By CYNDI OWENS and C.A. ABERNATHY
Chanticleer Entertainment Writers

They were awesome. They were hot. They were cool. And they were a hit.

There were no screaming groupies to greet the members upon their arrival, but by the time 1964 as The Beatles had finished their encore, there was a lot of screaming, dancing, partying students on the Quad who wanted to hear more.

1964, the Beatles tribute group, brought a show to the campus for the first ever J-Day celebration that audience members will be talking about for a long time.

The set had drawn a lot of curiosity from participants of the day's festivities, with equipment circa 1960 on stage. Everyone seemed to wonder the same thing as they passed the set: Will they really look like the Beatles?

By the time the show was over, crowd members could understand why the original group stirred up so much attention.

1964 opened the show to a rather sedate crowd. But by the end of the first song, "I Want to Hold Your Hand," listeners were clapping, swaying, and singing along.

The first set contained some of the mellower songs, such as "Love Me Do," "Eight Days A Week," and "I Feel Fine."

The second set, however, heated up as the air cooled down. They opened with perennial dance favorites, "Twist and Shout," and never slowed down. They had a "Hard Day's Night," heard from the "Tax Man," and needed "Help."

The most enjoyable part of the show came when the audience was asked to assist Ringo in singing "Yellow Submarine." Before they could start playing, the audience had already sung the chorus once and started again.

The group members strive to bring a show that is as realistic to the original as possible. The equipment is from the era, and their costumes are exact copies. The members are: Mark Benson (John), Gary Grimes, (Paul), Greg George (Ringo), and Bob Miller (George).

1964 is named for the year that The Beatles established a firm foothold in the music charts by staying at number one for fourteen consecutive weeks. They do not play anything released after 1966, because that is the last year the Beatles toured.

They have gained so much popularity on college campuses that they are reported to be booked solid for the next two years.

Anyone who missed this performance certainly deprived themselves of fun and a unique opportunity to see a show that may very well be a once in a lifetime chance.

J-Day was hit of the week

By CHRIS SPRADLIN
And GROVER KITCHENS
Chanticleer News Writers

If you were not there, you missed out.

J-Day was the hit of the week. During the day, about 1,000 students gathered on the Quad to participate in various activities.

Sponsored by the SGA, J-Day was designed to promote student involvement, and to help raise funds for the United Way.

The Delta Zeta's "Jail and Bail" and the recording booth were the most popular of the activities, and Delta Zeta raised $140 of the $390 total.

"J-Day was so successful, we would like to make this an annual event," said Vonda Barbour, SGA President.

The highlights of the day were appearances by Tony Duncan, a comic and juggler, and 1964, the Beatles tribute group.

The SGA extends special thanks to the groups named above, and also to the Home Economics Department, Alpha Xi Delta, AAA, Alpha Kappa Alpha, and everyone who came out and helped make the day a success.

"J-Day was so successful, we would like to make this an annual event."

— Barbour
By Christine Bissinger
Chanticleer Staff Writer

The International House was started informally by Dr. Jones in 1961. Back then it only involved 5 or 6 French students and American-French Majors. “I guess the best name for it when it first started would be A Super French Club,” explains Dr. Curren, the current International House Dorm Director. “They did as much together as they could, like eating together and having meetings and seminars to share the language and culture with each other.”

Forty-two years later, the number of students may have increased, but the general purpose is still the same - to share, learn, and experience the cultural and linguistic differences between nations.

There are about 150 foreign students on Jacksonville State University’s campus, but only 20 of them are housed in the International Building. This year, the 20 foreign students represent such countries as Australia, Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, West Germany, Holland, Houtaraz, Hong Kong, Japan, Lebanon, Liberia, Malta, Mexico, Pakistan, Peru, Portugal, Sri Lanka, Tanzania, and Thailand.

Although any country is welcome, only one member, male or female, may be chosen from one country. Every year the selection is as different as we can make it. There’s a lot of luck involved said Curren. There are 30 students, 10 males and 10 females, attend Jacksonville State University on a full scholarship through the International House Program.

It may be interesting to note here that there has never been any foreign students from the Eastern Block, which includes Russia, although there has been some applicants from the People’s Republic of China. “We’re really interested in those countries. We’d like to get that aspect of culture here,” Curren remarked.

For every foreign student in the International House there must also be an American. Twenty Americans, 10 males and 10 females, are chosen to stay with each foreign student. The American students apply much the same as the foreign students do. The only real difference is that the American students do not get the benefits of the International House Scholarship. It’s not that bad, though, the dorm is only $300, the same price as any other air conditioned dorm.

An American student who wishes to be a part of the International House need not be a Foreign Language or International Relations major. Whether you’re into music, psychology or business…” For every major here, I can build a good case of why you should be in the International House.”

With over the nation to attend the traditional summer camp in a much different setting. Three hundred students are involved in the International House Program. Every year the selection is as different as we can make it. There’s a lot of luck involved said Curren. There are 30 students, 10 males and 10 females, attend Jacksonville State University on a full scholarship through the International House Program.

It may be interesting to note here that there has never been any foreign students from the Eastern Block, which includes Russia, although there has been some applicants from the People’s Republic of China. “We’re really interested in those countries. We’d like to get that aspect of culture here,” Curren remarked.

For every foreign student in the International House there must also be an American. Twenty Americans, 10 males and 10 females, are chosen to stay with each foreign student. The American students apply much the same as the foreign students do. The only real difference is that the American students do not get the benefits of the International House Scholarship. It’s not that bad, though, the dorm is only $300, the same price as any other air conditioned dorm.

An American student who wishes to be a part of the International House need not be a Foreign Language or International Relations major. Whether you’re into music, psychology or business…” For every major here, I can build a good case of why you should be in the International House.”

With over 200 students representing such countries as Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, West Germany, Holland, Houtaraz, Hong Kong, Japan, Lebanon, Liberia, Malta, Mexico, Pakistan, Peru, Portugal, Sri Lanka, Tanzania, and Thailand.

Although any country is welcome, only one member, male or female, may be chosen from one country. Every year the selection is as different as we can make it. There’s a lot of luck involved said Curren. There are 30 students, 10 males and 10 females, attend Jacksonville State University on a full scholarship through the International House Program.

It may be interesting to note here that there has never been any foreign students from the Eastern Block, which includes Russia, although there has been some applicants from the People’s Republic of China. “We’re really interested in those countries. We’d like to get that aspect of culture here,” Curren remarked.

For every foreign student in the International House there must also be an American. Twenty Americans, 10 males and 10 females, are chosen to stay with each foreign student. The American students apply much the same as the foreign students do. The only real difference is that the American students do not get the benefits of the International House Scholarship. It’s not that bad, though, the dorm is only $300, the same price as any other air conditioned dorm.

An American student who wishes to be a part of the International House need not be a Foreign Language or International Relations major. Whether you’re into music, psychology or business…” For every major here, I can build a good case of why you should be in the International House.”

With over 200 students representing such countries as Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, West Germany, Holland, Houtaraz, Hong Kong, Japan, Lebanon, Liberia, Malta, Mexico, Pakistan, Peru, Portugal, Sri Lanka, Tanzania, and Thailand.

Although any country is welcome, only one member, male or female, may be chosen from one country. Every year the selection is as different as we can make it. There’s a lot of luck involved said Curren. There are 30 students, 10 males and 10 females, attend Jacksonville State University on a full scholarship through the International House Program.
Campus Life/Entertainment

Lambda Alpha Epsilon

On September 30, Lambda Alpha Epsilon, the American Criminal Justice Fraternity, met and elected Andrew Alvarado as the final committee chairperson for activities. Several possible activities and events were discussed at the meeting with more information forthcoming at the next meeting. A membership drive was held October 6, and a party at The Pub was planned.

Sigma Nu

The brothers of Sigma Nu enjoyed a great homecoming and hope that everyone did likewise. Although the homecoming game did not go to the Gamecocks, first place in the yard display competition went to Sigma Nu. The first place victory did not make up for the disappointment of the game loss, but it did provide some comfort. The brothers would again like to thank everyone that endured the cold nights to help complete the yard display. The hard work patience, and effort were greatly appreciated.

Our outstanding pledge class has taken to of a roaring start. Congratulating the newly elected pledge class officers are they: David Patterson, President; Jay Morgan, Vice President; John Fambrough, Treasurer; Mark Smith, Secretary; Jim Brantley, Chaplain; and Charles Horton, Marshall.

Good luck to these young men in their new positions. Congratulations are to be extended to all of the pledges who received their big brother last Thursday.

The brothers would like to thank all the young women who came by the Sigma Nu house last Wednesday for Friday, Nov. 20. Lisa Brewer is the chairperson for activities.

Delta Zeta

The Delta Zeta Pledge Retreat held this past weekend was a great success. It began Friday night at 7:30 p.m. with Big Brothers initiation and movies in the chapter room. The following morning all sisters were divided into two sections left Jacksonville bright and early for the 4:00 a.m. flip in Cumbiniana, Alabama. All those involved enjoyed a very special weekend.

Parent's Day is planned for this Saturday, Oct. 7. A tea and general introduction will be held on the DZ null from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and then a lunch will be held at the BCM field for all guests and daughters.

Congratulations to last week's pledges of the week: Lisa Vest and LaBeth Long and to the sister of the week: Melissa Williamson.

Congratulations to our new pledges: Dawn Landers, Ellen Tibbetts, Jackie Derrick, and Cindy Armbrester.

Pledge formal has been scheduled for Friday, Nov. 18. Lisa Brewer is arranging and finalizing the details of the event.

All of the DZs are looking forward to their first mixer tonight which is with the Delta Chi. The theme is Hollywood and the evening promises to be one worthy of an Emmy Award.

J-Day, which was held Wednesday, Oct. 7, proved to be a great success Delta Zetas sponsored a "You Student Slumber" in which friends and enemies put down at least 50 cents to have someone arrested or put in jail. The "criminal" had to meet the amount originally paid themselves or they had to find a friend to bail them out. Delta Zeta made $40 and had a great time! All of the money was donated to the Big Brothers. To be thanked by each person who helped prepare for the slumber or helped during the event. First, thanks to all those who contributed to the "policewomen": Gary Hammond, Bobby McGhee, and Todd Sprinkle. We also appreciate the brothers of Sigma Nu for donating the wood and the brothers of Sigma Chi for donating the chicken wire. We could not have done so well without the help of these girls. We appreciate it!!

Alpha Tau Omega

The brothers of the Eta Theta chapter of Alpha Tau Omega were among the top ten in homecoming activities this year. Over thirty ATO alumni showed up for the day's activities, which included the JAX State-West Georgia game, softball, and the football game. ATO would like to thank Mike Sargent for organizing the fascinating Homecoming yard display.

ATO was also pleased with little sister rush this fall. Many nice girls came to the house, and many of them became ATO little sisters. The little sister program is looking great this year with Clint Montgomery as Little Sister Coordinator.

ATO is currently involved in a food drive and will donate the collected food to their neighbor, the First United Methodist Church.

Many of the Tau's are looking forward to attending the Phi Mu family's annual event, "A Night in Athens," and Alphaphia's co-ed event, "A Night of Song and Dance," the Alpha Xi house.

The ATO question of the week is:

- What will be the calendar book for Randy “Dawg” Hall get dates to all three of those sorority parties?

Alpha Xi Delta

This semester for Alpha Xi has thus far been filled with great times together, and plans for more, more, more!

Alpha Xi is very proud of Nancy Nixon, first alternate in Miss Homecoming.

Congratulations also to the newly installed pledge class officers: Rocky Cardwell, President; Johnna Anderson, Vice President; Jenny Brewer, Secretary; Ronnda Hardage, Social Chairman; Rachel Brothers, Chaplain, Gena Morgan, Song Leader; Barrie Ogletree, Philanthropy; Gina Pierce, Spirit Chairman; Laura King, Scholarship Chairman; and Judy Johnson, Parlia-

Kappa Mu Phi

The petitioning local chapter of Kappa Mu Phi, Sigma Chi, would like to thank all the young ladies who attended Little Sig Rush. The ladies had a really good time along with the brothers and pledges. We want to thank the Little Sigs for their help in preparing for Little Sig Rush. They always do a wonderful job and we are very proud of them.

Halloween is almost upon us and we plan on participating in the activities. We will be helping in the Jaycees Haunted Forest this year and the brothers and pledges are planning a haunted house of our own just for fun. Warren Lee wants us to all go trick or treating together but we decided that we would not go as a group this year. Seriously, kids are welcome to drop by and collect treats, no matter how old you are. We would like for everyone to come and celebrate Halloween with us any way you like. We will be in the campus later with all the details.

A special thanks to our football team and Brett Hartley our Sports Director for their hard work.

O’Neill’s ‘Beyond the Horizon’ opens tonight

Auditions were held September 14 and 15 for this dramatic presentation of two brothers who love the same woman. The play chronicles both their sibling rivalry and their personal battles as they try to reconcile their dreams with the harsh realities which life presents.

Veteran JSU Drama actors Tony Randall, Lee Pope, and Laurel Reed head up the cast. Randall plays the part of Andrew, for whom this recent performer in West Side Story with the Gadsden Community Theater, and Curse You, Jack Dalton last season. Pope recently starred in the August season of the summer dinner theater. Taste of the Town, for which she performed as Riff in West Side Story.

Read’s most recent production was the Merry Wives of Windsor. The summer show completed a position as drama director at a prestigious Massachusetts summer camp. To his cast members include Whit Brantley as Mr. Mayo, Kelly McCreless as Mrs. Mayo, Ralph Robbins as Capt. Scott, Lisa Urban as Ms. Akins, Johnny Casiano as Ben, and Dave Smith as Dr. Fawcett.

Georgia Brown serves as Stage Manager, and Jeanne Carden assists her.

Dr. Wayne Crenren directs the play, which runs October 15 through 30. Evening performances begin at 8:00 p.m., and the Sunday matinee begins at 2:00 p.m. Season tickets for students, faculty and general admission are still available through the Drama Department.

Call the Box Office at 825-5648 for more information.
Fall baseball begins

By EARL WISE
Chanticleer Staff Writer

Football season is in full swing and every sports fan seems to have football fever. Ask your average sports fan what is the best baseb all baseball in which teams will meet this week might reply "Fall baseball? It's football fever. Ask your average Gamecocks fan what is the best baseball in which teams will meet this week might reply "Fall baseball? It's football fever. Ask your average Gamecocks fan what is the best baseball in which teams will meet this week might reply "Fall baseball? It's football fever. Ask your average Gamecocks fan what is the best baseball in which teams will meet this week might reply "Fall baseball? It's football fever. Ask your average Gamecocks fan what is the best baseball in which teams will meet this week might reply "Fall baseball? It's football fever.

Alcohol banned in UT skyboxes

Knoxville, TN (CP)—After a major controversy, the University of Tennessee has decided to apply its no-drinking-on-campus rules to non-students.

On Sept. 1, the school's athletic department reversed an earlier decision to allow alcohol to be sold in the expensive new stadium boxes. This move to leases to corporations and alumni.

Earlier this summer, as the luxury suites were under construction, Tennessee officials said patrons would be allowed to store and drink alcohol in the boxes. Some local schools have considered leased property.

Except for a faculty club, they would be the only places on campus where people are allowed to buy and drink alcohol, except for the library. The Board of Trusts barred alcohol from the campus when the state revised its minimum legal drinking age from 18 to 21.

"There was quite an uproar," Tennessee Student Government Association President Rusty Gray said.

Alcohol in the stadium. The sky boxes--which rent for $24,000--will be leased to corporations and alumni.

The red, yellow jackets did give Clemson a scare, but Auburn's overpowering defense will have a much more potent offense. North Carolina is just too much for Georgia Tech. The crystal ball says: AUBURN 31, GEORGIA TECH 10.

Rivalries renewed this weekend

By EARL WISE
Chanticleer Staff Writer

Looking into the crystal ball once again, I see some classic rivalries on tap for this weekend. JSU will be hosting Delta State in an important Gulf South Conference Game. Alabama renues one of its oldest rivals, when it hosts Tennessee in Birmingham, and Aubrn travels to Atlanta to play long-time foe, Georgia Tech. The crystal ball says: DELTA STATE AT JACKSONVILLE STATE: This Delta State game is undoubtedly the turning point in the Gamecocks season. If the Gamecocks can pull off a victory, this would set the stage for an early Alabama game which will have important bearings on the Gulf South Conference standings.

The Jax State defense will have a much more potent offense than there was last year." It's a moot point, however," student government leader Jeff Jonason said.

The reason, Florida Athletic Director Bill Arrsberger explained, is that the sky boxes are "owned or rented by individuals," a status that apparently exempts the fans from the local drinking regulations.

"Since the issues were being raised, we decided we'd go back to the drawing board," Johnson said.

Despite the ban on alcohol, all 42 of the sky boxes--which rent for $24,000--will have been leased, Johnson said. "We haven't had any cancellations.

Allowing drinking in stadium sky boxes has become an issue on other campuses as well.

Last week, the University of Arizona's regents debated--but failed to decide--whether to allow fans to bring alcohol in the sky boxes to be sold at Arizona Stadium, where liquor is otherwise banned.

Photo by Scott Swisher
Sports Writer

By Scott Swisher
Chanticleer Staff Writer

The Gamecocks are preparing for an emotional, action-packed Gulf South Conference showdown when Delta State University travels to avenge its 2012 defeat, nationally ranked football team into Paul Snow Memorial Stadium this Saturday.

According to head coach Bill Burgess, the GSC is one of the strongest Division II football conferences from top to bottom, in the nation. Any team is capable of winning on any given day, and Delta State should be no exception. If both teams have had reasonable performances this season, this week's game should be a football fans delight.

Jackie Burgess says, "Delta State head coach Red Parker and his staff have done an excellent job and they have a good football team." Delta State will run a ball control veer offense that features a very good quarterback. They also like to run the run backs and open up the field. "Delta State will run a ball control veer offense that features a very good quarterback. They also like to run the run backs and open up the field." Delta State should be no exception. If both teams have had reasonable performances this season, this week's game should be a football fans delight.

Auburn runs one of its best rivalries, when it hosts Tennessee in Birmingham, and Auburn travels to Atlanta to play long-time foe, Georgia Tech. The crystal ball says: DELTA STATE AT JACKSONVILLE STATE: This Delta State game is undoubtedly the turning point in the Gamecocks season. If the Gamecocks can pull off a victory, this would set the stage for an early Alabama game which will have important bearings on the Gulf South Conference standings. "This Saturday's game will be a wide-open contest, and JSU will be looking to kick up some more dust this weekend." Kickoff for Saturday's game at Snow Stadium is 7:00 P.M.