaps follow.

Letters to the Editor

Blasts Doss

In the Monday, June 17, edition of the Chanticleer, T. Alan Doss spoke out for an Anti - Sex League on the JSU campus. I, as an interested student, would like to express my opinion of his unreasonable remarks.

Mr. Doss, president of the Anti - Sex League at JSU, remarked that "the students on this campus are just too young to face these dark topics." Sex, Mr. Doss, isn't something to be hidden away in a dark corner. People our age are both physically and mentally mature; and as responsible citizens must face things as they are, sort the good from the bad, and reform rather than neglect. An Anti - Sex League is not the answer to maintaining high moralistic standards, it is only a way of overshadowing them. Sex education would be a better method of attacking this problem. Through education we realize the causes of moral decay and strive to correct them.

I was shocked at Mr. Doss's response to the extended curfew and his lack of confidence in the morals of the young ladies on campus. We, as students, should be proud that the fine administration of our university can place enough trust on our behavior to approve an extension of the late hour curfew. Besides, what can a student do in the short extension of time that he couldn't do anytime of the night or day if he so desired.

Mr. Doss quoted his "fearless leader," Dan Smoot, as saying, "The Communists indulge in sex. Thus any American who indulges in this anti-American activity is a pinko commie." I'm sure Mr. Doss remembers the words spoke by a past leader of the Communist Party, "We will bury you." Well, I have news for you, Mr. Doss, if we lived by the quotation of your so - called "fearless leader", the Communists wouldn't have to bury us - - there wouldn't be any of us left to bury.
Larry F. Clark

Praises Doss

Dear Editor:
In the last issue of the Chanticleer appeared one of the best satirical reviews on JSU this year. I am referring to Mr. Doss's letter on an Anti-Sex League. His letter must be placed just behind the current PLAYBOY'S poke at the federal government, " . . . Far Right or Wrong," on the satire scale.

Mr. Doss and PLAYBOY both hold a rather dim view of present polie-ies in their respective "big brothers." It is time that the students at JSU thought more as individuals, which goes against certain members of the administration's views, and took a stand on the issues that confront them. Mr. Doss has gotten his views, as well as those of a great many JSU students, over quite well.

John Reed

P. S. As an after - thought:

Why do letters to the editor need replies? Does the Chanticleer, voice of the students, follow "policies" so well that it can reply for the "school"?

Reply

Evidently the Chanticleer is the only newspaper you read, Reed. If you were familiar with other newspapers you would know that replies to letters to the editor are common.

You referred in your letter to PLAYBOY, and although it is not a newspaper, it too, has replies to letters to the editor (apparently you have been looking at the pictures too long).

In short, if someone wrote you a letter, wouldn't you have the courtesy to reply?

More From Doss

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to drop you a line and tell you how much I enjoyed the beautiful letter I wrote to you in your last issue. I think it was very meaningful and inspirational and I congratulate myself highly for writing it.

At first I was shocked to find that the Administration had agreed to extend the curfew hours (God help us all), but after many thoughtful moments of prayer and silent meditation I realized that the Administration extended the curfew hours in order to keep the student's minds off the real danger that is facing us all on this campus -- the increasing threat of an INDIAN UPRISING!!!

I smile warmly when I think that all of the immoral souls who advocated such a curfew change think falsely that this change means a change in the Administrations moral attitudes. How wrong can you be? Gracious No, the fine souls of our beloved Administration will never change from their righteous views. Remember, it took the vile, immoral, leftist-commie, element of students up here over ten years of constant agitation before the fine souls of the Administration were moved to extend the curfew one hour. I certainly think that the Administration can hold out for at least twenty more years before they will make any more radical changes.

Many have asked me what the specific goals of my ANTI-SEX LEAGUE are. They are very simple:

(1) The Anti-Sex League feels that the curfew hours should be set back to the regular time limits established in 1922 and upheld by the Administration until quiet recently. I see no reason why a proper girl should have to be out of her beautiful dorm after eight o'clock P.M.

(2) I think that we should all take time each day to thank God for having our beautiful Victorian campus located near such a nice town as Jacksonville. It is a very rare thing to find a College campus located so near a decent town where the citizens roll up the streets at sunset like decent people should do.

(3) Our League is strongly against "Avis Nudity" on the campus! I became violently ill when I walked behind Ayers Hall and found two birds of the opposite SEX, sitting on the SAME limb, MOLTING!!!, in front of God and everybody. I think we should clothe all birds on campus, because if the birds can do it today, what is to keep our nice student body from doing it tomorrow?

God bless you,

T. Alan Doss, President
ANTI-SEX LEAGUE, JSU
Branch

One-way Traffic

Dear Editor:

Being a commuter, and preferring to park in front of Bibb Graves, it has come to my attention that what seems to be a much more logical traffic pattern could be put into effect for the highway - Bibb Graves-highway circuit.

I would like to see the traffic department make either the current student parking row, or preferably the current faculty parking row, one way, going north. This would be much more efficient and convenient.

From a safety aspect, this would eliminate the students (or faculty members) having to go off campus, and through a traffic light, making two left hand turns, in order to try to find another "slot".

Sincerely,
Kramer D. Tucker

It is my understanding that this suggestion has already been given to the administration, but was tabled for some reason or another.

Is Anything Happening In The Provinces?

--Mickey Craton

Writing a column in every issue of the paper can be a problem--especially in the summer. Mainly, the problem can be said to be quiet simply what to write about and in this issue, it has come around to nothing. Inspiration having failed me (not an unusual affliction) for an idea, I dropped into the Chanticleer office one morning to browse through the recent papers from other schools to see if I might not steal an idea from some other enterprising columnist.

I couldn't. About all that was handy were a few issues of papers from some other schools one seldom hears of, and they were the graduation issues at that, and that's always a dull issue. Full of platitudes maybe, but short on news and ideas, and that's what I needed. Of course, there was the ever-present VILLAGE VOICE (and to what nameless benefactor are we indebted for this paper drive contributor?) and a few firebrand far-left student publications encouraging solidarity and an endless number of demonstrations and so on. Why anybody on the Left would bother to send along such stuff to Jax State is beyond me, but I suppose you must admire their persistence, if nothing else.

These, of course, were not much help in ideas, so idle searching turned to idle chatter with the others in the office, and drew a complete blank. We concluded that the most newsworthy event at Jax State so far this Summer was a car wreck Friday night a week ago near one of the girls' dorms. Someone remarked that it drew the biggest crowd they'd seen all Summer. Well, that at least shows that total apathy hasn't set in. The talk turned, as it always does, to the inescapable fact that the aura of "nothing to do" and "nobody cares enough to try to do anything" that so prevades life on campus.

I remarked that as a commuter, I really didn't notice all that much that there isn't anything to do, but it should be a little more real to those that live on campus. We tried, unsuccessfully to pin down what it was that makes things so seemingly bad here than at other places.

Well, other schools have active intramural programs. We have that here, or at least we have an intramural program, so that can't be it. Other schools have dances and movies, and we have dances here, but movies have flopped.

When you really think about it, it isn't that there is an entire lack of things to do, it has a lot to do with everyone unresistingly falling into that rut of not taking advantage of what there is not trying to start anything new.

It has a lot to do with attitudes, in other words. But then, there ought to be more to do here than there is.

We explored the problem of "What to Do?" in a series of articles last Fall (you do remember?) and about all they seemed to was to fill up three columns with cheerful assertions that someone ought to do something. The conclusion to that series can be summarized as follows: (1) the intramural program is presently operating (during the regular school year, anyway) at about as near to maximum efficiency as it can-- the next step there is to acquire more facilities to use (a universal problem) and a full-time director; (2) some few things happen at school, such as dances, plays, and speakers, and some recreational facilities are available at the Grab and at Self Cafeteria and here things should pick up with the completion of the new student center this Fall or Winter. But of the first three, only dances are given on a more or less regular basis; and (3) Jacksonville itself offers few recreational opportunities passed playgrounds and a swimming pool of course, there is always movies in Anniston but curfews, distance, and money keep this from being a thing a person just suddenly decides to do.

To get to the question itself of what can be done to improve things then and, in the process, turn this into a column of opinion at the least--what events that do occur fall to frequently either on the weekend or on Wednesday night. This should be changed.

Much has been made of Jax State's being a "suitcase college", and the only things that have proved to have the drawing power to keep students from leaving school with all haste on Fridays have been sports events. Just about everything else has failed. For the present, I can't think of a thing to do about this. Too many people at Jax State are only a few miles from home to really fight the urge to go home on the weekends where the students know that there's something to do. However, there should be SOME THING offered in the way of entertainment for those who for various reasons choose (or have) to stay.

Take a popular vote and see what, in reason, they want and try that. The rest of the week, try having something on the other nights. Sure, classes are held on M-T-T nights, but MOST students don't have classes then, so let's spread the entertainment out more.

Movies have flopped on weekends, and the SGA hasn't made any impressive moves to have another go at them, so why not let some club (or clubs), or even private students have a try at it for their own profit? Why not capitalism at college? The groups could rent a hall and projector from the university and underwrite the rental of the film themselves. With the possibility of losing money, as well as making it, you could bet there would be some strong efforts to bring in good films at a reasonable price and with some strong advertising before hand. (One of the problems in most events here is a lack of adequate publicity, anyway.) Recent films can be shown at costs below what a regular movie in Anniston would cost, and it would be right on campus anyway, and that would be a great benefit in itself.

There are probably other things that other people have thought of to try. It wouldn't hurt to write a letter to the editor, or make a suggestion to an SGA representative, and it might do some good. Anybody willing to try a little?

(Well, I figured when I started that somehow I'd manage to fill up a column with something. Now there's next time to worry about. Do I hear a suggestion?)

Professional Dance Instructor Is Hired

Hochman

A professional ballet dancer, Dariusz Hochman, will join the Jacksonville State University faculty in September. His presence will mean a large addition to the dance education department.

Mrs. Palmer Calvert, head of the department, said in making the announcement that Hochman, in addition to his regular classes, "will work with a selected group of students to form an exhibition dance group."

The following dance courses will be added to the curriculum in the fall: classical ballet techniques, modern dance techniques, folk or character dancing, ballroom or social dance, and a special course in dance education.

A native of Warsaw, Poland, Hochman studied also under the famed Irene Szymanska and Leon Wokcickowski and later was a guest dancer for the Harkness House of Ballet Arts in New York. He has been soloist dancer with the Leonide Massie Ballet Company, the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York, the Malmo Stadsteater, Sweden, Oscar's Theatre, and Ingmar Bergman Theatre, Stockholm, Sweden.

He has taught at the following schools: Leonid Massie Ballet Co., Stockholm; Harkness House for Ballet Arts, New York, and the Marta Jackson Ballet School, Jacksonville, Fla.

July 4 Is A Holiday

Dean Theron E. Montgomery has announced that there will be an assembly on July 3 at 9:30 a.m. in Leone Cole Auditorium. This is in keeping with the tradition of Jacksonville for a pre-fourth of July patriotic address and program. The speaker for the occasion will be State Sen. Ollie Nabors of Gadsden.

Faculty and students are encouraged to attend this assembly.

School will adjourn at the end of the day on July 3, and July 4 will be a HOLIDAY!

From My Point Of

V I E W

The Chanticleer welcomes with this issue a brand new column which we think will be of interest to all JSU students.

Called "From My Point of View," the column will be a regular contribution of Jim Royal, a senior from Gadsden.

Royal is a member of the Order of Three Keys, SEA, Circle K, JUVA, Ushers Club, Omicron Kappa Fraternity and BSU executive council. He served as chairman of homecoming last year and will be chairman of SCOG, which is scheduled for February of next year. In addition, he is editor of the J Book.

As the reader scans this column, I hope that he or she will be able to distinguish the difference between my viewpoint and that of the administration. I am not being influenced by any one person or persons, but I do believe that there are TWO SIDES to any controversy. I will always listen to constructive criticisms and suggestions. The different topics I write about will not necessarily pertain to the institution, but will be diversified in order to cover all areas of interest.

The topic that I would like to concentrate on in this article is the police force at Jax State. The first time that I came on the campus of JSU (then JSC), my brother was to graduate, 1961. As we rode around Meadows Circle, I was looking at the different buildings when we came to a sudden stop. I started to inquire why we had stopped in the middle of the road when I noticed a policeman approaching our car. The officer said a few words to my brother, and then we started again toward the stadium where commencement was to take place. I asked Jerry (my brother) why he was stopped and he said for speeding. Jerry told me the policeman's name was Sam, and that he constituted the entire force on campus. Just briefly noticing the policeman, I could not help but feel that he was actually concerned about the safety of individuals on campus as parents and children were crossing the road approximately 50 yards ahead of us.

Since 1951, the administration has added five full time policemen with three radio operators. Two radio equipped cars also have been added. One full time traffic clerk and one part time clerk are now employed. All policemen are uniformed in proper dress with job description.

Probably the greatest asset to the police force at Jax has been the addition of Police Chief James Jackson. His ability to organize the force has resulted in its operating very efficiently. After listening to other students, and talking with Chief Jackson, I have come to the conclusion that this man has a thorough understanding of the problems that confront safety regulations at JSU. His desire to listen to the students' complaints has resulted in a better understanding between the staff and the students. The university is very fortunate to have a man of Chief Jackson's high calibre.

One of the main gripes heard through the grapevine is the parking situation at JSU. Last fall, 3,826 cars were registered with the traffic office. The number of parking places for commuter and residents on JSU campus is 1,600. This ratio is two to one against the students for parking places is very alarming. Martin Hall is another area that needs some revamping as far as parking is concerned.

Since more commuters have cars registered on campus than residents, it is a fortunate situation that all of the residents and commuters do not try to park on campus at the same time. It would undoubtedly cause the greatest chaos that has ever hit JSU. All things considered, this situation will not arise. When a big event is happening at Cole Auditorium, cars are usually parked on the side of the road starting at Weatherly and end up at Daugette. Although there are parking places for these cars in front of Curtiss Hall, the students fail to use them. The signs telling of the proper place for parking are inadequate in that some of the parking places are divided between commuters and residents. This tends to confuse the students, and they often end up in the wrong parking place with a ticket under their windshield wiper. This writer cannot see why it should be prohibited to park your car with the front facing out instead of vice-versa. These are just a few of the complaints that have been heard by this writer. As I understand it, a few of these problems will be alleviated when the fall

McBride Makes It, Despite Setbacks

Grady E. McBride III of Gadsden looked like he had lost his best friend at the May exercises.

He wanted to be a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He had completed advanced ROTC instruction here, and received almost every honor the military science department can bestow, but he had a physical disability.

After taking his physical examination, he received the bad news that he was unacceptable for duty in the Army.

He wasn't very enthusiastic to sit by and watch 27 of his classmates

become second lieutenants. There wasn't anything he could do, but go home to Gadsden and start making arrangements to teach school next September.

He found one alternative. He appealed to the Surgeon General's Office in Washington. The entire military science department here went to bat for him, because they feel he will make a tremendous officer.

This week he got his break. He received a waiver and has been sworn in as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve.

McBride says he has wanted a military career since he was in junior high school.

At Gadsden High School, where he graduated in 1964, he worked hard and made the good grades.

He received an appointment to West Point from Albert Rains but failed the physical requirements for another ailment, a heart murmur.

Not to be outdone, he enrolled at Jax State. After two years, he applied for Advanced ROTC and was accepted without difficulty.

He thought he was in good shape, and then upon taking his physical before graduation found he had ear trouble, which brought about a loss of hearing.

That's about enough to make anyone give up... but not McBride. He appealed his verdict and won.

Why does he want to become an officer so badly? He said, "I'm not sure but I have wanted to be a soldier since I was in junior high school. I want to serve my country."

Realizing his ambition, his family gathered this week at Jax State to see him sworn into the U. S. Army.

He reports to Ft. Lee, Va., on Aug. 15. He will be in the Quartermaster Corps.

Film Forum Slated At The Coffeehouse

The Speakeasy, a coffee house, will present a discussion and film forum on issues of social concern Friday, June 29, at 8 o'clock entitled "Gun Control Laws." In the week following, a committee on students for gun control will circulate a petition to be sent to Sen. John Sparkman.

Friday, July 5, at 8 o'clock, the topic will be "The Presidential Campaign of George Wallace." Dr. Gerald Wilson, professor of philosophy at Jax State, will evaluate and criticize the platform of Mr. Wallace.

Friday, July 12 is yet to be announced.

July 2, at 8 p. m. "The Detached Americans" will be presented. This film attempts to describe and analyze the apathy of the American public. The film begins by reporting an incident in which 35 persons watch a woman being killed but they did not call the police or take any other action. The film does not deal with just the extreme or sensational but includes areas with which anyone could identify.

"A Time For Burning" can be seen on Tuesday, July 9, at 8 o'clock. This film deals with the racial revolution and how an actual congregation tries to take its first steps toward better understanding between the races. The events are not fictional. The conversations were filmed and recorded as they actually happened in a

Omaha, Neb., Lutheran Church. It reflects the racial attitudes of the "white Christian."

On Tuesday, July 16, at 8 o'clock, "Semester of Discontent" will be seen. This film describes and analyzes the educational issues behind the wave of unrest which has recently struck the American university. Focusing on a number of major universities, the film examines conditions at the modern university, the changing demands and attitudes of the teaching profession, the strain placed on the university resulting from the commitment to make higher education available to everyone, and the criticism of the so-called "mass-factory" nature of the university.

The Speakeasy is sponsored by the cooperative campus ministry of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal churches on campus. It is located in the Rock House, across the street from Self and behind Crow Hall.

Center Open

The recreation center, located in Self Cafeteria, will be open 6-10 p.m. Monday - Friday for JSU students. Pool tables are available and also the SGA juke box with a dance floor. Mr. and Mrs. McAfee will be supervising the activities there.

Maid of Cotton Contest Here

The Calhoun County Maid of Cotton Banquet and Pageant was held in Leone Cole Auditorium on Saturday, June 22. Dr. Houston Cole and Jeanie Muse, State Maid of Cotton, co-emceed the event.

Due to the rigid qualifications, a small number of girls were eligible contestants. The contestants, 5' 5" or taller, had to be in the 19-25 age bracket. They must never have been married. It was also necessary that the contestant was born in a cotton-producing state.

The Echos

The eight girls who met these qualifications were Martha Read, Wellington; Nancy Elaine Sellers, Anniston; Martha Bryant, Jacksonville; Kathy Dean, Oxford; Sharon Jeanette Gardner, Jacksonville; Sarah Pamela Allen, Piedmont; Martha Kay Cleveland, Anniston; and Georgia Wilson, Oxford.

Marsha Cleveland, JSU's current Gem of the Hills, received the Miss Congeniality Award. Alternate Maid of Cotton, Martha Read, was crowned by Alabama's Junior Miss, Geneane Kelley. Shirley Whisenant, reigning Maid of Cotton for Calhoun County, crowned the 1968-69 Maid, Pamela Allen. Olma Macy Harwell, of Macy's Modeling Agency in Anniston, presided over the affair.

Albums Here

Phi Mu Alpha has announced that the Southerners' albums have arrived. The album contains the music which has made JSU's band famous. Included on the recordings are the Southerners' well-known songs as well as a special feature by the unequalled percussion section. Albums may be purchased from any member of the Phi Mu Alpha for $4.25 each.

Games To Be Played During Day

The dark days are over for JSU's football team. The Gamecocks will play four of their ten football games in the afternoon. The first game of the 1968 season will be played at Samford University at 2 p. m. Sept. 21. From the first game until the last three all are night games. Playing Delta State there on Nov. 9 and then hosting Livingston and Florence on the afternoons of Nov. 6 and 23, respectively.

Coach Jim Blevins said the games were scheduled in the afternoon in order that the conflict with the Alabama - Miami game on Nov. 1 would be relieved. The Alabama - Miami game is to be televised nationwide at night.

The remaining schedule for the Gamecocks will be as follows; Chattanooga - here, Sept. 23; Tennessee Martin--there, Oct. 12; Troy - here, Oct. 19; Newberry--homecoming, Oct. 26; and Louisiana College--there, Nov. 2.

From The Sidelines

By Lou Botta

Another big summer of sporting events, nationally that is, for the sports program at JSU is limited only to boys and girls softball and this year an intramural tennis tournament. About the only other sports news here at Jacksonville is the Good Will basketball trip planned for the first week in July in which three JSU cagers and Head Coach Tom Roberson will participate.

On the national sports scene, the Major League Baseball All - Star is coming up on the ninth of July in Houston. The National League line - up which has been announced includes a few surprises among these the announcements of catcher, Jerry Grote of the New York Mets and Donnie Kessinger of the Cubs as starters. The National Leaguers' pitching will no doubt include Don Drysdale, Bob Gibson, and the rookie of the Mets, Jerry Koosman.

In a few weeks professional football will begin their training, and the start of the football season officially begins with the coaches All - American game in Atlanta. This game along with the All - Star game in Chicago in August will ring in another football season.

Until next issue,

Rascals Defeat RAX

The second game of the intramural season proved to be an unlucky day for the RAX of Dale Marbut. The Rascals, behind the pitching of Lee Manners, played themselves into a first place tie with Creekmen. Striking out four men and allowing only two runs, Mr. Manners pitched beautiful ball and very good fielding to preserve the victory. Final score was Rascals, 9 and RAX, 2.

The third game of the season saw those fabulous Ridgerunners of Randy Taylor and Brice Rumsey, smother the Vets of Johnny Coleman and Bill Benson. The Rev. John Ebaugh went the distance for the Ridgerunners, striking out ten men and allowing only two hits and three runs. Final score, Ridgerunners, 9 and the Vets, 3.

The last game of the first week saw the Rascals taking an easy victory over the Old Crows. Behind the pitching of "Moose" Penny, the Rascals made the Old Crows look like a cage of canaries. Pounding out 18 hits, the Rascals scored 21 runs to take a 21 to 8 victory.

Dale Marbut's fantastic RAX were at their best when they played the Ridgerunners. The most surprising event of the day and probably what

Creekmen Stomp OC

Those fabulous Creekmen were at it again when they played the Old Crows. Winning 12 to 1, the Creekmen unleashed an attack of nine hits for their 12 runs. Numerous walks forced runs across but the big and final blow was a tremendous home run by left fielder, Robert Purdy. The win placed the Creekmen in sole possession of first place.

In women's softball the Royalettes took a ten to eight victory over the Virginettes. As the score indicated, the game was close and the Royalettes had to fight for their lives but won the game. The fabulous Don Hilliard doubled for his first hit of the CENTURY. Poor fielding by their opponents and some timely hits the RAX subdued the Ridgerunners 13 to 8.

In the last inning by scoring three runs. For some unknown reason, the attendance of the first girls' game drew more spectators than the entire season of the men's games.

In the second game of the girls' softball season, the Improbables cooled the Royalettes and then went on to win the game 21 to 13. Miss Jean Boyd pitched beautiful but some faulty fielding allowed several runs to be scored.

Gym Getting Renovation

The football team isn't the only outfit getting changes in their structure. The old but reliable Stephenson Gym is getting a face for the 1968-79 cage season. Everything that doesn't move is being painted or remodeled. In addition to a new painting, the gym is getting a new floor and seven additional rows of

Cheerleader Clinic Slated

The Alabama High School Athletic Association will sponsor a week-long cheerleading clinic at JSU July 14-19.

All cheerleading squads, representing the high schools in the state of Alabama, are eligible to attend. Registration will be held from 1 to 5 p. m., Sunday, July 14.

All squads will enter competition, from which the top four teams at the clinic will be named and awarded trophies.

seats on each side. The Gamecocks will really have something to crow about next year when they go out to defend their Alabama Collegiate Conference Title.

The remodeling process is only a resting point until Dr. Cole can get the plans for a new fieldhouse under construction.

The Bloodmobile

The JSU campus was host to the Red Cross Bloodmobile on July 26. A first time event for any summer term, a quota of 500 donors were expected. A little over 100 donors visited the center from 9-3 in Cole Auditorium, leaving a deficit of almost 400 pints. Although we didn't have much of a turn-out, it sure made good material for our portfolio.
