Awards Day Program Scheduled For JSU

A Capella Choir Wins Top Award

Current Gem of the Hills at Jacksonville State University Ann Briscoe is ready for the 1968 JSU baseball season. Ann is a junior who hails from Gadsden. Anyone know how to throw a curve ball?

A student participating awards day program has been announced by Student Government Association President Ralph Walker.

At a meeting of the Inter - Club Council, representatives last Monday night, Walker asked for one nomination from each SGA charter organization for the JSU campus for consideration for Certificates of Achievement and Letters of Appreciation.

These honors are conferred annually by the SGA and the President of JSU. According to Walker, the nominations will aid the SGA and President Cole in their choice of outstanding students.

Nominations may be submitted by chartered honorary, service, social and religious organizations. Supporting information for the nominations should include the individual's service to the SGA, the SGA president, the student body and the administration of JSU. Although outstanding academic achievement will be in the individual's favor, said Walker, it is not the selection criteria for the annual honors.

Jacksonville State University's A Capella Choir captured the $500 first prize in the first annual College Choir Competition in Birmingham Saturday night, March 9. Bayne Dobkins, assistant professor of music, is director of the choir. The competition was sponsored by the Junior Board of the Birmingham Music Club and took place in the auditorium of Phillips High School.
Student Body Apathy

For the past two semesters, the Chanticleer has been harping on the apparent lack of interest which students have in the affairs of Jacksonville State University. Interest in and attendance of Student Government Association meetings has been one major area the Chanticleer has tried to stimulate.

Our efforts have been in vain. Not only is attendance still lagging at SGA meetings, but for awhile last week it was doubtful whether or not enough candidates would announce for the four SGA offices which are up for election this spring.

When the deadline for qualifying had ended last Friday, five persons had qualified for four posts: three people are unopposed. Even the candidates admitted they were surprised that no one else qualified.

As if this were not enough, the publications board met for 45 minutes after the qualifying deadline had passed to name the editor, and business manager of the Mimosa and the editor of the Chanticleer. Four persons applied, for the three positions.

One student was overheard saying that he doubted whether or not he could get 50fax students to stand in line for $50 bills if the SGA was handing them out.

True, many SGA representatives have shown a lack of interest in affairs of the school by not attending meetings and participating in their assigned duties. However, the past week has brought out the fact that the disinterest is much deeper, not only on the SGA level, but on the student body level as well. In short, our student body seems to be content in bad mouthing others, and not willing to remedy the situation.

The SGA-publications board are only two examples of lack of interest. We went through all this last football season, remember?

It has been said that talents lie hidden in persons until the proper occasion arises. We have the occasions, but so far, we have not been overrun by talent and those who are really concerned.

Our Man In Sweden

The good which comes from the International House Program here at JSU continues to grow, and has now reached international proportions. Many of the free world countries now have graduates of JSU who were members of the International House Program.

Take Sweden for instance.

Sweden has recently been in the world's spotlight due to the affair of Jackson State University students who have been accused of being American GIs and draft dodgers. Stokley Carmichael, militant black power advocate, was given a warm reception there and preached his anti-American propaganda to all who would listen.

Henry Adams, former ISU student here, is now back in his native country of Sweden, and is reportedly telling his fellow countrymen that he lived in the United States and found out that he could get $50 bills if the JSU students were handed them.

But not, "All students regardless of where they live are responsible for compliance with the University Discipline Policy," according to the Student Conduct Regulations. Did you apartment dwellers know we had such a set of rules? You had better beef up on them before you get caught short.

I say that when a student leaves the campus boundaries the laws of the state of Alabama and the United States of America should suffice. Some other people feel this way also it seems. According to the American Association of University Professors "Statement on the Academic Freedom of Students," students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws.

But at JSU, if you display "improper decorum" even though you are "not held in violation of the General Conduct Regulations" you still may have "appropriate disciplinary action" imposed upon you according to the second paragraph of the General Conduct Regulations.

"I ask you who is to determine what "improper decorum" is and what the "appropriate disciplinary action" will be? Is it the university's responsibility to define -- in writing -- specifically what rules apply to its students and to spell out the punishment for infractions of the rules?

Greek Stand

Dear Editor:

We, as students of Jacksonville State University, and second as members of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority, Delta Chi Fraternity and Zeta Omega Fraternity, wish to make this statement concerning the recent arrest of some students formerly enrolled at JSU on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

These students were by far only a very small minority, who in their actions have seemingly disregarded the name of our university and its fine student body. We agree fully with the administration's dismissal of these students and feel that this was completely justified and the only possible course of action for the administration.

The SGA-publications board are only two examples of lack of interest. We went through all this last football season, remember?

Wont Somebody Help?

Letters to the Editor

Purpose Told

Dear Editor:

I would like to explain that the purpose of the recent trek that myself and three other students made to Rowan Hall two weeks ago, it was not, as I was so wrongly accused, to intimidate Rowan Hall or the downtown destructor -- even though Rowan does seem to afford a good example -- but to bring to light the urgent need for reform in rules that govern students at Jacksonville State University.

Not only are the rules inconsistent but some are utterly ridiculous.

Why must we here at JSU live under two codes, the laws of the city, state and nation plus the JSU array of rules, when we are not on campus or don't live on campus and be subject to punishment from both? This seems like double jeopardy to me. Aren't the laws of the state of Alabama and the United States of America enough?

But no, "All students regardless of where they live are responsible for compliance with the University Discipline Policy," according to the Student Conduct Regulations. Did you apartment dwellers know we had such a set of rules? You had better beef up on them before you get caught short.

Mr. and Miss President,

Your approval of administrative action taken by JSU officials is as commendable as your disregard for the basic principles of the United States judicial system is apparent.

We should first establish that under our system of law a man is innocent until proven guilty by a jury of his peers. If it appears to you and the administration have already passed judgement on the two students dismissed for morals and narcotics charges last Tuesday. They have yet to be convicted by civil authorities.

When asked why the students were dismissed, Dean of Men Gus Edwards cited the JSU discipline policy which provides for expulsion or suspension (See LETTERS, Page 3).
Elections
Elections are a desire to the desires of the student body as a whole," said Killian. "I wish those that I am elected, I would like to help turn the effective and satisfactory Student Government for all students.

According to incumbent SGA president, Ralph Walker, no other bids are expected for the April 23 elections. Write in candidates were outlined by the SGA at an April 16, 1968 SGA session.

Walker said write-in candidates would be recognized in the vote tabulation only if a petition calling for a reversal of the 1964 decision is submitted to the SGA and receives a favorable vote prior to the April elections.

Walker encouraged all students to plan to vote in the election, since even the unopposed candidates must receive a majority of the total votes cast to be elected.

The contested vice-presidential race is expected to be of considerable interest since the primary duty of the vice-president is the looking and coordinating of campus entertainment.

Although campaign period has been open for more than two weeks, campaign material may not be displayed on campus until April 15. Candidates will speak in a general assembly Thursday, April 17.

Notices Sought For Bulletin
Notices of general campus interest are now being solicited for the bulletin boards recently erected on the JSU campus, according to Student Government Association President Ralph Walker. The three bulletin boards were installed by SGA officers last week in front of Cole and Self Cafeterias and in front of the Grab.

President Walker said notices should not be larger than 1/2 x 11 inches or the size of standard typewriters, paper. Temporary notices or announcements may be hand lettered in black ink. Notices of a permanent nature should be printed or neatly lettered and should be as small as possible.

Material to be posted may be turned in at the SGA office in the basement of Dixon Hall or to SGA officers or campus.

Kimbrough Speaks Here
Emily Kimbrough, author, editor, and traveler extraordinaire, shared her audience in a hilarious mood at Jacksonville State University Thursday morning when she spoke under the sponsorship of Sigma Tau Delta and the English Club.

Miss Kimbrough, who is noted for using just the right word to express a sparkling wit, regretted the students and faculty with laughable experiences she has encountered in her travels.

Wesleyans Plan Flicks
The Wesley Foundation will conduct a movie course on Christian Theology on Films on Tuesday nights at 7:30 p.m., in the "Rock House." The course is presented on film with a lecture by Dr. Ted Runyon of Emory University. There will be eight films dealing with the original doctrines of the Christian faith. If you are interested in the course, there will be a discussion period led by Reverend Dr. R. T. Miller, Methodist Chaplain.

The film series began on Tuesday, March 19 and will continue until Tuesday, May 6. Any student who wishes to participate in the course is invited to attend.

BSU Sponsors Talent Show
The BSU is sponsoring a talent show to send Jax State students and faculty to countries all over the world as summer missionaries. Anyone interested should contact Jimmy Nichols in Patterson Hall or Rose Marie Manor in Weatherly Hall. The BSU is looking for all kinds of talent, so you have anything to offer, see Manor by Friday, March 29.

Edwards referred to the implications of the morals and suspension of charges against the pair.

If suspension from a public institution is compared to the serving of a prison sentence, in the sense both actions change an individual's status for a period of time, the implication of conviction is clear.

According to Dean Edwards, both students may apply for readmission if they can show the charges are dropped. In the meantime several months of college have been denied these persons on the implication of the charges.

Provisions such as the posting of bond rather than confinement while an academic trial is not provided in the determination of a student's status at an academic institution during a similar period.

An individual falsely accused and subsequently acquitted would still have legitimate damages' claim against the State of Alabama based on the delay of the trial. The student's standing would not change due to the state institution which delayed his education. He is uniquely suspending him.

These thoughts are not to take issue with the guilt or innocence of the parties concerned. Neither are they to defend them, nor advocate their return to the campus.

Family Affair - A mother, daughter, son combination at the same college is hard to beat. Such is the case at Jax State with the Robo family. The mother, Mrs. Ruth Romeo (at left), decided last year to enter college for a degree in home economics. Her daughter, Roberta (at right) is a senior at Jax State and Tony, middle, is enrolled in a special nursery school. There's little doubt of the family's loyalty to Jax State. Two other daughters have previously graduated.

For "activities which might shock the community sensibilities we do not discuss the propriety or reflect discredit upon the institution."

Student Government Association vice-president David Milam was appointed at the March 18 Student Senate meeting to sit in on the women's rules revisions proceeding. The general opinion of the SGA was that at least 16 rules of Student Senate must be observed each time the women's rules are being revised.

At press time, Milam said he had not yet discussed the matter with Dean of Women Mrs. Jack Norrison or received her concurrence on the SGA action.

Draw Fast And Shoot Straight
"Draw fast - shoot straight - and don't hit any innocent bystanders," are a few words of wisdom passed on to yours truly in the past quarter of a century.

With a liberal press may be dealt by society the task of describing the departure from certain standards as well as pointing out the shortcomings of the establishment as it exists. In this attempt to editorially sieved light on these two forces shaping our society, bystanders may become involved.

Whether describing or prompting a departure from the status quo is more harmful than helpful is a matter of opinion. The conservative would be expected to see such actions as harmful - the liberal would be more likely to see the actions as helpful.

The continuity of society, modes, laws, rules, and regulations and should be slow to change. When an isolated subculture lags behind the surrounding society or equivalent cultural elements, disconformity may arise within the subculture under study.

Such may be the case at JUS which is in the opinion of many students lagging far behind other colleges across the nation. But at this date this document has been expressed in an orderly and appropriate manner. It has in the past six months been discussed openly in the columns of the Chanticleer.

A sincere recognition of the attempts of responsible students to express their discontent.

A sincere recognition by the elements maintaining the status quo will assure these students that they are innocent of the actions as harmful - the liberal would be more likely to see the actions as helpful.

A little objective thought on the topics of the discussions wouldn't do any harm either.

Raelettes To Accompany Charles

The date for the Ray Charles Show is rapidly growing near. SGA vice president David Milam has reminded Jax State students. The big night is April 17 and the place is Leone Cole Auditorium. Not only will Ray Charles sing many of his hit recordings, but will be accompanied by the Raelettes, his popular female quartet.

The Raelettes is composed of Merry Clayton, Gwendolyn Berry, Clydie King and Alexandra Brown, all of whom are stars in their own right. After a successful world-wide tour with the Ray Charles Show, the Raelettes recorded their first single, “One Hurt Deserves Another” and “One Room Paradise,” on the Tangerine label.

Several of the Raelettes have recorded individual hits.

NDL Deadline Is April 15

All Jax State students desiring to apply for National Defense Loans must do so by April 15, 1968 for both the summer session of 1968, and the academic year of 1968-69, according to Dr. Baskin Wright, director of financial aid.

Applications may be secured in the financial aid office in the Student Union Building. No exceptions to this deadline will be made.

Jax Students Invited To Hear Dan Smoot

Dan Smoot, editor of the Dan Smoot Report, will speak on March 29 at the Roundhouse in conjunction with the 14th annual meeting of the John H. Forney Historical Society.

Jax State ROTC cadets will post the colors to open the meeting at 10:25 a.m., General Edward M. Almond (Ret.), president of the historical society, will preside. The Rev. Robert Archibald, Jr. will lead the invocation and Dr. Houston Cole, president of JSU, will welcome members and guests.

Dan Smoot, of Dallas, Texas, will make the principal address at the morning session. A reception at the International House will follow. Col. C. W. Daugette Jr. will present the Distribution of Awards Award. Jack Boozer will give a report on the historical marker program of the John H. Forney Historical Society. Dan Smoot will conduct the memorial service.

All Jax State students are invited to attend Smoot's speech.

Packard To Speak Here

Vance Packard, one of the most perceptive social critics of our time, will speak at Leone Cole Auditorium on Monday, April 1, at 10 a.m.

His appearance is being sponsored by the political science department. Notices will be posted as to who will be excused for the speech.

Author of several phenomenal best sellers, Packard is internationally recognized for his inclusive, meticulously researched investigations of trends in modern society that bear on civil liberty.

The titles of his books have literally become household words - because he is able, in a phrase, to pinpoint an aspect of modern life that everyone instantly recognizes.

The only American author in recent decades to have had three successive books hit the number one spot on the nation's best seller lists in the non-fiction field, Vance Packard now devotes all his time to social comment. He is in great demand as a speaker on college campuses.

A native of Pennsylvania with a master's degree from Columbia University's graduate school of journalism, he for years delivered weekly lectures at Columbia and New York University.

Spring training begins today for Gamecocks

Jacksonville State University’s football hopes hit the field this afternoon for the beginning of spring drills and the start of the “1968 football season.”

You lose in the fall, according to the type of spring practice you have.” head coach, Jim Blevins, said last week as he went about finishing final details for the beginning of spring drills.

The Gamecocks will work 20 days, with practice slated for a few days at a time before moving on to the latest in the 1968 football season.

The team has a total of 24 mono-gram members on hand, coming from the 1967 squad which went 4-5-1.

Missed last year were a few returners back from 1967, including offene or defense, including seniors Bernard Gloving, Terry Harris, Don Hedden, Bruce Peck, Jerry Loving, Robert Kelly, and Mac Gillam. Also gone are Linebackers Wayne Martinez and Ronnie Smith, and Quarterback Donald Gables, Tackle Larry Buchanana, and End Mike Charpin.

The 1967 team had 11 starters back from 1966, and 22 lettermen at split end Jerry Loving. This is the one from 1966.

Included among the 42 Guards back are Allen Melvin Barber, 215, Sophomore, Montgomery, A1.

Mostly, the work schedule in the spring calls for a lot of fundamentals, meaning blocking and tackling and ‘the men’ for the 42 prospects at Jax State.

Included among the 42 candidates were 34 lettermen from last season and one from 1966 - Fullback Mike Little, who missed last year because of injuries, giving Linkmen Top Athens

Bouncing back from their opening loss of the season, the hands of the Alabama College Falcons, the JSU linkmen blasted the Athens team 16 1/2 - 1 1/2 in a match played at the Anniston Country Club.

Lowman for the Gamecocks was player-coach Marc Calton who shot a 74 for the afternoon. Following Calton were Larry Blackman who shot a 76. Thomas Howard who carded an eighteen hole total of 80 and freshman Steve Marks, playing in his first match shot a 86.

The Gamecocks clinched the return match with Alabama College and Coach Calton was eager to get revenge. The win gives the linkmen a record of 1-1, and the same record in the region.

Athletic Clinic Scheduled

Head football Coach Jim Blevins recently announced that the Athletic Department will hold its annual clinic on April 12-13.

The lectures will be held in the Round Refractory at 8:00 a.m. till noon each day.

In the past years the clinic has always been a huge success and the Athletic Department is planning an even bigger and better clinic for 1968.

Participation in the clinic has been good throughout the years as a good many participants are always on hand for the annual event.

The Chanticleer will have a more detailed report concerning participants and subjects in its next issue.

Publications Board Names Personnel
For Chanticleer and Mimosa

Discussion of coordination and controls of campus publications over shadowed the selection of 1968-69 yearbook and student newspaper editors at the March 21 meeting of the JSU publications board.

Incumbent Chanticleer Editor Larry Smith was renamed to the top position on the student newspaper and 1968 assistant Mimosa editor, Bob Lawson, was named editor of the 1969 Mimosa. Smith and Lawson were the only applicants for the positions.

In the only contested bid for positions, Maynard Layman was named 1969 Mimosa business manager.

After informing the publications board that the 1968 Mimosa was $1,700 over its budget, incumbents editor Jeff Hamrick cited a lack of controls over the annual, despite the Student Government Association’s constitutional authority.

“A manager could sign a contract for a $30,000 book and the SGA or the JSU administration could be stuck for the bill,” said Hamrick. “Some things need to be done.”

He and the yearbook had gone in the red several years ago and that the confusion had been created by Mr. Houston Cole had made up the deficit and said no more yearbooks would be published that year. Similar circumstances, Hamrick added that the SGA had not been able to underwrite future publications.

SGA president Ralph Walker, present at the board session, said it did not appear that the SGA would have sufficient funds to appropriate to the annual publication this year. Hamrick indicated a musical might be staged in an attempt to make up the difference.

Following the meeting, Hamrick told the Chanticleer he would recommend to the incoming editor that an annual not be published next year if satisfactory financial arrangements could not be made. He cited the lack of activity that, with an appropriate fee, would pay the cost of the yearbook as one answer.

Chanticleer associate editor Norman Brown asked for information regarding the delayed publication of the student director by the Phi Beta Lambda business club. He alleged a lack of SGA control over the organization’s activities and asked to whom the club might be held responsible.

More than 700 of the directories have been sold in advance, and although it is usually published in November of the academic year, it has not been delivered this year.

Brown queried the board’s opinion of local advertising for the student newspaper and described the plight of many Jacksonville merchants who purchased non-functional complimentary advertising in the annual, along with other campus publications, only because they felt they could not afford not to do so.

Publications Board Chairman Dr. William J. Calverly and member Dr. Jackson W. Selman told Brown and Hamrick such administrative details did not fall within their jurisdiction and that the publications board’s primary responsibility was to review the content and quality of existing publications.

Vietnam Referendum
Set for Choice 68

A referendum on Vietnam war policy and the urgent need for peace will be included in the CHOICE 68 presidential poll at JSU April 23, according to campus coordinator Jim Royal.

The JSU referendum will coincide with the Spring SGA officers’ election, part of a nationwide petition drive to collect signatures at nearly 1,000 colleges with enrollments totaling more than six million students.

Meeting in Washington, D.C. from February 10-12, several of the directors selected a slate of fourteen candidates for the presidency. They are: John R. Alger, Mark Field, Lyndon Johnson, Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King, John F. Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy, Richard Nixon, Charles Percy, Ronald Reagan, George Wallace, and George Wallace.

The students also decided that the referendum will be included on the ballot. Two deals with the country’s current involvement in Vietnam, and one with the priorities of government spending, in confronting the “...the crisis.”

Mr. Richard Seamon, Director of the Elections Research Center, and Dr. Howard Pernstein of the Political Science Department at Georgetown University assisted the Board in their efforts to ensure that the various questions were phrased achieving maximum clarity.

In addition, the Board resolved several administrative questions, such as voter qualification. It was decided that any student currently enrolled at JSU will be eligible to vote in the CHOICE 68 election. This includes graduate, part-time, and those studying abroad in American branch universities.

With The Greeks

Zeta Omega fraternity will be sponsoring Alpha Tau Omega pledge pin week next week, according to the social fraternity officers.

President Jim Reaves said ATO has accepted the less than one year old independent frat as a colony and the director is now being elected.

Also from Zeta Omega come the report that $75 was collected among its members and at an Anniston block road for the US Olympic Team fund drive.

While ATO is getting its feet on the ground, Delta Chi is already setting records.

Mr. Mark Dolan, Delta Chi colony will be officially chartered. This is to one year too late since it was originally colonized.

The usual period of colony status is four to five years. It is only a first at JSU, it is a record for Delta Chi national headquarters.

Delta Chi house mother, Mrs. Evelyn Swingley was reported in satisfactory condition at Noble Army Hospital and now expects visitors. Mrs. Swingley was struck with a heart attack during the Easter holidays.

From the Greeks and the Chanticleer to Mrs. Swingley a public “Get Well Card” was sent.

Alpha Xi Deltas scattered to the four corners of the nation during the AEA holidays, according to Carol Jean Smith, who reports the University of Kentucky AZD house was plash.

Jan Crim claims the AZD house at the University of Tennessee was “...the campus of the year” in its incoming pool, officers executive suites and a multitude of other things.

At JSU the AZD’s meet at the Faculty-Alumni Club for lack of a house or meeting room they can call their own. They are said to have greater things to come held by more than one sister.

Zeta Omga and Delta Chi are taking an active part in the current City of Jacksonville “clean-up, fix-up, paint-up” campaign. Both fraternities have received project assignments from the Jacksonville Interclub Council coordinating the effort, officers executive suites and a multitude of other things.

The Delta Chi, the newly formed fraternity on the JSU campus, defeated thenumeral basketball tournament defeating the Combinations.

Starring for the Delta Chi were Jim Farrell, Bill MacArthur, and Jim Dozier.

Spring Blossoms

At JSU

Jacksonville State University's recent siege of spring fever gave way to a hustle and bustle of activity planned and unplanned on and off campus.

The long promised bulletin boards were "planted" last Monday by T-shirt clad SGA president Ralph Walker. Trash containers were painted Tuesday and new shrubs placed in front of Bibb Graves Hall.

President Walker outlined a plan to the SGA for uniform time and/or chime time on the JSU campus. He said he would take personal charge and get the correct time from Western Union to begin the timekeepers' job.

Delta Chi officers Jim Dozier, Jim Farrell, Charles Henderson and Kerry Wagner found housemother, Mrs. Evelyn Swingley, to be a mother away from home.

Twenty-one ROTC sponsors will vie next week for the title of Brigade Ball Queen. Quite a bunch of beauties.
