Candidates For December Degree Urged To Check List

Those Jacksonville State students who are candidates for a degree in December should carefully check the following list.

Students should pay special attention to the list and make sure that (1) if they plan to graduate, their name is on the list; (2) if their name is on this list, that it is spelled correctly - diplomas are ordered directly from this list; and (3) if their name is on this list and they do not plan to graduate - because diplomas are ordered from this list students who do not graduate could be charged for a diploma.

Students finding any error in the below list should contact the Office of Admissions and Records in Bibb Graves, 1st floor, immediately:

Bikes On Campus Cause No Problem

By DOTTY LAWRENCE

Despite the greatly increased number of bicycle riders at JSU this fall, Chief Murray of the Campus Police reports that bicycles have actually caused no traffic problems on campus.

Traffic congestion caused by bicycles has not become a problem here as it has on some other campuses in the country.

According to Chief Murray, the only problem the campus police have had with bicycle riders, is that some have had to be cautioned about going the wrong way on one way streets.

Chief Murray advises that, for their own protection, those riding bicycles at night should have both front and rear lights on their vehicles.

Bicycles are not required to be registered with the police at JSU as they are on some other campuses. Chief Murray reports that this may be required in the future so that the police would have records showing ownership of bicycles. These records would be useful in case of theft. Murray does not foresee cyclists' having to buy parking decals.

To Vote Nixon-Blount

By CARI PHILLIPS

Richard Spenser, an Independent and the head of the JSU effort to elect Blount as the junior senator from Alabama, urges JSU students to vote for the right man, Blount and Nixon, and not to vote a straight ticket.

Since he joined the effort last June 13, he has distributed both by mail and by personal contact, with the assistance of 30 others on campus, 4 different brochures to 2500 Blount supporters and to undecided students, as well as identified those supporters who were not registered or needed absentee ballots.

Spenser feels that Blount should be supported because he is a new dynamic figure in the political arena, and that he will create a definite two party system in Alabama through votes and not through the collection of money. Spenser also feels that Blount has sufficient experience in government through his former post as Postmaster General, during which time he advanced postal reforms which have been needed "since the days of Benjamin Franklin," and proved that a political institution can be remolded into a private, independent organization.

Blount says of welfare, "The present system is a miserable failure. We need a system that provided incentives to get people who are able to work off welfare rolls and onto payrolls."

Concerning foreign aid, Blount asserts, "We've given military aid to countries that have misused it, and we've offered economic assistance to other countries that have been uncooperative and even unfriendly in return. THIS HAS TO STOP."

As to the matter of the environment, Blount, through Spenser, says that everything possible will be done to reclaim our water, air, and lands. As to Senator Sparkman's poor voting record on the environment, Spenser suggests, "Old people are geared to old ways and it's time to change. This change will be with Red Blount."

Spenser, who is relatively inactive with regards to the Nixon effort in Alabama, states that the reason for this is that, according to two major polls, on campus, Nixon has the support of over 96 per cent of the JSU student population. Moreover Spenser asserts that the President is not campaigning much because he works full-time, attending to the affairs of the whole country.

As to the issues of Vietnam and of POW-MIA, Blount, who wears one of the bracelets and refuses "to use it as a political football," states, "I support the concept of Vietnamization to develop capability of the South Vietnamese to defend their country. We should continue to withdraw American Troops, but maintain a residual force until all our prisoners of war are safely returned."

As to the statements made by Carl Crutchfield in the last issue of the CHANTICLEER concerning the efforts of Henry Kissinger and the discontinued use of President Eisenhower's name in the campaign, Spenser states that he tends to disagree with these statements. He asserts that Kissinger's past diplomatic agreements were accomplished after many said that the agreements could not have been done; and that if

Jax State Holds Annual Band Day

The annual Band Day at Jacksonville State University was held Saturday, October 28.

Mr. Dave Walters, organizer of the ever-growing event, welcomed over thirty-five high school bands from the states of Alabama and Georgia.

Each of the school bands performed individually at Paul Snow Stadium during the day. The Marching Southerners performed for the entire group just before the mass band program which was the final event in the late Saturday afternoon program.

The tunes, "Swanee", "Rock-A-Bye My Baby" and "The Star Spangled Banner" were performed by the mass bands in the final performance of the event which was open to the public.

Those bands which attended this

Kissinger was not born a German, he would have been an excellent President. As to the discontinued use of Ike's name, he believes that not only were Korea and Vietnam two different situations, but also that Nixon does not need to use Ike's name as a crutch to obtain more votes.

Concerning the assertion that the Youth for Blount and the Youth for Nixon are enticed and are not true volunteers, Spenser counters that, in his experience with the effort since he joined, this lacks credibility, for nothing of the sort was mentioned.

Finally Spenser states that the slogan "RED CAN DO IT" means nothing unless Blount is supported by the people.

The purpose of this program is to tell students about recent developments in health care and to try to stimulate interest in medicine and allied health fields. The schools involved all have premedical or biological science courses but are located outside the influence of large medical centers.

Dr. Fitch will be available for informal discussions with interested students and faculty during the day, and specific arrangements are available from Dr. Clark of the Home Economics Department.

All interested students are invited to the lectures.

Masque And Wig To Give Presentation

The Jax State Masque and Wig Guild will present excerpts from its Drama Lab on Monday evening, November 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Roundhouse.

The presentation will feature pantomimes, skits, and interpretative music.

A committee composed of Bill Newby, Linda Collier, George Houston, David Royal, and John Charles Turner is in charge of this event.

Admission is free.

Rifle Team Defeats Florence State

The Jacksonville State Rifle Team played host to Florence State's Rifle team last Saturday and came out victorious with a score of 1282-1167.

George Frankl was Jacksonville's top shooter with a score of 266. The top four team shooters were Mide Fitzgerald-260, Earl Gowan-257, Charles Phillips-250 and Jim Selman-249.

The top shooter for Florence was Watts with a score of 255. Their top four shooters were Nosh-251, Frye-240, Wilkes-219, and Speakman-202.

This coming Saturday October 28, the Jacksonville Rifle Team will host Marion Institute and Auburn here. On November 4, the Rifle Team will travel to Atlanta to take on Georgia Tech and Georgia State.

Chief Murray states that there are no special rules for cyclists on campus, but that they should conform to road laws. He states that cyclists should ride on the right side of the road as motorist do, and that it is preferable for them to ride as far to the right as possible.

Far from considering the increased popularity of cycling as a means of transportation to be a problem, Chief Murray encourages more students to take up cycling. He sees it as a benefit to students' health and a factor in easing the parking problem on campus.

Police Academy Opens At JSU

Classes are now underway at Jacksonville State University for 24 police students attending the Northeast Alabama Police Academy.

The academy is one of four in the state, approved by the Law Enforcement Planning Agency.

Dr. Wendell L. Sowell, already a faculty member at the university, is director of the academy. James Jackson, formerly assistant chief of police for the City of Jacksonville, is assistant director.

The purpose of the academy is to train police to meet the Minimum Standards Act, which requires all policemen hired after Aug. 20, 1972, to complete 240 hours of police courses in a state approved academy.

These students will remain at Jax

State for an estimated six weeks, and then another group will attend the sessions.

Dr. Sowell, upon opening the academy this week, said, "We're striving to train police officers to perform their duties in the best possible manner. To do this a policeman must be able to think a problem through in the shortest possible time and plan his actions accordingly."

He pointed out that the Minimum Standards Act specifies that all future policemen must attend such academy training and "the act encompasses officers on active duty and practically any official who has the power of arrest."

The academy, according to Sowell (See ACADEMY, Page 3)

Vote

Critical questions confront the eleven million newly enfranchised voters approaching the ballot box. Has the man elected on a promise to end the war broken faith with the American people? Can the American people stomach the war now that the color of the bodies has changed? Has the sense of moral outrage over Napalming and bombing been exhausted? Do the nominations of Carswell and Haynesworth to the highest court mark a planned retreat from the commitment to racial justice? Is the bugging of Democratic National Committee Headquarters symptomatic of an emerging Orwellian nightmare? Has the Nixon administration sold out to big business?

And what of the senator from South Dakota? Will his economic proposals bankrupt the economy? Do the Eagleton fiasco and the "refining" of the proposals of the primaries portend a presidency based on vacillation? Will McGovern, by reducing the military budget, diminish the diplomatic flexibility of the U.S.? Invite aggression? Pave the road to war?

The questions are, of course, loaded. There are few simple answers. But remove the vituperation and the inflated promises and four facts are clear:

First: The candidates vying for the presidency differ widely in ideology and outlook. The potential voter cannot sit this one out on the grounds that the choice is between Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee.

Second: The new voter who refuses to cast a ballot is shirking the responsibility which he claimed he deserved. To refuse to vote or vote casually is to solicit the disgust of those who demanded the 18 year old vote. It is also to invite the smuggest "I told you so" in history from the cynics and the sceptics.

Third: The college student cannot choose to remain unaffected by the direction of national leadership. If the President of the United States chooses to tolerate unemployment and underemployment, for example, the P.H.-D. of today will continue to be the cab driver of tomorrow, and students with B.S.'s and B.A.'s will continue to pour into secretarial pools and factories.

Fourth: The establishment listens to numbers. History will record that the young rose up from the college campuses in search of a leader to end a war they judged immoral. History should record that the young also managed to sensitize the nation to the need for ecological balance, population control, equal rights for minorities. By refusing to vote, the student invites inattention and guarantees that the interests of the young will not be served.

The message is clear. An important choice must be made. Those who use the ballot November 7 will participate in making it. Those who boycott the ballot box will succeed only in ripping themselves off.

The message is simple. Vote.

Friendly

Jacksonville State University prides itself as the "friendliest campus in the South." This idea, or obsession, is such that the University even stamps this motto on all of its official correspondence.

Friendliness, however, is not always that trait which one finds on the Jax State campus.

Last week when candidate for Alabama senator, Winton Blount appeared on campus, he was generally well received by the students of Jax State.

One student, however, only a few feet away from this distinguished guest, made the remark, "If he comes near me, I'll kick him."

Regardless of one's political beliefs, be respectful of all individuals.

It is extremely unfortunate that a gentlemen such as Winton Blount would or could ever be exposed to such rudeness. It is more unfortunate to think that if Mr. Blount was to ever be exposed to such disrespectfulness, that it would happen while visiting the "FRIENDLIEST CAMPUS IN THE South."

It is absurd to think that just because a student is enrolled at Jacksonville State University that he will fall into such a "friendly" stereo-type. It is extremely disappointing, also, to think that those who rebel from this idea to the degree that they make snide remarks in the presence of a former presidential cabinet member would be a popular and well-known student

TRIVIA

To His "Coy" Anti-Nixonites

By Jim Harrington

There are times when having a title such as "Trivia" for this column limits me somewhat in the extent to which I am able to deal with anything in the column that isn't trivial. This is not one of those times. Last week's "Leditors" section of the CHANTICLEER has blessed me with a topic that would warm the heart of even the most devout "Trivialist." I am referring to the letter from Mr. Elmer W. Coy which appeared in the October 24 issue of this paper.

The basic thesis of the letter was not anything truly remarkable or controversial; the thesis was that Mr. Nixon should not be re-elected. Of course, this is a view held by quite a few Americans, most of whom have valid reasons for their belief. It is the reasoning Mr. Coy used in arriving at this conclusion that I found to be worth

TRIVIA

By Robert Cotton

"Collective Values"

It is my contention that student priorities are very much misplaced at Jacksonville. For instance, three years ago one of the biggest issues concerned the quality of toilette paper issued by the University. Many students complained that this was the cause of economic inconvenience in that they were compelled by the sensitivity of their respective derriars to buy a more sensitive (one might say sympathetic) tissue. Fortunately, the University took decisive action, bought up quantities of a less papyry material and, thereby, averted an impending crisis.

During this same year, the President of the SGA was determined on a course of action to bring dignity to the deliberations of the Student Senate. The President demanded that all those in attendance at SGA meetings be required to wear a coat and tie. The SGA duly gave in and as a result, recognized one of the most clearly cherished principles of ineffective government, i.e., that when there exists a choice between dignity and freedom, freedom must in all cases be made subsceivient.

One thing, moreover, which has continuously amused me, is the universal claim of all candidates for SGA offices, is that they will endeavor to fight the administration "tooth and nail" throughout any coming 12-month period. This is, of course, never seriously meant. After all, how can any President be independent, when all of his funds are given either directly or indirectly by the university. The truly serious candidate for office (i.e., the one who most probably would actually be able to accomplish something given the cultural constraints of Jacksonville) student body in that overly facile rhetoric has been and is being substituted for knowledge and a comprehensive search for better alternatives.)

In any case, the SGA is probably right in its unstated proposition that student emotions come much cheaper than student awareness.

The whole point, though, is that the SGA is an ornamental organization which wastes itself on matters having no substantive import. It is actually a credit to the administration of the University that the SGA was not long ago discarded as being an economically unfeasible drain on the University budget.

One example of its ornamentality is that of homecoming. This is hardly the function which is theoretically, supposed to help mold university policy regarding the student body. My reasoning, in effect, is simple. Homecoming has, as its primary function the attraction of alumni attention and, more importantly, alumni money. Its secondary purpose is to provide students with a convenient extra excuse for getting drunk and smoking pot. Therefore, it is only logical that the university (and not a Student Committee with a chairman appointed by the President of the SGA) be entirely responsible for the administrative details of homecoming.

In that the general atmosphere of homecoming contributes to student debauchery, students should help out through the nature and hoc committees. In no case, though, should student assistance be expected as a simple matter of cause. For, in essence, homecoming is a medieval noting if only as a study in absurdity.

Let me outline Mr. Coy's reasoning for you:

Premise One: Mr. Nixon made a prejudicial statement about the Charles Manson trial. Therefore, Mr. Nixon is mentally deficient.

Premise Two: Mr. Nixon ordered the strategic neutralization of Communist bases of operation in Cambodia. Therefore, Mr. Nixon is "a mental case."

Premise three: Mr. Nixon went to "that monument" at 5 a.m. to speak with (and try to reassure) protestors there: Therefore, Mr. Nixon is emotionally abnormal.

Premise Four: Mr. Nixon phoned Coach Shula of the Miami Dolphins at 1 a.m. to discuss a football play (and, by the way, to wish him luck in the Sugar Bowl). Therefore, Mr. Nixon "displayed mental weakness."

Premise Five: Many men have died in Vietnam since Mr. Nixon took office. Therefore, Mr. Nixon is getting away with "murder" and is analogous to Adolf Hitler.

Conclusion: Mr. Nixon is "the worst example of a president we have ever had" and if we replace him we "can't make much of a mistake."

The only redeeming quality I can find in Mr. Coy's arguments is that they are laughable. They represent logic misused to an absurd degree. Lewis Carroll would be green with envy if Elmer Coy's intention had been satirical. But it wasn't.

There are strong, valid arguments to be formed in support of either side of this year's political choice. I might suggest to our "Coy" anti-Nixonite that if you decide seriously where your political stand is, back that stand up with all of the facts you can obtain, and order those facts toward a logical conclusion, then, "you can't make much of a mistake."

Speed

The Traffic Department here at Jax State should be commended on its fine job of giving traffic tickets. I would dare say that any student who parks in the wrong zone will be given a ticket if he remains there over thirty minutes.

The greater problem on campus, however, is that of wreckless driving. Lack of crosswalks in numerous busy places on campus cause hazardous situations for all students who walk to and from classes.

Also the traffic lights, or more precisely, walk lights, do not work. Even when the light changes to red, the corresponding "Walk" light does not work.

The job done by the Traffic officers on campus, as I have said, is superb. The officers, however, should spend more time enforcing speed limits and watching out for wreckless driving before somewhere and sometime, someone gets killed.

Traffic officers should definitely continue to give tickets and regulate parking, however, the present need seems to be that of slowing down the hurried Jax State students.

How many deaths do you know of that have resulted from parking in a wrong zone?

students that he would cooperate with the administration to the limits of his ability in the search for a better student environment.

This would have the salubrious effect of not wasting student energy and emotion. (It's ironic that, most likely the most hated but least known institution on campus outside of the administrative wing of Bibb Graves, is Food Service. In both cases, a disservice has been perpetrated on the British-imperialist past. Furthermore, it is actually discriminatory in nature in that no real American "Queen"—even if elected—has any real hope of presiding over the events of the homecoming week.

Although I have not sufficiently stated my case, I sincerely hope that the cynicism expressed is enough to show that our collective values as a student body are somehow ineffectual. In any case, I shall continue discussing this matter in future articles.

LEDITORS

Dear JSU STUDENTS AND FACULTY:

I hope you will join me in supporting Red Blount in the General Election for the U.S. Senate on November 7th.

I have met Mr. Blount and was very impressed that a man of his stature would take the time to answer my questions in such detail. He impresses me as a man who gets the job done when he starts one and his record in Washington and here at home backs this up. I think we need fewer politicians in Washington and more citizens concerned with getting the job done.

Mr. Blount has worked with the Congress while he was Postmaster General and saw first hand the need for reform in the way our country is managed in Washington. He would like to make our government more responsive to the needs of the people and I believe that Red can do it if anyone can.

I hope that you will support our efforts to get Red Blount elected.

Sincerely,

Editor, CHANTICLEER:

There's no good reason in the world for Jacksonville State's not having a wrestling team this year. "Lack of facilities and money," my rear!

All we would need, besides enough men to participate in the sport, is one wrestling mat, which would probably cost around $2,000—barely a fraction of what is spent on many activities at JSU.

Why Army Vet David Buehler Chose ROTC

“ROTC pays me $100 a month for each school month. Then if I desire to make the Army a career it pays me over $8,000 a year to begin with.”

“As a veteran enrolled in College ROTC I can choose the type of duty after graduation as a second lieutenant, and I can choose between two years active duty or active duty for training for two months.”

THE MARINES ARE LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD MEN WHO WANT TO FLY.

U. S. MARINE CORPS OFFICER SELECTION TEAM VISITS CAMPUS

The United States Marine Corps looks chiefly to colleges and universities for men with the potential to lead Marines; i.e., its officers. Because most Marine Corps officer programs require a bachelor's degree before commissioning, Marines visit college campuses to interview possible officer candidates; they are never there to seek enlisted recruits or enroll students in programs which would interrupt their education. Simply stated, the Marine Corps' policy is "Stay in School".

We want "Leaders". The objective of the Marine Corps leadership program is to develop in each Marine those qualities which will enable him to assume greater responsibilities to the Marine Corps and to society.

The Marine Corps has a program especially designed for the college man. It is a program which allows one to continue his education while developing his leadership abilities. A great number of Marine Corps officers obtain their commissioned rank through this summer training program known as the Platoon Leaders Class (PLC), which has both ground and aviation options.

For complete details see the Marine Corps Officer Selection Officer on campus at The Student Commons Bldg. on November 8 & 9, 1972.

men at Jax State who would love to learn and compete and many others who would love to continue where they left off in high school.

Putting this thing off for another year or two doesn't make any sense at all. There are men who would like to participate who will be graduating in a year or two.

Who knows? There might be some potential olympians running around this campus. Could Jax State stand THAT?

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

The article "Crutchfield Urges Students to Vote Straight Ticket" in the October 24 CHANTICLEER contains several misrepresentations and a few outright fallacies.

According to the article, "McGovern further asserts that while Nixon claims to be a peace candidate, he asks for the largest defense budget in U.S. history."

If Senator McGovern does assert this, then he isn't very well informed on defense matters. Due to President Nixon's support of efficiency programs, and the cutting of red tape, and his gigantic troop withdrawals from Vietnam, the defense budget between Fiscal Year 1969 and 1973 fell $3 billion, which, in terms of constant buying power, is the lowest since 1951.

During the Nixon Administration, the defense budget has been cut by a third—the sharpest cut since World War II, and our manpower levels are at the lowest point since 1950. Yet during the last four years of the Johnson Administration, Defense spending rose $32 billion. Senator McGovern wants to cut our Defense budget to $54.8 billion for 1975, a move which Senator Hubert Humphrey says would cut out "not just the fat, but the very muscle of our defense." The Brookings Institute, using study methods developed by McGovern advisor Charles Schutze, has determined the lowest safe Defense budget to be $86 billion—11.2 billion more than Senator McGovern's suggestion.

Senator McGovern would like to (help) the ordinary citizen avoid heavy taxes by plugging loop-holes that allow large businesses to escape paying share." Yet the Senator, in the McGovern encyclopedia, proposes no less than twelve new "loop-holes," for such purposes as getting people to move to rural areas. But all "loop-holes" have a good reason behind them—whether it is giving tax breaks to people who live in rural areas, or giving oil depletion allowances so the prices of gas and oil won't skyrocket. Sen.

President Kennedy had the good sense to realize what such a high tax did to businesses that were barely eluding out a profit—which is most of those few businesses that survive.

So Senator McGovern's interest in Alabama is shown by the fact that his daughter came here, huh? Well, President Nixon has sent his daughter, his Vice-President, his Secretary of Agriculture (who, by the way, most Alabama farmers agree is the best Secretary of Agriculture that this country has ever known and who Senator McGovern led the fight against in the senate), and Senator Goldwater. Senator McGovern doesn't care about Alabama because he knows he will get fewer votes here than in any other state, and his remarks during the Carswell-Haynsworth confirmation fights show that he is viscerously bigoted against Southerners.

The American people can be fooled. Any people can fall victim to a fast talking visionary who plans to solve all of the problems of the world with the push of a magic button—or the passage of a magic law. But this year, George McGovern can't talk fast enough to fool even a three-year old.

Let us trace the development of some of Senator McGovern's views:

Welfare: "I propose that every man, woman, and child receive from the federal government an annual payment...At the present time a payment of almost $1,000 per person would be required."—Sen. McGovern, CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, Jan. 19, 1972.

The $1,000 per person figure is only "one suggestion and it may have been a mistake"—NEW YORK TIMES interview, June 7, 1972.

"He'll (McGovern) stay with the plan that will be very similar to that ($1,000 per person plan) in dollars...it'll be based around $1,000, it may be a little more for adults and a little less for children. But that basic principle that he enunciated through the primary campaign is certainly one that he'll stand by."—McGovern aid, Frank Markieury, "Thirty minutes With...", June 29, 1972.

"And I think we made a mistake in trying to present a full-blown program before we had all the facts that we needed. But nobody's getting killed by it."—Sen. McGovern, PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER interview, July 11, 1972.

"This business about the $1,000 grant to everybody. He (The loss of the California delegates) would be such an infuriating, disillusionary experience...that I would repudiate the whole process. I would run as an Independent, or support someone else on an Independent ticket."—LIFE, July 7, 1972.

"A good Democrat doesn't run away from his party any more than a good soldier runs away from his country."

(In 1948 McGovern supported Communist-backed Henry Wallace against Democrat Harry Truman).

Abortion: "Abortion is a private matter which should be decided by a pregnant woman and her doctor."—TIME magazine, June 26, 1972.

"There has to be some regulation and that I would leave to the states: I'm not advocating abortion on demand."—CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, July 17, 1972.

South Carolina Challenge: I promise "full and unequivocal support for the Challenge." NEWSWEEK, July 24, 1972.

"...that that (South Carolina Challenge) was not a risk worth taking..." "A conversation with the McGovern,"—PBS-TV, July 26, 1972. Sincerely, Steve Allen JAX Student

Editor,

As a "walking member" of the Jacksonville State University student body, I wish to encourage all students to be extremely careful when crossing streets.

Many students who drive completely ignore pedestrians in the crosswalks. Going to class each day has become quite a challenge—you never know if you'll make it.

Why can't policemen who give tickets for parking illegally also control the speed demons who plague this campus? Sincerely, Ann Rowals

Editor:

What I want to bring up is becoming a very boring issue. Not one day passes without hearing complaints about the cafeteria and the food there, and the sad thing is, that these complaints are not without ground. I want to point out these complaints, suggest some improvements and mention one positive event in my cafeteria experience.

1. The quality of the food is definitely not satisfactory. Many of my friends have been complaining about upset stomachs after eating the cafeteria food. I can claim that the cafeteria food, most probably, is the cause of the stomach problems, as the stomachs have settled after eating other food, but have gotten upset again after going back to the cafeteria food.

I have been served sour soup on one occasion, and a peach that had turned bad another time. The nutritionvalue of the food is also highly questionable. The vegetables are so well done, that it is very hard to believe that there are any vitamins left. The number of salads you can take, is limited to one, and no fresh fruit is served for desert any longer. Also it isn't very often we are served pure meat, without filler. I have also been wondering, if the food tickets, we would like to be able to sue them. It has happened that on coming to Cole cafeteria, there have been a note to tell us that the food would be served in Self. The same thing has happened with the times, on which the food would be served on weekends. I'll give an example. Saturday dinner is usually served 5:00-5:30. On Saturday Oct. 21, this had been changed to 4:30-5:00. The notice about this came up before Saturday lunch, but it is a well known fact that many students miss lunch on Saturday. Even many of the students who had gone to lunch that morning, claimed that they had not seen the notice, because it was partly covered by another notice. The result of this was that a number of people missed dinner, that night.

3. We buy meal tickets. Our I.D.'s are checked each time we get into the cafeteria, and we can get in only once each time a meal is served. We are being served an amount of food, which is limited. That food we have payed for, and it belongs to us. Still we are not allowed to use our property as we like to. If I can't finish my whole meal while I'm in the cafeteria, but want to bring it with me to finish it later, I'm not allowed to do that. I'm supposed to throw my food away whether I want to or not. I find that very unlogical and unfair.

About the quality of the food. More pure meat prepared with less grease. The vegetables prepared with less butter and flour. No limit on the amount of salad you want to eat, and fresh fruit for desert.

About the times and the place, when and where the weekend meals are going to be served. The information could be published in the newspaper each week, and in addition to that, properly posted in the cafeteria, at least one day in advance.

About the rule, that says that we can't take food out from the cafeteria. The food we have payed for, and belongs to us, is taken away from us, without our agreement. I don't quite know what to call that impolite? Illogical? legal? I just hope the rule will be taken away very soon.

The nicest day I've eaten in the cafeteria, so far, was on lunch Tuesday Oct. 17. Being able to take whatever you wanted, in the exact amount you wanted. The food was also better. The roastbeef not so dry, and the ham done without all that butter. I hope there will be changes to the better in a short amount of time. Yours sincerely, Kerstin Adell

SGA Constitutional Admendment

The present Student Government Association Constitution provides that amendments to the constitution be published in two consecutive issues of the CHANTICLEER in order for the students to evaluate the proposed amendments.

The following amendments were brought before and passed by the Senate on April 3, 1972:

ARTICLE VII- ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS

SECTION 1- QUALIFICATION FOR ELECTIVE OFFICERS

F - CLASS OFFICERS

(6) - Each candidate for a class officer shall run for only one office at a time.

(7) - Each candidate for a graduate class officer shall be a registered student of the JSU graduate school or accepted by the program on or before the day in which he will take office.

ARTICLE VIII- VACANCIES, RESIGNATION, AND REMOVALS

SECTION 3 - REMOVAL

(1) - Any elected officer of the Student Government Association, or Student Senator, may be removed by the Student Senate for any neglect of duty misconduct, evidence of which shall be provided by the University Administration, or by any member of the SGA who files written charges. A three-fourths majority of the entire voting membership of the Senate shall be necessary to remove any officer or senator of the SGA. Appointed officers may be removed at the pleasure of the President of the SGA with a confirmation of a majority vote of the Student Senate.

(2) - The Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer of a class may be removed by the class for any neglect of duty or misconduct, evidence of which shall be provided by the University Administration, or by any member of the class who files charges with the president of the class. A majority vote of those present at a meeting called two weeks in advance for this purpose shall be required to remove these officers.

ARTICLE XV - STUDENT GOVERNMENT ANNUAL REPORT

SECTION 1 - The committee chairman must be a voting senate member at the time of appointment and is to be chosen by the senate with a clear majority.

SECTION 2 - The committee chairman is to be chosen on or before the last day of January of the Spring semester.

SECTION 3 - The chairman may not be serving or have served the previous semester as chairman of any committee, standing or appointed.

SECTION 4 - All appointees to the committee chosen by the chairman must be approved by the senate with a clear majority vote.

SECTION 5 - Removal of the chairman must have a two-thirds majority vote; removal of any member also shall have a two-thirds majority vote.

SECTION 6 - The chairman shall be directly responsible to the Senate.

SECTION 7 - The four executive officers, the business manager, and all standing appointed committees will submit an annual report to the chairman to be approved by the senate before publication.

SECTION 8 - All reports must be submitted with five (5) days after installation of new executive officers.

SECTION 9 - Any committee which terminates their business prior to the appointment of the chairman will submit their reports to the Senate within thirty (30) days after the termination of business for approval and to the forwarded to the chairman upon his appointment.

SECTION 10 - The annual report will be published before the last day of the Winter semester and will be kept on file as the official S.G.A. Annual Report and shall be open to the student body.

IH To Hold Open House

On Wednesday evening, November 1, the International House Program will hold its annual "open house" for the students of Jax State from 7:00-8:00 p.m.

For this event, the entire facilities of the International House will be open for students to view. The student members of the Program will serve as official hosts.

The International House Program is a state-approved, cultural exchange program which had its genesis in 1946 with five students from France.

Presently the Program consists of forty full-time Jax State students—twenty foreign students, representing nineteen different countries, and twenty American students. To further bridge existing gaps in understanding, each foreign student has an American roommate.

The officers and members of the International House Program extend a special invitation to the students of Jacksonville State and look forward to meeting you on November 1. Our motto is "Know one another and you will love one another."

Administration Views Expansion

By JIM OWEN

This reporter had a very informative interview session with the Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dr. Theron Montgomery concerning the sports scene at J.S.U.

Dr. Montgomery said that the sports departments were being given as much emphasis as can be given with the funds that are now available. Dr. Montgomery also expressed that these programs would be expanded when the new sports complex is completed. And this will form one of the most extensive athletic programs that J.S.U. has ever seen. Some of the sports mentioned are tennis, golf, baseball, track, womens

Pell Views Bulldog Team

The Sanford University team is the strongest in years. They have great senior leadership to compliment their size and experience.

The J.S.U. Gamecocks are proud to be playing this game at Anniston instead of Birmingham. The sponsor of the game The Anniston Quarterback Club has made great concessions to our student body.

This game will be a big contest for both teams. This is evidenced by the excellent games that we have had with Sanford throughout the years.

JSU Ranks No. 5

According to the NAIA top 12 teams, Jacksonville State was ranked number five as of October 27.

gymnastics, and wrestling.

At this time all of the sports except wrestling have been started and here are the facts concerning a wrestling team. "The team will be in the future for J.S.U. since we do not have the facilities to handle this type of sports at the present time also it would require having a wrestling coach and J.S.U. cannot budget this expense at this time, but there is a small amount of money in the athletic budget to begin the ground work of such a program."

"OPINION" - The situation of the minor sports at J.S.U. is looking rosey as the completion of the new sports complex seems to signify the beginning of another era in the life of college sports for everyone.
