Bull Of The Woods

Our Bull Of The Woods this week is a "JERK", William Michael Holman of Rockford, Alabama, is a senior at Jacksonville majoring in Management, and minoring in Economics. Mike is a real Jerk, or so he tells us. To counteract this impression, Mike serves as Senior Class President, plays basketball for Kappa Sigma Fraternity, and is hard to find. We think all these together proves what a well rounded person Mike Holman is.

Schedules Available

Permits and class schedules for Minimester '74 are available in the Office of Admissions and Records, Mrs. Jetta Fay Manners, secretary in the Admissions Office, announced today. ALL students planning to register for Minimester '74 should file a registration permit no later than April 10th. These permits should be completed and returned at the earliest possible moment. NO STUDENT WILL BE PERMITTED TO REGISTER UNLESS A REGISTRATION PERMIT HAS BEEN FILED.

Cole, Kimbrough Together Again

Two members of the well-known television program "What's Your Problem"—Dr. Houston Cole and Dr. Edwin Kimbrough—get together again this week for a discussion program on HEADLINERS. The program will be shown on all education network channels and repeated later in Jacksonville and Anniston.

To be shown at 8:00 p.m. on February 14, HEADLINERS will feature the two well-known Alabamians with a discussion of "Love Makes The World Go Around." It will be repeated on WBCU-TV (Channel 6) at 8 a.m. on February 16.

Through Jacksonville State University's close-circuit television, the program will be shown on Channel 4 on Jacksonville Cablevision at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, February 19.

Channel 40 in Anniston will also repeat the program at a time to be announced later.

Dr. Cole, President Emeritus at Jacksonville State University and Dr. Kimbrough, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Birmingham appeared for many years with Dr. Dale LeCount on the television series, "What's Your Problem."

Statement From Dr. Stone Concerning Gasoline Shortage

We sincerely hope that the gasoline shortage will be short-lived and not affect our commuting students. In the event you are unable to get to the campus because of the temporary gasoline crisis, your absences caused will not be counted against you. We will give you an opportunity to keep up with your work in home study.

The man's no bigger than the way
He treats his fellow man.
This standard has his measure been
Since time itself began.

He's measured not by social rank,
When character's the test,
Nor by his earthly pomp or show,
Displaying wealth possessed.

His fairness at his play,
His squareness in all dealings made,
His honesty, upright way.

These are his measures, even near
To serve him when they can,
For man's no bigger than the way
He treats his fellow man.

Lab Open For Students

Have you heard about the Developmental Reading Lab for university students now open in Ramona Wood Building? Here is your opportunity to improve your speed in reading and comprehension of material you do read. What could be better? Less time spent on reading assignments. More comprehension of textbook material. Better grades. The good reader can become better. The fair reader can become good. The poor reader can become fair. The cost of the course is your time and effort if you are enrolled at J. S. U. Many people pay dollars for this service in the business world but to the J. S. U. student it is FREE.

The Developmental Reading Lab is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Contact Dr. Martha Howell or Eugene Jones if you are interested in joining a group.

WHAT DO TEACHERS WITH 37 KIDS DO?

They grab a quick cup of coffee and read THE TEACHER PAPER.

THE TEACHER PAPER: publishing articles written by classroom teachers only.

THE TEACHER PAPER: printing lively, sophisticated articles about realities in the schools today.

THE TEACHER PAPER: reviewing books by Herndon, Kohl, Illich, Worsman, Holt, Kozol and others.

THE TEACHER PAPER: inserting a centerfold poster in every issue.

THE TEACHER PAPER: helping teachers maintain their humanity, and their sanity, in the public and private schools of America.

THE TEACHER PAPER: ending the isolation many good teachers feel.

When I entered college I sincerely believed I was through chasing the common noun. During pre-college schooling I was conditioned to a theory that enlightened education began in universities and students found relief from memorizing endless lists of words not only a particular examination. The significance of 1620 can be argued endlessly but I know I never have found an exact league for the knowledge outside the classroom.

I had great hopes of never again being asked to define a common noun. I first defined the common noun at about the same time I memorized the date of America's discovery. It happened, I think, in the fourth or fifth grade. Each succeeding year, and almost every day of each month thereafter, the common noun demanded constant re-examination. Teachers applied themselves diligently to insure my understanding of "a person, place, or thing," and also to the fact that I was stamped indelibly on my brain.

I remember a history test. Neatly arranged on the test paper were twenty-five questions, each one demanding the exact date of some event in history. Among the answers given I recall 1666, 1776, 1809, July 4th, 1909—the inevitable 1620. I knew the dates or most of them, but somehow I became confused about the events to which each were related: I was pretty sure that 1606 concerned the Battle Hastings, but had placed vague notions of Hastings' location, what caused the battle, who fought it, who won it, or the significance of the battle once it ended.

But college was to change all this. Here the common noun would sink into obscurity, a thing known but not to be delved into daily and recited with ritualistic fervor. Then too, I found great excitement in my aspect of hearing the mystery of historical events authoritatively discussed. At last I would know, really know, the true significance of 1609. No longer would I ponder the meaning of the ambiguous statement that 1609 was history's most productive year.

Most students experience a combination of fear, anticipation, and a dread of the unknown when first entering a classroom at college. The teacher standing before us in college that first day erased this feeling immediately. She was a short, smiling, talkative woman, reminding me of my Aunt Ethel, who always gave me cash for Christmas. She chatted with us, even discussing the upcoming world series.

We discussed a dozen other subjects during that first session, none of which had the slightest academic tinge. She questioned each of us concerning our backgrounds and just as freely discussed her own background. She certainly won our confidence during that initial session. I, for one, was sorry when the class ended.

But the class did end. In closing she opened a book, studied it a moment, looked out across our faces, erased her smile, and addressed us in tones alien to our initial conversation: "we will begin our next class," she said, "by examining the common noun."

Free Car Pool Ads

The fuel shortage is affecting us all and one group of students, those living off-campus, will be directly affected when rationing of gasoline becomes a reality.

In order to help this group of students find more economical ways to get transportation to school, the CHANTICLEER will begin immediately a free classified service for those wishing to form car pools and find or give rides to the campus. The service will consist of running a free 20 word classified ad for two consecutive issues of the paper in a special section reserved for transportation inquiries.

All interested persons should contact the CHANTICLEER office (SCB 4th FLOOR) personally or by mail (Box 96 JSU) or any other method to place the free ads. If more ads are needed by the student to get results, the request will be reviewed by the staff.

Ads should be typed and not contain more than 20 words stating the location of the person's home, the route taken to school, and any other necessary information so that others may make contact.

Alvin Lee & Mylon LeFevre
On The Road To Freedom
Columbia-KC 32729

Alvin Lee, like most super stars of late, put in a long apprenticeship. “On the Road to Freedom” is a statement coming from a mature point of view, both musically and personally.

Throughout this album Alvin Lee and Mylon LeFevre emerge as distinctive writers and performers who build powerful songs. Alvin Lee is able to create excitement for people who usually don’t respond much to music and that takes more than talent. Lee totally captivates his audiences.

Appearing on this album is the former “Traffic” consisting of Steve Winwood-Keyboard, Jim Capaldi-Drums, Rebop-Congos, and Ron Wood-Guitars. Also appearing, courtesy of Fleetwood Mac and Warner Brothers Records on drums for “So Sad.” Mick Fleetwood. The best cuts on the album are “The World is Changing” and “On the Road to Freedom.”

This LP should provide you with many hours of listening enjoyment.

Riding’ The Storm Out
EPIC-KC 22378

R. E. O. SPEEDWAGON seems to have mellowed a bit since their first LP, but don’t get me wrong, “Riding The Storm Out” is definitely a pleasant surprise. This album portrays a level of studio excellence not occupied by many musicians. But then again, they are aided on this LP by Joe Walsh and Barnstorm. Most of the album is lively and uptempo. Mike Murphy displays a fine vocal delivery along with an excellent performance by the rest of the band.

The best cuts on the album are “Riding The Storm Out,” “Open Up,” “Start A New Life” and “Expression.” The musicianship is competent and the production commendable. This album should be a resounding success. All complaints are trivial compared to the best of this record.

Special thanks to Homestead Records in Jacksonville Plaza without whose cooperation this article would not have been possible.

Don’t Just Grin And Bear It

By CHERYL DENHAM

Midnight . . . a student awakens with a pain in his side . . . maybe it isn’t anything serious, but maybe it is. Many students suffer needlessly because they don’t know who to go to, or what to do.

Next time you don’t feel well, don’t just grin and bear it. Help is available.

By DR. STEVE ROWE

Dr. Steve Rowe, from Gadsden, is Chief of Staff. His office hours are Monday and Wednesday—12:30 p.m.-2:30 p.m. and Thursday from 2 p.m.-4 p.m.

Dr. Rowe is assisted by Myra Thomas, a Registered Nurse who obtained her B.S. in nursing from Jax State. The L. P. N. is Mike Mabrey, and the student workers are Patty Normand, Kay Camp and Fred Downs.

There is no charge at the infirmary except for the medicine used. They are equipped to handle any situation, and if it is very serious, they will send you to a hospital.

The infirmary is open each day from 8 a.m.-7:30 p.m. You might wonder what to do if you need medical attention after the infirmary closes. All you have to do is see either your counselors, or your dorm director. If you can’t get in touch with them, call the Campus Police. The staff at William’s is on call 24 hours a day.

They see about 100 patients a week. Besides giving aid to physical problems, they also help students with problems on birth control, VD, and many other personal problems. So don’t suffer when you don’t have to.

The staff of William’s Infirmary is there any time you need them.

Why One Should Not Become A Christian

By DONNA McCORMICK

Becoming a Christian would mean learning to love that person you hate the most. It would mean having a Christian marriage as God outlines in the Bible. It would mean finding happiness and hope on the saddest days of our lives. It would mean praying for answers instead of blindly searching for them. It would mean having a desire to know what the Bible says instead of arguing over issues. It would mean having a life overflowing with happiness because God would be the captain of your ship.

Christianity is a gift from God. It is a way of life given to us by God in order that we may be happy here on earth, while we wait for our eternal life in heaven. God is real and his promises are real, but no one can have the assurance of his reality until they accept him. 1 Corinthians 2:14 says "But a natural man does not accept the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually appraised." If you have not received Christ as your personal Savior, then you are a natural man and you can not understand what God says, or his love for you and plan for your life.

I personally know that a life with Jesus Christ is without a doubt, the most wonderful life any one can have. You do not have to be a square to be a Christian. You do not have to give up good times, because God will show you what good times are without drugs, alcohol and sex. I invite you to receive what Christ has to offer and experience what a Christian life is really like.

What are the reasons for not becoming a Christian? There Are None!!

ARIENS: This week be moderate and don't expect too much during festivities opening this year. Pressing demands will only make people nervous.

TAURUS: This week finds you edgy and excitable, perhaps on the horns of a dilemma. The Full Moon may bring indecision, wavering.

GEMINI: Words may confuse rather than clarify where intimate relations are concerned; you may find technique is no true substitute for genuine feeling.

CANCER: Protect yourself while running about, drive defensively and keep your eyes out for obstacles.

LEO: Be open minded and addictive preconceptions, especially in the areas of your life which are personal and dear.

VIRGO: This week is the best day for analysis, evaluating possible new directions which will be more pragmatic.

LIBRA: You can be significant in broadening your prospective, putting you in contact with helpful influences.

SCORPIO: There may be a slight renewal of tension over the weekend. Be cautious concerning prestige, particularly on Sunday.

SAGITTARIUS: You may meet an intriguing individual during the week. Rethink your hesitation about involvement in a community or humanitarian project.

CAPRICORN: This period is conducive to communication. Catch the attention of those you want to influence; put your ideas in the best form for easy understanding.

AQUARIUS: Make yourself more firm to succeed in those areas that are important. Others will look to you for leadership, especially over the weekend.

PISCES: Don't buy just to keep up with a trend; merchandise is flashy but unreliable; stay with what has been proven.

Moment Of Pride

Ed. Note: This little snapshot of Jacksonville was turned in last year by a freshman for English credit.

"Times change, men change with them, principles never;" these words are engraved on the monument in the center of the Jacksonville square.

As I stand here in the bright moonlight gazing up at this monument, these words affect my feelings a great deal. The monument is a statue of a Confederate soldier, a symbol to remind people of all soldiers who fought and died bravely for the Confederacy and its principles.

The statue of this Confederate soldier seems to challenge me. He stands erect, holding his long carbine, a solemn proud expression on his young face. Looking at this monumental soldier, it seems as if I can hear the cannon's firing and the men shouting and fighting. The crickets around the statue are chirping and the chimney sweeps dart around my head. There is a band playing music across the street and the drums sound like the gunfire coming from the guns of the soldiers.

All of a sudden everything is silent. The crickets cease chirping, the chimney sweeps have disappeared and the band has stopped playing as if to pay a quiet tribute to the memory of all the young dead soldiers. At this moment of silence, a drop of water from an earlier rain trickles down one of the soldier's cheeks like a tear of sadness for his fellow comrades.

Feelings

BY BEVERLY TODD

Feelings lurking deep inside
Waiting to be set free.
Feelings afraid to be known
Fearful of being crushed.

Flowers of the Maker bloom to show their beauty
Revealing their deepest secrets,
But not these feelings

Do I keep them inside to survive on fantasy

Or is it that the truth will hurt?
What good are feelings if they can't be expressed?
Are they only created for hopes of the future,
Or is it out of fear of being rejected that I keep them locked up?

"We only learn through interacting"
Will these feelings ever have that chance?

On Saturday, Feb. 2, 1974 the entire state of Alabama paided tribute to Boyce Callahan, one of the best athletes ever put on a Jacksonville State Gamecock uniform. Saks High School served as the base of operations for the Boyce Callahan Day Festivities. The day's events included a receptional tea for the Vaudeville employees at Callahan, a smoker for the men, and finally the banquet that night.

The banquet was the culmination of the day's events as many people and VIPs payed tribute to Boyce. This was the fitting of the very fine man. I am pleased to be here to John you in honor of a very fine man. I am pleased and privileged and honored to be here on your day Boyce Callahan.

Malcolm Street followed Mr. Nichols to the speaker's microphone and read congratulatory telegrams to President Nixon, Senators John Sparkman and Jim Allen, Street also read in its entirety the proclamation from the Governor's office that stated, this is your day Boyce Callahan.

Phil Murphy, a former football player at Saks High School and the University of Alabama and a close personal friend of Callahan's reminisced about their (Murphy and Callahan's) playing days including the famed helmet days in the opening and the last film of Callahan's playing days. He showed scenes of 1973 highlights of number 33 including a sequence of Callahan playing football. The Larry Pisciotta and the John Callahan game is a very fine man. I am pleased

Huntsville Trip

Members of Phi Mu Chi Beta are urged to see Mr. Chappell on the third floor of Martin Hall by Wednesday, Feb. 10th to sign up for the trip to the Space Flight Center in Huntsville. The group will leave Thursday, Feb. 11th, at 4 p.m.

The featured speaker for the next meeting will be Mitchell Modral who will speak about drugs.

After completing one of the most successful winning records in college football this season. Coach Fuller accepted a position similar to the one he had here at JSU, at Eastern Carolina University. What makes looking Coach Fuller so hard is that he was one of the brightest young coaches to come out of the Bear Bryant school. This is evidenced by the fact that he coached high school ball for only 2 years and then moved up to the college ranks. Coach Fuller will be working with Pat Dye, one of his close friends during his stay at the University of Alabama.

Coach Pell and the staff brought the Gamecocks from the low ebb they were at in 1963 to the 10-0-0 season in 1970. This attests to the true quality of the coaching ability of Coach Pell and his staff. The best of luck to Coach Pell. Many rumors have it that Coach Mayfield is the likely candidate for Head Coach and all of the football players occur that they would like to see Coach Mayfield be the new Head Coach. Coach Pell said, "There is no doubt in my mind Clarkie Mayfield is the finest young coach in the entire country." And I agree with Coach Pell about 90 percent.

OH SAY CAN YOU SEE BY THE DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT WHERE THE JACKSONVILLE STATE COACHING STAFF HAS GONE?

Several of the best athletes ever put on a Jacksonville State Gamecocks uniform have announced their resignation from the coaching staff at JSU. Women's Intramurals

The Nurses, Tau Kappa Omega, and Hurricanes have proved to be leaders in the women's basketball race. The Chi Delphias have been a disappointment so far, but they are now coming on strong. The Pi Kappa Phi little sisters did not even show enough pride in their team to have five players to show. The women learned quickly that the game of basketball is harder to play than it looks. Many are getting an education but most of all they are having fun. The Nurses with height, rebounding, and outside shooting defeated the coalition women's basketball. These women use the press, rebounding, and consistent shooting to crush their opponents. Led by Mary White they have something to their credit: three wins over Pat Mountain with five to defeat only four brave Pi Kappa Phi sisters by a score of 16-6. Debbie Patterson had four and her sister Janice scored two in a losing cause.

Luxembourg, Europe. Any student between the ages of 17 and 27 can obtain a temporary paying student job in Europe through a new mail application system. Jobs, working papers, room and board arrangements and other travel documents are processed in advance.

The work is done on a nonprofit basis by the SOS Student Overseas Services, a student-run organization specializing in helping American students in Europe for the past 16 years. SOS also provides a brief orientation on Europe to insure each student a good start on the job.

Standard wages are paid in addition to the profitable advantage of free room and board provided with each hotel, restaurant and restaurant job. Most jobs are in Switzerland, France, Austria and parts of Alpine, Germany in ski resorts during the winter months, and in lakeside and city resorts, hotels and restaurants during the spring and summer months.

Recently raised wages in Europe not only offset any dollar devaluation loss, but a few weeks work in Europe—a personally broadening experience on its own—repays most of the trip cost. A few more weeks work earns ample money for traveling around Europe. Most jobs do not require knowledge of a foreign language. Willingness to work, adaptability and maintenance of an open mind count more than experience.

Applications should be submitted in time to allow for processing the job, working papers, room and board arrangements and other travel documents. Students can cut processing time by obtaining and holding until requested, a passport photo, a letter of recommendation from a teacher or former employer. Interested students may obtain an application form, job listings and descriptions, and the SOS Handbook on earning your way in Europe by sending their name, address, name of educational institution, and $l for postage, printing, handling and addressing only) to either SOS-Student Overseas Services, Box 573, Santa Barbara, California 93108, or to S.O. S. 22. Ave. de la Liberte, Luxembourg.

More Jobs In Europe

Work this summer in the forests of Germany, on construction in Austria, on farms in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, in hotels in Switzerland. These as well as jobs in England, France, Italy and Holland Holland are available to American university students coming to Europe next summer.

Every year, the program has been expanded to include more students and jobs. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), form work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to offer the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with the people and customs of Europe. In this way, a concrete effort can be made to learn something of the culture of Europe. In return for this work, the student will receive his room and board, plus a wage. However, students should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. Working conditions (hours, safety, regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, employers have requested American students. They are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible.

They are all informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in deriving the most from his trip to Europe.

Please write for further information and application forms to: American-European Student-Service, Box 34733, F1 9460 Vaduz, Liechtenstein (Europe).

SCEC

Do You Care???

By BEVERLY TODD

SCEC, what does it mean? Well, you special education people better be finding out because it’s happening in special education. The SCEC, or the Student Council for Exceptional Children, and the CEC, or Council for Exceptional Children, are organizations to help the exceptional child. This is a fantastic program for promoting the interest of people in the special education field. SCEC began in 1971 at Camp Grandview in Montgomery, with students from the University of Alabama, Auburn University, Tuskegee, University of South Alabama, & M. and A. Let’s go Jacksonville, we’ve got to build up our membership. We are honored to have on campus the first student president of SCEC Dr. Greg Frith, who teaches in the special education department here and Mrs. Wanda Walton, head of the fund drive for the Foundation of Exceptional Children in our area. Would like everyone interested in this and who is involved in special education to join SCEC. There’s no other way to see what it’s all about unless you get involved! We need more members and more money to keep the organization going.

Many of you may not be aware of it, but the U.S. has nearly 9 million kids, of whom 7 million or more are handicapped and are not served by any special education program. SCEC and CEC can help bring that number down by reaching out for new members and more money to get these programs on their way.

There will be a SCEC convention Feb. 28-Mar. 2. This is mainly for students and it is being held in Mobile. Not only will you find out a lot about SCEC, but you’ll have a great time! What a better chance to get away from the big “J”. If you are interested in SCEC, come by the Ramsden Wood building and talk to Mr. Walton. The SCEC, an organization to help the ones who really need help. Do You Care??

Youth's Role ... You Are Today's Tomorrow

Sargent Shriver, former director of the Peace Corps, will deliver the keynote address for the Student Conference on American government at Jax State which will be held Feb. 22-24.

Senator Joseph Biden (D-Del.), the nation’s youngest senator, and Pam Powell, the youngest member of the White House staff, will also be the featured speakers for the 9th annual three-day conference.

Approximately 200 high school and 70 JSU delegates will attend the conference whose theme is "Youth’s Role . . . You Are Today’s Tomorrow".

Activities begin Friday, Feb. 22nd, with Shriver’s keynote address in the Student Commons Auditorium.

Following several discussion groups and lunch, Pam Powell will speak at 2 p.m. on Saturday in the SCA.

Senator Biden—who was elected to office at 29, but became 30 before he took office—will speak at the Saturday night banquet in the SCA. The conference closes Sunday morning.

The purpose of SCOAG is to cultivate among Alabama’s young a genuine interest and better understanding of our American system of government.

Shriver, who ran on the Democratic ticket with Senator George McGovern in 1972 is a native of Maryland. His first venture into politics was in 1961 when he became Director of the Peace Corps, newly formed by the late president, John F. Kennedy. In 1964, President Lyndon Johnson appointed him Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

He served in this position until 1968. He also serves as Executive Director of the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation and is currently supporting an effort involving more than 96,000 former Peace Corps and VISTA volunteers in projects to help the nation’s cities.

Senator Biden, daughter of movie personalities, Dick Powell and June Allyson, has served at the White House for one year. She is currently the assistant to the Counselor to the President. Prior to this, she has had vast writing experience and also has had guest appearances on several network television programs.
