Editors are usually considered to be pencil pushers, but staff writer Jana McWhorter found out that the Mimosa editor, Karen Hinch is not a pencil pusher and put it together in a feature story on page 2. On the other hand, if you're having trouble keeping up with what the pencil pushers write, you might be interested in an article by Nancy Wade on page 4 concerning the reading lab. The reading lab can improve speed and comprehension so you don't have to wrestle with the crossword on page 9. However, if you want to wrestle, there is a fellow on campus to take you on. Ricky Bragg and Susan Isbell joined forces to write about it on page 10.

Sparks waives extradition hearing

By DAVID FORD
Editor

21-year old John Sparks of Oxford, the man accused of the murder of 18 year old Donna Tucker and assault with intent to murder in the shooting of Mark Martin, has formally waived his right to an extradition hearing and will return to Alabama to face those charges. Sparks appeared before third district court judge Bryan Croft at Salt Lake City last Wednesday to waive extradition.

Sparks is also charged with aggravated kidnapping after allegedly holding an employee of a pizza parlor at knifepoint in Salt Lake City. Authorities say that incident occurred after Sparks made a telephone call to Alabama authorities to give himself up. A spokesman for the Salt Lake detectives says that charge will probably be dropped.

Sparks' attorney in Utah, Robert VanSciver, told the Anniston Star last week that his client had talked with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Sparks of Oxford, before making his decision. That move came after Sparks' attorney had indicated that his client would fight extradition back to Alabama to face the murder charge.

A hearing was to have been held for Sparks last Wednesday in Utah to determine his mental competency to stand trial there on the aggravated kidnapping charge.

The Alabama warrant against Sparks was signed last Wednesday at 12:30, and at 8:00 that night Alabama Bureau of Investigation Cpl. Ed Traylor and sheriff's deputy Max Kirby left by car to pick up Sparks.

Calhoun County Sheriff Roy Snead said that the investigators were taking a car because of airline scheduling difficulties and because of a possible reluctance by commercial airlines to transport the suspect.

Under state law, Sparks will be entitled to a preliminary hearing in district court if he formally requests one within 30 days after his arrest by the Alabama authorities in Utah. Calhoun-Cleburn District Attorney Bob Field said that such a request could be granted or that the evidence could be presented to the Calhoun County Grand Jury when it convenes the week of Oct. 17. Field said that he has not decided how to proceed with the case, and told "The Anniston Star", "He's agreed to come back and that's the extent of it right now."

Sparks' return to the state will be less than three months after the shooting. He was arrested in Utah exactly one month following the incident. Sparks was one of two hundred people talked to in the investigation of the shooting but was released after questioning. After his arrest in Utah, he was ordered to undergo psychiatric examination to determine if he was mentally competent to stand trial. At that time, his attorney commented that Sparks was not able to aid in his defense.

The shooting of Ms. Tucker and Mark Martin occurred the night of July 17, while the couple was visiting Germania Springs Park north of Jacksonville. Martin told authorities later that the assailant first approached them to ask if they had a light for his cigarette. He then left, and reportedly came back a few moments later with a gun and sexually assaulted Martin. Then when he attempted to assault Ms. Tucker, Martin jumped him and the shooting began.

Both Tucker and Martin were shot twice with a small caliber pistol. Ms. Tucker never regained consciousness and died five days later in University Hospital in Birmingham.

Martin was able to talk with law enforcement officials and gave them a description of the assailant. After a few days, he was transferred to University Hospital in Birmingham, and has been hospitalized since. He remains paralyzed from the shoulders down.

Ms. Tucker was from Springville and was a freshman at JSU. Martin is from Riverside and was scheduled to enter JSU this semester.

Trend toward all Ph.D. faculty

By JONI BARKER
Staff Writer

While 50 of the full-time JSU faculty members possess doctoral degrees, JSU is at its halfway point to becoming a complete Ph. D. faculty. The majority of the remaining 50 percent, those who have not received their doctoral, are in the process of completing them.

During the 1976-77 school term JSU employed 256 faculty members, including 242 full-time teachers and 14 part-time instructors. Of the 242 full-time 113 of them had received their doctoral degrees, making 46.6 percent of the full-time faculty terminal degree holders.

This fall the Ph.D. faculty increased to 50 percent. Two hundred and forty-seven full-time faculty members and 13 part-time teachers are employed, making a total of 260 instructors. Of the 247 full-time faculty members, 125 obtained doctoral degrees.

During the past year numerous changes and increases have taken place in the various departments of the university according to Dr. Theron Montgomery, vice-president of academic affairs, each of the adjustments has been in an effort to upgrade JSU.

In the Biology Department, the faculty increased from 11 members to 13. Those holding Ph.D's increased from 9 in 1976 to 11 in 1977. New faculty members include Dr. Benton, Dr. Duffey, Dr. Saver and Dr. Seagle.

There was a decrease in faculty size from 8 to 7 in the Economics Department. However, those holding doctorals increased from 4 in 1976 to 5 in 1977.

Faculty size remained the same in the general science department; however, one doctoral degree was added, making a total of two.

The Music Department increased from 17 faculty members to 19 members. Those holding Ph.D's increased from 6 in 1976 to 9 in 1977. New faculty members include: Dr. Armstrong, Mr. Beigler and Mr. Zimmerman.

In the Sociology Department, the faculty increased from 10 members to 11 and those obtaining their doctorals increased from 6 in 1976 to 7 in 1977. New faculty members include: Dr. McConatha, Mr. Hill and Mr. Adams.

Law Enforcement added 3 new teachers and 2 additional Ph.D.'s. New faculty members include: Dr. Barker, Ms. Seal and Dr. Starling.

The Education Department added one Doctoral with the addition of one new faculty member, Dr. Tutwiler.

Dr. Montgomery noted that, the university is encouraging all faculty members to acquire their doctoral degrees in an effort to have a 100 percent Ph.D. faculty.

Psychology Club now in formation stages

Students interested in forming a Psychology Club on the JSU campus met Wednesday, Oct. 5, in room 217 of Ayers Hall. Presiding over the meeting were psychology professors, Dr. Patterson and Dr. McDade. A committee was appointed to revise a constitution for the club.

During the meeting, students brought up possible projects for the club. It was suggested that a tutoring service be set up for the psychology department. Tutors being extracted from members of the club. Other suggestions included plans for homecoming, a camping trip, sensitivity sessions, sponsoring of dances to promote the student interest, projects for raising funds and a party to introduce the club to students. Long-range plans include a trip to Atlanta to attend a meeting of the Psychological Association during spring break, a trip to Georgia State to observe a chimp which has been taught to operate a computer, and an introduction of the SEPA to students interested in graduate school.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 3:30 p.m., in room 217 of Ayers Hall. Officers will be elected and the constitution will be voted on. All interested psychology students are urged to attend.

Medical technology symposium planned

For all interested freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, Huntsville Cooperative School of Medical Technology at Huntsville Hospital will offer a Symposium on "The Role of the Medical Technologist in Laboratory Medicine." The program is composed of a tour of the clinical labs, films and the opportunity for you to talk to medical technology interns about their experiences.

The session will be held: Tuesday, Oct. 11, 2:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Oct. 12, 10 a.m.; Thursday, Oct. 13, 3:30 p.m.

The sessions will last approximately two hours. All serious medical technology majors are urged to attend. However, you should schedule your trip around your classes. This trip does not constitute an excused absence from JSU classes.

Huntsville Hospital is located at 101 Sivley Road, Huntsville, Alabama. For additional information come by the Office of Medical Technology, 204 Ayers Hall.

Karen Hinch

Mimosa editor not a pencil pusher

By JANA McWHORTER
Staff Writer

Karen Hinch, editor of our school annual The Mimosa, is a very easy going, though athletic, person.

Karen, who was born in Anniston, is 20 years old and will be a senior in January. She has an unusual major for someone who is editor of our annual. She plans to go into physical education with a special emphasis in gymnastics.

Karen, whom some might call an education "brat," now understands why her mother—a teacher and principal—was so much harder on her than on the other students. Karen is now in a position of responsibility herself.

She first came to the university intent on being an English major, but after taking only one course in physical education, she knew that it was for her.

Karen said the yearbook is coming along very well this year. The staff met one deadline last Friday when they mailed 67 pages of the annual off to the printers. (They were required to send only 56 pages.) She said meeting the final deadline is extremely difficult, especially if the books are late, because it requires the staff's working every night late during finals. Karen feels that school should come first and The Mimosa second, but this does not always happen. She says, "The job should offer free psychiatric care and a bottle of extra-strength Tylenol, but when the annual comes back looking great, it is worth all the late nights and nervous breakdowns." (The annual is to come out in April, before finals.)

Karen had worked as sports editor for the 1977 edition of The Mimosa. Matter of fact, she was the whole sports section. Because of her fine work, she was asked to be editor for the 1978 annual. She was quite proud of the 1977 edition and hopes that it will win a national first place award as the 1976 edition did. They are awaiting the results from the judges.

Some prerequisites to being the editor or co-editor of the annual staff are to take journalism 304 and have been on the staff for at least one year.

According to Karen, Mrs. Opal Lovett, advisor to the annual, is like a second mother to the staff. She told Karen that she was going to break her of her tom boy habits and make a lady out of her this year. Karen figures that she will succeed because of her determination.

The staff has also given the Mimosa room a new look, the room is now painted orange and brown.

Karen is excited about this year and the new annual staff. Her assistant editor, Kristy Smith, helps Karen tremendously when things get hectic. The staff members generally leave nothing undone, and it must be done creatively and with taste.

Our annual for 1978 promises to be terrific under the capable leadership of Karen and her associates.

Black Student Union elects officers; plans activities

The Black Student Union met recently and 1977-78 officers were elected. Cedric Fuller, a junior from Huntsville, was elected president. Cedric served as vice president last year. Other officers elected were Robert Street, vice president; Joyce Millender, secretary; Patricia Dye, treasurer; Deborah Barnes, secretary of cultural affairs; Rosie Dennard, secretary of public relations; Diane Whitson, SGA representative; Phyllis Williams, assistant secretary.

The purpose of Black Student Union is to dispell misconceptions that lead to racial problems, and to fulfill the students and community needs with the proper resourceful information in an effort to inspire progress, self reliance, and unity among Black Students and the community. To establish the organization as an information service. To provide the students and community with meaningful and valid Black Cultural activities. To provide the students and community with political economic and social relevant information.

The Black Student Union

here at Jacksonville State University is very active. The BSU sponsors Black History Week, tributes to Martin Luther King Jr., gospel concerts for the community, can food drives for needed families during Thanksgiving and Christmas. BSU sponsors many social events such as dances and talent shows. Black Student Union will sponsor many more activities this year. There will be a Miss Brick House and Talent contest. BSU hopes to bring to campus Miss Black America who is Claire Ford,

Panhellenic Council coordinates activities

By CATHY RATLIFF
Staff Writer

Just as the fraternities must abide by regulations enforced by the Interfraternity Council, so must the sororities yield to the controlling authority of the Panhellenic Council.

Meeting twice monthly, the eight officers, delegates, and their four alternate-delegates discuss and plan events such as rush week, Greek week, and spring activities, as well as to reside over the affairs of the individual sororities.

The council worked diligently at the beginning of the academic year preparing events for rush week. Activities planned began on Aug. 27, with an ice water tea. The purpose of the tea was to introduce rushees to each of the sororities. Following the tea were the informal parties held on Aug. 28. The rushees were allowed to attend any or all four of the parties.

Theme parties were held on Aug. 29. Skits pertaining to the themes of each sorority were performed. The rushees, who attended by invitation, were limited to three of the four parties.

Aug. 30, marked the last night of rush week. Rushees attended two of the four preferential parties held and attendance was by invitation. At the close of the parties, the rushees were asked to go back to their dorm rooms; the bids were then delivered to the chosen rushees. This is referred to as Mid-night Squeal.

Because of a conflict with registration, only 140 girls went through rush. This figure is low compared to an average of 200 rushees in previous years. However, all four sororities filled their quota of 15 pledges.

The Panhellenic Council is now discussing the possibility of having an open rush in January, but the plans are still in the formative stages.

Other topics which have gained attention include Greek Week coming up in the spring, and other spring activities.

Members of the Panhellenic Council include: Kay Sitz, president; Faye Scott, vice president; Tina Richards, secretary; Mary Lou Peoples, treasurer; Marion Moore, Zeta Tau Alpha delegate; Sandra Parvin, Phi Mu delegate; Beverly Rooks, Delta Zeta delegate; and Joni Wingertsham, Alpha Xi Delta delegate.

Reading lab improves more than speed

By NANCY WADE
Staff Writer

Have you had trouble reading your love notes from your secret admirer lately? The solution is no secret: The reading development lab inside Ramona Wood.

The reading lab will improve your concentration, resulting in an efficient and quick comprehension of what you read.

You could miss some useful information when you read his love note and simultaneously wonder what "tall, dark and mysterious" looks like. When you re-read the note at 12:01, to find out what he said, the words "meet me at 12:00" suddenly materialize. Then you go flying lightning fast to meet him in the lobby only to see him drive away. If you could only remember the license number long enough to write it down and trace it to him!

Or will you meet your secret admirer because of reading skills developed earlier at the reading development lab. For a moment you reminisce about how you became involved in the reading lab.

You remember finally making up your mind to go to Ramona Wood. With an awkward feeling you entered the unfamiliar building. Courageously, you ascended to the second floor and looked for the door marked "reading lab" next to the elevator. Upon discovery of the only door with a white paper taped for all those interested to sign, uneasily you peered inside at six people busy at work. You suddenly felt at ease when Jasmin McComatha, a graduate student running the lab, under the guidance, of Dr. Martha Howell, smiled and told you to come right in. McComatha handed you the Nelson Denny Reading and Comprehension Test. The 30 minute standardized test is based on other university students' performance across the country. McComatha uses this test to guide her in setting up your personal program.

There are many helpful aids that could be used. The main aids include: a projector printing a sentence at a time to increase speed and comprehension. A tiny light descends down the edge of a sentence to train your eyes to read at a constant pace and an aid that covers the sentences read above to also increase your speed.

Other aids can help your spelling, vocabulary, comprehension and how to read literature.

The goals of the reading lab are those of about 20 students who come from two-five hours a week to develop their reading skills.

No matter what reason you may come the free service of the reading lab will help you.

Whether in your classes or to meet a secret admirer. Anyone interested may sign the list on the door or come by reading lab during the sessions held Monday, Wednesday and Friday 10:00-11:00; Monday and Wednesday, 1:30-3:00; and Tuesday and Thursday, 9:00-12:00.

Letters

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regard to the recent discontinuing service of the 20 cent an ounce deli sandwich. It seems a waste to have to buy a whole basket of food just to get a sandwich. Most people buy deli sandwiches either for a quick lunch or lack of 15 minutes waiting time for a grilled cheese sandwich.

It seems at times when we make suggestions to Chatem Inn, that instead of bettering the facility, it is regressing. Serving a deli basket is a good idea, but to stop serving a sandwich by itself is expensive and wasteful. We as students appreciate new convenient ideas, but please not at the cost of replacing some of the old, but better ideas. We want it served

"our way".

Thank you,
Deborah Brown

On Oct. 31, 1977 the Jacksonville State University Student Government Association is sponsoring the annual fall semester blood drive. It will be held from 10 a.m. through 4 p.m. in Leone Cole Auditorium. It has come to my attention that in the past few blood drives faculty participation has fallen off. This letter is being sent to encourage you to give of your time and donate a pint of blood. It would also be appreciated if you would encourage your fellow teachers and your students to give blood. Come join the rest of the faculty, the staff and the student body in helping to save a life. See you Oct. 31.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the JSU Cinematic Arts Council, I would like to extend thanks to our campus ROTC unit, and especially Capt. Joe Serviss, for the help we received in locating a back-up projector for our film series. Without that help, our program would have been forced to stop while our projector was being serviced.

To the Friends of WLJS:

The staff of WLJS would like to extend its sincere thanks to the students, cheerleaders, Coach Fuller and the athletic department, the football team, fraternities, sororities, Edwin White of Disco Limited, Inc., and other various organizations who participated in the celebration of our second anniversary "Birthday, Pep Rally, and Dance." Without everyone's support the party would not have been such a success. Sincerely,

The JSU ROTC has our gratitude for helping our films series continue as scheduled.

WELCOME TO ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY

We are pleased to welcome to the campus all of the alumni and friends of Jacksonville State University for this august homecoming event. It has been said that a university that is not on the go serving young people is in the way of serving young people. Your university is on the go, and this is because we have excellent support from our alumni and friends together with a fine student body and a superb faculty.

We will soon have construction underway here on the campus in the amount of $7 million. This includes our field house, our new football stadium, our new military science building, our new performing arts and classroom building, our new practice cubicles and rehearsal center for the Music Department, our new amphitheater, and a new retaining wall at considerable expense to beautify the campus adjacent to our School of Law Enforcement.

We will soon commence a renewed campus refinement program which will landscape all of the buildings on the campus and dispose of all of the ugly embankments, ditches, and undergrowth. We want your campus to be a place of beauty and refinement.

Mrs. Stone and I cordially invite you to the reception on the third floor of the Student Commons Building immediately following the Homecoming football game between Jacksonville State University and Livingston University. We want to see all of you and want all of you to see one another.

Yours cordially,

Ernest Stone

Section C. President

The president chairs all meetings of the organization, of the board of directors and of the executive committee. He appoints all committees, rules on matters of procedure and votes only to break a tie.

Section D. Vice Presidents

The first vice president acts in the place of the president in his absence or disability. The first vice president is the president-elect of the organization and may succeed to the office of president at the end of the term of the current president. This secession is not automatic, however and must be approved by a majority of the board of governors and the membership.

The second vice president presides in the absence of the president and first vice president

Section E. Alumni Executive Director

The Alumni Executive Director shall have charge of and shall compile and revise all records of the organization and act as secretary at all meetings of the organization. In addition to the normal duties as an executive committee member, the executive director shall maintain an office on the campus of Jacksonville State University, shall keep all records of alumni members, shall transact the business of the association, shall collect dues, shall solicit and accept contributions, grants, trusts, and gifts to the organization, and shall direct all publications of the organization.

Moreover, the executive director shall keep in contact with the local clubs and shall assist in establishing new local clubs. The executive director is charged with perpetrating the goals and ideals of this organization and of Jacksonville State University by maintaining contact with the alumni.

Section F. Treasurer

The treasurer, under the direction of the Executive Committee receives and disburses all funds of the organization. The organization's funds shall be deposited in the alumni account only. Any funds specifically restricted to certain projects shall initially be placed in the alumni account and shall on a monthly basis be distributed to the earmarked recipient (i.e. the athletic scholarship program) upon receipt of a written transfer request from the Alumni Executive Director. Before any disbursements may be made from the alumni fund, the Alumni Executive Director must approve and initial all invoices before sending them to the treasurer. The treasurer must approve and initial all invoices before issuing the check.

The treasurer shall issue a monthly financial report. This report shall be furnished to the Executive Committee and a copy shall be available in the office of the Executive Director for inspection by any member of this organization.

Additionally, the treasurer shall prepare a detailed annual financial statement to be published in the newsletter of the organization and circulated to all its active members.

All expenses other than those of a routine nature (i.e. for membership drives, mailing, publishing of newsletters, hosting, campus activities and lectures, awards programs, alumni public relations, homecoming activities, etc.) must be first approved by the Executive Committee.

Article VIII Committees

The president shall appoint standing committees of at least three members each, chaired by a member of the Board of Governors for the following activities: Nominations, Membership, Homecoming Co-ordination, Alumnus of the Year Award. The president may also appoint special committees from time to time including but not limited to: constitution, finance, newsletter, etc.

Article IX Meetings

Section A. Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the membership of this organization will be held on the campus in Jacksonville, Alabama on the date of homecoming. At the meeting there will be a report by the president on the activities of the Board of Governors since the previous annual meeting. The executive director will assist the president in conducting the election of officers and other business will be transacted as is necessary.

Section B. Board Meetings

The Board of Governors will meet at least twice annually, once in January or February and the second meeting on the day of homecoming.

Section C. Executive Committee Meetings

In addition to the regularly scheduled meetings, the Executive Committee will meet periodically when necessary. Any unscheduled meetings may be called at the request of any two members of the committee.

Section D. Attendance

Any member of the Board of Governors who has two successive unexcused absences is deemed to have resigned his membership on the board.

Article VII Elections

Section A. Officers

The president and first and second vice presidents are elected by the members at the homecoming meeting. They serve a one-year term of office beginning January 1st and ending December 31st.

Section B. Board of Governors

The remaining elected members of the board serve by virtue of their elections as club presidents, as former alumni association president, and as former student government association president. The executive director and treasurer are not elected by the membership but are appointed to their positions by the President of Jacksonville State University.

Section C. Nominations

The nominating committee shall nominate one candidate for each office to be filled at the homecoming meeting. The executive director shall send the nominations to the members not later than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to homecoming. Other nominations may be made by the members upon receipt of such by the executive director at least 7 days prior to the homecoming meeting. The request must be written and must be signed by at least ten active members of the organization. When thus received, such nominations are valid and will be submitted to the members in the same manner as those names proposed by the nominating committee. No further nominations are allowed.

Section D. Elections

At the homecoming meeting if there are no nominations from the floor, the chair of the nominating committee shall propose that the entire slate of officers be approved in a single voice vote. If there are contested offices, a voice vote will be held for each office in the order of second vice president, first vice president, and finally president.

Section E. Quorum

At any meeting of the association, regularly and properly called, those present constitute a quorum.

Article X Procedure

Section A. Amendment

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the active members who are present at any regularly called meeting of the organization, provided that the substance of the proposed amendment has been submitted to the members with the notice of the meeting.

Section B. Procedure

Roberts Rules of Order govern except where they conflict with specific provisions herein.

World champion arm wrestler on campus

By SUSAN ISBELL
And RICKY BRAGG

"I grew up in a tough neighborhood where everybody had to be tough," said Jacksonville State's Sam Pearson. "Everybody but me. I always got beat up."

Pearson, a native of Centerpoint, Alabama, is presently ranked number one in the world (that's right, number one in the world) in competition Arm Wrestling, and number four in the closely related sport of Wrist Wrestling.

And no, I don't think he gets beaten up much anymore.

Pearson, who had to compete against former National Champions and a few world champs all over the nation to gain his first place ranking, will be competing in Penaluma, Calif., in the World Wrist Wrestling Championship over the weekend. The match, which has been aired before on ABC's Wide World of Sports, can be seen on that program sometime in the coming month, if the match is not aired live, or a few minutes after the contest is over.

The differences between arm-wrestling and wrist wrestling are very slight. In wrist wrestling, each opponent holds to the left hand underneath the right hand thumb clasp, while in arm wrestling, the free hand is used to hold on to a peg.

"Basically, if you're good in one, you're good in the other," said Pearson. "In wrist wrestling, it takes more balance, and in arm wrestling, it takes more strength."

Despite his busy schedule, Pearson still finds the time to engage in other activities. For the past three years, he has been working with the Jacksonville High Wrestling Team as an assistant coach.

During his first year with the team, the Golden Eagles placed third in the state. His second year the team went undefeated and won the state championships—something pretty hard to come by considering the many large wrestling powerhouses in the state, such as Deshler High, which defeated the Eagles last year for the championship. Mike Langley, head coach of the team, contributes much of their success to Sam's help and dedication.

In campus activities, Sam is a member of Delta Tau Delta and a former member of the ROTC program. Sam says he plans to go into the army after graduation as a second lieutenant, where he will continue to compete in arm and wrist wrestling.

Volleyball team hopes for state

After JSU Women's Volleyball Team's performance this past week, Coaches Barbara Wilson and Sharon Morrison are eyeing state conference play-offs.

Coach Wilson commented, "I think we're going to state! If they keep playing like they are now I have every bit of faith that we will!"

Coach Morrison added, "I'm really proud of the team. We're now 3-1 in the conference, and I feel sure we'll be going to the state conference."

The lady Gamecocks have had a busy week. On Thursday, they traveled to Huntsville for a trimatch with Alabama A&M and University of Montevallo. In the first match, JSU won three straight games over

Red Machine rolling strong

Jacksonville State boss Jim Fuller's Gamecocks won another football game Saturday in Hammond, La.

Only this time they had to do it the hard way.

Down 10-7 with only 59 seconds showing on the clock JSU's James Coleman took Southeastern Louisiana's final kickoff and scampered all the way up to the sideline to the Lions' 36 yard line.

Then four plays later, it was Coleman again, grabbing a 22 yard scoring pass from Quarterback Bobby Ray Green to give the Gamecocks their first come from behind victory of the 1977 season.

Rocky Riddle put the game further out of reach with his successful PAT, and when the ball split the uprights there were only 13 seconds left to play in the ballgame.

It wasn't exactly the kind of game that makes life easy on a college football coach.

"They beat us for three quarters and 40 - some - odd seconds, but we won the ballgame, and that's what counts," said Fuller.

The win placed the Gamecocks a 5-0 for regular season, and 3-0 in Gulf South Conference play. But perhaps more important, it proved that the Gamecocks could come from behind and win a football game; or as offensive coordinator Watson Brown put it, "not to give up."

Green, who is proving to everyone in Gulf South that JSU does have a passing attack, never got to see Coleman's fantastic catch for the winning touchdown. That's because he was lying on his back after being hit hard by a couple of defenders, who were just a little late with their kicks to stop the game's winning pass.

Southeastern went ahead early in the game on a 62 yard 10 play drive following the opening kickoff. Lion running back Herbie Williams took the ball in for the score from three yards out, and the Lions were ahead 6-0.

Southeastern's Frank Lodono advanced their lead to 7-0 with his successful PAT attempt, and the Gamecocks were behind for the first time this season.

Green gave the Gamecocks their first score of the night on a 72 yard drive that took 14 plays to accomplish. Tailback Billy Vinning scored from one yard out with just over two minutes remaining, and Riddle's PAT tied the game at 7-7.

Southeastern seemed to have the game all sacked up with a 27 yard field goal by Southeastern's Lodono with only 59 seconds left in the contest, but Jax State's Coleman just didn't look at it that way at all.

The speedy Gamecock took the kickoff all the way back to the Southeastern 36, and then took Green's pass four plays later for the game's winning touchdown.

Vinning led the Gamecocks in rushing with 39 yards on 14 carries, while fullback Rolo Weaver carried the ball four times for 27 yards.

Green completed 14 of 28 passes for 148 yards, six of those passes going to Anniston's Donald Young for 66 big yards.

The "Red Bandit" defense led by noseguard Merrel Dillard with 10 tackles, held the Lions to 287 yards total offense, and only one touchdown.

Macon: Making things happen

By LAURA SUMMERLIN
Sports Writer

It would be an understatement to say that Tommy Macon, the 6' 1" rover from Dalton, Ga., is definitely making things happen this football season. His natural ability and player instinct make him one of the top rovers in the conference.

Tommy came to Jacksonville in the fall of '74. He was recruited by his high school coach and, Charlie Pell (head coach at that time). "I had heard a lot of good things about Jacksonville's team and with the recommendation of my high school coach, I decided to try it. I'm very pleased with my decision. I like Jacksonville and do believe that we're no. 1."

Tommy's main attribute is that of modesty. "I lack the game experience of last year's rover (Marty Morelli), but I think that I can get the job done when called upon." Tommy proved this to be true in the battle against the Alabama A&M Bulldogs, his player skill made the difference in a lot of tight situations. Last week when Jacksonville played Southeastern Louisiana, James Coleman and Macon served as team captains. In a staff battle Coach Fuller's notorious Red Bandits were once again victorious over S. E. Louisiana with a final score of 14-10.

Tommy's motivation comes from a love of football. "The love of the game is all the motivation that I need. This love makes me the player that I am." After three years of college football Tommy Macon has reached a peak that is heading upward with no chance of backsliding. His performance has certainly earned him the starter position at rover.

Alabama A&M. The second match resulted with Montevallo winning three games to JSU's one. Friday, the Gamecocks met Southern Benedictine at Cullman for a victory of three out of four games. The week ended with JSU hosting a trimatch Saturday at Pete Mathews Coliseum. "Lady Gamecocks" faced the University of North Alabama the first match with JSU winning all three games (15-3, 15-3, 17-15). Troy State and JSU tangled the second match. Troy State defeated JSU 15-10 in the first game, but JSU came back to win the next two games 15-7 and 15-10.

JSU has several home games left, which should be to their benefit. Gamecocks have a key trimatch with the University of Montevallo and Alabama A&M (both conference games) on Thursday, Oct. 6, at 5 p.m. at Pete Mathews Coliseum in Jacksonville.

There are several freshmen players which have proven quite helpful to the team. Some of these girls are locals: Karen Hester, Anniston, and Cindy Pettitt, Weaver, other freshman players: Patricia Agee and Lucy Bonds, both of Russellville; Beverly Cabiness, Section; Dorothy Grimmert, Sylacauga; Anita McBurnett, Lincoln; Pam Murdock, Sylvania; Ana Recrut, Puerto Rico; and Polly Sewell, Attalla.

After asking Coach Wilson who was an outstanding player, Coach Wilson explained. "We play such team work that it is hard to pick an outstanding player, but the players choose a player of the week." For this past week, the players of the week were Ana Recrut and Pam Murdock.
