JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY, MONDAY, MONDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1969

NO. 2

Farmers throughout Alabama are busy gathering their cotton crops and pretty Jerolyn Thraikill of Fairfield decided she might help a little bit. She visited the farm near Alexandria and instead of helping, she found all the farmers stopped work to admire her good looks. A sophomore at Jacksonville State University, she is the current "Gem of the Hills."

Cheerleaders' Budget Heads SGA Meetings

The SGA Senate, last Monday night, set up a separate account for the cheerleaders, following a lengthy discussion on the new plan.

In the past, cheerleaders were given their expense money periodically throughout the semester.

The new system sets up a separate bank account to be used throughout the year.

This budget was pre-

Election Runoffs Are Held

All freshmen class SGA posts required election runoffs last week as 27 freshmen ran for the six available offices.

Elected in the runoffs held Wednesday, Oct. 1, were: Tom Roberson, president; Terry Knox, vice president; Francie Costanea, secretary; Becky Luker, treasurer; and Phil Austin and John Holloway as the two class representatives.

A total of 205 freshmen voted on Monday, Sept. 29. The number of voters increased to 205 in the runoffs.

sented to the senate on Sept. 29. Following the general plan of the budget, the senate decided on a compromise sum of $730.

The senate passed the bill with the stipulation that if the sum proved insufficient, the cheerleaders could petition the senate for an additional allowance.

The money covers uniforms, gasoline expenses, and meals for away games. The senate requested an itemized budget at its Sept. 22 meeting, and at that time agreed to cover all due bills until an official budget was available.

The Sept. 22 meeting also saw a traffic committee appointed to study parking problems, and a good committee to study problems relating to the cafeterias.

The food committee will soon have a box in the Commons to take complaints and recommendations concerning the food services.

The SGA appropriated $300 for the purchase of a sign making kit. The kit, manufactured by American Jet Spray Industries, has a ten year guarantee. The kit will also be made available to (See BUDGET, Page 3)

Construction Begins On Parking Spaces

By Kent Anderson

"Although we have plenty of parking places available for students, including the area around Curtiss, arrangements have been made to add another 300 spaces to that which already exists," Solon Glover, JSU business manager, stated last week.

This move should help to ease Jacksonville's acute parking problem. It was a bilateral venture of the SGA and the administration.

The SGA, in their September 22 meeting, appointed a traffic committee to study traffic problems on campus. This committee, headed by David Goldman, was composed of Freida Boyd, Randy Knox, Bill Snowden, and Tony Ballard, plus representatives of each Greek organization.

The committee decided, with the counsel of James Jackson, campus police chief, to consolidate their views and request that Dr. Cole approve the acquisition of several new parking areas.

These areas include the area to the rear of the croquet court and north of Mountain Avenue, the area behind Martin Hall, the land between Glazner and Logan and west of the concrete abutment, and the area between Daugette and Snow Stadium.

Some other areas considered but delayed were the corner next to Self Cafeteria, the section north of the Athletic Dorm, and the area in front of Bibb Graves.

The possibility of a reverse lane in front of Bibb Graves was discussed, but tabled for future study.

Meeting with Dr. Cole were Russel Greenhalg,

Noted Educator to Speak in Commons

One of the most well-known education figures of today -- Dr. Max Rafferty of California--will speak in the Student Commons Auditorium on Monday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Some 100 school officials of North Alabama will be special guests for the occasion.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction in California, Dr. Rafferty is the author of the all time best-seller on education, "Suffer, Little Children." His syndicated column is carried in many Alabama newspapers.

He is well-known for Terry Moore, Tony Ballard, Don Cheyne, David Goldman and Chief Jackson. In this meeting it was cleared that a lot behind Martin and one behind Glazner would be constructed and that a lot behind the P. E. Building was under construction.

The areas behind Ayers Hall and Martin were both checked on September 26, by two members of the State Highway Department. They assured the administration that the lot construction would begin as soon as their his speech entitled "The Passing of the Patriot," which was delivered in 1961 and called the most controversial talk in the last generation.

He was first elected to California's highest education office in 1962 by the greatest number of votes ever cast in a nonpartisan election in this country. In 1966 he was re-elected by nearly 3 million votes over his opponents.

He has more schools and more school children under his supervision than any other man in the U.S.

Stadium Mud

We here at Jacksonville hope to soon have a modern sports arena to house the fighting Gamecocks, but for the present we have needs in the present location.

At the recent Samford Jacksonville State game it became evident that something must be done to eliminate some unpleasant conditions now found in our stadium.

First the stadium is not marked in a manner recognizable to visitors. Second, there is a problem in wet weather with mud. At the Samford game the passages from the primary gates to the visitors section were ankle deep in mud. These walk ways were almost impassable!

It is understood that this is not a permanent facility, but it should be pointed out that between now and the target date for completion we will probably see several more rainfalls.

Perhaps if paving is not financially fisible then a temporary board walk could be constructed. Anything would be an improvement. It is our duty to show our visitors as pleasant a time as possible.

Double Spirit

Three Saturdays ago our football team won a great victory against the Samford Bulldogs. The school spirit that had all but disappeared after two disappointing seasons was revived when our Gamecocks made an exciting comeback to win the second half. In Missouri, it was a different story, however, and there are those who would write off the team as another loser. Actually, the game was close and probably would have been a different story if the other team had been playing for a sparse number of fans far from home, rather than us. I'm sure Coach Pell and the players haven't quit because of one loss. It takes time to build a great team. We may lose other games and we may not. The point is this: Let's thank our team for their work by doubling our enthusiasm and spirit. In the long run this policy will pay off for the students as well as the football team.

Letters To The Editor

Accomplishments

Dear Editor:

This letter is addressed to the senior class.

As your acting SGA senior senator for the summer semester, I feel I should turn in a report of what was accomplished this summer and what was not.

First, I'll start with the easiest and shortest, what was accomplished. About the only thing accomplished was the work to have classes dismissed on Saturday, July 5. I may be mistaken, but I cannot think of anything else accomplished. If so, I hope somebody will correct me.

Now we come to the things we did not accomplish. Before I start, remember that the summer SGA is not expected to do anything except wait until the fall; if this is to be the case, we should not have summer SGA.

First, but not necessarily most important was the issue of the senior rings. The SGA is getting a $5 kickback, or whatever you call it, on each ring that is sold.

I made a motion that the senators should be able to take their receipt to the SGA office and get the $5 back; since we pay $50 to $70 for a ring, we could well use the $5. No action was taken by the SGA.

Second, after three unfortunate incidents, one of which was major, I made a motion that we get in touch with the deans involved and try and work on some changes in the old dorm rules.

At first this sent a chill up some SGA members backs, while others sat motionless. After a short discussion in which the majority felt that the rules were reasonable, that there was no cause to try and change them right then.

My last words deal with the student activity fee. We, the SGA for the summer, were told that we would have to operate on so much money since there was no student activity fee for the summer.

In the fall of 1968, tuition was $160, $2 of which was the student activity fee. In the spring of 1969, the tuition was $160, $2 of which was the student activity fee.

In the summer of 1969, the tuition was $160, but there was no student activity fee. In the fall of 1969, the tuition was $160, $2 of which was the student activity fee.

Thus I wonder, did tuition go up $2 in the summer and go back down $2 in the fall, or what happened to the $2 extra we paid this summer?

One last thing. I have heard while walking around on campus or sitting in the grab, people's opinions on certain matters. Why not come to the SGA meeting and voice your opinion where they will do some good.

Richard Conti

(Editor's note: The $5 ring "kickback" referred to is being placed into the SGA's general student fund.)

Mudholes

Dear Editor:

A cause of some concern among those fortunate (?) enough to have inspected (?) it closely, is the mudhole, quagmire, a veritable morass which guards the eastern entrance into Paul Snow Stadium.

This expanse of muddy mushiness is quite deep and sucks at the feet of anyone treading across it.

Case in Point: At the Samford ball game, one of that university's band members (female variety) carelessly trod into the morass and uttered this plea: "Somebody help me! I'm sinking!"

A great exertion by rescuers extracted the frightened girl.

Another: A Jacksonville citizen lost a shoe, casualty to the same mud.

It would seem, with the abundance of construction in progress on the University campus, that someone would bestir himself and deposit a ton of sand on that conspicuous quagmire.

This oversight is hardly in keeping with the policy of maintaining a spotless reputation for this institution to allow such an inconvenience and eyesore to remain unremedied.

Thanks Campus Cops

(The following letter was sent to JSU President Dr. Houston Cole)

Having a daughter who attends Samford University, my family and I attended the Samford - Jacksonville game on Saturday night, September 20.

When we went to the car after the game, our car would not start - the battery was dead. Being a stranger on the campus and in the city, I decided to approach the city police for help.

This I did, but their reply was that the garages and service stations in the city closed at dark, and the nearest help would be from Piedmont or Anniston.

This was not too comforting so I decided to see if the campus police could help.

I'm writing this to tell you how courteous, considerate and helpful they were. Sgt. Murray radioed for a jumper cable, drove me back to my car and helped me get started.

I also want to mention that when we got to the car, one of the Jacksonville band members had already stopped and gone out of his way to find a jumper cable.

We appreciate very much the helpfulness of these two people, and we (See LETTER, Page 3)

Statehood Group Sets Pageant, Rally Oct. 20

The week of October 19 through October 25 will be the celebration of Alabama's 150th year of statehood in Calhoun County. The main event among the week's activities will be the Sesquicentennial rally held on Monday, October 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Snow Stadium. That night is designated as youth night, and the Sesquicentennial celebration will be combined with a decency rally.

An historical pageant, covering the period from De Soto's explorations to the present, will be presented by a cast of 125 people.

There will also be a keynote address by former state senator Tom Radley of Alex City, who is a candidate for lieutenant governor. His topic will be "Spirit of America." Speaking on six ideals of youth today will be several past YMC Youth governors.

There will also be musical entertainment con - sisting of a popular singing group to be announced, as well as the BSU choir singing in the pageant. Plans are to have either Miss Alabama or Junior Miss Alabama to sing the National Anthem.

Parking

As to more new areas in the future Mr. Glover said, "Of course, parking area will be provided around the new business administration building when it is completed, as well as in the area back of our new library which is now under construction."

David Goldman, chairman of the SGA traffic committee, told the Chanticleer, "The committee was overwhelmed by Dr. Cole's reception toward us. We accomplished our major goals of a central lot for commuters plus other parking areas. When the committee left the office you could feel the enthusiasm, because we had accomplished something that would aid the commuter as well as the resident."

The committee also pointed out that the area in front of Curtiss Hall was zoned for commuter parking, and was not generally filled. This lot

THE ANNUAL WRITING CONTEST, sponsored by Sigma Tau Delta, started last week as the honorary English fraternity began making plans for the entrees. would be ideal for those having classes in Mason, Ayers, or Bibb Graves.

Plans for the future include a study of the possibility of zoning parking areas as to resident or commuter and by classes. The idea of a tram system was considered and deemed too expensive.

Several areas not included in the present expansion were not ordered at present because they would detract from the natural beauty of the campus.

It was noted that the lot behind the PE Building will be only for University students and anyone parked there without a sticker will be towed away at the owner's expense.

The SGA traffic committee will meet again on Wednesday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the Student Commons. The subject of this meeting is to review the traffic ticket situation on campus.

This 'n' That

By Meridithe Gray

I have been given the honor of writing a bi-weekly column. Much to my dismay, however, I am totally unprepared to do so. There is nothing like stepping off with your right foot, only to find out later that it is the left! So I hope you will be kind, and perhaps in two weeks you can complain with reason.

Now, what interesting facet of Jacksonville State University don't you know about? Whose skeleton is hanging in the attic of Bibb Graves? What new building will go up to rid our midst of forest fires, by cutting down the trees? Well, these are the type of interest items I am supposed to write about. Would you believe it?

Now, let me see, there must be something - - I have it! Have you all heard about or even participated in the new game available to all students? Almost every half hour and

Duo Pianists to Give Concert Here Oct. 15

Jacksonville Community Concerts and Jacksonville State University will open the 1969-70 concert series on Oct. 15 when duo pianists Wittemore and Lowe bring their big Baldwin grands to Leone Cole Auditorium.

This is their second appearance here, having been requested to return by members of the association.

Concert '70, a singing group, will be the second offering on Nov. 5, in the auditorium of the new student commons where a handsome new Baldwin grand was recently placed.

On Feb. 12, a Chinese couple, Ma Si - Hon and Tun Kwong - Kwong, violinist and pianist, will appear in the student commons. This couple came to the U.S. singly, but married in 1954. Since that time they have divided their time between Europe and America, playing in the Salzburg and Berlin festivals and in many major cities of Europe. In this country they played with many of the great symphonies and have full-scale concert tours.

The final concert on March 23 will feature Ronald Rogers in "Songs of the Theatre", also in the student commons auditorium.

More information will be given on Concert '70 and Ronald Rogers preceding their appearances.

This will be the eighth season for the concert association, which was organized for the specific purpose of bringing good music and outstanding artists to the university campus. Students who purchased tickets can anticipate an enjoyable series.

An advantage concert members enjoy is having the privilege of attending concerts in Rome, Ga., free of charge. Rome members are also free to attend Jacksonville concerts.

Switchboard Now Open Longer Hours

The JSU switchboard is now open longer hours, according to Miss Carol Sims, one of the supervisors.

The switchboard will now be open from 7:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. five days a week, and from 7:30 a.m. until noon on Saturdays.

This represents an increase in operating time of 19 1/2 hours said Miss Sims, "to provide better service" to users of on-campus phones.

Graphics Show

The Art Department announces an exhibit of graphics from "Graphic South", a commercial art studio in Birmingham. It will open this Tuesday, October 7. The exhibit will open with a lecture by Amasa Smith, the owner of "Graphic South," at 3:30 in the Art Department. It is open to the public.

Homecoming Rules For Queen Told

The 1969 Homecoming committee released the official rules for sponsoring and selecting the new Homecoming Queen last week.

1. No Homecoming Queen candidates may be a freshman.

2. The sponsors must turn in the candidate's name, phone number, president of the organization sponsoring, and phone number, and name of organization accompanied by $15 to the Student Affairs Office by October 10.

3. All candidates for Homecoming Queen will be judged on appearance bases ONLY by off-campus judges in Bibb Graves Hall. From these girls, six semi-finalists will be selected.

The organization sponsoring these six semi-finalists will then be responsible for publicity for their candidate.

5. The voting for Homecoming Queen will be by the student body on November 4, on the first floor of Bibb Graves Hall, First floor of Martin Hall, and the ground floor of the Student Commons Building.

6. The Homecoming Queen will be announced and crowned on November 5, at a special assembly to be held at 9:30 a.m. in Leone Cole Auditorium.

7. Sponsors will be responsible for removing all publicity on campus by 6 p.m., November 4. The campus will be checked after 6 p.m.

700 Get Telephones

Over 700 dorm residents had telephones installed in their rooms during the first weeks of registration. South Central Bell has supplied the campus with a special JSU directory listing all of the students' numbers.

The request for telephone installation in the dorms was originally made by the Chanticleer last year.

Lost And Found

The Student Affairs Office has announced its recent collection of articles turned into its Lost and Found Department.

Car keys, eye glasses, and at least six class rings that have not been claimed from past semesters are included on the list.

The Student Affairs Office is located on the top floor of the Student Commons.

Second Half Charge Gives Jax First Win

The Jacksonville State University Gamecocks, thoroughly outplayed in the first half, roared from behind on the night of September 20 with the running of Bubba Long to defeat Samford University 20-10.

The big fullback never scored a point the entire evening, but his 162 yards rushing, 134 of them in the last stanza, provided the stabilization the Gamecocks needed to whip a Samford team that didn't deserve a 10-0 intermission lead. It marked Long's best night ever, along with Coach Pell's first win as a head coach.

Long didn't do it all by himself though. There was plenty of help in the second half from Doc Lett who hit flanker Mike Munhall on three occasions for 69 important yards. There was also a splendid boost from freshman fullback Roger Weaver. Young Weaver, a Rome, Ga., native, ran 69 yards over right tackle to put Jacksonville in front 13-10 midway through the third quarter.

A near capacity crowd saw the Jax State defense come to life in the second half also, holding the Birmingham team to a mere 39 yards net total offense for the final two quarters.

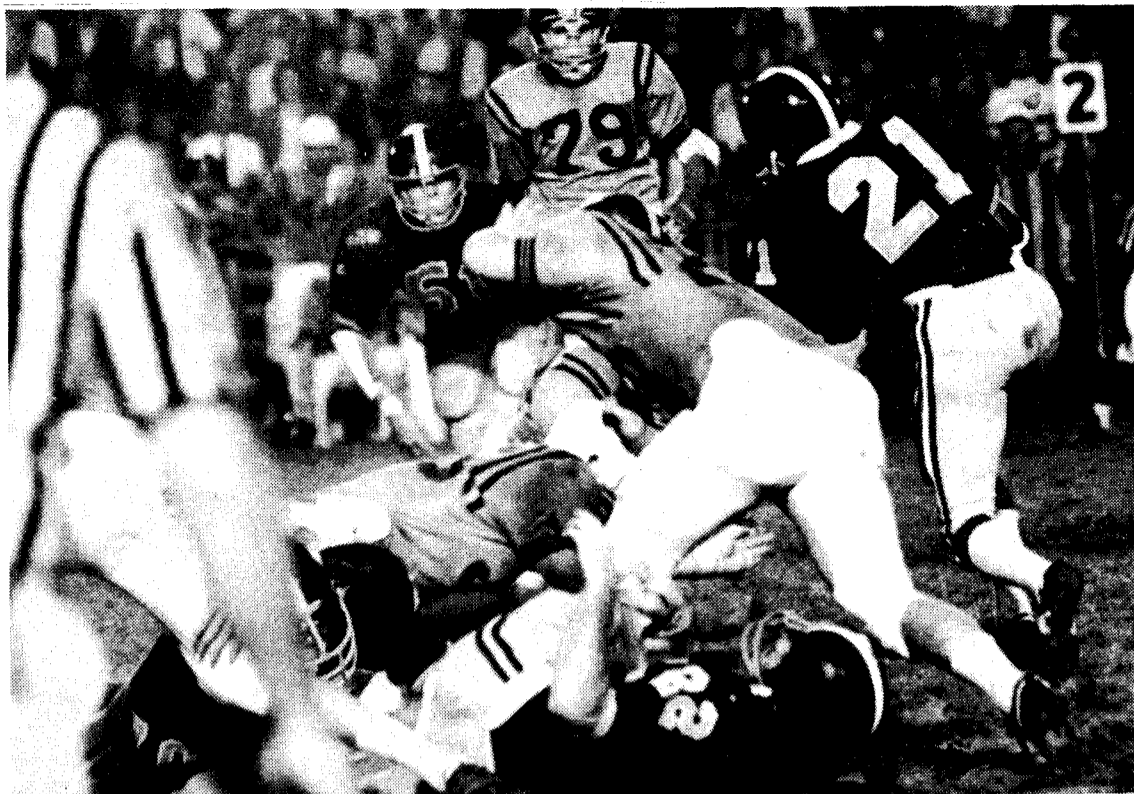

Fumbles plagued both teams in the first half, but the costly errors hurt Jacksonville the most. Halfway through the first quarter the Jaxmen fumbled on their own 25. Defensive end Bobby Carswell, a Jacksonville product, pounced on the ball for the Bulldogs, who drove to the four. At that point Samford quarterback Danny Gambrell fumbled and David Radford recovered for the Gamecocks.

Radford's save was short-lived. The very next play saw Mike Little fumble at the Jax State four. Mike Cobb carried over for the touchdown and Rudolph Golson converted. Samford led 7-0 with 8:56 remaining.

Near the end of the quarter, Samford turned another JSU fumble into three points. Lett lost the ball at his own 15 and the Bulldogs were knocking at the door again. Radford silenced any touchdown hopes, however, by throwing Gambrell for a nine-yard loss. Golson split the uprights from 39 yards out to make it 10-0 with 14:05 left in the half. Scoring wise that was it for Samford.

It didn't take long for the Gamecocks to make themselves evident in the third stanza. They forced a Sanford punt after the kickoff and took possession at the Bulldogs' 40 yard line. With Long rushing for 23 yards on the drive, they moved in quickly for a touchdown. Gary Godfrey got the points on a one-yard plunge and

Late Jacksonville Surge Falls Short, Mistakes Kill Gamecocks

Jacksonville State, fast becoming famous for its fourth quarter charges, staged one here in Cape Girardeau Saturday night against Southeast Missouri, but a penalty and a pass interception stopped the stretch run as the Gamecocks lost their first game of the season 19-13.

The Jaxmen storming from a 19-0 deficit early in the second half, whittled the lead to 19-13 on a 48-yard touchdown gallop by Roger Weaver, and a five yard run by Bubba Long, but an interception by the Indians with 30 seconds left killed the last minute surge.

The key penalty, which actually turned the game in the final moments, came on a fourth and eight situation with two minutes and 20 seconds left in the game and Southeast Missouri was backed up at their 30 yard line. On the snap, a Jax State lineman was penalized for a personal foul, giving the home team the first down and the chance to eat up most of the remaining time.

Jacksonville, which showed a lot of promise after a spotty first half on both offense and defense, made a valiant effort and fell painfully close to a near victory.

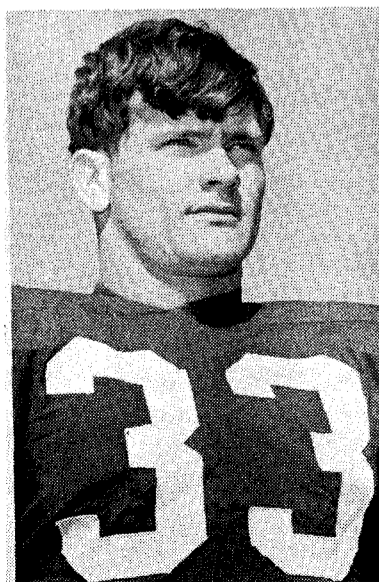

Al Holmes, a 9.5 sprinter, was the thorn in Jacksonville's side as he caught a 63-yard touchdown toss from quarterback Greg Schroder and ripped off 78 yards rushing, all in the first half. He injured a knee and did not play in the second half.

Southeast Missouri scored on the second play of the game, the six points coming on the long bomb to Holmes, while the second Southeast Missouri touchdown came with 4:39 left in the first half on a two-yard buck by Art Miller, following a 65-yard drive that was set up by a Jax State fumble.

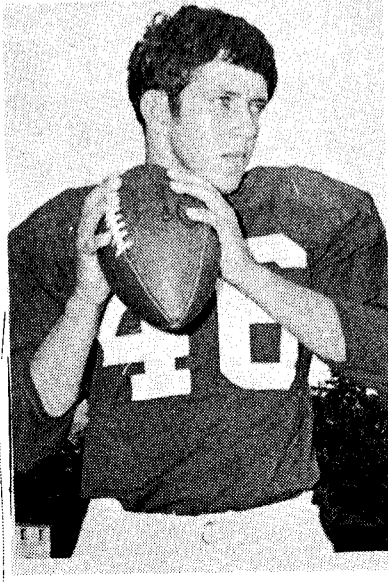

Bad luck continued to plague the Gamecocks as Herby Wientjes dropped a sure touchdown pass following the second Southeast Missouri touchdown and Roger Weaver fumbled the second half kickoff that set up the final Southeast score. The Indians went 25 yards in two plays, with Miller covering the final 12.

Doc Lett brought the Gamecocks back in the second half as he engineered two long TD drives, the first coming with 3:49 left, as Weaver broke a 49-yarder for six points. Danny Kemp missed the PAT. Later in the final quarter, the sophomore signal caller directed the Jaxmen 65 yards with Long bulling his way five yards for the final yards.

Weaver was the top yardage man for the Gamecocks with 76 yards on nine carries while Long had 56 in 19 attempts. Lett, plagued by several dropped passes, hit on eight of 21 (See SURGE, Page 7)

Why The Name Of Gamecocks?

By Harold Ragland

If a random survey of students means anything, this year could prove to be open season for the Gamecocks.

The name was selected for the team, according to a local newspaper dated Dec. 7, 1946, "at the end of the first season of football since the beginning of the war." School colors were also changed that year, from purple and white to blue and white.

The former title of Eagle Owl, said the article, "was adopted many years ago when the team was supposed to symbolize the characteristics of this strong tenacious bird."

In keeping with the traditions of yesteryears, there are students today who think that the name Gamecock is not adequate to describe the excellent spirit and aggressiveness of their sport teams.

Included in this issue is a group of students who hold sentimental ties to the mascot, and would like things to stay as they are.

With the following comments on the name Gamecock, the campus community may be in for an increase in student concern over what to call themselves.

"I suppose it's as good as any other name," said Sam Spruiell, an active member of the SGA.

"I think it is silly," said Elaine Wiggins, a senior. "I mean, what does the Gamecock convey? A Gamecock is a rooster, James Poe, Freshman, Birmingham. "It sounds good. I like it. It sounds tough. I am proud to be called a "Gamecock". I have something against Bulldogs."

hour you can play "Hit & Run." Yes, right off the sidewalk and across to the Student Commons Building is where its happening.

So far, no one has lost, but how long will it last? There is a dire need for a more effective crosswalk device. Perhaps someone will take action on the matter before tragedy occurs.

By the way, when going to play "Hit & Run," be sure your timing is correct. The dormitory clocks and the chimes are not synchronizd. I'm sure that individual watches must also have a different time. It seems to me that everyone should keep time according to the chimes--but who keeps the chimes time?

right? And a rooster has spirit, right? So that makes the name Gamecock a mockery because where is the spirit? Game nights with most of the people going on half - time and those who stay to see the end are drinking. What kind of spirit do we have anyway?"

A sophomore, Marshall Plants, stated that, "it should not be changed. It's established now. Maybe, whoever thought of the name should have given it more thought."

Chuck Avery said that "I really don't like the name but you probably can't do anything about it. All the other names are taken."

"I think it's all right as it stands. . . I despise common names like Bulldogs, Devils, etc.," said Pam Hawk. "At least I never heard of another team called Gamecocks. I might like something else better, but I can't think of anything right off hand."

Tyrone Robinson said that, "Everytime that I think of Gamecock, I get a feeling of being a chicken. JSU is known for aggressive leadership, however with a name, Gamecock, I find it hard to associate this quality to JSU. If a more aggressive name could be found, the situation would be helped."

Charge

Danny Kemp added the PAT making it 10 - 7.

Midway through the fourth period, Samford was forced to punt again, driving Pell's Chargers back to their own 16. Long picked up 11 yards in two carries and Little got five to run it out to the 32. It was at this point that Weaver took a hand-off from Lett, cut over right tackle and was off to the races, and he didn't stop until 69 yards and six points later, to put the Gamecocks ahead to stay.

Students Increase To 6,000

Jacksonville State University has approximately a 5 percent increase in enrollment this fall, and including part - time students will surpass 6,000.

A total 5,657 students have registered, as compared with 5,442 in the fall of 1968.

Combined with some 500 off - campus students which will register for short courses and special work, over 6,000 students will register before next January.

Preston Newman proves to be great punter for JSU

One of the greatest assets a team can possess is a fine punter and in this department, Jacksonville State ranks among the elite in the nation.

In Preston Newman, the Gamecocks can count on a fellow who knows how to back a team up and a big gain in exchange of punts.

Several times last week against Southeast Missouri, Preston gave Jacksonville State more than 15 yards after an exchange of punts. He averaged 48 yards a boot.

For two games, the sophomore from Hartsville, is hitting the ball at a rate of 45 - 7 per kick, among the best averages in the nation.

Last year, Newman led the nation most of the season before a couple of blocked punts caused his average to dip to a 41.7 mark. The 41.7 average, however, set a new school record at Jacksonville.

"I really don't know where we would be right now without Preston," is the way head coach Charley Pell describes his fine kicker. "Several times in the past two games he has given us working room out around the 35 when, with another punter, we would have had to start at the 15 or 20."

Newman's top punt this season came against Southeast Missouri.

Jacksonville State takes on Western Carolina this Saturday at 6 p.m. which will allow Gamecock fans to view both the Jax game and the Alabama - Ole Miss game on national television later at 8:35.

Editor Traces Communications

Duard Le Grand, editor of the Birmingham Post - Herald, traced the history of communication from its crudest forms to today's color television shows, Friday morning as guest speaker at Jacksonville State University.

Le Grand, the first speaker in this year's educational forum at Jax State, compared today's system of communication with Indians who once used knotted strings to convey messages.

Emphasizing the need for more communication from within the community, he said the Tower of Babel was never completed in the Biblical story because of a breakdown in communication.

Le Grand pointed out that although we have more mass communication than ever before because of the news media, there seems to be a gap in communication and Several short courses for existing law enforcement personnel in North Alabama are scheduled during the next couple of months and all will be classified as part - time students.

Dean of Admissions Lawrence Miles said Calhoun and Jefferson counties provide the largest number of students.

understanding among today's society.

"Our cities are decaying because of a lack of communication," he pointed out, "and we need to reestablish contact with all who live in them."

The guest speaker emphasized what can happen when there is no communication by telling of Gen. Andrew Jackson's battle with the British at New Orleans. "The war was already over, but Jackson didn't know it because of a lack of communication. "This type of situation would never occur today in Vietnam," he

After that it was all over but the shouting. Jacksonville's defense kept Samford from making any serious threats at overcoming the Gamecocks.

Later, Jax State got the ball again, this time on the Samford 46. Long picked up 30 of the 46 yards, as the Gamecocks put the game out of reach. Godfrey again scored from the one and Kemp was successful with the PAT.

The victory, Jacksonville's first over Samford in three years, gave new Head Coach Charley Pell a winning start in his first season at the helm of the Gamecocks.

The time which elapses between an event and the time it reaches the public through the news media is becoming less and less, according to the guest speaker.

One reason there is a breakdown in communication today is the different meanings attached to words. "Cool used to be an adjective meaning the opposite of warm, but now it is a noun used by today's young people."
