JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY, MAY 26, 1969

NO. 36

There will be wedding bells in the near future for our current Gem of the Hills, Phyllis Smith of Jacksonville. Phyllis will be married in June.

Rep. Nichols Speaks To International Students

U. S. Rep. Bill Nichols says an upcoming report by a sub-committee of the House Armed Services Committee - investigating the capture of the intelligence ship Pueblo by the North Koreans - will be "critical of some people in high places."

Rep. Nichols made the remark to students here at the International House. He serves on the sub-committee investigating the Pueblo incident and says the report will be made public soon.

The Fourth District congressman - on a two-day visit here - also presented an American flag to JSU on behalf of the U. S. Air Force. The flag, which has flown over the nation's capital in Washington, is a gift to the school in recognition of the outstanding ROTC unit on campus.

"I am honored to make this presentation on behalf of the Air Force," he said, "and it is a deserving reward to your fine ROTC program on campus." Lt. Col. Leonard Folk, commander of a USAF Recruiting Unit at Gunter Air Force Base in Montgomery, represented the Air Force.

Concerning the upcoming report of the Pueblo, Nichols said his committee "thinks there was error in the judgment of some high ranking military officials in the seriousness of the mission."

Last week the Secretary (See NICHOLS, Page 5)

Dr. Houston Cole (left) accepts a new American Flag from Rep. Bill Nichols and Lt. Col. Leonard Folk. The new flag, which has flown over the U. S. Capitol in Washington, will be used at JSU.

Over 400 To Graduate From JSU On May 31

Spring graduation exercises will be held at Jacksonville State University on May 31, at 6 p.m. in Paul Snow Memorial Stadium.

The largest graduating class in the school's history, over 400 students, will receive their diplomas and hear the commencement speech by the Right Rev. George Mosley Murray, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Alabama.

Earlier in the day, 18 advanced ROTC students will be commissioned lieutenants in the U. S. Army. This program is set for 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium, Student Commons Building.

Rev. Murray became Bishop of the Diocese earlier this year, after serving as Bishop co-adjutor since 1959.

A graduate of the University of Alabama, he holds honorary degrees from the University of the South, St. Bernard College, Virginia Theological Seminary and the University of Alabama.

At the graduation exercises, Edward V. Elliott of Gadsden and Nancy Kaye Cooper of Boaz will be recognized for maintaining the highest academic averages during their four years at Jax State. Elliott has a 2.79 average and Miss Cooper maintains a 2.76 average.

The 18 ROTC students to be commissioned include: Larry D. Anderson, Jacksonville; Jadie M. Boozer, Jr., Jacksonville; William I. Boozer, Anniston; Charles E. De-

SGA Tells Officers For Summer

The SGA held an informal meeting last Monday night for the purpose of discussing the insurance and class ring franchises on campus. The SGA officers for the summer semester were also announced.

It was decided to permit Billy Isom, a representative of National Educators Life Insurance to continue as agent for student medical insurance on campus.

The right to sell class rings on campus was left undecided until a possible meeting tonight.

This was to allow Steve Gurley, SGA president, time to continue talks with the two ring companies currently trying for the franchise.

The summer SGA officers will be Sam Spruiell, president; David Hale, vice president; Joyce Loyd, secretary; and Lynn Cochran, treasurer.

Officers Are Elected For 1969-70

A total number of 535 voters turned out Tuesday, May 13, for the election of class officers.

Two positions, senior class secretary and junior class secretary, required a runoff vote the next day.

The results for the senior class were: president, Tony Ballard 119, Mickey Campbell 104; vice president, Richard Allen 128, Stephen Poritz 41, Terry Stahl 34.

Senior representatives (two positions), David Goldman 156, David Hale 103, Richard Wyatt 76, and Progress

Somewhere in the confusion of moving things from the old grab to the new Commons, the Chanticleer got lost. Not that we're jealous or anything. But when those rumors were going around about the Commons sinking, most of us over here were wishing the thing would crumble. In a way, this secret supplication was more of an attempt to even things up: while their windows are cracking, our walls are splitting. That's not fair!

We've made several gallant attempts to add dignity to the office and its split walls. Martin Ennis, sports-editor put up 8 x 10 glossies of all the Gems of the Hills at strategic locations to cover up the flaws in the wall. There were not enough Gems, though, so we've had to add Rich Little, Cleveland Amory, Larry Smith, Edmund Muskie, and that half plucked chicken Crow Hall tried to pass off as a gamecock last Homecoming.

We have two ancient typewriters, one of which is so old that the "s" looks like an "f".

We have three desks. One has a sadistic contraption in the middle for raising a typewriter up from the black hole of Calcutta beneath. Another lowers a footrest, but the board keeps coming off exposing a half dozen nails.

Our phone rings next door in the Mimosa office. Priority is evidently not based on frequency of publication.

We've been supplied with numerous reference books including copies of the JSU catalogues as recent as 1964, a 1965 University of Alabama annual, a three year old phonebook, and a joke book the punchlines of which are not quite as subtle as those in the Nancy comic strip. No dictionary.

Not that we're jealous or anything. We're bitter. After everyone had selected his office in the Commons, we got to go over and select a windowless, unairconditioned storage room in the basement, with two-hugh metal doors that opened inwards into the room.

We decided to remain at our far corner, upstairs, in the back of the old grab office where at least we do have two windows to look out of, disregarding the spiderweb crack in one of them.

The view is of the Student Commons Building. That's progress, but it ruined our view of the tennis courts.

Coherency In Actions

The Student Government Association usually initiates several programs each year that require close contact with administrative officials. The administration tries to work out acceptable solutions with the SGA. The main problem existing between these two bodies is coherency in actions.

For the past several years, the SGA has been saddled with a lame-duck president. Because of this situation, necessary proposals that require a great deal of time are never worked out. A key example of this is the SGA constitution. An outgoing president in the second half of his term usually is ineffective when trying to get approval of certain programs. The answer to this dilemma lies squarely on the shoulders of the SGA president.

One alternative to the problem might be to initiate programs at the start of a term rather than at the end. Ample time should present itself to work out necessary details. Both parties would then have enough time to consider the pros and cons of a proposal. Hasty decisions could be avoided. More constructive programs would probably come about with the parties concerned feeling satisfied with the solution. It appears the administration and the students would equally benefit by this action.

Letters To The Editor

Doss Strikes Again

Dear Editor:

The cover of the "Mimosa" feels rough and checky. But it is very expensive to import.

The cover is really unique. The cloth is Egyptian papyrus flax. It costs 22 cents for 15,000 yards.

The brown specks are insect traces which come free with no optional cost.

Well, you can't tell a book by its cover.

T. A. Doss

Reply

Mr. Doss is entitled to his own opinion and we respect that right.

However, the praise for the "Mimosa" far exceeds the complaints, according to what the Chanticleer has heard.

Thanks From Amory

(Editor's note: The following letter was received by Dr. Houston Cole from Cleveland Amory after Amory's address here April 15. Mr. Amory is a nationally known columnist and critic for This Week Magazine and TV Guide.)

Dear Dr. Cole,
I am late in thanking you for all your kindness to me on my recent trip to Jacksonville, and most particularly for your wonderful Southern hospitality in letting me stay at your home. I enjoyed it more than I can say, and only hope our paths will cross again sometime in the future.

Please remember me to all the fine students at Jacksonville State, especially the lovely ladies who provided such an enjoyable escort for me, and who were also kind enough to send me the program clippings from the student and local papers.

Of all the lectures I have given recently, this was one of the most enjoyable - - for me. Again, my thanks.

With kind regards,
Cleveland Amory

AFWC Thanks

Dear Dr. Cole:

My visit to Jacksonville State University to cover the AFWC Convention was such a pleasure I have to say thank you personally.

It was wonderful to be with all those fine, happy young people. I don't think I have ever seen anything more thought provoking than that stage filled with the young people from the International House.

I'm sure every woman who came to Jacksonville State must have felt how wonderful it would be if the young people on every campus in the country went about their business in the same sensible manner and with the genuine concern for their fellowman as your people at Jacksonville State.

Sincerely, Elma Bell

What Do You Think Of Compulsory ROTC?

Cadet Captain Keith Letcher, Sylacauga. "I think it's a good deal. It gives the basic cadets a little bit better bearing where they otherwise might not get it."

Photos By Ken Jones

Randy Stewart, Jacksonville. "I think it has great advantages, but the biggest problem is the boys don't care because they have to be in it. It would be better if it was a voluntary program."

Banks Dorsett, Ashville. "It's really not as bad as some of the articles have been saying. I don't like being forced to do anything, but it does prepare you for what you'll have to face eventually."

John Boone, senior, Boaz. "When I was in it, I believe it helped me as far as leadership. I do think it should be an elective because some people just aren't suited for military life."

Hobson Colvin, senior, Albertville. "They should make it a three hour course; if it's going to be a one hour course you shouldn't have to take it, but if it's three hours it should be compulsory."

Looking Back

By Jim Royal
Associate Editor

The past three years have brought many joys and disappointments to me while I have attended Jacksonville State. Excluding academic studies, many extra-curricular activities have also added greatly to my enjoyment of JSU. The challenging objectives that were set forth leave many fond memories. Goals that were not attained leave much incentive for later years. In passing, I would like to comment briefly on some of the persons and places that linger in my thoughts.

Instructors

To single out any one instructor or professor and tell of his favorable attributes would be foolish. Approximately 99.9 per cent of the teachers I have had are (in my humble opinion) somewhere between excellent to outstanding. Many have gone out of their way to help me when I needed it. Others have shown kindness that I will long remember. The understanding that others have displayed show just a few of the many favorable traits they possess.

Growth

In my three year stay, our college has become a university. Buildings have sprung up overnight. The fantastic growth would astounded the most apathetic individual. Others have wondered if ALL aspects of a university have grown in proportion to the physical structure.

Enrichments

The academic and social enrichments have been many and varied. The social functions have been few in comparison to the academic fulfillment. The well balanced program offered to the students seems to make more sense than it did during my freshman year. Concerts, plays, and other types of cultural offerings have contributed much in appreciation of the finer things in life.

Administrative Officials

I have had several encounters with different administrative officials since matriculation. They have always given of their time to listen to my complaints and assistance was present when needed. Although I tend to lean toward the left, I honestly feel that a person has to travel a road before he can sit in judgment. Experience does not always prove to be the right answer, but it does seem to hold the edge for those who do not possess it.

Food Service

Many complaints have been set forth concerning the food in the university cafeterias. I have listened to the various arguments and have found very little validity on the negative side. When I was serving my active duty in the Navy, our favorite complaint was the food. I felt (at that time) we had a just argument. When one is in the middle of the ocean for thirty days at a time, good food is hard to come by. So much for sea stories. The point is that food at Jax State is one-hundred per cent better than in the service. Considering the problems of feeding a few thousand students, I feel the food is very good. At least, I eat a good deal of it. As for the service, it could not be better unless they served the student like in a restaurant. Several times I have been too late for supper and the workers in the cafeteria have seen that I had something to eat. On top of this, usually a lady will ask how I am feeling or how is the food. Kindness of this manner is hard to put aside as just "standard procedure."

Non-categorized

A few individuals and business firms seem to "stick out" above others. Crow Drug has one of the friendliest atmospheres in town. The service is quick, but they still take time to let you know they appreciate your business. If you are a regular customer, they will not charge you for a check like some business establishments will. Little's Cleaners employs the kind of people that make you want to trade with them. They always stand behind their service and are very open minded people.

Reverend John Tadlock, Baptist campus minister, has been a tremendous asset to the university. He is able to communicate on any level and get his point across.

Jack Hopper, director of public relations and advisor to the Chanticleer among other things has done so much to put the university in front of the citizens of the state of Alabama. Few will be able to match his perceptiveness.

Larry Smith, editor of the Chanticleer, is a very dedicated person regardless of the task he is trying to accomplish. He has proven to many to be a true friend also. His thoughtfulness in action toward others and kindness in words makes this writer feel very proud that he could associate with a person of Larry Smith's caliber.

In Closing

Writing for the Chanticleer has been a real pleasure. The many contacts encountered has enriched my outlook on life. I could never thank the many different persons that have given me help and assistance when I needed it most.

Another time and place. The gratitude I hold for these persons can never be expressed in words, but I somehow feel they know of my appreciation. I would like to give a "special thanks" to the readers of the Chanticleer who have come and let me know they are interested in the university newspaper.

When August 1 arrives, I hopefully will complete my second objective or aspiration. I sincerely hope that each of you will attain your objectives in life.

Phi Chi initiated their pledges on May 15. New actives are Gary Avrette, Gary Brown, Skip Adamson, Larry O'Barr, Rat Murphy, Joe Smith, Luke Thornton, and Harold Sweat.

The Phi Chi's first annual Gold and Garnet Ball was held Friday, May 16 at the Downtowner Inn in Anniston. A buffet dinner began the evening. Near the end of the dinner, several dignitaries were announced as the Board of Governors: Col. Forrest Wells, Mr. Charles Gamble, David Pearson, Dr. Calvin Wingo, Dr. Harry E. Rose, Mr. Leslie Waltman and Rev. R. L. Archibald.

New officers were also sworn in. They include Len McCauley, Pres., Ted Craig, Vice-Pres., Joe Funderburg, Rec. Sec., Gary Brown, Corr. Sec., and Rodney Burgess, Treas. Awards were given to Len McCauley for Best Active and Most Outstanding Member; Skip Adamson for Most Outstanding Pledge; Ron Brinker for Highest Scholastic Achievement; and Larry O'Barr for Best Paddle.

After the dinner, the ball got underway featuring music by the Circle. The lead-out consisted of presentation of the little sisters: Mrs. Jamie Brown, Mrs. Nell Craig, Kaye Gibson, and Faye Thompson. Debbie Cole was presented with red roses for being elected Phi Chi's sweetheart for 1969. Everyone agreed the formal was a big success.

New Phi Chi pledges include Bob Ellis, Pres., Larry Stewart, Vice-Pres., Buddy Rogers, Sec., Scott Collins, Treas.; and Bill Armstrong, Charles Morgan, Gene Stokes, Al Williams, and Hank Williams.

Presently Phi Chi is communicating with Birmingham Southern, Auburn, and other universities in hopes of attaining a colony in fall with Pi Kappa Alpha national fraternity.

Congratulations to Larry O'Barr who will be the Jax State Gamecock next fall with the cheerleaders.

ATO was happy to initiate its Little Sister program by selecting 20 little sisters. Accompanying these selections, the Tau's were proud to announce their choice for ATO Sweetheart, Margaret Branch. After serenading the sweetheart, she and the little sisters were entertained at the house, where they were presented necklaces bearing the Alpha Tau Omega Crest.

Little Sisters are: Gail Alvis, Ann Arnold, Teresa Bearden, Margaret Branch, Jill Cecil, Lynn Cochran, Marcia Frankl, Bitsy Griffith, Sandy Hagan, Barbara Hand, Anita Harris, Kay King, Sue King, Mitzi Lamb, Jan Parker, Debbie Piper, Donna Rhinehart, Laurel Sessions, Janice Shels, Katie Troncale. Mrs. Miriam Haywood and Mrs. Solon Glover are sponsors for the group.

Congratulations to ATO pledges Randy Knox and James Ledbetter, who were chosen cheerleaders for the coming year and Larry Daniels, who was elected president of the Sophomore class! Also congrats to Jim Moree, who was awarded an ROTC scholarship.

Alpha Xi Delta ended the year with a farmer's Party May 15 at the Circle V Ranch. After a wiener roast around a bonfire, the sorority members and their dates enjoyed such pastimes as a feed sack race, piggy-back riding, and telling ghost stories. Also there was a contest to see which group could pass an orange neck-to-neck faster. Allen Crow, David Cunningham, and Steve Stanley played guitars and led the group in singing. It was the "mostest fun," according to Fuzzies!

Alpha Xi is proud to announce that Betty Sisk is next year's Junior Class Sec. and that June Godfrey will be a cheerleader. Congratulations!

A recent informal rush brought the AZD's several new pledges.

A hippie party May 13 was the highlight of rush. Dress and decoration were in keeping with the hippie theme. An original laugh-in skit was presented.

Congratulations to Omega Kappa members Mike Moncus for being chosen cheerleader, and Tony Ballard for being elected Pres. of the Senior Class. Tony was also installed recently as Vice Pres. of the Usher's Club, and Mike was installed as treasurer of it. Dean Gus Edwards was presented an award for being sponsor of the Usher's Club. Other OK's in the Usher Club include Chris Williamson, Danny Hicks, Tom Knox, Pete Laskis, and Jim Garmon.

Omega Kappa initiated its pledges last Wednesday night in a not-soon-to-be-forgotten ceremony. There was also a party for the Seniors, which was a lot of fun.

Chris Williamson was given an ROTC award for the best-drilled platoon in the second battalion in the recent Alpha Xi Delta Officers At The 1969 Rose Cotillion.

Delta Chi held their annual White Carnation Ball last weekend at the Downtowner in Anniston. After a buffet dinner, party favors were presented to the dates.

Bill McArthur was honored as Most Athletic, while Jim Dozier was given the highly honored Achievement Award.

A surprise awaited everyone with the "Daze of the Weak" combined with the "Four Tracks", backup foursome for Percy Sledge, and provided an out-of-sight night for the Delta Chi's and their dates.

The pledge class awaits initiation after finals with formal initiation Sunday, June 1. The pledges lost their first softball game last Monday. The Active team is still participating in the intramural tournament.

Homecoming Plans Told

Plans for Homecoming 1969 got underway last week with the announcement that Rhett Brock will again be serving as student co-ordinating chairman.

Rhett will be working with Mrs. Julia Snead, alumni co-ordinating chairman, and co-chairman David Goldman.

Several changes in the Homecoming schedule were also announced.

The Homecoming football game, scheduled against Delta State, will be held at 7 on Saturday, November 8th.

The homecoming parade will precede the game that afternoon.

The manner of selecting the Homecoming Queen will be changed. A panel of judges will select five finalists from which the student body will select the Queen.

In the past, the Homecoming Queen has been selected by the student body from all entries.

A theme for the 1969 Homecoming has not yet

PI Gamma Mu

The JSU chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honor society has announced its new officers and members.

The society, whose purpose is to "improve scholarship in social studies" and "inspire social services to humanity," requires both an overall average of 2.0 and a major-minor average of 2.0.

Mickey Campbell has been named the new president, with Lynda Martin as vice president and Frank Nichols as secretary.

The new members are Gloria Regan, Dorothy Gulliani, Linda Owen, Ruth Hammon, Gail Chaffin, Frank Nichols, Shelia Bolden, and Carol Jean Smith.

Chanticleer Editor Pens History Book

Larry Smith, editor of the Chanticleer, for the past few semesters, recently published "The History of Marshall County, Ala.," a hard bound book dealing with his home county.

Smith, a senior majoring in history, is the second JSU student to recently publish a book. Jerry Gist, a Scottsboro senior, authored "The Scottsboro Story," which has been on the market for the last few months.

Smith's book begins with prehistory and runs through 1939. He is currently working on Volume II of the book, which covers from 1940 to the present.

been selected, and Brock said the chairmen are welcoming any suggestions the students may have.

SAA Holds Banquet

The Jacksonville State University Student Accounting Associates held its annual spring awards banquet Friday evening, May 16, in Leone Cole.

Guest speaker was Henry Vaughn, president of the Alabama Society of Certified Public Accountants. Awards were presented to outstanding accounting majors.

Cheerleaders Are Selected

The names of the 1969-70 cheerleaders were announced recently by the sponsor, Mrs. Miriam Haywood.

Freida Boyd and Randy Knox have been selected as co-heads. Other cheerleaders are Debbie Greene, Scott Collins, June Godfrey, James Ledbetter, Pam Brunson, Mike Moncus, and Sheron McClellan.

In addition, two alternates will be selected from the entering freshmen class in September.

Writers Awarded

At the regular SGA assembly on May 5, awards were presented to the first Sigma Tau Delta Creative Writers' Contest.

The $25 first place winners were Sam Spruiell for poetry, Kathleen Taffee for short story, and James Wallace for essay.

Honorable mention was given to Larry Stewart for a poetry entry and to Roger Kilpatrick for a short story. Contestants are reminded that they may pick up their entries from Mrs. Roebuck.

The chapter was well pleased with the response to the contest and hopes to place it on an annual basis. Hopefully, more recognition can be shown next year by the addition of second place prizes.

Activities Planned For Summer

The prospectus for summer school activities appears to be excellent. Sam Spruiell, president of the SGA for summer school, has tentatively outlined the functions planned for the summer session.

Dances will not be held every week but better bands will be provided for fewer dances. Tentatively scheduled to appear are The Bleus, The Daze of the Weak, and the Tyn Times. Sounds good, doesn't it.

Also planned are a cook-out, a watermelon cutting, and a Game Nite complete with bingo contest.

To start things rolling (and rocking maybe), a big dance will be held the night before classes con-

Hatching a New chanticleer

Every other week a new Chanticleer is hatched by the student newspaper staff of Jacksonville State University.

There are many steps involved in getting the paper in print, as photos testify. It all begins with countless phone calls and interviews with students, faculty and staff members of JSU; and proceeds from there to the typewriter. When all the news is gathered and the photos are made, it is taken to The Jacksonville News, where the type is set. Plates are made at The News and sent to Talladega, where the paper is printed.
