Capote Returns Home

By DEBBIE SKIPPER
Staff Writer

He was 15 years old when he left Monroeville, Al., for New England. He lived in Europe eight years. Now he's coming home.

After 27 years of success, Truman Capote, now 50 years of age, is coming back home to Alabama to speak to Jacksonville State students and faculty members on the JSU campus March 20.

Capote, who considers himself self-educated, gained recognition in 1948 with his first book, "Other Voices, Other Rooms." The setting in this and successive novels and short stories bears resemblance to the Alabama town where he spent his early boyhood. "A Christmas Memory" and "A Thanksgiving Visitor" are two other such examples.

He made his second novel, "The Grass Harp," published in 1951, into a play. Another of his plays is "House of Flowers."

Moreover, Truman Capote is a film scenarist: "Beat the Devil," "The Innocents" and "Trilogy."

But it is as a novelist and short story writer that Truman Capote is known best. His work usually deals with moral decay and often takes an eerie or comic turn. Among his most famous novels are "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "Children on Their Birthdays," and "Miriam."

"In Cold Blood," perhaps his most popular and well-known work, is a documentary which exhibits Capote as a first-class reporter, as does "The Muses Are Heard." Capote is a self-described "planet wanderer," a description owing to his constant traveling. At the same time, he maintains an apartment in New York, a home on Long Island, and a retreat in Switzerland.

He is a frequent guest on talk and variety shows and highly-acclaimed documentaries as well. He has been aptly described as "having his finger on the pulse of contemporary America," perhaps more so than any other American novelist.

Before hearing him speak on March 20 at 8 p.m. at the Coliseum, it is advised that everyone read at least one work by this man whom Norman Mailer has called "the most perfect writer of my generation."

Geography Department Offers PR Trip

Again this year, during May, the Geography Department is offering a trip to Puerto Rico. Six hours of undergraduate credit and three hours of graduate credit can be earned.

The trip is set up for 15 students to spend two full weeks in Puerto Rico. Dr. Howard Johnson is the faculty member accompanying the group.

The trip is scheduled to leave Atlanta May 11 and return there May 24. The costs are still tentative at this point, according to Dr. Johnson, "but looks like about $420 for lodging, transportation and all entry fees to places the group will visit." Each student will determine his own food budget.

Prices run close to American prices for food, Dr. Johnson said. "There are places to eat on the McDonald's level, Spanish version of course, but there are also internationally renowned restaurants where you can eat a more expensive meal." Dr. Johnson cautions, however, that sampling local beverages can be costly and students should allow for that.

The only other cost is that of tuition for minimester.

The process is spread over a period of time so that the money need not be paid in one lump sum. March 21 is the deadline for the $100 deposit to reserve a place on the trip. The balance is due by April 21, then tuition when registering for mini. Food and shopping money will be needed by the time to board the plane.

The trip is set up so that anyone who has had no geography can learn the basics on a pleasant trip.

The first two and last two days will be spent in the San Juan metro area where they "have everything from fortresses and buildings that the spanish built to an air conditioned cock fighting ring. Also on the itinerary is the Bicardi Rum Distillery and the University of Puerto Rico campus.

Dr. Johnson said the group will have three cars and do their own driving. Things will be flexible because the island is 100 miles east to west and about 35 miles north to south. "It will only

Editors Are To Be Selected

Students who are interested in serving as editor for either The Chanticleer or The Mimosa must file applications with Mr. Hopper in the Public Relations office by March 7, 1975.

The editor of The Chanticleer must agree to take JN 303 Fundamentals of Newspaper Layout and Editing during the summer session. The course is offered for the purpose of giving the editor and other potential staff members an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of journalism and to create a nucleus staff who have at least an understanding of basic journalism.

The editor of The Mimosa must have taken JN 304 Yearbook Editing-Layout and Editing in a previous summer session and be available during the class session to work with the yearbook staff.

All applicants must have a 1.0 GPA overall.

The Publications Board will schedule a meeting to interview applicants and make appointments toward the last of March. Applicants will be notified.

Both courses are valuable for future teachers who may be assigned to direct the production of either publication on the high school level.

SGA Elections Set

Student Government Association officer elections have been set by the SGA election committee as chairman, Lewis Morris, announced at the weekly senate meeting Monday night.

Those persons interested in throwing their hat in the SGA "political ring" should sign up at the new improved SGA office, 4th floor, Student Commons Building, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, Wednesday, Feb. 26. Deadline for filing for candidacy is 12 o'clock noon, March 5. The SGA election will be Tuesday, March 25. Class officer elections have been set for April 8.

Red Cross Blood Mobile Scheduled

March 26 the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Jacksonville. On the basis of past evidence, it would seem that few people on campus understand the importance of its visit.

Last fall JSU's blood drive goal was 800 pints of blood. That goal is small compared to the total number of students and faculty on this campus. However only 563 pints were collected, and of that number less than a dozen were donated by the faculty!

This, to us, indicates an adequate concern on the part of students, faculty, and staff. An average person has 10-12 pints of blood in his body. Would one pint be so painful to give when it could save the life of what could very possibly be YOUR baby, YOUR brother, YOUR parents, or even YOUR-SELF!?

For yourself? Of course. It may sound selfish but we don't think so. Think of it as an investment in the future, for a day when you need blood and get it because you gave it when your body was healthy and strong.

The Red Cross processes and distributes approximately 635 units per day. Due to many reasons—like the increase in population and the fact that only about 3 per cent of the healthy people in the U. S. give blood—the Red Cross often doesn't have the blood it needs.

It takes about 8-10 minutes to actually give the blood. And it's not completely painless; anyone with any sense will know that sticking a needle through the skin can hurt. But to be dying, in need of a transfusion, or worse, to have someone you love in such a situation—that is pain. People in need of blood don't get it without donors. It would be a terrible feeling knowing someone needing blood died today because you were frightened of needle.

Blood is never taken if it will harm either the donor or the patient and a physical is given to each individual to verify eligibility. The donor should weigh at least 110 pounds. However, if a would-be donor is turned down for any reason, he is still given a car entitling him and his immediate family to free blood for one year. Seventeen-year-olds may give with parental permission.

JSU's goal for this spring is 1000 donors, which means that 1250 to 1300 people will have to offer to give in order to collect 1000 pints. Ask your friends to give and set an example by giving yourself. If you can't give recruit someone to take your place. Normal activity can be resumed afterwards unless you decide to run in a cross-country meet.

Blood cannot be manufactured, duplicated, or conjured up. It can only come from human donors. One pint, broken in to its component parts, may benefit more than one person. Giving blood is an act of love, a way of reaching out to someone who's in a life and death situation.

1000 pints will be a challenge. Jax State, are you loving and caring enough to accept and meet it?

Pledge today and drop this coupon by the mailroom.

I will give blood on March 26. The most convenient times for me to give would be:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Did You Know That . . .

Doctors cannot transfuse excuses!

The Red Cross doesn't need blood—patients do.

Your Red Cross processes and distributes approximately 635 units of blood per day.

Tomorrow's blood supply must be donated today due to the tremendous demand.

Whole blood will last 21

One pint of blood can be broken into several components—one donor may aid several people.

The Red Cross does not always have all the blood it needs in day to day usage. This is due in part to: 1. Increased population. 2. new techniques and technology that depend on blood and blood components. 3. unforeseen disasters 4. only a small portion of the healthy people in the U. S. donate blood (only 3 per cent of our population). 5. many blood donors are becoming too old to give.

Among those who receive blood are newborn babies, senior citizens college students, and millions of others just like you and your family.

When you give blood you will be informed of your blood type.

If you have rare blood you can be a special donor.

If you don't give blood someone may go without blood.

You can give blood at 17 years of age. 17 year olds need parental permission in the form of a signature on a release.

The actual giving of blood takes only 8 to 10 minutes.

The biggest obstacle to donating blood for the first time is the fear of the unknown.

While there is some discomfort in giving blood the process is not extremely painful.

THE VAST MAJORITY OF NEW DONORS ALWAYS DONATE AGAIN.

It is best not to give blood on an empty stomach.

Giving blood does not prevent your continuing normal routines. After actually donating you will have a few refreshments and while you rap with your friends. When finished, you may pick up where you left off (that is, unless you were running in the cross-country meet, for that you should wait a few hours).

The average person has 10 to 12 pints of blood in his body.

In donating blood you give slightly less than 1 pint.

The volume of blood donated is quickly re-established in the body.

Before donating your ability to donate is verified through a physical.

Blood will not be taken from you if it would harm you or a patient in any way.

Persons giving blood receive a blood card that covers all blood needs of the donor and his immediate family without any obligation to replace the blood or pay for the blood itself for a period of one year.

Persons already having a blood card may donate the next successive card to anyone they like. A temporary blood card is issued to anyone temporarily unable to give blood who offers to give blood.

You may donate every eight weeks without any harmful effects to yourself.

Blood cannot be manufactured.

Blood cannot be duplicated.

Blood cannot be conjured up.

BLOOD CAN ONLY BE

DONATED BY LIVING HUMAN BEINGS.

Giving blood is more than a civic responsibility; it is a matter of life and death.

Giving blood can be a positive act of love and a meaningful experience.

Most donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds.

One of the best ways to get your friends to give blood is for you to ask them.

It is easier to get your friends and associates to donate blood if you yourself do likewise.

Last fall 563 students donated blood at Jacksonville State University. Of this number less than a dozen were faculty.

This spring, Jacksonville State's goal is 1000 blood donors.

This means approximately 1250 and 1300 will have to present themselves as blood donors.

Persons physically unable to give blood can be vitally important by recruiting blood donors to take their place.

Sonshine Rally Planned For March 3-5

Why Not Have A Wedgeworth Field?

Coach Ray Wedgeworth spent most of his career serving Jacksonville State University students. His dedication has especially been brought to my attention since his recent death. Hearsay should never replace facts, but the record books provide more than enough evidence.

Wedgeworth spent 25 years at JSU, serving many of those years as football, basketball and baseball coach. And, he had winning seasons in all three sports year after year!

As he grew older and the school grew larger, some of this tremendous responsibility was lifted. Wedgeworth continued as baseball coach until his retirement in 1969.

Records say nothing of his willingness to help students whenever they needed it, often with personal sacrifice. But, the many who loved him will provide the necessary backing.

We played our first baseball game of the season Saturday in our newly remodeled Pete Mathews Field. Mathews has done a great deal for his Alma Mater, but he has the new coliseum named in his honor.

Why can't we play the remainder of the baseball season in our newly remodeled, newly named Ray Wedgeworth Memorial Field?

Three former Alabama football greats will be on hand for Sonshine Celebration '75, a Christian rally set for March 3-5 at Jacksonville State University.

Johnny Musso, John Hannah, and John Croyle will join evangelist Wales Goebel and former JSU football star Boyce Callahan for the three-day event, scheduled to begin nightly at 7:30 p.m. in Leone Cole Auditorium.

Sonshine Celebration '75 was organized by JSU students in order to present to every member of this county and surrounding areas an opportunity to hear the claims of the Gospel of Christ.

Croyle, a former Alabama Pre-season All-American, also made the Churchman's All-American team and was a high school All-American in football and basketball.

Gooble, president of Wales Goebel Ministries in Birmingham, has spoken at more than 200 high school and college campuses.

Other guests for the event include Page Hannah, the Vise Family, Mrs. William Buck, Donny Kitchens and Mrs. Everett Veach. Dick Vigneulle, vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan of Birmingham, will be music director at the rally.

office of vice-president, secretary, or treasurer of the SGA, a candidate must have to his credit in the office of the registrar of JSU (on or before the day of the election) sufficient hours to be classified as a sophomore or above and must have been in attendance at this institution at least two complete semesters prior to the election excluding spring sessions.

C. Candidates for president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, must have and maintain a one point two five (1.25) average for all college credit attempted. No student shall be qualified for any office of the SGA who has previously been removed from an SGA office for any reason. No candidate may be on any type of school probation.

D. Each candidate must file with the Secretary of the SGA at least two (2) weeks before the date of election a written statement of his intent to become a candidate, which must be signed by ten (10) students who are regularly enrolled on this campus, and contain the name of his campaign manager and the office he seeks.

The president of the Student Government Association shall receive compensation in the amount of $500 for the first semester, $500 for the second semester, $125 for the Interim (minimester) semester, and $250 for the summer semester, these salaries to be payable monthly.

SECTION 2. The vice president shall receive compensation in the amount of $400 for the first semester, $400 for the second semester, $100 for the Interim (minimester).

Interested persons should sign up in the new improved SGA office, 4th floor, Student Commons Building, now open from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. every day.

The SGA election will be Tuesday, March 25.

Arts Festival Is Scheduled In Anniston

Dramatic presentations, music, films, and art exhibitions are but a few of the planned festivities of the Anniston Arts Festival Week.

Scheduled for April 13-20, the Art Festival is being given around an Anniston downtown promotion day.

Among the activities planned are:

An evening of dance, ballet and the modern dance—

Opera night, given by students at Birmingham-Southern College—

Shows: antiques, photography, needlepoint, flowers, puppets, crafts—

Dramas, presented by the Fort McClellan players and the Anniston Little Theatre—

An evening of music—

An antique car parade—

Of particular interest to students at Jacksonville, is a poetry writing contest. The winning authors will read their works at a literary tea, at which Tom Turner will speak on the writing of fiction.

The rules of the poetry contest are as follows:

1. Entries must be received or postmarked on or before April 1, 1975.

2. All Anniston and area residents or students are eligible to enter.

3. Poetry may be of any form, rhyme, meter, length or subject. Contestants may enter as many times as desired. All poems entered must be the original work of the contestant. Entries will not be acknowledged, and no entries can be returned. All but winning entries will be destroyed at the end of contest.

4. Each entry should be typewritten, double spaced, or clearly printed on only one side of the paper and submitted in duplicate. The writer's name must not appear on the entry, but each entry must have an attached cover sheet listing the following information: (1) Writer's name, (2) Mailing address, (3) Phone number, (4) Title of poem, and (5) First line of poem.

5. Each poem must be accompanied by a contest entry fee of $1 which will be applied to expenses of the Arts Festival. Entries should be mailed to contest editor:

Mrs. Margie Smith, Rt. 9, Box 49, Oxford, AL 36201.

6. Poems will be selected by the judges for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners. Award presentations will be made at the Literary Arts Tea on April 16, 1975, 4 p.m., 6th floor, First National Bank building, Anniston, and authors will be asked to read their prize winning poems at that time.

Valiants Perform Here In 50's Form

Well, they were here.

Who? None other than Vince Vance and the Valiants.

The Valiants, like Sha-Na-Na, exploded from the nostalgic fifties, intent on lubricating the U. S. from coast to coast.

Vince and the Valiants slid onto the stage dressed in enough goop and garb to compliment their various personalities.

The show began with rock and roll comedy backed up by vocal and instrumental interpretations of early rock.

The audience was kept in stitches throughout both sets. Humor arose from body language, ugly language, hilarious songs, and embarrassment of audience personalities (especially the blossomed belles.)

At one point during the concert some of the students, dressed in their garb, too, participated in a dance contest. Richie Golden and his sister, Melisa, were acclaimed by the audience as winners.

Some songs performed were "Charlie Brown," "The Hop," "Miss Mollie," "Tonight, Tonight," and "I Caught It At The Movies." The whole experience was almost unreal.

Our enthused crowd was thoroughly annointed with the fifties.

Vince Vance and the Valiants came onstage with a streak of greased ego, and after performing an ephatic stage and music show, left a greasy streak in the minds of JSU.

Jax, Nicholls Are Favorites

Nicholls State University and JSU, two teams who have dominated Gulf South Conference baseball for the past three years, have been named as the pre-season favorites to meet each other for the 1975 championship.

In the annual poll conducted by the coaches, Jacksonville received the nod in the Eastern Division with four first place votes and 40 total points, followed by Troy State University with 32 points, Livingston University with 30 points, North Alabama with 29 points, and Tennessee-Martin with 24 points.

Nicholls State compiled three firsts and 37 points while Southeastern Louisiana's 33 points nudged out Delta State University for second place. Delta State ranked third with 32 points, followed by Northwestern Louisiana in fourth place with 29 points and Mississippi College with 24 points.

Nicholls State won the first GSC baseball crown in 1972 as the Colonels whipped Jacksonville in Thibodaux, La. Jacksonville bounced back to beat Nicholls the following year in Jacksonville, but lost to the Colonels last spring, once again in Thibodaux.

The Colonels will be without the services of All-America shortstop Robert Taylor, catcher Darrell Hebert, and outfielder Herman Grissom, but Coach T. C. Calmes' team will be solid at most positions and have added to an already top pitching staff.

Coach Rudy Abbott's Jacksonville outfit returns three All GSC performers—pitchers Roger Mayo and Mike Galloway and outfielder Darrell Ingram.

Southeastern Louisiana has a junior-dominated club this spring and more pitching depth. All-GSC third baseman Paul Schultz, shortstop Andy Davis, and outfielders Dale Halladay and Kevin Fogg are also back.

Delta State lost seven starters, but its pitching staff, which ranked third in the nation last season with a 2.20 ERA, returns, headed by All-GSC righthander Pete Albritton. Joe Hubal, Joey Porter, and Mike Fielder round out veteran moundsmen returning.

Northwestern Louisiana will be without first baseman Darryl Woods, the nation's top home run hitter in 1974, along with shortstop Bobby Hrapmann and outfielder Charles Jackson, but the Demons will build around strelar pitcher Dennis Choate.

1975 Gulf South Conference baseball pre-season ratings: The coaches rating, based on 10 points for first place, eight for second, seven for third, etc., with first place votes in parenthesis:

Baseball Season Underway

These four pretty JSU Bat Girls were on hand for the opening of the college baseball season Saturday when the Gamecocks met Huntingdon College of Montgomery in the first game of the 1975 campaign. From left Ann Jackson, Jacksonville; Jan Compton, Hanceville; Angela Poland, Lineville; and Katie Sikes, Gadsden.

Jaxmen Kill Pacers

Interested in post-season play, the Jaxmen thundered past the Pacers of Tennessee-Martin, 99-75.

Ahead by seven at the half (42-35), the Gamecocks increased their lead in the next period by 16. The Pacers never recovered.

Coach Bill Jones said, "We challenged some of them who weren't performing as well as they should, and we challenged them to go out there and play better the second half.

"I would like to think our performance in the second half had something to do with what we told them at halftime.

Fortunately for the Jaxmen, only the second counted.

With the 85-70 win, the Gamecocks grabbed second place in the Gulf South Conference and maintained a slim hope for a first-place tie with NW Louisiana.

After the game Coach Jones said, "This was a big win for us. And it was a big one for a lot of reasons, but mostly because our kids proved they have the class to win this conference."

Jones said, "If we had played the first half like we did the second, it would have been close to that complete game we've wanted to play."

The hottest JSU scorers were Eddie Butler, 20; Ron Money, 14; Darryl Dunn, 13; Herman Brown, 12; R. J. Bonds, 12; and Kent Bouldin, 10.

The top three Trojans were David Felix with 17 points and Chip Crawford and Marvin Sales with 14 points each.

take 2 - 2 1/2 hours to travel from place to place. There'll be lots of time to observe and free time each day; it's not lumped together like on most trips."

Out on the island, plans are to visit the Arecibo Ionospheric Observatory, to view the salt flats where sea water is evaporated to manufacture salt and, on the other side of the island, to visit a tropical rain forest that gets over 200 inches of rainfall a year. The group will be spending time in the resort area where the winter surfing competition is held.

In order to get credit for the trip, students will be required to buy and read a book during the last part of this semester. At mini registration, they will pick up a take home exam, fill it out and hand it in to Dr. Johnson when they board the plane.

While on the island, students will be required to fill out "something similar to a lab manual in biology" and will be graded on how well it has been done.

Graduate students, in addition to the other requirements, will write a summary paper after the trip.

A bonus for students will be part of a day's duty-free shopping in St. Thomas near the end of the trip. Plans are under way to fly over in the morning and return that evening.

Dr. Johnson said, "if you take into account what a room, food, and tuition for mini at Jacksonville would cost, you can consider that you are spending two weeks in Puerto Rico for $300.

Jax To Play In NAIA Semifinals

Jax State, last Monday, was selected to play in the NAIA District 27 semifinals.

JSU, chosen as Number one seed, will play Athens College in Mathews Coliseum tonight at 7:30.

Athens College finished the season with a 19-17 overall record compared to JSU's record of 19-6.

The other semifinal game, also tonight, will feature Spring Hill College at the University of Montevallo.

Spring Hill won an automatic berth by having the best regular season mark of 20-6.

Montevallo was awarded a slot by virtue of defeating St. Bernard recently to win the Southern States Conference title.

Should Jax State defeat Athens, the district finals would be held at Mathews Coliseum Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

The winner of Wednesday's game will go directly to the NAIA national finals in Kansas City, Mo.

battle, the Mocs led at the half by three, 38-35.

After the Moccasins had taken a four-point lead with 8:30 showing, the Jaxmen—Ron Money, Herman Brown, and Eddie Butler in particular—began to pare the margin until Butler sank a 15 footer at 3:35 to give the Jaxmen a 67-65 lead.

With less than three minutes left, the Jaxmen, leading by one, played catch.

This strategy continued until one Gamecock was fouled. He increased the gap by two.

The Mocs ran down the court and dunked a basket. The Jaxmen played catch again—with the same results.

These proceedings continued for the remainder of the match.

"The thing I like most about beating Chattanooga," said Bill Jones, "is the feeling I have way down inside. We put on a basketball game big-league style and won with class and pride.

"There was nothing bush-league about the way it was played or how we won. Not like how it was when we played up there."

Ron Money led all scores

KK & R Perform

On Feb. 18, the University of Alabama let us borrow some of its local culture.

Kimmel, Kimball and Riley entertained JSU for a couple of short hours during the coffeehouse with original, copied or interpreted songs. The trio consisted of Jennifer Kimball, a talented singer, and Tom Kimmell and Scott Riley, guitarists and vocalists.

Their songs were mostly of the popular variety and ranged from thought provoking ballad to easy listening melodies.

KK&R music has been influenced by CSN&Y, Jackson Browne and other guitarist-singers who are congruous with KK&R's own style. The group's simple style stood out through the evening. They were really into their music. Needless to say, the audience was too.

Lund: Minors In 'Eating'

From the country of a thousand lakes, Finland, comes Christine Lund to International House. Christine is 21 years old, and is here on an International Endowment Foundation Scholarship. She is majoring in English, and says she's minoring in "eating."

Christine, when asked about Alabama, said, "The color of the earth is fascinating. I've never seen red earth before coming here. The nature here reminds me of the wilderness in Finland. Another thing about Alabama I've picked up is the Southern accent. When I traveled north for Christmas, people thought I was a true Southerner."

In commenting about Finland's weather, Christine said there are four seasons with a very warm summer. "There are no polar bears in Finland." She says the seasons are very distinct as here and winter is special because that's the time for Santa Claus, who originates in Finland.

"In Finland girls and boys are much more equal when it comes to dating. In many cases the girls ask for dates and pick up the boys. It's not so formal a dating system there," said Christine.

But Christine misses dark rye bread, bear meat, reindeer, Finnish beer and vodka candy, which is much better than the candy here she adds, and pastries.

With Russia right next door to Finland, the question of security is ever present. "The border is closed and guarded on both sides. Passage to Russia is very difficult—much the same difficulty Americans have in going to Russia."

"Problems in Finland," says Christine, "are a lack of labor, zero birth rates, and as everywhere, inflation. The zero birth rate is considered good unless you are a small country. There's a chance that Finland could decline.

"I like International House, not just because of the Americans but also because I am able to meet other foreigners. This experience makes me want to travel in Asia and Latin America."

He may go out with a Ph.D.

Last year, over 90,000 young men and women earned college credits while serving in the Army. They did it on Army time. With the Army paying 75% of their tuition costs.

One of the 90,000 was Specialist 5 Alex Valadez of Chattanooga, Tenn. Through various Army programs Alex managed to earn a B.S. degree in just two and one-half years.

Today, he's six hours short of his Master's. After that, he plans to go for his Ph.D.

Not everyone who joins the Army ends up with a doctorate. But if they want one, the Army will help them get it.

Jax Rated Number 2

In GSC Basketball

After the recent JSU-Troy St. contest, Jax State was rated second in the Gulf South Conference with no league games left; the Demons of NW Louisiana were numero uno but had two games to go—Tennessee-Martin and North Alabama.

The Demons, a full game ahead of the Jaxmen, needed only one win to have undisputed possession of the GSC basketball crown. They proceeded to drop both games—the second by 10 points.

The Jaxmen and the Demons ended the league season with identical 9-4 records. But the Demons were awarded the title on the basis of their two-point win over the Gamecocks earlier.

Noting that such a case was permissible under current GSC rules, Coach Bill Jones said he felt that, in the case of a tie, the winner of the two should indeed represent the conference in post-season play, but that the two should be co-champions.

Although JSU will compete in the NAIA District 27 playoffs, Jones said that he would, in June, bring the matter before the Gulf South Conference meeting in Birmingham.
