Chat'em Inn Is Now Open For Business

Chat 'em Inn, a $400,000 self-service cafeteria, opened last week in the Student Commons Building. It replaces the old "Grab" located in Hammond Hall.

Students can now buy everything from a cup of freshly brewed coffee to a steak with the trimmings—all without ever coming into contact with a single vending machine.

In addition to sandwichs, chicken, and shrimp, charbroiled hamburger steak and large and small New York strip steaks are offered. A complete fountain service is also offered.

Jax State's Largest Growth Came In The Last Ten Years

More progress was made here at Jacksonville State University in the 1960's than in all other years combined in the school's 67-year history as an institution of higher learning.

Building construction and student enrollment both soared to make Jax State the third largest college in Alabama. The expansion also enabled Jacksonville State to achieve university status in November of 1966.

A total of $3,379,000 in construction was completed in the ten year period, and the enrollment almost tripled. The JSU physical plant is now valued at $25 million as compared to $8 million in 1960.

Although the school enjoyed a growth rate much higher than the national average in the 1960's, college officials here predict the trend will continue or even accelerate in this decade.

Keeps its business zone. As a result, there are no plans for businesses that would keep shoppers in this town from going elsewhere.

As to our voting because we are older and should give way to the young. We would like that. That would take the responsibility off our shoulders. But there are all ages on both sides of the issue.

Someone is approaching this problem as if the other side consists of young people and is only for the young. This is strictly a business proposition designed to make big profit. By making a profit, many property owners in the neighborhood stand to lose the value of their homes.

As I stated before, I am only the spokesman for the homeowners who stand the chance of losing in this transaction. Every home owner who stands to lose has signed against it.

In our opinion it is wrong for anyone to buy property zoned “residential” hoping to get it zoned for “business.” Why not buy property in a business zone where there will be no question?

Let us have the plans for recreation for our youth, but have them in the proper place.

(EDITOR’S NOTE: The following letter was received by Dr. H. L. Cole, recently concerning the Southerners’ trip to Birmingham where they participated in a parade to honor the Apollo 12 astronauts. It is from George Seibels, mayor of Birmingham.)

Dear Dr. Cole:

What is a parade in Birmingham without the marvelous Jackson Band and the Ballerinas? When we first began our plans for the parade in reference to the visit of the astronauts, I insisted that we ask the Jackson Band to lead the parade. Honestly, I didn’t realize it would be as cold as it was when I asked you so I must apologize for not having better weather for the band members and particularly the Ballerinas.

When the going gets rough, that is when the best of a good organization comes out and believe me everybody complemented the professional and beautiful performance of the Band and the Ballerinas. What organization could have better led the parade honoring the crew of Apollo 12?

The band’s performance at the Youth Rally and the evening’s program was its usual top flight. We just could not have had success without the great cooperation from everyone in the school. We appreciate your putting this letter of thanks on the bulletin board.

Sincerely,

George G. Seibels, Mayor of Birmingham.

Two Honorary Doctorate Degrees Are Given At Graduation

Dean Miles,
Mrs. Daugette Are Honored

Dean Lawrence Miles and Mrs. Clarence William Daugette were awarded the honorary doctorate degrees during winter graduation services Jan. 23. Approximately 255 students, another record number for winter services, received the bachelor's degree, while 22 were awarded the master's degree.

Dr. Joel McDavid, pastor of the Dauphin Way Methodist Church in Mobile, challenged the graduating class to "build some bridges to span the chasms that exist among us."

"While we are conquering outer space, the challenge of the day is to conquer inner space," said the guest speaker. "While the future is unpredictable, if there is hope within, it is always bright," he said.

Miles joined the Jax State faculty in 1947 as a member of the English department and was elevated to the post of registrar in 1950. In 1957 he was assigned dean of admissions, a position he still holds. "Dean Miles has seen knowledge increase at Jax State from a rolling river to a flood," said Dr. Houston Cole, president of JSU, "yet he has made friends with the winds of change and kept his office abreast with the constructive demands of the times."

Miles received the honorary doctor of laws degree, Mrs. Daugette, wife of the late Dr. C. W. Daugette, president of Jacksonville Normal College from 1899 to 1941, was cited for her many contributions to the college, and received the honorary degree of doctor of humanities.

"Just as Dr. C. W. Daugette can be called the 'father of the college,' Annie Forney Daugette can be called the 'mother of the institution,'" said Dr. Cole in making the presentation.

"Her heart has beat in rhythm with every step of progress made by the State Normal, the Teachers College, the State College, and now the University," Dr. Cole added.

Mrs. Daugette, now 93, is well known for her work with the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Jax Students To Attend Conference On Drugs

Dr. Houston Cole, president of Jacksonville State University, announced today that five students have been selected to represent JSU at the Governor's Leadership Training Conference for Drug Abuse. They are: Steve Gurley, David Kincaid, Barbara Starnes, Phyllis Clark and Fred Asbell. Dean Jackson will accompany the students. The conference is scheduled for Montgomery's Garrett Coliseum, Feb. 17.

Gov. Brewer became concerned about drug abuse after attending a special White House Conference on drugs last month. The purpose of the conference is to give school officials and student leaders the latest information on drugs so that they can conduct programs in their schools.

According to Brewer, Alabama doesn't have a serious problem now and through this conference he hopes to prevent the spread of drug abuse in Alabama schools.

The State Department of Education, State Health Department, State Toxicologist's Office, the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency and other interested groups are participating in the conference.

The public is invited to attend the evening session of the conference which begins at 7 p.m.
Coed Commissioned
As Lt. in U.S. Army

Christa Hill is undoubtedly the prettiest Jacksonville State University graduate to be commissioned as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army through the ROTC program.

Recently the attractive brunette from Roanoke became the first co-ed in the school's history to be commissioned as a dietitian in the Army. She is undergoing further training at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Being around military operations won't be a strange thing to Christa as she has served as ROTC sponsor for the past three years and she is very excited about her future.

"I believe the Army internship program is one of the best in the country," she says, "and I'm looking forward to my military duty."

She was commissioned through a special program designed to attract qualified dietitians and physical therapy graduates for the Army Medical Specialities Corps.

"During the past three years of association with the cadet brigade, I have observed the efficiency and pride exhibited by the Army instructors and cadet officers," she says, "and they are largely responsible for my decision to seek a commission in the Army."

Preparing for her commission, she spent last summer working as a student dietitian at Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso, Tex.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel D. Hill of Route 5, Roanoke, she is a 1966 graduate of Handley High School, where she was Salutatorian of her class.

She was Randolph County Maid of Cotton in 1965, and while at Jacksonville has been active in the International House Program, the Home Economics Club and Alpha Eta Epsilon.

Marines Coming

Feb. 18 and 19 will mark the campus visit of the Marine Corps Officer Selection Team headed by Capt. D. H. McDonald. The team will talk to college men about the officer-training programs offered by the Marines.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors in good academic standing are eligible for the platoon leaders class held at Quantico, Va., during the summer. Upon graduation from college they are commissioned second lieutenants and ordered to air or ground duty.

Seniors and recent graduates are eligible for the officer candidate program, which is a direct assignment from civilian life to a ten-week course as an officer candidate. Each may choose to train for either a ground or aviation commission.

Newly commissioned aviation officers commence flight training at Pensacola, Fla., while those commissioned in the ground components report to Quantico for duty.

Junior and senior women are eligible to apply for the women officer candidate course. These candidates undergo 10 weeks of training at Quantico the summer after enrollment.

Student workers have also been given a raise in pay. A $112,223 grant from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare was secured for the work-study program. It will also be utilized to provide part-time jobs for needy students.

Both the Work-Study and University Aid student workers will be receiving a raise this semester. Dr. Baskin Wright, director of financial aid, said all student workers will now earn $1.45 per hour, a 15 cent per hour raise. The raise became effective Feb. 1.

Dr. Wright said there are approximately 1,000 JSU students on the Work-Study and University Aid programs.

A total of $121,042 was secured from the federal government for the National Defense program, and an additional $71,000 for the Economic Opportunity Grant programs. There are approximately 600 students going to JSU State on National Defense loans, and some 250 get EOG funds.

A grant of $16,000 from the Department of Justice was received for loans and grants in connection with the School of Law enforcement on campus.

ACC Title Seems Certain for 'Cocks

Jacksonville State University keeps right on rolling in Alabama Collegiate Conference basketball. Here on Feb. 3, in JSU's pressure packed arena, Tom Roberson's Jaxmen took their biggest step of the season by whipping the Athens Bears, 86-79, to all but put a lock on their fifth consecutive ACC championship.

Only two games now stand between the Jaxmen and the coveted ACC crown. The first test came Saturday before press time here in Stephenson Gym, where the Gamecocks can be assured of no less than a tie by defeating Troy. Then following a non-league tilt against Samford in Birmingham today, the Jaxmen can wrap up the league title against St. Bernard on the following Thursday night, each would have two conference games remaining.

But Jerry James, David Mull, Wayne Wigley, David Robinson and Danny Bryan all got the Jaxmen rolling early, and Bobby Terrell, Jeff Angel and Wendell Lawson came on for some relief work, and when all the fireworks were done, the Gamecocks were in the driver's seat.

Robinson got the show started one minute and nine seconds into the contest, sinking a charity throw for a 1-0 lead from nowhere, the Gamecocks never trailed.

James, a 6-7 forward out of Rome, Ga., shot in 14 first half points to pump the Jaxmen to a 35 lead at halftime.

Almost equally accurate in the second half, James ripped off 12 points to set the pace giving him a total of 26 on the night, plus 15 rebounds which kept the Jaxmen in command.

Ferrel Maples opened the second half with a bucket for the Bears to cut the margin to 39-37, but Mull, James and Bryan teamed for nine quick points to up the count to 48-41 in favor of the Jaxmen with 16 minutes remaining.

Refusing to concede, the Bears kept rallying back in the game, pulling up to 50-45 with just over 13 minutes remaining. But some crucial boardwork by Mull and James, with Bryan and Wigley doing the outside pumping, pushed the Gamecocks out to 73-59 with just four minutes to play.

But still, for Jacksonville, there was no relaxing until the waning seconds, and four perfect free throws by Robinson in the final minute of play that clinched the contest.

Other than James' 26 points, Wigley had 21; Bryan, 16; Robinson, 15; and Mull, nine.

For Athens, 6-5 center Travis Butler netted 32-15, incredibly, coming in the last four and one-half minutes of play, Gary Lambert had 15; Joe Thompson, 11; Bachus, 10.

Packer Philosophy Reaches Jax Cagers

A fellow by the name of Vince Lombardi once said "there's great love on this team." There's some difference in the Ala-bama Collegiate (basketball) Conference and the National Football League, but a couple of Jax State's winning - type seniors were saying the same thing here Tuesday night after an 86-79 victory over Athens College.

Tom Roberson's Gamecocks have two games to win yet before they can claim a fifth consecutive ACC cage crown, but Wayne Wigley and David Mull were admitting in a quite but happy dressing room "this was the big one."

Wigley, a 6-6 senior out of Douglas, Ala., who put in two years at Snead, Junior College and a redshirt year at Jackson-ville before becoming a starter, "was the difference in the two ball clubs tonight, back-to-back to-according to Athens coach Oba Blecher. "He sits that ball club up and he runs it."

And he wanted to talk about his teammates.

"I know we've got two games left before we are champions again," offered Wigley, "but this was the big one. And it was one of the finest team efforts I've ever seen. Everybody on that floor tonight did their jobs, especially our big boys such as Jerry (James), Da-vid (Mull), and David Robinson.

"I thought we were a close team last season, but believe me, this group is even closer. Everybody helps, everybody is a part of it, including those boys who don't start."

Mull, until a couple of games back, was not one of the starters.

"No, I never did get discouraged sitting on the bench," answered the 6-7 senior out of Sylacauga's B. B. Comer High, "I always felt I was a part of this team. I felt if we won, I was satisfied. I was pleased to be a sub with this group. I just wanted to play where I was needed, do what I could when I could, and its worked out real fine."

"I think this is the most dedicated bunch of boys I've ever been around. It's been a team effort, and it couldn't have been done without one another."

"We knew we had to win this one," said Wigley as he headed for the shower, "and it's real satisfying. I played with two of the Athens boys up at Snead, and I always like to beat them. No, I wasn't asked to go to Ath-ens, and I had to agree to a redshirt year to come down here, but it's worked out real fine."

"No, I don't think we'll have a letup. We've still got two left, and we've got to win both of them to be champions."

And he finished.

"Coach Roberson has always told us that we're going to play them one at a time. That's the way we're doing it. And I'd like for you to say how well prepared Coach Robe-

Rathbun

Aliment Retires Rathbun

Jacksonville State lost one of its finest basket-ball stars in Ken Rath- bun because of poor circula-tion in one of his legs. Ken, a senior, played 17 games before being forced out of action. Duri-ing the season, Ken had scored 168 points thus averaging 9.9 per game. He had grabbed off 215 rebounds for an average of 12.6 per contest. Ken's shooting percentage was 53 percent from the floor and 63.8 percent from the free throw line.

It was evident that Ken's legs were giving him trouble in his final game against Troy. In that game he scored only one point.

Son had us for this game. We were as ready as any basketball team could be. We knew exactly what they would try to do and we knew what we had to do in order to stop them. We did it."
Jacksonville State's 1970 football schedule will include a couple of new faces this fall. Chattanooga and Elon College of North Carolina. The Gamecocks, which faced these two schools last year, will visit Missouri between these two schools.
