

40% of Student Body Getting Financial Aid

A variety of scholarships, loans, grants, and student jobs are available at Jacksonville State University for students who are in need of financial assistance.

Approximately 40% of the student body is now receiving some sort of financial assistance.

The National Defense Loan is one of the most popular programs for students who help pay their way through college, according to Dr. Baskin Wright, director of financial aid.

Under this program, students who qualify receive money from the Federal Government for most of their college expenditures. No payment is required while the student is in school, and if he teaches after graduation, ten per cent of the loan is deducted for each year he teaches, up to a maximum of five years. A small 3 per cent interest is charged on the loans after the student has been out of school for nine months.

Applications for National Defense Loans for any given year must be made by April of the preceding year, according to Dr. Wright.

Another popular program is the Federally Insured Bank Loan, whereby students can borrow up to $1,500 per year to attend college. If the family income is less than $15,000 a year, the Federal Government pays the interest of the loan while the student is in school, and for nine months after he graduates.

Students who plan on pursuing a career in law enforcement are eligible for Federal loans of up to $1,500 per year. Those who go into law enforcement work after graduation will have 25 per cent of their loan repayment cancelled for each year they work. If the person stays in law enforcement work for at least four years after graduation, then his entire loan repayment is cancelled.

There are also grants available for officers who are currently on active duty but wish to take night courses. The Federal Government pays tuition costs, and the loan does not have to be paid back if he continues with his present employment after graduation.

JSU has approximately 50 scholarships available for students interested in nursing.

These scholarships come from two sources. The state legislature recently provided 30 scholarships, and a federal loan-scholarship program was also secured. The federal program provides for $25,883 in loans and $14,000 in scholarships.

Dr. Mary Williams is dean of the Lurleen B. Wallace School of Nursing. All interested applicants should contact her office, located in the new Student Commons building.

There are also a number of other private and organizational loans and scholarships listed in the official JSU catalog. Students who are interested in applying for one of these should contact the financial aid office, located in the Student Commons Building.

There are two programs available for students who qualify to work on campus--the Work Study and University Aid plans.

Under the Work Study plan, students who come from low income families may work for up to 15 hours a week while school is in session.

The University Aid program is designed to provide part time work for those who can't get Work Study funds but who need assistance.

SGA Governs Student Activities

The students' governing body at JSU is the Student Government Association (SGA).

All students are encouraged to attend SGA meetings, which are held each Monday night.

Officers for the SGA are selected by the students during general elections held in April of each year.

Preceding each election is a campaign by each candidate, which gives the students an opportunity to hear and discuss the proposals of each candidate.

Current officers are: Steve Gurley, president; David Kensaul, vice president; Phyllis Clark, secretary; and Barbara Starnes, treasurer.

The SGA maintains offices on the top floor of the Student Commons Building.

Members of the Freshman Class will get their first big taste of college life tomorrow (Monday), as registration gets underway.

Registration for first-time freshmen will begin at 8:30 a.m. in Leone Cole Auditorium. Registration will be conducted by groups: group I at 8:30; group II at 9:30; group III at 10:30; group IV at 12:30; group V at 1:30; and group VI at 2:30.

All freshmen are requested to report to Cole Auditorium with their green letter of acceptance.

Following is a condensed guide for tomorrow's registration:

1. Complete your trial schedule.

2. Appear at Leone Cole Auditorium at the time designated for you to register and take your place in line.

3. Report to Station 1, where you will present your trial schedule.

class scheduled, present your trial schedule, have the particular class entry initialed, and pick up an IBM class card for the class and section desired. Put these cards in your packet.

7. When all your classes have been initialed and all class cards have been picked up,

8. Present your trial schedule and packet containing the IBM cards to the IBM check out table.

9. Complete your registration forms at Station 5 and proceed to Station 6 to have your forms and schedule checked and processed.

10. Proceed to Station 7 and pay your fees.

11. Go directly to the Auditorium Stage and have pictures taken for Student ID cards.

Complete information concerning registration is contained in the First Semester Class Schedule, Pages 9-10.

Rules

All women residing in dormitories are required to be back in their rooms by certain times.

Freshmen women have 10 p.m. permission Sunday through Thursday of each week, and 12:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. Second semester freshmen who have a minimum one point (C) average can have one late permission per month.

Upper class women (those having 30 or more hours) have 11 p.m. permission Sunday through Thursday and 1 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

There is no specific time regarding men returning to their rooms, however, quiet hours are observed each night in order that students will have a chance to study.

All students are asked to familiarize themselves with JSU rules by securing a copy of the "J" Book.

During commissioning exercises for Summer Semester graduates Col. Forest O. Wells, Professor of Military Science, presented six young men commissions in the United States Army Reserve. Administering the Oath of Office is Captain Robert Haliday. The newly commissioned officers from left to right are: second lieutenants Roger Kilpatrick of Virginia Beach, Va; Donald M. Phillips of Lanett; Stephen R. Stricklin of Birmingham; and Jimmy L. Clark, Robert C. Green and George R. Pulvere of Jacksonville.

Jax State In Midst Of $10 Million Expansion

Library, Dorm Among Buildings Planned

The growing Jacksonville State University campus is currently in the midst of a $10 million construction program which will include the largest academic building in Alabama.

These new facilities are being constructed in anticipation of an enrollment of 10,000, which is expected by 1975.

Bids were let recently on a new $5 million, 12-story library.

Also a part of the new construction program is a $1.5 million business administration building, which has been named in honor of State Representative Hugh Merrill of Anniston, chairman of the Jax State Board of Trustees.

Jax State is also planning a $2.5 million girl's dormitory, named for Mrs. Ivo Sparkman, wife of Alabama's senior U.S. Senator, John Sparkman.

The Lurleen B. Wallace School of Nursing, costing over $1 million, will be under construction within the year. Besides the nursing school, the School of Allied Medicine will be housed there. A giant new sports complex will be built in 1971.

The new library, which will be one of the tallest buildings in Northeast Alabama, will contain three million books. It will have an electronic hook-up with the Library of Congress, enabling students to find material from any book ever published in the United States.

Jacksonville currently has 15 dormitories, most of which are air-conditioned. All are wired for individual phones in the rooms.

There are two cafeterias--Self and Leone Cole.

Just completed is the new Student Commons Building, which is the center of student activity.

Classes are taught in the Art Show Underway

A special art show is underway in Mason Gallery, according to Lee Manners, head of the art department.

Prints, drawings and paintings are on display. They are on loan from the Third Army.

The show will be open all through registration and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. when classes resume, until Sept. 19.

The show is open to all students free of charge.

following places:

Martin Science Hall--division of science and mathematics;

Bibb Graves Hall--administration, English, and social sciences;

Ayers Hall--biology, psychology, and education;

Mason Hall--music, art, home economics, and business administration;

Stevenson Hall--physical education;

Round House--miscellaneous classes.

Other main buildings include Ramona Wood Library, Hammond Hall, International House, Leone Cole Auditorium, ROTC Building, and the Book Store.

Sports events are held at Paul Snow Memorial Stadium (football), Stevenson Gymnasium (basketball), and Pete Matthews Field (baseball). There are also four lighted tennis courts and several intramural fields.

A modern athletic dormitory, recently named Don Salls Hall was completed in 1967.

A giant new sports complex is expected to be put under construction in 1971.

Enrollment Up From Last Year

Enrollment for the summer session was up ten percent over last year.

A record 2,130 students registered this summer, of which 2,045 were undergraduate students and 85 took graduate courses during the second half of the graduate program.

The Hugh Merrill Business Administration Building will be completed in January.

Construction will begin soon on the Lurleen B. Wallace School of Nursing.

Construction is already underway on this 12 story multi-million dollar library.

This nine-story girl's dormitory is planned for the near future. To cost $2.5 million, it will be named in honor of Mrs. Ivo Sparkman, wife of U. S. Senator John Sparkman.

Entertainment Is Varied On Jax Campus

Dariusz Hochman, left, is director of the JSU Dance Company which was organized in the fall of 1968. The Dance Company has greatly broadened the scope of dance in the physical education department, as classical ballet, modern dance, folk dancing and dance laboratory are now offered.

Programs Range From "Rock" To Classical

With entertainment ranging from classical ballet to well known rock groups, most JSU students find "their own thing."

Regularly scheduled events include student forums, nationally known speakers, dances, movies, and concerts that feature both national rock groups and symphony orchestras.

The recently completed Student Commons Building has several pool and ping pong tables, which all students use free of charge. A well-rounded intramural sports program is also provided for those who do not participate in varsity athletics.

The JSU Student Government Association sponsors a multitude of events throughout the year including the annual Student Conference on American Government. SCOAG, as the conference is referred to, is a three day affair that hosts some 100 select high school students from around the state. Approximately 50 JSU delegates serve in leading roundtable discussions.

The Jacksonville community, in cooperation with JSU, sponsors a series of concerts through the Community Concert Association. Last year, the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra was one of five such events.

Recent outstanding speakers have included

Sen. Edmund Muskie, Sen. William Proxmire, writer-critic Cleveland Amory, and New York Times humorist Russel Baker.

Previous speakers have included Barry Goldwater, Rev. Norman Vincent Peale, Douglas Edwards, Sander Vanocur, and Paul Harvey.

Homecoming, religious emphasis week, band day, and governor's day are also annually scheduled events.

In addition, the spotlight is frequently on the 32 famous Ballerinas -- the only group of its kind in Alabama. The Ballerinas perform with the Marching Southerners, the JSU marching band that was recently selected as the official band for the American Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

JSU is always well endowed with an abundance of pretty co-eds, many of whom vie for the several beauty titles on campus. The title of Miss Mimosa is perhaps the most coveted honor sought at the university. Presented by the schools yearbook, the Mimosa, the winner is featured in a two page color layout in the book.

Another beauty title is that of "Miss Homecoming." Selection is made each fall from a field of lovely contestants and the winner reigns over the annual homecoming activities.

For Fall Football Student Section Moved; Long Lines Eliminated

Remember those long lines at the football games last year of people waiting to get in? Well, that situation has hopefully been corrected with the addition of a new gate at the west end of the field and the moving of the student cheering section.

The student cheering section which was formerly located at the west end of the field, has been moved to the east and occupying sections "A" and "B". "These sections have the same relationship to the yard markers on the field," said Ed Fain, director of auxiliary services.

The band will also be located in the cheering section's lower left corner.

The new gate at the west end of the field will have a ticket booth for the first time and will allow three lines of people to come in at the same time. This should ease the problem of congestion at the gates on top of the hill.

One additional feature that is advantageous to the student allows the student to get in the game by merely presenting his identification card at the gate, instead of picking up a ticket before game time.

The only reserved seats in the stadium will be located in sections "C", "D", and "E". These tickets must be purchased before the game because none will be sold at the ticket booths, where only general admission tickets will be sold. Those students desiring to sit with their parents in the reserve section must also buy a ticket.

Sections "F" and "G" will be for general admission as well as the seats on the south side of the field.

"We hope these changes will be most advantageous to all concerned and will ease the flow of people coming into the stadium," Fain commented on the changes to be made.

Reserved tickets to all four of Jacksonville's home games are available in the Auxiliary Services office located in the new Student Commons Building. The season tickets include games against Samford, Sept. 20; Western Carolina, Oct. 4; Tennessee Martin, Oct. 11; and Delta State (homecoming), Nov. 8.

Stadium Will Seat 25,000; New Field House Is Planned

Dr. Houston Cole, president of Jacksonville State University, recently announced projected plans for a new athletic and physical education complex for the school.

Dr. Cole indicated plans call for a new 25,000 seat football stadium complete with track and a 6,000 seating physical education building for basketball and physical education classes.

The project will be under construction by early 1971.

In addition to the football stadium and field house, present plans call for an olympic size natatorium which will also feature seating for 1,000 should Jax State decide to enter competitive swimming later.

Jacksonville's field house, at the present time, was built in 1939 and will accommodate 1700 fans at the most for basketball games. Jax State's enrollment last year topped the 5,500 mark and almost all games were sellouts.

Paul Snow Memorial Stadium is currently the home to the Gamecocks' football squad and is shared by the high school team and the intramural program at JSU. Parking is a big problem since the stadium is located in the center of the campus.

When completed the complex will make Jacksonville one of the top schools in the Southeast as Gamecock teams already boast new facilities for baseball and tennis, in addition to Salls Hall, the new athletic dorm.

Jacksonville's track team has had to commute to Anniston the past two years for home meets, but the new track around the proposed field will solve this problem.
